Who are the International Business team?

Clients tend to view us as a team of young dedicated mid-market corporate business professionals with a variety of backgrounds - most of us are in our early thirties and entered the profession from the business and trade industry, while others have accountancy, engineering or banking backgrounds. Collectively we have worked on numerous of projects internationally.

Our team work across all sectors, however some individual members of the team have developed an explicit experience in certain sectors, as well as media, real estate and energy and natural resources. Our team works closely with our international finance networks, to ensure a seamless service on our multinational projects.

Each one of us combines wisdom and expertise with the flexibility necessary to produce a versatile, solutions- oriented service.

Senior Staff

Several of our senior staff joined us due to the fact that they wished to spend additional time with their clients, in order to develop that one-to-one relationship which is lacking in business today.
