

Disclosure Brochure

March 14, 2015

420 Lexington Ave, Suite 2006
New York, NY 10170

(212) 867-7310

www.clearharboram.com

This brochure provides information about the qualifications and business practices of Clear Harbor Asset Management, LLC (hereinafter "Clear Harbor"). If you have any questions about the contents of this brochure, please contact Aaron Kennon at (212) 867-7310. The information in this brochure has not been approved or verified by the United States Securities and Exchange Commission or by any state securities authority. Additional information about Clear Harbor is available on the SEC's website at www.adviserinfo.sec.gov.

Clear Harbor is an SEC registered investment adviser. Registration does not imply any level of skill or training.

Item 2. Material Changes

This section of the brochure discusses only the material changes that have occurred since Clear Harbor's last annual update filed March 12, 2014. Clear Harbor does not have any material changes to disclose.

Item 3. Table of Contents

Item 1.	Cover Page	i
Item 2.	Material Changes	ii
Item 3.	Table of Contents	iii
Item 4.	Advisory Business	4
Item 5.	Fees and Compensation	7
Item 6.	Performance-Based Fees and Side-by-Side Management	10
Item 7.	Types of Clients	11
Item 8.	Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies and Risk of Loss	12
Item 9.	Disciplinary Information	15
Item 10.	Other Financial Industry Activities and Affiliations	16
Item 11.	Code of Ethics	17
Item 12.	Brokerage Practices	18
Item 13.	Review of Accounts	21
Item 14.	Client Referrals and Other Compensation	22
Item 15.	Custody	23
Item 16.	Investment Discretion	24
Item 17.	Voting Client Securities	25
Item 18.	Financial Information	26

Item 4. Advisory Business

Clear Harbor is an investment adviser providing financial planning, consulting, and investment management services. Prior to engaging Clear Harbor to provide any of the foregoing investment advisory services, the client is required to enter into one or more written agreements with Clear Harbor setting forth the terms and conditions under which Clear Harbor renders its services (collectively the “Agreement”). Neither Clear Harbor nor the client may assign the Agreement without the consent of the other party. A transaction that does not result in a change of actual control or management of Clear Harbor is not considered an assignment.

Clear Harbor has been registered as an investment adviser since January 2010. Aaron Kennon, Ian Armstrong, and D. Roger B. Liddell are the principal owners of Clear Harbor.

Clear Harbor had $653,926,845 in assets under management as of December 31, 2014. $652,527,687 of which was managed on a discretionary basis and $1,399,158 on a non-discretionary basis.

This disclosure brochure describes the business of Clear Harbor. Certain sections will also describe the activities of Supervised Persons. Supervised Persons are any of Clear Harbor’s officers, partners, directors (or other persons occupying a similar status or performing similar functions), or employees, or any other person who provides investment advice on Clear Harbor’s behalf and is subject to Clear Harbor’s supervision or control.

Financial Planning and Consulting Services

Clear Harbor may provide its clients with a broad range of comprehensive financial planning and consulting services (which may include non-investment related matters). These services are customized to the individual needs of the clients.

In performing its services, Clear Harbor is not required to verify any information received from the client or from the client’s other professionals (e.g., attorney, accountant, etc.) and is expressly authorized to rely on such information. Clear Harbor may recommend the services of itself and/or other professionals to implement its recommendations. Clients are advised that a conflict of interest exists if Clear Harbor recommends its own services. The client is under no obligation to act upon any of the recommendations made by Clear Harbor under a financial planning or consulting engagement or to engage the services of any such recommended professional, including Clear Harbor itself. The client retains absolute discretion over all such implementation decisions and is free to accept or reject any of Clear Harbor’s recommendations. Clients are advised that it remains their responsibility to promptly notify Clear Harbor if there is ever any change in their financial situation or investment objectives for the purpose of reviewing, evaluating, or revising Clear Harbor’s previous recommendations and/or services.

Investment Management Services

Clients can engage Clear Harbor to manage all or a portion of their assets on a discretionary or non-discretionary basis. Clear Harbor primarily allocates clients' investment management assets among individual debt and equity securities and/or options in accordance with the investment objectives of the client. In addition, Clear Harbor may recommend that clients who are "accredited investors" as defined under Rule 501 of the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, invest in private placement securities, which may include debt, equity, and/or pooled investment vehicles when consistent with the clients' investment objectives. Clear Harbor may also provide advice about any type of investment held in clients' portfolios.

Clear Harbor tailors its advisory services to the individual needs of clients. Clear Harbor ensures that clients' investments are suitable for their investment needs, goals, objectives and risk tolerance.

Clients are advised to promptly notify Clear Harbor if there are changes in their financial situation or investment objectives or if they wish to impose any reasonable restrictions upon Clear Harbor's management services.

Management of Collective Investment Vehicle

Clear Harbor is also the investment manager to Spectrum Value Partners, L.P., a Delaware limited partnership (the "Fund"). In addition, an affiliate of Clear Harbor acts as the general partner for the Fund. Interests in the Fund are privately offered pursuant to Regulation D under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended. Clear Harbor's affiliate has discretionary authority to determine the broker or dealer to be used by the Fund. The Fund currently relies on an exemption from registration in reliance on Section 3(c)(1) of the Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended (the "Company Act"). The Fund has been established to generate returns, primarily through investing in technology related securities and by selectively utilizing leverage, short selling, and options.

Participation as an investor in the Fund is restricted to investors that are qualified clients pursuant to the requirements under Rule 205-3 under the Advisers Act, as well as are "accredited investors" as defined under Rule 501 of the Securities Act of 1933, as amended.

If eligible, Clear Harbor may recommend that certain clients invest in the Fund. All relevant information, terms and conditions relative to the Fund, including the compensation received by Clear Harbor or an affiliate, withdrawal rights, minimum investments, qualification requirements, suitability, risk factors, potential conflicts of interest, are set forth in the relevant confidential private offering memorandum (the "Memorandum"), investor agreement, and Subscription Agreement (the Memorandum, investor agreement and Subscription Agreement together the "Offering Documents"), which each investor is required to receive and/or execute prior to being accepted as an investor in the Fund.

While the Fund is generally Clear Harbor's client, the term "client(s)" sometimes refers to the investors in the Fund.

Clear Harbor will devote its best efforts with respect to its management of both the Fund and its individual client accounts. Given the above discussion relative to the objectives, suitability, risk factors, and qualifications for participation in the Fund, Clear Harbor may give advice or take action with respect to the Fund that differs from that for individual client accounts. To the extent that a particular investment is suitable for both the Fund and certain individual client accounts, such investments will be allocated between the Fund and the individual client accounts pro rata based on the assets under management or in some other manner which Clear Harbor determines is fair and equitable under the circumstances to all of its clients.

Item 5. Fees and Compensation

Clear Harbor offers its services on a fee basis which generally includes fees based upon assets under management and/or the performance of the client's portfolio.

Financial Planning and Consulting Fees

In limited situations, Clear Harbor may charge a fixed fee for financial planning and consulting services. These fees are negotiable and are largely determined by the level and scope of the agreed upon services. If the client engages Clear Harbor for additional investment advisory services, Clear Harbor may offset all or a portion of its fees for those services based upon the amount paid for the financial planning and/or consulting services.

Prior to engaging Clear Harbor to provide financial planning and/or consulting services, the client is required to enter into a written agreement with Clear Harbor setting forth the terms and conditions of the engagement. Generally, Clear Harbor requires one-half of the financial planning / consulting fee payable upon entering the written agreement. The balance is generally due upon delivery of the financial plan or completion of the agreed upon services.

Investment Management Fee

In the event the client determines to engage Clear Harbor to provide investment management services, Clear Harbor does so on a fee basis. Clear Harbor charges an annual fee based upon a percentage of the market value of the assets being managed by Clear Harbor. Clear Harbor's annual fee is exclusive of, and in addition to brokerage commissions, transaction fees, and other related costs and expenses which is incurred by the client. However, Clear Harbor does not receive any portion of these commissions, fees, and costs. Clear Harbor's annual fee is prorated and charged quarterly, in arrears, based upon either the average daily balance of the assets (if the custodian for those assets provides software for making the calculation), average month-end balance of the assets, or the value of the assets on the last day of the previous quarter. The annual fee varies (between 0.50% and 1.75%) depending upon the market value of the assets under management and the type of investment management services to be rendered.

Performance Fee

As further discussed in response to Item 6, Clear Harbor may render investment management services to qualified clients for a performance-based fee in accordance with the requirements set forth in applicable laws, rules, and regulations. For those clients, Clear Harbor charges its fees based upon a percentage of the market value of the assets being managed by Clear Harbor ("base fee") in addition to a fee based on the performance of the account ("performance fee").

Clear Harbor charges a performance fee up to twenty percent (20%) of the net gains in a client's portfolio subject to a high water mark. Clear Harbor also charges a base fee of one percent (1%) of the market value of the assets under management. Clear Harbor's annual base fee is prorated and charged quarterly, in arrears, based upon the market value of the assets on the last day of the previous quarter. Clear Harbor's performance fee is charged annually in arrears.

Fees for Investing in the Fund

For investments in the Fund, Clear Harbor charges its fees based upon a percentage of the market value of the assets in the Fund ("base fee") in addition to a fee based on the performance of the Fund ("performance fee"). Clear Harbor's performance fee is twenty percent (20%) of the net performance of the Fund, subject to a net loss carryover provision in addition to a base fee of up to one percent (1%).

Clear Harbor's annual base fee is prorated and charged quarterly in arrears, based upon the market value of the assets on the last day of the previous quarter. Clear Harbor's performance fee shall be charged annually in arrears. Further information regarding these fees is disclosed in the Offering Documents.

Clear Harbor, in its sole discretion, may negotiate to charge a lesser management fee based upon certain criteria (i.e., anticipated future earning capacity, anticipated future additional assets, dollar amount of assets to be managed, related accounts, account composition, pre-existing client, account retention, pro bono activities, etc.).

Fees Charged by Financial Institutions

As further discussed in response to Item 12 (below), Clear Harbor generally recommends that clients utilize the brokerage and clearing services of Pershing, LLC through Pershing Investment Manager Services ("Pershing") for investment management accounts.

Clear Harbor may only implement its investment management recommendations after the client has arranged for and furnished Clear Harbor with all information and authorization regarding accounts with appropriate financial institutions. Financial institutions include, but are not limited to, Pershing, any other broker-dealer recommended by Clear Harbor, broker-dealer directed by the client, trust companies, banks etc. (collectively referred to herein as the "Financial Institutions").

Clients may incur certain charges imposed by the Financial Institutions and other third parties such as custodial fees, charges imposed directly by a mutual fund or ETF in the account, which shall be disclosed in the fund's prospectus (e.g., fund management fees and other fund expenses), deferred sales charges, odd-lot differentials, transfer taxes, wire transfer and electronic fund fees, and other fees and taxes on brokerage accounts and securities transactions. Additionally, clients may incur brokerage commissions and transaction fees. Such charges, fees and commissions are exclusive of and in addition to Clear Harbor's fee.

Clear Harbor's Agreement and the separate agreement with any Financial Institutions may authorize Clear Harbor to debit the client's account for the amount of Clear Harbor's fee and to directly remit that management fee to Clear Harbor. Any Financial Institutions recommended by Clear Harbor have agreed to send a statement to the client, at least quarterly, indicating all amounts disbursed from the account including the amount of management fees paid directly to Clear Harbor. If a client chooses not to authorize Clear Harbor to debit its fee, Clear Harbor sends an invoice directly to the client.

Fees for Management During Partial Quarters of Service

For the initial period of investment management services, the fees are calculated on a pro rata basis.

The Agreement between Clear Harbor and the client will continue in effect until terminated by either party pursuant to the terms of the Agreement. Clear Harbor's fees are prorated through the date of termination and any remaining balance is charged or refunded to the client, as appropriate.

Additions may be in cash or securities provided that Clear Harbor reserves the right to liquidate any transferred securities or decline to accept particular securities into a client's account. Clear Harbor may consult with its clients about the options and ramifications of transferring securities. However, clients are advised that when transferred securities are liquidated, they are subject to transaction fees, fees assessed at the mutual fund level (i.e. contingent deferred sales charge) and/or tax ramifications.

Clients may make additions to and withdrawals from their account at any time, subject to Clear Harbor's right to terminate an account. Clients may withdraw account assets on notice to Clear Harbor, subject to the usual and customary securities settlement procedures. However, Clear Harbor designs its portfolios as long-term investments and the withdrawal of assets may impair the achievement of a client's investment objectives. If assets are deposited into or withdrawn from an account after the inception of a quarter, the fee payable with respect to such assets will not be adjusted or prorated based on the number of days remaining in the quarter.

Item 6. Performance-Based Fees and Side-by-Side Management

As discussed in response to Item 5, above, Clear Harbor may render investment management services to qualified clients or the Fund for a performance-based fee. This fee arrangement raises conflicts of interest. The performance fee may be an incentive for Clear Harbor to make investments that are riskier or more speculative than would be the case absent a performance fee arrangement. In addition, where Clear Harbor charges performance-based fees and also provides similar services to accounts not being charged performance-based fees, there is an incentive to favor accounts paying a performance-based fee.

Clear Harbor has procedures in place to ensure that any recommendations made are in the best interest of clients regardless of whether the client is paying a performance-based fee or different type of fee.

Item 7. Types of Clients

Clear Harbor provides its services to individuals, pooled investment vehicles, pension and profit sharing plans, trusts, estates, charitable organizations, corporations and business entities.

Item 8. Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies and Risk of Loss

Methods of Analysis

Clear Harbor's primary methods of analysis are fundamental, technical and cyclical analysis.

Fundamental analysis involves the fundamental financial condition and competitive position of a company. Clear Harbor will analyze the financial condition, capabilities of management, earnings, new products and services, as well as the company's markets and position amongst its competitors in order to determine the recommendations made to clients. The primary risk in using fundamental analysis is that while the overall health and position of a company may be good, market conditions may negatively impact the security.

Technical analysis involves the analysis of past market data rather than specific company data in determining the recommendations made to clients. Technical analysis may involve the use of charts to identify market patterns and trends which may be based on investor sentiment rather than the fundamentals of the company. The primary risk in using technical analysis is that spotting historical trends may not help to predict such trends in the future. Even if the trend will eventually reoccur, there is no guarantee that Clear Harbor will be able to accurately predict such a reoccurrence.

Cyclical analysis is similar to technical analysis in that it involves the analysis of market conditions at a macro (entire market/economy) or micro (company specific) level, rather than the overall fundamental analysis of the health of the particular company that Clear Harbor is recommending. The risks with cyclical analysis are similar to those of technical analysis.

Investment Strategy

Clear Harbor is a multi-asset class investment manager with a dual focus on both asset allocation and security selection. Clear Harbor's investment strategy is driven by both a "bottom up" and "top down" process.

When a client engages Clear Harbor, a representative meets with the client to understand risk tolerance, liquidity needs, total income, and net worth. Upon review of a client's financial situation, Clear Harbor crafts an asset allocation plan that seeks to invest the client's assets in securities which, in Clear Harbor's view, possess attractive risk reward characteristics.

Clear Harbor predominantly invests in individual securities (including equities, fixed income, and options) issued by foreign and domestic corporations, governments, and municipalities. From a "bottom up" perspective, Clear Harbor rigorously reviews financial statements, business plans, presentations, and earnings releases when evaluating individual securities. In addition to selecting individual securities, Clear Harbor formulates a big picture, "top down" view of the economic climate. Clear Harbor's economic view drives its asset allocation strategy, i.e. the mix of bonds and equities within a portfolio, the duration of a fixed income portfolio, and the mix of domestic and foreign assets.

Options

Clear Harbor may recommend the use of options for certain clients. Options seek to allow Clear Harbor to hedge (limit) certain losses on positions clients hold. The option allows Clear Harbor to buy or sell a security at a certain price (not the current market price). Clients pay a fee for the option. If the option falls outside the money (i.e., the market price of the security does not justify purchasing/selling the security at the option price), the client will lose the fee for that option.

Market Risks

The profitability of a significant portion of Clear Harbor's recommendations may depend to a great extent upon correctly assessing the future course of price movements of stocks and bonds. There can be no assurance that Clear Harbor will be able to predict those price movements accurately.

Use of Private Collective Investment Vehicles

As stated above, Clear Harbor may recommend the investment by certain clients in privately placed collective investment vehicles (some of which may be typically called "hedge funds"). The managers of these vehicles will have broad discretion in selecting the investments. There are few limitations on the types of securities or other financial instruments which may be traded and no requirement to diversify. The hedge funds may trade on margin or otherwise leverage positions, thereby potentially increasing the risk to the vehicle. In addition, because the vehicles are not registered as investment companies, there is an absence of regulation. There are numerous other risks in investing in these securities. The client will receive a private placement memorandum and/or other documents explaining such risks.

Use of Margin

To the extent that a client authorizes the use of margin, and margin is thereafter employed by Clear Harbor in the management of the client's investment portfolio, the market value of the client's account and corresponding fee payable by the client to Clear Harbor will not be increased.

While the use of margin borrowing can substantially improve returns, such use may also increase the adverse impact to which a client's portfolio may be subject. Borrowings will usually be from securities brokers and dealers and will typically be secured by the client's securities and/or other assets. Under certain circumstances, such a broker-dealer may demand an increase in the collateral that secures the client's obligations and if the client were unable to provide additional collateral, the broker-dealer could liquidate assets held in the account to satisfy the client's obligations to the broker-dealer. Liquidation in that manner could have extremely adverse consequences. In addition, the amount of the client's borrowings and the interest rates on those borrowings, which will fluctuate, will have a significant effect on the client's profitability.

Investing in securities involves the risk of loss. Clients should be prepared to bear such loss.

Item 9. Disciplinary Information

Clear Harbor is required to disclose the facts of any legal or disciplinary events that are material to a client's evaluation of its advisory business or the integrity of management. Clear Harbor does not have any required disclosures to this Item.

Item 10. Other Financial Industry Activities and Affiliations

Clear Harbor is required to disclose any relationship or arrangement that is material to its advisory business or to its clients with certain related persons. .

Affiliated Collective Investment Vehicle

As described in Item 4, Clear Harbor's affiliate, Spectrum Value Partners, LLC, is the general partner of the Fund, a Delaware limited partnership formed in August 2006 to engage primarily in the business of investing and trading in securities. Clear Harbor may recommend, on a fully disclosed basis, an investment in the Fund. Clients are advised that a conflict of interest exists to the extent that Clear Harbor recommends an investment in the Fund as a result of this affiliation.

Item 11. Code of Ethics

Clear Harbor and persons associated with Clear Harbor (“Associated Persons”) are permitted to buy or sell securities that it also recommends to clients consistent with Clear Harbor’s policies and procedures.

Clear Harbor has adopted a code of ethics that sets forth the standards of conduct expected of its associated persons and requires compliance with applicable securities laws (“Code of Ethics”). In accordance with Section 204A of the Advisers Act, its Code of Ethics contains written policies reasonably designed to prevent the unlawful use of material non-public information by Clear Harbor or any of its associated persons. The Code of Ethics also requires that certain of Clear Harbor’s personnel (called “Access Persons”) report their personal securities holdings and transactions and obtain pre-approval of certain investments such as initial public offerings and limited offerings.

Unless specifically permitted in Clear Harbor’s Code of Ethics, none of Clear Harbor’s Access Persons may effect for themselves or for their immediate family (i.e., spouse, minor children, and adults living in the same household as the Access Person) any transactions in a security which is being actively purchased or sold, or is being considered for purchase or sale, on behalf of any of Clear Harbor’s clients.

When Clear Harbor is purchasing or considering for purchase any security on behalf of a client, no Access Person may effect a transaction in that security prior to the completion of the purchase or until a decision has been made not to purchase such security. Similarly, when Clear Harbor is selling or considering the sale of any security on behalf of a client, no Access Person may effect a transaction in that security prior to the completion of the sale or until a decision has been made not to sell such security. These requirements are not applicable to: (i) direct obligations of the Government of the United States; (ii) money market instruments, bankers’ acceptances, bank certificates of deposit, commercial paper, repurchase agreements and other high quality short-term debt instruments, including repurchase agreements; (iii) shares issued by mutual funds or money market funds; and (iv) shares issued by unit investment trusts that are invested exclusively in one or more mutual funds.

As discussed above in response to Item 4, a related person (as defined in Form ADV) of Clear Harbor is the general partner to the Fund. Clear Harbor may recommend, on a fully disclosed basis, that certain clients invest in the Fund. Further information regarding this conflict is disclosed in response to Items 4 and 6, above.

Clients and prospective clients may contact Clear Harbor to request a copy of its Code of Ethics.

Item 12. Brokerage Practices

As discussed above, in Item 5, Clear Harbor generally recommends that clients utilize the brokerage and clearing services of Pershing.

Factors which Clear Harbor considers in recommending Pershing or any other broker-dealer to clients include their respective financial strength, reputation, execution, pricing, research and service. Pershing enables Clear Harbor to obtain many mutual funds without transaction charges and other securities at nominal transaction charges. The commissions and/or transaction fees charged by Pershing may be higher or lower than those charged by other Financial Institutions.

The commissions paid by Clear Harbor's clients comply with Clear Harbor's duty to obtain "best execution." Clients may pay commissions that are higher than another qualified Financial Institution might charge to effect the same transaction where Clear Harbor determines that the commissions are reasonable in relation to the value of the brokerage and research services received. In seeking best execution, the determinative factor is not the lowest possible cost, but whether the transaction represents the best qualitative execution, taking into consideration the full range of a Financial Institution's services, including among others, the value of research provided, execution capability, commission rates, and responsiveness. Clear Harbor seeks competitive rates but may not necessarily obtain the lowest possible commission rates for client transactions.

Transactions may be cleared through other Financial Institutions with whom Clear Harbor and the Financial Institutions have entered into agreements for prime brokerage clearing services. Clear Harbor periodically and systematically reviews its policies and procedures regarding its recommendation of Financial Institutions in light of its duty to obtain best execution.

The client may direct Clear Harbor in writing to use a particular Financial Institution to execute some or all transactions for the client. In that case, the client will negotiate terms and arrangements for the account with that Financial Institution, and Clear Harbor will not seek better execution services or prices from other Financial Institutions or be able to "batch" client transactions for execution through other Financial Institutions with orders for other accounts managed by Clear Harbor (as described below). As a result, the client may pay higher commissions or other transaction costs or greater spreads, or receive less favorable net prices, on transactions for the account than would otherwise be the case. Subject to its duty of best execution, Clear Harbor may decline a client's request to direct brokerage if, in Clear Harbor's sole discretion, such directed brokerage arrangements would result in additional operational difficulties.

Transactions for each client generally will be effected independently, unless Clear Harbor decides to purchase or sell the same securities for several clients at approximately the same time. Clear Harbor may (but is not obligated to) combine or "batch" such orders to obtain best execution, to negotiate more favorable commission rates, or to allocate equitably among Clear Harbor's clients differences in prices and commissions or other transaction costs that might have been obtained had such orders been placed independently. Under this procedure, transactions will generally be averaged as to price and allocated among Clear Harbor's clients pro rata to the purchase and sale orders placed for each client on any given day. To the extent that Clear Harbor determines to aggregate client orders for the purchase or sale of securities, including securities in which Clear Harbor's Supervised Persons may invest, Clear Harbor shall generally do so in accordance with applicable rules promulgated under the Advisers Act and no-action guidance provided by the staff of the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission. Clear Harbor shall not receive any additional compensation or remuneration as a result of the aggregation. In the event that Clear Harbor determines that a prorated allocation is not appropriate under the particular circumstances, the allocation will be made based upon other relevant factors, which may include: (i) when only a small percentage of the order is executed, shares may be allocated to the account with the smallest order or the smallest position or to an account that is out of line with respect to security or sector weightings relative to other portfolios, with similar mandates; (ii) allocations may be given to one account when one account has limitations in its investment guidelines which prohibit it from purchasing other securities which are expected to produce similar investment results and can be purchased by other accounts; (iii) if an account reaches an investment guideline limit and cannot participate in an allocation, shares may be reallocated to other accounts (this may be due to unforeseen changes in an account's assets after an order is placed); (iv) with respect to sale allocations, allocations may be given to accounts low in cash; (v) in cases when a pro rata allocation of a potential execution would result in a de minimis allocation in one or more accounts, Clear Harbor may exclude the account(s) from the allocation; the transactions may be executed on a pro rata basis among the remaining accounts; or (vi) in cases where a small proportion of an order is executed in all accounts, shares may be allocated to one or more accounts on a random basis.

Consistent with obtaining best execution, brokerage transactions may be directed to certain broker-dealers in return for investment research products and/or services which assist Clear Harbor in its investment decision-making process. Such research generally will be used to service all of Clear Harbor's clients, but brokerage commissions paid by one client may be used to pay for research that is not used in managing that client's portfolio. The receipt of investment research products and/or services as well as the allocation of the benefit of such investment research products and/or services poses a conflict of interest because Clear Harbor does not have to produce or pay for the products or services.

Software and Support Provided by Financial Institutions

Clear Harbor may receive from Pershing, without cost to Clear Harbor, computer software and related systems support, which allow Clear Harbor to better monitor client accounts maintained at Pershing. Clear Harbor may receive the software and related support without cost because Clear Harbor renders investment management services to clients that maintain assets at Pershing. The software and related systems support may benefit Clear Harbor, but not its clients directly. In fulfilling its duties to its clients, Clear Harbor endeavors at all times to put the interests of its clients first. Clients should be aware, however, that Clear Harbor's receipt of economic benefits from a broker-dealer creates a conflict of interest since these benefits may influence Clear Harbor's choice of broker-dealer over another broker-dealer that does not furnish similar software, systems support, or services.

Additionally, Clear Harbor may receive the following benefits from Pershing through its Pershing Advisor Solutions division: receipt of duplicate client confirmations and bundled duplicate statements; access to a trading desk that exclusively services its Pershing Advisor Solutions participants; access to block trading which provides the ability to aggregate securities transactions and then allocate the appropriate shares to client accounts; and access to an electronic communication network for client order entry and account information.

Item 13. Review of Accounts

For those clients to whom Clear Harbor provides investment management services, Clear Harbor monitors those portfolios as part of an ongoing process while regular account reviews are conducted on at least a quarterly basis. For those clients to whom Clear Harbor provides financial planning and/or consulting services, reviews are conducted on an “as needed” basis. Such reviews are conducted by one of Clear Harbor’s investment adviser representatives. All investment advisory clients are encouraged to discuss their needs, goals, and objectives with Clear Harbor and to keep Clear Harbor informed of any changes thereto. Clear Harbor shall contact ongoing investment advisory clients at least annually to review its previous services and/or recommendations and to discuss the impact resulting from any changes in the client’s financial situation and/or investment objectives.

Unless otherwise agreed upon, clients are provided with transaction confirmation notices and regular summary account statements directly from the broker-dealer or custodian for the client accounts. Those clients to whom Clear Harbor provides investment advisory services will also receive a report from Clear Harbor that may include such relevant account and/or market-related information such as an inventory of account holdings and account performance on a quarterly basis. Clients should compare the account statements they receive from their custodian with those they receive from Clear Harbor.

Those clients to whom Clear Harbor provides financial planning and/or consulting services will receive reports from Clear Harbor summarizing its analysis and conclusions as requested by the client or otherwise agreed to in writing by Clear Harbor.

Item 14. Client Referrals and Other Compensation

Client Referrals

Clear Harbor has several cash solicitation arrangements in place and may, in the future, compensate certain third parties for client referrals. If a client is introduced to Clear Harbor by either an unaffiliated or an affiliated solicitor, Clear Harbor may pay that solicitor a referral fee in accordance with the requirements of Rule 206(4)-3 of the Advisers Act and any corresponding state securities law requirements. Any such referral fee shall be paid solely from Clear Harbor's investment management fee, and shall not result in any additional charge to the client. If the client is introduced to Clear Harbor by an unaffiliated solicitor, the solicitor shall provide the client with a copy of Clear Harbor's written disclosure statement which meets the requirements of Rule 204-3 of the Advisers Act and a copy of the solicitor's disclosure statement containing the terms and conditions of the solicitation arrangement including compensation. Any affiliated solicitor of Clear Harbor shall disclose the nature of his/her relationship to prospective clients at the time of the solicitation and will provide all prospective clients with a copy of Clear Harbor's written disclosure statement at the time of the solicitation.

Other Economic Benefits

Clear Harbor may receive economic benefits from non-clients for providing advice or other advisory services to clients. This type of relationship poses a conflict of interest and is further disclosed in response to Item 12, above.

Item 15. Custody

Direct Fee Deduction

Clear Harbor's Agreement and/or the separate agreement with any Financial Institution may authorize Clear Harbor through such Financial Institution to debit the client's account for the amount of Clear Harbor's fee and to directly remit that management fee to Clear Harbor in accordance with applicable custody rules. The Financial Institutions recommended by Clear Harbor have agreed to send a statement to the client, at least quarterly, indicating all amounts disbursed from the account including the amount of management fees paid directly to Clear Harbor. In addition, as discussed in Item 13, Clear Harbor also sends periodic supplemental reports to clients. Clients should carefully review the statements sent directly by the Financial Institutions and compare them to those received from Clear Harbor.

Private Fund

Clear Harbor acts as the investment adviser to the Fund and therefore the firm is deemed to have custody of client assets under current regulations. As an adviser with custody, Clear Harbor seeks to have the Fund audited on an annual basis by an independent public accountant that is both registered with, and subject to regulatory inspection by, the Public Accounting Oversight Board (PCAOB). For the Fund, the firm seeks to send the audited financials to each investor within 120 days of the Fund's fiscal year-end (180 day if deemed a fund of funds).

Item 16. Investment Discretion

Clear Harbor may be given the authority to exercise discretion on behalf of clients. Clear Harbor is considered to exercise investment discretion over a client's account if it can effect transactions for the client without first having to seek the client's consent. Clear Harbor is given this authority through a power-of-attorney included in the agreement between Clear Harbor and the client. Clients may request a limitation on this authority (such as certain securities not to be bought or sold). Clear Harbor takes discretion over the following activities:

- The securities to be purchased or sold;
- The amount of securities to be purchased or sold;
- When transactions are made; and
- The Financial Institutions to be utilized.

Item 17. Voting Client Securities

Clear Harbor may vote client securities (proxies) on behalf of its clients. When Clear Harbor accepts such responsibility, it will only cast proxy votes in a manner consistent with the best interest of its clients. Absent special circumstances, which are fully- described in Clear Harbor's Proxy Voting Policies and Procedures, all proxies will be voted consistent with guidelines established and described in Clear Harbor's Proxy Voting Policies and Procedures, as they may be amended from time-to-time. Clients may contact Clear Harbor to request information about how Clear Harbor voted proxies for that client's securities or to get a copy of Clear Harbor's Proxy Voting Policies and Procedures. A brief summary of Clear Harbor's Proxy Voting Policies and Procedures is as follows:

- Clear Harbor has formed a Proxy Voting Committee that will be responsible for monitoring corporate actions, making voting decisions in the best interest of clients, and ensuring that proxies are submitted in a timely manner.
- The Proxy Voting Committee will generally vote proxies according to Clear Harbor's then current Proxy Voting Guidelines. The Proxy Voting Guidelines include many specific examples of voting decisions for the types of proposals that are most frequently presented, including: composition of the board of directors; approval of independent auditors; management and director compensation; anti-takeover mechanisms and related issues; changes to capital structure; corporate and social policy issues; and issues involving mutual funds.
- Although the Proxy Voting Guidelines are followed as a general policy, certain issues are considered on a case-by-case basis based on the relevant facts and circumstances. Since corporate governance issues are diverse and continually evolving, Clear Harbor devotes an appropriate amount of time and resources to monitor these changes.
- Clients cannot direct Clear Harbor's vote on a particular solicitation but can revoke Clear Harbor's authority to vote proxies.

In situations where there may be a conflict of interest in the voting of proxies due to business or personal relationships that Clear Harbor maintains with persons having an interest in the outcome of certain votes, Clear Harbor takes appropriate steps to ensure that its proxy voting decisions are made in the best interest of its clients and are not the product of such conflict.

Item 18. Financial Information

Clear Harbor does not require or solicit the prepayment of more than $1,200 in fees six months or more in advance. In addition, Clear Harbor is required to disclose any financial condition that is reasonably likely to impair its ability to meet contractual commitments to clients. Clear Harbor has no disclosures pursuant to this Item.

CLEAR HARBOR
ASSET MANAGEMENT, LLC

Prepared by:

MARKETCOUNSEL®
The Adviser's Advisor®