Certified Financial Planner:

The CERTIFIED FINANCIAL PLANNER™ and CFP® (collectively, the “CFP® marks”) are professional certification marks granted in the United States by Certified Financial Planner Board of Standards, Inc. (“CFP® Board”). The CFP® certification is a voluntary certification; no federal or state law or regulation requires financial planners to hold CFP® certification. The CFP® is recognized in the United States and a number of other countries for its (1) high standard of professional education; (2) stringent code of conduct and standards of practice; and (3) ethical requirements that govern professional engagements with clients.

To earn the credential, each CFP® candidate must have a bachelor’s degree (or higher) from an accredited college or university and three years of full-time personal financial planning experience. In addition, candidates must take the CFP® Certification examination and complete a CFP® -board registered program or hold an accepted designation, degree or license. Every two years, CFP® certificate holders must complete a minimum of 30 hours of continuing education. More information regarding the CFP® is available at <http://www.cfp.net/default.asp>.

Chartered Financial Consultant:

The ChFC designation is conferred by The American College. To earn the credential, each ChFC candidate must take a proctored exam for 6 core and 2 elective courses, have 3 years of full-time business experience within the five years preceding the awarding of the designation, and also complete a minimum of 30 hours of continuing education every two years. More information regarding the CLU is available at <http://www.theamericancollege.edu/financial-planning/chfc-advanced-financial-planning>.
