Item 4 – Advisory Business

A) Freeman Capital Management, LLC is a Registered Investment Advisory firm providing investment services. We specialize in customized investment portfolios based on each client's personal goals and risk tolerances. Services are provided on a fee-only basis. Freeman Capital Management, LLC is registered with the State of California and was organized under the Oregon Limited Liability Company Act on June 7, 2004.

Client services include:

- Management of retirement plans for individuals
- Selection of exchange-traded funds, mutual funds and individual stocks
- Individual and joint investment accounts
- Individual retirement plans

Don Freeman is the principal owner. Date of Birth: 1968, University Education: 1992 Bachelor of Science in Mechanical Engineering, Oregon State University Corvallis, Oregon; 1995 post-graduate studies University of Michigan, and University of Chicago, Illinois.

B) Freeman Capital Management, LLC offers a wide range of investment advisory services to its Clients. Advice and services are tailored to the stated objectives of the Client(s). Client gives Advisor ongoing and continuous discretionary authority to execute its investment recommendations in accordance with Advisor's Statement of Investment Policy without the Client's prior approval of each specific transaction. Under this authority, Client shall allow Advisor to purchase and sell securities and instruments in this account, arrange for delivery and payment in connection with the foregoing, select and retain sub-advisors, and act on behalf of the Client in most matters necessary or incidental to the handling of the account, including monitoring certain assets.

In some circumstances, Client grants Advisor non-discretionary authority to execute its investment recommendations in accordance with Advisor's Statement of Investment Policy.

Non-discretionary authority requires the Advisor to obtain Client's prior approval of each specific transaction prior to executing investment recommendations, as well as for the selection and retention of sub-advisors to the account.

C) Due diligence: Freeman Capital Management uses a risk capacity profile questionnaire to determine the individual needs, risks and goals for each client. Clients are contacted using phone, email and Skype throughout the year to determine if any risk profile changes need to be updated and implemented.

D) Freeman Capital Management does not participate in a wrap fee program.

E) Assets Under Management:

On a discretionary basis: $4,100,000 as of July 23, 2014

On non-discretionary basis: $0 as of July 23, 2014

Item 5 – Fees and Compensation

The specific manner in which fees are charged by Freeman Capital Management, is established in a client's written agreement with Freeman Capital Management (see "Schedule A" of the Investment Advisory Agreement). Freeman Capital Management, bills its fee on a quarterly basis in advance of each calendar quarter. Clients may be billed directly for fees or authorize Freeman Capital Management to directly debit fees from client accounts. Fees are generally negotiable.

Standard Fee Schedule:

1.5% on assets under $500,000

1.25% on assets between $500,000 to $1,000,000

1.0% on assets in excess of $1,000,000

Sample Fee Calculation: Client account balance on December 31, 2010 is $10, 000. The first quarter 2011 fee will be calculated in the following manner: $10,000 times 1.5% divided by 4 quarters equals $37. This fee will be deducted from the client account and appear on the brokerage firms monthly or quarterly statement.

Management fees shall be prorated for each capital contribution and withdrawal made during the applicable calendar quarter (with the exception of de minimis contributions and withdrawals). Accounts initiated during a calendar quarter will be charged a prorated fee. Fees for partial quarters at the commencement or termination of the Client Agreement will be billed or refunded on a pro-rated basis contingent on the number of days the account was open during the quarter.

Freeman Capital Management's fees are exclusive of brokerage commissions, transaction fees, and other related costs and expenses which shall be incurred by the client. Clients may incur certain charges imposed by custodians, brokers, third party investment and other third parties such as fees charged by managers, custodial fees, deferred sales charges, odd-lot differentials, transfer taxes, wire transfer and electronic fund fees, and other fees and taxes on brokerage accounts and securities transactions. Mutual funds and exchange traded funds also charge internal management fees, which are disclosed in a fund's prospectus.

Such charges, fees and commissions are exclusive of and in addition to Freeman Capital Management's fee, and Freeman Capital Management shall not receive any portion of these commissions, fees, and costs.

Item 12 further describes the factors that Freeman Capital Management considers in selecting or recommending broker-dealers for client transactions and determining the reasonableness of their compensation (e.g., commissions).

Freeman Capital Management charges only a quarterly management fee and DOES NOT have surrender or transfer charges, upfront commissions or establishment charges. Freeman Capital Management is not compensated from the sale or purchase of mutual funds, securities or asset-based sales charges. Freeman Capital Management does not use annuities or insurance products and therefore is not compensated by those firms in any way and has no conflict of interest.

Advisor will use its best judgment and good faith efforts in rendering services to Client. Advisor cannot warrant or guarantee any particular level of account performance, or that account will be profitable over time. Not every investment decision or recommendation made by Advisor will be profitable. Client assumes all market risk involved in the investment of account assets under the Investment Advisory Agreement and understands that investment decisions made for this account are subject to various market, currency, economic, political and business risks.

Except as may otherwise be provided by law, Advisor will not be liable to Client for (a) any loss that Client may suffer by reason of any investment decision made or other action taken or omitted in good faith by Freeman Capital Management with that degree of care, skill, prudence and diligence under the circumstances that a prudent person acting in a fiduciary capacity would use; (b) any loss arising from Advisor's adherence to Client's instructions; or (c) any act or failure to act by a custodian of Client's account. Nothing in this Agreement shall relieve Advisor from any responsibility or liability Advisor may have under state or federal statutes.

Freeman Capital Management does not have custody of the assets in the account and shall have no liability to the Client for any loss or other harm to any property in the account, including any harm to any property in the account resulting from the insolvency of the custodian or any acts of the agents or employees of the custodian and whether or not the full amount or such loss is covered by the Securities Investor Protection Corporation ("SIPC") or any other insurance which may be carried by the custodian. The Client understands that SIPC provides only limited protection for the loss of property held by a broker-dealer.

Item 6 – Performance-Based Fees and Side-By-Side Management

Freeman Capital Management, LLC does not charge any performance-based fees (fees based on a share of capital gains on or capital appreciation of the assets of a client).

Item 7 – Types of Clients

Freeman Capital Management, LLC provides portfolio management services to individual investors.

Item 8 – Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies and Risk of Loss

A) Freeman Capital Management provides money management services for individual investors. We believe in a disciplined and balanced approach to investment advice. We use an asset allocation model based on macro economic conditions and technical analysis. The equity portion of each portfolio is typically divided among small cap, mid cap, large cap, and international equities. The non-equity portion of the portfolio is typically divided among U.S. Treasuries, corporate bonds, municipal bonds, and alternative investments.

Portfolio Rebalancing: As markets and economic conditions change, asset classes become over or undervalued. We monitor each portfolio and rebalance positions when needed depending on our asset allocation model. For example, if our model shows small and midcap stocks to be undervalued we may overweight that asset class. Our goal is to design portfolios that are strategically allocated to provide broad diversification but not one that is too restrictive so it can change within the model as market and economic conditions warrant. "Investing in securities involves risk of loss that clients should be prepared to bear."

B) Our long-term investment strategy and methods of analysis are based on historical studies of how the financials markets have performed over many decades. While we try to limit downside risk using an asset model and a diversified portfolio there are always factors that affect portfolio performance such as currency fluctuations, interest rates, recession and wars. We are not short-term market timers and trade as infrequently as possible thus limiting brokerage transaction fees, costs, and taxes which also can diminish investment performance.

C) Freeman Capital Management's client portfolios are primarily constructed of low cost Exchange-Traded Funds, no-load mutual funds and stocks. We consistently focus on three key factors: keeping costs as low as possible, managing risk, and maintaining a diversified portfolio. "Investing in securities involves risk of loss that clients should be prepared to bear."

D) Data Security: Freeman Capital Management is committed to providing data security that protects client's confidential information. We use industry-best practice security such as firewalls and encryption to safeguard personal financial information. We constantly monitor and assess the security of our systems and perform routine data backup. Client files are stored electronically, backed up offsite and encrypted.

Item 9 – Disciplinary Information

Registered investment advisers are required to disclose all material facts regarding any legal or disciplinary events that would be material to your evaluation of Freeman Capital Management, LLC or the integrity of Freeman Capital Management's business management.

A) A criminal or civil action in a domestic, foreign or military court of competent jurisdiction. Freeman Capital Management, LLC has no information applicable to this Item.

B) An administrative proceeding before the SEC, any other federal regulatory agency, any state regulatory agency, or any foreign financial regulatory authority. In May 2010, FCM was transitioning from the state of Oregon to SEC registration. Oregon did a record check and found some books and records were not up to date. FCM's registration with the SEC was approved in July 2010 and books and records updated. Consent order paid May 15, 2012. Going forward FCM sends each year a client profile update form, maintains books and records and notifies clients that an updated ADV part 2 is available by email.

C) Involved in a self-regulatory organization (SRO) proceeding. Freeman Capital Management, LLC has no information applicable to this Item.

Item 10 – Other Financial Industry Activities and Affiliations

Don Freeman periodically teaches beginning investment courses at Community College and Rotary clubs. Topics include: The Technology Revolution, buying and selling stocks, and how to evaluate and construct portfolios of global Exchange-Traded Funds. All courses are educational in nature and teach investors the basics of stock market cycles, fundamental and technical analysis.

Item 11 – Code of Ethics

Freeman Capital Management, LLC has adopted a Code of Ethics for all supervised persons of the firm describing its high standard of business conduct, and fiduciary duty to its clients. The Code of Ethics includes provisions relating to the confidentiality of client information, a prohibition on insider trading, a prohibition of rumor mongering, restrictions on the acceptance of significant gifts and the reporting of certain gifts and business entertainment items, and personal securities trading procedures, among other things. All supervised persons at Freeman Capital Management, LLC must acknowledge the terms of the Code of Ethics annually, or as amended.

Freeman Capital Management, LLC anticipates that, in appropriate circumstances, consistent with clients' investment objectives, it will cause accounts over which Freeman Capital Management, LLC has management authority to effect, and will recommend to investment advisory clients or prospective clients, the purchase or sale of securities in which Freeman Capital Management, LLC, its affiliates and/or clients, directly or indirectly, have a position of interest. Freeman Capital Management, LLC's employees and persons associated with Freeman Capital Management, LLC are required to follow Freeman Capital Management, LLC's Code of Ethics. Subject to satisfying this policy and applicable laws, officers, directors and employees of Freeman Capital Management, LLC and its affiliates may trade for their own accounts in securities which are recommended to and/or purchased for Freeman Capital Management, LLC's clients.

The Code of Ethics is designed to assure that the personal securities transactions, activities and interests of the employees of Freeman Capital Management, LLC will not interfere with (i) making decisions in the best interest of advisory clients and (ii) implementing such decisions while, at the same time, allowing employees to invest for their own accounts. Under the Code certain classes of securities have been designated as exempt transactions, based upon a determination that these would materially not interfere with the best interest of Freeman Capital Management, LLC's clients. In addition, the Code requires pre-clearance of many transactions, and restricts trading in close proximity to client trading activity. Nonetheless, because the Code of Ethics in some circumstances would permit employees to invest in the same securities as clients, there is a possibility that employees might benefit from market activity by a client in a security held by an employee. Employee trading is continually monitored under the Code of Ethics, and to reasonably prevent conflicts of interest between Freeman Capital Management, LLC and its clients.

Certain affiliated accounts may trade in the same securities with client accounts on an aggregated basis when consistent with Freeman Capital Management, LLC's obligation of best execution. In such circumstances, the affiliated and client accounts will share commission costs equally and receive securities at a total average price. Freeman Capital Management, LLC will retain records of the trade order (specifying each participating account) and its allocation, which will be completed prior to the entry of the aggregated order. Completed orders will be allocated as specified in the initial trade order. Partially filled orders will be allocated on a pro rata basis. Any exceptions will be explained on the Order.

It is Freeman Capital Management, LLC's policy that the firm will not affect any principal or agency cross securities transactions for client accounts. Freeman Capital Management, LLC will also not cross trades between client accounts. Principal transactions are generally defined as transactions where an adviser, acting as principal for its own account or the account of an affiliated broker-dealer, buys from or sells any security to any advisory client. A principal transaction may also be deemed to have occurred if a security is crossed between an affiliated hedge fund and another client account. An agency cross transaction is defined as a transaction where a person acts as an investment adviser in relation to a transaction in which the investment adviser, or any person controlled by or under common control with the investment adviser, acts as broker for both the advisory client and for another person on the other side of the transaction. Agency cross transactions may arise where an adviser is dually registered as a broker-dealer or has an affiliated broker-dealer.

Freeman Capital Management, LLC's clients or prospective clients may request a copy of the firm's Code of Ethics by contacting Don Freeman.

Item 12 – Brokerage Practices

Freeman Capital Management, LLC does not receive research or other products or services (soft dollar benefits) from any broker-dealer, therefore creating no conflicts of interest.

Generally, Freeman Capital Management has the authority to determine, without obtaining specific Client consent, the securities bought or sold and the amount of securities bought or sold and commission rates paid. The only restrictions on the above discretionary authority are those set by the Client on a case by case basis. The Advisor makes it a practice to question Clients to determine if there are any limitations to the Advisor's discretionary authority on the above matters.

Except to the extent that the Client directs otherwise, Freeman Capital Management may use its discretion in selecting or recommending the broker-dealer. The Client is not obligated to effect transactions through any broker-dealer recommended by Advisor. In recommending broker-dealers, Freeman Capital Management will generally seek "best execution." In recommending a broker-dealer Freeman Capital Management will comply with its fiduciary duty to obtain best execution and with the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and will take into account such relevant factors as (a) price, (b) the broker-dealer's facilities, reliability and financial responsibility, (c) the ability of the broker-dealer to effect transactions, particularly with regard to such aspects as timing, order size and execution of order, (d) the research and related brokerage services provided by such broker or dealer to the Advisor, notwithstanding that the account may not be the direct or exclusive beneficiary of such services and (e) any other factors the Advisor considers to be relevant.

Recommending a broker dealer can create a conflict of interest. Accordingly Freeman Capital Management has established the following restrictions in order to ensure its fiduciary responsibilities:

1. A Director, officer, associated person, or employee of Freeman Capital Management shall not buy or sell securities for his personal portfolio where his decision is substantially derived, in whole or in part, by reason of his employment unless the information is also available to the investing public or reasonable inquiry. No person of Advisor shall prefer his or her own interest to that of the advisory Client.
2. Freeman Capital Management maintains a list of all securities holdings for itself and anyone associated with its advisory practice with access to advisory recommendations. These holdings are reviewed on a regular basis by an appropriate officer of Advisor.
3. All Clients are fully informed that certain individuals may receive separate compensation when effecting transactions during the implementation process.
4. Freeman Capital Management emphasizes the unrestricted right of the Client to decline to implement any advice rendered, except in situations where Advisor has been granted discretionary authority over the Client's account.
5. Freeman Capital Management emphasizes the unrestricted right of the Client to select and choose any broker or dealer, and/or insurance company he/she wishes.
6. Freeman Capital Management requires that all individuals must act in accordance with all applicable federal and state regulations governing registered investment advisory practices.

7. Any individual not in observance of the above may be subject to termination.

Item 13 – Review of Accounts

Don Freeman, principal, regularly reviews the status of all securities in client accounts. An overall assessment is performed on at least a monthly basis. All reviews are based on clients' stated investment objectives. More frequent review may be triggered by a change in clients' investment guidelines; tax considerations; large deposits or withdrawals; large security sales or purchases; loss of confidence in corporate management objectives and changes in the macro-economic climate. Individual stocks, Exchange-Traded Funds or other holdings are reviewed weekly.

Investment advisory clients will receive standard account statements from the custodian of their accounts on a monthly basis and have 24-hour online account access. In addition to the custodian account statements, clients receive weekly reports on general economic conditions.

Item 14 – Client Referrals and Other Compensation

Freeman Capital Management, LLC does not pay any person or business for referrals of new clients and is not compensated by any third party.

Item 15 – Custody

Clients should receive at least quarterly statements from the broker dealer, bank or other qualified custodian that holds and maintains client's investment assets. Freeman Capital Management, LLC urges you to carefully review such statements in pdf format or online.

Item 16 – Investment Discretion

Freeman Capital Management, LLC usually receives discretionary authority from the client at the outset of an advisory relationship to select the identity and amount of securities to be bought or sold. In all cases, however, such discretion is to be exercised in a manner consistent with the stated investment objectives for the particular client account.

When selecting securities and determining amounts, Freeman Capital Management, LLC observes the investment policies, limitations and restrictions of the clients for which it advises. For registered investment companies, Freeman Capital Management, LLC's authority to trade securities may also be limited by certain federal securities and tax laws that require diversification of investments and favor the holding of investments once made.

Investment guidelines and restrictions must be provided to Freeman Capital Management, LLC in writing.

Item 17 – Voting Client Securities

As a matter of firm policy and practice, Freeman Capital Management, LLC does not have any authority to and does not vote proxies on behalf of advisory clients. Clients retain the responsibility for receiving and voting proxies for any and all securities maintained in client portfolios. Freeman Capital Management, LLC may provide advice to clients regarding the clients' voting of proxies.

Item 18 – Financial Information

Freeman Capital Management, LLC has no financial commitment that impairs its ability to meet contractual and fiduciary commitments to clients, and has not been the subject of a bankruptcy proceeding.
