Item 4 – Advisory Business

The Advisor is a Delaware limited partnership, formed on November 29, 2000. Ehrenkranz Partners L.P., a Delaware limited partnership (“Ehrenkranz”), serves as the General Partner of the Advisor and Ehrenkranz Partners GP LLC, a Delaware limited liability company (“Ehrenkranz GP”), serves as the General Partner of Ehrenkranz. The limited partners of the Advisor are Joel S. Ehrenkranz, Sanford B. Ehrenkranz, Amy G. Bermingham, Andrew Sommers, John B. Ehrenkranz, Patrick J. C. Shaw, Kurt F. Dudas and Hannah W. Mensch. Joel S. Ehrenkranz is the only owner who owns over 25% of the Advisor. Ehrenkranz and Ehrenkranz GP are owned by the same individuals.

The Advisor acts as investment manager and/or general partner on a discretionary basis to affiliated domestic and offshore investment vehicles (collectively, “Advisor Managed Funds”) (i) which are privately placed, (ii) which are not registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended, and (iii) which may or may not be continuously offered.

The Advisor generally does not provide investment advice about specific securities, but allocates client assets to pooled investment vehicles or separate accounts managed by professional specialized fund managers and trading advisors that utilize a broad range of investment strategies, as discussed in Item 8.

As of January 1, 2015, the Advisor managed on a discretionary basis approximately $598 million of assets invested in the Advisor Managed Funds.

Item 5 – Fees and Compensation

The Advisor charges a fee for serving as investment manager or general partner of the Advisor Managed Funds.

In the case of Advisor Managed Funds that make hedge fund investments, the Advisor charges the fund 1.0% to 1.5% per annum of the net asset value of assets under management (the “HF Management Fee”). In the case of Advisor Managed Funds that make private equity investments, the Advisor charges 1.0% of net invested capital (the “PE Management Fee” and, together with the HF Management Fee, the “Management Fees”). The Management Fees are generally non-negotiable but may be waived or reduced at the Advisor’s discretion.

HF Management Fees are calculated quarterly in advance and either deducted monthly or quarterly in arrears, depending on the fund. PE Management Fees are calculated annually in advance and deducted monthly in arrears.

Advisor Managed Funds invest in non-affiliated pooled investment vehicles which may include limited partnerships, joint ventures, investment companies and other similar entities managed by professional specialized fund managers that utilize a broad range of investment strategies ("Portfolio Funds") and also may invest in managed accounts. Assets invested in Portfolio Funds or in managed accounts are separately subject to management and/or incentive fees which may be imposed by those managers or entities directly and which are in addition to the Management Fees. The Advisor does not share in any such other fees.

Item 6 – Performance-Based Fees and Side-By-Side Management

The Advisor does not charge any performance-based fees (fees based on a share of capital gains on or capital appreciation of the assets of a client).

Because the Advisor does not charge any performance-based fees, it does not anticipate conflicts of interest in connection with the side-by-side management of its accounts.

Item 7 – Types of Clients

The Advisor provides advisory services only to affiliated pooled investment vehicles which include the Advisor Managed Funds and any future investment pools formed by the Advisor.

Item 8 – Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies and Risk of Loss

Investing in securities involves a high degree of risk, including the risk that the entire amount invested may be lost. Clients should be prepared to bear this risk. While the Advisor does not provide investment advice about specific securities, it allocates Advisor Managed Fund assets on a discretionary basis to Portfolio Funds and managed accounts, each with the goal of creating a portfolio of investments that targets attractive rates of return given each clients' tolerance for risk and volatility.

It is the responsibility of the Advisor to identify and research third party managers to satisfy itself as to the suitability of the terms and conditions relating to the investment and to allocate and reallocate Client assets among such managers. The Advisor allocates Client assets among third party managers using its knowledge and experience to assess the capabilities of those managers and to determine the optimal mix of investment styles for each Client's investment objectives. The Advisor considers numerous factors in evaluating and selecting managers, including, but not limited to, the manager's reputation and integrity, depth and continuity of its investment team, its ability to implement its stated investment strategy, the consistency of past returns and capital under management, amount of leverage used, the risk controls in place, and the level of personal investment by the manager's investment team.

The core strategies utilized by the Advisor and their attendant risks are discussed below. It should be noted, however, that the following disclosure is only intended to highlight the material risks associated with each investment strategy and is not a comprehensive disclosure of all risks associated with such strategies. The offering documents provided by the Advisor should be reviewed for a comprehensive discussion of all investment risks.

INVESTMENTS IN THE ADVISOR MANAGED FUNDS:

Multiple Levels of Fees and Expenses – By investing in Portfolio Funds indirectly through an Advisor Managed Fund, the investor bears asset-based fees of both the Advisor Managed Fund and the Portfolio Fund as well as any performance-based fees of the Portfolio Funds. Thus, investors in the Advisor Managed Funds may be subject to higher operating expenses than if he or she invested in a Portfolio Fund directly.

The Advisor Will Not Control the Portfolio Funds – The Advisor does not and will not control the Portfolio Funds, and there can be no assurances that Portfolio Funds will be managed in a manner consistent with the Advisor Managed Fund's investment objective.

Portfolio Funds May be Difficult to Value - The valuation of the Fund's investments in Portfolio Funds is ordinarily determined based upon valuations calculated by the Advisor based on information provided by the Portfolio Funds and their auditors. Although the Advisor reviews the valuation procedures used by the Portfolio Funds, the Advisor may not be able to confirm or review the accuracy of such valuations.

“Master-Feeder” Structure. Certain of the Advisor Managed Funds are feeder funds in a “master-feeder” structure. The “master-feeder” fund structure presents certain unique risks to investors. While the affiliated investment manager of the master fund may not intend to manage any of the funds under its management to maximize tax benefits to investors, a conflict of interest may exist in that U.S. taxable investors in the master fund may benefit from the recognition of long-term capital gains, whereas non-taxable investors in the feeder fund would be in the same tax position if the gains were short-term or long-term.

Additionally, feeder funds are limited partners of the master fund, and, as such, have no right to be involved in the management of the master fund. If the feeder funds were to become involved in the management of the master fund, they would lose the limited liability afforded to them pursuant to Delaware law.

NON-EQUITY CORRELATED/ABSOLUTE RETURN:

Non-equity correlated and/or absolute return strategies include hedged or event driven strategies that are used to achieve returns that are intended to have low correlation to equity market movements. These strategies include, but are not limited to distressed debt, hedged and unhedged credit, merger, statistical and capital structure arbitrage, market-neutral equity and macro and quantitative model driven strategies.

Arbitrage and Market-Neutral Strategy Risks - The success of an arbitrage or market neutral strategy depends on the ability of the Portfolio Fund Manager to identify overvalued and undervalued investment opportunities and to exploit price discrepancies in the capital markets. Identification and exploitation of the trading strategies to be pursued by the Portfolio Fund Managers involves uncertainty. No assurance can be given that the Portfolio Fund Manager will be able to identify correctly trading opportunities or exploit price discrepancies in the capital markets. A reduction in the pricing inefficiency of the markets in which the Portfolio Fund Manager invests will reduce the scope for the investment program of the Portfolio Fund. In the event that the perceived mispricings underlying the arbitrage positions of the Portfolio Fund Managers were to fail to converge toward, or were to diverge further from, relationships expected by the Portfolio Fund Manager, the Portfolio Funds may incur losses. The arbitrage strategies of the Portfolio Fund Manager may result in greater portfolio turnover and, consequently, greater transaction costs for the Portfolio Funds. Investors in this strategy may be adversely affected by unforeseen events involving such matters as changes in market liquidity, interest rates or the credit status of an issuer, forced redemptions of securities or acquisition proposals.

Distressed Securities Risks - A Portfolio Fund Manager, on behalf of a Portfolio Fund, may invest in distressed securities. These securities are in transition, out of favor, financially leveraged or troubled and may be or have recently been involved in major strategic actions such as a restructuring, bankruptcy, reorganization or liquidation. As a result, these securities are likely to be particularly risky investments although they also may offer the potential for correspondingly high returns. Such companies' securities may be considered speculative, and the ability of such companies to pay their debts on schedule could be affected by adverse interest rate movements, changes in the general economic climate, economic factors affecting a particular industry, or specific developments within such companies. In addition, there is no minimum credit standard that is a prerequisite to a Portfolio Fund's investment in any instrument, and a significant portion of the obligations and preferred stock in which a Portfolio Fund invests may be less than investment grade or unrated by a recognized ratings agency

Credit Related Risks – Portfolio Funds may invest in corporate and government debt obligations. The market value of debt securities generally tends to decline as interest rates increase and, conversely, increases as interest rates decline. Debt obligations are subject to the risk of an issuer's inability to meet principal and interest payments on the obligations, i.e., credit risk. The Portfolio Fund Manager may actively expose the Portfolio Fund to credit risk. Additionally, the central banks and, in particular, the U.S. Federal Reserve, have recently taken unprecedented steps in an effort to resolve the recent "credit crisis." It is impossible to predict if, how, and to what extent the United States and other governments may further intervene in the credit markets. Such intervention may be contrary to what the Portfolio Fund Manager would predict from an "economically rational" perspective.

Certain Portfolio Fund Managers may also engage in short selling debt securities. Short selling involves selling securities which are not owned by the short seller and borrowing them for delivery to the purchaser, with an obligation to replace the borrowed securities at a later date. Short selling allows the investor to profit from a decline in market price to the extent such decline exceeds the transaction costs and the costs of borrowing the securities. The extent to which the Portfolio Fund engages in short sales will depend upon the Portfolio Fund Manager's investment strategy and opportunities. A short sale creates the risk of a theoretically unlimited loss, in that the price of the underlying security could theoretically increase without limit, thus increasing the cost to the Portfolio Fund of buying those securities to cover the short position. There can be no assurance that the Portfolio Fund will be able to maintain the ability to borrow securities sold short. In such cases, the Portfolio Fund can be "bought in" (i.e., forced to repurchase securities in the open market to return to the lender). There also can be no assurance that the securities necessary to cover a short position will be available for purchase at or near prices quoted in the market. Purchasing securities to close out a short position can itself cause the price of the securities to rise further, thereby exacerbating the loss.

A Portfolio Fund may also utilize financial instruments, both for investment purposes and for risk management purposes in order to (i) protect against possible changes in the market value of the Portfolio Fund's investment portfolios resulting from fluctuations in the securities markets and changes in interest rates; (ii) protect the Portfolio Fund's unrealized gains in the value of the Portfolio Fund's investment portfolio; (iii) facilitate the sale of any such investments; (iv) enhance or preserve returns, spreads or gains on any investment in the Portfolio Fund's portfolio; (v) hedge the interest rate or currency exchange rate on any of the Portfolio Fund's liabilities or assets; (vi) protect against any increase in the price of any securities the Portfolio Fund anticipates purchasing at a later date or (vii) for any other reason that the Portfolio Fund Manager deems appropriate.

Macro and Quantitative Model Risks – Portfolio Funds may invest on an opportunistic basis, seeking to take advantage of trends in the market determined by macroeconomic analysis or quantitative models. These opportunistic strategies may rely on the ability of Portfolio Fund Managers to identify trends in the market and to invest in such trends before other market participants, and then sell before the trend ends or reverses. Flaws in a Portfolio Fund Manager's subjective opinions of market conditions or in the quantitative model relied on by such Portfolio Fund Manager could result in substantial losses for the Portfolio Fund. Even if the Portfolio Fund Manager's predictions are accurate, as market dynamics shift over time, a previously highly successful model or market view can become outdated or inaccurate, perhaps without the Portfolio fund Manager recognizing that fact before substantial losses are incurred.

HEDGED EQUITIES:

Hedged equities include hedge fund structures used to deploy many different strategies involving long and short stock positions. Short positions are used as a component of long investing to reduce volatility and to seek attractive long-term returns.

Risks Associated with Hedging - While stocks and other equity securities have historically been a leading choice of long-term investors, they fluctuate in value, often based on factors unrelated to the value of the issuer of the securities, and such fluctuations can be pronounced. Changes in the value of investment securities held by a Portfolio Fund will result in changes in the value of an investor's interest in such Portfolio Fund.

Because different types of stocks tend to shift in and out of favor depending on market and economic conditions, the performance of a Portfolio Fund investing primarily in large capitalization stocks may be lower or higher than that of a Portfolio Fund investing primarily in smaller capitalization stocks. Moreover, the investment returns of a Portfolio Fund investing in stocks that emphasize particular investment characteristics, such as "value" or "growth," may fluctuate independently from the broad stock market as represented by the S&P 500 Index, and may demonstrate greater volatility over short or extended periods relative to the broad market.

The success of the Portfolio Fund's hedging strategy will depend, in part, upon the Portfolio Fund Manager's ability to correctly assess the degree of correlation between the performance of the instruments used in the hedging strategy and the performance of the portfolio investments being hedged. Since the characteristics of many securities change as markets change or time passes, the success of the Portfolio Fund's hedging strategy will also be subject to the Portfolio Fund Manager's ability to continually recalculate, readjust and execute hedges in an efficient and timely manner. While the Portfolio Fund may enter into hedging transactions to seek to reduce risk, such transactions may result in a poorer overall performance for the Portfolio Fund than if it had not engaged in such hedging transactions. For a variety of reasons, the Portfolio Fund Manager may not seek to establish a perfect correlation between the hedging instruments utilized and the portfolio holdings being hedged. Such an imperfect correlation may prevent the Portfolio Fund from achieving the intended hedge or expose the Portfolio Fund to risk of loss. The Portfolio Fund Manager may not hedge against a particular risk because it does not regard the probability of the risk occurring to be sufficiently high as to justify the cost of the hedge, or because it does not foresee the occurrence of the risk. The successful utilization of hedging and risk management transactions requires skills complementary to those needed in the selection of the Portfolio Fund's portfolio holdings.

MANAGED EQUITIES:

These positions include separately managed accounts or pooled vehicles that invest in equity securities to achieve market returns over a full cycle.

Managed Account Allocation Risks – Direct investments in managed accounts that use margin expose an investor to theoretically unlimited liability, and it is possible, if leverage is used, that the investor could lose more in a managed account than the investor had allocated to such managed account.

Concentration and Volatility Risks - Certain Portfolio Fund Managers with which the Advisor invests may acquire relatively large positions (based on the Portfolio Fund's total assets) in a small number of companies. As a result, a Portfolio Fund will be significantly affected by the performance of a relatively small number of issuers.

Although the Advisor will not permit more than 25% of the net asset value of an Advisor Managed Fund (determined at the time of an investment) to be invested in the investment program of any single Portfolio Fund Manager, a significant amount of the Advisor Managed Fund's assets could still be invested with a limited number of Portfolio Fund Managers and a limited number of Portfolio Funds. As a result, the Advisor Managed Fund will be more vulnerable to events affecting a single Portfolio Fund Manager's investment choices and management style. Furthermore, because the Advisor Managed Fund invests in a limited number of Portfolio Funds, the Advisor Managed Fund will be more vulnerable to under-performance of a particular Portfolio Fund than a fund investing in a larger number of funds. Therefore, profitability of the Advisor Managed Fund could be significantly affected by the under-performance of a limited number of Portfolio Fund Managers and Portfolio Funds.

REGISTERED INVESTMENT COMPANIES:

The Advisor may invest all or a portion of the cash of an Advisor Managed Fund in a money-market fund or an ETF that utilizes a strategy similar to that of the Advisor Managed Fund in order to maintain exposure to the market while managing cash on a short term basis.

Risks Associated with ETFs. Investments in ETFs are subject to the day-to-day potential for an investor to experience losses from fluctuation in prices of the underlying securities or assets. Additionally, the ETF fund manager may not be able to exactly replicate the performance of the underlying assets. ETFs may use financial derivatives (e.g. swap arrangements with third parties) to achieve its investment objective. If any counterparty fails to perform its obligations under the derivative transaction, the ETF may suffer losses. While ETFs are generally very liquid, the market-maker may be the only participant buying and selling units of the ETF and there may be circumstances where investors may not be able to buy or sell units at the prices desired. Certain ETFs may be denominated in a currency other than the currency in which its assets are denominated. In this instance, investors in ETFs are exposed to fluctuations in foreign exchange rates which increase or erode investment returns on the ETF. Investors in an Advisor Managed Fund that invests in an ETF will indirectly pay a portion of the fees charged by the ETF.

Risks Associated with Money Market Funds. Although money market funds typically invest in low-risk instruments such as certificates of deposit, treasury bills and short-term commercial paper, there can be no guarantee of returns. Furthermore, the returns typically generated by these investments tend to be relatively low. Fees charged by the money market funds, which are indirectly paid for by investors in an Advisor Managed Fund that invests in a money market fund, can further diminish the return on investment. Additionally, some money market funds are not government insured.

Item 9 – Disciplinary Information Relating to the Advisor

Neither the Advisor nor its employees have been involved in any legal or disciplinary events in the past ten years that would be material to a client's evaluation of the Advisor or its personnel.

Item 10 – Other Financial Industry Activities and Affiliations

The Advisor is registered as a registered commodity pool operator with the National Futures Association (“NFA”). The Advisor is not actively engaged in any business activity other than providing investment advice. However, all of the Advisor’s limited partners (with the exception of John B. Ehrenkranz) are also attorneys and are separately partners of Ehrenkranz & Ehrenkranz LLP (the “Law Firm”), a law firm and affiliate of the Advisor. Two of the eight limited partners of the Advisor devote substantially all of their business time to representing the clients of the Law Firm. The other six limited partners of the Advisor devote a majority of their business time to providing investment advisory services to the Advisor Managed Funds, the non-discretionary advisory clients of the Advisor’s affiliates (“Advisory Clients”) and other funds managed by affiliates of the Advisor (“Ehrenkranz Funds”).

The Advisor’s general partner is Ehrenkranz Partners L.P., a registered commodity pool operator and commodity trading advisor with the NFA and an SEC registered investment advisor. Ehrenkranz Partners L.P. also serves as the general partner of E Capital Management L.P., an SEC registered investment advisor that is owned and managed by the eight individuals that are limited partners of the Advisor, and Acquisition Funds GP-L.P., an entity that serves as general partner to certain affiliated investment pools.

Neither the Advisor nor any of its related persons: (i) has directly or indirectly compensated any person for client referrals or (ii) has any arrangements, oral or in writing, in which the Advisor or such related person is paid cash by, or receives some economic benefit from, a non-client in connection with giving advice to clients.

Item 11 – Code of Ethics

The Advisor has adopted a Code of Ethics for all supervised persons of the firm describing its high standard of business conduct, and fiduciary duty to its clients. The Code of Ethics includes provisions relating to the confidentiality of client information, a prohibition on insider trading, rumor mongering, restrictions on the acceptance of significant gifts and the reporting of certain gifts and business entertainment items, and personal securities trading procedures, among other things. All supervised persons of the Advisor must acknowledge the terms of the Code of Ethics annually, or as amended.

In some instances, certain clients of an affiliate of the Advisor (“Advisory Clients”) may be affiliated with Portfolio Funds held by the Advisor Managed Fund. All investments by an Advisor Managed Fund into such Portfolio Funds are made on a discretionary basis; however, certain partners of the Advisor may be excluded from participating from such investment decisions if such partner's relationship with such affiliated Advisory Client could be deemed to influence such partner's ability to be impartial. The affiliation between certain Advisory Clients and Portfolio Funds could potentially create a material financial conflict of interest. Consequently, the Advisor monitors the level of investment in such Portfolio Funds and would disclose any material financial conflict of interest that may arise.

Given the Advisor's manager-of-managers investment strategy, the Advisor does not anticipate that the personal trading practices of supervised persons will materially conflict with the best interest of the Advisor Managed Funds. The Code of Ethics is designed to assure that the personal securities transactions of the Advisor's related persons will not violate insider trading laws. Under the Code of Ethics, certain securities have been designated as restricted, based upon a determination that a related person of the Advisor either has material nonpublic information about an issuer or has a relationship with insiders of the issuer that is highly likely to result in such supervised person obtaining material nonpublic information. In addition, the Code of Ethics requires pre-clearance of any purchase of interests in private placements and initial public offerings. Employee trading is monitored on a quarterly basis under the Code of Ethics to reasonably prevent insider trading.

The Code of Ethics requires all supervised persons to devote their full time and efforts to the Advisor's business unless certain outside activities have been approved by the Chief Compliance Officer and the Chief Operating Officer. In addition, no supervised person may make use of either his or her position as an employee or information acquired during employment, or make personal investments in a manner that may create a conflict, or the appearance of a conflict, between the employee's personal interests and the interests of the Advisor or the Advisor Managed Fund.

The Advisor and its affiliates generally do not encounter conflicts in allocating investment opportunities among the Advisor Managed Funds and the Ehrenkranz Funds because of i) the different strategies pursued by such funds and 2) minimal overlapping of the investment periods of those funds pursuing similar investment strategies.

Generally, it is the Advisor's policy not to permit principal transactions. However, there are certain circumstances in which the Advisor or an affiliate may offer to purchase the illiquid holdings of an Advisor Managed Fund or an Ehrenkranz Fund, for example, in order to facilitate the liquidation of such Fund. In such situations, the Advisor will pay the estimated value of the holding as determined by the third party manager as of the most recent date available without taking a discount. Prior to executing such transactions, the Advisor discloses to the limited partners of the Fund all pertinent purchase price and valuation information and obtains their unanimous consent.

The Advisor's clients or prospective clients may request a copy of the Advisor's Code of Ethics by contacting its General Counsel, Tinika Brown, at tbrown@eplp.com.

Item 12 – Brokerage Practices

Each of the Advisor Managed Funds maintains an account with Pershing Advisor Solutions LLC (“Pershing”) for banking and brokerage purposes. The Advisor Managed Funds pay Pershing a basis point fee for custodian services. The Advisor does not share in such fees or receive any other form of compensation from Pershing.

Item 13 – Review of Accounts

Six of the limited partners of the Advisor (“Investment Committee Members”) generally meet on a weekly basis or more frequently to review the Advisor Managed Funds and Portfolio Funds. Partners attending this meeting are supported by various personnel, which usually include additional staff from the Research Group and senior finance and operations management. As part of the review process, the Investment Committee Members analyze several factors including, but not limited to, the weighting of different investments as well as the sector and geographic allocation of such assets and organizational issues. Investment decisions relating to the portfolios of Advisor Managed Funds are determined by the Investment Committee Members.

With respect to Advisor Managed Funds that invest in Portfolio Funds that invest primarily in marketable securities, the Advisor generally provides the investors in such funds with reports containing the status of the fund on a quarterly basis. These reports include information relating to the estimated performance of the overall fund, the estimated capital account balance for each investor and information regarding the investor's contributions and withdrawals from the fund. Advisory Clients may elect to receive this type of information monthly.

With respect to Advisor Managed Funds that invest in Portfolio Funds that primarily invest in non-marketable securities, the Advisor generally provides the investors in such funds reports that may include, among other things, information on investments made by the Portfolio Funds, sales by the Portfolio Funds and general return information with respect to sales made by the Portfolio Funds. These reports are usually provided quarterly, but may be provided monthly at the request of the investor.

Item 14 – Client Referrals and Other Compensation

The Advisor does not receive any economic benefit from non-clients for providing investment advice or other advisory services to clients.

Item 15 – Custody

The Advisor is deemed to have custody of the assets of the Advisor Managed Funds since the Advisor has the power to withdraw funds or securities from the Advisor Managed Funds' accounts and has access and legal ownership of Advisor Managed Funds' securities. The beneficial owners of the Advisor Managed Funds will receive audited financial statements prepared in accordance with U.S. generally accepted accounting standards within 180 days of each Advisor Managed Funds' fiscal year end.

Item 16 – Investment Discretion

The Advisor has discretionary authority to manage the investments of the Advisor Managed Funds in its capacity as general partner or investment manager of those funds. The partnership agreements or other constituent documents of the Advisor Managed Funds grant the Advisor the right, power and authority to undertake on behalf of such Advisor Managed Fund all actions that, in the Advisor's sole judgment, are necessary to manage and control the day-to-day business of such Advisor Managed Fund.

Item 17 – Voting Client Securities

The Advisor does not vote proxies on behalf of the Advisor Managed Funds or the Advisory Clients.

The Advisor does, however, submit or withhold consent on behalf of the Advisor Managed Funds with respect to certain actions or amendments to offering terms proposed by the managers of the Portfolio Funds. Each proposed amendment or action ("Proposal") is reviewed by the Chief Operating Officer and, if necessary, presented by the Chief Operating Officer to one or more of the Advisor's investment committee members. If deemed necessary, the Proposal is discussed among the investment committee members and the agreed upon course of action is communicated to the Chief Operating Officer. The Chief Operating Officer submits the decision to the Portfolio Fund manager and maintains a log that records each Proposal received and the Advisor's response. An investor in an Advisor

Managed Fund may inquire as to the status of any Proposal relating to such Fund by contacting the Advisor's Chief Compliance Officer, Tinika Brown, at tbrown@eplp.com.
