Item 4- Services, Fees and Compensation

Sterling offers the Elite UMA Program (the “Program”), a “wrap fee” arrangement where a single Program fee pays for the investment advisory services, brokerage and other transaction costs and custodian fees for Program accounts. The Program fee is exclusive of optional tax management options and/or underlying investment manager expenses. Client may indirectly bear the fees and expenses charged by the underlying mutual funds and will directly bear the fees of any separate account manager used in the account as such fees are not covered by the Program fee.

The account may be invested partially or entirely in Sterling Capital Funds (“Affiliated Funds”) and, except where prohibited by law, (i) Program fees are separate from and in addition to any fees paid by the Affiliated Funds to Sterling (including any management fees paid by Affiliated Funds); (ii) the fees charged for the services, together with fees paid to Sterling indirectly through investments in Affiliated Funds may be higher than the fees charged by other investment advisers for similar advisory services; and (iii) clients may invest in mutual funds outside the Program, including Affiliated Funds, without incurring any additional fees.

The Program is an investment advisory program with actively managed model portfolio investment strategies designed for clients with different financial circumstances, investment objectives and risk tolerance (each a “Model Strategy”).

BB&T Investment Services, Inc., (“BB&T IS”) an affiliate of Sterling that is a state registered investment adviser and an FINRA-registered broker-dealer, works with Sterling to make the Program available to interested clients. Sterling will pay BB&T IS a fee for referrals of advisory clients. BB&T IS is an affiliate of Sterling via common control.

Sterling also works with Adhesion Wealth Advisor Solutions (“Adhesion”), the Program’s overlay manager and the Program’s custodians, Pershing, LLC or Charles Schwab.

The Program currently offers nine Model Strategies which include the following:

- Diversified Income – The Diversified Income Model is for individuals who seek a higher current income with a secondary objective of total return.
- Fixed Income Model - The Fixed Income Model is for individuals that seek preservation of principal. They are concerned with safety of principal and seek a steady return. Assets for this type of investor may be affected by changes in interest rates. The client may choose from a Core, Intermediate or Short fixed income model.
- Municipal Bond Model - The Municipal Bond Model strives to generate consistent risk-adjusted total returns, while providing liquidity and capital preservation. This Model is appropriate for investors who seek tax-free income.
- Income Model – The Income Model is for individuals that can accept more risk than Fixed Income Model investors but still require a low probability of loss of principal. Principal safety is a primary concern. This type of investor also desires to keep up with inflation.
- Income Primary Model- The Income Primary Model is geared toward individuals seeking current income along with capital appreciation. In general, the Income Primary Model involves a moderate level of volatility. It is appropriate for investors with intermediate time horizons.

- Income and Growth Model – The Income and Growth Model is geared toward individuals seeking a balance between capital appreciation and stability. While some losses may be acceptable, the portfolio should consist of both growth instruments and more conservative, steady instruments. In general, the Income & Growth Model involves a somewhat higher level of volatility than the Income Primary Model described above.
- Balanced Model – The Balanced Model is for individuals seeking long-term growth along with a modest current income. In general, the Balanced Model involves a somewhat higher level of volatility than the Income and Growth Model described above. It is appropriate for investors with intermediate time horizons.
- Growth Model – The Growth Model is for individuals seeking long-term growth of capital and willing to accept some short-term losses for potentially higher returns. In general, the Growth Model involves a higher level of volatility than the Balanced Model described above. It is appropriate for investors with longer time horizons.
- Aggressive Growth Model – The Aggressive Growth Model is geared towards individuals seeking long-term growth of capital. In general, this Model involves a high level of volatility and is appropriate for investors with longer time horizons who can withstand portfolio volatility.

Each of the Model Strategies is offered to all investors in a mutual fund only option. In addition, certain clients may be offered the opportunity to choose a UMA Separate Account Management (“UMA”) option for their portfolio.

The UMA utilizes individual model managers for a portion of the equity allocation in the portfolio while utilizing mutual funds for the other segments of the allocation.

ANNUAL PROGRAM FEES - Minimum investment required of $50,000. Under certain circumstances the stated minimum may be waived by Sterling.

Model Selection	Non-Retirement Accounts $1,000,000 and under	Non-Retirement Accounts Over $1,000,000	Qualified Retirement Accounts $1,000,000 and under	Qualified Retirement Accounts Over $1,000,000

Fixed Income Only Municipal Bond Diversified Income	1.00%	1.00%	1.25%	1.25%

- The fee rates listed above do not include any expenses charged within underlying mutual funds. The fee rates listed above do not include fees paid to managers of equity or fixed income strategies selected for the UMA individual model managers. Client accounts will bear these fees in addition to the fee rate listed above, except for qualified retirement accounts, in which any management or advisory fees charged by Sterling will be rebated to the account.

ADDITIONAL FEE INFORMATION

Fees may be negotiable. Program fees cover (a) Sterling's services under the Program; (b) BB&T IS's services under the Program; (c) brokerage and custody services for the portfolio provided by Pershing or Charles Schwab under the Program. In addition, clients who elect the UMA option will pay additional fees to the UMA individual model managers for the strategy selected. The fee for the UMA option will range between 20-50 basis points, depending on the Model Strategy selected.

In evaluating a "wrap fee" arrangement, the client should consider whether, the amount of portfolio activity and the value attributed to monitoring, custodial and any other services provided, the wrap fee would exceed the aggregate cost of such services if they were separately provided and Sterling were free to choose broker-dealers to execute portfolio transactions.

Program fees are exclusive of certain charges such as IRA fees, termination fees, transfer taxes, wire transfer and electronic fund fees, and other fees and taxes on brokerage accounts and securities transactions. Mutual funds and exchange traded funds also charge internal management fees which are disclosed in a fund's prospectus.

Program accounts will be invested partially or entirely in Affiliated Funds. Program fees are separate and in addition to the fees paid by the Affiliated Funds to Sterling. A description of these and other expenses is available in Part 2A of Sterling's Form ADV as well as the Affiliated Funds' prospectus.

Program fees are paid quarterly, in advance, based on the market value of the assets at the end of the previous quarter as determined by Adhesion. In the event a client joins the Program after the beginning of a calendar quarter, Sterling's policy is to prorate the Program fees. In the event a client terminates their agreement, fees are refunded on a pro-rata basis for the portion of the quarter during which the portfolio is no longer under management.

Under the Program agreement, clients will authorize and direct the custodian to pay all of the Program fees from the client's portfolio. Sterling invoices the custodian directly for the Program fees. Sterling reserves the right, under the Program agreement, to amend the Program's fee schedule upon thirty (30) days' notice to clients.

Fees for tax- management options only apply to clients that select a tax- management option for their account. Fees for tax-management options will be charged on all Program assets.

BB&T IS introduces clients to the Program, and provides a number of additional administrative and support services to the Program. For its services, BB&T IS receives a portion of the Program fees paid by clients. Accordingly, potential clients should note that BB&T IS may have an incentive to introduce clients to the Program over other investment advisory and/or wrap fee programs.

Item 5- Account Requirements and Types of Clients

The Program's mutual fund only option has a minimum investment of $50,000. The Program's UMA option has a minimum investment of $250,000.

The Program generally provides investment advice for individuals, trusts, corporations and other business, and limited types of retirement accounts, such as IRAs.

Item 6- Portfolio Manager Selection and Evaluation

The Program's portfolio manager selection and review process is conducted by Sterling Capital's Advisory Solutions ("Advisory Solutions"). Advisory Solutions employs a comprehensive and rigorous due diligence process in an effort to identify investment managers.

Manager Search and Selection- The manager search and selection process begins with idea generation. Investment strategy ideas are generated through various avenues including, face-to-face meetings with investment firm personnel, attending investment conferences, various investment-related publications and screening investment manager databases. After identifying investment strategy candidates, qualitative and quantitative due diligence begins. Components of Advisory Solution's due diligence process include:

- Sourcing important qualitative and quantitative information from investment databases such as Morningstar Direct, Envestnet/Prima, PerTrac, and Factset.
- Requesting that all prospective managers complete a comprehensive questionnaire allowing Advisory Solutions to gain access to information that is not readily available on investment databases.
- Conducting face-to-face meetings and conference calls with investment managers in order to obtain, evaluate, and question additional qualitative and quantitative information.

When attempting to identify attractive investment model candidates, Advisory Solutions focuses on whether the following factors and attributes are present:

- An investment team that is experienced, well-supported and stable.
- An investment team that is incentivized to focus on long-term performance which may include personal ownership in the firm and in the strategy.
- An investment team that employs a sound, disciplined, and repeatable process, and implements appropriate risk controls.
- An investment strategy with a track record of consistent long-term performance and superior risk-adjusted performance vs. its respective benchmark and/or peer group.
- An investment strategy with high active share, relatively low number of holdings and low portfolio and client turnover.
- An investment strategy with reasonable cost and ample capacity.
- An investment firm with a reputation for integrity and a cultural emphasis on investing over marketing & distribution.
- An investment firm where asset management is the firm's main or only business and is committed to allocating adequate resources to the strategy in question.
- An investment firm with well-defined compliance procedures including a disaster recovery plan and best execution trading practices.

Ongoing Monitoring- Advisory Solutions conducts ongoing monitoring of the approved managers that involves frequent correspondence with the managers, formal quarterly reviews and an in-depth annual evaluation. The ongoing review and analysis of managers will reflect the same due diligence criteria employed for the initial selection. Advisory Solutions strives to identify managers with whom we intend to invest over long-term periods. However, a manager will be removed from the approved list if the analysis determines that a change in the manager's status has impaired their ability to achieve future outperformance.

Qualitative factors that may warrant replacing a manager include, but are not limited to:

- Departure of lead portfolio manager(s) or change in firm ownership.
- Significant change in the investment process or investment process violation.
- Significant and persistent style drift or significant change in overall firm focus.
- Significant increase in fee structure.
- Strategy assets under management approach or exceed estimated capacity or strategy assets fall dramatically.
- Significant change in client base or significant deterioration in client service level.
- Legal issues or unethical behavior.

Performance and risk measurements of each manager are evaluated relative to a best-fit commercially-used index or other customized benchmark. While Advisory Solutions considers trailing performance to be a relevant factor in ongoing monitoring, Advisory Solutions takes numerous factors into account when evaluating performance. Performance and risk measures that are monitored include, but are not limited to:

- 3-year, 5-year and 10-year relative performance versus primary benchmark
- Consistency of investment returns
- Risk-adjusted returns measures such as alpha, Sharpe ratio, and information ratio
- Standard Deviation
- Active Share

Any qualitative deficiency or performance related issue will warrant a thorough review to determine the potential impact on expected long-term investment results. As detailed above, the context of each situation is taken into account and there is no rigid formula that determines the decision to retain or terminate a manager. Advisory Solutions will remove a manager when it is deemed warranted and in the best interests of our clients.

Model Strategy Construction- Using Sterling's asset allocation framework, Advisory Solutions constructs risk tolerance-specific model portfolios comprised of approved managers. Complementary investment strategies are combined to produce a favorable risk and return profile. This combination can include domestic and international equities, fixed income, and diversifying assets. The Model Strategies are rebalanced on an on-going, or at least quarterly, basis as allocations become out of the target ranges.

Client Portfolio Construction- The client will work with BB&T IS to define their investment objective and determine the appropriate asset allocation. These factors assist in constructing an Investment Policy Statement and help determine the appropriate Model Strategy for the client. A review of the client's Investment Policy Statement will determine if any changes to the client's investment objectives or guidelines are warranted.

Portfolio Manager Performance- The total return of the Model Strategies is obtained from Morningstar Direct, a third-party investment performance reporting service. Morningstar Direct uses industry standard methods when calculating the total return of the various portfolios.

Advisory Solutions routinely reviews manager performance as reported to Morningstar Direct. However, Sterling does not verify the accuracy of performance information reported to Morningstar Direct, or any other third-party investment performance reporting service. While Sterling reviews this information for reasonableness, it cannot guarantee that the performance information is accurate and/or calculated on a uniform and consistent basis.

Sterling Capital Management maintains performance composites for each unique investment strategy offered in the Elite UMA program. Sterling Capital Management claims compliance with the Global Investment Performance Standards. Sterling Capital Management has been independently verified for the periods 1/1/01 – 12/31/12. The verification reports are available upon request. Verification assesses whether (1) the firm has complied with all the composite construction requirements of the GIPS standards on a firm-wide basis and (2) the firm's policies and procedures are designed to calculate and present performance in compliance with the GIPS standards. Verification does not ensure the accuracy of any specific composite presentation.

Related Portfolio Manager- The Model Strategies constructed by Advisory Solutions will be invested partially or entirely in Affiliated Funds or other funds. In addition, the UMA option utilizes Sterling's proprietary investment strategies.

Investing in Affiliated Funds and proprietary strategies causes a conflict of interest as Affiliated Funds pay Sterling fees in addition to Program fees and certain equity strategies of Sterling included in the UMA option pay Sterling fees in addition to Program fees. Thus, Sterling has an incentive to recommend Affiliated Funds and proprietary strategies for the Model Strategies.

Advisory Solutions conducts the same screening and ongoing monitoring for the Affiliated Funds and propriety strategies that it does for unaffiliated managers.

Advisory Business- Please refer to Item 4- Advisory Business in Sterling's Form ADV 2A, accompanying this document.

Performance-Based Fees and Side-By-Side Management- Please refer to Item 6- Performance-Based Fees and Side-By-Side Management in Sterling's Form ADV 2A, accompanying this document.

Voting Client Securities- Sterling's investment advisory agreement states that decisions on the voting of proxies will be made by Sterling unless the client reserves the right to vote. Sterling engages a third-party service provider to assist with the functions related to voting client proxies.

Sterling has adopted and implemented written proxy policies and procedures reasonably designed to ensure that proxies are voted solely in client interests, or plan participants and beneficiaries for ERISA accounts. The policies include provisions to resolve material conflicts of interests that may arise between Sterling and clients.

Sterling has adopted Glass Lewis' Proxy Guidelines which assist the members of Sterling's Proxy Committee in evaluating relevant facts and circumstances which enables Sterling to vote in a manner consistent with its fiduciary responsibility.

Sterling may be unable to vote or may determine to refrain from voting in certain circumstances. The following highlights some potential instances in which a proxy may not be voted:

Voting in certain countries requires “share blocking”. Shareholders wishing to vote their proxies must deposit their shares shortly before the date of the meeting with a designated depository. During this blocking period, shares that will be voted at the meeting cannot be sold until the meeting has taken place and the shares are returned to the client’s custodian banks. Sterling may determine that the value of exercising the vote is outweighed by the detriment of not being able to sell the shares during this period. In cases where Sterling wants to retain the ability to trade shares, Sterling may abstain from voting those shares. A list of the countries that meet this description is available upon request.

In limited circumstances, other market specific impediments to voting shares may limit Sterling’s ability to cast votes, including, but not limited to, late delivery of proxy materials, untimely vote cut-off dates, power of attorney and share re-registration requirements, or any other unusual voting requirements. In these limited instances, Sterling will vote securities on a best efforts basis.

If client lends securities, Sterling will vote the securities’ shares as reported by client’s custodian. There may be instances, depending on the portfolio, for which Sterling does not vote proxies. Client may direct a vote for a particular solicitation.

Sterling’s voting guidelines provide a general framework for voting proposals in the best interest of clients. The key element underlying any evaluation of the interests of a client in a proposal, election, or issue presented to a shareholder vote is the effect, if any, the proposal, election, or issue could have on the current or future value of the investment.

If you would like to obtain a copy of Sterling’s proxy policies and procedures and/or a report summarizing how your securities were voted, contact Sterling’s Compliance Department at scmcompliance@sterling-capital.com. Annual Form N-PX filings informing Sterling Capital Funds shareholders how Sterling voted proxies for the 12-month period ending June 30th are filed with the SEC no later than August 31st of each year.
