ITEM 4: ADVISORY BUSINESS

A. Description of Firm

CCM is an SEC-registered investment adviser with its principal place of business located in Costa Mesa, California. CCM began conducting business in 1987. The firm was founded by Steven Check and is owned by the Check Family Trust.

B. Type of Advisory Services Offered

Managed Accounts: CCM's primary business is the management of brokerage accounts for individuals, corporations, partnerships, etc. ("Clients"). Investments are predominantly in U.S. equities, corporate and municipal bonds and covered-call stock options. CCM provides asset-allocation advice (stocks, bonds, cash weighting) and complimentary retirement income-planning services where retirement cash flow plans are generated.

CCM asks the Client for specific information, such as investment objectives, investment time-horizon, tax considerations, and any reasonable restrictions on the management of the Client's assets. We will invest the Client's account assets based on those guidelines and in accordance with the CCM Investment Program selected by the Client.

In performing its services, CCM shall not be required to verify any information received from the Client or from the Client's other professionals, and is expressly authorized to rely thereon. Moreover, each Client is advised that it remains his/her/its responsibility to promptly notify CCM if there is ever any change in his/her/its financial situation or investment objectives for the purpose of reviewing/evaluating/revising CCM's previous recommendations and/or services.

Mutual Fund: CCM is the investment adviser to the Blue Chip Investor Fund, an investment company registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940. The Fund Prospectus and Statement of additional Information are available online at www.bluechipinvestorfund.com. Prospective investors should review these documents carefully before making an investment in the Blue Chip Investor Fund.

Limited Partnership: CCM provides investment supervisory services to one (1) affiliated private investment fund, the CCM Private Fund, LP (the "Private Fund"). CCM serves as the General Partner and manages the Private Fund's assets based on the specific investment objectives and restrictions of the Private Fund, as outlined in the Private Fund's Private Placement Memorandum ("PPM"), rather than on the individual needs and objectives of the individual investors in the Private Fund. The investment strategies for the Private Fund varies from those used in the other investment programs listed in Item 8. Investment in the Private Fund is suitable only for sophisticated accredited investors. Please refer to the PPM and Items 5, 6, 7, 8, 10, 12, 13 and 15 of this Brochure for more information.

Publication of Periodicals: CCM publishes a monthly newsletter, The Blue Chip Investor, providing general information on equity investing, asset allocation, market valuations, etc. The information provided does not purport to meet the objectives or needs of any individual investor. The annual subscription rate is $249. The newsletter is provided free of charge to advisory Clients.

C. Assets Under Management

As of December 31, 2013, Client assets under management are: $772.1 million of discretionary assets and $24.9 million of non-discretionary assets. Total assets under management: $797.0 million.

ITEM 5: FEES AND COMPENSATION

CCM offers Clients two fee-schedule choices for its asset-management services. One choice is a profit-based management fee and the other is an asset-based management fee.

Profit-Based Management Fee: The fee is 10% of account profits. Profits are defined as the change in the account value, net of deposits and withdrawals. Fees are calculated and invoiced annually. Should there be a loss in a particular year, no fee will be assessed, and the loss will be carried forward to offset profits accrued in future years. For a Client to hire a manager under a profit-based-fee arrangement, the SEC requires that a) the Client's net worth be at least $2 million (exclusive of the Client's equity in their primary residence and net of any debt secured by Client's residence taken out in the last 60 days except for purchase of the residence), or b) the Client's assets with the manager be at least $1 million. In signing an Investment Advisory Agreement which designates the "Profit-Based Management Fee" option, the Client acknowledges that it meets one of the above requirements.

Asset-Based Management Fee: The Client will be charged a management fee quarterly, in advance, based on the value of the Client's account as of the close of business on the last business day of the preceding quarter.

The annual fee is 1.0% of assets under management, with a minimum quarterly fee of $100. Pro-rated management fees will be charged for partial quarters under management, again based on the account's value at the beginning of the period.

We will send you an invoice for the payment of our management fee, or we will deduct our fee directly from your account through the custodian holding your funds and securities. We will deduct our advisory fee only when you have given our firm written authorization permitting the fees to be paid directly from your account. Further, the custodian will deliver an account statement to you at least quarterly. These account statements will show all the disbursements from your account. You should review all statements for accuracy.

Blue Chip Investor Fund: The mutual fund pays an asset-based management fee to CCM.

CCM Private Fund: The partnership does not pay the General Partner (CCM) a management fee. Instead, the General Partner is compensated, if at all, through an incentive allocation. In accordance therewith, if at the end of any Performance Period (as that term is defined in the PPM) the net profits allocated to a partner's capital account exceeds the net losses allocated to such capital account, then an incentive-based allocation equal to 10% of such excess, subject to the loss carry forward provisions set forth in the PPM, will be allocated from the capital account of such limited partner to the capital account of the General Partner.

Please refer to Item 6 below for details regarding performance-based fees and the conflicts associated with such types of fees.

Termination of the Advisory Relationship: Either party may terminate the Investment Advisory Agreement at any time. Upon termination, any prepaid, unearned fees will be refunded.

Limited Prepayment of Fees: Under no circumstances does CCM require or solicit payment of fees more than six months in advance of services rendered.

Wrap-Fee Programs: In a wrap-fee arrangement, clients pay a single fee for advisory, brokerage and custodial services. That means that Client portfolio transactions are executed without commission charges pursuant to a written wrap-fee agreement. For Clients participating in wrap-fee managed account programs, they may be charged various program fees in addition to the advisory fee charged by CCM. Currently, CCM does not open wrap-fee accounts.

Advisory Fees in General: The fees outlined represent the fees CCM generally charges for portfolio management services. However, CCM fees may be negotiable and arrangements with any particular Client may differ from those described above. Also, Clients should note that similar advisory services may (or may not) be available from other investment advisers for similar or lower fees. More information regarding directly debiting advisory fees from Client accounts can be found in Item 15.

Additional Fees and Expenses: For Clients receiving portfolio management services, the Client's account assets are generally custodied with National Financial Services LLC and Fidelity Brokerage Services LLC (collectively, and together with all affiliates, "Fidelity"), or in the alternative, may be custodied at Schwab Institutional, a division of Charles Schwab & Co., Inc. ("Schwab") or TD Ameritrade (collectively hereinafter "broker/custodians"). In addition to those fees charged by CCM, there are certain transactional charges applicable when purchasing and selling securities in Client accounts. The additional fees are charged by the broker/custodians and are separate and in addition to those fees charged by CCM. A written confirmation of each transaction, including all transaction charges, will be sent by the broker/custodians to the Client following execution of each transaction. Please refer to Item 12 for detailed information on these brokerage services.

All fees paid to CCM for the various services it provides to Clients are separate and distinct from the fees and expenses charged by third parties (including broker/custodians). These separate fees and expenses include, but are not limited to, custodial fees, execution costs, and mutual fund fees and expenses. Client assets also may be subject to transaction fees, brokerage fees and commissions, retirement plan administration fees (if applicable), trustee fees, deferred sales charges on mutual funds initially deposited in the account, 12b-1 fees, odd-lot differentials, transfer taxes, wire transfer and electronic fund fees, and other fees and taxes on brokerage accounts and securities transactions. For mutual funds and exchange traded funds, a Client may be charged internal management fees, distribution fees, redemption fees and other expenses, which are fully described in the applicable fund's prospectus.

Assignment: Neither CCM nor the Client may assign the written agreement without the consent of the other party. Transactions that do not result in a change of actual control or management of CCM shall not be considered an assignment.

ITEM 6: PERFORMANCE-BASED FEES AND SIDE-BY-SIDE MANAGEMENT

As noted in Item 5 above, CCM may charge certain Clients a performance-based fee (i.e., a fee calculated based on a share of capital gains upon or capital appreciation of the assets or any portion of the assets of an advisory Client) as part of our profit-based fee for separately manage accounts or as the performance fee assessed by our Private Fund. Performance-based compensation payable to CCM may be larger than otherwise would be the case if the fee was calculated as a percentage of assets under management because the amount of the fee will be based on account performance. Performance-based fee arrangements may create certain conflicts of interest due to the fact that CCM also has accounts that are assessed a percentage of assets under management or flat fees based on the following: (i) performance-fee arrangements may create an incentive for the manager to make investments that are riskier or more speculative than would be the case in the absence of a performance fee; (ii) the manager may receive compensation with regard to unrealized (not sold) appreciation as well as realized (sold) gains in the Client's account; and (iii) the fees charged by managers in performance-fee arrangements may be higher or lower than fees charged by other advisers for comparable services.

Side-by-side management refers to the fact the CCM manages accounts for Clients, the Blue Chip Investor Fund and the CCM Private Fund. This can create a conflict of interest if and when the same security is purchased in the fund(s) and in client accounts at different times. To mitigate this conflict of interest, CCM had developed a trade rotation policy which is described in Item 12 below. In addition, it is CCM's policy to not show a preference to any fund or client, regardless of their custodian or management-fee arrangement.

ITEM 7: TYPES OF CLIENTS

CCM manages accounts for individuals, corporations, partnerships, etc., in almost any type of account (individual, joint, trust, IRA, profit-share, etc.) that can be opened at a brokerage firm. In addition, CCM serves as manager to the Blue Chip Investor Fund and the CCM Private Fund.

Additionally, CCM manages ERISA accounts, including employee benefit, pension and profit sharing plans, and is deemed to be a "fiduciary" to such Clients pursuant to the Employee Retirement Income and Securities Act ("ERISA") and regulations under the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 (the "Code"), respectively.

Minimum Account Requirements: CCM imposes a minimum investment of $500,000 per new Client. This requirement may be waived, at CCM's sole discretion.

There may be times when certain restrictions are placed by a Client, which prevents CCM from accepting or continuing to manage the portfolio management account. CCM reserves the right to not accept and/or terminate management of a Client's account for any reason.

CCM Private Fund: The fund has a minimum for initial and subsequent investments, which is fully described in the CCM Private Fund's PPM.

ITEM 8: METHODS OF ANALYSIS, INVESTMENT STRATEGIES AND RISK OF LOSS

A. Methods of Analysis

CCM's investment philosophy is based on a "Warren Buffett style" approach which stems from Ben Graham's classic observation that "investing is most intelligent when it is most business-like." That means that CCM does not just view stocks as financial instruments that trade up or down; instead, we view them as ownership stakes in the underlying businesses.

For its portfolio holdings, CCM generally seeks a margin of safety in terms of price paid relative to business value received. We believe that buying at a discount to intrinsic business value not only offers a magnified prospective return, but more importantly, provides a buffer against the things that can go wrong. CCM's commitment is to focus on the long term.

CCM does its own fundamental research. We read company annual reports, listen to conference calls, and review company presentations. We compare companies to their peers. We try to envision what the company will be earning three (3) to five (5) years from now. We often write our own proprietor research reports on companies whose stocks we own for Clients.

CCM also utilizes research such as Morningstar, Value Line, Bloomberg and other commercial software, to assist in its overall evaluation of securities.

B. Investment Strategies

Depending on Clients' investment objectives, risk tolerance and time horizons, Clients choose (with our guidance) a CCM investment program or fund. The portfolios usually consist of stocks, bonds and/or covered-call options. Our investment programs are known as 1) Quality Growth Program; 2) Equity-Income Program; 3) Balanced Program; 4) Private Program; 5) Fixed-Income Program and 6) flexFOLIO Program. Each program is briefly described below.

Quality Growth Program portfolios emphasize capital appreciation and preservation through investments in high quality companies. Accounts usually hold 15-25 stocks when fully invested. For taxable accounts, tax considerations are usually taken into account.

Equity-Income Program accounts emphasize investments in individual stocks and at-the-money covered-call option positions. Accounts usually hold less than 10 stocks that are a subset of Quality Growth Program stocks.

Balanced Program accounts are similar the Equity-Income Program accounts except in-the-money covered call option positions are employed instead of at-the-money option positions. High-quality bonds may also be purchased.

Fixed-Income Program portfolios invest in high-quality bonds. Taxable or tax-free bonds—as well as appropriate maturities—are chosen to address a Client's individual requirements. The accounts are non-discretionary. CCM often does not charge a management fee on fixed-income accounts for Clients in our equity-oriented programs.

flexFOLIO Program accounts are non-discretionary. The Program is for Clients where CCM's other investment programs are not appropriate.

Clients can learn more about the above programs by discussing them with CCM personnel. The performance of discretionary CCM programs is verified by a CPA and the verification report is available upon request.

Our investment funds are known as 1) Blue Chip Investor Fund and 2) CCM Private Fund.

Blue Chip Investor Fund is used to accommodate a Client's smaller accounts (UTMA, IRA, etc.). The mutual fund's assets are maintained at US Bank. The Fund maintains an independent administrator that makes all required regulatory filings and an independent Board of Directors (no person associated with CCM sits on the Board). Please see Item 5 above for information relating to CCM's compensation from the Fund.

CCM Private Fund may be considered by accredited investors (as defined below), qualified clients or up to 35 eligible unaccredited investors as further explained in Item 10. Risks are much higher with this fund. Common stocks and equivalents, leverage, options and money market funds are used in the investment strategies of our affiliated Private Fund. Details regarding this strategy, our methods of analysis and the risks involved are outlined in the Private Fund's offering documents and should be read carefully by investors. The terms and conditions for participation in the Fund, including fees, conflicts of interest, and risk factors, are also set forth in the Fund's offering documents.

No Legal, Accounting or Insurance Services: CCM, nor any of its representatives, serves as an attorney, accountant, or insurance agent, and no portion of CCM's services should be construed as same.

Conflict of Interest: To the extent that any Client or prospective Client has questions regarding the potential for a conflict of interest pertaining to an investment in the Blue Chip Investor Fund or CCM Private Investment Fund LP, CCM's Chief Compliance Officer, Robert Hill, is available to address questions.

C. Risk of Loss

CCM employs a fundamentals-based investment methodology. Our securities analysis makes use of publicly available sources of information. There is always a risk that our analysis may be compromised by undetected inaccuracies. In addition, our conclusions may prove to be wrong and investments for Clients may consequently result in losses.

Notably, investing in securities involves risk of loss that Clients should be prepared to bear. CCM's investment recommendations are subject to various markets, currency, economic, political and business risks, and such investment decisions may not always be profitable. Clients should be aware that there may be a loss or depreciation to the value of their account and there can be no assurance that a Client's investment objectives will be obtained and no inference to the contrary is being made.

In addition, generally, the market value of stocks will fluctuate with market conditions. The market value of bonds will generally fluctuate inversely with interest rates and other market conditions prior to maturity and will equal par value (face value) at maturity.

Mutual fund investing involves risk including the possible loss of principal. Non-diversified funds are more susceptible to financial, market and economic events effecting the particular issuers and industry sectors in which they invest and therefore may be more volatile or risky than less concentrated investments. In addition, there is no assurance that a mutual fund will achieve its investment objective. Mutual fund investments also may result in unexpected tax liabilities which cannot be controlled by CCM or the Client.

Importantly, past performance of investments is no guarantee of future results. Some additional investment risks a Client should be aware of include, but are not limited, to the following:

- Management Risk. There is the risk that the investment techniques and risk analyses applied by CCM may not produce the desired results and that legislative, regulatory, or tax developments, may affect the investment techniques available to CCM. There is no guarantee that a Client's investment objectives will be achieved.
- Liquidity Risk. Liquidity is the ability to readily convert an investment into cash. Generally, assets are more liquid if many traders are interested in a standardized product. For example, Treasury Bills are highly liquid, while real estate properties are not.
- Reinvestment Risk. This is the risk that future proceeds from investments may have to be reinvested at a potentially lower rate of return (i.e., interest rate). This primarily relates to fixed income securities.

From time to time CCM investment opportunities may also employ option strategies. The following risks are associated with these types of transactions:

- Option buying. This is a basic options strategy where investors buy a call or put option with the hope that the price of the underlying stock will move far enough to cover the premium paid for the option.
- Option writing. Investors can sell options in order to obtain additional income from premiums paid by the option buyer. Option writing is often associated with the investment strategy known as covered call writing. Covered calls limit the upside of a stock holding.

- Uncovered Options and Spreading strategies. Uncovered options trading can be more risky than writing covered call options. The potential loss is theoretically unlimited. An option spread involves combining two different option strikes as part of a limited risk strategy.

Prior to entering into an agreement with CCM, the Client should carefully consider committing to stock portfolio management only those assets that the Client believes will not be needed for current purposes and that can be invested on a long-term basis, usually a minimum of three to five years.

Different types of investments involve varying degrees of risk, and it should not be assumed that future performance of any specific investment or investment strategy (including the investments and/or investment strategies recommended or undertaken by CCM) will be profitable or equal any specific performance level(s).

ITEM 9: DISCIPLINARY INFORMATION

CCM is required to disclose all legal and disciplinary events that are material to a Client's or prospective Client's evaluation of our advisory business or the integrity of our management. CCM and its management personnel have no reportable disciplinary events to disclose.

ITEM 10: OTHER FINANCIAL INDUSTRY ACTIVITIES AND AFFILIATIONS

A. Financial Industry Activities

The Private Fund is not open to the general public. The Private Fund is only open to a limited number of "accredited investors" as defined in Regulation D under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended ("Securities Act") and to "qualified clients" as defined in Rule 205-3 under the Investment Advisers Act of 1940, as amended ("Advisers Act"). In addition, the General Partner may, in its sole discretion, consider as eligible to invest in the Private Fund up to 35 unaccredited investors, but who are relying on the assistance of a "purchaser representative" as defined in Regulation D under the Securities Act. It is important that each potential investor fully read the Private Fund's PPM prior to investing.

B. Affiliations

CCM is the General Partner and investment manager of our affiliated Private Fund, which is composed of a limited number of partners/investors who generally are accredited investors under Regulation D of the Securities Act, and qualified clients under the Advisers Act. There are potential and actual conflicts of interest due to these affiliations, which we have addressed in a number of ways. Please refer to Items 5, 6, 7, 8, 11, 12 and 15 for detailed information regarding these conflicts and how we address such conflicts.

Our firm and our related persons are not engaged in other financial industry activities and have no other industry affiliations.

ITEM 11: CODE OF ETHICS, PARTICIPATION OR INTEREST IN CLIENT TRANSACTIONS AND PERSONAL TRADING

A. Code of Ethics Summary

The Investment Advisers Act of 1940 imposes a fiduciary duty on all investment advisers to act in the best interest of its clients. CCM's Clients therefore entrust us to use the highest standards of integrity when dealing with their assets and making investments that impact their financial future. Our fiduciary duty compels all employees to act with integrity in all of our dealings.

Because CCM's investment professionals may transact in the same securities for their personal accounts as they may buy or sell for Client accounts, it is important to mitigate potential conflicts of interest. To that end, CCM has adopted personal securities transaction policies in the form of a Code of Ethics ("Code"), which all CCM associated persons must follow.

CCM's Code of ethics sets forth high ethical standards of business conduct which we require of our employees. CCM and its personnel owe a duty of loyalty, fairness and good faith toward all Clients and have an obligation to adhere not only to the specific provisions of the Code of Ethics but to the general principles that guide the Code.

The CCM Code of Ethics sets forth policies and procedures for the review of quarterly securities transactions reports, as well as initial and annual securities holdings reports that must be submitted by the firm's access persons. Among other things, our Code of Ethics also requires the prior approval of any acquisition of securities in a limited offering (e.g., private placement) or an initial public offering. Moreover, our Code includes oversight, enforcement and recordkeeping provisions.

The CCM Code of Ethics further includes our policy prohibiting the use of material non-public information for insider trading.

All CCM associated persons receive a copy of the Code of Ethics no less than annually, at which time they acknowledge their receipt and understanding. CCM will provide a copy of the Code to any Client or prospective Client upon written request by emailing info@checkcapital.com or by calling us at (714) 641-3579.

B. Participation or Interest in Client Transactions

CCM's Code permits associated persons of the firm to invest in the same securities as Clients. Consequently, there is a possibility that the CCM associated person could benefit from market activity by a Client in a security held by that person. To mitigate this conflict, CCM's Code is designed to ensure that the personal securities transactions, activities and interests of our employees will not interfere with making decisions in the best interest of advisory Clients.

Employees are prevented from benefiting from transactions placed on behalf of advisory accounts. To that end, Employee trading is continually monitored under the Code, with an eye to reasonably prevent conflicts of interest between CCM and its Clients.

Side-by-side management refers to the fact that CCM manages accounts for individuals, a mutual fund and a limited partnership. CCM has policies in place to ensure that all Clients of the firm, regardless of entity, are treated similarly regarding trade order and allocation. See additional information in Items 6 and 12.

CCM does not affect any principal or agency cross securities transactions for Client accounts, nor does it affect cross-trades between Client accounts. Principal transactions are generally defined as transactions where an adviser, acting as principal for its own account or the account of an affiliated broker-dealer, buys from or sells any security to any advisory Client. An agency cross transaction is defined as a transaction where a person acts as an investment adviser in relation to a transaction in which the investment adviser, or any person controlled by or under common control with the investment adviser, acts as broker for both the advisory Client and for another person on the other side of the transaction. Should CCM ever decide to affect principal trades or cross-trades in Client accounts, it will comply with the provisions of Rule 206(3) of the Advisers Act.

ITEM 12: BROKERAGE PRACTICES

CCM does not maintain custody of your assets that we manage. Nevertheless, we may be deemed to have custody of Client assets because Clients give us authority to deduct management fees from their accounts (see Item 15 Custody, below). Client assets must be maintained in an account at a "qualified custodian," generally a broker-dealer or bank. As further described in Item 5, CCM currently recommends that Clients use primarily Fidelity, in addition to Schwab or TD Ameritrade (collectively hereinafter "broker/custodians") to maintain custody of Client assets and to effect trades for Client accounts. CCM is independently owned and operated and not affiliated with any broker/custodians. The broker/custodians will hold our Clients' assets in a brokerage account and buy and sell securities when CCM instructs them to. While CCM recommends using one or more of the broker/custodians mentioned above, Clients will decide whether to do so when they open an account with a broker/custodian by entering into an account agreement directly with the selected broker/custodian.

As further described below, factors considered by CCM in recommending Client's utilize the services of a broker/custodian include, but are not limited to, the reasonableness of their commissions, their financial strength, product availability, research and other services available to both the Client and the CCM.

A. Selection Criteria

CCM generally places all transactions through the broker/custodians mentioned above. CCM periodically evaluates the commissions charged and the services provided by these broker/custodians and compare those with other broker-dealers to evaluate whether overall best qualitative execution could be achieved by using alternative custodians.

How We Select Broker/Custodians

CCM seeks to select and recommend broker/custodians who will hold your assets and execute transactions on terms that are overall most advantageous when compared to other available providers and their services. CCM considers a wide range of factors, including, among others, the following:

- combination of transaction execution services along with asset custody services (generally without a separate fee for custody);
- capability to execute, clear and settle trades (buy and sell securities for your account);
- capabilities to facilitate transfers and payments to and from accounts (wire transfers, check requests, bill payment, etc.);
- breadth of investment products made available (stocks, bonds, mutual funds, ETFs, etc.);
- availability of investment research and tools that assist us in making investment decisions;
- quality of services;
- competitiveness of the price of those services (commission rates, margin interest rates, other fees, etc.) and willingness to negotiate them;
- reputation, financial strength and stability of the provider;
- the custodian/broker's prior service to us and our other Clients; and
- availability of other products and services that benefit us, as discussed below (see "Products and Services Available to Us").

Custody and Brokerage Costs

Our recommended broker/custodians generally do not charge CCM Client accounts separately for custody services, but rather are compensated by charging commissions or other fees on trades that they execute or that settle into broker/custodian accounts. Each broker/custodian's commission rates applicable to CCM Client accounts are negotiated based on our commitment to maintain CCM Client assets in accounts at these recommended broker/custodians. In addition to commissions, broker/custodians may charge a flat dollar amount as a "trade away" fee for each trade that CCM executes by a different broker-dealer but where the securities bought or the funds from the securities sold are deposited (settled) into a broker/custodian account. These fees are in addition to the commissions or other compensation you pay the executing broker-dealer. In order to minimize trading costs, CCM will only use the recommended broker/custodians to execute trades for your account if CCM believes it is in your best interest to do so.

Products and Services Available to Us

From the Broker/Custodian

Each of the recommended broker/custodians employs certain platforms that serve independent investment advisory firms like CCM. These platforms provide CCM and our Clients with access to their institutional brokerage – trading, custody, reporting and related services – which are not typically available to retail customers. These broker/custodians also make available various support services. Some of those services help us manage or administer our Clients' accounts while others help us manage and grow our business. The broker/custodians' support services generally are available on an unsolicited basis (i.e., CCM does not have to request them) and at no charge to us. Below is a detailed description of available support services:

Services that Benefit You. Institutional brokerage services include access to a broad range of investment products, execution of securities transactions and custody of Client assets. The investment products available through the broker/custodians include some to which we might not otherwise have access or that would require a significantly higher minimum initial investment by our Clients. The services described in this paragraph generally benefit you and your account.

Services that May Not Directly Benefit You. The broker/custodians also make available to us other products and services that benefit us, but may not directly benefit you or your account. These products and services assist CCM in managing and administering our Clients' accounts. They include investment research of both the broker/custodian and of third parties. CCM may use this research to service all, some or a substantial number of our Clients' accounts. In addition to investment research, we also may receive access to software and other technology that:

- provide access to Client account data (such as duplicate trade confirmations and account statements);
- facilitate trade execution and allocate aggregated trade orders for multiple Client accounts;
- provide pricing and other market data;
- facilitate payment of our fees from our Clients' accounts; and
- assist with back-office functions, recordkeeping and Client reporting.

Services that Generally Benefit Only Us. The broker/custodians also offer other services intended to help us manage and further develop our business enterprise. These services include:

- educational conferences and events;
- technology, compliance, legal, and business consulting;
- publications and conferences on practice management and business succession; and
- access to employee benefits providers, human capital consultants and insurance providers.

The broker/custodians may provide some of these services themselves. In other cases, they may arrange for third-party vendors to provide the services to us.

Other potential benefits to CCM only may include occasional business entertainment of personnel of CCM, including meals, invitations to sporting events, including golf tournaments, and other forms of entertainment, some of which may accompany educational opportunities. We also may receive software and other technology. While as a fiduciary CCM endeavors to act in its Clients' best interests, CCM's recommendation that Clients maintain their assets in accounts at these broker/custodians may be based in part on the benefit to CCM of the availability of some of the foregoing products and services and other arrangements, and not solely on the nature, cost or quality of custody and brokerage services provided by the broker/custodians, which may create a potential conflict of interest.

CCM's Beneficial Interest in the Broker/Custodian's Services

The availability of these services from the broker/custodians benefits us because CCM does not have to produce or purchase them. CCM does not have to pay for such services so long as certain conditions are met. Such conditions may give CCM an incentive to recommend that you maintain your account with these broker/custodians based on our interest in receiving those services that benefit our business rather than based on your interest in receiving the best value in custody services and the most favorable execution of your transactions. This is a potential conflict of interest.

In addition to the products and services described in this Item, CCM receives client referrals from Fidelity. This may also be a conflict of interest. For more information on this referral arrangement, please see Item 14 below.

CCM believes, however, that our selection of the broker/custodians is in the best interests of our Clients. It is primarily supported by the scope, quality and price of their services (based on the factors discussed above – see "How We Select Custodians/Brokers") and not the services that benefit only us.

B. Best Execution and Soft Dollar Considerations

It is the policy and practice of CCM to strive for the best price and execution that are competitive in relation to the value of the transaction ("best execution"). In order to achieve best execution, CCM will use its best judgment to choose the broker-dealer most capable of providing the brokerage services necessary to obtain the best overall qualitative execution, taking into consideration the full range of a broker-dealer's services, including among other things, the value of research provided, execution capability, commission rates, and responsiveness.. Although CCM will strive to achieve the best execution possible for Client securities transactions, this does not require it to solicit competitive bids and CCM does not have an obligation to seek the lowest available commission cost.

To ensure that brokerage firms recommended by CCM are conducting overall best qualitative execution, CCM will periodically (and no less often than annually) evaluate the trading process and broker/custodians recommended and utilized. CCM's evaluation will consider the full range of brokerage services offered by the brokers, which may include, but is not limited to price, commission, timing, research, aggregated trades, capable floor brokers or traders, competent block trading coverage, ability to position, capital strength and stability, reliable and accurate communications and settlement processing, use of automation and administrative ability.

CCM's Client account custodians generally also serve as the broker of record for the Client account. All custodial fees and brokerage charges are fully disclosed on the account statements sent by the custodian to each client. Please refer to Item 12.A above and item 14.A below for a detailed description of the services and benefits received by CCM through its Clients' broker/custodians.

It is important for clients to consider and compare the significant differences between having assets custodied at a broker-dealer, bank, or other custodian prior to opening an account with CCM. Some of these differences include, but are not limited to: total account costs, trading freedom, commission rates, and security and technology services.

Section 28(e) of the Exchange Act allows investment advisers to use client commissions to pay for brokerage and research services under certain circumstances without breaching their fiduciary duties to clients. This practice is commonly referred to as "soft dollars." Brokerage and research services may include, among other things, effecting securities transactions and performing services incidental thereto (such as clearance, settlement and custody) and providing research information regarding the economy, industries, sectors of securities, individual companies, statistical information, taxation, political developments, legal developments, technical market action, pricing and appraisal services, credit analysis, risk measurement analysis and performance analysis. Such research information can be received in the form of written reports, telephone conversations, personal meetings with security analysts and/or individual company management, and attending conferences. The research services provided by a broker may be proprietary (i.e., provided by the broker providing the execution services) and/or provided by a third party (i.e., it originates from a party independent from the broker providing the execution services).

CCM has not entered into any formal soft dollar arrangements. However, due to certain agreements with the Client's broker/custodian of record, CCM may receive certain benefits as described in Item 12.A above.

C. Directed Brokerage

In circumstances where CCM is required to execute transactions through a specific broker (aka "Directed Brokerage"), the Client should understand that: (1) CCM will not negotiate specific brokerage commission rates with the broker on the Client's behalf or seek better execution services or prices from other broker/dealers and, as a result, the Client may pay higher commissions and/or receive less favorable net prices on transactions for their account than might otherwise be the case; (2) CCM may enter trade orders for the Client's account after large batched trade orders are executed for Clients at other brokerage firms, with the result that market movements may work against the Client; and (3) conflicts may arise between the Client's interest in receiving best execution with respect to transactions effected for the account and CCM's interest in receiving future Client referrals from the broker.

In some cases, CCM may, if it feels it is in the best interests of the Client, place Client trades through a prime broker or trade-away arrangement (i.e., securities are purchased or sold through an outside broker and then transferred to the Client's account). In addition to the customary trading cost, the custodial broker will charge the Client a fee for such trades.

D. Aggregation of Orders

CCM will order block trades where possible and when advantageous to Clients. This blocking of trades permits the trading of aggregate blocks of securities composed of assets from multiple Client accounts. Block trading may allow us to execute equity trades in a timelier, more equitable manner, at an average share price.

CCM will typically aggregate trades among Clients whose accounts can be traded at a given broker and will generally rotate or vary the order of brokers through which it places trades for Clients on any particular day. When this happens, these circumstances may, in turn, give rise to actual or potential conflicts of interest among the accounts for whom the security purchase or sale is appropriate, and among the subset of those accounts actually participating in a block trade, especially if the block trade order results in a partial fill. In order to address these conflicts, CCM has adopted certain policies and procedures that it follows when aggregating trades in an effort to provide an objective and equitable method of trade allocation so that all Clients are treated fairly. The basic objectives of these policies and procedures are as follows:

- (a) CCM will only aggregate trades when it believes that such aggregations are consistent with its duty to seek best execution for its Clients;
- (b) CCM will strive to ensure that no Client account is favored over any other Client account; and
- (c) Each account that participates in an aggregated transaction shall participate at the average of the executed share price for that security.

Considerations for the Private Fund

CCM, as the General Partner and manager of the Private Fund, has selected National Financial Services, LLC ("NFS"), which is wholly owned by Fidelity Global Brokerage Group, Inc., a wholly owned subsidiary of FMR, LLC, for brokerage and custodial services. The brokerage commissions charged by NFS have been negotiated by CCM and we believe that they are comparable to the commissions charged by other brokerage firms for similar accounts. However, CCM may replace or appoint brokers and other services providers at any time in its sole discretion.

From time to time, CCM may determine that the purchase or sale of a particular security is appropriate for multiple Client accounts, including the Private Fund, based on a variety of reasons. When this occurs, the following trade rotation policy is implemented.

CCM's policy is to provide a fair and equitable method of trade rotation in placing trades for Clients' accounts, including the Private Fund. For more information, please contact us at the telephone number or e-mail address listed on the cover page to this Brochure.

E. Trade Errors

CCM has trade-error policies that neither advantage nor disadvantage Clients; errors are simply corrected. When there is an error, CCM attempts to correct the error as soon as possible and make the Client whole. Soft dollar arrangements or the promise of future trade commissions cannot be used to correct errors when placing a trade for a Client's account and CCM cannot correct a trade error made in a Client's account by allocating the trade to a different account, unless that account was meant to receive the trade in the first place.

ITEM 13: REVIEW OF ACCOUNTS

Underlying securities within managed accounts are continuously monitored. Client portfolios are reviewed on a regular basis. Triggering factors for additional review include, but are not to, changes in a Client's financial situation, such as investment goals, tax considerations or change in employment. Additional reviews are also available at the Client's request.

Please note that with respect to the Private Fund, such reviews are undertaken to ascertain whether the goals and objectives of the Fund are being achieved, not the needs and objectives of the individual investors in the Fund.

ITEM 14: CLIENT REFERRALS AND OTHER COMPENSATION

A. Compensation for Client Referrals

CCM may pay referral fees to independent persons or firms ("Solicitors") for introducing Clients to CCM.

CCM enters into a written agreement with the solicitor and complies with the requirements of Rule 206(4)-3 of the Advisers Act. Compensation to the solicitor will be based upon CCM's engagement of new Clients and the retention of those Clients. Any such fee shall be paid solely from CCM's fees, and shall not result in any additional charge to the Client.

Each prospective Client who is referred to CCM under such an arrangement will receive a copy of CCM's Form ADV Part 2 and a separate written disclosure document disclosing the nature of the relationship between the third party solicitor and CCM and the amount of compensation that will be paid by CCM to the third party. The solicitor is required to obtain the Client's signature acknowledging receipt of CCM's Form ADV Part 2 and the solicitor's written disclosure statement.

CCM participates in the Fidelity Wealth Adviser Solutions Program (the "WAS Program"), through which CCM receives referrals from Strategic Advisers, Inc. ("SAI"), a registered investment adviser and subsidiary of FMR LLC, the parent company of Fidelity Investments. CCM is independent and not affiliated with SAI or FMR LLC. SAI does not supervise or control CCM, and SAI has no responsibility or oversight for CCM's provision of investment management or other advisory services.

Under the WAS Program, SAI acts as a solicitor for CCM, and CCM pays referral fees to SAI for each referral received based on CCM's assets under management attributable to each Client referred by SAI or members of each Client's household. The WAS Program is designed to help investors find an independent investment adviser, and any referral from SAI to CCM does not constitute a recommendation or endorsement by SAI of CCM's particular investment management services or strategies.

More specifically, CCM pays the following amounts to SAI for referrals: For a period of seven (7) years from the date that a Client funds any Client Account(s) with CCM, CCM shall pay SAI an amount equal to an annual percentage of 0.20% of any and all assets in such Client Accounts, with such amount to be billed and collected in arrears on a quarterly basis based on the average daily balance of assets held in such Accounts during the relevant quarter. These referral fees are paid by CCM and not the Client.

To receive referrals from the WAS Program, CCM must meet certain minimum participation criteria, but Adviser may have been selected for participation in the WAS Program as a result of its other business relationships with SAI and its affiliates, including Fidelity Brokerage Services, LLC ("FBS"). As a result of its participation in the WAS Program, CCM may have a potential conflict of interest with respect to its decision to use certain affiliates of SAI, including FBS, for execution, custody and clearing for certain Client accounts, and CCM may have a potential incentive to suggest the use of FBS and its affiliates to its advisory Clients, whether or not those Clients were referred to CCM as part of the WAS Program.

Under an agreement with SAI, CCM has agreed that it will not charge Clients more than the standard range of advisory fees disclosed in its Form ADV 2A Brochure to cover solicitation fees paid to SAI as part of the WAS Program. Pursuant to these arrangements, CCM has agreed not to solicit Clients to transfer their brokerage accounts from affiliates of SAI or establish brokerage accounts at other custodians for referred Clients other than when CCM's fiduciary duties would so require; therefore, CCM may have an incentive to suggest that referred Clients and their household members maintain custody of their accounts with affiliates of SAI. However, participation in the WAS Program does not limit CCM's duty to select brokers on the basis of best execution. CCM examined potential conflicts and determined that a strong working relationship with Fidelity was in the best interests of our Clients.

Prior to January 1, 2007, CCM received Client referrals from Charles Schwab through participation in Schwab's Adviser Network ("the Service"). The Service was similar to Fidelity's WAS Program. CCM continues to pay Schwab a referral fee on past referrals. The referral fee is 15% of the Client's management fees.

All referral fees paid as part of the WAS program and/or the Service represent a portion of the fees actually charged CCM for investment advisory services on behalf of the Client. There is no differential between the amount or level of investment advisory fees which CCM will charge for managing your account in excess of that which it would customarily charge for managing any other Client with similar assets and which was not referred to CCM via WAS or the Service program.

B. Other Compensation

It is CCM's policy not to accept (or allow our related persons to accept) any form of compensation—including cash, sales awards or other prizes—from a non-client in conjunction with the advisory services we provide to our Clients.

ITEM 15: CUSTODY

CCM does not have physical custody of Client accounts. Nevertheless, pursuant to Rule 206(4)-2 of the Advisers Act, CCM is deemed to have custody of Client funds for two reasons. Firstly, CCM is deemed to have custody of Client funds because the firm has the authority and ability to instruct Schwab, Fidelity, TD Ameritrade and other broker/custodians to deduct our advisory fees directly from your account. The broker/custodian maintains actual custody of your assets. Clients will receive account statements directly from the broker/custodian at least quarterly. They will be sent to the email or postal mailing address the Client provided to the broker/custodian. Clients should carefully review those statements promptly when received. CCM also urges Clients to compare the broker/custodian's account statements to the periodic portfolio reports you will receive from us. Please contact CCM with any questions.

Secondly, due to the fact that our Private Fund is an affiliate and we serve as the General Partner and manager to the Private Fund, CCM indicates that it has custody at the Custody section of Part 1 of Form ADV. All Fund investors receive an audited financial statement of the partnership on an annual basis.

As outlined in Rule 206(4)-2 of the Investment Advisers Act of 1940, investment advisers that are deemed to have custody of Client assets (other than through the ability to debit fees) are generally required to have an annual independent verification of those assets. The verification must be in the form of a surprise examination performed by an independent non-affiliated certified public accountant. However, an exception applies in the case of private investment funds, so long as the private fund is receiving annual audits of their financial statements performed by an independent public accountant, which is registered with and subject to regular inspection by the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board ("PCAOB"). In addition, the audited financial statements must be prepared in accordance with Generally Accepted Accounting Principles ("GAAP") and distributed to all investors within 120 days of the end of the private fund's fiscal year. The private fund also must receive an audit upon full liquidation and the audited financial statements must be distributed to all private fund investors promptly after the completion of such audit.

Currently, CCM does not have annual surprise audits performed since the Private Fund is receiving annual audits of their financial statements by a public accounting firm that is registered with and subject to regular inspection by PCAOB. CCM assists the Private Fund with the distribution of the audited financial statements to all of its partners/investors and ensures such distribution is made within 120 days of the Private Fund's fiscal year end. Should the Private Fund liquidate its pooled assets, we will ensure the financial statement of the Private Fund is audited at that time and distributed to investors.

ITEM 16: INVESTMENT DISCRETION AND LIMITATIONS

Clients hire CCM to provide discretionary asset-management services, which means we trade securities in a Client's account without contacting the Client for permission prior to each trade.

Our discretionary authority includes the ability to do the following without contacting the Client:

- determine the security to buy or sell; and/or
- determine the amount of the security to buy or sell.

Clients give CCM discretionary authority when they sign a discretionary agreement with our firm and may limit this authority by giving us written instructions. Clients may also change/amend such limitations by once again providing us with written instructions. For example, investment authority may be subject to specified investment objectives, guidelines, and/or conditions imposed by the Client, such as restricting investment in a particular stock and/or prohibiting transactions in the securities of a specific industry.

ITEM 17: VOTING CLIENT SECURITIES

CCM votes proxies for Client accounts; however, Clients always have the right to vote proxies themselves. Clients can exercise this right by instructing us in writing to not vote proxies related to their account.

We vote proxies in accordance with our established policies and procedures. CCM retains a) all proxy voting records for the requisite period of time and b) copies of written Client requests enquiring how we voted proxies.

Clients may obtain a copy of our complete proxy-voting policies and procedures by contacting us at the telephone number or e-mail address listed on the cover page to this Brochure. Clients may request, in writing, information on how proxies for his/her shares were voted. If any Client requests a copy of CCM's complete proxy policies and procedures or how we voted proxies for his/her account(s), we will promptly provide such information.

We will neither advise nor act on behalf of the Client in legal proceedings involving companies whose securities are held in the Client's account(s). We may assist Clients in the filing of "Proofs of Claim" in class-action settlements.

ITEM 18: FINANCIAL INFORMATION

Under no circumstances does CCM require or solicit payment of fees in excess of $1,200 per Client more than six months in advance of services rendered. Therefore, we are not required to include a balance sheet.

As an advisory firm that maintains discretionary authority for Client accounts, we are required to disclose any financial condition that is reasonably likely to impair our ability to meet contractual obligations. CCM has no additional financial circumstances to report.

CCM has not been the subject of a bankruptcy petition at any time during the past ten years.

ITEM 19: QUESTIONS

CCM's Chief Compliance Officer, Robert Hill, is available to address any questions regarding this Brochure.
