4. Advisory Business¹

Global AutoTrading Inc. (Global AutoTrading) provides a monthly-fee-based automated trading (autotrading) service to its clients. Global AutoTrading does not recommend individual investments; which orders to place is dictated by the clients' existing subscription to various 3rd-party investment newsletters (Newsletters). Global AutoTrading does not recommend any Newsletter to its clients. The clients decide for themselves which Newsletter they want to subscribe to, and if the Newsletter is compatible with Global AutoTrading's service, then the clients can sign up to Global AutoTrading's autotrading service. Global AutoTrading trades options & equities.

Global AutoTrading has been in business since 2007. The principal owner of Global AutoTrading Inc. is Jimmy Talbot. As of March 5, 2014, Global AutoTrading autotrades USD10.6M in assets.

5. Fees & Compensation

Global AutoTrading charges a monthly fee per account based on the number of newsletters being autotraded in the account, as well as the net liquidity of the account for accounts larger than $100k. One newsletter costs $70 per month; a second newsletter costs an additional $30 per month; and each subsequent newsletter costs an additional $10 per month. For accounts larger than $100k, the net is divided by $100k to come up with a scaling factor that is multiplied by the fee computed above. Thus, an account with a net liquidation value of $150k and autotrading a single newsletter would pay $$70 \times 1.5 = \105 per month. These fees are non-negotiable and are payable monthly at the beginning of the billing period. These fees will be taken from a credit card, PayPal account or transferred from the client's brokerage account to Global AutoTrading's brokerage account. These fees are non-refundable. If a subscription to Global AutoTrading's autotrading service is terminated with at least 15 days prior to the next billing date, there will be no further subscription charges to the client, but there will be no refund for the remainder of the period of the subscription.

Clients will incur brokerage and other transaction costs that are charged directly by the broker (please see section 12- Brokerage Practices).

6. Performance-Based Fees and Side-By-Side Management

Global AutoTrading does not accept performance-based fees.

7. Types of Clients

Global AutoTrading clients include individuals, trusts, and corporations. The minimum account size (as required by our broker) is USD5000.

8. Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies and Risk of Loss

Global AutoTrading does not analyze securities. Global AutoTrading receives recommendations from Newsletters via emails or other means, and places buy/sell orders in its clients' account according to those recommendations.

¹ The numbering follows the SEC guidelines; item 1 is the cover page, item 2 the list of material changes, and item 3 the table of contents.

Please note that investing in securities involves risk of loss that clients should be prepared to bear.

9. Disciplinary Information

Not Applicable.

10. Other Financial Industry Activities and Affiliations

Not Applicable.

11. Code of Ethics, Participation or Interest in Client Transactions and Personal Trading

Although Global AutoTrading does not recommend investments to its clients, it is possible that the Newsletters recommend investments in which Global AutoTrading or affiliates have a financial interest. In cases where orders for the same security for more than one client (or for Global AutoTrading and its affiliates or agents) needs to be submitted to the same broker at the same time and the orders are not combined, Global AutoTrading will submit the orders sorted by increasing number of contracts (smallest order first).

Global AutoTrading' complete code of ethics is available upon request.

12. Brokerage Practices

Global AutoTrading chooses brokers based on them meeting technical requirements for Global AutoTrading business model (such as support for Registered Investment Advisor accounts), as well as commission prices. Global AutoTrading does not receive commissions or other soft-dollar benefits from brokers.

Global AutoTrading may or may not aggregate (pool) orders together when submitting them to the broker. This does not usually affect commission prices with Interactive Brokers, as any order for more than one option contract has the same cost per contract whether it is large or small. Similarly for stocks, for any order involving more than 200 shares, the commission will be $0.005 per share.

13. Review of Accounts

Global AutoTrading does not periodically review client accounts. If a client notifies Global AutoTrading that their financial state or their goals have changed, Global AutoTrading will examine the client's current newsletter subscriptions for suitability. Clients are urged to compare newsletter alerts with the state of their account to confirm that all trades have been executed as recommended.

Global AutoTrading sends weekly and monthly trade reports to clients. The reports show individual transactions and positions specifying which newsletter the item is associated with. These reports do not include commission and other fees, and thus clients are urged to look at the broker's activity statements for a more accurate state of their account (albeit without grouping by newsletter).

14. Client Referrals and Other Compensation

Global AutoTrading does not have a client referral program.

15. Custody

Global AutoTrading does not have custody of client assets.

16. Investment Discretion

Discretionary authority to determine the securities and total amount of securities to be bought or sold may be exercised only after a client executes a limited power of attorney granting such authority. Global AutoTrading may place orders to buy/sell equities or options in clients account, but may not transfer money in or out of the account (other than the billing of Global AutoTrading's monthly fee).

17. Voting Client Securities

Global AutoTrading does not have authority to vote client securities. Clients will receive their proxies or other solicitations directly from the broker.

18. Financial Information

Not applicable.

Global AutoTrading helps investors execute trades in their account. Clients receive the same 'trade alerts' that Global AutoTrading receives. Global AutoTrading emails trade confirmations to its clients, and clients can see their account holdings in the broker's activity statements as well. Therefore, clients themselves can make sure that Global AutoTrading executed the trades recommended in the 'trade alerts'. Thus, clients supervise Global AutoTrading directly - and hence the services provided by Mr. Talbot.
