Volt Wealth Management, LLC works with clients primarily in an investment management role. However, it also assists in defining financial objectives and applying strategies for reaching those objectives, some of which may include: identification of financial problems, cash flow and budget management, tax planning, risk exposure review, investment management, education funding, retirement planning, estate planning, charitable goals, special needs planning, and/or other issues specific to the client.

The firm's compensation is solely from fees paid directly by clients. The firm does not receive commission based on the client's purchase of any financial product, including insurance. No commissions in any form are accepted. No referral fees are paid or accepted. We may recommend other professionals (e.g., lawyers, accountants, insurance agents, real estate agents, etc.) at the request of the client. Other professionals are engaged directly by the client on an as-needed basis even when recommended by the Advisor. Conflicts of interest will be disclosed to the client and managed in the best interest of the client.

Principal Owners

Paul Tracey and Griffin Meyers are equal, 50% partners in Volt Wealth Management, LLC. There are no intermediate subsidiaries.

Types of Advisory Services

The primary type of advisory service offered by Volt Wealth Management, LLC is investment management services (i.e. "asset management"). Volt Wealth Management, LLC also provides financial planning assistance, when needed. This service is an added benefit when engaged in a relationship with Volt Wealth Management, LLC and clients do not pay an additional fee.

In performing its services, Volt Wealth Management, LLC is not required to verify any information received from the client or from the client's other professionals. Each client is advised that it remains his/her responsibility to promptly notify Volt Wealth Management, LLC when there is any change in his/her financial situation and/or financial objectives for the purpose of reviewing, evaluating, or revising previous recommendations and/or services.

All material conflicts of interest under CCR Section 260.238 (k) are disclosed below regarding our firm, our representatives or our employees, which could be reasonably expected to impair the rendering of unbiased and objective advice. To comply with CCR Section 260.238(j), we disclose that lower fees for comparable services may be available from other sources.

The following is how a typical Volt Wealth Management, LLC relationship works with clients:

Investment Management Services

Investment management is Volt Wealth Management, LLC's primary service offered to clients. Each client's individual situation is considered and a customized portfolio is developed for them. Clients complete an investor profile to aid in assessing the client's financial situation and goals. The Volt Wealth Management, LLC investment policy statement outlines the strategies used to attain each client's personal goals.

Financial Planning

Financial planning is not a stand alone service offered by Volt Wealth Management, LLC. As financial planning needs arise, Volt Wealth Management, LLC will assist in the process by offering guidance and recommendations. As added value, this service is included when engaging in a relationship with Volt Wealth Management, LLC and the only fee clients pay is for investment management services rendered. During the financial planning process we may recommend other professionals (e.g., lawyers, accountants, insurance agents, real estate agents, etc.) at the request of the client. Other professionals are engaged directly by the client on an as-needed basis even when recommended by the Advisor. Conflicts of interest will be disclosed to the client and managed in the best interest of the client.

Financial planning may include identification of financial problems, cash flow and budget management, tax planning, risk exposure review, education funding, retirement planning, estate planning, charitable goals, special needs planning or other issues specific to the client. Recommendations are given in each area specifically requested by the client.

CCR Section 260.235.2 requires that we disclose to our financial planning clients that a conflict of interest exists between us and our clients. The client is under no obligation to act upon the investment adviser's recommendation. If the client elects to act on our recommendations, the client is under no obligation to effect the transaction through us.

Tailored Relationships

At Volt Wealth Management, LLC., advisory services are tailored to the individual needs of clients. Client goals and objectives are clarified in meetings and via correspondence, and are used to determine the course of action for each individual client. The goals and objectives for each client are documented in our client relationship management system and in client files, either in hard copy or in electronic files.

Clients may impose restrictions on investing in certain securities or types of securities. This must be done in writing and be signed by the client. Agreements may not be assigned without client consent.

Managed Assets

As of December 31, 2011, Volt Wealth Management, LLC managed approximately $37,254,276. Approximately $5,950,203 is managed on a discretionary basis and $31,304,073 on a non-discretionary basis.

Item 5: Fees & Compensation

Description

Volt Wealth Management, LLC bases its fees on a percentage of "Assets Under Management". All fees are negotiable.

Investment Management Services

Fees are calculated as a percentage of "Assets Under Management" on a sliding scale, each quarter, as follows:

Assets Under Management	Quarterly Advisory Fee
$0 to $5,000,000	0.375 %
Over $5,000,000	0.250 %

Financial Planning

This is not billed separately and is included as an added service when engaged in a relationship with Volt Wealth Management, LLC.

Fee Billing

Clients are billed on a quarterly basis in advance. If a client engages before the end of the quarter, the first fee payable will be prorated and billed in arrears. Unless the client requests direct billing, fees will be automatically deducted from the brokerage account.

Other Fees

Custodians may charge transaction fees on purchases or sales of certain mutual funds, stocks, bonds, exchange-traded funds and options. These transaction charges are usually relatively small and are incidental to the purchase or sale of a security. In some cases, custodians also charge monthly, quarterly or annual custody fees. Fees for custody are disclosed to clients when this type of arrangement is recommended.

Mutual funds and exchange traded funds generally charge a management fee for their services as investment managers. The management fee is included in the expense ratio. Mutual fund fees also include transaction charges for the purchase or sale of securities within the fund and may charge other fees as disclosed in the fund prospectus. These fees are in addition to the fees paid by the client to Volt Wealth Management, LLC

Please see the section entitled "Brokerage Practices" on page 9 of this brochure.

Past Due Accounts and Termination of Agreement

Volt Wealth Management, LLC reserves the right to stop work on any account that is more than 60 days overdue. In addition, Volt Wealth Management, LLC reserves the right to terminate any investment management engagement where a client has willfully concealed or has refused to provide pertinent information about financial situations when necessary and appropriate to providing proper financial advice, per the judgment of Volt Wealth Management, LLC. Clients may terminate their agreement at any time by providing written notice. Terminating clients will receive refunds on a pro-rata basis for prepaid services.

Compensation for Sales of Investment Products

The firm's compensation is solely from fees paid directly by clients. The firm does not receive commission based on the client's purchase of any financial product, including insurance. No commissions in any form are accepted.

Item 6: Performance-Based Fees & Side-By-Side Management

Volt Wealth Management does not use a performance-based fee structure because of the potential conflict of interest. Performance-based compensation may create an incentive for the adviser to recommend an investment that may carry a higher degree of risk to the client. However, the nature of asset-based fees allows Volt Wealth Management, LLC to participate in the growth of the client's wealth. This also means that our fees can decline when the client's portfolio declines in value.

Item 7: Types of Clients & Account Requirements

Volt Wealth Management, LLC generally provides investment advice to individuals, families, trusts and estates. Advice may extend to entities related to the client such as small businesses and charitable organizations, including foundations and endowments. Exceptions to this minimum may be considered on a client to client basis.

Item 8: Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies & Risk of Loss

Security analysis methods at Volt Wealth Management, LLC include fundamental, technical and sentiment analysis. The main sources of information include fund prospectuses, research reports, inspections of corporate activities, financial newspapers and magazines, research materials prepared by others, filings with the Securities and Exchange Commission, and annual reports.

Investment Strategies

The primary investment strategies we use for client accounts focuses on tactical asset allocation. We may use exchange-traded funds (ETF's), stocks, individual fixed income investments and equity options (covered and uncovered). Portfolios are generally diversified to control the risk associated with traditional markets.

The investment strategy for a specific client is based upon the objectives, income needs, and tax situation stated by the client during consultations. The client may change these objectives at any time. The client's goals and objectives are recorded during meetings and via correspondence with the client. Each client portfolio is constructed solely for that client.
