Item 4 Advisory Business

Peak Investment Management, Ltd. is a SEC-registered investment adviser with its principal place of business located in Montana. Peak Investment Management, Ltd. began conducting business in 1998.

Listed below are the firm's principal shareholders (i.e., those individuals and/or entities controlling 25% or more of this company).

- ALPS Corporation, our parent company (see Item 10)

Peak Investment Management, Ltd. offers the following advisory services to our clients:

INVESTMENT SUPERVISORY SERVICES ("ISS") INDIVIDUAL PORTFOLIO MANAGEMENT

Our firm provides continuous advice to a client regarding the investment of client funds based on the individual needs of the client. Through personal discussions in which goals and objectives based on a client's particular circumstances are established, we develop a client's personal investment policy and create and manage a portfolio based on that policy. During our data-gathering process, we determine the client's individual objectives, time horizons, risk tolerance, and liquidity needs. As appropriate, we also review and discuss a client's prior investment history, as well as family composition, if applicable, and background.

We manage these advisory accounts on a discretionary basis. Account supervision is guided by the client's stated objectives (i.e., maximum capital appreciation, growth, income, or growth and income), as well as tax considerations.

Clients may impose reasonable restrictions on investing in certain securities, types of securities, or industry sectors.

Our investment recommendations are not limited to any specific product or service offered by a broker-dealer and will generally include advice regarding the following securities:

- Exchange-listed securities
- Securities traded over-the-counter
- Foreign issuers
- Warrants
- Corporate debt securities (other than commercial paper)
- Commercial paper
- Certificates of deposit
- Municipal securities
- Open-end (Mutual funds) and closed-end Investment Trust Securities
- Exchange Traded Funds (ETF)

- United States Treasury and Agency securities
- Options contracts on securities
- Futures contracts on tangibles
- Futures contracts on intangibles
- Interests in partnerships investing in real estate
- Interests in partnerships investing in the oil and gas industry

Because some types of investments involve certain additional degrees of risk, they will only be implemented/recommended when consistent with the client's stated investment objectives, tolerance for risk, liquidity and suitability.

AMOUNT OF MANAGED ASSETS

As of 12/31/2014, we were actively managing $202,302,955 of clients' assets on a discretionary basis.

Item 5 Fees and Compensation

INVESTMENT SUPERVISORY SERVICES ("ISS") INDIVIDUAL PORTFOLIO MANAGEMENT FEES

Our annual fees for Investment Supervisory Services are based upon a percentage of assets under management and generally range from 1.00% to .55%.

The annualized fee for Investment Supervisory Services are charged as a percentage of assets under management, according to the following schedules:

CUSTOM PORTFOLIO FEE SCHEDULE

Total Asset Value	Annual Fee

$20,000,001 to $30,000,000.....	0.65%
$30,000,001 to $40,000,000.....	0.60%
$40,000,001 to $50,000,000.....	0.55%
$50,000,001 and above.....	Negotiable

EXCHANGE TRADED FUND (ETF) FEE SCHEDULE

Total Asset Value	Annual Fee
$ 0 to $ 500,000.....	0.75%
$ 500,001 to $5,000,000.....	0.50%
$5,000,001 and above.....	0.45%

A minimum of $1,000,000 of assets under management is required for this service. This account size may be negotiable under certain circumstances. Peak Investment Management, Ltd. may group certain related client accounts for the purposes of achieving the minimum account size and determining the annualized fee.

Limited Negotiability of Advisory Fees: Although Peak Investment Management, Ltd. has established the aforementioned fee schedule(s), we retain the discretion to negotiate alternative fees (for example on Fixed Income only accounts) on a client-by-client basis. Client facts, circumstances and needs are considered in determining the fee schedule. These include the complexity of the client, assets to be placed under management, anticipated future additional assets; related accounts; portfolio style, account composition, reports, among other factors. The specific annual fee schedule is identified in the contract between the adviser and each client.

Discounts, not generally available to our advisory clients, may be offered to family members and friends of associated persons of our firm. In some situations, discounts will apply to new clients, with initial cash deposits, until their funds are fully invested.

We may group certain related client accounts for the purposes of achieving the minimum account size requirements and determining the annualized fee.

GENERAL INFORMATION

Termination of the Advisory Relationship: A client agreement may be canceled at any time, by either party, for any reason upon receipt of 30 days written notice. Upon termination of any account, any prepaid, unearned fees will be promptly refunded. In calculating a client's reimbursement of fees, we will pro rate the reimbursement according to the number of days remaining in the billing period.

Mutual Fund Fees: All fees paid to Peak Investment Management, Ltd. for investment advisory services are separate and distinct from the fees and expenses charged by mutual funds and/or ETFs to their shareholders. These fees and expenses are described in each fund's prospectus. These fees will generally include a management fee, other fund expenses, and a possible distribution fee. If the fund also imposes sales charges, a client may pay an initial or deferred sales charge. A client could invest in a mutual fund directly, without our services. In that case, the client would not receive the services provided by our firm which are designed, among other things, to assist the client in determining which mutual fund or funds are most appropriate to each client's financial condition and objectives. Accordingly, the client should review both the fees charged by the funds and our fees to fully understand the total amount of fees to be paid by the client and to thereby evaluate the advisory services being provided.

Additional Fees and Expenses: In addition to our advisory fees, clients are also responsible for the fees and expenses charged by custodians and imposed by broker dealers, including, but not limited to, any transaction charges imposed by a broker dealer with which an independent investment manager effects transactions for the client's account(s). Please refer to the "Brokerage Practices" section (Item 12) of this Form ADV for additional information.

Grandfathering of Minimum Account Requirements: Pre-existing advisory clients are subject to Peak Investment Management, Ltd.'s minimum account requirements and advisory fees in effect at the time the client entered into the advisory relationship. Therefore, our firm's minimum account requirements will differ among clients.

ERISA Accounts: Peak Investment Management, Ltd. is deemed to be a fiduciary to advisory clients that are employee benefit plans or individual retirement accounts (IRAs) pursuant to the Employee Retirement Income and Securities Act ("ERISA"), and regulations under the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 (the "Code"), respectively. As such, our firm is subject to specific duties and obligations under ERISA and the Internal Revenue Code that include among other things, restrictions concerning certain forms of compensation. To avoid engaging in prohibited transactions, Peak Investment Management, Ltd. may only charge fees for investment advice about products for which our firm and/or our related persons do not receive any commissions or 12b-1 fees.

Advisory Fees in General: Clients should note that similar advisory services may (or may not) be available from other registered (or unregistered) investment advisers for similar or lower fees.

Limited Prepayment of Fees: Under no circumstances do we require or solicit payment of fees in excess of $1200 more than six months in advance of services rendered.

Item 8 Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies and Risk of Loss

METHODS OF ANALYSIS

We use the following methods of analysis in formulating our investment advice and/or managing client assets:

Fundamental Analysis. We attempt to measure the intrinsic value of a security by looking at economic and financial factors (including the overall economy, industry conditions, and the financial condition and management of the company itself) to determine if the company is underpriced (indicating it may be a good time to buy) or overpriced (indicating it may be time to sell).

Fundamental analysis does not attempt to anticipate market movements. This presents a potential risk, as the price of a security can move up or down along with the overall market regardless of the economic and financial factors considered in evaluating the stock.

Technical Analysis. We analyze past market movements and apply that analysis to the present in an attempt to recognize recurring patterns of investor behavior and potential price movement.

Technical analysis does not consider the underlying financial condition of a company. This presents a risk in that a poorly-managed or financially unsound company may underperform regardless of market movement.

Quantitative Analysis. We use mathematical models in an attempt to obtain more accurate measurements of a company's quantifiable data, such as the value of a share price or earnings per share, and predict changes to that data.

A risk in using quantitative analysis is that the models used may be based on assumptions that prove to be incorrect.

Asset Allocation. We also attempt to identify an appropriate ratio of equities, fixed income, and cash suitable to the client's investment goals and risk tolerance.

A risk of asset allocation is that the client may not participate in sharp increases in a particular security, industry or market sector. Another risk is that the ratio of equities, fixed income, and cash will change over time due to stock and market movements and, if not corrected, will no longer be appropriate for the client's goals.

Mutual Fund and/or ETF Analysis. We look at the experience and track record of the manager of the mutual fund or ETF in an attempt to determine if that manager has demonstrated an ability to invest over a period of time and in different economic conditions. We also look at the underlying assets in a mutual fund or ETF in an attempt to determine if there is significant overlap in the underlying investments held in another fund(s) in the client's portfolio. We also monitor the funds or ETFs in an attempt to determine if they are continuing to follow their stated investment strategy.

A risk of mutual fund and/or ETF analysis is that, as in all securities investments, past performance does not guarantee future results. A manager who has been successful may not be able to replicate that success in the future. In addition, as we do not control the underlying investments in a fund or ETF, managers of different funds held by the client may purchase the same security, increasing the risk to the client if that security were to fall in value. There is also a risk that a manager may deviate from the stated investment mandate or strategy of the fund or ETF, which could make the holding(s) less suitable for the client's portfolio.

Risks for all forms of analysis. Our securities analysis methods rely on the assumption that the companies whose securities we purchase and sell, the rating agencies that review these securities, and other publicly-available sources of information about these securities, are providing accurate and unbiased data. While we are alert to indications that data may be incorrect, there is always a risk that our analysis may be compromised by inaccurate or misleading information.

INVESTMENT STRATEGIES

We use the following strategies in managing client accounts, provided that such strategies are appropriate to the needs of the client and consistent with the client's investment objectives, risk tolerance, and time horizons, among other considerations:

Long-term purchases. We purchase securities with the idea of holding them in the client's account for a year or longer. Typically we employ this strategy when:

- we believe the securities to be currently undervalued, and/or
- we want exposure to a particular asset class over time, regardless of the current projection for this class.

A risk in a long-term purchase strategy is that by holding the security for this length of time, we may not take advantage of short-term gains that could be profitable to a client. Moreover, if our predictions are incorrect, a security may decline sharply in value before we make the decision to sell.

Short-term purchases. When utilizing this strategy, we purchase securities with the idea of selling them within a relatively short time (typically a year or less). We do this in an attempt to take advantage of conditions that we believe will soon result in a price swing in the securities we purchase.

Trading. We purchase securities with the idea of selling them very quickly (typically within 30 days or less). We do this in an attempt to take advantage of our predictions of brief price swings.

Short sales. We borrow shares of a stock for your portfolio from someone who owns the stock on a promise to replace the shares on a future date at a certain price. Those borrowed shares are then sold. On the agreed-upon future date, we buy the same stock and return the shares to the original owner. We engage in short selling based on our determination that the stock will go down in price after we have borrowed the shares. If we are correct and the stock price has gone down since the shares were purchased from the original owner, the client account realizes the profit.

Margin transactions. We will purchase stocks for your portfolio with money borrowed from your brokerage account. This allows you to purchase more stock than you would be able to with your available cash, and allows us to purchase stock without selling other holdings.

Option writing. We may use options as an investment strategy. An option is a contract that gives the buyer the right, but not the obligation, to buy or sell an asset (such as a share of stock) at a specific price on or before a certain date. An option, just like a stock or bond, is a security. An option is also a derivative, because it derives its value from an underlying asset. The two types of options are calls and puts:

- A call gives us the right to buy an asset at a certain price within a specific period of time. We will buy a call if we have determined that the stock will increase substantially before the option expires.
- A put gives us the holder the right to sell an asset at a certain price within a specific period of time. We will buy a put if we have determined that the price of the stock will fall before the option expires.

We will use options to speculate on the possibility of a sharp price swing. We will also use options to "hedge" a purchase of the underlying security; in other words, we will use an option purchase to limit the potential upside and downside of a security we have purchased for your portfolio.

We use "covered calls", in which we sell an option on security you own. In this strategy, you receive a fee for making the option available, and the person purchasing the option has the right to buy the security from you at an agreed-upon price.

We use "selling a put", in which we sell a put option. In this strategy, you receive a fee for making the option available, and the person purchasing the option has the right to sell you the security at an agreed-upon price.

We use a "spreading strategy", in which we purchase two or more option contracts (for example, a call option that you buy and a call option that you sell) for the same underlying security. This effectively puts you on both sides of the market, but with the ability to vary price, time and other factors.

Risk of Loss. Securities investments are not guaranteed and you may lose money on your investments. We ask that you work with us to help us understand your tolerance for risk.

Item 9 Disciplinary Information

We are required to disclose any legal or disciplinary events that are material to a client's or prospective client's evaluation of our advisory business or the integrity of our management.

Our firm and our management personnel have no reportable disciplinary events to disclose.

Item 10 Other Financial Industry Activities and Affiliations

In addition, Peak Investment Management, Ltd. is a sister-organization and related through ALPS Corporation to the ALPS Property and Casualty Insurance Company. In addition, Robert W. Minto, Jr. (sole Director of Peak Investment Management, Ltd.) is separately employed by ALPS Corporation as Executive Chair.

Peak Investment Management, Ltd. is operationally independent of ALPS Corporation and clients are not under obligation to engage with employees of ALPS Corporation or affiliated individuals when considering implementation of advisory recommendations. The implementation of any or all recommendations is solely at the discretion of the client.

Clients should be aware that the receipt of additional compensation by Peak Investment Management, Ltd. and its management persons or employees creates a conflict of interest that may impair the objectivity of our firm and these individuals when making advisory recommendations. Peak Investment Management, Ltd. endeavors at all times to put the interest of its clients first as part of our fiduciary duty as a registered investment adviser; we take the following steps to address this conflict:

- we disclose to clients the existence of all material conflicts of interest;
- we collect, maintain and document accurate, complete and relevant client background information, including the client's financial goals, objectives and risk tolerance;

- our firm's management conducts regular reviews of each client account to verify that all recommendations made to a client are suitable to the client's needs and circumstances;
- we periodically monitor outside employment activities, of Peak Investment Management, Ltd. employees and affiliated persons, to verify that any conflicts of interest continue to be properly addressed by our firm; and
- we educate our employees regarding the responsibilities of a fiduciary, including the need for having a reasonable and independent basis for the investment advice provided to clients.

Specific conflicts of interest that pertain to Peak Investment Management, Ltd. (Peak) and our affiliation with ALPS Corporation (ALPS) are:

- Our Parent Company (ALPS) is our owner.
- We share office space with ALPS and its subsidiaries.
- Peak purchases certain administrative services from ALPS (acct, IT, mktg, HR, office space).
- ALPS Executive Chair is the sole director for Peak.
- Peak's President is a CPA and has done financial consulting work for a company (outside of Peak and for a profit) that a current client owned controlling interest in.
- Peak's President serves as a Trustee for a current Peak client. The Trust account is not managed by Peak, nor is Peak's President receiving any compensation for serving as Trustee.
- Peak manages accounts for ALPS employees, ALPS Board members and relationships of Board members (current and past), ALPS employee's families, ALPS clients, and ALPS tenants.
- Peak may manage accounts for family and friends of Peak employees.
- Peak manages corporate accounts that may share the same director.
- While ALPS and its subsidiaries may refer clients to Peak and vice versa, allowing certain clients to be shared, each shared client will be billed separately by Peak and ALPS and neither will be paid for the referral.
- Peak employees may have personal accounts that are actively traded, and sometimes may be traded more frequently than clients.
- Peak may execute block trades with our regular clients and ALPS related accounts together. (The only exclusion is Peak employees will not be included in a client block.)
- Peak has Corporate account at TD Ameritrade.
- ALPS Executive Chair holds supervisory authority over the Peak President. However, he is not a direct access person or employee of Peak.

We can assure that our non-affiliated clients' interests will be placed first and foremost before the ALPS related accounts and that we are not favoring them in any way.

Item 11 Code of Ethics, Participation or Interest in Client Transactions and Personal Trading

Our firm has adopted a Code of Ethics which sets forth high ethical standards of business conduct that we require of our employees, including compliance with applicable federal securities laws.

Peak Investment Management, Ltd. and our personnel owe a duty of loyalty, fairness and good faith towards our clients, and have an obligation to adhere not only to the specific provisions of the Code of Ethics but to the general principles that guide the Code.

Our Code of Ethics includes policies and procedures for the review of quarterly securities transactions reports as well as initial and annual securities holdings reports that must be submitted by the firm's access persons. Among other things, our Code of Ethics also requires the prior approval of any acquisition of securities in a limited offering (e.g., private placement) or an initial public offering. Our code also provides for oversight, enforcement and record keeping provisions.

Peak Investment Management, Ltd.'s Code of Ethics further includes the firm's policy prohibiting the use of material non-public information. While we do not believe that we have any particular access to non-public information, all employees are reminded that such information may not be used in a personal or professional capacity.

A copy of our Code of Ethics is available to our advisory clients and prospective clients. You may request a copy by email sent to jneuman@peakinvestment.com, or by calling us at 406-721-7325.

Our Code of Ethics is designed to assure that the personal securities transactions, activities and interests of our employees will not interfere with (i) making decisions in the best interest of advisory clients and (ii) implementing such decisions while, at the same time, allowing employees to invest for their own accounts.

Our firm and/or individuals associated with our firm may buy or sell for their personal accounts securities identical to or different from those recommended to our clients. In addition, any related person may have an interest or position in a certain securities which may also be recommended to a client.

It is the expressed policy of our firm that no person employed by us may purchase or sell the same security within a blackout period of 3 business days prior to and after any transaction being implemented for an advisory account, thereby preventing such employees from benefiting from transactions placed on behalf of advisory accounts. There are two exceptions to the blackout period. The first one is on a sell basis; meaning that if all of the advisory clients are sold out of the same security and there is not a reason for them to buy back in, then any Peak Investment Management Ltd. access employee can sell out of the same position without the 3 business day blackout period. The second exception to the blackout period, in like securities held with our advisory clients, is for mandatory reorganization acts like cash buyouts or calls/maturities for fixed income.

We will aggregate client transactions where possible and when compliant with our duty to seek best execution for our clients. In these instances, participating clients will receive an average share price and transaction costs will be shared equally and on a pro-rata basis. In the instances where there is a partial fill of a particular batched order, we will allocate all purchases in a fair and clearly documented manner with all accounts allocated a portion of the partial fill paying the same average price. Our employee accounts will be excluded in both aggregate transactions and in the partial fill allocations.

As these situations represent actual or potential conflicts of interest to our clients, we have established the following policies and procedures for implementing our firm's Code of Ethics, to ensure our firm complies with its regulatory obligations and provides our clients and potential clients with full and fair disclosure of such conflicts of interest:

1. No principal or employee of our firm may put his or her own interest above the interest of an advisory client.
2. No principal or employee of our firm may buy or sell securities for their personal portfolios where their decision is a result of information received as a result of his or her employment unless the information is also available to the investing public.
3. It is the expressed policy of our firm that no person employed by us may purchase or sell any security within a blackout period of 3 business days prior to and after any transaction being implemented for an advisory account. This prevents such employees from benefiting from transactions placed on behalf of advisory accounts.
4. Our firm requires prior approval for any IPO or private placement investments by related persons of the firm.
5. We maintain a report of all reportable securities holdings for our firm employees on an annual basis. Any transactions are submitted on a Quarterly Transaction Report by the employee and reviewed by our firm's Chief Compliance Officer.
6. We have established procedures for the maintenance of all required books and records.
7. All of our principals and employees must act in accordance with all applicable Federal and State regulations governing registered investment advisory practices.
8. We require delivery and acknowledgment of the Code of Ethics by each supervised person of our firm.
9. We have established policies requiring the reporting of Code of Ethics violations to our senior management.
10. Any individual who violates any of the above restrictions may be subject to termination.

As disclosed in the preceding section of this Brochure (Item 10), related persons of our firm are separately licensed to sell liability insurance to Attorneys. Please refer to Item 10 for a detailed explanation of these relationships and important conflict of interest disclosures.

Item 12 Brokerage Practices

For discretionary clients, Peak Investment Management, Ltd. requires these clients to provide us with written authority to determine the broker dealer to use and the commission costs that will be charged to these clients for these transactions.

These clients must include any limitations on this discretionary authority in this written authority statement. Clients may change/amend these limitations as required. Such amendments must be provided to us in writing.

Peak Investment Management, Ltd. will block trades where possible and when advantageous to clients. This blocking of trades permits the trading of aggregate blocks of securities composed of assets from multiple client accounts, so long as transaction costs are shared equally and on a pro-rated basis between all accounts included in any such block.

Block trading may allow us to execute equity trades in a timelier, more equitable manner, at an average share price. Peak Investment Management, Ltd. will typically aggregate trades among clients whose accounts can be traded at a given broker, and generally will rotate or vary the order of brokers through which it places trades for clients on any particular day.

Specific procedures for all order aggregation:

- Peak policies for the aggregation of transactions shall be disclosed in the adviser's Form ADV and separately to the adviser's existing clients and the broker-dealer through which such orders are placed;
- Peak will not aggregate transactions unless aggregation is consistent with its duty to seek best execution and the terms of adviser's investment advisory agreement with each client for which trades are being aggregated;
- No advisory client will be favored over any other client; each client that participates in an aggregated order will participate at the average share price for all Peak transactions in that security on a given business day, with transaction costs shared pro-rata based on each client's participation in the transaction;
- Peak will prepare, before entering an aggregated order, a written pre-allocation statement specifying the participating client accounts and how to allocate the order among those clients;
- If the aggregated order is filled in its entirety, it will be allocated among clients in accordance with the pre-allocation statement; if the order is partially filled, it will be allocated according to each asset class additional procedures explained below.
- The order may be allocated on a basis different from that specified in the pre-allocation statement if all client accounts receive fair and equitable treatment and the reason for different allocation is explained in writing and is approved in writing by adviser's Chief Compliance Officer no later than one hour after the opening of the markets on the trading day following the day the order was executed;

- Peak books and records will separately reflect, for each client account, the orders of which are aggregated, the securities held by, and bought and sold for that account;
- Funds and securities of clients whose orders are aggregated will be deposited with the qualified custodian and neither the client's cash nor their securities will be held collectively any longer than is necessary to settle the purchase or sale in question on a delivery versus payment basis; cash or securities held collectively for clients will be delivered out to the qualified custodian as soon as practicable following the settlement;
- Peak will receive no additional compensation of any kind as a result of the proposed aggregation; and
- Individual investment advice and treatment will be accorded to each advisory client.

Additional equity trading procedures:

1. The portfolio manager must determine that the purchase or sale of the particular security involved is appropriate for the client and consistent with the client's investment objectives and with any investment guidelines or restrictions applicable to the client's account.
2. The portfolio manager must reasonably believe that the order aggregation will benefit and will enable Peak to seek best execution for each client participating in the aggregated order. This requires a good faith judgment at the time the order is placed for the execution. It does not mean that the determination made in advance of the transaction must always prove to have been correct in the light of a "20-20 hindsight" perspective. Best execution includes the duty to seek the best quality of execution, as well as the best net price.
3. Prior to entry of an aggregated order, a written order/pre-allocation ticket must be completed and signed which identifies each client account participating in the order and the proposed allocation of the order, upon completion, to those clients (unless it falls into the De minimus category explained in number 4).
4. De minimus Rule: If there are 5 accounts or less, a signed printed page of the accounts and allocation will be accepted as a pre-allocation ticket.
5. If the order is filled in its entirety, it will be allocated among clients in accordance with the Pre-Allocation Trading Sheet

6. If the order cannot be executed in full at the same price or time, the securities actually purchased or sold by the close of each business day will be allocated to participating client accounts in accordance with the pre-allocation trading sheet and after the removal of conflicted clients affiliated or related to the firm. However, adjustments to this allocation may be made to participating client accounts in accordance with the pre-allocation trading sheet. Furthermore, adjustments to this allocation may be made to avoid having odd amounts of shares held in any client account, or to avoid the extra commission charges in smaller accounts. *In the event that excessive trading fees will disadvantage some clients (smaller accounts or small position allocations in particular), allocations may be filled in their entirety, beginning with non-affiliated or unrelated clients.
7. De minimus rule: If aggregated order receives a partial fill below 30% of total order, the firm may allocate orders to specific accounts, beginning with non-affiliated or unrelated clients first. De minimus allocations will be done in a fair and reasonable manner that the firm deems appropriate so as to not disadvantage any individual client.
8. Daily Blotter will be kept of all trading done in client accounts. Each blotter must include the account number, account name, the direction of the trade, the number of shares, the security, the price (mutual funds & unit trusts are not known until the following day), the custodian and must be electronically signed by the trader or portfolio manager. The blotters must be available to the Compliance Officer or the assistant before the end of the business day. In addition, the Trade Blotter showing the electronic approval signature, plus all documents supporting the daily trade, will be stored in electronic format.
9. Orders to buy or sell directed by clients will be indicated as such on the daily trade blotter.
10. The trader(s) will review daily trades prior to 4:00 PM MST each day to ensure late executions of orders are allocated properly.

Additional fixed income trading procedures:

1. Typically fixed income investments are made on the secondary market based on cash availability for the client.
2. The portfolio manager must determine that the purchase or sale of the fixed income investment involved is appropriate for the client and consistent with the client's investment objectives and with any investment guidelines or restrictions applicable to the client's account.

3. Typically clients who already hold matchers of the same fixed income security being purchased, will more than likely receive the additional bonds.
4. Peak will strive to seek best execution for each client participating in all offers. This requires a good faith judgment at the time the order is placed for the execution. It does not mean that the determination made in advance of the transaction must always prove to have been correct in the light of a "20-20 hindsight" perspective. Best execution includes the duty to seek the best quality of execution, as well as the best net price. This is why Peak will often use Prime Brokers.
5. Daily Blotter will be kept of all trading done in client accounts. Each blotter must include the account number, account name, the direction of the trade, the amount of bonds, the security, the price, the custodian and must be electronically signed by the trader or portfolio manager. The blotters must be available to the Compliance Officer or the assistant before the end of the business day. In addition, the Trade Blotter showing the electronic signature, plus all documents supporting the daily trade, will be stored in electronic format.
6. Orders to buy or sell directed by clients will be indicated as such on the daily trade blotter.
7. Fixed income securities are purchased based on availability of attractive securities and the availability of client funds, subject to a client's investment guidelines and restrictions. With the exception of the clients who already hold matchers of the same fixed income security, no client or account will be favored over another.
8. Fixed income securities are normally held to maturity but when they are sold due to changes in market conditions or credit quality issues, the securities from all client accounts are sold at the same time, unless there is a special circumstance. Fixed income securities sold due to a client directed trade or to raise cash in an account will be so indicated on the trade blotter.

Peak Investment Management, Ltd. participates in the institutional customer program offered by TD Ameritrade Institutional. TD Ameritrade Institutional is a division of TD Ameritrade Inc., member SIPC ("TD Ameritrade"), an unaffiliated SEC-registered broker-dealer and FINRA member. TD Ameritrade offers services to independent investment advisers which include custody of securities, trade execution, clearance and settlement of transactions.

There is no direct link between our firm's participation in the program and the investment advice we give to our clients, although we receive economic benefits through our participation in the program that are typically not available to TD Ameritrade retail investors. These benefits include the following products and services (provided without cost or at a discount): duplicate client statements and confirmations; research related products and tools; consulting services; access to a trading desk serving adviser participants; access to block trading (which provides the ability to aggregate securities transactions for execution and then allocate the appropriate shares to client accounts); prime brokerage trading (which provides the ability to place trades outside of TD Ameritrade but then settle at TD Ameritrade for clients that meet certain account size); the ability to have advisory fees deducted directly from client accounts; access to an electronic communications network for client account information; access to mutual funds with no transaction fees and to certain Institutional money managers; and discounts on research, technology, and practice management products or services provided to Peak Investment Management, Ltd. by third party vendors. Some of the products and services made available by TD Ameritrade through the program may benefit Peak Investment Management, Ltd. but may not benefit our client accounts. These products or services may assist us in managing and administering client accounts, including accounts not maintained at TD Ameritrade. Other services made available by TD Ameritrade are intended to help us manage and further develop our business enterprise. The benefits received by Peak Investment Management, Ltd. through participation in the program do not depend on the amount of brokerage transactions directed to TD Ameritrade. Clients should be aware, however, that the receipt of economic benefits by Peak Investment Management, Ltd. or our related persons in and of itself creates a potential conflict of interest and may indirectly influence our recommendation of TD Ameritrade for custody and brokerage services.

Item 13 Review of Accounts

INVESTMENT SUPERVISORY SERVICES ("ISS") INDIVIDUAL PORTFOLIO MANAGEMENT

REVIEWS: While the underlying securities within Individual Portfolio Management Services accounts are continually monitored, these accounts are reviewed at least monthly. Accounts are reviewed in the context of each client's stated investment objectives and guidelines. More frequent reviews may be triggered by material changes in variables such as the client's individual circumstances, or the market, political or economic environment.

These accounts are reviewed by: David Rehbein, President

REPORTS: In addition to the monthly statements and confirmations of transactions that clients receive from their broker-dealer, we provide quarterly reports summarizing account performance, balances and holdings.

Item 14 Client Referrals and Other Compensation

Peak Investment Management, Ltd. may pay referral fees to independent persons or firms ("Solicitors") for introducing clients to us. Whenever we pay a referral fee, we require the Solicitor to provide the prospective client with a copy of this document (our Firm Brochure) and a separate disclosure statement that includes the following information:

- the Solicitor's name and relationship with our firm;
- the fact that the Solicitor is being paid a referral fee;
- the amount of the fee; and
- whether the fee paid to us by the client will be increased above our normal fees in order to compensate the Solicitor.

As a matter of firm practice, the advisory fees paid to us by clients referred by solicitors will not be increased as a result of any referral.

It is Peak Investment Management, Ltd.'s policy not to accept or allow our related persons to accept any form of compensation, including cash, sales awards or other prizes, from a non-client in conjunction with the advisory services we provide to our clients.

Item 15 Custody

We previously disclosed in the "Fees and Compensation" section (Item 5) of this Brochure that our firm directly debits advisory fees from client accounts.

As part of this billing process, the client's custodian is advised of the amount of the fee to be deducted from that client's account. On at least a quarterly basis, the custodian is required to send to the client a statement showing all transactions within the account during the reporting period.

Because the custodian does not calculate the amount of the fee to be deducted, it is important for clients to carefully review their custodial statements to verify the accuracy of the calculation, among other things. Clients should contact us directly if they believe that there may be an error in their statement.

In addition to the periodic statements that clients receive directly from their custodians, we also send reports directly to our clients on a quarterly basis. We urge our clients to carefully compare the information provided on these statements to ensure that all account transactions, holdings and values are correct and current.

Our firm does not have actual or constructive custody of client accounts.

Item 16 Investment Discretion

Clients may hire us to provide discretionary asset management services, in which case we place trades in a client's account without contacting the client prior to each trade to obtain the client's permission.

Our discretionary authority includes the ability to do the following without contacting the client:

- determine the security to buy or sell; and/or
- determine the amount of the security to buy or sell

Clients give us discretionary authority when they sign a discretionary agreement with our firm, and may limit this authority by giving us written instructions. Clients may also change/amend such limitations by once again providing us with written instructions.

Item 17 Voting Client Securities

We vote proxies for all client accounts; however, you always have the right to vote proxies yourself. You can exercise this right by instructing us in writing to not vote proxies in your account.

We will vote proxies in the best interests of its clients and in accordance with our established policies and procedures. Our firm will retain all proxy voting books and records for the requisite period of time, including a copy of each proxy statement received, a record of each vote cast, a copy of any document created by us that was material to making a decision how to vote proxies, and a copy of each written client request for information on how the adviser voted proxies. If our firm has a conflict of interest in voting a particular action, we will notify the client of the conflict and retain an independent third-party to cast a vote.

Clients may obtain a copy of our complete proxy voting policies and procedures by contacting Jessica Neuman by telephone, email, or in writing. Clients may request, in writing, information on how proxies for his/her shares were voted. If any client requests a copy of our complete proxy policies and procedures or how we voted proxies for his/her account(s), we will promptly provide such information to the client.

We will neither advise nor act on behalf of the client in legal proceedings involving companies whose securities are held in the client's account(s), including, but not limited to, the filing of "Proofs of Claim" in class action settlements. If desired, clients may direct us to transmit copies of class action notices to the client or a third party. Upon such direction, we will make commercially reasonable efforts to forward such notices in a timely manner.

With respect to ERISA accounts, we will vote proxies unless the plan documents specifically reserve the plan sponsor's right to vote proxies. To direct us to vote a proxy in a particular manner, clients should contact David Rehbein by telephone, email, or in writing.

You can instruct us to vote proxies according to particular criteria (for example, to always vote with management, or to vote for or against a proposal to allow a so-called "poison pill" defense against a possible takeover). These requests must be made in writing. You can also instruct us on how to cast your vote in a particular proxy contest by contacting us at 406-721-7325 or 1-888-310-7325.

Item 18 Financial Information

Under no circumstances do we require or solicit payment of fees in excess of $1200 per client more than six months in advance of services rendered. Therefore, we are not required to include a financial statement.

As an advisory firm that maintains discretionary authority for client accounts, we are also required to disclose any financial condition that is reasonable likely to impair our ability to meet our contractual obligations. Peak Investment Management, Ltd. has no such financial circumstances to report.

Peak Investment Management, Ltd. has not been the subject of a bankruptcy petition at any time during the past ten years.
