Advisory Business

A. Description of the Advisory Firm

Keeler & Nadler Financial Planning and Wealth Management, LLC (the “Company”) is an Ohio Limited Liability Company (“LLC”) and was formed as a Registered Investment Advisor in September 2014. The principal owners of the Company are Andrew Keeler, Richard Nadler and William Root. Keeler & Nadler Financial Planning and Wealth Management, LLC does not have a parent company or intermediate subsidiaries. The Company’s principal business is to provide investment advice and services to its clients who are typically individuals, pension and profit sharing plans, trusts, estates, charitable organizations, corporations, endowments and other business entities.

B. Types of Advisory Services

Keeler & Nadler Financial Planning and Wealth Management, LLC provides Financial Planning and Portfolio Management Services to its clients on a Discretionary and Non-Discretionary basis. The Company’s Investment Advisor Representatives (“IAR”) are also Registered Representatives (“RR”) of Purshe Kaplan Sterling Investments, Inc. (“PKS”), an unaffiliated broker-dealer, and may sell general securities products such as stocks, bonds, mutual funds, exchange-traded funds, and variable annuity and variable life products to advisory clients and earn a commission on these sales from PKS. Some of Keeler & Nadler Financial Planning and Wealth Management’s Investment Advisor Representatives are also licensed to offer insurance products, and may do so to its advisory clients.

C. Client Tailored Services and Client Imposed Restrictions

Keeler & Nadler Financial Planning and Wealth Management, LLC analyzes, constructs, and manages customized investment portfolios based on the particular goals and needs of each client in a manner which takes into consideration facts and information such as: income needs, liquidity requirements, investment time horizons, rate of return objectives, tax considerations, risk tolerance and existing investments. The Company utilizes an array of investment vehicles including, but not limited to: equity securities, warrants, debt securities, certificates of deposit, municipal securities, investment company securities, United States government securities, options contracts, partnerships, private placements, insurance contracts, endowments and separately managed accounts.

Depending on the particular investment portfolio and/or investment strategy, Keeler & Nadler Financial Planning and Wealth Management, LLC employs a variety of security analysis methods including charting, fundamental, technical, and cyclical analysis. We also consult a wide range of information to analyze and execute investment strategies, such as: financial newspapers and magazines, various internet services, inspection of corporate activities, third-party research materials, corporate rating services, timing services, annual reports, prospectuses, regulatory filings, and press releases.

Financial Planning Services

Keeler & Nadler Financial Planning and Wealth Management, LLC provides financial planning services to its clients. If a client decides to engage us to provide financial planning services, the client will be required to execute an agreement setting forth deliverables and fees. Upon execution of the agreement, the client's Keeler & Nadler Financial Planning and Wealth Management's Investment Advisor Representative will provide investment advisory services in the form of written financial planning and/or consulting services.

Financial planning services will take into consideration information such as the client's investment objectives, overall financial situation, personal and financial goals, risk tolerance and objectives, risks that the client is willing to undertake, investment knowledge, net worth, income, age, projected retirement, unusual or material funding requirements, inheritance possibilities, pensions, social security, children/relative funding issues, estate issues, and living expenses expressed in today's dollars requested for retirement.

If a client elects Financial Planning Services, the Company will add additional time at the initial meeting to include discussions to begin creating a plan to include the client's goals and investment objectives and information discussed above. Clients may choose how extensive of a plan they need. They may choose for us to consult on an individual security, a specific topic or obtain a comprehensive written plan containing their goals on an hourly or flat-fee basis. Hourly rates range from $100 per hour to $500 per hour and flat fees range from $1,500 to $25,000. Fees for financial plans will be billed and are due upon receipt of the invoice. A formal plan will better enable us to understand the complete financial picture of the client.

Should a client choose to have the Company prepare a comprehensive financial plan, a meeting will be scheduled to review all aspects of the client's financial objectives, goals, priorities, risk tolerance, and finances. During the meeting, topics such as retirement, college education, gifting, purchases, paying down debt, travel, minimizing risk, lowering tax exposure, estate planning, personal goals, and time horizons may be discussed, and an inventory of current and future finances will be obtained. Upon completion of this process, the Investment Advisor Representative will review the client's strengths and weaknesses, as well as the financial opportunities available to the client, and prepare written recommendations and a plan.

If face-to-face appointments are not possible due to location or other circumstances, we can hold meetings by video chat (such as GoToMeetingTM, SkypeTM or FaceTimeTM), or by telephone.

During the second meeting, the Company's written plan, recommendations and strategy to accomplish the client's goals will be discussed, as well as making sure the client understands the necessary steps to accomplish their goals successfully.

Keeler & Nadler Financial Planning and Wealth Management's Investment Advisor Representatives are registered representatives of Purshe Kaplan Sterling Investments, Inc. ("PKS"), and may sell general securities products such as stocks, bonds, mutual funds, exchange-traded funds, and variable annuity and variable life products to advisory clients and earn a commission on these sales from PKS. As such, Keeler & Nadler Financial Planning and Wealth Management's Investment Advisor Representatives may suggest that advisory clients implement investment advice by purchasing securities products through a commission-based PKS account in addition to an advisory account. In the event the investment advisory clients elect to purchase these products through PKS, PKS and the client's Keeler & Nadler Financial Planning and Wealth Management's Investment Advisor Representative, in the capacity as a PKS Registered Representative, will receive the normal and customary commission compensation in connection with the specific product purchased. This may present a conflict of interest, as it may give the PKS Registered Representative an incentive to recommend investment products based on the compensation received, rather than on the clients' needs. Keeler & Nadler Financial Planning and Wealth Management, LLC does not require its clients to implement investment advice through PKS. Clients of Keeler & Nadler Financial Planning and Wealth Management, LLC are free to implement investment advice through any broker-dealer or product sponsor they choose. However, clients should understand that due to certain regulatory constraints Keeler & Nadler Financial Planning and Wealth Management's Investment Advisor Representatives, in the capacity as a dually Registered Representative, must place purchases and sales of securities products in commission-based brokerage accounts through approved broker-dealers or other institutions.

Portfolio Management Services

Keeler & Nadler Financial Planning and Wealth Management, LLC provides "portfolio management services", defined as giving continuous advice to the client about the investment of funds on the basis of the client's individual needs and objectives. The asset allocation of the client's assets will be structured to follow the recommended asset allocation model within their financial plan. In the case when a financial plan has not been constructed, the recommended asset allocation will be determined from an in-depth profile and conversation with the client regarding goals, current financial condition, timeline, and risk appetite. A single investment may be enough to fulfill a client's goals and objectives, provided that the investment is suitable and all factors that the client has disclosed to us have been taken into consideration.

Depending on the particular investment portfolio and/or investment strategy, Keeler & Nadler Financial Planning and Wealth Management, LLC will employ a variety of security analysis methods including charting, fundamental, technical, and cyclical analysis. The Company plans to also consult on a wide range of information to analyze and execute investment strategies, such as: financial newspapers and magazines, various internet services, inspection of corporate activities, third-party research materials, corporate rating services, timing services, annual reports, prospectuses, regulatory filings, and press releases.

Termination of Advisory Contract

The Client Advisory Agreement for Portfolio Management Services may be terminated by the client without penalty within the first five (5) business days of its execution. Keeler & Nadler Financial Planning and Wealth Management, LLC will not impose start-up, closing, or penalty fees in connection with an account; however, the custodian may charge some or all of these fees. Keeler & Nadler Financial Planning and Wealth Management, LLC's fees do not include variable life and annuity contracts. Some other types of assets would also be subject to additional advisory and other fees/expenses, which are described in the prospectuses of those investments and paid by the investments, but ultimately borne by the investor.

Retirement Plan Advisory and Pension Consulting Services

Keeler & Nadler Financial Planning and Wealth Management, LLC may provide investment advisory and consulting services to retirement and pension plans, which may consist of services offered through registered broker-dealers, through registered investment advisors or through appropriate general consulting services. Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies and Risk of Loss

Item 8(A) – Methods of Analysis and Investment Strategies

Depending on the particular investment portfolio and/or investment strategy, Keeler & Nadler Financial Planning and Wealth Management, LLC employs a variety of security analysis methods including charting, fundamental, technical, and cyclical analysis. The Company also consults on a wide range of information to analyze and execute investment strategies, such as: financial newspapers and magazines, various internet services, inspection of corporate activities, third-party research materials, corporate rating services, timing services, annual reports, prospectuses, regulatory filings, and press releases.

Investing in securities involves risk of loss that clients should be prepared to bear. Keeler & Nadler Financial Planning and Wealth Management, LLC uses the following security analysis methods:

Chart Analysis – Chart Analysis is a technical analysis that reviews the overall trend, previous lows below the current price, previous highs above the current price, momentum, buying and selling pressure, and relative strength.

Fundamental Analysis – Fundamental Analysis involves the analysis of financial statements, the financial stability of companies, and/or the analysis of management or competitive advantages.

Technical Analysis – Technical Analysis is the forecasting of future financial price movements based on an examination of past price movements. This does not result in absolute predictions about the future, but it can help anticipate what is “likely” to happen to prices over time.

Cyclical Analysis – Cyclical Analysis is the evaluation of an equity security whose price is affected by ups and downs in the overall economy. Cyclical stocks rise and fall with the business cycle.

Item 8(B) – Material Risks Involved

Investment Strategies and Risk of Loss

Keeler & Nadler Financial Planning and Wealth Management, LLC employs the following approach:

- Tactical Asset Allocation Strategy – Keeler & Nadler Financial and Wealth Management, LLC employs a discretionary tactical asset allocation portfolio which utilizes Modern Portfolio theory. The strategy of this asset management service is to construct a diversified portfolio of high quality investments from a wide range of different asset classes based on the clients liquidity needs, risk tolerance and objectives. The portfolio's custom asset allocation model takes into account expected rate of return, standard deviation and correlation of the various asset classes utilized as well as over-weighting specific asset classes that are expected to out-perform the general market and/or their asset classes and the under-weighting specific asset classes that are expected to under-perform the general market and/or their asset class. Tactical asset allocation portfolio management may be utilized in a wide variety of investment vehicles including, but not limited to: brokerage accounts, qualified accounts, insurance products such as variable life and variable annuity contracts, self-held investments or any combination of these.

Risk of Loss

All investment programs have certain risks that are borne by the investor. Our investment approach constantly keeps the risk of loss in mind. Investors face the following investment risks:

- Interest-Rate Risk: Fluctuations in interest rates may cause investment prices to fluctuate. For example, when interest rates rise, yields on existing bonds become less attractive, causing their market values to decline.
- Market Risk: The price of a security, bond, or mutual fund may drop in reaction to tangible and intangible events and conditions. This type of risk is caused by external factors independent of a security's particular underlying circumstances. For example, political, economic and social conditions may trigger market events.
- Inflation Risk: When any type of inflation is present, a dollar today will not buy as much as a dollar next year, because purchasing power is eroding at the rate of inflation.
- Currency Risk: Companies typically have substantial foreign investments which are subject to fluctuations in the value of the dollar against the currency of the investment's originating country causing exchange rate risk.

Reinvestment Risk: This is the risk that future proceeds from investments may have to be reinvested at a potentially lower rate of return (i.e. interest rate). This primarily relates to fixed income securities.

Business Risk: These risks are associated with a particular industry or a particular company within an industry. For example, oil drilling companies depend on finding oil and then refining it, a lengthy process, before they can generate a profit. They carry a higher risk of profitability than an electric company, which generates its income from a steady stream of customers who buy electricity no matter what the economic environment is like.

Liquidity Risk: Liquidity is the ability to readily convert an investment into cash. Generally, assets are more liquid if many traders are interested in a standardized product. For example, Treasury Bills are highly liquid, while real estate properties are not.

Financial Risk: Excessive borrowing to finance a business' operations increases the risk of profitability, because the company must meet the terms of its obligations in good times and bad. During periods of financial stress, the inability to meet loan obligations may result in bankruptcy and/or a declining market value.

Item 8(C) – Risks of Specific Securities Utilized

Keeler & Nadler Financial and Wealth Management, LLC generally seeks investment strategies that do not involve significant or unusual risk beyond that of the general domestic and/or international equity markets. As with most products, there are risks associated with investing.

1) Pooled Investment Funds

Pooled investment funds (also known as hedge funds) are privately managed portfolios of securities. Although these funds tend to invest in a range of individual securities, if the securities are all in a similar asset class or market sector, there is a systemic risk that all of the securities could be affected by adverse market conditions. These types of funds usually lack liquidity. Additionally, although the investor can choose the type of fund to invest in, they have no control over the type of individual holdings that make up the fund.

2) Real Estate Pooled Instruments

Any real estate or real property purchased and owned by a pooled investment vehicle is subject to certain market forces in the local, regional and macro areas where such properties are located. Many of these properties are located in western U.S. states which continue to experience depressed valuations. While there has been a generally positive trend since 2009, continued price stabilization and appreciation could easily be reversed. The financial and demand metrics could easily be interrupted or reversed by such events as a national or international financial crisis such as that which began in 2007 – 2008, runaways inflation or other unforeseen economic circumstances. If any of these were to occur, the value of the properties may be significantly diminished, with negative results for us and the Debenture Holders.

3) Equity Securities

The price of an equity security may drop in reaction to tangible and intangible events and conditions. This type of risk can be caused by external factors independent of a security's particular underlying circumstances.

4) Debt Securities

Debt Securities are subject to a number of risks including the credit worthiness of the issuer, the interest rate which can fluctuate in the market place, the price of the security which is impacted by interest rate fluctuations and liquidity risk which could occur when the security cannot be resold without incurring a loss.

5) Certificates of Deposit

Certificates of Deposit are guaranteed by the issuing bank and in the case of federally chartered banks they are protected up to $250,000 by the FDIC.

6) Investment Company Securities

Investment company securities are commonly referred to as Mutual funds are not guaranteed or insured by the FDIC or any other government agency. You can lose money investing in mutual funds because they fluctuate with the general market. All mutual funds have internal costs that lower your investment returns. Investment companies are subject to the same risks as equity and debt investments since investment companies invest in those types of securities.

7) U.S. Government Securities

U.S. Government Securities are considered to have very low credit risk, they are affected by other types of risk, mainly interest-rate risk and inflation risk. While investors are effectively guaranteed to receive interest and principal payments as promised, the underlying value of the bond itself may change depending on the direction of interest rates.
