Insight Securities, Inc. Investment Management

Insight Securities, Inc. provides investment advice and portfolio management services on a continuing basis - including an appropriate allocation of managed assets among cash money market funds, equity, and bonds - with the selection of specific securities, which will provide proper diversification and help meet the client's stated investment objectives. Insight Securities is wholly owned by Intelligenics, Inc., a corporation that is wholly owned by Carlos Legaspy.

These services include the evaluation, design, construction, implementation, and monitoring of investment portfolios. Assets are allocated among appropriate investment categories in accordance with the client's financial objectives, liquidity constraints, expected time horizon, risk tolerance, and tax considerations as well as prevailing economic conditions and any other relevant factors. Existing assets are evaluated and appropriate hold or sell recommendations are made.

Insight maintains a Limited Power of Attorney and/or Trading Authority for all discretionary accounts for the purposes of directing and/or otherwise effecting investments on behalf of the managed account as well as for the direct payment of Insight's fees and/or payment of commissions, custodial fees and/or other charges incurred by the managed account.

Clients receive consolidated reports periodically (monthly, quarterly, or annually, depending on client's preference) that illustrate investment performance, current market values, and asset allocation. Clients may also receive upon request monthly, quarterly, semi-annual or annual personal review of their portfolio. As of June 30, 2014, Insight Securities has approximately $102,100,000 under management, including approximately $13,900,000 under management in the wrap program.

Insight Securities also offers comprehensive fee-based financial planning. The planning process involves six steps:

- Identifying and Prioritizing Objectives
- Gathering Information
- Analyzing Information
- Developing a Plan which includes Proposing Recommendations
- Implementing the Plan
- Tracking Plan Progress

InSight Advisor Solutions

In addition to Insight's standard advisory services the firm provides, InSight Securities will provide an open architecture platform to independent registered investment advisors ("RIA") that includes a suite of administrative services. These services include InSight's RIA's which had a former custodial contract with Charles Schwab and InSight's current clearing agreements with JP Morgan and Pershing, plus mutual fund distribution agreements and integrated staffing solutions.

InSight will receive a portion of the independent investment advisory fee for its overall administrative services. The independent registered investment advisor have sole discretion over its accounts which are on InSight's advisory platform.

Item 5 – Fees and Compensation

Fees for ongoing asset monitoring are generated based on a percentage range of 1.00% to 2.0% of portfolio assets. Fees are calculated by multiplying the assets under management by the relevant percent and dividing such product by four (4). The extent of monitoring services and all fees are agreed upon in writing prior to engagement. Monitoring fees are payable quarterly, in advance and such fees may be deducted from client's account(s). All fees may be negotiable under certain circumstances. Monitoring services may be terminated by either party at any time for any reason.

Any unearned fees are refunded on a pro-rate basis less reasonable startup costs.

In addition to the wrap fee, the client may be charged incidental fees by the custodian and transactional fees imposed by regulatory authorities.

To the extent mutual funds are selected by the sub-manager to fill components of the overall investment strategy, the annual advisory fee set forth above does not include the customary fees and expenses associated with investing in mutual funds or other costs of establishing and maintaining an account with mutual funds including Rule 12b-1 fees and expenses. The client is advised that, in addition to the annual advisory fee set forth above, each mutual fund in which assets are invested will incur separate investment advisory fees and other expenses for which Client will bear a proportionate share.

The relationship between the parties may be terminated by either party upon 30 days written notice. Notwithstanding the above, if the appropriate disclosure statement was not delivered to the client at least 48 hours prior to the client entering into any written or oral advisory contract with this investment adviser, then the client has the right to terminate the contract, without a penalty, within five (5) business days after entering into the contract.

In other cases, clients may opt to pay a fixed fee for review of their account, rebalancing, tax and estate planning. These services are performed on a non-discretionary basis. The fee for selection and monitoring services will be one of the following:

1. Hourly charge between $100 and $250 per hour, as mutually agreed upon with the client.
2. Fixed fee as mutually agreed upon with client. The fee will be based on a number of factors including scope of services and other relevant factors. Fees for these services are payable quarterly in advance. Charges for fee-based financial planning range from $500-$2,000, depending on the complexity of the case.

Item 6 – Performance-Based Fees and Side-By-Side Management

Insight Securities does not charge performance-based fees or engage in side by side management.

Item 7 – Types of Clients

Insight Securities, Inc. may provide portfolio management services to individuals, high net worth individuals, trusts, corporate pension and profit-sharing plans, Taft-Hartley plans, private investment funds, trust programs, and other institutions.

Item 8 – Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies and Risk of Loss

Insight Securities, Inc. may use Charting, as well Fundamental, Technical and Cyclical analysis. Investing in securities involves risk loss that clients should be prepared to bear.

Analysis

We evaluate each opportunity and we understand what they do. We get those questions answered by top management. Then, we determine a stock's suitability for inclusion in the Insight Securities.

Risk of Loss

All investment programs have certain risks that are borne by the investor. Investing in securities involves a certain amount of risk of loss that clients should be prepared to bear. Questions regarding risks may be directed to the firm.

Item 9 – Disciplinary Information

Insight Securities has no information applicable to this Item.

Item 10 – Other Financial Industry Activities and Affiliations

Principal Business Activities of Insight Securities

Insight Securities is registered as a broker-dealer with the SEC and various state jurisdictions, and is a member of the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority ("FINRA") and the Municipal Securities Rulemaking Board ("MSRB"). As such, Insight may execute trades on behalf of the client's advisory account.

Insight, in its capacity as a broker-dealer, may be used to execute portfolio transactions for investment advisory clients of Insight. These transactions will be conducted subject to proper, and customary, disclosure including (but not limited to) compensation received by Insight and its registered representatives. Compensation will be received by Insight, as a broker dealer, when portfolio transactions are effected on behalf of investment advisory clients. Registered representatives may receive compensation as a result of acting in one or both capacities.

It is generally anticipated that Insight will be designated by the client as the broker-dealer for the execution of securities transactions, which are directed by Insight. To the extent that it is, Insight will seek to obtain the best combination of price and execution for such transactions; however, lower commissions or better execution may be available elsewhere, for example, by the execution of the transaction through a so called "discount broker."

Additionally, Insight, as a broker-dealer, may buy securities for itself from, or sell securities it owns to clients of Insight, at which time commissions and or other markups/markdowns may be charged to those clients. To the extent this occurs, you will have the opportunity to approve such transaction prior to settlement.

If an investment advisory client utilizes Insight as the broker-dealer of record, Insight's selection of money market mutual funds or comparable investments in which to hold cash reserves in the client's account will be limited to certain investments. The selection includes money market, municipal money market and government money-market funds, and the issuers of funds pay Insight a distribution fee in its capacity as a broker-dealer. This compensation is in addition to other fees, etc. received from client accounts. Insight's registered representatives may also receive additional compensation based on client account balances being held in the money-market funds ("trailers"). Additionally, cash balances arising from the sales of securities, redemption of debt securities, dividend and interest payments and funds received from clients may be invested/swept automatically on a daily basis. When securities are sold, funds are deposited on settlement date. Funds placed in a client's account by personal check usually will not be invested until the next business day following the day that the deposit is credited to the client's account. Where an unaffiliated broker-dealer or other entity acts as custodian of the client's account assets, Insight will have no control over the manner in which the cash reserves will be handled. The client and/or custodian will make that determination.

Based upon the similarity of investments among client accounts having similar investment objectives, and the fact that Insight may direct the purchase of securities for more than one account simultaneously, and the possible appearance of similarity in the treatment of clients, all client accounts are handled under the following basic conditions, designed to prevent pooling of assets and/or the management of accounts on a de facto pooled basis, resulting in the existence of an investment company. The custody of accounts held by the custodian on behalf of Insight is structured such that each client's securities are held in nominee name only for ministerial purposes and each client's account is maintained as a separate account. The client's beneficial interest in a security does not represent an undivided interest in all the securities held by the custodian, but rather represents a direct and beneficial interest in the client's securities in the account.

Further, each client retains any and all rights afforded under the federal securities laws to proceed directly against the issuer of any underlying security in the client's account. Each client may withdraw, hypothecate, vote or pledge securities in their account upon notice to Insight and each client has the authority to instruct Insight in directing the purchase of certain securities through Insight that might otherwise be purchased in the client's account. At least annually, customer objectives are reviewed with the client and holdings reviewed with respect to keeping in line with those objectives.

Please review Item 12 – Brokerage Practices, and Item 15 – Custody, of this Brochure for further information.

Sale of Other Products and Services

Insight Securities, Inc. also offers non-wrap investment advice to clients in which a client can pay transaction-based fees as well as a fee based on account assets. As such the advisor may have an incentive to recommend non-wrap investment advice to curtail transactional expenses incurred.

Certain associated persons of Insight are licensed insurance brokers, and as such, do on occasion sell insurance products to the clients of Insight. The amount of time spent on these activities is no more than two (2%) percent.

Item 11 – Code of Ethics

Insight has adopted a Code of Ethics to ensure that securities transactions by Insight employees are consistent with Insight's fiduciary duty to its clients and to ensure compliance with legal and regulatory requirements and the firm's standards of business conduct.

The principals and employees of the firm are permitted to invest in the same securities that the firm recommends to clients. They may recommend to clients or may buy and sell securities for client accounts at or about the same time that they buy or sell in their own account. This creates a conflict of interest because the principals and employees of the firm may have an incentive to execute their orders in front of client orders. To mitigate this conflict, employees are not permitted to enter buy or sell orders in the same or similar securities contemporaneously with client orders.

Insight requires transaction confirmation and quarterly reporting for all registered representatives who provide investment advisory services to clients of Insight Securities. A written copy of Insight's Code of Ethics is available upon request, free of charge.

Item 12 – Brokerage Practices

Insight Securities, Inc. does not participate in any soft dollar arrangements with any broker dealer in connection with client securities transactions and any research and recommendations provided by the executing and or clearing broker is used to service all accounts.

Insight will supervise and direct the investments of the client accounts subject to such limitations as the client may impose in writing. Insight, as agent and attorney-in-fact with respect to the client's account, without prior consultation with the client, may place orders for the execution of such securities transactions with Insight or other third party broker/dealers. Insight will allocate brokerage transactions in a manner it believes to be fair and responsible to its clients, and consistent with client objectives. Adhering to a strict formula will not be practicable given the variation in client objectives and guidelines.

Generally, Insight may place orders for the execution of transactions with JPMorgan Clearing Corp. Pershing LLC, or another broker-dealer however such selection will be in compliance with Section 28(e) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. Insight suggests that its clients utilize Insight whereby Insight clears securities transactions on a fully disclosed basis through J. P. Morgan Clearing Corp. and Pershing LLC as an introducing broker. Further, JPMorgan Clearing Corp. and Pershing LLC custody and hold all customer funds and/or securities on behalf of Insight's brokerage customers for purposes of the

Item 13 – Review of Accounts

Insight Securities, Inc., Inc., as investment advisor, reviews all investment advisory accounts. Changes in market prices, interest rates, news stories, earning reports, etc., that are deemed to have an effect on a client account would initiate a review of the account. All investment advisory accounts are reviewed at least monthly by Carlos Legaspy, Chief Executive Officer, or James Kim and James Gaafar, Compliance Officers.

Clients receive statements from the custodian of assets at least quarterly, or monthly, if there is activity in the account. (See Item 15 on Custody) Clients may give written request to receive their statements and trade confirmations electronically from the custodian.

Item 14 – Client Referrals and Other Compensation

Insight Securities, Inc. does not have any arrangements, oral or in writing, where it is paid cash by or receives some economic benefit (including commissions, equipment or non-research services) from a non-client in connection with giving advice to clients.

Insight Securities, Inc. does not directly or indirectly compensates any person for client referrals.

Item 15 – Custody

Insight Securities, Inc. (Insight) may recommend that clients establish brokerage accounts to maintain custody of clients' assets and to execute trades for their accounts with the following custodians as registered broker-dealers and SIPC members:

- ☐ JPMorgan Clearing Corp. (JPMCC)
- ☐ Pershing LLC, a division of Bank of New York Mellon. (Pershing)

While advisors attempt to recommend custodians based on anticipated services needed by the client, the final decision to custody assets with a given custodian is at the discretion of the Advisor's clients, including those accounts under ERISA or IRA rules and regulations, in which case the client is acting as either the plan sponsor or IRA accountholder. Certain custodians may apply fees for custodial services rendered.

Insight is independently owned and operated and not affiliated through management and control with the aforementioned custodians. Custodians provide Insight with access to its institutional trading and custody services, which are typically not available to retail investors. These services generally are available to independent investment advisors on an unsolicited basis, at no charge to them so long as a total of at least a pre-determined amount of the advisor's clients' assets are maintained in accounts at a Custodian. Each custodian's services include brokerage services that are related to the execution of securities transactions, custody, research, including that in the form of advice, analyses and reports, and access to mutual funds and other investments that are otherwise generally available only to institutional investors or would require a significantly higher minimum initial investment.

Custodians are compensated by Insight through commissions or other transaction-related or asset-based fees for securities trades that are executed through the custodian or that settle into custodial accounts. The fact that the advisor pays transaction-based fees may cause a material disincentive to the advisor to transact trades in a client's account.

The cost to trade securities varies between custodians; therefore the advisor may be motivated to recommend the custodian with the lowest trading cost in order to minimize their expenses.

Custodians may also make available to Insight other products and services that benefit Insight but may not benefit its clients' accounts. These benefits may include national, regional or Insight-specific educational events organized and/or sponsored by the custodian(s). Other potential benefits may include occasional business entertainment of personnel of Insight by custodian personnel, some of which may accompany educational opportunities. Other of these products and services assist Insight in managing and administering clients' accounts. These include software and other technology (and related technological training) that provide access to client account data (such as trade confirmations and account statements), facilitate trade execution (and allocation of aggregated trade orders for multiple client accounts), provide research, pricing information and other market data, facilitate payment of Insight's fees from its clients' accounts, and assist with back-office training and support functions, recordkeeping and client reporting. Many of these services generally may be used to service all or some substantial number of Insight accounts. The Custodians also makes available to Insight other services intended to help Insight manage and further develop its business enterprise. These services may include professional compliance, legal and business consulting, publications and conferences on practice management, information technology, business succession, regulatory compliance, employee benefits providers, human capital consultants, insurance and marketing. In addition, the custodians may make available, arrange and/or pay vendors for these types of services rendered to Insight by independent third parties. Custodians may discount or waive fees it would otherwise charge for some of these services or pay all or a part of the fees of a third-party providing these services to Insight. While, as a fiduciary, Insight endeavors to act in its clients' best interests, Insight's recommendation that clients maintain their assets in accounts at a certain custodian may be based in part on the benefit to Insight of the availability of some of the foregoing products and services and other arrangements and not solely on the nature, cost or quality of custody and brokerage services provided, which may create a potential conflict of interest.

Clients will also receive statements at least quarterly from their custodian that details transactions, lists all security positions, realized and unrealized gains or losses. These statements enable the client to review and audit the performance of their investment advisory account. Insight Securities, Inc. urges you to carefully review your statements.

Item 16 – Investment Discretion

Insight will supervise and direct the investments of the client accounts subject to such limitations as the client may impose in writing. Insight, as agent and attorney-in-fact with respect to the client's account, without prior consultation with the client, may, (a) direct the purchase, sell, exchange, conversion, and otherwise trade in stocks, bonds and other securities including money market instruments, (b) direct the amount of securities purchased, sold, exchanged, and otherwise traded.

Item 17 – Voting Client Securities

As a matter of firm policy and practice, Insight Securities, Inc. does not have any authority to and does not vote proxies on behalf of advisory clients. Clients retain the responsibility for receiving and voting proxies for any and all securities maintained in client portfolios. Insight Securities, Inc. may provide advice to clients regarding the clients' voting of proxies.

Item 18 – Financial Information

Registered investment advisers are required in this Item to provide you with certain financial information or disclosures about Insight Securities, Inc.' financial condition. Insight Securities, Inc. has no financial commitment that impairs its ability to meet contractual and fiduciary commitments to clients, and has not been the subject of a bankruptcy proceeding.
