Item 4 – Advisory Business

A. Century Funds Management, Inc. has been a federally registered investment advisor for 32 years. The owner of Century Funds Management, Inc. is John L. Hunter.

B. Century Funds Management, Inc. currently provides the following investment management services:

Microcap company equity investment strategy

Diversified equity strategy and/or balanced fund strategy

C. Client portfolios are managed on an individual basis according to the objectives and restrictions established by each client. John L. Hunter is responsible for the objectives and restrictions of clients requesting a microcap company equity investment strategy and F. James Cowan is responsible for the objectives and restrictions of clients requesting a diversified equity strategy and/or a balanced fund strategy.

D. Century Funds Management, Inc. is not involved in any wrap fee programs.

E. As of December 31, 2013, Century Funds Management, Inc. had $56,419,392 under management on a discretionary basis subject to a microcap company equity investment mandate.

Also, as of December 31, 2013, Century Funds Management, Inc. had $35,245,209 under management on a discretionary basis subject to a diversified equity and/or balance fund mandate.

Item 5 – Fees and Compensation

A. Fees are paid in arrears and are based on the aggregate market value of the securities in the portfolio at the annual rates indicated below. Fees are not subject to negotiation.

Microcap Company Equity Investment Strategy:

- .30 of 1 percent of the first $30 million
- .20 of 1 percent of amounts above $30 million

Diversified Equity Strategy and/or Balance Fund Investment Strategy:

- .75 of 1 percent of the first $2 million
- .50 of 1 percent of amounts above $2 million

B. The specific manner in which fees are charged by Century Funds Management, Inc. is established in a client's written agreement with Century Funds Management, Inc. Century Funds Management, Inc. will generally bill its fees on a quarterly basis in arrears. Clients may elect to be billed directly for fees or to authorize Century Funds Management, Inc. to directly collect fees from client custody/brokerage accounts. Management fees shall be prorated for each capital contribution and withdrawal made during the applicable calendar quarter (with the exception of de minimis contributions and withdrawals). Accounts initiated or terminated during a calendar quarter will be charged a prorated fee. Upon termination of any account, any earned, unpaid fees will be due and payable.

C. Century Funds Management, Inc.'s fees are exclusive of brokerage commissions, transaction fees, and other related costs and expenses which shall be incurred by the client. Clients may incur certain charges imposed by custodians, brokers, third party investment and other third parties such as fees charged by managers, custodial fees, deferred sales charges, odd-lot differentials, transfer taxes, wire transfer and electronic fund fees, and other fees and taxes on brokerage accounts and securities transactions. Mutual funds and exchange traded funds also charge internal management fees, which are disclosed in a fund's prospectus. Such charges, fees and commissions are exclusive of and in addition to Century Funds Management Inc.'s fee, and Century Funds Management Inc. shall not receive any portion of these commissions, fees, and costs.

Item 12 further describes the factors that Century Funds Management Inc. considers in selecting or recommending broker-dealers for client transactions and determining the reasonableness of their compensation (e.g., commissions).

Item 6 – Performance-Based Fees and Side-By-Side Management

Century Funds Management, Inc. does not charge any performance-based fees (fees based on a share of capital gains on or capital appreciation of the assets of a client).

Item 7 – Types of Clients

Century Funds Management, Inc. provides portfolio management services to individuals, high net worth individuals, corporate pension and profit-sharing plans, charitable institutions, foundations, endowments and corporations.

Item 8 – Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies and Risk of Loss

A. Investing in securities involves risk of loss that clients should be prepared to bear.

B. For portfolios being managed with the microcap company equity investment strategy, individual equity investments may have limited liquidity and may experience high market price volatility. Further, microcap companies tend to have higher exposure to bankruptcy risk and event risks than larger more established companies.

Item 9 – Disciplinary Information

Registered investment advisers are required to disclose all material facts regarding any legal or disciplinary events that would be material to your evaluation of Century Funds Management, Inc. or the integrity of Century Funds Management, Inc.'s management.

On February 20, 2004, a regulatory action was brought by the Division of Securities of the Department of Commerce of the State of Utah against Century Funds Management, Inc. for failure to notice file a copy of its ADV with the State of Utah as a federal covered advisor.

Also, on February 20, 2004, a regulatory action was brought by the Division of Securities of the Department of Commerce of the State of Utah against Century Funds Management, Inc. for employing two unlicensed investment advisor representatives in the State of Utah.

The matters were resolved by stipulation and consent by payment of a $10,000 monetary fine, Century Funds Management, Inc. being censured, and with the stipulation that Century Funds Management, Inc. would notice file as a federal covered advisor in Utah in the future.

Item 10 – Other Financial Industry Activities and Affiliations

Neither Century Funds Management, Inc. or John L. Hunter or F. James Cowan have any Other Financial Industry Activities and Affiliations for which they receive compensation.

Item 11 – Code of Ethics

Century Funds Management, Inc. has adopted a Code of Ethics for all members of the firm describing its high standard of business conduct, and fiduciary duty to its clients. The Code of Ethics includes provisions relating to the confidentiality of client information, a prohibition on insider trading, a prohibition of rumor mongering, restrictions on the acceptance of significant gifts and the reporting of certain gifts and business entertainment items, and personal securities trading procedures, among other things. All persons at Century Funds Management, Inc. must acknowledge the terms of the Code of Ethics annually, or as amended.

Century Funds Management, Inc. anticipates that, in appropriate circumstances, consistent with clients' investment objectives, it will cause accounts over which Century Funds Management, Inc. has management authority to effect, and will recommend to investment advisory clients or prospective clients, the purchase or sale of securities in which John L. Hunter and/or F. James Cowan have a position of interest.

All transactions for clients take priority over personal transactions. No personal transactions are permitted within a period of 7 days before a client trade in a security.

The Code of Ethics is designed to assure that the personal securities transactions, activities and interests of the employees of Century Funds Management, Inc. will not interfere with (i) making decisions in the best interest of advisory clients and (ii) implementing such decisions while, at the same time, allowing employees to invest for their own accounts.

Century Funds Management Inc.'s clients or prospective clients may request a copy of the firm's Code of Ethics by contacting F. James Cowan at 801 294-9559.

It is Century Funds Management's policy that the firm will not affect any principal or agency cross securities transactions for client accounts. Century Funds Management Inc. will also not cross trades between client accounts. An agency cross transaction is defined as a transaction where a person acts as an investment adviser in relation to a transaction in which the investment adviser, or any person controlled by or under common control with the investment adviser, acts as broker for both the advisory client and for another person on the other side of the transaction.

Item 12 – Brokerage Practices

Brokers are selected on the basis of transaction execution ability, competence in handling limit orders, and competitive commission levels or according to client direction.

The firm does not pay for research with commission dollars and does not enter into soft dollar arrangements with brokers.

Item 13 – Review of Accounts

The reviewer of each portfolio is determined by the investment strategy by which it is managed. F. James Cowan reviews the diversified equity and the balanced fund accounts, and John L. Hunter reviews the microcap company equity investment accounts.

Accounts are reviewed daily. Reviews include a determination of the cash available for investment, the advisability of executing alternative transactions, and adherence to agreed upon guidelines and objectives.

Reports are prepared and given to clients either monthly or quarterly depending upon the requirements of each client. Reports include the market value of each of the holdings at the end of the period, a list of transactions occurring during the period, and the investment performance during the period. Item 15 below urges clients to compare these reports with the quarterly statements they receive from the broker dealer, bank or other qualified custodian that holds and maintains the client's investment assets.

Item 14 – Client Referrals and Other Compensation

Century Funds Management, Inc. does not pay compensation to any person for client referrals.

No economic benefits are received by John L. Hunter or F. James Cowan from non-clients for providing investment advice or other advisory services to the clients of Century Funds Management, Inc.

Item 15 – Custody

Clients should receive at least quarterly statements from the broker dealer, bank or other qualified custodian that holds and maintains client's investment assets. Century Funds Management, Inc. urges you to carefully review such statements and compare such official custodial records to the account statements that we may provide to you. Our statements may vary from custodial statements based on accounting procedures, reporting dates, or valuation methodologies of certain securities.

Item 16 – Investment Discretion

Century Funds Management, Inc. usually receives discretionary authority from the client at the outset of an advisory relationship to select the identity and amount of securities to be bought or sold. In all cases, however, such discretion is to be exercised in a manner consistent with the stated investment objectives for the particular client account.

When selecting securities and determining amounts, Century Funds Management, Inc. observes the investment policies, limitations and restrictions of the clients for which it advises.

Investment guidelines and restrictions must be provided to Century Funds Management, Inc. in writing.

Item 17 – Voting Client Securities

As a matter of firm policy and practice, Century Funds Management, Inc. does not have any authority to and does not vote proxies on behalf of advisory clients. Clients retain the responsibility for receiving and voting proxies for any and all securities maintained in client portfolios. Century Funds Management, Inc. may provide advice to clients regarding the clients' voting of proxies.

Item 18 – Financial Information

Registered investment advisers are required in this Item to provide you with certain financial information or disclosures about Century Funds Management, Inc.'s financial condition. Century Funds Management has no financial commitment that impairs its ability to meet contractual and fiduciary commitments to clients, and has not been the subject of a bankruptcy proceeding.
