Item 4 – Services Fees and Compensation

A. Services

RPg provides customized wealth advisory services for its Clients. The RPg Wrap Program (“Proigram”) is an investment advisory program sponsored by RPg, a registered investment advisor with the Securities and Exchange Commission.

This customized solution is achieved through continuous personal Client contact and interaction while providing discretionary investment management and planning/consulting services. RPg works with each Client to identify their comprehensive goals as well as risk tolerance and financial situation in order to initiate a strategy for supporting the Client. RPg will then construct a portfolio to meet the specific objectives of each Client. Portfolios are customized to the needs of each client, but are typically constructed with a combination of individual equity securities, individual fixed income securities, mutual funds, exchange-traded funds (“ETFs”), options and limited partnerships.

RPg may periodically deliver investment management services through its affiliated institutional asset management division, Risk Paradigm Group, LLC (“RPg AM”). RPg AM provides institutional investment management through their proprietary investment strategies. These investment strategies are delivered through individual managed accounts, registered investment companies (mutual funds) and private, non-registered funds.

Investment Advisory Fees are paid either monthly or quarterly in advance pursuant to the terms of the Investment Advisory Agreement (herein the “billing period”). Investment Advisory Fees are based on the market value of assets under management at the end of the prior billing period. Investment Advisory Fees range from 2.00% to 0.85% depending on the size and complexity of the Client relationship. Relationships with multiple objectives, specific reporting requirements, portfolio restrictions and other complexities may be charged a higher fee. Certain Clients may have fee schedules or methodologies that vary from above.

The Program is offered as a wrap fee program, which in this case means clients have the ability to trade in certain investment products without incurring separate brokerage commissions or transactions charges. Investment Advisory Fees paid by the Client pay for both the investment advisory services and costs associated with the execution of transactions.

B. Program Costs

Services provided under the Program may cost the Client more or less than purchasing these types of investment management services separately. The costs of the wrap program vary depending on services to be provided to each Client.

RPg provides this Wrap Brochure as the Advisor pays all normal securities transactions costs associated with RPg investment strategies.

C. Fees

Clients may incur certain fees or charges imposed by third parties, including RPg-AM, in connection with investment made on behalf of the Client’s account[s].

In addition, all fees paid to RPg for investment advisory services are separate and distinct from the expenses charged by mutual funds and exchange-traded funds to their shareholders, if applicable. These fees and expenses are described in each fund’s prospectus. These fees and expenses will generally be used to pay management fees for the funds, other fund expenses, account administration (e.g., custody, brokerage and account reporting), and a possible distribution fee. A Client could invest in these products directly, without the services of RPg, but would not receive the services provided by RPg which are designed, among other things, to assist the Client in determining which products or services are most appropriate to each Client's financial situation and objectives. Accordingly, the Client should review both the fees charged by the fund[s] and the fees charged by RPg to fully understand the total fees to be paid.

D. Compensation

RPg is the sponsor and portfolio manager of the Program. RPg receives the advisory fees paid by Clients for participating in the program and may receive compensation if services are delivered through its affiliated institutional asset management division, Risk Paradigm Group, LLC.

Item 5 – Account Requirements and Types of Clients

RPg offers investment advisory services to high net worth individuals, trusts, estates, charities, pension plans and institutional clients. RPg generally does not impose a minimum account size for establishing a relationship.

Item 6 – Portfolio Manager Selection and Evaluation

A. Portfolio Manager Selection

RPg acts as sponsor and as portfolio manager for the Program. The Advisor does not select third-party advisors to manage the Program. RPg may periodically deliver investment management services through its affiliated institutional asset management division, Risk Paradigm Group, LLC.

B. Related Persons

RPg personnel do act as portfolio manager for the Program. RPg only manages this wrap fee program. It does not act as portfolio manager for any third-party wrap fee programs.

C. Supervised persons

RPg supervised persons act as portfolio managers for the wrap fee program described in this Brochure. RPg offers investment advisory services to high net worth individuals, trusts, estates, charities, pension plans and institutional clients.

For accounts managed through the Program, RPg will construct a portfolio to meet the specific objectives of each Client. Portfolios are customized to the needs of each client, but are typically constructed with a combination of individual equity securities, individual fixed income securities, mutual funds, exchange-traded funds ("ETFs"), options and limited partnerships. Limited partnerships may include hedge funds, private investment pools and other limited partnerships that are appropriate to achieve the goals of the Client. The Advisor may also utilize other securities types, as appropriate, to meet the needs of its Clients.

RPg's investment strategy is primarily long-term focused, but the Advisor may buy, sell or re-allocate positions that have been held less than one year to meet the objectives of the Client or due to market conditions. RPg will construct, implement and monitor the portfolio to ensure it meets the goals, objectives, circumstances, and risk tolerance agreed to by the Client. Each Client will have the opportunity to place reasonable restrictions on the types of investments to be held in their respective portfolio, subject to the acceptance by the Advisor.

RPg evaluates and selects assets for inclusion in Client portfolios only after applying their internal due diligence process. RPg may recommend, on occasion, redistributing investment allocations to diversify the portfolio. RPg may recommend specific positions to increase sector or asset class weightings. The Advisor may recommend employing cash positions as a possible hedge against market movement, which may adversely affect the portfolio. RPg may recommend selling positions for reasons that include, but are not limited to, harvesting capital gains or losses, business or sector risk exposure to a specific security or class of securities, overvaluation or overweighting of the position[s] in the portfolio, change in risk tolerance of Client, generating cash to meet Client needs, or any risk deemed unacceptable for the Client's risk tolerance.

Client Account Management

Prior to engaging RPg to provide investment advisory services, each Client is required to enter into an Investment Advisory Agreement with the Advisor that defines the terms, conditions, authority and responsibilities of the Advisor and the Client. These services may include:

- Wealth Planning– RPg provides comprehensive advice and guidance relating to the financial goals of its Clients.
- Establishing an Investment Policy Statement – RPg, in connection with the Client, may develop a statement that summarizes the Client's investment goals and objectives along with the broad strategy[ies] to be employed to meet the objectives.
- Asset Allocation – RPg will develop a strategic asset allocation that is targeted to meet the investment objectives, time horizon, financial situation and tolerance for risk for each Client.
- Portfolio Construction – RPg will develop a portfolio for the Client that is intended to meet the stated goals and objectives of the Client.
- Investment Management and Supervision – RPg will provide investment management and ongoing oversight of the Client's portfolio and overall account.

Performance-Based Fees

RPg may receive a Performance Fee based upon any gains obtained in the accounts of "Qualified Clients" pursuant to an Investment Advisory Agreement. Only Qualified Clients with either $1,000,000 under management with the Advisor or a net worth of $2.0 million will be charged a Performance Fee. The Performance Fee will be calculated at the close of each calendar year and deducted from Client accounts directly by the Custodian. The Performance Fee will be equal to 20% of any gains in the Client account for the year, subject to a performance hurdle rate of 6.00% for the year. The Advisor will receive the Performance Fee only to the extent that there are cumulative gains in the Client's account for the year that exceed 6.00%.

RPg does not manage any proprietary investment funds or limited partnerships (for example, a mutual fund or a hedge fund). RPg is affiliated with Risk Paradigm Group, LLC (RPg AM), an investment advisor that manages mutual funds and private funds. The Advisor may recommend products offered by Risk Paradigm Group, LLC to its Clients.

Methods of Analysis

RPg primarily employs both fundamental and technical analysis methods in developing investment strategies for its Clients. Research and analysis from RPg is derived from numerous sources, including financial media companies, third-party research materials, Internet sources, and review of company activities, including annual reports, prospectuses, press releases and research prepared by others.

As noted above, RPg generally employs a long-term investment strategy for its Clients, as consistent with their financial goals. RPg will typically hold all or a portion of a security for more than a year, but may hold for shorter periods for the purpose of rebalancing a portfolio or meeting the cash needs of Clients. At times, RPg may also buy and sell positions that are more short-term in nature, depending on the goals of the Client and/or the fundamentals of the security, sector or asset class.

Risk of Loss

Investing in securities involves certain investment risks. Securities may fluctuate in value or lose value. Clients should be prepared to bear the potential risk of loss. RPg will assist Clients in determining an appropriate strategy based on their tolerance for risk and other factors noted above. However, there is no guarantee that a Client will meet their investment goals.

Each Client engagement will entail a review of the Client's investment goals, financial situation, time horizon, tolerance for risk and other factors to develop an appropriate strategy for managing a Client's account. Client participation in this process, including full and accurate disclosure of requested information, is essential for the analysis of a Client's account. The Advisor shall rely on the financial and other information provided by the Client or their designees without the duty or obligation to validate the accuracy and completeness of the provided information. It is the responsibility of the Client to inform the Advisor of any changes in financial condition, goals or other factors that may affect this analysis.

The risks associated with a particular strategy are provided to each Client in advance of investing Client accounts. The Advisor will work with each Client to determine their tolerance for risk as part of the portfolio construction process. RPg may use margin in Client accounts for to manage the timing of purchases and sales, as appropriate. The Advisor may hold long or short positions as appropriate for a particular strategy. RPg may employ options strategies to hedge or gain additional exposure to a particular asset class or sector. Following are some of the risks associated with Options, Margin, Short Sales and Limited Partnership transactions:

Options Contracts

Investments in options contracts have the risk of losing value in a relatively short period of time. Option contracts are leveraged instruments that allow the holder of a single contract to control many shares of an underlying stock. This leverage can compound gains or losses.

Margin Borrowings

The use of short-term margin borrowings may result in certain additional risks to a Client. For example, if securities pledged to brokers to secure a Client's margin accounts decline in value, the Client could be subject to a "margin call", pursuant to which it must either deposit additional funds with the broker or be the subject of mandatory liquidation of the pledged securities to compensate for the decline in value.

Short Sales

A short sale involves the sale of a security that the Client does not own in the hope of purchasing the same security at a later date at a lower price. To make delivery to the buyer, the Client must borrow the security and is obligated to return the security to the lender, which is accomplished by a later purchase of the security. The Client realizes a profit or a loss as a result of a short sale if the price of the security decreases or increases respectively between the date of the short sale and the date on which the Client covers its short position, i.e., purchases the security to replace the borrowed security. A short sale involves the theoretically unlimited risk of an increase in the market price of the security that would result in a theoretically unlimited loss.

Alternative Investments (Limited Partnerships)

The performance of alternative investments (limited partnerships) can be volatile and may have limited liquidity. An investor could lose all or a portion of their investment. Such investments often have concentrated positions and investments that may carry higher risks. Client should only have a portion of their assets in these investments.

Voting Client Securities

RPg will vote proxies on behalf of its Clients.

Item 7 – Client Information Provided to Portfolio Managers

RPg is the sponsor and sole portfolio manager for the Program. In addition, RPg may periodically deliver investment management services through its affiliated institutional asset management division, Risk Paradigm Group, LLC. Personal Trading and Conflicts of Interest

RPg allows our employees to purchase or sell the same securities that may be recommended to and purchased on behalf of Clients. Owning the same securities we recommend (purchase or sell) to you presents a potential conflict of interest that, as fiduciaries, we must disclose to you and mitigate through policies and procedures. As noted above, we have adopted, consistent with Section 204A of the Investment Advisers Act of 1940, a Code of Ethics, which addresses insider trading (material non-public information controls) and personal securities reporting procedures. We have also adopted written policies and procedures to detect the misuse of material, non-public information. Access to the Fidelity Institutional platform is provided at no charge to the Advisor. The software and related systems support may benefit the Advisor, but not its Clients directly. In fulfilling its duties to its Clients, the Advisor endeavors at all times to put the interests of its Clients first. Clients should be aware, however, that the receipt of economic benefits from a custodian creates a potential conflict of interest since these benefits may influence the Advisor's recommendation of this custodian over one that does not furnish similar software, systems support, or services.

Additionally, the Advisor may receive the following benefits from Fidelity: receipt of duplicate Client confirmations and bundled duplicate statements; access to a trading desk that exclusively services its institutional participants; access to block trading which provides the ability to aggregate securities transactions and then allocate the appropriate shares to Client accounts; and access to an electronic communication network for Client order entry and account information.

Client Referrals from Solicitors

RPg may enter into referral agreements with third-party advisors under which RPg pays a fee to a third-party for client referrals as permitted by Rule 206(4)-3 of the Investment Advisers Act of 1940, as amended. RPg may pay the third parties a percentage of the revenue generated from the assets of Clients introduced to RPg by the third-party. Clients referred to RPg will never be charged a higher Investment Advisory Fee than other clients to cover the third-party's fee percentage.
