Item 4: Advisory Business

Firm Description

FSN is a financial planning and investment adviser providing advice to individuals, pension and profit sharing plans, trusts, estates and charitable organizations. FSN was founded in 1992.

FSN provides analysis and recommendations involving a broad range of personal concerns based on the individual needs and circumstances of each client. An important aspect of this service involves giving advice on the selection and management of investments.

FSN is owned by several individuals, primarily members of the management team. FSN's owners include James M. Weil, Jeffrey M. Toner, Craig C. Richart, and Steven I. Merdinger.

Types of Advisory Services

FSN offers the following types of advisory services: Financial planning, asset management for individuals and/or small business, selection of other advisors, and pension consulting.

Financial Planning

FSN engages in broad based financial planning services for a fee. Financial planning services will typically involve providing a variety of services to clients regarding the management of their financial resources based upon an analysis of their individual needs. Financial planning services may encompass such areas as income tax planning, retirement planning, capital needs planning, asset allocation strategies, business successions transfer, estate planning, insurance/risk management and employee benefits analysis.

An Investment Adviser Representative (IAR) of FSN will first conduct a complimentary initial consultation. During or after the initial consultation, if the client decides to engage FSN for financial planning services, additional meetings will be conducted during which pertinent information about the client's financial circumstances and objectives is collected. Once such information has been reviewed and analyzed, a written financial plan or analysis designed to achieve the client's stated financial goals and objectives will be produced and presented to the client. The primary objective of this process is to allow FSN to assist the client in developing a strategy for the successful management of income, assets and liabilities in meeting the client's financial goals and objectives. FSN may also conduct an annual review of the client's financial plan to ensure that the client's needs and objectives are being met.

Financial plans and/or analyses are based on the client's financial situation at the time the plan is presented and are based on the financial information disclosed by the client to FSN. Clients are advised that certain assumptions may be made with respect to interest and inflation rates and the use of past trends and performance of the market and economy. Past performance is in no way an indication of future performance. FSN cannot offer any guarantees or promises that the client's financial goals and objectives will be met. As the client's financial situation, goals, objectives, or needs change, the client must notify FSN promptly.

Asset Management

FSN provides continuous advice to clients regarding investment of client funds based on the individual needs of the client. Through personal discussions in which goals and objectives based on a client's particular circumstances are established, FSN develops a client's personal Investment Policy Statement which includes risk profile, time horizon, cash needs, investment philosophy, asset allocation, proposed asset allocation, rebalancing, manager selection, tax considerations and reporting.

FSN will manage advisory accounts primarily on a discretionary basis only. Account supervision is guided by the stated objectives of the client (i.e., maximum capital appreciation, growth, income, growth and income, etc.). FSN may also offer these services to clients with variable annuity products, whereby FSN will manage the underlying variable annuity sub-accounts and equity indexed annuities (EIA) on behalf of the client.

FSN will create a portfolio consisting of one or all of the following: individual equities, bonds, ETFs, managed futures, oil and natural gas exploration and other alternative investments, other investment products, and no-load or load-waived mutual funds. FSN will allocate the client's assets among various investments taking into consideration the overall management style selected by the client. Mutual funds will be selected on the basis of any or all of the following criteria: the fund's performance history; the industry sector in which the fund invests; the track record of the fund's manager; the fund's investment objectives; the fund's management style and philosophy; style drift, alpha, and the fund's management fee structure. Portfolio weighting between funds and market sectors will be determined by each client's individual needs and circumstances. Clients will retain individual ownership of all securities.

FSN may provide investment advice on such investments as limited partnerships and private placement partnerships, and oil and gas partnerships.

FSN reserves the right to advise clients on any other type of investment that it deems appropriate based on the client's stated goals and objectives. FSN may also provide advice on any type of investment held in a client's portfolio at the inception of the advisory relationship or on any investment on which the client requests advice.

Other Investment Advice – Third Party Independent Managers

FSN may recommend that clients authorize the active discretionary management of a portion of their assets by and/or among certain Independent Manager(s), based upon the stated investment objectives of the client. FSN shall continue to render services to the client relative to the non-discretionary selection or recommendation of Independent Manager(s) as well as the monitoring and review of account performance and client investment objectives.

When recommending or selecting an Independent Manager for a client, FSN shall review information about the Independent Manager(s) such as its disclosure statement and/or material supplied by the Independent Manager(s) or independent third parties for a description of the Independent Manager's investment strategies, past performance and risk results to the extent available.

The client signs an Investment Management Agreement with the Independent Manager, and the Agreement authorizes the Independent Manager to manage the client's account(s) with client's objective(s) on a discretionary basis. FSN's services include assisting the client in choosing the appropriate objective(s), monitoring the performance of all objectives, communications and reports to the client, assistance with certain trading activities, and other administrative services. The Independent Manager may consult with clients and their financial advisor to customize portfolios to fit clients' needs, circumstances and objectives.

Pension Consulting

FSN will provide pension-consulting services to employee benefit plans and their fiduciaries based upon an analysis of the needs of the plan. In general, these services may include an existing plan review, assistance in the development of a retirement plan, evaluation of retirement plan vendors, asset allocation advice, communication and education services to plan participants, investment performance monitoring, and/or ongoing consulting and will be provided only to clients who participate in the Freedom and Passport programs described above.

All client accounts are regulated under the Employee Retirement Income Securities Act (ERISA). FSN will provide consulting services to the plan fiduciaries as described above. Typically, the named plan fiduciary must make the ultimate decision as to retaining the services of such investment advisers as FSN recommends. The plan fiduciary is free to seek independent advice about the appropriateness of any recommended services for the plan.

Tailored Relationships

FSN tailors investment advisory services to the individual needs of the client. The goals and objectives for each client are documented in our client relationship management system. Investment policy statements are created that reflect the stated goals and objective, as appropriate. FSN clients are allowed to impose restrictions on the investments in their account. FSN may accept any reasonable limitation or restriction to discretionary authority on the account placed by the client. All limitations and restrictions placed on accounts must be presented to FSN in writing.

Wrap Fee Programs

FSN does not participate as a portfolio manager or sponsor of a Wrap Fee Program, but may recommend Third Party Managers as described above.

Client Assets

As of December 31, 2013, FSN managed approximately $572.2 million in assets. Approximately $457.6 million is managed on a discretionary basis, and $114.6 million is managed on a non-discretionary basis.

Item 5: Fees and Compensation

Compensation

FSN bases its fees on a percentage of assets under management, fixed fees, hourly charges, and third-party adviser/manager fees. FSN's fee schedules are described below.

All financial planning and consulting fees are due in arrears, upon presentation of the financial plan or consulting engagement for the client.

Compensation – Financial Planning

FSN charges a negotiable fixed fee ranging between $1,000 and $25,000 or a negotiable hourly fee of $300 for financial planning services, which shall be due and payable in advance upon the signing of the client agreement, and/or payable in advance quarterly installments. An estimate of the total cost will be determined at the start of the advisory relationship. In limited circumstances, the cost/time could potentially exceed the initial estimate. In such cases, FSN will notify the client and may request that the client approve the additional fee. After the first year of services, clients have the option of renewing an annual retainer agreement with FSN for some portion of the initial financial planning fee charged. Specific fee paying arrangements will be detailed in the financial planning agreement.

FSN or the client may terminate the financial planning agreement within five days of the date of acceptance without penalty to the client. After the five-day period, either party, upon written notice to the other, may terminate the financial planning agreement. In the event of termination, the client will be charged for the portion of work performed by FSN and any unearned fees will be refunded to the client.

Compensation – Asset Management Services

FSN shall provide the services described in the Investment Supervisory Agreement for an annual asset based upon the following fee schedule:

1) Flat Fee Schedule:

Household Assets	Annual Fee
$0 to $1,000,000	1.00%

When total Account(s) asset value exceeds $1,000,000 the fee schedule will revert to the Tier schedule listed below.

2) Tier Fee Schedule:

Household Assets	Annual Fee
Initial $1,000,000	0.90%
Next $1,000,000	0.75%
Next $1,000,000	0.60%
Next $1,000,000	0.45%
Next $6,000,000	0.40%
All assets over $10,000,000	0.25%

The annual asset based fee is billed on a quarterly basis, in advance, based upon the market value of the Account(s) including cash, on the last day of the previous quarter as valued by the Custodian.

Compensation – Other Investment Advice – Third Party Independent Managers

FSN's fees are separate and distinct from, and in addition to, the fees charged by recommended Independent Managers, which are described in the agreement with the Independent Manager.

Compensation – Pension Consulting Services

For pension consulting services, FSN charges the following annual fees:

Assets	Annual Fee %	Annual Blended Fee %
First $2,500,000	0.50%	0.50%
Next $2,500,000	0.35%	0.43%
Next $2,500,000	0.30%	0.38%
Next $2,500,000	0.25%	0.35%
Above $10,000,000	0.20%

Fees are charged quarterly in arrears.

Other Fees

FSN's fees for the above services are exclusive of brokerage commissions, transaction fees, and other related costs and expenses which shall be incurred by the client. Clients may incur certain charges imposed by custodians, brokers, third party investment and other third parties such as fees charged by managers, custodial fees, deferred sales charges, odd-lot differentials, transfer taxes, wire transfer and electronic fund fees, and other fees and taxes on brokerage accounts and securities transactions. Mutual funds and exchange traded funds also charge internal management fees, which are disclosed in a fund's prospectus.

Such charges, fees and commissions are exclusive of and in addition to FSN's fee, and FSN shall not receive any portion of these commissions, fees, and costs.

Advice offered by FSN may involve investment in mutual funds. Clients are advised that all fees paid to FSN for any investment advisory services are separate and distinct from the fees and expenses charged by mutual funds (described in each fund's prospectus) to their shareholders. These fees will generally include a management fee and other fund expenses. Further, there may be transaction charges involved with purchasing or selling of securities. The client is responsible for payment of all brokerage fees/transaction charges incurred in managing the portfolio. FSN does not share in any portion of the brokerage fees/transaction charges imposed by the custodian holding the client funds or securities. The client should review all fees charged by mutual funds, FSN, and others to fully understand the total amount of fees to be paid by the client.

Agreement Terms

A client may terminate the client agreement at any time by notifying FSN in writing and paying the rate for the time spent on the engagement prior to notification of termination. If the client made an advance payment, FSN will refund any unearned portion of the advance payment.

General Information on Compensation

As described above, in certain circumstances, fees, account minimums and payment terms are negotiable depending on client's unique situation – such as the size of the aggregate related party portfolio size, family holdings, low cost basis securities, or certain passively advised investments and pre-existing relationships with clients. Certain clients may pay more or less than others depending on the amount of assets, type of portfolio, or the time involved, the degree of responsibility assumed, complexity of the engagement, special skills needed to solve problems, the application of experience and knowledge of the client's situation.

FSN does not represent, warranty, or imply that the services or methods of analysis employed by FSN can or will predict future results, successfully identify market tops or bottoms, or insulate clients from losses due to market corrections or declines.

Clients should note that similar advisory services may (or may not) be available from other registered investment advisers for similar or lower fees.

Item 6: Performance-Based Fees and Side-by-Side Management

Neither FSN nor any of its Supervised Persons (employees) accepts performance-based fees (fees based on a share of capital gains on or capital appreciation of the assets of a client).

FSN does not use a performance-based fee structure because of the potential conflict of interest. Performance-based compensation may create an incentive for the adviser to recommend an investment that may carry a higher degree of risk to the client.

Item 7: Types of Clients

Types of Clients

As described in Item 4, FSN's clients include individuals, pension and profit sharing plans, trusts, estates and charitable organizations.

Account Minimums

FSN's minimum account size is $500,000. Minimum account requirements may be negotiable under certain circumstances. FSN may group certain related client accounts for the purposes of achieving the minimum account size.

Item 8: Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies and Risk of Loss

Methods of Analysis

FSN utilizes a fundamental security analysis method.

Fundamental Analysis. FSN attempts to measure the intrinsic value of a security by looking at economic and financial factors (including the overall economy, industry conditions, and the financial condition and management of the company itself) to determine if the company is underpriced (indicating it may be a good time to buy) or overpriced (indicating it may be time to sell).

Fundamental analysis does not attempt to anticipate market movements. This presents a potential risk, as the price of a security can move up or down along with the overall market regardless of the economic and financial factors considered in evaluating the stock.

Investment Strategies

The investment strategy for a specific client is based upon the objectives stated by the client during consultations. The client may change these objectives at any time. Each client executes an Investment Policy Statement that documents their objectives and their desired investment strategy, as appropriate.

Other strategies may include long-term purchases, short-term purchases, trading, short sales, margin transactions, and option writing (including covered options, uncovered options or spreading strategies).

Risk of Loss

Investing in securities involves risk of loss that clients should be prepared to bear. All investment programs have certain risks that are borne by the investor. FSN's investment approach constantly keeps the risk of loss in mind. Investors face the following investment risks:

- Interest-rate Risk: Fluctuations in interest rates may cause investment prices to fluctuate. For example, when interest rates rise, yields on existing bonds become less attractive, causing their market values to decline.
- Market Risk: The price of a security, bond, or mutual fund may drop in reaction to tangible and intangible events and conditions. This type of risk is caused by external factors independent of a security's particular underlying circumstances. For example, political, economic and social conditions may trigger market events.
- Inflation Risk: When any type of inflation is present, a dollar next year will not buy as much as a dollar today, because purchasing power is eroding at the rate of inflation.
- Currency Risk: Overseas investments are subject to fluctuations in the value of the dollar against the currency of the investment's originating country. This is also referred to as exchange rate risk.
- Reinvestment Risk: This is the risk that future proceeds from investments may have to be reinvested at a potentially lower rate of return (i.e. interest rate). This primarily relates to fixed income securities.
- Business Risk: These risks are associated with a particular industry or a particular company within an industry. For example, oil-drilling companies depend on finding oil and then refining it, a lengthy process, before they can generate a profit. They carry a higher risk of profitability than an electric company, which generates its income from a steady stream of customers who buy electricity no matter what the economic environment is like.
- Liquidity Risk: Liquidity is the ability to readily convert an investment into cash. Generally, assets are more liquid if many traders are interested in a standardized product. For example, Treasury Bills are highly liquid, while real estate properties are not.
- Financial Risk: Excessive borrowing to finance a business' operations increases the risk of profitability, because the company must meet the terms of its obligations in good times and bad. During periods of financial stress, the inability to meet loan obligations may result in bankruptcy and/or a declining market value.

Other Investments

FSN may offer advice on other investments including, mortgages, business entities, equipment leasing, collectibles, hard assets, managed futures and commodities. FSN reserves the right to advise clients on any other type of investment that it deems appropriate based on the client's stated goals and objectives. FSN may also provide advice on any type of investment held in a client's portfolio at the inception of the advisory relationship or on any investment on which the client requests advice.

Item 9: Disciplinary Information

Legal and Disciplinary

Registered investment advisers are required to disclose all material facts to your evaluation of the firm or the integrity of the firm's management. FSN has no material information to disclose applicable to this Item.

Item 10: Other Financial Industry Activities and Affiliations

Financial Industry Activities – Broker-Dealers

FSN is not registered as a broker-dealer. As described below, several of its management persons are Registered Representatives of a broker-dealer, Comprehensive Asset Management and Servicing, Inc. (CAMAS), member FINRA/SIPC.

Financial Industry Activities – Futures and Commodities

Neither FSN nor any of its management persons is registered as (or associated with) a futures commissions merchant, commodity pool operator, or a commodity trading advisor.

Financial Industry Activities – Registered Representatives

As described above, FSN's IARs may be Registered Representative(s) of CAMAS; however, FSN is solely responsible for investment advice rendered. Advisory services are provided separately and independently of CAMAS. Registered Representatives of CAMAS may be involved in, and compensated for, the sale of securities of various types, including, but not limited to, stocks, bonds, mutual funds, fixed and variable annuities, and other insurance products. This relationship could create a material conflict of interest with clients.

All recommendations made are specific to each client's individualized needs and current financial situation. Clients to whom FSN offers advisory services are advised that they are free to implement recommendations under any broker dealer they choose.

While these IARs endeavor at all times to put the interest of the clients first as part of FSN's fiduciary duty, clients should be aware that the receipt of additional compensation itself creates a conflict of interest, and may affect the judgment of these individuals when making recommendations.

Financial Industry Activities – Insurance Company or Agency

IARs of FSN may be licensed insurance agents or brokers and may be appointed with several insurance companies. They may earn separate compensation for transactions implemented through various insurance companies. Clients are not obligated to use any company for insurance product purchases, and may work with any insurance agent they choose. Insurance compensation will be separate and distinct from investment advisory fees charged by FSN.

Other Affiliations

Craig C. Richart is the Managing Member of Medical Strategy Network, LLC, which provides doctors with advice on structuring medical procedures. Medical Strategies Network, LLC is owned by FSN. Clients of Medical Strategy Network, LLC may also be clients of FSN. Craig C. Richart spends less than 20% of his time on this activity.

Other Investment Advisors

As described in Items 4 and 5, FSN selects other investment advisors for its clients.

Item 11: Code of Ethics, Participation or Interest in Client Transactions and Personal Trading

Code of Ethics

FSN employees must comply with a Code of Ethics and Statement for Insider Trading. The Code describes the Firms' high standard of business conduct, and fiduciary duty to its clients. The Code's key provisions include:

- Statement of General Principles
- Policy on and reporting of Personal Securities Transactions
- A prohibition on Insider Trading
- Restrictions on the acceptance of significant gifts
- Procedures to detect and deter misconduct and violations
- Requirement to maintain confidentiality of client information

Jeffrey M. Toner, Managing Member and Chief Compliance Officer reviews all employee trades each quarter. His trades are reviewed by Craig C. Richart, Managing Member. These reviews ensure that personal trading does not affect the markets, and that clients of FSN receive preferential treatment. Since most employee trades are small mutual fund trades or exchange-traded fund trades, the trades do not affect the securities markets.

FSN's employees must acknowledge the terms of the Code of Ethics at least annually. Any individual not in compliance with the Code of Ethics may be subject to termination.

Clients and prospective clients can obtain a copy of FSN's Code of Ethics by contacting Jeffrey M. Toner at 312.831.4423.

Participation or Interest in Client Transactions

As disclosed in Item 10, one or more of FSN's IARs may be licensed registered representatives of CAMAS and In this capacity, may be involved in the sale of securities of various types, including, but not limited to, stocks, bonds, and mutual funds and receive commissions for those transactions. In addition, they may be involved in the sale of various insurance products. The time spent in such capacities varies from individual to individual, but in all cases represents less than 5%.

Participation or Interest in Client Transactions – Financial Interest and Principal/Agency Cross

FSN and its employees do not recommend to clients, or buy or sell for client accounts, securities in which they have a material financial interest.

It is FSN's policy that the Firm will not affect any principal or agency cross securities transactions for client accounts. FSN will also not cross trades between client accounts.

Participation or Interest in Client Transactions – Personal Securities Transactions

FSN and its employees may buy or sell securities identical to those recommended to clients for their personal accounts. The Code of Ethics, described above, is designed to assure that the personal securities transactions, activities and interests of the employees of FSN will not interfere with (i) making decisions in the best interest of advisory clients and (ii) implementing such decisions while, at the same time, allowing employees to invest for their own accounts. Under the Code certain classes of securities, primarily mutual funds, have been designated as exempt transactions, based upon a determination that these would materially not interfere with the best interest of FSN's clients. In addition, the Code requires pre-clearance of many transactions. Nonetheless, because the Code of Ethics in some circumstances would permit employees to invest in the same securities as clients, there is a possibility that employees might benefit from market activity by a client in a security held by an employee. Employee trading is continually monitored under the Code of Ethics, and designed to reasonably prevent conflicts of interest between FSN and its clients.

Participation or Interest in Client Transactions – Aggregation

FSN and its employees may trade in the same securities with client accounts on an aggregated basis when consistent with FSN's obligation of best execution. In such circumstances, the affiliated and client accounts will share commission costs equally and receive securities at a total average price. FSN will retain records of the trade order (specifying each participating account) and its allocation, which will be completed prior to the entry of the aggregated order. Completed orders will be allocated as specified in the initial trade order. Partially filled orders will be allocated on a pro rata basis. Any exceptions will be explained on the order.

Item 12: Brokerage Practices

Research and Other Soft Dollar Benefits

FSN does not receive formal soft dollar benefits other than execution from broker-dealer/custodians in connection with client securities transactions.

FSN may receive from a particular broker-dealer/custodian, without cost, support services which may be used to assist the Firm in investment decision-making processes, and to monitor and service client accounts maintained at a particular broker-dealer/custodian. Included within the support services that may be obtained is a financial contribution toward client-related technology services, which may create a potential conflict of interest. These benefits are generally available to independent investment advisors on an unsolicited basis and are not otherwise contingent upon FSN committing to any custodian any specific amount of business (assets in custody or trading).

In fulfilling its duties to its clients, FSN endeavors at all times to put the interests of its clients first. Clients should be aware, however, that FSN's receipt of economic benefits from a broker-dealer/custodian may create a conflict of interest since these benefits may influence FSN's choice of broker-dealer/custodian over another broker-dealer/custodian that does not furnish similar benefits.

Brokerage for Client Referrals

FSN does not receive client referrals from broker/dealers.

Directed Brokerage

While not routine, the client may direct FSN to use a particular broker-dealer to execute some or all transactions for the client. This brokerage direction must be requested by the client in writing. In that case, the client will negotiate terms and arrangements for the account with that broker-dealer, and FSN will not seek better execution services or prices from other broker-dealers or be able to "batch" client transactions for execution through other broker-dealers with orders for other accounts managed by FSN. By directing brokerage, the client may pay higher commissions or other transaction costs or greater spreads, or receive less favorable net prices, on transactions for the account than would otherwise be the case. Not all advisers require or allow their clients to direct brokerage. Subject to its duty of best execution, FSN may decline a client's request to direct brokerage if, in FSN's sole discretion, such directed brokerage arrangements would result in additional operational difficulties.

Trade Aggregation

At the sole discretion of FSN, aggregate purchases or sales of the same security, instrument or obligation may be transacted on the same day for multiple accounts of one or more of FSN's clients. Although such aggregations potentially could be either advantageous or disadvantageous to any one or more particular accounts, they will be effected only when FSN believes that to do so will be in the best interest of the affected accounts. When transactions are so aggregated the actual prices applicable to the aggregation transaction will be deemed to have purchased or sold its share of the security, instrument or obligation at the average price. If a partial execution is attained at the end of the trading day, FSN will generally allocate shares on a pro rata basis, but may fill small orders entirely before applying the pro rata allocation.

Accounts for FSN or its employees may be included in a block trade with client accounts.

Item 13: Review of Accounts

Reviews

Investment Adviser Representatives will monitor accounts on a continuous basis, and will conduct a formal review on at least an annual basis.

FSN's Investment Committee is comprised of Jeffrey Toner, Managing Member; Craig Richart, Partner; James Weil, Partner; Tracy Bousky, Financial Advisor. Each Committee member is also a client account manager. The Committee meets regularly to discuss overall firm investment philosophy to consistently apply to client accounts regardless of the client account manager.

Each client is assigned an account manager. The account manager has the responsibility for communicating with the client, updating changes to the client's situation and regularly reviewing the client's portfolio including the asset allocation and the specific assets included in the account. The client review includes comparing the portfolio and current security positions with the goals and objectives as outlined by the investment policy statement, reviewing changes to the client's investment circumstances, evaluating the specific holdings, re-balancing the portfolio and communicating the current status of the portfolio and any recommended actions to the client.

Clients' accounts are reviewed regularly; formal reviews, including contact with clients, typically occur at least annually.

Review Triggers

Triggering factors that may stimulate a review include, but are not limited to, significant market corrections, large deposits or withdrawals from an account, substantial changes in the value of a client's portfolio, political or economic conditions, tax laws, new investment information and a change in the client's investment objectives.

Reporting

Clients will receive monthly account statements through Pershing as custodian. FSN will issue updates or reports at the Client's request.

Financial Planning – Reviews and Reporting

The initial financial plan is included as a component of the financial planning service. Clients may receive updated financial plans for a separate fee.

Financial planning clients receive reports as contracted for at the inception of the engagement.

Item 14: Client Referrals and Other Compensation

Other Compensation

FSN does not receive any formal economic benefits (other than normal compensation and benefits described in Items 10 and 12) from any firm or individual for providing investment advice.

Compensation – Client Referrals

FSN has one referral fee arrangement; FSN makes payments to an individual for clients referred to the Firm several years ago.

Item 15: Custody

Custody – Fee Debiting

Clients may authorize FSN (in the client agreement) to debit fees directly from the client's account at the broker dealer, bank or other qualified custodian (custodian). Client investment assets will be held with a custodian agreed upon by the client and FSN. The custodian is advised in writing of the limitation of FSN's access to the account. FSN sends information to the custodian including the amount of the advisory fee, the value of the client's assets on which the advisory fee was based, and the specific manner in which the advisory fee was calculated. The custodian sends a statement to the client, at least quarterly, indicating all amounts disbursed from the account including the amount of advisory fees paid directly to FSN.

Custody – Account Statements

As described above and in Item 13, clients receive at least quarterly statements from the broker dealer, bank or other qualified custodian that holds and maintains client's investment assets. Clients are urged to carefully review such statements and compare such official custodial records to the account statements or other reports that FSN provides. FSN statements may vary from custodial statements based on accounting procedures, reporting dates, or valuation methodologies of certain securities

Item 16: Investment Discretion

Through the investment management agreement, FSN may accept limited power of attorney to act on a discretionary basis on behalf of clients. A limited power of attorney allows FSN to execute trades on behalf of clients.

When such limited powers exist between the FSN and the client, FSN has the authority to determine, without obtaining specific client consent, both the amount and type of securities to be bought to satisfy client account objectives. Additionally, FSN may accept any reasonable limitation or restriction to such authority on the account placed by the client. All limitations and restrictions placed on accounts must be presented to FSN in writing.

However, FSN consults with the client prior to each trade to obtain concurrence if a blanket trading authorization has not been given.

Item 17: Voting Client Securities

FSN does not have any authority to and does not vote proxies on behalf of clients. Clients retain the responsibility for receiving and voting proxies; clients receive these proxies directly from either custodians or transfer agents.

If requested, FSN may provide advice to clients regarding proxy votes. If any conflict of interest exists, it will be disclosed to the client. Clients may contact Jeffrey M. Toner at 312.831.4423 for information about proxy voting.

Item 18: Financial Information
