Appendix A: Professional Designations and Certifications - Qualifications and Related Criteria

Accredited Investment Fiduciary[®] (AIF[®])

Administered by fi360, the Accredited Investment Fiduciary[®] (AIF[®]) professional designation is the industry's first and only designation that demonstrates knowledge and competency in the area of fiduciary responsibility, and communicates a commitment to standards of investment fiduciary excellence. Holders of the AIF[®] mark have successfully completed a specialized program on investment fiduciary standards and subsequently passed a comprehensive examination.

AIF designees have a reputation in the industry as being the best positioned to implement a prudent process into their own investment practices, as well as being able to assist others in implementing proper policies and procedures. For this reason, the AIF was named one of the "Ten Most Wanted" designations in the investment industry in Financial Planning magazine.

Curriculum The AIF program is offered in three distinct training formats: candidates may complete a Web-based Program; a Capstone Program (blended learning experience that combines the Web-based Program with a 1-day classroom session); or a Custom Program. The various training formats cater to the needs of the busy professional, yet deliver the same curriculum. Each format concludes with an examination in order to apply for and earn the AIF designation.

Examination Requirements Candidates for the AIF designation will be required to take a 90-minute, closed-book accreditation exam that must be passed with a 75% or better. The examination is administered at the conclusion of training for Capstone participants, and as an online examination for Web-based participants. Please note that a proctor is required for online examinations. At the end of the program, students need to submit a designee application with the first annual payment of the designation fee, and agree to abide by the designation's Code of Ethics in order to earn the AIF designation.

Additional Requirements Once accredited, AIF designees have the following annual obligations:

- Sign and agree to abide by a Code of Ethics
- Complete appropriate continuing education requirements
- Submit a renewal application along with the annual dues

Continuing Education Requirements AIF designees are required to complete six hours of continuing education annually. The continuing education offerings are conveniently provided online via downloadable audio recordings and podcasts. This service is provided as part of the annual dues and requires no additional charge. Two hours may be fulfilled from outside sources.

Accredited Investment Fiduciary Analyst™ (AIFA®)

Administered by fi360, the Accredited Investment Fiduciary Analyst™ (AIFA®) professional designation is the first and only designation that focuses on the process of conducting fiduciary assessments. The AIFA designation not only signifies the same thorough knowledge of the prudent process for investment fiduciaries that the AIF designation represents, but also the ability to perform assessments of that process. AIFA designees' primary function is to perform, or assist in, assessments of an investment steward's, advisor's, or manager's conformance to a Global Fiduciary Standard of Excellence using fi360's ISO-like procedure of assessment. AIFA designees possess the ability and knowledge to advise clients of deficiencies in investment processes. It is also the required mark to perform a CEFEX Fiduciary Certification, the independent recognition of a fiduciary's conformity to all fiduciary practices and criteria.

Prerequisites To become an AIFA, one must have graduated from fi360's AIF training. In addition, there are specific prerequisite work experiences.

Curriculum The AIFA program is offered as a 3-day classroom-based program conducted at several universities and training facilities across the world. The classroom program uses a traditional style of instruction, incorporating and encouraging class participation throughout the program. Team and individual exercises are part of the program structure as well as team presentations of exercise findings and conclusions. All class participation, including group and individual exercises, carry weight in the grading process.

The course focuses on the process of conducting fiduciary assessments. It addresses new audit requirements under the Pension Protection Act of 2006 and enables those who attain the AIFA designation to conduct assessments leading to certifications of adhering to Global Fiduciary Standards of Excellence. Instructors teach participants the four steps that comprise the standard, the practices, and the criteria necessary to fulfill each step, and the assessment techniques to verify conformity to the standard.

The course culminates with an accreditation exam for those wishing to obtain the AIFA designation. The evaluation of your success in the program is based on three main factors: AIFA quiz, the final exam, and participation.

Additional Requirements Once accredited, AIFA designees have the following obligations:

- Sign and agree to abide by a Code of Ethics.
- Complete appropriate continuing education requirements.
- Maintain current contact information in fi360's designee database.
- Remit annual dues.
- Continuing Education Requirements AIFA designees are required to complete 10 hours of continuing education annually. The continuing education offerings are conveniently provided online via downloadable audio recordings and podcasts. This service is provided as part of the annual dues and requires no additional charge. Two hours may be fulfilled from outside sources.

Certified Divorce Financial Analyst® (CDFA™)

The Certified Divorce Financial Analyst® (CDFA™) is a professional certification granted in the by the Institute for Divorce Financial Analysts™ (IDFA™). To attain the right to use the CDFA™, an individual must satisfactorily fulfill the following requirements:

Education Candidates must develop their theoretical understanding and knowledge of the financial aspects of divorce by completing a comprehensive course of study approved by the IDFA.

Examination Candidates must pass a four-part Certification Examination that tests their understanding and knowledge of the financial aspects of divorce. In addition, candidates must demonstrate the practical application of this knowledge in the divorce process.

Experience Candidates must have a minimum of three years' experience in a financial or legal capacity prior to earning the right to use the CDFA™ certification mark.

Ethics Candidates agree to abide by a strict code of professional conduct known as the "Code of Ethics and Professional Responsibility," which sets forth their ethical responsibilities to the public, clients, employers and other professionals. The IDFA may perform a background check during this process, and each candidate for CDFA certification must disclose any investigations or legal proceedings relating to his or her professional or business conduct.

Individuals who become certified must complete the following ongoing education requirements in order to maintain the right to continue to use the CDFA™ designation:

Continuing Education Minimum of 15 hours of continuing education every two years, that are specifically related to the field of divorce.

Ethics Must voluntarily disclose any public, civil, criminal, or disciplinary actions that may have been taken against them during the past two years as part of the renewal process. If a complaint has been brought against a CDFA by another professional or member of the general public, the CDFA must be examined and cleared by IDFA's Ethics Committee to maintain their designation.

Certified Financial Planner™

Certified Financial Planner Board of Standards Inc. owns the certification marks CFP®, Certified Financial Planner™ and federally registered CFP (with flame design) in the U.S., which it awards to individuals who successfully complete CFP Board's initial and ongoing certification requirements.

The CFP® certification process, administered by CFP Board, identifies that those individuals who have been authorized to use the CFP® certification marks in the U.S. have met rigorous professional standards and have agreed to adhere to the principles of integrity, objectivity, competence, fairness, confidentiality, professionalism, and diligence when dealing with clients.

CERTIFIED FINANCIAL PLANNER™ certificants must pass the comprehensive CFP® Certification Examination; pass CFP Board's Candidate Fitness Standards; agree to abide by CFP Board's Code of Ethics and Professional Responsibility, which puts clients' interests first; and comply with the Financial Planning Practice Standards, which spell out what clients should be able to reasonably expect from the financial planning engagement. These are just some of the reasons why the CFP® certification is becoming increasingly recognized.

To become certified, candidates are required to meet the following initial certification requirements:

Education Complete an advanced college-level course of study addressing the financial planning subject areas that CFP Board's studies have determined as necessary for the competent and professional delivery of financial planning services, and attain a Bachelor's Degree from a regionally accredited United States college or university (or its equivalent from a foreign university). CFP Board's financial planning subject areas include insurance planning and risk management, employee benefits planning, investment planning, income tax planning, retirement planning, and estate planning.

Examination Pass the comprehensive CFP® Certification Examination. The examination, administered in 10 hours over a two-day period, includes case studies and client scenarios designed to test one's ability to correctly diagnose financial planning issues and apply one's knowledge of financial planning to real world circumstances.

Experience Complete at least three years of full-time financial planning-related experience (or the equivalent, measured as 2,000 hours per year).

Ethics Agree to be bound by CFP Board's Standards of Professional Conduct, a set of documents outlining the ethical and practice standards for CFP® professionals.

Individuals who become certified must complete the following ongoing education and ethics requirements in order to maintain the right to continue to use the CFP® marks:

Continuing Education Complete 30 hours of continuing education hours every two years, including two hours on the Code of Ethics and other parts of the Standards of Professional Conduct, to maintain competence and keep up with developments in the financial planning field.

Ethics Renew an agreement to be bound by the Standards of Professional Conduct. The Standards prominently require that CFP® professionals provide financial planning services at a fiduciary standard of care. This means CFP® professionals must provide financial planning services in the best interests of their clients.

CFP® professionals who fail to comply with the above standards and requirements may be subject to CFP Board's enforcement process, which could result in suspension or permanent revocation of their CFP® certification.

Certified Investment Management Analyst (CIMA)

The Certified Investment Management Analyst (CIMA) certification program is the only credential designed specifically for financial professionals who want to attain a level of competency as an advanced investment consultant. The CIMA professional integrates a complex body of investment knowledge to provide objective investment advice and guidance to individuals and institutions. That knowledge is applied systematically and ethically to assist clients in making prudent investment decisions.

This CIMA designation focuses on asset allocation, ethics, due diligence, risk measurement, investment policy and performance measurement.

Prerequisites Only individuals who are investment consultants with at least three years of professional experience are eligible to try to obtain this certification, which signifies a high level of consulting expertise. The Investment Management Consultants Association offers the CIMA courses.

Requirements The CIMA certification program requires that candidates meet all eligibility requirements, including experience, education, examination and ethics. There are five steps that must be completed to earn the certification:

1. Submit the CIMA certification program application and fee and undergo a background check.
2. Pass the online qualification examination.
3. Schedule into and complete the education program with a registered education provider over a five-day period.
4. Submit the certification examination application and fee and pass the classroom certification examination.
5. Sign the licensing agreement, submit the initial certification fee, and agree to adhere to IMCA's Code of Professional Responsibility, Standards of Practice, and Rules and Guidelines for Use of the Marks.

Continuing Education Requirements Individuals who hold CIMA designations are required to prove their expertise through continual recertification, which requires CIMA designees to complete at least 40 hours of continuing education every two years.

 - Five years experience in wealth management and a bachelor's degree.
 - Ten years experience in wealth management.
- Professional Reference – Candidates must submit one letter of recommendation from their manager attesting to their qualifications for certification, including their wealth management experience and ethical character. Wealth management experience is defined as direct experience in the various facets of delivering financial planning and fiduciary services relating to trusts, estates, IRAs and individual asset management accounts. This experience further includes providing administrative, investment management, tax, legal and marketing services.
- Ethics Statement – Candidates must sign ICB's Professional Code of Ethics statement, which is the last page of the application.
- Application – Candidates must complete and submit an application, affirming that they comply with the eligibility requirements at the time of submission, and pay the application fee.

Continuing Education Requirements Every three years, certificants must complete three continuing education credits in Ethics, and 45 credits of continuing education in each of the following four knowledge areas (a minimum of six hours is required in each):

- Fiduciary and Trust Activities
- Personal Financial Planning
- Tax Law
- Investments Management

Certified Public Accountant (CPA)

One of the world's leading licensing examinations, the Uniform CPA Examination serves to protect the public interest by helping to ensure that only qualified individuals become licensed as Certified Public Accountants (CPAs). The exam is one of the "Three E's" – education, examination, and experience – that are required for licensure as a CPA. Consequently, passing the examination is not, in itself, sufficient to meet requirements for licensure.

Licensing The licensing authority and requirements for CPAs falls under the jurisdiction of the Board of Accountancy for the state, district, or country in which a CPA practices. In adherence to the AICPA mission, the Institute seeks the highest possible level of uniform certification and licensing standards while promoting and protecting the CPA designation. The national organization representing the state boards is the National Association of State Boards of Accountancy (NASBA).

Requirements The requirements, which are set by each state board of accountancy, include:

- Completing a program of study in accounting at a college or university.
- Passing the Uniform CPA Exam.
- Obtaining a specific amount of professional work experience in public accounting (the required amount and type of experience varies according to licensing jurisdiction).

Ethics Upon joining the AICPA, a member agrees to abide by its Code of Professional Conduct and Bylaws adopted by a vote of the membership. The bylaws provide a structure for enforcement of the Code by the Institute's Professional Ethics Division. When allegations come to the attention of the Ethics Division regarding a violation of the Code, the division investigates the matter, under due process procedures, and depending upon the facts found in the investigation, may take a confidential disciplinary action, settle the matter with suspension or revocation of membership rights, or refer the matter to a panel of the Trial Board Division for a hearing. The bylaws mandate publishing the member's name if he or she is found guilty by a hearing panel, suspended, or expelled by settlement.

The bylaws of 51 state and/or territorial CPA societies provide for their participation in a Joint Ethics Enforcement Program so that, depending upon membership status, actions taken by one or more of these societies or the AICPA are in the names of both the society and AICPA. State regulatory agencies (Boards of Accountancy) issue practice licenses to CPAs and only those agencies may act to affect those licenses. The AICPA does not license CPAs. Those state regulatory agencies may take disciplinary action affecting practice licenses under statutes, regulations, and rulings of the state. Also, the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) and other Federal government agencies may, under Federal law or regulation, discipline CPAs who practice before these agencies.

Chartered Financial Analyst[®] (CFA[®])

The Chartered Financial Analyst[®] (CFA[®]) designation is conferred by the CFA Institute. A financial analyst seeking membership to the CFA Institute must:

- meet eligibility requirements
- fully comply with the CFA Code of Ethics and Standards of Professional Conduct
- study books, journal articles, and other readings designated by the Institute
- successfully pass three examinations, each approximately six hours in length and administered by the CFA Institute

The candidate for the CFA designation must have at least a single current and principal engagement:

- in financial analysis of securities investment for a bank, investment company, insurance company, or other financial services or investment management firms
- as an assistant, associate, or full professor or dean of a college or university, who teaches and/or researches
- as an economist involved in financial analysis of securities investment
- as a portfolio manager

- as a financial analyst of securities investment within a public agency
- as a financial analyst of securities investment for a corporate pension, profit sharing or other retirement fund
- as a manager of financial analysts or portfolio managers involved with securities investment and who, before assumption of management obligations, was a financial analyst or portfolio manager

The CFA is awarded to candidates who have passed the examinations and met the other requirements specified by the CFA Institute.

Chartered Financial Consultant® (ChFC®)

The Chartered Financial Consultant® (ChFC®) designation program focuses on the comprehensive financial planning process as an organized way to collect and analyze information on a client's total financial situation; to identify and establish specific financial goals; and to formulate, implement, and monitor a comprehensive plan to achieve those goals.

The ChFC® program provides financial planners and others in the financial services industry with in-depth knowledge of the skills needed to perform comprehensive financial planning for their clients.

Curriculum Candidates must pass an examination for the following six required courses and two elective courses to earn the ChFC designation:

Required Courses

- HS 300: Financial Planning: Process and Environment
- HS 311: Fundamentals of Insurance Planning
- HS 321: Income Taxation
- HS 326: Planning for Retirement Needs
- HS 328: Investments
- HS 330: Fundamentals of Estate Planning
- HS 332: Financial Planning Applications
- Elective Courses (choose 2)
- HS 322: The Financial System in the Economy
- HS 334: Estate Planning Applications
- HS 352: Financial Decisions for Retirement

As a general rule, candidates should plan to spend 50-70 hours studying for each course. The program can be completed as quickly as a candidate desires, but most students complete their designation requirements within 15-24 months.

Examination Requirements Each exam is a two-hour, 100 question, computer-administered exam.

Additional Requirements Candidates must meet experience requirements and ethical standards, including three years of business experience immediately preceding the date of use of the designation are required. An undergraduate or graduate degree from an accredited educational institution qualifies as one year of business experience and, when using formal education as qualifying experience, the remaining two years must immediately precede the date of the award.

Continuing Education Requirements Each designee who falls in one of the following categories must complete 30 hours of continuing education every two years. If you do not fall into one of these categories, you are exempt from CE requirements:

- Licensed insurance agent/broker/consultant
- Licensed security representative/registered investment advisor
- Financial consultant, attorney, accountant, employee benefits specialist, and any other individual who provides insurance, employee benefits, financial planning, or estate planning advice and counsel to the public

Chartered Life Underwriter[®] (CLU[®])

The Chartered Life Underwriter[®] (CLU[®]) credential is specifically designed to enhance the knowledge of people employed in the life insurance industry. Most, but not all, individuals who seek or have earned this designation are also licensed insurance agents or brokers. The CLU is conferred only upon successful completion of a ten-part course of study that covers fundamentals of economics, finance, taxation, investments, and other areas of risk management as they apply to life insurance. The course of study can be completed through home study or by attendance of courses offered by either a branch of the American Society of Chartered Life Underwriters or an affiliated college or university.

Enrollment in the CLU program requires that an individual have at least three years of professional experience in the insurance industry, preferably in life insurance. There are no degree requirements, although a high school diploma is strongly suggested. Three recommendations from clients and/or professional colleagues are also requested. The course of study consists of ten college-level courses, each lasting approximately 15 weeks. A three-hour examination taken at the conclusion of each course must be passed to successfully complete the program.

Continuing Education Requirements To maintain use of the certification, certificants must complete 30 hours of approved continuing education every two years.

- Paying a biennial renewal fee.

Enrolled Agent (EA)

An Enrolled Agent has earned the right to represent taxpayers before the Internal Revenue Service worldwide.

Enrolled Agents, like attorneys and certified public accountants (CPAs), may represent all taxpayers, from individuals with simple tax returns to Fortune 100 tax returns. Enrolled Agents face no restrictions on the types of tax matters they can handle and the IRS offices before which they can practice.

Enrolled Agents are licensed by the Department of Treasury and can represent taxpayers throughout the United States and overseas—wherever the IRS has an outpost. Most state and local governments recognize the Enrolled Agent designation and grant representation powers to Enrolled Agents. Enrolled Agents may practice in any state without re-certifying, making this the most portable of all the tax licenses governed by IRS Circular 230.

Required Curriculum Candidates who wish to become an Enrolled Agent must meet the following qualifying criteria:

- Apply for enrollment using IRS Form 2587.
- Pass a background check to ensure that they have not engaged in any conduct that would justify the suspension or disbarment of an attorney, CPA, or Enrolled Agent from practice before the IRS.
- Follow one of these two tracks:
 - Online Examination: Candidates must achieve passing scores on each of a three-part online Special Enrollment Examination (SEE).
 - IRS Experience: Candidates can become an enrolled agent by virtue of past service and technical experience working for the Internal Revenue Service in certain jobs or positions. Generally, there is a five-year experience requirement in positions that require certain levels of technical experience.

Life Underwriter Training Council Fellow (LUTCF)

The LUTCF designation combines essential product knowledge with the skills financial professionals must have to advise individuals and businesses effectively on their insurance and planning needs. A key to the program is ethical selling practices, and Ethics for the Financial Services Professional is required for every designee.

Educational Requirements LUTCF candidates must complete six courses, one required and five electives. The required course is Ethics for the Financial Services Professional. Advisors choose electives based on their individual practices and needs. Topics available include product education on long-term care, life insurance, annuities, disability income insurance, and business insurance. Skills-based training includes how to best meet client needs and the basics of estate planning, retirement planning, and investment planning.

Prerequisites/Experience Candidates must be a member of NAIFA to be awarded the designation following completion of all of the educational requirements.

Ethics Must adhere to The American College's Code of Ethics, which includes the following professional pledge: "I shall, in light of all conditions surrounding those I serve, which I shall make every conscientious effort to ascertain and understand, render that service which, in the same circumstances, I would apply to myself." Because the designation is issued jointly with NAIFA, designees must also adhere to NAIFA's Code of Ethics, which includes the following responsibilities:

- To hold my profession in high esteem and strive to enhance its prestige.
- To fulfill the needs of my clients to the best of my ability.
- To maintain my clients' confidences.
- To render exemplary service to my clients and their beneficiaries.
- To adhere to professional standards of conduct in helping my clients to protect insurable obligations and attain their financial security objectives.
- To present accurately and honestly all facts essential to my clients' decisions.
- To perfect my skills and increase my knowledge through continuing education.
- To conduct my business in such a way that my example might help raise the professional standards of those in my profession.
- To keep informed with respect to applicable laws and regulations and to observe them in the practice of my profession.
- To cooperate with others whose services are constructively related to meeting the needs of my clients.

Examinations Proctored, closed book exams follow each course.

Continuing Education New LUTCF designees in 2010 or later must complete three hours of approved ethics training every two years.

Enforcement Designation may be removed for unethical conduct through the certification committee of The American College's Board of Trustees.

Accreditation The American College has the highest level of educational accreditation—regional accreditation—through the Middle States Commission on Higher Education.
