Our Agreement sets forth the terms and conditions under which the Firm will manage the Client's assets. It is our policy that the Client uses a qualified custodian to safeguard their assets. To avoid conflicts of interest, we do not have affiliations with any broker-dealer or investment banking divisions.

The Client may terminate the Investment Management Agreement with prior written notice to Harvey Capital Management. The Agreement will be cancelled ten (10) business days after given notice. Harvey Capital Management will pro-rate the fees from the last billing cycle to the termination date.

Item 5: Fees and Compensation

Investment Management Services Compensation

Harvey Capital Management charges each account an investment management fee based upon the market value of the account at the end of the quarter. The investment management fees are billed quarterly and in arrears. Fees are calculated pro-rata in the event the investment management agreement is executed at any time other than the first day of the quarter.

By signing the investment management agreement, the Client authorizes the qualified custodian to pay advisory fees directly to Harvey Capital Management, unless prior arrangements are made in writing. The qualified custodian will facilitate the deduction of the investment management fee from your account. The Firm will only accept checks payable to Harvey Capital Management for payment of advisory fees.

On an annualized basis, our fees for investment management services are as follows:

| Portfolio Size | Annualized Fee |
|------------------------------------|-----------------------|
| On the first $2,000,000 | 1.0% |
| Balances over the next $2,000,000 | Negotiable |
| Minimum Annual Fee - $3,000 | |

The Firm generally requires a minimum of $2 million to open and maintain an advisory account. However, this account minimum may be waived at the discretion of Harvey Capital Management.

Other Fees

In addition to our advisory fees, clients are responsible for the fees, expenses and transaction cost charged separately by custodians and broker-dealers. We do not directly or indirectly share or receive a portion of these fees.

Item 6: Performance-Based Fees and Side-By-Side Management

Item 8: Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies & Risk of Loss

Methods of Analysis

We use the following methods of analysis in formulating our investment advice and managing client assets:

- ❖ Fundamental: Fundamental analysis is a general assessment based upon various factors including stock valuation, earnings, balance sheet and cash flow analysis.
- ❖ Charting and Technical: Charting consists of a technical analysis using graphs to illustrate various patterns or progressions in the market or account movement.

The main source of research includes:

- ❖ Bloomberg
- ❖ Research Services Prepared by others (i.e. O'Neil, Value Line, etc.)
- ❖ Financial Newspapers/Magazines
- ❖ Company Presentations
- ❖ Annual Reports, Prospectuses and SEC Filings
- ❖ Internet

Our method of analysis relies on the assumption that the companies we purchase and sell are providing accurate data. There is always a risk that our analysis may be compromised by inaccurate or misleading information. To make ourselves available to a variety of investment opportunities, we keep our investment style flexible. Our focus is bottom-up and Harvey Capital Management does not limit our clients to any one investment style.

Investment Strategies

The investment strategies used to implement investment advice includes both short-term and long-term views. To determine these views, we gather the financial background of the Client through in-depth personal interviews.

We will review the following information with the Client:

- ❖ Risk Tolerance
- ❖ Investment Time Horizon
- ❖ Tax Bracket
- ❖ Current Financial Situation
- ❖ Type of Account (i.e. IRA, Trust, etc.)
- ❖ Family Composition
- ❖ Prior Investment History
- ❖ Income/Liquidity Needs
- ❖ Future Investment Goals and Expectations

Once all of these essentials are considered, the Client chooses an investment objective/strategy best suited for the account. The chart below shows the different investment objectives available:

| INVESTMENT OBJECTIVE | INVESTMENT GOAL | ALLOCATION RANGES | | |
|----------------------|---------------------------|-------------------|--------------|----------|
| | | Equities | Fixed Income | Cash |

| Balanced | Growth to Moderate Income | 35% - 65% | 35% - 65% | 0% -30% |
| Income | Preservation of Capital | 0% - 35% | 65% - 100% | 0% - 35% |

Growth portfolios consist of individual securities with equity positions of approximately 5% or less. Harvey Capital Management utilizes ETFs (Exchange-Traded Funds) in certain circumstances for broad diversification. Covered calls maybe employed for accounts set up with option capabilities.

Income portfolios consist of individual taxable or tax-exempt bonds, as well as, ETFs. Based on the Client's election, portfolios can be structured to include:

- 1) Both investment and non-investment grade bonds, or

Item 12: Brokerage Practices

Brokerage Selection Factors

Harvey Capital Management uses broker-dealers which charges brokerage commission and/or transaction fees for executing trades. Generally, clients grant us complete discretion of the broker-dealer to be used and the commission rates to be paid. The evaluation of the commission rates to be paid to the broker/dealer is based on several factors:

- ❖ best execution
- ❖ volume discounts/execution price negotiations
- ❖ broker's reputation, financial stability and experience
- ❖ quality of service

These brokerage commissions and/or transaction fees charged by the designated broker-dealer may be higher or lower than those charged by other broker-dealers, in addition to, the investment management fee charged by Harvey Capital Management. The Client is responsible for reviewing the specific schedules of their chosen broker dealer.

Harvey Capital Management may recommend clients to establish brokerage accounts with the Fidelity Brokerage Services LLC and National Financial Services LLC (collectively, and together with all affiliates, "Fidelity"), to maintain custody of clients' assets and to execute trades for their accounts. Although we recommend that clients establish accounts at Fidelity, it is the Client's decision to custody and trade with Fidelity.

Fidelity provides Harvey Capital Management with institutional platform services. The institutional platform services include brokerage, custody, and other related services. Fidelity's institutional platform services that assist Harvey Capital Management in managing and administering clients' accounts include software and technology that (i) provide access to client account data (such as trade confirmations and account statements); (ii) facilitate trade execution and allocate aggregated trade orders for multiple client accounts; (iii) provide research, pricing and other market data; (iv) facilitate payment of fees from its clients' accounts; and (v) assist with back-office functions, recordkeeping and client reporting.

In seeking best execution, the determinative factor is not the lowest possible cost, but whether the transaction represents the best qualitative execution. In making this assessment, we consider the full range of a custodian's services, including the value of research provided, execution capability, commission rates, and responsiveness. While we always will seek competitive rates, we may not necessarily obtain the lowest commission rates for our clients.

Fidelity also offers other services intended to help Harvey Capital Management manage and further develop its advisory practice such as the Fidelity Wealth Advisory Solution Program. These services include, but are not limited to, performance reporting, financial planning, third-party research, publications, access to educational conferences, roundtables and webinars, practice management resources, access to consultants and other third-party services.

Fidelity generally does not charge its advisor clients separately for custody services, but is compensated by account holders through commissions and other transaction-related or asset-based fees for securities trades that are executed through Fidelity or that settle into Fidelity accounts (i.e., transactions fees are charged for certain no-load mutual funds, commissions are charged for individual equity and debt securities transactions). Fidelity provides access to many no-load mutual funds without transaction charges and other no-load funds at nominal transaction charges.

Harvey Capital Management is independently owned, and not affiliated with any broker-dealer. We do not have a soft dollar arrangement with Fidelity; therefore, our firm does not receive any portion of the brokerage commission.

Research and Other Soft Dollar Practices

Harvey Capital Management does not utilize soft dollar commission to pay for research, products or services.

Directed Brokerage

The Client may direct Harvey Capital Management to use a particular broker-dealer to execute trade transactions for the Client's account. Such directions must be in writing and delivered to the Firm by the Client. The Client is responsible for negotiating the terms and arrangements for the account with that directed broker.

The Client should understand that this arrangement will prevent Harvey Capital Management from aggregating trade orders, obtaining volume discounts, best execution and effectively negotiating brokerage compensation on their behalf. Clients should consider whether the commission expenses, execution, clearance and settlement capabilities through the directed brokerage comparable to those of the firm's selection of broker-dealers.

Conditions for Aggregating Trades for Clients

The aggregation or blocking of client transactions allows an adviser to execute transactions in a timely, equitable, and efficient manner. This allows all clients to receive an average price per share. As a matter of policy, an adviser's allocation procedures must be fair and equitable to all clients with no particular group or client(s) being favored over any other clients. Our firm's policy is to aggregate client transactions where possible and when advantageous to clients.

Item 13: Review of Accounts

Harvey Capital Management has established an Investment Committee to formally review the Client's account(s) on an annual basis. The Investment Committee may be composed of, but not limited to:

- ❖ Robert Harvey, CFA, Chairman & Chief Executive Officer
- ❖ Alexander Harvey, CFA, President
- ❖ Sophia Burnichon, Executive Vice President

For more information about our advisory personnel of Harvey Capital Management, please refer to the Brochure Supplemental.

The Portfolio Manager reviews the investment objectives for all clients on a quarterly basis. We require the Client to review their investment objective through our annual mailing. More frequent reviews may be triggered by material changes such as the Client's individual circumstances, large deposits/withdrawals, market fluctuation, political or economic climate. Our firm will offer a formal account review upon request from the Client.

Each client is responsible to promptly notify Harvey Capital Management if there are any changes to their financial situation or investment objectives for the purpose of revising the Firm's previous recommendations.

Item 14: Client Referrals and Other Compensation

Harvey Capital Management participates in the Fidelity Wealth Advisor Solutions (WAS) Program offered by Strategic Advisers, Inc. (SAI). SAI is a registered investment adviser and subsidiary of FMR LLC, the parent company of Fidelity Investments. Harvey Capital Management is an independent investment advisory corporation and is not affiliated with SAI or FMR LLC. SAI does not supervise or control Harvey Capital Management and has no responsibility or oversight for Harvey Capital Management's provision of investment management or other advisory services.

Fidelity Wealth Advisor Solutions (WAS) Program

The Fidelity Wealth Advisor Solutions (WAS) Program is an adviser referral program designed to help investors find an independent and professional investment manager. There is no direct link between our Firm's participation in the WAS program and the investment advice we give to our clients. Under the WAS Program, Harvey Capital Management pays referral fees to SAI for each referral received based on our firm's asset under management attributable to each client referred by SAI or members of each client's household. SAI acts as solicitor for Harvey Capital Management.

The Firm's participation in the WAS Program does not diminish our duty to act in the best interests of our clients, including seeking best execution. The Firm's involvement in the WAS Program may raise potential conflicts of interest. Any referrals from SAI to Harvey Capital Management do not constitute a recommendation or endorsement by SAI or our firm's particular investment management services or strategies.

Harvey Capital Management pays SAI up to seven (7) years an annual percentage of 0.10% of any fixed income and cash assets, and an annual percentage of 0.25% of all other assets held in such account. In addition, we have agreed to pay SAI a minimum annual fee amount for its participation in the WAS Program. These referral fees are paid by our Firm and not the Client.

To receive referrals from the WAS Program, Harvey Capital Management must meet certain minimum participation criteria, but we may have been selected for participation in the WAS Program as a result of its other business relationships with SAI and its affiliates, including Fidelity Brokerage Services, LLC (FBS). Some of the products and services made available by Fidelity through the WAS Program may benefit Harvey Capital Management, but may not benefit our client accounts. These products or services may assist us in managing and administering all accounts. Other services made available by Fidelity are intended to help us further develop our business enterprise. As a result of its participation in the WAS Program, there may be a potential conflict of interest with respect to its decision to use certain affiliates of SAI, including FBS for execution, custody and clearing for certain accounts. Our firm may have a potential incentive to suggest the use of FBS and its affiliates to its advisory clients, whether or not those clients were referred to Harvey Capital Management as part of the WAS Program.

Under our agreement with SAI, Harvey Capital Management has agreed not to charge clients in the WAS Program more than the standard range of advisory fees as disclosed in our Form ADV Part 2A Brochure to cover solicitation fees paid to SAI as part of the WAS Program. In addition to these arrangements, we have agreed not to solicit WAS referred clients to transfer their brokerage accounts from affiliates of SAI or established brokerage accounts at other custodians for referred clients other than when our firm's fiduciary duties would so require.

Our participation in the WAS Program does not limit our firm's duty to select brokers on the basis of best execution.

Item 15: Custody

Harvey Capital Management uses an unaffiliated qualified custodial firm to safeguard the Client's assets. Our firm does not have actual or constructive custody of our client's assets.

Harvey Capital Management recommends that clients establish an account with Fidelity, to maintain custody of the assets. Although we recommend that the Client establishes an account at Fidelity, it is the Client's decision to custody assets with Fidelity. Harvey Capital Management is independently owned and operated and not affiliated with Fidelity.

Fidelity generally does not charge for custody services. Other custodians may charge separately for custody services. The Client is responsible for reviewing the specific schedules of their chosen custodian.

The Client must provide written authorization to the qualified custodian permitting the fees to be paid directly to Harvey Capital Management. The Firm does not have access to client funds for payment of fees without written consent by the Client. By signing the investment management agreement, the Client authorizes the qualified custodian to pay advisory fees directly to Harvey Capital Management, unless prior arrangements are made in writing. The Firm will only accept checks payable to Harvey Capital Management for payment of advisory fees.

Clients will receive monthly statements and annual tax statements from their qualified custodian. It is important for clients to carefully review their custodial statements to verify the accuracy of the information. Clients should contact us directly if there is an error in the statement.

Item 16: Investment Discretion

Harvey Capital Management provides both investment supervisory and advisory services. Both are tailored to the investment objectives of the Client. Currently, our business focus is on discretionary management.

The Client grants us discretionary authority to manage the portfolio when an Investment Management Discretionary Agreement is signed by the Client. Discretionary authority allows the Firm to execute trades in a client's account without contacting the Client prior to each trade to obtain their permission. Such discretion and authority allows the Firm to perform various investment functions without further approval from the Client.

This may include:

- ❖ determination of the securities to be purchased/sold
- ❖ determination of the quantity/amount of securities to be purchased/sold
- ❖ selection of broker-dealer to be used
- ❖ determination of the commission rates
- ❖ qualified custodians facilitating the debiting of the account for the investment management fees

The Client may limit this discretion and authority restriction, that is reasonable (i.e. buying/selling restriction on certain securities or industry group/sectors), by providing the Firm with written instruction.

Item 17: Voting Client Securities

Harvey Capital Management does not accept authority for voting proxies on behalf of the Clients.

This disclosure is stated in the Investment Management Agreement between Harvey Capital Management and the Client. Although our firm may provide investment advisory services relative to client investment assets, clients maintain exclusive responsibility for directing the voting of proxies. For ERISA accounts, Harvey Capital Management will review the Voting Proxies Policy on the Client's Plan Investment Policy.

We shall retain the authority to make all elections relative to any mergers, acquisitions, tender offers, bankruptcy proceedings or other type events pertaining to the securities in the Account. We may provide clients with consulting assistance regarding corporate actions and the exercise of proxy voting rights if they contact us with questions.

Item 18: Financial Information

Harvey Capital Management has no additional financial circumstances to report. We do not include a financial statement because the Firm does not require or solicit pre-payment of fees for services rendered or take custody of client funds or securities. The Firm has no financial commitment that impairs its ability to meet its contractual and fiduciary commitments to clients, and has not been the subject of a bankruptcy petition since inception.
