Education and Business Standards

Bartlett requires individuals making decisions on client assets or giving investment advice to have, at a minimum, an undergraduate college degree, prior experience in investment advisory services of at least three years, and hold (or be pursuing) one of the following designations: Certified Financial Analyst (CFA), Certified Financial Planner (CFP) or Masters of Business Administration (MBA).

Information regarding the Professional designations mentioned in this Brochure:

The Chartered Financial Analyst (CFA) charter is a professional designation first introduced in 1963, that has become the most respected and recognized investment credential in the world. To earn the CFA charter you must have four years of qualified investment work experience; you must become a member of CFA Institute (the global association of investment professionals that administers the CFA charter), pledging to adhere to the CFA Institute Code of Ethics and Standards of Professional Conduct on an annual basis; you must apply for membership to a local CFA member society; and you must complete the CFA Program.

The Certified Financial Planner (CFP®) certification process, administered by CFP Board, identifies to the public that those individuals who have been authorized to use the CFP® certification marks in the U.S. have met rigorous professional standards and have agreed to adhere to the principles of integrity, objectivity, competence, fairness, confidentiality, professionalism and diligence when dealing with clients.

CFP® certificates must pass the comprehensive CFP® Certification Examination, pass CFP Board's Fitness Standards for Candidates and Registrants, agree to abide by CFP Board's Code of Ethics and Professional Responsibility which puts clients' interests first and comply with the Financial Planning Practice Standards which spell out what clients should be able to reasonably expect from the financial planning engagement. These are just some of the reasons why the CFP® certification is becoming increasingly recognized.

The Masters of Business Administration (MBA) is a post graduate degree in business communication. It is also one of the most sought after degrees in the world because of its value to people in business and administration. An MBA degree can benefit those in positions in business and management, especially those in executive and managerial positions.

The Chartered Alternative Investment Analyst (CAIA) program provides individuals with the core competencies required to create, manage, and monitor an institutional-quality portfolio consisting of both traditional and alternative investments.

The CAIA program is designed to facilitate self-directed learning for today's busy professionals through a comprehensive set of readings on risk-return attributes of institutional quality alternative assets. Candidates' knowledge is assessed through exams, administered globally at computerized testing centers. The program is organized into two levels of study; the Level I and Level II exams are offered twice each year, in March and September, giving candidates the opportunity to earn the CAIA designation within a single year. Once a qualified candidate completes the CAIA program, he or she is eligible for CAIA membership.
