Material Changes

There are no material changes, as this is an initial filing for Global Index Advisors, Inc. (“GIA”), a Delaware corporation, which is a successor entity of a current registrant, as explained below.

GIA is the successor entity of Global Index Advisors, Inc. (“GIAG”), a Georgia corporation. On May 19, 2014, GIA, a wholly-owned subsidiary of Legal & General Investment Management America, Inc. (“LGIMA”), acquired substantially all of the assets of GIAG (the “Acquisition”). In a subsequent intra-company reorganization, the shares of GIA and the shares of LGIMA were purchased by a recently-formed and affiliated holding company, Legal & General Investment Management United States (Holdings), Inc. (“LGIMUS(H)”), a Delaware corporation, which is the wholly-owned subsidiary of Legal & General Investment Management (Holdings) Ltd. (“LGIM(H)”), a company incorporated under the laws of England and Wales. A further description of the activities between affiliates is contained within this brochure.

GIAG’s brochure was last updated on March 25, 2014. Other than the aforesaid Acquisition, there have been no material changes in the business conducted by GIAG. The only material changes from GIAG’s ADV and brochure to GIA’s successor entity ADV and brochure relate to the Acquisition and the changes in control and supervision that resulted therefrom.

Accordingly, the material changes from GIAG’s ADV and brochure that appear in this successor ADV and brochure are: (i) the state of incorporation for GIA is Delaware (GIAG is incorporated in Georgia), as reflected in Items 1F and 3C; (ii) GIA is being registered as a successor Investment Advisor, as described in Items 4A and 4B; and (iii) changes in Related and Control Persons are disclosed in Item 10A and Schedules A and B.

Advisory Business

GIA is a corporation organized under the laws of Delaware. George V. Daniels, Jr. and Rodney H. Alldredge founded the Marietta - based predecessor investment advisory firm in 1994. As of May 20, 2014, GIA is a wholly owned subsidiary of Legal & General Investment Management United States (Holdings), Inc. ("LGIMUS(H)") which in turn is a wholly owned subsidiary of Legal & General Investment Management (Holdings) Ltd a company incorporated under the laws of England and Wales . GIA is an SEC registered investment advisory firm.

We developed "Quantidex" mathematics which helps us allocate assets under our management to various parts of the global securities market, while striving to control risk. The Quantidex strategy:

- Makes no predictions concerning the future behavior of the asset classes owned in the managed portfolios.
- Requires very broad global securities diversification and
- Requires regular portfolio rebalancing.
- Quantidex strategy is used to manage all but one of our client accounts.

GIA:

- Acts as a sub-advisor to a series of registered Target Date mutual funds.
- Acts as a sub-advisor to two series of bank collective Target Date funds.
- Provides separate account management (SMA) services to corporations, foundations and individuals on a discretionary basis.
- Licenses our investment methodology to other Registered Investment Advisors.

Mutual Funds and Bank Collective Funds

We act as sub-advisor to a series of registered Target Date Mutual Funds and two series of Bank Collective Target Date Funds having the primary objective of replicating Dow Jones Target Date Indexes, which we developed with Dow Jones. We advise you on all matters relating to asset allocation with the intent of duplicating the structures and performances (before operating expenses) of the Dow Jones Target Date Indexes.

Separately Managed Accounts

Through our Separately Managed Accounts Program ("SMA"), we provide investment advice to corporations, foundations and individuals on portfolios made up primarily of individual securities and exchange traded funds ("ETFs"). However, no-load mutual funds may be held in these portfolios. The foundation of the Program is a range of asset allocation portfolios strategically built to meet different investment time horizons, risk levels and objectives. We strive to achieve long-term risk, return and correlation objectives through diversification among multiple asset classes and multiple securities.

We will meet with you to develop your detailed investment profile in order to determine the suitability of the Program for you and the specific portfolio strategy that is appropriate. You may impose reasonable restrictions on the investments made in your account. Any account customization will be documented by a "Letter of Understanding" signed by all parties involved.

Once a strategy is selected, you will appoint a custodian/broker/dealer, complete necessary account opening documents and deposit initial funds into the account. We will purchase (through your chosen broker/dealer) investments required to implement the strategy and will monitor the portfolio on a monthly basis to ensure that it continues to reflect the selected strategy. We will rebalance and/or reallocate the portfolio on a discretionary basis as dictated by market conditions. Please note that transactions in the account, account reallocations and rebalancing may trigger taxable events for you, unless you own an IRA account, 403(b) account, a non-taxable foundation account or a qualified retirement plan account.

It is our responsibility to meet with you personally or speak with you on the phone, at least on an annual basis, to review any changes in your financial situation and/or your strategic investment requirements. The reviewer will be one of our designated portfolio managers. There is no minimum number of accounts assigned to a reviewer. In addition to the statements supplied by your account custodian we will provide you with quarterly reports showing securities owned and the performance of your portfolio versus the performances of pre-agreed-upon benchmarks.

Licenses

We license our asset allocation and securities selection methodology to other advisors for a negotiated fee that is based upon the value of assets managed by the advisor according to that methodology and the extent of assistance required by the advisor. It is the responsibility of the outside adviser to monitor the client's assets on an ongoing basis.

As of April 30, 2014, we managed approximately $19.3 billion in client assets where we made the investment decisions. Approximately $2.3 billion in client assets were managed where our clients made the investment decisions based upon our recommendations.

Fees and Compensation

We offer our services on a fee-only basis. Broker-dealers and other financial institutions that hold client accounts are referred to as custodians (hereinafter referred to as "custodian/broker-dealer"). Your custodian/broker-dealer determines the values of the assets in your portfolio.

Fees for Mutual Fund & Bank Collective Sub-Advisor

The fee, as negotiated with each fund advisor, ranges from 4 to 10 basis points per year to be paid monthly or quarterly in arrears. The fee is accrued daily and is a percentage of assets under management. The terms of the sub-advisor arrangement are documented via a Sub-Advisory Agreement.

Fees for Separately Managed Accounts

Fees for the initial quarter are based on the value of your cash and securities on the date the custodian/broker-dealer receives them and are prorated based upon the number of calendar days in the calendar quarter that our agreement is in effect.

The fees generally range between .0625% (6.25 basis points) and .25% (25 basis points) per quarter or .25% (25 basis points) to 1.00% (100 basis points) per year, depending on various factors, such as the amount of customization required to meet your requirements.

Advisory fees are generally paid directly by the client. All fees are negotiable solely at the discretion of GIA. Fees are charged based upon the market value of the account at the end of each calendar quarter. However, fee adjustments will be made for additional deposits or partial withdrawals made during the quarter in excess of $100,000.

Fees for Licensees

The annual fee will be negotiated with each adviser on a case-by-case basis and will be billed in quarterly increments. The outside adviser may terminate the relationship at any time and any fees owed will be returned to the adviser on a pro rata basis. Asset based license fees are negotiated with qualified Registered Investment Advisors and are dependent upon the complexity of the relationships.

You must authorize us to have the custodian/broker-dealer pay us directly by charging your account for Separately Managed Accounts. This authorization must be provided in writing. One-fourth of the annual fee is charged each calendar quarter.

We send a statement for Separately Managed Accounts that includes information on the transactions effected in the account and detail current positions as well as compare portfolio performance to relevant predetermined asset allocation models. Your custodian/broker-dealer also provides you with statements that show the amount paid directly to us. You should compare the statement we send to your custodian/broker-dealer's statement and verify the calculation of our fees. Your custodian/broker-dealer does not verify the accuracy of fee calculations.

In addition to our fee, you may be required to pay other charges such as:

- custodial fees,
- brokerage commissions,
- transaction fees,
- internal fees and expenses charged by mutual funds or exchange traded funds ("ETFs"), and
- other fees and taxes on brokerage accounts and securities transactions.

None of these fees are paid to or are shared with us.

Mutual fund companies and ETFs charge internal fees and expenses for their products. These fees and expenses are in addition to any advisory fees charged by us. Complete details of these internal fees and expenses are explained in the prospectuses for each investment. You are strongly encouraged to read these explanations before investing any money. You may ask us any questions you have about fees and expenses.

If you purchase mutual funds through the custodian/broker-dealer, you may pay a transaction fee that would not be charged if the transactions were made directly through the mutual fund company. Also, mutual funds held in accounts at brokerage firms may pay internal fees that are different from fees charged when funds are held at the mutual fund company.

While you may purchase shares of mutual funds directly from the mutual fund company without a transaction fee, those investments would not be part of our advisory relationship with you. This means that they would not be included in our investment strategies, investment performance monitoring, or portfolio reallocations.

Please be sure to read the section entitled "Brokerage Practices," which follows later in this brochure.

Performance-Based Fees

Performance-based fees are designed to give a portion of the returns of an investment to the investment adviser as a reward for positive performance. The fee is generally a percentage of the profits made on the investments. We do not charge performance-based fees on any of our client accounts.

Types of Clients

We provide advisory services primarily to investment companies, banks or thrift institutions, corporations or business entities. As a condition for starting and maintaining an advisory relationship, we generally require a minimum portfolio size of $100,000. We, at our sole discretion, may accept clients with smaller portfolios based upon certain factors including anticipated future earning capacity, anticipated future additional assets, account composition, related accounts, and pre-existing client relationships. We may consider the portfolios of your family members to determine if your portfolio meets the minimum size requirement.

Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies and Risk of Loss

We use data provided by third parties including research reports, financial publications and regulatory filings to conduct analysis of the securities, sectors and asset classes that may be included in your portfolio. We undertake this research in order to determine the relative merit of the investments. Such analysis includes, but is not limited to, price/earnings ratio (P/E), projected P/E, price-to-book ratio, dividend rate, earnings, projected earnings, and studies of the long term behavior of sectors and asset classes.

“Quantidex” mathematics then helps us to properly allocate securities to your portfolio while striving to maintain portfolio risk at a level that is appropriate for you.

Investing in securities involves the risk of loss. You should not invest unless you are prepared to bear the risk of loss.

Our investment strategies may include long-term and short-term purchases and trading (securities sold within 30 days). You may place reasonable restrictions on the strategies to be employed in your portfolio and the types of investments to be held in your portfolio.

All investments involve risks that can result in loss:

- loss of principal,
- a reduction in earnings (including interest, dividends and other distributions), and
- the loss of future earnings.

Additionally, these risks may include:

- market risk,
- interest rate risk,
- issuer risk, and
- general economic risk.

Although we manage your portfolio in a manner consistent with your risk tolerances, we cannot guarantee that our efforts will be successful. You should be prepared to bear the risk of loss.

Disciplinary Information

We have not been the subject of any legal or disciplinary events that would be material to your evaluation of our business or the integrity of our management.

Other Financial Industry Activities and Affiliations

Corporate Structure

Legal & General Group Plc, a publicly-traded company in the U.K., and our ultimate parent, has three principal subsidiaries:

- LGIM(H), which is the parent of our parent company, LGIMUS(H), and also the parent company of Legal & General Investment Management Ltd. (“LGIM”); Legal & General Investment Management Asia Ltd. (“LGIM Asia”) and LGIM International Ltd. (“LGIMI”);

- Legal & General Insurance Holdings No. 2 Limited; and
- Legal & General Overseas Operations Limited.

Legal & General Investment Management United States (Holdings), Inc. has two subsidiaries:

- Global Index Advisors, Inc. (“GIA”), and
- Legal and General Investment Management America, Inc. (“LGIMA”).

Activities with LGIM(H), LGIMUS(H), and their subsidiaries:

The activities among GIA and LGIM(H) and LGIMUS(H), and any of these holding companies’ subsidiaries, including LGIMA, LGIM, and LGIMI, are the following.

1. LGIMUS(H) controls, but does not supervise, GIA. GIA has a Chief Executive Officer ("CEO") to supervise GIA, and employs a CCO to implement and enforce GIA's compliance policies, procedures and controls.
2. Certain LGIMUS(H) officers or directors are directors of GIA, including Mike Craston and Mark Zinkula, who are Directors of GIA.
3. Under an agreement with LGIM(H) through LGIMUS(H), LGIM(H) provides certain administrative, HR, IT, Finance, Risk, Legal and Compliance services to GIA.

Conflicts of Interest due to these Relationships

To address the conflicts that may arise as a result of these activities, controls consisting of informational and operational barriers between GIA, LGIMA, LGIMI, LGIM, LGIMUS(H) and LGIM(H) in all aspects, have been put into place and are monitored.

Other than as stated in this brochure, GIA does not exercise discretion or control over the assets of any Legal & General Group company.

From time to time, GIA, on behalf of a client account, may buy, hold or sell a security that a Related Person or its clients has, independently, caused one of its own clients to buy, hold or sell. This would arise as a result of separate and independent investment processes.

GIA’s policies and procedures, and controls, are intended to address the impact of these and other conflicts of interest.

GIA’s research, recommendations, and placing of orders are done independent of any Related Persons. If investments in the same security were to occur, it would be the result of independent research, recommendations and trading activity, and not through information sharing (intentional or otherwise), knowledge or any other means.

Other Potential Conflicts of Interest

Rodney Alldredge, James Lauder and Paul Torregrosa (collectively the “Officers”) of GIA, design indexes and analytical (Portfolio) tools for Dow Jones Indexes (“DJI”). GIA, through a licensing agreement with DJI, may find and support organizations that wish to offer Dow Jones branded products or wish to use Dow Jones Portfolio Tools. The Officers of GIA spend approximately 1% of their time on this activity.

Code of Ethics; Participation or Interest in Client Transactions and Personal Trading

We have adopted a Code of Ethics (“Code”) to address the securities-related conduct of our advisory representatives and employees. The Code includes our policies and procedures developed to protect your interests in relation to the following:

- the duty at all times to place your interests ahead of ours;
- that all personal securities transactions of our advisory representatives and employees be conducted in a manner consistent with the Code and avoid any actual or potential conflict of interest, or any abuse of an advisory representative's or employee's position of trust and responsibility;
- that advisory representatives may not take inappropriate advantage of their positions;
- that information concerning the identity of your security holdings and financial circumstances are confidential; and
- that independence in the investment decision-making process is paramount.

We will provide a copy of the Code to you or any prospective client upon request.

We do not buy or sell securities for our firm that we also recommend to clients. Our advisory representatives and employees are permitted to buy or sell the same securities for their personal and family accounts that are bought or sold for your account(s). The personal securities transactions by advisory representatives and employees may raise potential conflicts of interest when they trade in a security that is:

- owned by you or
- considered for purchase or sale for you.

We have adopted policies and procedures that are intended address these conflicts of interest. These policies and procedures:

- require our advisory representatives and employees to act in your best interest,
- prohibit favoring one client over another, and
- provide for the review of transactions to discover and correct any same-day trades that result in an advisory representative or employee receiving a better price than a client.

Advisory representatives and employees must follow our procedures when purchasing or selling the same securities purchased or sold for you.

Brokerage Practices

We do not recommend custodians or broker-dealers to our clients. The selection of particular custodian or broker-dealer is not a condition for our acceptance of a client account.

Review of Accounts

For the GIA Separately Managed Account Program, accounts are reviewed by Advisory Representatives of GIA on an ongoing basis. There is no minimum number of accounts assigned to the reviewer. The reviews focus on consistency of portfolio investments with investment objectives and risk tolerances.

On a quarterly basis, performance is reviewed to monitor consistency with appropriate benchmarks. Accounts are rebalanced and/or reallocated no less than annually to ensure that they remain in line with pre-determined risk strategy.

More frequent rebalancing may occur at the discretion of management should market conditions dictate.

You will receive statements from the custodian/broker-dealer at least quarterly. These statements identify your current investment holdings, the cost of each of those investments, and their current market values. You will also receive reports prepared by us that will provide information on the transactions effected in the account and detail current positions as well as compare portfolio performance to relevant predetermined asset allocation models.

Client Referrals and Other Compensation

We do not directly or indirectly compensate any person who is not one of our advisory representatives or employees for client referrals.

Custody

You will receive statements from the custodian/broker-dealer that holds your investment account on at least a quarterly basis.

If you have a Separately Managed Account, we urge you to carefully review these statements and compare them to the account statements that we may provide you.

You should verify that the transactions in your account are consistent with your investment goals and the objectives for your account. We also encourage you to contact your advisory representative or our Chief Compliance Officer should you have any questions or concerns regarding your account.

Investment Discretion

We offer our advisory services on a discretionary basis. This means that we do not need advance approval from you to determine the type and amount of securities to be bought and sold for your accounts. We do not, however, have the ability to choose the broker-dealer through which transactions will be executed. Additionally, we do not have the ability to withdraw funds from your account (other than to withdraw our advisory fees, which may only be done with your prior written authorization.) This discretion is used in a manner consistent with the stated investment objectives for your account, if you have given us written authorization to do so. We only exercise discretion in accounts where we have been authorized by you. This authorization is typically included in the investment advisory agreement you enter into with us.

Voting Client Securities

We do not take any action or give any advice with respect to voting of proxies solicited by or with respect to the issuers of securities in which your accounts may be invested. In addition, we do not take any action or give any advice with respect to any securities held in any accounts that are named in or subject to class action lawsuits. We will, however, forward to you any information received by us regarding proxies and class action legal matters involving any securities held in your accounts.

Financial Information

We have no financial commitment that impairs our ability to meet contractual and fiduciary commitments to you and we have not been the subject of a bankruptcy proceeding.
