Most clients have assets of more than $10 million, although this is not a requirement. Beekman Wealth Advisory, LLC also serves much smaller clients, such as trusts and custodial accounts for minors, as part of larger overall relationships.

ITEM 8: METHODS OF ANALYSIS, INVESTMENT STRATEGIES, AND RISK OF LOSS

Beekman Wealth Advisory, LLC performs quantitative and qualitative assessments of each manager reviewed or recommended for hire. This generally includes:

- Analysis of the return and volatility history, both on a stand-alone basis and in comparison to peers and market benchmarks;

- Holdings by asset class and security;
- Investment style and risks assumed therein;
- Background and source of analytical skill of key personnel; and
- Turnover and tax character of return.

Where relevant (such as with private equity funds), Beekman Wealth Advisory, LLC assesses specific deal terms by reviewing the Private Placement Memorandum and other legal documents.

The objective of this analysis is to assess the sustainable, after-tax return clients may reasonably be able to expect, and what each manager may reasonably be expected to contribute to the overall return and risk characteristics of a portfolio.

All investments in securities involve the risk of loss. There can be no assurance that the analysis performed by Beekman Wealth Advisory, LLC will uncover all relevant facts or lead to consistently profitable results.

Beekman Wealth Advisory, LLC does not recommend or engage in high-turnover trading.

APPENDIX: THE CFA INSTITUTE FINANCIAL ADVISER STATEMENT FOR SEC FORM ADV

The Chartered Financial Analyst (CFA) charter is a globally respected, graduate-level investment credential established in 1962 and awarded by the CFA Institute—the largest global association of investment professionals.

There are currently more than 90,000 CFA charterholders working in 134 countries. To earn the CFA charter, candidates must: 1) pass three sequential, six-hour examinations; 2) have at least four years of qualified professional investment experience; 3) join the CFA Institute as members; and 4) commit to abide by, and annually reaffirm, their adherence to the CFA Institute Code of Ethics and Standards of Professional Conduct.

High Ethical Standards

The CFA Institute Code of Ethics and Standards of Professional Conduct, enforced through an active professional conduct program, require CFA charterholders to:

- Place their clients' interests ahead of their own
- Maintain independence and objectivity
- Act with integrity
- Maintain and improve their professional competence
- Disclose conflicts of interest and legal matters

Global Recognition

Passing the three CFA exams is a difficult feat that requires extensive study (successful candidates report spending an average of 300 hours of study per level). Earning the CFA charter demonstrates mastery of many of the advanced skills needed for investment analysis and decision making in today's quickly evolving global financial industry. As a result, employers and clients are increasingly seeking CFA charterholders—often making the charter a prerequisite for employment.

Additionally, regulatory bodies in 22 countries and territories recognize the CFA charter as a proxy for meeting certain licensing requirements, and more than 125 colleges and universities around the world have incorporated a majority of the CFA Program curriculum into their own finance courses.

Comprehensive and Current Knowledge

The CFA Program curriculum provides a comprehensive framework of knowledge for investment decision making and is firmly grounded in the knowledge and skills used every day in the investment profession. The three levels of the CFA Program test a proficiency with a wide range of fundamental and advanced investment topics, including ethical and professional standards, fixed-income and equity analysis, alternative and derivative investments, economics, financial reporting standards, portfolio management, and wealth planning.

The CFA Program curriculum is updated every year by experts from around the world to ensure that candidates learn the most relevant and practical new tools, ideas, and investment and wealth management skills to reflect the dynamic and complex nature of the profession.
