Item 2 - Material Changes

On July 28, 2010, the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission voted unanimously to adopt amendments to Part 2 of Form ADV and related rules under the Investment Advisers Act of 1940 (the “Advisers Act”). The amendments are designed to require a registered investment adviser to provide Clients with a clearly written and meaningful disclosure, in plain English, about the advisor’s business practices, conflicts of interest and advisory personnel. The new Form ADV 2 is divided into two parts, Part 2A and Part 2B.

Part 2A of the new Form (the “Firm Brochure”) provides information about a variety of topics relating to an adviser’s business practices and conflicts of interest. Part 2B of the new Form (the “Brochure Supplement”) requires an adviser to provide information about certain advisory personnel.

Sage believes that communication and transparency are the foundation of our relationship and continually strive to provide you with the complete and accurate information at all times. We encourage all current and prospective investors to read this Firm Brochure and discuss any questions you may have with us. And of course, we always welcome your feedback.

Item 4 – Advisory Services

A. Firm Information

Sage Capital Advisors, LLC (“Sage”) is a registered investment advisor with the United States Securities and Exchange Commission. Sage is organized as a limited liability company in the State of Nevada. The principal owners of Sage are Matthew Johnson and Diana Blair, with each owning a 50% stake in Sage. Mr. Johnson’s stake is owned via a privately held firm, Sage One Ltd. Ms. Blair’s stake is also owned via a privately held firm, D Blair Corporation. Sage has been in continuous operation since 2005.

B. Advisory Services Offered

Investment Management Services – Sage provides continuous, active management of Client investment portfolios. Sage has developed a proprietary client service model that includes discovery, planning, implementation and monitoring components.

- Client Discovery – Upon entering into an advisory agreement, Sage will draft, and the Client will sign, a statement of Investment Guidelines. This statement will be based upon conversations and information collected during the interview stage. Sage will collect information concerning the Client’s financial status, goals, and assets, among other things.
- Investment Plan – Based on the information provided by the Client, Sage may furnish the Client with an “Investment Policy Statement” and/or Client Profile as necessary, which summarizes the Client’s current investment portfolio, investment goals and objectives, and risk tolerance level.
- Portfolio Design and Implementation – Upon completion of this investment objective information, Sage will design the Client’s investment portfolio, implementing an investment plan for the Client. In designing a portfolio, Sage does not adhere to rigid models or benchmarks. Every portfolio is constructed based solely on each Client’s objectives and financial profile.
- Investment Monitoring and Maintenance – Sage will continuously monitor investment portfolios to ensure that the portfolio meets the Client’s goals and objectives. Further, Sage monitors each Client portfolio in order to ensure they are invested in accordance with Sage’s firm-wide investment guidance and economic outlook.

It is the Client’s responsibility to notify Sage promptly, in writing, of any change to the information provided by Client, including any change to any investment objectives, risk tolerance, investment time horizon, and any investment policies, guidelines or reasonable restrictions. Sage will honor Client restrictions unless those restrictions impair Sage’s ability to manage Client assets.

Accounts are typically managed on a discretionary basis. Sage may offer non-discretionary services as well. For more on Sage’s discretionary authority, please see Item 16 below.

Sub-Advisory Services – Sage may provide investment management services to the Clients of third-party advisors (“Primary Advisors”). Sage will only work with Primary Advisors licensed as investment advisors in an appropriate jurisdiction, which will generally be one or more states or the SEC. All sub-advisory contracts are between Sage and the Primary Advisor. The Primary Advisor serves as the Client contact and liaison between Sage and the Client.

The Primary Advisor is responsible for gathering information about a Client’s financial situation and investment objectives, among other things. Further, the Primary Advisor is responsible for communicating this information to Sage, and assist in determining asset allocation guidelines. Sage will implement and administer an investment program for those Clients designated by the Primary Advisor.

Primary Advisors are permitted to place certain investment restrictions on accounts managed by Sage, so long as those restrictions do not impair Sage’s ability to effectively manage Client assets.

All sub-advisory accounts are managed on a discretionary basis. For more on Sage’s discretionary authority, please see Item 16 below.

Prior to rendering investment management services, Sage will ascertain, in conjunction with the client's primary adviser, the Client's financial situation, risk tolerance, and investment objective(s).

Consulting Services – Sage may also offer investment consulting services on assets not managed by Sage. Consulting advice may be in regard to a security, business transaction, consulting arrangement or any other issue about which the principals of Sage feel they may be able to render an expert opinion.

Managed Account Programs – Sage may enter into agreements with various managed account programs sponsored by the Client's designated third-party custodian. Under these agreements, the managed account programs have agreed to provide various types of money management programs and services to the Clients of Sage. All managed account programs utilized by Sage selects will be licensed as investment advisors by their resident state or with the United States Securities and Exchange Commission.

Sage will enter into agreements with managed account programs for the provision of client services. Sage clients will enter into a direct contract with the managed account program. After gathering information about a Client's financial situation and investment objectives, Sage may select a managed account program depending on the money management services required by the Client. The compensation of both Sage and managed account program is fully disclosed to each Client in the program. Fees for separately managed accounts will be deducted in addition to Sage's advisory fee.

Each program's fees are established and payable in accordance with the Form ADV Part 2 or other equivalent disclosure document of each managed account program selected by Sage. Fees for these programs may or may not be negotiable by Sage.

Financial Planning Services – Sage provides financial planning and consulting services. Financial planning services are rendered via a proprietary service methodology. A financial plan may include a review of a Client's net worth (including assets and liabilities), objectives, risk tolerance, risk capacity, cash flow and expenses, income tax analysis, review and analysis of fringe benefits, retirement forecast and probability analysis, educational funding analysis, estate planning analysis and risk management review. Sage's approach to providing this service starts with gathering current financial and subjective information. Sage assesses a Client's goals, objectives, time horizon, and risk tolerance to compare where the Client is today in relation to the attainment of their stated goals. A financial plan thereafter is prepared to discuss the Client's situation, along with various alternatives for consideration. At the end of the processes, the Client will receive an education about the alternatives recommended.

Sage entrusts that the Client will provide accurate information and Sage will not be obligated to verify any information received from the Client. If requested by the Client, Sage may recommend the services of other professionals for purposes of implementing certain aspects of the financial plan. Clients are under no obligation to engage the services of any such recommended professional. Clients retain absolute authority over all implementation decisions and are free to accept or reject any recommendation from Sage. Moreover, Clients are advised that it remains their responsibility to promptly notify Sage if there is ever any change in their financial situation during the financial planning process.

Investment Management for Plan Participants and Plan Sponsors – Sage represents that it is a registered investment adviser and qualifies as an Investment Manager under Section 3(38) of The Employee Retirement Security Act ("ERISA"), and that it is a fiduciary to the plan as defined by ERISA. As a 3(38) Investment Manager we are authorized by the client to exercise our best judgment in investing, selling and reinvesting securities in the Account in its discretion.

In no case will we hold any assets of the plan but rather they are held by an independent custodian selected by the client. As Investment Manager we accept the fiduciary duty and therefore fiduciary legal liability to:

1. Create an investment policy statement;
2. Create an investment line up;
3. Monitor the investment lineup and provide quarterly reporting; and
4. Replace funds as necessary.

As 3(38) Investment Manager we shall have discretion over the establishment of the plan's investment policy, prudent selection, monitoring, removal and replacement over the plan's investment options.

C. Client Account Management

Prior to engaging Sage to provide investment advisory services, the Client is required to enter into an investment management agreement with Sage setting forth the terms and conditions of the engagement and the services to be provided. These services may include:

- Selecting Investment Securities – Sage will utilize a proprietary securities analysis methodology (described in Item 8 below) in order to determine securities deemed suitable for investment by Sage Clients.
- Portfolio Construction – Sage will implement its security recommendations on a discretionary basis. That is, Sage may purchase and sell securities in a Client's without obtaining specific Client consent. Non-discretionary services are also available. Sage will use the services of a discount broker-dealer to provide account custodial services and to affect trades.
- Ongoing Investment Monitoring – Sage provides ongoing oversight of the Client's investment program. All investments are monitored for performance relative to certain benchmarks and Sage expectations.

D. Wrap Fee Programs

Sage does not manage any proprietary wrap fee programs.

E. Assets under Management

As of June 30, 2014, the most recent date for which such calculations are available, Sage manages the following assets:

Discretionary Assets	$161,941,440
Non-discretionary Assets	$3,160,731
Total	$165,102,171

Item 5 – Fees and Compensation

The following paragraphs detail the fee structure and compensation methodology for investment management services. Each Client shall sign an Investment Management Agreement that details the responsibilities of Sage and the Client.

A. Fees for Advisory Services

Investment Management Services – Sage's fee for investment advisory services varies based on the amount of assets managed by Sage. Typically, fees are a fixed percentage of the assets under management. This fee includes all investment recommendations and portfolio implementation, unless the client contract states otherwise. The fees for investment advisory services are billed on a tiered fee schedule. Family accounts may be combined for calculating breakpoints; some clients may pay a flat fee in lieu of the assets under management fee.

Tiered Annualized Investment Management Fees
Account Value	Annual Percentage Fee
On the First $1,000,000	1.5%
One the next $3,000,000 ($1-$4 Million)	1.3%
On the next $3,000,000 ($4 - $7 Million)	1.2%
On the next $3,000,000 ($7 - $10 Million)	1.1%
All assets over $10 Million	1.0%

Sage may permit exceptions to its fee policies. Such negotiated fees are approved on a case-by-case basis by the principals of Sage. The determining factors regarding a negotiated fee are; the relative complexity of the Client situation, size of the portfolio and the scope of services to be provided. In all cases, the Client's fee will be agreed upon in advance and indicated in the Client Agreement.

Sub-advisory Fees – Sage receives compensation pursuant to its agreements with the Primary Advisor. The compensation is generally .50% of the assets under management but may vary depending on the range of services Sage provides; i.e. specialized reports or more frequent reporting. Fee are payable in accordance with the agreement between the Client and the Primary Advisor.

Consulting Fees and Financial Planning Services – Clients may engage Sage on an hourly-fee basis. Hourly fees are usually charged for various consulting services a client may request. Hourly fees are $175/hour or a predetermined flat fee starting at $1,000.

Investment Management for Plan Participants and Plan Sponsors – Sage's fee for investment advisory services for plan participants and plan sponsors varies based on the amount of assets managed by Sage. Typically, fees are a fixed percentage of the assets under management. This fee includes all investment recommendations and portfolio implementation, unless the client contract states otherwise.

The fees for investment advisory services for plan participants and plan sponsor's services are billed on a tiered fee schedule. Family accounts may be combined for calculating breakpoints; some clients may pay a flat fee in lieu of the assets under management fee.

Tiered Annualized Investment Management Fees
Account Value	Annual Percentage Fee
On the First $1,000,000	1.5%
One the next $3,000,000 ($1-$4 Million)	1.3%
On the next $3,000,000 ($4 - $7 Million)	1.2%
On the next $3,000,000 ($7 - $10 Million)	1.1%
All assets over $10 Million	1.0%

Sage may permit exceptions to its fee policies. Such negotiated fees are approved on a case-by-case basis by the principals of Sage. The determining factors regarding a negotiated fee are; the relative complexity of the Client situation, size of the portfolio and the scope of services to be provided. In all cases, the Client's fee will be agreed upon in advance and indicated in the Client Agreement.

B. Fee Billing

Asset-Based Fee – Fees are a fixed percentage of assets under management, based upon the account value on the last day of the prior period. Fees for investment management services vary depending on the amount of assets to be managed. Clients are invoiced either monthly or quarterly in advance or in arrears for advisory services. For accounts opened during the month fees will be prorated to cover only that period which the account was managed by Sage.

Asset-based management fees will be automatically deducted from the client account by the Custodian. Sage shall send a monthly invoice to the Custodian indicating the amount of the fees to be deducted from the Client Account. The amount due is calculated by applying the annual rate in the table above to the total assets under management with Sage at the end of each month.

Clients will receive independent statements from the Custodian no less frequently than quarterly. It is the responsibility of the client to verify the accuracy of these fees as listed on the Custodian's brokerage statement as the Custodian does not assume this responsibility.

Sub-advisory Fees – Fees are a fixed percentage of assets under management, based upon the account value on the last day of the billing period. The billing period shall be stipulated by contract, and will typically be monthly or quarterly. Fees for sub-advisory services vary depending on the amount of assets to be managed. For accounts opened during the billing period, fees will be prorated to cover only that period which the account was managed by Sage.

Consulting and Financial Planning Fees – Clients paying by an hourly fee will be billed in arrears monthly, or upon completion of the work agreed to by contract. Hourly fees are documented during the project work and the Client will receive an invoice for the fee.

C. Other Fees and Expenses

Clients may incur certain fees or charges imposed by third-parties, other than Sage, in connection with investments made on behalf of the Client's account[s]. The Client is responsible for all custodial and securities execution fees charged by the Custodian and executing broker-dealer. The investment advisory fee charged by Sage is separate and distinct from these Custodian and execution fees. In addition, all fees paid to Sage for Investment Advisory Services are separate and distinct from the expenses charged by mutual funds and exchange-traded funds to their shareholders. These fees and expenses are described in each fund's prospectus. These fees and expenses will generally be used to pay management fees for the funds, other fund expenses, account administration (e.g., custody, brokerage and account reporting), and a possible distribution fee.

A Client may be able to invest in certain investments, without the services of Sage, but would not receive access to Advisor and Institutional shares classes. The Client also would not receive the services provided by Sage which are designed, among other things, to assist the Client in determining which products or services are most appropriate to each Client's financial condition and objectives. Accordingly, the Client should review both the fees charged by the fund(s) and the fees charged by Sage to fully understand the total fees to be paid.

D. Advance Payment of Fees and Termination

Advance Fees – Depending on their advisory agreement Sage Clients pay advisory fees in advance or in arrears.

Termination – Clients may request to terminate their Investment Management Agreement with Sage, in whole or in part, by providing advance written notice to Sage. The Client shall be responsible for investment advisory fees up to and including the effective date of termination. Sage will refund any unearned, prepaid fees, if any. The Client's Investment Management Agreement with Sage is non-transferable without Client's written approval.

Clients may terminate the Investment Management Agreement without penalty (full refund or no fees due) within 5 business days of signing the Agreement if the Sage Form ADV Part 2 was not delivered at least 48 hours prior to client's execution of the Agreement.

Sage shall not impose any start-up, closing or penalty fees in connection with the account. Clients may be assessed closing fees by the accounts custodian.

E. Compensation for Sales of Securities

Sage does not receive commissions or any compensation for transactions in any Client account. As a fee-only advisor, Sage is paid only on the advice and investment management provided to Clients based on the assets under management in the Client's account(s).

Item 6 - Performance-Based Fees

Performance- Based Fees – Sage does not currently charge performance-based fees for any Client. If Sage enters into such an arrangement, full disclosure will be made in this section.

Side-By-Side Management – Sage does not currently manage any proprietary investment funds (for example, a mutual fund). If Sage enters into such an arrangement, full disclosure will be made in this section.

Item 7 - Types of Clients

Sage may provide services to a variety of client types. However, Sage clients will typically fall into one of the following categories:

- 501(c)(3) Non Profit Corporations – Generally, non-profit organization clients of Sage will be organizations investing cash reserves to support a group or mission. Non-profit corporations may be charitable groups or Native American tribes.
- Individuals, Families, Personal Trusts and Estates – Private investors, investing personal assets
- Pension and Profit Sharing plans – Generally organized as a trust, investing the assets of plan participants
- Plan Participants – Individuals enrolled in pension or profit sharing plans seeking individualized advice independent of their plans sponsor
- Other Financial Service Firms – Typically other investment advisors for whom Sage provides investment, operational and/or administrative support

The relative percentage each client type currently represents is available on Sage's Form ADV Part 1. The actual mix of types of clients changes over time based upon market conditions, business plans and other factors.

For accounts governed by the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, as amended ("ERISA"), Sage acknowledges that it is a fiduciary to the plan under Section 3(38) of ERISA. In providing its services, the sole standard of care imposed upon Sage is to act with the care, skill, prudence and diligence under the circumstances then prevailing that a prudent man acting in a like capacity and familiar with such matters would use in the conduct of an enterprise of a like character and with like aims.

Sage provides customized services to meet the unique needs of each Client. Additional details are contained in Item 4 – Advisory Services.

Item 8 - Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies and Risk of Loss

Sage invests in undervalued securities without limiting investments to style, size, or country constraints. Securities are chosen based upon a detailed due diligence process that provides independent in house-valuation and monitoring. Sage does not constrain its investments to the benchmarks asset allocation. The firm also does not limit investments to a securities market capitalization or country of origin.

A. Methods of Analysis

Fundamental Analysis – Generally, Sage uses Fundamental Analysis in making investment decisions with respect to investment securities. Fundamental analysis is the process of looking at economic and business indicators as investment selection criteria.

These criteria are usually ratios and trends that may indicate the overall strength and financial viability of the entity being analyzed. Sage considers macroeconomic factors as well as issue specific factors.

Macroeconomic factors considered by Sage include, but are not limited to:

- General economic conditions
- Inflation trends
- Interest rates and the yield curve
- Market volatility and trends
- Monetary policies
- Legislative actions
- Sector Valuations

Issue specific factors include, but are not limited to:

- Earnings
- Cash flow coverage
- Credit Worthiness
- Balance Sheet Strength
- Dividend stability
- Cash Generation
- Top-Line revenue growth
- Margin stability and growth
- Interest Coverage
- Leverage
- Liquidity
- Solvency
- Asset Efficiency
- Unique Considerations

Other methods of analysis may be employed by Sage as deemed appropriate.

Companies are deemed suitable for investment when they meet certain criteria to indicate that they are an otherwise strong firm, but for a variety of reasons, the value of the stock has been discounted by the broad market. Generally, Sage seeks to invest in companies selling at a discount to their intrinsic value. This method is known generally as “value investing”. Sage may seek companies selling at a significant discount to its intrinsic value. This is known as “deep value” investing, and may have higher imbedded risks

Technical Analysis – Technical analysis is used for analyzing various economic and market trends. These trends, both short- and long-term, are used for determining specific trade entry and exit points and broad economic analysis. These trends may include put/call ratios, pricing trends, moving averages, volume, changes in volume, among many others. These indicators do not speak to the financial health of a particular issuer. Rather, indicators are used to gauge market sentiment regarding a given issue. Technical analysis will be used primarily for the timing of a particular trade, and not security selection.

Investment Manager Due Diligence – Sage may invest certain Clients’ assets with independent managers that pursue investment approaches that are diversified among multiple strategies, asset classes, regions, industry sectors and securities. In selecting a mutual fund and allocating assets to them, Sage considers both quantitative and qualitative factors including:

- Expense Ratios and Fees
- Manager Tenure
- Manager adherence to portfolio guidelines and investment philosophy
- Performance relative to an appropriate benchmark and peer groups
- Legal and/or other regulatory proceedings that may affect manager
- Material changes in organization, investment philosophy and/or personnel
- Risk Management Process
- Relative performance during various time periods and market cycles
- Experience and training of staff investment professionals
- The clarity of, and adherence to, a viable investment philosophy
- Risk management process
- Portfolio management capabilities
- Fee structure
- Any other factor deemed appropriate by Sage

Although the focus of Sages' investment methodology is individual stocks, mutual funds may be used in retirement plan accounts. Sage may use various databases of information in order to facilitate the discovery process on each investment manager utilized by Sage.

B. Investment Strategies

While pursuing a generally value-biased methodology in its investment approach, Sage's investment strategies do not fall into fixed style classifications. Rather, each Client's portfolio is custom tailored to specific investment objectives and risk considerations. All portfolios are constructed with prevailing long-term trends in mind. Short-term trends and strategies will not be employed unless necessary in accordance with Client mandates.

Sage will typically manage accounts using individual equities. Equities are selected for inclusion in a portfolio by way of the method described above. Sage may invest Client money in fixed income instruments, mutual funds, money market funds and, where appropriate, real estate limited partnerships.

Sage will not pursue strategies that are speculative in nature.

C. Risk of Loss

General Investment Risks – Investing in securities involves certain investment risks. Securities may fluctuate in value or lose value. Clients should be prepared to bear the potential risk of loss.

Sage will assist Clients in determining an appropriate strategy based on their tolerance for risk and other factors noted above. However, there is no guarantee that a Client will meet their investment goals.

Each Client engagement will entail a review of the Client's investment goals, financial situation, time horizon, tolerance for risk and other factors to develop an appropriate strategy for managing a Client's account. Client participation in this process, including full and accurate disclosure of requested information, is essential for the analysis of a Client's account. The Advisor shall rely on the financial and other information provided by the Client or their designees without the duty or obligation to validate the accuracy and completeness of the provided information. It is the responsibility of the Client to inform the Advisor of any changes in financial condition, goals or other factors that may affect this analysis.

Sage generally employs investment strategies that do not involve any significant or unusual risk other than domestic equity and international market risks.

Item 9 - Disciplinary Information

Sage and its advisory personnel value the trust you place in us. As we advise all Clients, we encourage you to perform the requisite due diligence on any advisor or service provider in which you partner. Background information is available on the Investment Adviser Public Disclosure website at www.adviserinfo.sec.gov.

To review the firm information for Sage, click Investment Adviser Search in the left navigation menu. Select the option for Investment Adviser Firm and enter 136577 (our firm's CRD number) in the field labeled "Firm IARD/CRD Number". This will provide access to Form ADV Parts 1 and 2. Item 11 of the ADV Part 1 lists legal and disciplinary questions.

There are no legal or disciplinary events that are material to the evaluation of our advisory business or the integrity of our management.

Item 10 - Other Financial Activities and Affiliations

Sage's sole business is providing investment advisory services and is not engaged in any other business endeavor. Sage maintains no affiliations with other firms outside of contracted service providers and those to which Sage provides contracted services.

Diana Blair, principal of Sage, may serve as sales agent for various insurance companies. This activity is done separate and apart from her role as Sage employee. As an agent, Ms. Blair may receive customary commissions and other related revenues from the various insurance companies whose products she sells. Some compensation may be in the form of sales incentives. Commissions generated by insurance sales do not offset regular advisory fees. This may cause a conflict of interest in recommending certain products of the insurance companies which Clients should be aware. Clients are under no obligation to purchase any products recommended by Diana Blair.

Item 11 - Code of Ethics, Participation in Client Transactions and Personal Trading

A. Code of Ethics

Sage has implemented a Code of Ethics that defines our fiduciary commitment to each Client. This Code of Ethics applies to all persons associated with Sage. The Code of Ethics was developed to provide general ethical guidelines and specific instructions regarding our duties to you, our Client. Sage and its personnel owe a duty of loyalty, fairness and good faith towards each Client. It is the obligation of Sage associates to adhere not only to the specific provisions of the Code but to the general principles that guide the Code.

The Code of Ethics covers a range of topics that may include; general ethical principals, reporting personal securities trading, exceptions to reporting securities trading, reportable securities, initial public offerings and private placements, reporting ethical violations, distribution of the Code of Ethics, review and enforcement processes, amendments to Form ADV and supervisory procedures.

Sage has written its Code of Ethics to meet and exceed regulatory standards. To request a copy of our Code of Ethics, please contact us at (858) 459-0172.

B. Personal Trading and Conflicts of Interest

Sage allows our employees to purchase or sell the same securities that may be recommended to and purchased on behalf of Clients. Owning the same securities we recommend (purchase or sell) to you presents a potential conflict of interest that, as fiduciaries, we must disclose to you and mitigate through policies and procedures.

As noted above, we have adopted, consistent with Section 204A of the Investment Advisers Act of 1940, a Code of Ethics, which addresses insider trading (material non-public information controls) and personal securities reporting procedures. The majority of Sage's investing is in widely traded stocks. Given the volume of these stocks, it is unlikely that the trading of Sage employees to have any material impact on the stock being traded.

We have also adopted written policies and procedures to detect the misuse of material, non-public information. We may have an interest or position in certain securities, which may also be recommended to you.

At no time, will Sage or any associated person of Sage, transact in any security to the detriment of any Client.

Sage is a Fee-Only advisor, who, in all circumstances, is compensated solely by the Client, with neither the advisor nor any related party receiving compensation that is contingent on the purchase or sale of any financial product.

Sage does not engage in any transactions where it has a financial interest, including, but not limited to commissionable securities transactions, buying securities from or selling securities to its Clients.

As a Fee-Only registered investment advisor ("RIA"), Sage does not have a broker-dealer relationship and has no incentive to sell products of any kind to its Clients.

Item 12 - Brokerage Practices

A. Recommendation of Custodian[s]

Sage does not have discretionary authority to select the broker-dealer/custodian for custodial and execution services. The Client will select the broker-dealer or custodian (herein the "Custodian") to safeguard Client assets and authorize Sage to direct trades to this Custodian as agreed in the Investment Management Agreement. Further, Sage does not have the discretionary authority to negotiate commissions on behalf of our Clients on a trade-by-trade basis. Where Sage does not exercise discretion over the selection of the Custodian, it may recommend the custodian[s] to Clients for execution and/or custodial services. Clients are not obligated to use the recommended Custodian and will not incur any extra fee or cost associated with using a broker not recommended by Sage. Sage may recommend a Custodian based on criteria such as, but not limited to, reasonableness of commissions charged to the Client, services made available to the Client, and location of the Custodian's offices. Sage does not receive research services, other products, or compensation as a result of recommending a particular broker that may result in the Client paying higher commissions than those obtainable through other brokers.

Sage typically recommends to Clients that they established their brokerage account[s] at Institutional Services division of Fidelity Investments ("Fidelity") or Charles Schwab and Co., Inc. ("Schwab").

Fidelity and Schwab are independent and unaffiliated SEC-registered broker-dealers and FINRA members. Fidelity and Schwab offer to independent investment Advisors services, which include custody of securities, trade execution, clearance and settlement of transactions. Sage receives some benefits from Fidelity and Schwab through its participation in their programs. Sage considers a number of factors in selecting and/or recommending brokers and custodians for its Clients' accounts, including, but not limited to, execution capability, experience and financial stability, reputation and the quality of services provided. Sage is not affiliated with, or related to, Fidelity or Schwab. All trading executed via Fidelity and Schwab is subject to a best execution review by Sage.

1. Soft Dollars - Soft dollars are revenue programs offered by broker-dealers whereby an advisor enters into an agreement to place security trades with the broker in exchange for research and other services. Sage does not participate in soft dollar programs sponsored or offered by any broker-dealer.

2. Brokerage Referrals - Sage does not receive any compensation from Fidelity, Schwab or any other entity in connection with the recommendation for establishing a brokerage account.

3. Directed Brokerage - All Clients are serviced on a "directed brokerage basis", where Sage will place trades within the established account[s] at the custodian designated by the Client. Such custodian designation may be made in accordance with a recommendation by Sage, as noted above, or independently by the Client. Further, all Client accounts are traded within their respective brokerage account[s]. Clients may use the custodian recommended by Sage. In such cases, the recommendation of a specific broker-dealer will be in accordance with Sage's duty to seek best execution.

If a Client uses a custodian of their own choosing and not recommended Sage, Sage will not be obligated to select competitive bids on securities transactions and does not have an obligation to seek the lowest available transaction costs. These costs are determined by the designated custodian. When Clients direct the brokerage partner to be used, Sage may not achieve best execution and the Client may pay higher trade costs than would otherwise be available. Custodians chosen by the Client, and not recommended by Sage, are not subject to a best execution review.

Sage will not engage in any principal transactions (i.e., trade of any security from or to the Advisor's own account). Cross transactions with other Client accounts (i.e., purchase of a security into one Client account from another Client's account[s]) may be executed when such trade is in the best interest of both parties.

Prior to execution of a cross trade, Sage will obtain informed consent from both Clients. In no case will Sage receive any compensation related to the transaction.

B. Aggregating and Allocating Trades

The primary objective in placing orders for the purchase and sale of securities for Client accounts is to obtain the most favorable net results taking into account such factors as 1) price, 2) size of order, 3) difficulty of execution, 4) confidentiality and 5) skill required of the broker. Sage will execute its transactions through an unaffiliated broker-dealer selected by the Client. Sage may aggregate orders in a block trade or trades when securities are purchased or sold through the same broker-dealer for multiple (discretionary) accounts. If a block trade cannot be executed in full at the same price or time, the securities actually purchased or sold by the close of each business day must be allocated in a manner that is consistent with the initial pre-allocation or other written statement. This must be done in a way that does not consistently advantage or disadvantage particular Client accounts.

Item 13 - Review of Accounts

A. Frequency of Reviews

Accounts are monitored on an ongoing basis by Sage for adherence to investment strategy and Client Objective. Investment management and supervision over the securities contained in the Client's portfolio are performed in an ongoing basis by Sage, as applicable.

B. Causes for Reviews

In addition to the investment monitoring noted in Item 13.A, each Client account shall be reviewed at least annually. Reviews may be conducted more or less frequently at the Client's request. Accounts may be reviewed as a result of major changes in economic conditions, known changes in the Client's financial situation, and/or large deposits or withdrawals in the Client's account. The Client is encouraged to notify Sage if changes occur in his/her personal financial situation that might adversely affect his/her investment plan.

Additional reviews may be triggered by material market, economic or political events.

C. Review Reports

The Client will receive brokerage statements no less than quarterly from the Trustee or Custodian. These brokerage statements are sent directly from the Custodian to the Client. The Client may also establish electronic access to the Custodian's website so that the Client may view these reports and their account activity. Client brokerage statements will include all positions, transactions and fees relating to the Client's account[s].

Item 14 - Client Referrals and Other Compensation

A. Compensation Received by Sage

Sage is a Fee-Only advisor, who, in all circumstances, is compensated solely by the Client. Sage does not receive commissions or other compensation from product sponsors, broker dealers or any un-related third party. Sage may refer Clients to various third-parties to provide certain financial services necessary to meet the goals of its Clients. Likewise, Sage may receive referrals of new Clients from a third-party.

B. Client Referrals from Solicitors

If a Client is introduced to Sage by either an unaffiliated party or by a Sage affiliate, Sage may pay that solicitor a referral fee in accordance with the requirements of Rule 206(4)-3 of the Investment Advisers Act of 1940, and any corresponding state securities law requirements. Any such referral fee shall be paid solely from the investment management fees earned by Sage, and shall not result in any additional charge to the Client. If the Client is introduced to Sage by an unaffiliated solicitor, the solicitor, at the time of the solicitation, shall disclose the nature of his/her/its solicitor relationship.

If Sage subsequently contacts or is contacted by the prospective Client, Sage shall provide each prospective Client with a copy of Sage' Form ADV 2 (the written disclosure statement also known as the "Brochure") and a copy of the solicitor's written disclosure document and a statement to the Client disclosing the terms of the solicitation arrangement between Sage and the solicitor, including the compensation to be received by the solicitor from Sage.

Item 15 - Custody

Sage does not accept or maintain custody of any Client accounts. All Clients must place their assets in a qualified custodian. Clients are required to select their own custodian to retain their funds and securities and direct Sage to utilize that custodian for the Client's security transactions. The preferred custodian for Sage is the Institutional Services Division of Fidelity Investments and Charles Schwab and Co. Inc. Fidelity Investments and Charles Schwab and Co., Inc. are FINRA members. For more information regarding custodians and brokerage practices, see Item 12 - Brokerage Practices.

While Sage does not have custody of Client funds or securities, payments of fees may be paid by the custodian from the custodial brokerage account that holds Client assets. In certain jurisdictions this may be deemed constructive custody. Prior to permitting direct debit of fees each Client provides written authorization permitting fees be made direct from the custodian.

The custodian sends every Client an account statement not less than quarterly showing all account activity, including the amounts disbursed from the account to Sage.

Item 16 - Investment Discretion

Discretionary Portfolio Management – Any limitations imposed on the discretionary authority of Sage shall depend on the terms of the agreement governing Sage's relationship with each Client. In those cases where Sage has full discretionary authority over Client accounts and the client has not imposed any specific restrictions, Sage will generally have unlimited discretionary authority, without obtaining specific consent, to determine:

- Securities to be bought or sold
- Amount of the securities to be bought or sold

Non-Discretionary Portfolio Management – Non-discretionary portfolio management is understood to mean the Sage must first get Client permission before placing any trades to buy or sell securities in a Client account. Sage is free to determine the timing of a particular transaction; however, permission must first be obtained from the Client. Clients should be aware that delays in granting permission for a transaction may hinder Sage's ability to effectively manage a portfolio.

Item 17 - Voting Client Securities

Sage will generally vote proxies on behalf of Clients. Exceptions are made for Clients who wish to vote their own proxies, or have retained the services of third-party to vote proxies on their behalf. Further, mutual funds retained by Sage may seek to vote proxies of portfolio holdings managed by that mutual fund. Sage has a fiduciary duty to act solely in the best interests of its Clients when exercising proxy voting authority. Sage will vote client securities in a timely manner and make voting decisions that are in the best interests of Clients.

Every effort is made to vote proxies in a way which Sage believes will maximize the monetary value of each portfolio's holdings.
