Item 2 – Material Changes

This brochure has been reviewed and updated in connection with our required annual review of our ADV materials. Various amendments have been made, but a summary of material changes follows:

We currently have assets under management of $156.6 million.

In January 2013, references to client investments in Long Short Fund I, L.P. (LSFI) were removed since LSFI, managed by its general partner Innovest Financial Management, L.P. has distributed out or at investors' direction redeployed all assets except for withholding for tax purposes on behalf of investors. Since MLPW began operations, no clients or business were referred to LSFI and the fund was wound down by its general partner in an orderly manner.

Morey H. Goldberg and Paul Silberberg are no longer members of the Firm effective November 2013.

MainLine Private Wealth, LLC was initially formed to acquire certain assets of Innovest Financial Management, Inc. (“Innovest”) Principals of Innovest will retain similar positions with MLPW, although the primary business location, ownership structure and various other factors are substantially different for MLPW.

We have prepared brochure supplements for Mssrs. Droz, Landman and Turbiner.

ADVISORY SERVICES

MainLine Private Wealth, LLC is a fee-based adviser that provides financial advice to individuals and corporate entities, including retirement plans. The Firm's client base typically will consist of individuals that have assets of at least five million dollars and higher. As adviser for our clients, we will not only provide advice on how to invest and manage their asset base, but we also will provide a full suite of services for our clients through our Family Offices Service model. Some of those services include allocation and performance of their asset base regardless of the custodian. The Firm also develops customized modeling for specific issues such as asset acquisition and divestment.

We provide advisory services in two broad categories: 1. Individual or Corporate Advisory Services, and 2. 401k Deferred Compensation Plan Advisory Services.

1. Individual or Corporate Advisory Services

We offer clients in this category a broad range of financial services through our Family Office Service model. This model provides clients with continuous investment advice and portfolio management. The Firm provides this service to individuals, ERISA covered 401(k) and profit sharing plans, trusts, estates, charitable organizations and corporations. (We should note, however, that we do not administer, custody or record keep for any of the retirement plans for which we provide advice.) The Firm invests client assets primarily through the use of a combination of exchange traded funds and private equity investments, but it may depending on circumstances use other investment vehicles including, but not limited to, fixed income instruments, CD's, load and no-load mutual funds, separate account equity and fixed income managers. The Firm employs a long-term investment strategy that allocates account assets among several different asset classes and styles (examples include: cash, fixed income, large cap growth, large cap value, small cap growth, small cap value, commodities, developed international, emerging markets and private equity) with the purpose of providing the client with a well diversified investment portfolio with particular attention to matching the volatility of the portfolio to the client.

We establish the client's current financial situation, financial goals and attitudes towards risk through various discussions, analyses and sometimes risk questionnaires. This process will help us review the client's current financial situation, including asset allocation, and enable us to recommend any changes in the allocation strategy based on the client's specific needs and goals. In determining the initial allocation to be used, the Firm may use one of several standardized model portfolios, including those structured to achieve a balance between volatility and potential return. We will, if appropriate, suggest modifications to these models to more adequately address the client's individual needs. The client may place reasonable restrictions on the nature of the investments held in the portfolio or the allocation among the various classes, and we will assist the client in understanding and evaluating the potential impact of these restrictions on the model portfolios.

Accounts will be monitored on an ongoing basis and, when appropriate and consistent with our fiduciary duties, MLPW will suggest a reallocation of the portfolio based on changing economic conditions or changes in the client's individual circumstances. In some cases, we may have to rebalance account assets so that the client's assets remain invested according to the targeted ranges established by the agreed upon asset allocation strategy. As circumstances dictate, we may adjust the criteria for assigning assets to categories or add or eliminate instruments from a client's allocation strategy. Should the client's individual situation change, the client should notify us, and we will assist the client in revising the current portfolio and/or reevaluate their financial situation to determine if a different model portfolio would be appropriate to the client's new situation.

MLPW typically manages trading in client accounts through Charles Schwab & Co., Inc. ("Schwab"), a self clearing broker-dealer and custodian.

While MainLine Private Wealth, LLC often obtains discretionary authority over its clients' advisory accounts through its advisory agreements, it chooses as a matter of policy to generally obtain client approval of all transactions prior to execution. Clients engaging us for these advisory services will enter into an agreement with the Firm setting forth the terms and conditions of the relationship, which includes terms regarding advisory and account fees to be charged and will receive a copy of MLPW's Form ADV Part 2. Clients will typically enter into separate custodial agreements with Schwab. Schwab agreements include a trading authorization so that Schwab may execute trades as directed by MLPW, the investment adviser.

MLPW's Family Office Service is designed as follows:

a. Portfolio Modeling and Asset Allocation

Through initial personal discussions with the client or prospective client, in which goals and objectives based on a client's particular circumstances are established, the Firm begins developing the client's risk profile and corresponding asset allocation strategies. The Firm then analyzes the client's current investment portfolio, determining the portfolio's historical performance and volatility metrics. We will present the client with a report comparing their current portfolio with a number of alternative portfolios with different asset allocation strategies. Each of these asset allocation strategies sets target percentages for each asset class, further segmented by style, that will be represented in the client's portfolio. After reaching a consensus with the client regarding the asset allocation strategy they wish to employ, the Firm allocates the client's managed assets pursuant to the targets determined by the selected investment strategy.

b. Consolidated Performance Reporting

Generally every quarter MLPW produces a consolidated quarterly report for each of its clients that inventories, allocates and measures performance of all of the client's financial assets. These reports provide clients with an ongoing review of their investment portfolio's performance, adherence to the established asset allocation strategy and a consolidated inventory of all of the client's investment assets regardless of whether the Firm manages those assets. Please refer to Item 13 below for more information about client reporting.

c. Cash Flow Modeling and Retirement Planning

Based on the client's income, cost of living, current account values, deferrals and assumptions regarding retirement age, inflation and future returns, MLPW provides its clients with cash flow models to assist the client in their retirement planning and determining their ability to achieve their financial goals.

d. Periodic Face-to-Face Meetings

A MLPW representative will meet face-to-face with clients on a quarterly basis to review the client's previous quarter-end performance report, introduce new investment ideas, address any current client issues and educate the client on financial topics. Sometimes these meetings may instead be via teleconference or web-based. Clients may, at their discretion, waive the offered periodic meeting(s). Please refer to Item 13 for additional information.

e. Unlimited Representative Access via Telephone or Electronic Mail

The Firm offers clients unlimited access to their MLPW adviser via the telephone or electronic mail. If immediately unavailable, the MLPW representative will respond to the client's communication as soon as is practically reasonable.

f. Access to Alternative Investments

MLPW will invest, reinvest and monitor client assets that are invested in private investments such as limited partnerships or limited liability companies which invest in securities or other private investments. Clients must meet certain eligibility requirements in order to utilize this service, and must complete subscription documents required by the private investment. Private equity investments held in retirement accounts may be custodied at a third party custodian other than Schwab.

g. Educational Funding

MLPW assists clients by recommending the appropriate investment vehicles in an effort to meet their tuition needs. We help clients select a college savings plan and manage qualified distributions.

h. Consulting

As circumstances dictate, MLPW provides advice to clients on non-securities matters, generally in connection with the rendering of advice regarding closely held businesses, estate planning, insurance, domestic dispute and/or annuities. MLPW does not provide tax or legal advice.

2. 401(k) and Deferred Compensation Plan Advisory Service

MLPW offers advisory services to corporate qualified and non-qualified deferred compensation plans, including 401(k)s ("Retirement Plans"). Our services include recommendations on the selection of investment indices, portfolio construction, annual investment performance review and assistance with enrollment and the education of plan participants. (As is also the case with the ERISA covered retirement benefit plans for which we provide advisory services, MLPW does not custody, administer or record keep for Retirement Plans). Investments recommended or utilized as part of the programs described above (e.g., mutual funds or private fund investments) are often subject to initial and on-going expenses and fees (e.g., sales loads, management fees, 12b-1 fees, etc.) which are usually set forth in the applicable offering document for any such investment. Any such expenses and fees would be in addition to the fees described in the Fee Schedule section below. However, to the extent that MLPW receives any compensation in connection with the recommendation or trading of such securities, we will offset the client's advisory fee by the amount of any other compensation we receive from the client's account so there is no special incentive for the Firm to recommend or trade certain securities.

Clients engaging MLPW for these advisory services will enter into an agreement with MLPW setting forth the terms and conditions of the relationship, which includes terms regarding advisory fees to be charged and will receive a copy of the Firm's Form ADV Part 2.

MLPW does not sponsor or participate in any wrap fee programs.

As of March 22, 2013, we manage $156.6 million in client assets on a discretionary basis.

Certain non-advisory services specified above may be provided from time to time on a separately negotiated, standalone basis. For example, for a fixed annual fee, MLPW may provide consolidated reporting of client assets with respect to which MLPW provides no investment advice.

Item 5 – Fees and Compensation

Fee Schedule

MLPW is primarily a fee-based adviser and is compensated for its advisory services (both individual and corporate entities & non-qualified deferred compensation plans) in one of two methods:

1. Fee based on a percentage of assets under management; or
2. Flat annual or monthly fee.

All advisory fees are negotiable, however the annual fee for percentage-based advisory fees generally begin at 0.75% based on a minimum account size of $5 million and is charged quarterly. MLPW provides an exact percentage or sliding scale to each client in an agreement based on both the nature and total dollar value of that account. There is a minimum annual fee of $37,500. Fees are generally paid in advance. These fees are typically paid quarterly in advance, but in the case of clients who pay flat fees, amounts due may be charged monthly.

Certain accounts opened prior to 2012 began at 1.00% based on a minimum account size of $2.5 million.

From time to time, MLPW may negotiate special fee arrangements with respect to non-advisory services performed by the Firm.

Fee Payment Options

As indicated in our advisory agreement with you, there are two options you may select to pay for our services:

1. Direct debiting (preferred): At the inception of the relationship and each quarter thereafter, your custodian will automatically “deduct” the fee from the account (or accounts) you have designated to pay our advisory fees pursuant to the terms of the fee schedule and advisory agreement between you and MLPW. Each month, you will receive a statement directly from your custodian showing all transactions, positions and credits / debits into or from your account(s); the statements after the quarter end will reflect these transactions, including the advisory fee paid by you to us.
2. Pay-by-check: At the inception of the relationship and each quarter thereafter, we issue you an invoice for our services and you pay us by check within 30 days of the date of the invoice.

Additional Third Party Fees and Expenses

Advisory fees payable to us do not include all the fees you will pay when we purchase or sell securities for your account(s). The following is a list of fees or expenses that you may be required to pay directly to third parties when a security is being purchased, sold or held in your account(s) under our management. We do not receive, directly or indirectly, any of these fees charged to you. These fees are charged by and paid to your broker, custodian or the mutual fund or other investment you hold. The fees may include:

- Brokerage fees;
- Transaction fees;
- Exchange fees;
- Administrative fees charged by Mutual Funds (MF) or Exchange Traded Funds (ETFs)
- Custodial Fees;
- Deferred sales charges (on MF or annuities);
- Transfer taxes;
- Wire transfer and electronic fund processing fees; and,
- Commissions or mark-ups / mark-downs on security transactions (See item number 10).

Refunds On Pre-Paid (paid in advance) Fees

A client agreement may be canceled at any time, by either party, for any reason upon receipt of prior written notice. As all fees are paid in advance, upon termination of any account, any prepaid, unearned fees will be promptly refunded, and any earned, unpaid fees will be due and payable. The client has the right to terminate an agreement without penalty within five business days after entering into the agreement.

In cases where a client terminates fewer than all of the accounts under MLPW's management, MLPW shall calculate the pro rata fee, based on the date of the account termination within the fee period, amount of pre-paid, unearned fees and credit the client those unearned fees on their next invoice. In cases where the client terminates all of the accounts under MLPW's management, the Firm shall calculate the pro rata fee, based on the date of the account termination within the fee period, amount of pre-paid, unearned fees and send the client a reimbursement check within 30 days of the agreement termination.

Any investment in a private investment fund is subject to the terms and conditions provided in the investment's private placement memorandum and partnership agreement.

Additional Fees and Expenses

MLPW only uses mutual funds in individual accounts on rare occasions, but mutual funds are often used in ERISA covered employee benefit plans and non-qualified deferred compensation plans. In those circumstances, we may receive ongoing fees and expenses, such as 12b-1 fees, associated with those products. This practice presents a conflict of interest and gives MLPW a potential incentive to recommend investment products based on the compensation received, rather than its clients' needs. As the Firm rarely uses mutual funds in individual client accounts this conflict is unlikely to arise, but in circumstances where it does MLPW shall inform the client of the conflict prior to purchasing the asset on the client's behalf. MLPW will offset the client's advisory fees to account for any indirect compensation received by the Firm.

In cases where MLPW is advising on either an ERISA covered employee benefit plan or non-qualified deferred compensation plan that include mutual funds in their plan options, MLPW shall adjust its advisory fees down so that the total expense, including 12b-1 fees, is no greater than the total agreed upon advisory fee as reflected in their advisory agreement.

A client could invest in mutual funds or ETFs directly, without the services of MLPW. In that case, the client would not receive the services provided by MLPW which are designed, among other things, to assist the client in determining which funds are most appropriate to their financial condition and objectives. Accordingly, the client should review both the fees charged by the funds and the fees charged by MLPW to fully understand the total amount of fees to be paid by the client and to thereby evaluate the advisory services being provided.

Private Investment Company Fees and Expenses

Investments in private funds or other types of private investment companies typically require the delivery of a prospectus or private placement memorandum and subscription or other enrollment documents must be completed prior to any investment. These materials must be reviewed carefully in order to determine what fees and expenses are applicable. There may be advisory or management fees as well as other expenses charged to investors. It is possible that advisory fees will be charged by MLPW as well as by the other manager of the private investment fund on the same dollars under management.

Advisory Fees and Expenses Charged by Affiliated Parties

MLPW is related to other broker-dealers, investment advisers and private funds. Any fees received by those entities are not disclosed here, although it is possible that a client of MLPW is also an investor or client of a related company.

When a MLPW client invests in a private fund related to the Firm, a MLPW representative will explain in detail any dual advisory fees associated with the investment, if applicable. Any such private fund enrollment or subscription documents that need to be completed prior to any investment in the fund include disclosure of any known conflicts of interest, as well as these dual fees, if applicable.

Please refer to Item 10 below, Other Financial Industry Activities and Affiliations.

Item 6 – Performance-Based Fees and Side-by-Side Management

MLPW does not charge advisory fees on a share of the capital appreciation of the funds or securities in a client's account (so-called performance based fees). Our advisory fee compensation is charged only as disclosed above (under item number 5).

Related general partners or managers may receive a share of the profits generated by their private fund clients. This share of profits is often referred to as a carried interest. Please refer to Item 10 below, Other Financial Industry Activities and Affiliations.

Item 7 – Types of Clients

We provide our services to the following types of clients:

- Individuals, generally high net worth individuals;
- ERISA covered employee benefit plans including 401(k) and profit sharing plans;
- Non-Qualified Deferred Compensation Plans;
- Trusts; and
- Corporations or other business entities.

Item 8 – Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies and Risk of Loss

METHODS OF ANALYSIS

MLPW meets with each client face-to-face and/or by telephone to determine the details of their business as well as personal life. This meeting time attempts to uncover the client's view of volatility and the long-term goals of any asset repositioning or planning. A risk profile questionnaire may be completed by the client to provide more support for the ultimate allocation of their assets. The most important risk profiling however is determined by personal meeting time with the client and his or her spouse.

MLPW begins by inventorying the client's current asset base. The Firm analyzes how the current investments are broken down by both asset class and style. MLPW uses the Morningstar Direct™ analytical tool to determine both the asset class as well as style characteristics of the current portfolio using performance based regression analysis. MLPW analyzes the pertinent current positioning by determining the volatility (standard and downside deviation) as well as the performance that should be expected for that volatility (Sharpe and Sortino Ratios).

MLPW will also use Morningstar Direct™ to develop alternative portfolios to the client's existing portfolio and compare the above mentioned volatility and performance metrics until the client and the Firm build consensus around a new allocation to better pursue the client's previously determined goals and objectives.

INVESTMENT STRATEGIES

In general, we employ a long term, buy-and-hold strategy, and believe that investors should have a diversified investment portfolio with investments across the market, segmented by asset class and style. That being said, each client has different goals, objectives and views on risk. As a result, each MLPW client will potentially have different allocations as determined by both asset class and investment style. MLPW implements most allocations with similar products. Our recommended portfolios usually consist of a combination of fixed income, equity "long" assets and hedge fund exposure, as well as some private equity or real estate exposure in some cases. The portfolio's long exposure is typically implemented with passive strategies involving exchange traded funds.

Each exchange traded fund purchased for a client account is earmarked to represent an investment in either an asset class or a style within an asset class into which we segment the publicly traded domestic and international investment markets (i.e. large cap growth, large cap value, small cap growth, small cap value, commodity, developed international and emerging markets).

When fixed income strategies are deployed, MLPW will use a combination of exchange traded funds, fixed income funds, publically traded fixed income mutual funds as well as individual bonds at the client's discretion. We may also place client assets into structured certificates of deposit, which contain specific income criteria for the term of the certificate, as well as guaranteed return of the cost basis of the investment at the maturity of the certificate, which is insured by the FDIC.

Depending on the client's individual circumstances, the core strategy may be supplemented with allocations to alternative investments such as hedge funds, real estate, private equities or other types of private funds.

As a result of the diversity of MLPW's client base, the Firm will always respond to a client's request to research an allocation implementation tool (i.e. investment product or strategy). Moreover, we are always looking at new products and services to determine if they could add value to our clients' portfolios. When we think those investment products are appropriate, we may recommend their inclusion in our clients' accounts.

RISK OF LOSS

All investments in securities include a risk of loss of your principal (invested amount) and any profits that have not been realized (the securities were not sold to "lock in" the profit). As you may know, stock and bond markets fluctuate substantially over time. In addition, as recent global and domestic economic events have indicated, the performance of any investment is not guaranteed. As a result, there is a risk of loss of the assets we manage that may be out of our control. We will do our very best in the management of your assets; however, we cannot guarantee any level of performance or that you will not experience a loss of your account assets.

Item 9 – Disciplinary Information

In September, 2005, CMS Fund Advisers, Inc., a related entity, was subject to an administrative proceeding alleging certain custody violations for failure to timely perform surprise custody verifications. CMS Fund Advisers, Inc. was censured, fined and ordered to cease such violating activity. The verifications, once completed, revealed no irregularities. See SEC Administrative Proceeding Release No. IA-2430.

Innovest Financial Management, Inc. is the general partner for Long Short Fund I, L.P. (“LSFI”). This relationship presents a conflict of interest since Mr. Droz is 100% owner and a principal of Innovest. During the first quarter of 2013, LSFI was in the final stages of winding down the fund and had distributed or at investors’ direction redeployed all capital out of the fund on behalf of investors except for withholding amounts for tax purposes.

Item 11 – Code of Ethics, Participation or Interests in Client Transactions and Personal Trading

CODE OF ETHICS

The Firm has adopted a Code of Ethics that sets forth certain standards of conduct with respect to important matters. The Code of Ethics applies to all members of the Firm's investment committee and employees that have access to nonpublic information about our clients and their securities or asset holdings (collectively, called access persons). All access persons must sign the Code of Ethics when hired, and then annually thereafter.

The Code of Ethics addresses the Firm's ethical standards in the following areas:

- Fiduciary duties
- Compliance with securities laws
- Compliance with Firm supervisory policies and procedures
- Insider trading and handling of nonpublic information regarding Firm clients and their investments
- Requirements of access persons to report securities holdings, transactions, board affiliations and outside business activities
- Requirements of access persons to obtain prior approval of certain investments and outside business activities
- Confidentiality requirements
- Restrictions on accepting gifts or gratuities from clients

These matters are designed to detect and prevent violations of the Firm's fiduciary duties to clients and securities laws. Upon request, a copy of our Code of Ethics will be provided to any client or investor, or to any prospective client or investor.

CERTAIN CONFLICTS OF INTEREST

The Firm is related to persons that are in the advisory business, broker-dealer business, insurance business, real estate management and other businesses. The Firm is also related to certain private funds. As a result of these relationships, various conflicts of interest arise from time to time. The Firm attempts to resolve conflicts of interest in a fair and equitable way to all parties consistent with its fiduciary duties. However, it is not always possible to be fair to all parties when a conflict arises. This section describes certain conflicts of interest that may arise.

Securities Recommendations

From time to time we may recommend to clients, when appropriate, securities in which we or a related party has a direct or indirect financial interest. Such financial interest presents a conflict of interest. At the time we make any such recommendations, the conflicts of interest will be disclosed including all fee arrangements.

Investing in the Same Securities

Our Code does not prohibit personal trading by employees. As you may imagine, as a professional investment adviser, we follow our own advice. As a result, we may purchase or sell the same or similar securities (or securities that are suitable for an employee or related account but not suitable for any client, including you) for our own accounts.

Timing of Personal Trading

It is our expressed policy that no person employed by MLPW (or employed by a related company who has access to MLPW's client trades or investment recommendations) may purchase or sell any security prior to a transaction being placed on the same or similar security for one of our client's accounts. This policy eliminates any conflict of interest posed as the result of market timing between our clients and our employees.

Advisory Affiliate Activities

CMS Fund Advisers, LLC, MainLine Investment Advisers, LLC and Merion Realty Advisers, LLC advise private funds whose general partners or managers are related to MLPW ("Private Funds" or "Funds"). Certain clients of MLPW may invest in securities offered by these advisory affiliates.

MLPW may recommend that the client invest in a product sponsored by or managed by a related person. Please refer to Securities Recommendations above.

Transactions between the Firm's clients and the clients of advisory affiliates may create conflicts of interest. Detailed disclosure of potential conflicts of interest are contained in the Form ADV for CMS Fund Advisers, LLC, MainLine Investment Advisers, LLC and Merion Realty Advisers, LLC, all of which are affiliated entities which may advise related Private Funds.

In rare instances, a related advisory affiliate may buy securities for itself from, or sell securities it owns to, a Fund or client. It is also possible that the Firm (or a related party) may have a direct or indirect interest in an investment that a client or Fund buys or sells.

In all cases, the MLPW or the related adviser will attempt to structure the transaction so that it is fair to all clients involved in the transaction and is on terms that are comparable to an arm's length transaction between unrelated parties. In many cases, the related adviser will obtain an independent third party valuation of the security involved in the transaction. When conflicts of interest arise, it may not be possible to be fair to all clients or Funds involved in all cases. A transaction structure, performance or outcome may turn out to be more favorable to one client over another.

Other Affiliate Activities

CMS Investment Resources, LLC (a party related to the Firm) may act as a broker or agent for compensation in buying or selling securities for or among Firm clients or related Private Funds. In such cases, the commissions or other compensation charged are comparable to the commissions and other compensation that would be charged by independent third parties.

Item 12 – Brokerage Practices

General Considerations

Unless we otherwise agree to, or are required by law, we use Charles Schwab & Co., Inc. ("Schwab") as our self-clearing broker-dealer and custodian for most clients' advisory accounts. Some of the factors that we considered when selecting our broker-dealer include the types of services they provide, practices for providing best execution for trades, commission rates, transaction costs, research, their trading platform, compliance and investment adviser support, and overall level of customer support. MLPW's policy is to seek the best price and most favorable execution of client transactions. On a continuing, and no less often than quarterly basis, MLPW reviews data provided by Schwab to ensure that any commissions paid are reasonable in relation to the value of the brokerage, clearing and custodial services provided.

Research and Other Soft Dollar Benefits

We do not have any formal or informal arrangements or commitments to utilize research, research-based products and other services obtained from a broker-dealer, Schwab, or other third party on a soft dollar commission basis. A soft dollar arrangement is one where higher commissions may be charged in exchange for products, research or services other than services directly related to the trade itself.

Brokerage for Client Referrals

We do not consider the practice of a broker-dealer providing referrals in return for using their brokerage services when selecting or recommending a broker-dealer.

Directed Brokerage/Principal/Agency Cross Transactions

We currently do not have any clients who direct their brokerage or execute specific transactions to a firm other than Schwab. We do, however, have some clients who for various reasons have determined to maintain certain accounts with broker-dealers other than Schwab, where MLPW does not have an existing relationship. We are not responsible for negotiating the terms and arrangements for accounts with broker-dealers other than Schwab. In these cases, the client may incur higher commissions or other transaction costs than would otherwise be the case had the client determined to effect transactions through the brokerage relationship recommended by MLPW.

We generally do not participate in principal or agency cross transactions.

Aggregation of Client Transactions

Generally, purchases or sales of securities for our clients are done based upon their individual allocations or needs, which makes the aggregation or blocking of MLPW client transactions impractical. However, sometimes it may be appropriate for MLPW or Schwab to aggregate transaction orders for more than one account. If any such order is executed in more than one transaction, a weighted average of the prices at which all of such transactions were executed will be applied, pursuant to Schwab's trading practices.

Item 13 – Review of Client Accounts

Periodic Review of Client Accounts

We review our client accounts on a regular and continuous basis. This review is conducted during the preparation of the quarterly reports we produce and present to our clients (described below), as well as throughout each quarter. This review may include, but is not limited to, reconciling account values, positions, securities transactions and cash contributions or withdrawals. This review is conducted or supervised by Mr. Turbiner or Mr. Droz.

Non-Periodic Review of Client Accounts

A more extensive review of a client account may also be triggered at a client's request or if a discrepancy in an account value becomes evident during routine activities associated with our advisory practice.

Client Reporting

On a quarterly basis MainLine Private Wealth, LLC will produce a physical copy of a consolidated portfolio review report for each of its clients. MLPW uses Black Diamond Performance Reporting™ to produce these reports. The quarterly report includes the following:

- A Portfolio Overview – this section of the quarterly report will include the following:
 - ✓ A Portfolio Value Summary showing beginning and ending market value of the portfolio. The summary will also include net additions, gains / losses, returns, and appropriate benchmark returns;
 - ✓ Top ten holdings in the portfolio;
 - ✓ Net Additions and Market Value Since Inception;
 - ✓ Portfolio Performance Since Inception;
 - ✓ Portfolio Returns net of fees;
 - ✓ Allocations by Accounts; and
 - ✓ Summary of Portfolio Accounts.
- Target vs. Actual Class Allocation Summary – this section of the report shows the client's asset allocation at the time of the report compared to the client's pre-established target asset allocation.
- Portfolio Holdings and Performance Detail outlining the performance of account and security.

In addition to the Quarterly Report, MainLine Private Wealth, LLC may at times provide supplementary reports to the client including, but not limited to, the following:

- Unrealized Gain/Loss Summary showing account-level detail for the portfolio;
- Detailed Income Report illustrating account level income received through dividend disbursements;
- Fixed Income Report;
- Realized Gain/Loss Report;
- Projected Income Report;

- MPT Statistics including Sharpe Ratio and Standard Deviation over a selected time period;
- Risk-Adjusted Analysis Report illustrating portfolio returns measured against Standard Deviation and compared to various static benchmarks; or
- Return Analysis: Up / Down Capture chart to illustrate how well the portfolio is capturing market upturns and downturns.

Until April 2012, we used Morningstar Office™ to produce quarterly reports. In the second quarter of 2012 we transitioned to Black Diamond Performance Reporting™. Some of the reporting features or options listed above may be enhanced, or may not yet be available.

MLPW may be able to offer clients secure online access to summarized reports of their portfolio. If available, the online report portal will show activity up to the previous days' market values and returns.

Item 14 – Client Referrals and Other Compensation

The Firm does not receive economic benefits from any party who is not a client for providing investment advice or other advisory services to our clients.

CMS Investment Resources, LLC (CMSIR) is a broker-dealer related to the Firm. Certain registered representatives or executive officers of CMSIR are also associated with the Firm in various capacities. The Firm may compensate CMSIR for identifying appropriate clients based on eligibility criteria provided by the Firm or for performing other functions associated with providing advisory services.

If the Firm compensates a person who is not related to the Firm for referring clients, such arrangements are disclosed in writing to the client.

Item 15 – Custody

Advisory Accounts

As we have discussed previously, at our clients election we request direct debiting of our advisory fees from client brokerage accounts from the custodian (Schwab). This type of fee payment may be deemed as custody, but it does not require any additional activity on our part since you receive statements directly from the custodian, and concurrently with debiting any account, a copy of the invoice presented to the custodian is also delivered to the client.

Most of our advised accounts are maintained with qualified custodians which directly provide our clients with statements on at least a quarterly basis. The majority of our client accounts are maintained at Schwab. Clients receive custodian statements at their addresses of record in hard-copy form through the U.S. mail, unless clients specifically request electronic delivery. We urge our clients to review these statements carefully.

While we do not produce duplicate account statements, we do present our clients with a significant amount of account information in our quarterly review reports. Since we use Black Diamond Performance Reporting™ (previously we used Morningstar Office™) to create our quarterly client reports, there may be discrepancies in the prices of securities between the values we illustrate in our report and those on the statements from the qualified custodian.

Following this brochure is a copy of our standard disclosure that accompanies our quarterly reports.

Our clients should always keep in mind that for tax and other purposes, the statements that they receive from the custodian are the official records for their accounts and assets.

Item 16 – Investment Discretion

We request, and our clients authorize by signing our Discretionary Advisory Agreement, discretionary authority over our clients' investment assets. This discretionary authority allows us to determine which securities and the quantity of securities that are bought or sold, the broker-dealer to be used and the authority to retain or terminate subadvisers. As a matter of general policy, however, at least with respect to the purchase and sale of securities or to the retention or termination of subadvisers, we seek client approval of all recommendations prior to taking an action on a client's account. We offer the client our recommendations regarding the purchase or sale of securities, the retention or termination of subadvisers and the investment or redemption of any private investment company fund and then ask if we may proceed with our recommended course of action.

See also Item 4 – Advisory Business.

Item 17 – Voting Client Securities

As a matter of policy and practice, we do not vote proxies on behalf of our advisory clients.

Item 18 – Financial Information

Balance Sheet

We are not required to include a copy of our balance sheet, as we do not require or solicit prepayment of more than $1,200 in fees per client six months or more in advance.

Financial Condition Relating to Meeting Contractual Obligations

Our current financial condition presents no cause to fear that our ability to meet our contractual commitments to our clients may be impaired.

Bankruptcy

We have never been the subject of a bankruptcy petition.

Account performance information in this report reflects the reinvestment of dividends, and is net of applicable transaction fees, MainLine Private Wealth, LLC investment management fee (if debited directly from the account), and any other related account expenses.

Investment in funds and securities involves risk, including the possible loss of investment principal. MainLine Private Wealth, LLC does not provide tax or legal advice.

The information provided herein was obtained from sources we believe to be reliable, but we do not guarantee its accuracy or completeness. Please refer to your trade confirmations, account statements and/or Forms 1099 for actual trade and pricing information. Account information has been compiled solely by MainLine Private Wealth, LLC, has not been independently verified and does not reflect the impact of taxes on non-qualified accounts. Historical performance results for investment indices and/or categories have been provided for general comparison purposes only, and generally do not reflect the deduction of transaction and/or custodial charges, the deduction of an investment management fee, nor the impact of taxes, the incurrence of which would have the effect of decreasing historical performance results. It should not be assumed that your account holdings correspond directly to any comparative indices.

The portfolio benchmark is a blended benchmark. A blended benchmark is a weighted average of certain indexes and represents a more appropriate index to utilize for comparison purposes versus just comparing a portfolio to a broad market index.

"Since Inception Return" is displayed on this report and details the return for the given date range of the report and may not include the return for the entire date range since the account was established. In any case, the "Since Inception Return" does not predate January 1, 2009.

Trailing returns are annualized returns for rolling periods ending with the current quarter, and return periods less than one year are not annualized.

Certain real estate and private equity assets managed by related advisers are valued on a quarterly basis. Interim valuation updates may be made if the adviser becomes aware of a material change to the valuation, but in most cases updated valuations are expected to lag by up to three months for real estate and up to five months for private equity based on previous experience in the timing of receiving asset information and manager valuations.

The information presented is not an offering of any security.
