Description of Advisory Services

Our services include:

1. Discretionary and non-discretionary investment management services;
2. Retirement plan services;
3. Ancillary Services – Tracking and Reporting Services;
4. Personal Financial Management Services; and
5. Financial planning services .

The services available under each category may, depending upon your needs and circumstances, be offered according to different formats and levels of complexity.

1. Investment Management Services

Investment management services are offered either on a discretionary or non-discretionary basis.

For discretionary accounts, you authorize us to make, order and direct any and all transactions involving the assets managed in your name and for your account with the same authority you would have if you were managing your own assets. However, we will not have the authority to withdraw your funds with the exception of withdrawing fees as authorized by you.

For non-discretionary accounts, no trades will be placed without prior approval from you. If you choose to have accounts managed on a non-discretionary basis, you are advised that such accounts are subject to certain risks. Risks may include but not be limited to the risk of missing market opportunities or the risk that we will be unable to effect timely changes in market positions as a result of not being able to obtain your authorization.

We will work closely with the client to determine your investment objectives and risk tolerance. We use an Investor Profile Questionnaire to help determine your investment objectives and risk tolerance level. From this information, we will recommend one or more investment strategies, which are described below. You may impose restrictions on the securities or types of securities we invest in for your account. You retain ownership of all securities.

A. RH Financial Portfolio Services

Through the RH Financial Portfolio Services we offer investment portfolios called RH Financial Portfolios. The Advisory Representative will work with you to select one or more portfolios that fit your investment objectives and risk tolerance. The RH Financial Portfolios are designed to provide risk-adjusted returns through the use of a proprietary strategic asset allocation investment approach ranging from 0% equity to 97% equity.

Each Portfolio was designed using a proprietary set of investment models, which are comprised of mutual funds, exchange traded funds and bonds and are designed to provide an efficiently-managed portfolio. RH Financial Portfolios are designed with a particular equity to fixed income ratio. Periodic client meetings, updates to the Investor Profile Questionnaire, and evaluation of current market conditions will help to ensure that the selected RH Financial Portfolios reasonably match your investment objectives. RH Financial Portfolios are available through the Applicant's Advisory Representatives. These services are offered on a discretionary basis only.

B. RH Financial Portfolio Services – Tri-Party Platform

The Tri-Party Platform is offered to clients of other investment advisers who have partnered with us. The Tri-Party Platform offers you selected RH Financial Portfolios with a composition of 50% or more in equity investments. RH Financial Group, LLC, the other adviser, and the client enter into a tri-party advisory agreement that details the roles and responsibilities of the other adviser and us. In general, we are responsible for managing the your assets in accordance with the RH Financial Portfolios and the other adviser, as the main client contact, is responsible for gathering information related to your investment objectives, time horizon and risk tolerance and working with you to select the appropriate RH Financial Portfolio for your objectives and risk tolerance. The other advisor is also responsible for periodic meetings, updates to the Investor Profile Questionnaire, and evaluation of current market conditions will help to ensure that the selected RH Financial Portfolios reasonably match your investment objectives. These services are only offered on a discretionary basis

C. Directly Managed Accounts

Our Advisory Representatives also offer you individually tailored investment management accounts. The Advisory Representative will allocate and periodically reallocate (or recommend the allocation or reallocation of) your assets among various securities and/or investment vehicles, including: stocks, bonds, mutual funds, exchange traded funds and private placements. These services may be offered on a discretionary or non-discretionary basis.

2. Retirement Plan Services

We provide advisory services to employer sponsored retirement plans, including pension and profit sharing plans (the "Plans"). Through written agreements with Plans, we offer a package of consulting services including core investment recommendations and model portfolio options. The core investment options generally include up to ten individual mutual funds ("Core Investments") selected exclusively from mutual funds that are made available on the platform of the Plan's custodian at the sole discretion of an independent Plan fiduciary. We will also make available up to five RH Financial Portfolios as investment options to potential plan clients. Consulting services are provided on a non-discretionary basis. A plan fiduciary other than Applicant has responsibility for determining which investment options, including RH Financial Portfolios, to make available to Plan participants.

With respect to RH Financial Portfolios made available to 401(k) plans, our services consist of providing an initial model portfolio and periodic updates to the model portfolio to a plan fiduciary. RH Financial Portfolios made available through our 401(k) platform consist of five models with different risk profiles ranging from conservative to aggressive. Each model has static allocation between equity and income ranging from 20% equity/80% income for the conservative portfolio to 97% equity/3% income for the aggressive portfolio. We will rebalance each RH Financial Portfolio to its target allocation periodically, typically annually. As compensation for consulting services, we will receive a fixed percentage of Plan assets allocated to the Core Investments and RH Financial Portfolios for its services under the consulting agreement with each Plan. This fee is negotiable. This fee does not vary based on recommendations accepted by the Plan fiduciary or selected by participants. The fee does not vary if RH Financial Portfolios are selected as an investment option and no additional fee is charged for ongoing RH Financial Portfolio reallocation services.

We offer discretionary asset management services to Plans through our RH Financial Portfolio Services or Directly Managed Accounts platforms. We may recommend one or more RH Financial Portfolios and/or other asset allocations for the Plans. The Plans will be charged an asset based fee using the fee rates for RH Financial Portfolio Services and/or Directly Managed Accounts.

3. Ancillary Services – Tracking and Reporting Services

In addition to our discretionary and non-discretionary investment management services, we also offer you Tracking and Reporting Services. This service assists you with monitoring assets for which we provide neither discretionary nor non-discretionary investment management services. For this service, we provide you reports and other information related to the assets. However, the final decision to make such adjustments and implementation are made at your direction and/or the third-party adviser or broker-dealer without any additional involvement or conduct by us. Our fee for this service is for monitoring, reporting and providing advice regarding the investment advisers or broker-dealers.

5. Financial Planning Services

The primary objective of this process is to allow us to assist in developing a strategy for the management of income, assets and liabilities in meeting your financial goals and objectives.

Financial plans are based on your financial situation at the time the plan is presented and are based on financial information disclosed by you to us. You are advised that certain assumptions may be made with respect to interest and inflation rates and use of past or projected trends and performance of the market and economy. Item 7 Types of Clients

We typically provide advice to individuals, high net worth individuals, trusts, estates, retirement plans accounts and other businesses.

We have a minimum fee of the lesser of $500 or 2% assets.

Item 8 Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies and Risk of Loss

We may utilize the following methods of security analysis:

- Charting - (analysis performed using patterns to identify current trends and trend reversals to forecast the direction of prices)
- Fundamental - (analysis performed on historical and present data, with the goal of making financial forecasts)
- Technical – (analysis performed on historical and present data, focusing on price and trade volume, to forecast the direction of prices)

We may utilize the following investment strategies when implementing investment advice given to clients:

- Long Term Purchases (securities held at least a year)
- Short Term Purchases (securities sold within a year)

Different types of investments involve varying degrees of risk. It should not be assumed that future performance of any specific investment or investment strategy will be profitable or equal any specific performance level(s).

Our methods of analysis and investment strategies do not present any significant or unusual risks.

However, every method of analysis has its own inherent risks. To perform an accurate market analysis we must have access to current/new market information. We have no control over the dissemination rate of market information. If we receive outdated information, it may limit the value of our analysis. Also, an accurate market analysis can only produce a forecast of the direction of market values. There can be no assurances that any recommendation will result in profitable investment opportunities.

Our primary investment strategies - Long Term Purchases and Short Term Purchases are fundamental investment strategies. However, every investment strategy has its own inherent risks and limitations. For example, longer term investment strategies require a longer investment time period to allow for the strategy to potentially develop. Shorter term investment strategies require a shorter investment time period to potentially develop but, as a result of more frequent trading, may incur higher transactional costs when compared to a longer term investment strategy.

We usually invest in various debt (bonds) and fixed income securities, mutual funds, closed-end mutual funds and exchange traded funds and discretionary basis, consistent with your designated objectives.

Item 11 Code of Ethics, Participation or Interest in Client Transactions and Personal Trading

Associated persons may buy or sell for their own accounts the same securities recommended to you. They may do so at the same time as they, or a related person, buy or sell the same securities for their own account. Associated persons seek to ensure that they do not personally benefit from the short-term market effects of their recommendations to you. We request information about all of our associate's transactions and monitor them for any wrongdoing.

Associated persons are aware of the rules regarding material non-public information and insider trading. Associated persons may also buy or sell a specific security for their own account based on personal investment considerations, which the Advisor does not deem appropriate to buy or sell for clients.

We have adopted a Code of Ethics to instruct its personnel in their ethical obligations and to provide rules for their personal securities transactions. The Firm and our personnel owe a duty of loyalty, fairness and good faith to their clients, and the obligation to adhere not only to the specific provisions of the code but also to the general principles that guide the Code. We will provide a copy of the Code to any client or prospective Client upon request.

Item 12 Brokerage Practices

We recommend clients custody their assets at Constellation Trust Company. Constellation Trust Company is an affiliate of Orion Advisor Services, LLC, the company that provides us with back office services and produces our quarterly performance reports. Because we recommend their affiliate, Orion Advisor Services, LLC provides us with an offset of the fees we would pay to them based on the amount of shareholder servicing fees Constellation Trust Company receives from the funds we include in our investment management program.

This provided us with an incentive to recommend Constellation Trust Company as a custodian based on our interest in receiving this service; however we feel that it is also in your best interest. The reduction or elimination of our service fee with Orion benefits all of our clients.

We do not receive any client referrals from a broker-dealer or custodial firm.

Not all advisers require clients to use a particular custodian.

Clients electing to use a different custodian should be aware that we may not be able to achieve the most favorable execution of your transactions, it may cost you more money. You may pay higher commissions because you may not be able to aggregate orders to reduce transaction costs or you may receive less favorable prices.

We permit block trading when the following conditions are met:

Orders of two or more clients may be bunched only if we have determined, on an individual basis that the securities order is:

1. In the best interests of each client participating in the order;
2. Consistent with our duty to obtain best execution; and
3. Consistent with the terms of the investment Advisory agreement of each participating client.

When conducting a block trade, we will determine the accounts that will participate, and the specific allocations in advance of the transaction. If the entire order is filled, you will receive your portion of the allocation specified on the trade ticket. All allocations are prior to the close of business on trade date. Client accounts participating in the transaction will receive the weighted average price of the security and will incur a pro-rata share of the transaction cost.

If part of the order is unfilled, the allocation is based on a pro-rata share per client.

The books and records of the Firm separately reflect, for each client for whom an order is bunched, the securities held by, purchased, and sold for that client.

Item 13 Review of Accounts

Review of Accounts

Investment management accounts utilizing the RH Financial Portfolios are reviewed at least quarterly for the appropriate range of asset allocation, risk tolerance, and to ensure compliance with your objectives. A member or members of the Investment Committee review, on behalf of the applicant, the accounts and makes the final decision as to what recommendations will be made.

Management reports are provided to the Investment Committee on at least an annual basis to set general investment direction and outlining company performance and investments.

An Investment Committee, consisting of officers and other individuals of the firm, meet from time to time to review general investment direction, asset allocation and to review the direction of the economy and how that may affect our investment posture and recommendations. Additionally, the committee reviews major changes in equity and fixed income investment direction.

The solicitation/referral fee is paid pursuant to a written agreement retained by both the investment adviser and the solicitor. The Solicitor will be required to provide the client with a copy of the Applicant's Form ADV Part 2 and a Solicitor Disclosure brochure prior to or at the time of entering into any investment advisory contract with Applicant. Charles Rizzo, Michael Kronk and Henry Torres hold the CFP® designation. The CERTIFIED FINANCIAL PLANNER™, CFP® and federally registered CFP (with flame design) marks (collectively, the “CFP® marks”) are professional certification marks granted in the United States by Certified Financial Planner Board of Standards, Inc. (“CFP Board”).

The CFP® certification is a voluntary certification; no federal or state law or regulation requires financial planners to hold CFP® certification. It is recognized in the United States and a number of other countries for its (1) high standard of professional education; (2) stringent code of conduct and standards of practice; and (3) ethical requirements that govern professional engagements with clients. Currently, more than 62,000 individuals have obtained CFP® certification in the United States.

To attain the right to use the CFP® marks, an individual must satisfactorily fulfill the following requirements:

- Education – Complete an advanced college-level course of study addressing the financial planning subject areas that CFP Board’s studies have determined as necessary for the competent and professional delivery of financial planning services, and attain a Bachelor’s Degree from a regionally accredited United States college or university (or its equivalent from a foreign university). CFP Board’s financial planning subject areas include insurance planning and risk management, employee benefits planning, investment planning, income tax planning, retirement planning, and estate planning.
- Examination – Pass the comprehensive CFP® Certification Examination. The examination, administered in 10 hours over a two-day period, includes case studies and client scenarios designed to test one’s ability to correctly diagnose financial planning issues and apply one’s knowledge of financial planning to real world circumstances.
- Experience – Complete at least three years of full-time financial planning-related experience (or the equivalent, measured as 2,000 hours per year).
- Ethics – Agree to be bound by CFP Board’s Standards of Professional Conduct, a set of documents outlining the ethical and practice standards for CFP® professionals.

Individuals who become certified must complete the following ongoing education and ethics requirements in order to maintain the right to continue to use the CFP® marks:

- Continuing Education – Complete 30 hours of continuing education hours every two years, including two hours on the Code of Ethics and other parts of the Standards of Professional Conduct, to maintain competence and keep up with developments in the financial planning field.
- Ethics – Renew an agreement to be bound by the Standards of Professional Conduct. The Standards prominently require that CFP® professionals provide financial planning services at a fiduciary standard of care. This means CFP® professionals must provide financial planning services in the best interests of their clients.

CFP® professionals who fail to comply with the above standards and requirements may be subject to CFP Board’s enforcement process, which could result in suspension or permanent revocation of their CFP® certification.
