Item 4 – Advisory Business

CWM is a registered investment advisor based in Omaha, Nebraska. The firm was formed in November 2010 as a Limited Liability Company (LLC) under the laws of the State of Nebraska.

As used in the brochure, the words, “we,” “our,” and “us” refer to CWM and the words “you,” “your,” and “client” refer to you as either a client or prospective client of our firm. In addition, you may see the term Associated Person throughout this brochure. As used in this brochure, our Associated Persons are our firm’s officers, employees and all individuals providing investment advice on behalf of our firm.

Principal Owners

CWM, LLC is an affiliate of Carson Group, Inc. Carson Group, Inc. is the 100% owner of CWM, LLC. The majority shareholder of Carson Group, Inc. is Ronald L. Carson.

Primary Advisory Services

Our main focus is to manage investment portfolios for individual clients, high net-worth families, foundations, endowments, and institutional investors. We also provide personal financial planning and investment advice. Our investment plans are designed to work with our clients’ financial goals, objectives and risk tolerances.

Asset Management Services

We provide investment management services with personalized strategy recommendations based on your unique needs and objectives.

We sponsor managed asset programs that are offered on a wrap fee or non-wrap fee basis. The Strategic Wealth Management Program (“SWM Program”), a wrap fee or non-wrap fee asset management program developed through an arrangement using LPL Financial Corporation’s (“LPL”) Strategic Wealth Management platform or through our Carson Managed Account Program (CMAP) using accounts established with TD Ameritrade as the account custodian. Through our managed account programs, we provide investment management services, including providing continuous investment advice to and making investments for you based on your individual needs. Through these services, we offer a customized and individualized investment program. During your initial meeting with your advisor, you’re asked to complete a Confidential Client Profile to help us understand your risk tolerance and long-term financial goals. A specific asset allocation strategy and suitability profile is crafted to focus on your specific goals and objectives. The Confidential Client Profile defines your risk tolerance and investment objectives. Your information should be updated regularly, but at a minimum every 2 years.

You must appoint our firm as your investment advisor of record on specified accounts (collectively, the "Account"). The Account consists only of separate account(s) held by qualified custodian(s) under your name. The qualified custodians maintain physical custody of all funds and securities of the Account, and you retain all rights of ownership (e.g., right to withdraw securities or cash, exercise or delegate proxy voting and receive transaction confirmations) of the Account.

Our asset management services are provided on a discretionary basis. With discretionary authority, we make all decisions to buy, sell or hold securities, cash or other investments in the managed account in our sole discretion without consulting with you before implementing any transactions. You must provide us with written authorization to exercise this discretionary authority. Discretionary authority is limited. We do not have access to your funds and/or securities with the exception of having advisory fees deducted from your account and paid to us by the account custodian. Any fee deduction is done pursuant to your prior written authorization provided to the account custodian. You have the ability to place reasonable restrictions on the types of investments that may be purchased in an account. You may also place reasonable limitations on the discretionary power granted to us so long as the limitations are specifically set forth or included as an attachment to the client agreement. (Please see Item 16, Investment Discretion for additional information concerning discretionary authority.)

Before we assess any fees or provide formal advice, we will provide you with an Investment Advisory Agreement ("Agreement") for your review, understanding and signature. The Agreement includes the terms and conditions under which your assets will be managed. Your execution of the Agreement authorizes our firm to determine the specific securities, and the amount of securities to be purchased or sold for your account without your approval prior to each transaction. The Agreement will remain in effect between you and us until terminated by either party in writing according to the terms contained in the Agreement. In the event a conflict exists between the Agreement and our Form ADV, the Form ADV shall prevail.

The Agreement will include schedules of the investment accounts you wish us to manage, the specific fees we propose to charge and how we propose to bill and collect those fees. You also have the ability to impose limits on investment selections and sectors.

Advisory accounts will be held by TD Ameritrade Institutional Services, LPL Financial, LLC or other qualified custodians (individually, a "Custodian"). The client must designate CWM as its Investment Advisor Representative ("IAR") on their accounts. The client's qualified Custodian will maintain actual custody of all client funds and securities.

Custodians are also broker/dealers, and they may have different account fees, execution charges and capacities. If you choose a different Custodian other than the one selected by us, you may pay higher account-related fees and execution charges. This may occur because custodial services are based on several factors. Factors may include, but are not limited to: cost, expected level of asset safety, client confidentiality, communication and reporting. We base all decisions on the individual investment circumstances of each client.

In certain circumstances the account Custodian may offer the option of charging execution fees based upon the level of assets maintained in the managed account (asset-based pricing) versus implementing a fee for each transaction executed. If asset-based pricing is provided as an option we will conduct a cost/benefit analysis to determine which pricing method would be in the long-term best interest of our clients.

Participation in Wrap Fee Programs

CWM offers services through both wrap fee programs and non wrap fee programs. A wrap fee program is defined as any advisory program under which a specified fee or fees not based directly upon transactions in a client's account is charged for investment advisory services (which may include portfolio management or advice concerning the selection of other investment advisers) and the execution of client transactions. Whenever a fee is charged to a client for services described in this brochure (whether wrap fee or non wrap fee), we will receive all or a portion of the fee charged.

Sub-Advisory Investment Management Services for Advisors

CWM offers investment sub-advisory services to unaffiliated investment advisers. Unaffiliated RIAs may choose to engage CWM's Sub-Advisory Services for investment management of some or all of their clients' assets. CWM shall have day-to-day responsibility for the active discretionary management of the allocated assets through a limited power of attorney from the unaffiliated advisor's client. The unaffiliated advisor RIA shall continue to render investment advisory services to the client relative to the ongoing monitoring and review of account performance, asset allocation and client investment objectives.

Variable Sub-Account Management Services

Under our Variable Insurance sub-account management services, CWM manages your variable annuity or variable life contract by selecting, monitoring and exchanging as necessary between sub-accounts available from the insurance company issuing the variable annuity or variable life contract.

Under this program, we assist you in completing a questionnaire which details your financial goals, risk tolerance and time horizon. You will have the opportunity to list on your investment advisory agreement with our firm any reasonable restrictions on the sub-accounts that may be utilized by CWM. You will be responsible for notifying us of any updates regarding your financial situation, risk tolerance or investment objective and whether you wish to impose or modify existing investment restrictions; however, we will contact you at least annually to discuss any changes or updates regarding your financial situation, risk tolerance or investment objectives.

Once you have provided us with the necessary information and made the appropriate authorizations, CWM utilizes limited discretionary authority to select or exchange among the sub-accounts available under your variable annuity or variable life contract in accordance with your disclosed investment objective and risk tolerance. CWM may utilize signal providers for guidance regarding investment strategies, asset allocations and timing of exchanges. CWM will monitor your sub-accounts and exchange sub-accounts as necessary and in accordance with your investment objective and risk tolerance.

Financial Planning Services

Traditional Financial Planning Services

CWM provides personal financial planning services consistent with a client's financial status, investment objectives and tax status. When you retain the financial planning services of our firm, we meet with you to gather information about your financial background, circumstances to consider and goals and objectives. Once we determine your long-term objectives (both financial and non-financial), we develop short-term, targeted objectives. At that point, we review and analyze the financial information you provided to us and deliver to you a written financial plan.

Focused Wealth Planning Program

Focused Wealth Plans are offered to asset management clients of CWM that do not require an extensive analysis of their financial situation.

The Focused Wealth Plan Process includes:

- Construction of a recommended portfolio designed to help clients work toward their financial goals while limiting risk
- The Plan will be updated on an annual basis during annual client review
- The Plan will include a review of cash-flows and portfolio "stress test", an assessment of the client's overall risk and align recommended risk management techniques with the current risks posing the greatest threat to the client's financial future
- A breakdown of potential social security claiming strategies

True Wealth Plans

Clients that need a more robust financial planning engagement may sign up for our True Wealth Plan Program. The True Wealth Plan may include information regarding retirement planning, education planning, planning for major purchases, life and disability insurance needs, long-term care needs and estate planning issues. The financial plan is designed to assist you in achieving your stated goals and objectives.

General Information Related to our Financial Planning Services

You are under no obligation to act on our financial planning recommendations. Financial plans are based on your financial situation at the time we prepare the plan and on the financial information you provide. You must promptly notify us if your financial situation, goals, objectives or needs change.

Our financial planning services do not involve implementing any transaction on your behalf or the active and ongoing monitoring or management of your investments or accounts. You have the sole responsibility for determining whether to implement our financial planning and consulting recommendations. To the extent that you would like to implement any of our investment recommendations through CWM, LLC or retain CWM, LLC to actively monitor and manage your investments, you must execute a separate written agreement with CWM, LLC for our asset management services.

You may elect to periodically update your financial plan during the term of the financial planning services as identified on the Financial Planning Agreement. There shall be no additional fees required for clients electing to update their True Wealth plan through CWM during the term of the financial planning services.

Tax services are offered separately. CWM has Certified Public Accountants who provide their services through a division of the firm, Carson Wealth Tax Planning. You may want to consider utilizing these services when determining the amount of taxes that you should withhold from any liquidation, sale or stream of income. Investment portfolio taxation is a complex area with many tax rates and offsetting factors. Some of those factors change from year-to-year as tax laws and IRS interpretations of the laws change. In our opinion, as the size of your portfolio increases, so does your need for the advice and assistance provided by a qualified tax professional.

Accounts Managed by Third-Party Money Managers

CWM, LLC typically does not refer clients managed account to other investment advisory firms; however, certain clients that decide to have CWM manage a portion of their portfolio may have established prior relationships under LPL's Third Party Manager Program or another Third Party Money Manager. For assets that it is determined that it would be in the client's best interest to not transfer 100% of their portfolio assets into CWM's investment strategies and to leave a portion of their assets in the Third Party Money Manager program, the third-party managers are responsible for continuously monitoring client accounts and making trades in client accounts when necessary. As a result of the ongoing relationship, we are paid a portion of the total fee charged to your account.

Under this program, we are available to answer questions that you may have regarding your account and act as the communication conduit between you and the third-party money manager. The third-party money manager may take discretionary authority to determine the securities to be purchased and sold for your account. Item 5 – Fees and Compensation

This section provides details about the fees and compensation arrangements of each of our services.

Asset Management Fees

CWM provides investment management services for an annual fee based upon a percentage of the market value of the aggregate client assets held under management or commonly termed as household accounts. The annual fee typically varies between .50% to 2.50% depending on the size of the assets under management and type of investment services being rendered.

CWM, in its discretion, may negotiate fees based upon individual account criteria such as anticipated future assets, client's unique circumstances, and additional services performed. Our fees may be higher or lower than fees charged by other financial professionals offering similar services. CWM reserves the right to modify its fee schedule in the future by providing you with 30 days advance notice of any modification.

Fees for Sub-Advisory Services

Sub-Advisory Asset Management Services fees can range up to 1% and are negotiated on a case by-case basis based on the asset size, and other variables. Fees may be lower on Sub-Advisory services than to other direct clients of CWM for similar levels of assets due to the limited scope of service and other factors under the Sub-Advisory relationship.

The fees charged by CWM do not include the fees charged by the unaffiliated investment adviser introducing client account to CWM. Fees assessed by the introducing advisory firm are separate and in addition to the fees we charge. We strive to ensure that the combined fees charged by CWM and the unaffiliated investment advisers do not exceed industry standards. Each firm is separately responsible for calculating their fee and debiting their fee from your account.

Billing Cycle

We bill the annual advisory fee on a quarterly basis and in advance, at the start of the calendar quarter. Fees are based on the value of the account on the last business day of the previous quarter. The fee will be pro-rated based on the number of days the account is open during the period as well as in arrears for transactions in the amount of $1,000 or more for outflows to the account and in the amount of $1,000 or more for inflows to the account. You may elect to have the quarterly fee charged to one account, or split between other accounts, or you may elect to pay us by check. We prefer to charge your accounts directly. The Custodian will send client statements at least quarterly, showing all payouts from the account including the advisory fee, if deducted from the account.

An Agreement must be completed to engage in advisory services. The Agreement shall continue in effect until terminated by either party by giving to the other notice in writing at least seven (7) days prior to the date of termination. We will provide a copy of this brochure (Form ADV, Part 2A) to you before or with the execution of the Agreement. If you did not receive this disclosure at least forty-eight (48) hours before executing the Agreement, then you will have five business days subsequent to executing the Agreement to terminate the Agreement without penalty or fees. If services are cancelled after the first five days, then the final fee will be pro-rated. The amount is based on the number of days of service provided during the current quarter. Effective with the date of termination, we shall refrain, without liability or obligation, from taking any further action in your Account(s). In addition, from the date of termination, we will cease to be entitled to receive fees. If a contract is terminated after fees have been collected for a given period, a prorated refund of such fees will promptly be credited to you for that period. This cancellation will be subject to any changes related to the settlement of transactions in progress and the final payment of advisory fees.

Third Party Charges

Our asset management fees in a standard managed account do not include the third party custodial or execution charges. Examples of these fees include trading charges for odd-lot differentials and exchange fees, fixed income transactional charges, including mark-ups, mark-downs, commissions and dealer profits. A third-party may also impose charges for special services elected by their clients such as electronic fund wire transfers, certificate delivery, American Depositary Receipt (ADR), and transfer taxes mandated by law. Certain strategies managed by CWM will include transactions in foreign securities. These transactions may be required to be executed on a foreign stock exchange which will result in additional transaction expenses.

For accounts held in CWM's Wrap Fee Program the annual fee is exclusive of and in addition to expenses related to the execution of transactions, sub advisor fees and other related cost or expenses.

Retirement Plan Providers

Our fees do not include the administrative costs for a qualified retirement plan. Third party service providers charge these fees under separate agreements with the plan or plan sponsor.

Mutual Fund & Exchange Traded Funds (ETFs) Fees

Each fund describes its fees in detail in its prospectus. The fund's expense ratios typically include the charges and are paid by the fund's shareholders.

Mutual funds recommended by us may be available directly from the fund company or through another financial service provider. Non-advisory accounts typically have upfront or backend charges. Please refer to each funds' prospectus. We may offer funds or share classes of funds that you may not be qualified to purchase outside of our firm.

If you terminate your account with us, CWM may liquidate or exchange these investments for the share class corresponding to the size of your individual investment in the fund. Dollars received from the redemption of fund shares outside of our management may have tax consequences or additional costs from sales charges and or redemption fees. Such redemption fees would be in addition to our fee.

Some or all of the services available through us may be available through other companies at a different cost. Please review the factors that determine the charges and how the services are calculated. Some factors to consider include the size of your account, type(s) of your account(s), transaction charges and the range of advisory services and ancillary charges of each.

Variable Sub-Account Management Service Fees

Under our sub account management services, you will incur an annual investment advisory fee, which is based upon a percentage of the market value of your variable annuity and variable life contract under the management of CWM. For our Variable Sub-Account Management services clients will pay an annualized investment advisory fee ("Advisory Fee") which may not exceed 2.00% annually.

The annual fee is paid quarterly in arrears and is calculated and due based upon the total value of your variable annuities and variable life contracts under management as of March 31, June 30, September 30 and December 31. The Advisory Fee will be calculated based on the contract value of the variable annuity on the last day of the calendar quarter. You will pay the investment advisory fees directly to CWM upon receipt of the quarterly invoice.

Under this program, the insurance companies issuing your variable annuities and variable life contracts will charge management expenses in addition to the investment advisory fee charged by CWM. In addition, your variable annuity and/or variable life contract may be subject to exchange fees and surrender charges. CWM does not share in these fees charged by your insurance company. Please refer to the prospectus of your variable annuity and/or variable life contract for more details about the insurance company's management expenses and any exchange or surrender fees.

In the event that your investment advisor representative sold you the variable annuity and/or variable life contract in his or her separate capacity as a registered representative of a broker/dealer, your investment advisor representative most likely received commission and/or trail compensation for this transaction. This sales compensation is separate from and in addition to any investment advisory fee charged by CWM. If your investment advisor representative received a commission for selling you a variable annuity or variable life contract, CWM will not accept your variable annuity or variable life contract for management until it has been at least two years from the date of such sale.

Variable Sub-Account Management Service Potential Conflicts of Interest

Our firm and its associated persons may receive additional non-cash compensation from the variable annuity product sponsor. Such compensation may not be tied to the sale of any variable products. Compensation may include such items as gifts valued at less than $100 annually, an occasional dinner, a ticket to a sporting event, reimbursement in connection with educational meetings, marketing or advertising initiatives. Sponsors may also pay for advisors education or training events.

We may perform advisory services for other clients as well. Depending on circumstances, advice given or actions taken for those clients may differ from the advice given for other clients. In addition, we may, but are not obligated to, purchase, sell or recommend for purchase or sale any security which we may purchase or sell for our own accounts or for the account of any other client.

Fees for Financial Planning Services

Fees charged for our financial planning services are negotiable based upon the type of client, the services requested, the complexity of the client's situation, the composition of the client's account and other advisory services provided. The following are the fee arrangements available for financial planning services offered by CWM, LLC.

Financial Planning Hourly Fees or Fixed Fees

An hourly fee that can range up to $500 per hour (depending on the complexity of the client's situation) is charged by CWM for financial planning services under this arrangement. Before commencing financial planning services, we will provide an estimate of the approximate hours needed to complete the requested financial planning services. If we anticipate exceeding the estimated amount of hours required, your Investment Advisor Representative will contact you to receive authorization to provide additional services. Upon presentment of the invoice to you, CWM will deduct the hourly fees due against any retainer balance you may have and you will be responsible to immediately pay CWM any outstanding balance of hourly fees due.

We are also able to provide financial planning services under a fixed fee arrangement. There is a range in the amount of the fixed fee charged by CWM for financial planning services depending upon the complexity of the client's situation. The minimum fixed fee is generally $500, and the maximum fixed fee is generally no more than $5,000. The amount of the fixed fee for your engagement is specified in your financial planning agreement with CWM, LLC. At our sole discretion, you may be required to pay in advance a specified portion of the fixed fee at the time you execute an agreement with us; however, at no time will we require payment of more than $1,200 in fees more than six months in advance. Upon completion and delivery of the financial plan, the fixed fee is considered earned and any unpaid amount is immediately due.

Focused Wealth Planning Program

The Focused Wealth Planning program is exclusively offered to CWM's Asset Management clients without additional charges.

True Wealth Financial Planning Program – Asset Based Fee

True Wealth Plans have a one-time fee for the financial plan equal to 20 basis points (0.20%) of the financial plan's total assets. New and existing CWM clients who transfer assets to CWM for advisory services within six (6) months of the delivery of the financial plan shall receive a reduced fee of 10 basis points (0.10%) of the financial plan's total assets. The fee for the financial plan as stated herein is subject to a minimum Three Thousand Five Hundred and No/100 Dollars ($3,500.00) fee. Adjustments to the fee for the financial plan for clients who transfer assets to CWM for advisory services within six (6) months of the delivery of the financial plan will be credited to the client's CWM account within two (2) weeks of such transfer.

Other Fee Terms for Financial Planning Services

To the extent CWM provides you with general investment recommendations as part of the financial planning services and you implement such investment recommendations through CWM, we may offer our agreement with you to waive or reduce the fees for financial planning services.

The financial planning services terminate upon either party providing the other party with written notice of termination.

In the event that you terminate the financial planning services at any time prior to presentment of the written plan by providing notice to us:

- For financial planning services performed by CWM under an hourly arrangement, you will pay CWM for any hourly fees incurred at the rates described above.
- For financial planning services performed by CWM under a fixed fee arrangement, you will pay CWM a pro-rated fixed fee equivalent to the percentage of work completed by CWM as determined by CWM.
- For financial planning service provided on an Asset Based fee option you will be responsible for a pro-rated amount of the asset based fee based upon the level of services provided.

In the event that there is a remaining balance of any fees paid in advance after the deduction of fees from the final invoice, those remaining proceeds will be refunded by CWM to you.

Our Retirement Plan Consulting Services are offered to clients on an Asset-based pricing model. A fee that will range up to 1.8% of the assets held in the Retirement Plan will be charged for our consultation services. The actual fee charged to your account will be specified in the client agreement which is required to be executed prior to the services being provided.

Fee for our consulting services will be billed quarterly in advance. We bill the annual consultation fee on a quarterly basis and in advance, at the start of the calendar quarter. Fees are based on the value of the account on the last business day of the previous quarter.

You may terminate the consulting services within seven (7) business days of entering into an agreement with us without penalty or fees due. If you terminate the consulting services after seven (7) business days of entering into an agreement with us, you will be responsible for immediate payment of any consulting work performed prior to our receipt of your notice.

Third-Party Money Manager Program Fees

Third-party managers generally have account minimum requirements that will vary among third-party money managers. Account minimums are generally higher on fixed income accounts than for equity based accounts. A complete description of the third-party money manager's services, fee schedules and account minimums will be disclosed in the third-party money manager's disclosure brochure which will be provided to you prior to or at the time an agreement for services is executed and the account is established.

The actual fee charged to you will vary depending on the third-party money manager. All fees are calculated and collected by the third-party money manager who will be responsible for delivering our portion of the fee paid by you to us.

Under this program, you may incur additional charges including but not limited to, mutual fund sales loads, 12b-1 fees and surrender charges and IRA and qualified retirement plan fees.

We have a conflict of interest by only offering those third-party money managers that have agreed to pay a portion of their advisory fee to us and have met the conditions of our due diligence review. There may be other third-party money managers that may be suitable for you that may be more or less costly. No guarantees can be made that your financial goals or objectives will be achieved. Further, no guarantees of performance can be offered.

Carson Institutional Alliance

Launched in 2012, Carson Institutional Alliance is a program designed to present independent investment advisors the opportunity to join CWM and have access to various resources typically only available to CWM advisors. These resources may include investment management, marketing, technology, operations and compliance. If your advisor joins CWM, the advisory firm becomes CWM, and the DBA of your advisor may differ. Carson Institutional Alliance assists advisors to align with and operate through CWM. Fees to the advisor range from 10 to 85 basis points (.10% to .85%) dependent upon AUM, the type of investment being managed, services provided and the advisor's business model.

Item 6 – Performance-Based Fees and Side-by-Side Management

We do not charge or receive performance-based fees. Performance-based fees are fees based on a share of capital gains or the capital appreciation of your assets. We do not conduct side-by-side management situations where a combination of asset based and performance fees are collected.

Item 7 – Types of Clients

We offer investment advisory services to a wide variety of clients including, but not limited to, individuals including those with high net worth and individuals who are considered a “qualified client” under Rule 205-3 of the Investment Advisors Act of 1940, or is a “qualified purchaser,” pension and profit sharing plans (other than plan participants), trusts, estates, 401(k) sponsor plans and Individual Retirement Accounts (IRA, SEP, ROTH IRA,), charitable organizations, corporations and other business entities, including sole proprietorships.

Item 8 – Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies and Risk of Loss

Methods of Analysis

CWM may use the following methods of analysis in formulating investment advice:

Charting - This is a set of techniques used in technical analysis in which charts are used to plot price movements, volume, settlement prices, open interest, and other indicators, in order to anticipate future price movements. Users of these techniques, called chartists, believe that past trends in these indicators can be used to extrapolate future trends.

Charting is likely the most subjective analysis of all investment methods since it relies on proper interpretation of chart patterns. The risk of reliance upon chart patterns is that the next day's data can always negate the conclusions reached from prior days' patterns. Also, reliance upon chart patterns bears the risk of a certain pattern being negated by a larger, more encompassing pattern that has not shown itself yet.

Fundamental – This is a method of evaluating a security by attempting to measure its intrinsic value by examining related economic, financial and other qualitative and quantitative factors. Fundamental analysts attempt to study everything that can affect the security's value, including macroeconomic factors (like the overall economy and industry conditions) and individually specific factors (like the financial condition and management of a company). The end goal of performing fundamental analysis is to produce a value that an investor can compare with the security's current price in hopes of figuring out what sort of position to take with that security (underpriced = buy, overpriced = sell or short). Fundamental analysis is considered to be the opposite of technical analysis. Fundamental analysis is about using real data to evaluate a security's value. Although most analysts use fundamental analysis to value stocks, this method of valuation can be used for just about any type of security.

The risk associated with fundamental analysis is that it is somewhat subjective. While a quantitative approach is possible, fundamental analysis usually entails a qualitative assessment of how market forces interact with one another in their impact on the investment in question. It is possible for those market forces to point in different directions, thus necessitating an interpretation of which forces will be dominant. This interpretation may be wrong, and could therefore lead to an unfavorable investment decision.

Technical – This is a method of evaluating securities by analyzing statistics generated by market activity, such as past prices and volume. Technical analysts do not attempt to measure a security's intrinsic value, but instead use charts and other tools to identify patterns that can suggest future activity. Technical analysts believe that the historical performance of stocks and markets are indications of future performance.

Technical analysis is even more subjective than fundamental analysis in that it relies on proper interpretation of a given security's price and trading volume data. A decision might be made based on a historical move in a certain direction that was accompanied by heavy volume; however, that heavy volume may only be heavy relative to past volume for the security in question, but not compared to the future trading volume. Therefore, there is the risk of a trading decision being made incorrectly, since future trading volume is an unknown. Technical analysis is also done through observation of various market sentiment readings, many of which are quantitative. Market sentiment gauges the relative degree of bullishness and bearishness in a given security, and a contrarian investor utilizes such sentiment advantageously. When most traders are bullish, then there are very few traders left in a position to buy the security in question, so it becomes advantageous to sell it ahead of the crowd. When most traders are bearish, then there are very few traders left in a position to sell the security in question, so it becomes advantageous to buy it ahead of the crowd. The risk in utilization of such sentiment technical measures is that a very bullish reading can always become more bullish, resulting in lost opportunity if the money manager chooses to act upon the bullish signal by selling out of a position. The reverse is also true in that a bearish reading of sentiment can always become more bearish, which may result in a premature purchase of a security.

There are risks involved in using any analysis method. To conduct analysis, CWM gathers information from financial newspapers and magazines, inspection of corporate activities, research materials prepared by others, corporate rating services, timing services, annual reports, prospectuses and filings with the SEC, and company press releases.

Investment Management Strategies

CWM uses the following investment strategies when managing client assets within our model portfolios or separately managed accounts:

Long term purchases. Investments held at least a year.

Short term purchases. Investments sold within a year.

Frequent trading. This strategy refers to the practice of selling investments within 30 days of purchase.

Option writing including cover options, or spreading strategies. Options are contracts giving the purchaser the right to buy or sell a security, such as stocks, at a fixed price within a specific period of time.

Our firm seeks to create a balance between risk and reward over a given time period by allocating client assets among our proprietary Model Portfolios. This typically involves employing a diverse mixture of securities within the Model Portfolios discussed below. Based on the information you provide us, we consider multiple time horizons (long, medium and short-term) when determining investment strategies. Depending on our clients' needs, we may engage in a variety of risk management strategies. We believe our risk management tools distinguish us from others in the investment advisory marketplace.

In the development and Management of our Model Portfolios, CWM's Investment Committee (Committee) uses industry standard techniques that include technical analysis and fundamental analysis. The Committee may engage various types of execution tactics like long-term buys, short-term buys, shorting stock and option strategies to achieve its objectives. Each model engages in its own type of techniques, execution tactics and use of research tools to enhance the ability to manage its assets effectively to its stated philosophy. Examples of industry research sources and publications used by the firm include Thomson Reuters, Telemet, Orion Advisor Services, Dow Jones News, New York Stock Exchange (NYSE), NASDAQ and AMEX.

Active Management of Strategies

Ronald L. Carson is our Chief Investment Strategist and he is the leader of our Investment Committee. Our Investment Committee is comprised of our portfolio managers and knowledgeable, experienced investment professionals. The Committee and the portfolio managers actively manage to each model's investment objective, driven by its investment philosophy and style. The AP and AP20 investment strategies are managed collectively by the members of the Committee. The remaining models are run by individual managers.

The Committee communicates weekly to evaluate current economic and market conditions, identify evolving trends and gauge inflows and outflows of cash. Based on its analysis and other portfolio related considerations, the Committee or its individual managers direct adjustments as needed.

The Committee continues to examine our clients' investment needs and monitors and/or develops investment strategies to align with their goals and objectives. To expand and diversify our offerings, the Committee has hired selected sub-advisors. Each sub-advisor presents our clients with a unique strategy and management style

Sub-Advisor Due Diligence

If we determine a need for unique investment strategies, we will research and evaluate qualified sub-advisors to manage our client assets within the strategy. Due diligence is performed on sub-advisors prior to entering into a portfolio management agreement with the firm. The due diligence process involves careful considerations of portfolio manager's qualifications, expertise, financial stability, regulatory history, performance results, fees and the value of the offering brought to our clients. Other factors reviewed include, but are not limited to, the transparency in the sub-advisor's investment management process including research, risk tolerance allowed to meet performance expectations, tools employed to manage risk and proper controls to mitigate drift from investment style, objectives and philosophies.

Although the due diligence is ongoing, on an annual basis, key information is requested from the sub-advisors to ensure the most current information is on file and also for the firm review. CWM retains the discretionary authority to hire and fire its sub-advisors.

All Seasons Tactical Strategy

The All Seasons Tactical strategy was developed as a smaller account solution that utilizes ETFs. Most investors tend to be moderate investors until there is a big correction or large run up in the market. Then, investors typically transform from conservative to aggressive. The All Seasons Tactical strategy is designed to help navigate this type of emotional investing.

- Navigates the changing seasons in the market.
- Follows the same methodology as the Law of Supply & Demand - If demand increases, consumers are driven to purchase and therefore, cost increases.
- Provides a rules-based strategy in order to lessen emotional investment behavior.
- Determines areas with the most relative strength - the measurement of performance relative to a benchmark or to the rest of the universe.

Day Hagan Tactical Dividend Strategy

The Day Hagan Tactical Dividend strategy is a sub-advised portfolio which views dividends as an objective, controlled means of valuation, as earnings are often subjective and uncorrelated to future corporate performance. Companies that have a history of consistent dividend payouts, balance sheet strength and sound corporate fundamentals have proven resilient to downturns and are considered valuable during up-moves.

- Tactically allocates assets based on the "weight-of-the-evidence" – an approach that considers the highest probability of success and believes that cash should be utilized as a defensive asset class when suitable "buy" candidates are not available.
- Diversification is important; single industry exposure is limited to 20% of the portfolio at cost and single equity exposure is limited to 5% of the portfolio at cost.
- Favors industries with relatively high dividend yields, low debt, strong cash flows, good margins and the ability to maintain and grow the dividend payout. Fundamental screens eliminate companies with questionable balance sheets.
- Utilizes long-only stock market exposure, attempts to minimize portfolio turnover (thus providing tax-efficiency) and allows for daily liquidity and transparency.

Long-Term Trend Strategy

The Long-Term Trend strategy consists of a concentrated portfolio of equities that are selected based upon attractive fundamentals and is positioned to benefit from long-term secular trends identified by the Investment Committee. Positions are taken with the intent that they can be held over prolonged time frames (a minimum of 3 – 5 years). Turnover and taxes should be kept to a minimum; the positions will be sold if they become significantly over-valued or if the fundamental picture has considerably changed.

- Identify long-term secular themes (see above as in the Advance & Protect Strategy),
- Fundamental research on stocks (and possibly ETFs) that are best positioned to benefit from such trends, and
- Continually monitor price and fundamental developments.

You need to be aware that this strategy is not the Advance and Protect strategy. It does not use hedges, so the downside risk is theoretically unlimited. Technical indicators will not be used. It does not attempt to “time” the market and will not be as liquid (smaller market capitalizations could result in thinner trading volumes).

Swan Defined Risk Strategy (DRS)

The Swan Defined Risk strategy (DRS) is an index-based strategy sub-advised by Swan Wealth Advisors. The DRS strategy is an absolute return, market-neutral strategy that does not rely on market timing or stock selection. The DRS strategy invests in the S&P 500 Index or SPDR Selects ETFs and options trading. 85 – 90% of invested assets are placed in equities that include 9 equal-weighted S&P 500 Sector ETFs. The remaining 10-15% of invested assets is placed in long put options which are bought at or near the money and sized to give the client a defined risk of 7-10% maximum loss. If the market drops in value, the put option increases in value. Options on these indexes are additional primary components of the strategy and are used to protect the main holdings from down markets and to generate monthly income for the portfolios. Multiple adjustments and liquidation points are incorporated to minimize risk and maximize the frequency and size of the monthly returns.

If you choose the DRS management strategy, please be advised that Swan will charge you a separate annual management fee for assets under management for the management and implementation of the strategy. The use of some option strategies are restricted in certain retirement accounts that are covered by the Employee Retirement Income Security Act (ERISA). Therefore, the Swan Defined Risk Strategy may not be as effective for ERISA cover retirement accounts. Accounts opened for this strategy will be custodied at TD Ameritrade. This fee is in addition to the advisory fee paid to CWM.

Risk of Loss

Past performance is not indicative of future results. Therefore, you should never assume that future performance of any specific investment or investment strategy will be profitable. Investing in securities (including stocks, mutual funds, and bonds, etc.) involves risk of loss. Further, depending on the different types of investments there may be varying degrees of risk. You should be prepared to bear investment loss including loss of original principal.

Because of the inherent risk of loss associated with investing, our firm is unable to represent, guarantee, or even imply that our services and methods of analysis can or will predict future results, successfully identify market tops or bottoms, or insulate you from losses due to market corrections or declines. There are certain additional risks associated with investing in securities through our investment management program, as described below:

- Interest-rate Risk: Fluctuations in interest rates may cause investment prices to fluctuate. For example, when interest rates rise, yields on existing bonds become less attractive, causing their market values to decline.
- Market Risk: Either the stock market as a whole, or the value of an individual company, goes down resulting in a decrease in the value of client investments. This is also referred to as systemic risk.
- Inflation Risk: When any type of inflation is present, a dollar today will not buy as much as a dollar next year because purchasing power is eroding at the rate of inflation.
- Currency Risk: Overseas investments are subject to fluctuations in the value of the dollar against the currency of the investment’s originating country. This is also referred to as exchange rate risk.
- Reinvestment Risk: This is the risk that future proceeds from investments may have to be reinvested at a potentially lower rate of return (i.e., interest rate). This primarily relates to fixed income securities.

- Equity (stock) market risk: Common stocks are susceptible to general stock market fluctuations and to volatile increases and decreases in value as market confidence in and perceptions of their issuers change. If you held common stock, or common stock equivalents, of any given issuer, you would generally be exposed to greater risk than if you held preferred stocks and debt obligations of the issuer.
- Company Risk: When investing in stock positions, there is always a certain level of company or industry specific risk that is inherent in each investment. This is also referred to as unsystematic risk and can be reduced through appropriate diversification. There is the risk that the company will perform poorly or have its value reduced based on factors specific to the company or its industry. For example, if a company's employees go on strike or the company receives unfavorable media attention for its actions, the value of the company may be reduced.
- Fixed Income Risk: When investing in bonds, there is the risk that the issuer will default on the bond and be unable to make payments. Further, individuals who depend on set amounts of periodically paid income face the risk that inflation will erode their spending power. Fixed-income investors receive set, regular payments that face the same inflation risk.
- Options Risk: Options on securities may be subject to greater fluctuations in value than an investment in the underlying securities. Purchasing and writing put and call options are highly specialized activities and entail greater than ordinary investment risks.
- ETF and Mutual Fund Risk: When investing in a an ETF or mutual fund, you will bear additional expenses based on your pro rata share of the ETF's or mutual fund's operating expenses, including the potential duplication of management fees. The risk of owning an ETF or mutual fund generally reflects the risks of owning the underlying securities the ETF or mutual fund holds. You will also incur brokerage costs when purchasing ETFs.
- Liquidity Risk: Liquidity is the ability to readily convert an investment into cash. Generally, assets are more liquid if there is a high interest in a standardized product. For example, Treasury Bills are highly liquid, while real estate properties are not.
- Financial Risk: The possibility that shareholders will lose money when they invest in a company that has debt if the company's cash flow proves inadequate to meet its financial obligations. When a company uses debt financing, its creditors will be repaid before its shareholders if the company becomes insolvent. Financial risk also refers to the possibility of a corporation or government defaulting on its bonds, which would cause those bondholders to lose money.
- Management Risk: Your investment with our firm varies with the success and failure of our investment strategies, research, analysis and determination of portfolio securities. If our investment strategies do not produce the expected returns, the value of the investment will decrease.
- Margin Risk

If those securities in a margin account decline in value, the value of the collateral supporting this loan also declines, and as a result, the brokerage firm is required to take action in order to maintain the necessary level of equity in your account. The brokerage firm may issue a margin call and/or sell other assets in your account.

It is important that you fully understand the risks involved in trading securities on margin, which are applicable to any margin account that you may maintain, including any margin account that may be established as part of the Asset Management Agreement established between you and CWM and held by the account custodian or clearing firm.

These risks include the following:

- You can lose more funds than you deposit in your margin account.
- The account custodian or clearing firm can force the sale of securities or other assets in your account.
- The account custodian or clearing firm can sell your securities or other assets without contacting you.
- You are not entitled to choose which securities or other assets in your margin account may be liquidated or sold to meet a margin call.
- The account custodian or clearing firm may move securities held in your cash account to your margin account and pledge the transferred securities.
- The account custodian or clearing firm can increase its "house" maintenance margin requirements at any time and they are not required to provide you advance written notice.
- You are not entitled to an extension of time on a margin call.

Registered Representative of a Broker/Dealer

Some of our representatives are also registered representatives of LPL Financial, LLC, a securities broker/dealer. You may work with your investment advisor representative in his or her separate capacity as a registered representative of LPL Financial, LLC. When acting in his or her separate capacity as a registered representative, your investment advisor representative may sell, for commissions, general securities products such as stocks, bonds, mutual funds, exchange-traded funds and variable annuity and variable life products to you. As such, your investment advisor representative may suggest that you implement investment advice by purchasing securities products through a commission-based brokerage account in addition to or in lieu of a fee-based investment-advisory account. This receipt of commissions creates an incentive to recommend those products for which your investment advisor representative will receive a commission in his or her separate capacity as a registered representative of a securities broker/dealer. Consequently, the objectivity of the advice rendered to you could be biased. As a result of some of our representative's relationship with LPL Financial, LPL may have access to certain confidential information (e.g., financial information, investment objectives, transactions and holdings) about CWM's clients, even for clients that may not establish any account through LPL. If you would like a copy of the LPL Financial privacy policy, please contact CWM at the address referenced on Page 1.

You are under no obligation to use the services of our representatives in this separate capacity or to use LPL Financial, LLC and can select any broker/dealer you wish to implement securities transactions. If you select our representatives to implement securities transactions in their separate capacity as registered representatives, they must use LPL Financial, LLC. Prior to effecting any such transactions, you are required to enter into a new account agreement with LPL Financial, LLC. The commissions charged by LPL Financial, LLC may be higher or lower than those charged by other broker/dealers. In addition, the registered representatives may also receive additional ongoing 12b-1 fees for mutual fund purchases from the mutual fund company during the period that you maintain the mutual fund investment.

Third-Party Money Managers

CWM has developed several programs, previously described in Item 5 of this disclosure brochure, designed to allow us to recommend and select third-party money managers for you. Once you select the third-party money manager to manage all or a portion of your assets, the third-party money manager will pay us a portion of the fees you are charged. Please refer to Item 6 and CWM's Form ADV Part 2A for full details regarding the programs, fees, conflicts of interest and materials arrangements when CWM selects other investment advisers.

Insurance Agent

You may also work with your investment advisor representative in his or her separate capacity as an insurance agent. When acting in his or her separate capacity as an insurance agent, the investment advisor representative may sell, for commissions, general disability insurance, life insurance, annuities and other insurance products to you. As such, your investment advisor representative in his or her separate capacity as an insurance agent may suggest that you implement recommendations of CWM by purchasing disability insurance, life insurance, annuities or other insurance products. This receipt of commissions creates an incentive for the representative to recommend those products for which your investment advisor representative will receive a commission in his or her separate capacity as an insurance agent. Consequently, the advice rendered to you could be biased. You are under no obligation to implement any insurance or annuity transaction through your investment advisor representative.

Service Agreement

CWM has a Service Agreement with Orion Advisor Services to provide trading, billing, data aggregation, reporting and operation solutions, as well as other advisor solutions, and our custodians LPL Financial, TD Ameritrade and other qualified custodians. This agreement allows Orion to perform certain trading, operational, data aggregation and other administrative duties with these custodians on our behalf.

Affiliation with Peak Advisor Alliance

Peak Advisor Alliance (Peak) and CWM are under the common ownership of Ron Carson. Peak provides coaching, consulting, training and software services to financial advisors. Peak's focus is on client service and new business growth solutions. Peak is not a registered investment advisor or broker/dealer. Peak offers services to individuals that work within the financial services industry. Peak Advisor Alliance has an insurance agency through which CWM advisors offer life insurance, LTC and other insurance products.

CWM has an arrangement with Peak allowing us to act as a sponsor of Peak events (i.e., workshops, seminars, etc.). We may market our advisory services and investments at Peak events. Peak may provide referrals to CWM and Peak may refer CWM's platforms, investment strategies and products to financial professionals using Peak services. CWM compensates Peak for these non-client referral activities.

Item 11 – Code of Ethics, Participation in Client Transactions and Personal Trading

Code of Ethics Summary

Our Code of Ethics includes guidelines for professional standards of conduct for our Associated Persons. Our goal is to protect your interests at all times and to demonstrate our commitment to our fiduciary duties of honesty, good faith and fair dealing with you. All of our Associated Persons are expected to understand and strictly follow these guidelines.

Our Code of Ethics also requires that our Associated Persons submit reports of their personal account holdings and transactions to a qualified representative of our firm who will review these reports on a periodic basis. Persons associated with our firm are also required to report any violations of our Code of Ethics. Additionally, we maintain and enforce written policies reasonably designed to prevent the misuse or dissemination of material, non-public information about you or your account holdings by persons associated with our firm.

Clients or prospective clients may obtain a copy of our Code of Ethics by contacting us at the telephone number on the cover page of this brochure.

Affiliate and Employee Personal Securities Transactions Disclosure

Our firm or persons associated with our firm may buy or sell securities or hold a position identical to clients. It is our policy that no Associated Person will put his/her interests before a client's interest. Associated Persons may not trade ahead of any client and cannot trade for a better price than the price a client would obtain. It is the Associated Person's responsibility to know which securities we are trading. Associated Persons are required to consult with the Compliance Department to determine whether a security is an acceptable purchase or sale. We prohibit all Associated Persons from trading on non-public information and from sharing such information. Associated Persons may not invest in an initial public offering (IPO) for their own accounts or those of related household members. Associated Persons are required to obtain approval from the Compliance Department prior to investing in a private placement or other limited offerings. We do not allow "short-swing" trading or market timing. Short-Swing trading, better known as the Short-Swing Profit rule, requires company insiders to return any profits made from the purchase and sale of company stock if both transactions occur within a six-month period. A company insider, as determined by the rule, is any officer, director or holder of more than 10% of the company's shares.

Reporting Requirements

Every Associated Person who has access to client accounts must submit a report of all personal securities holdings at the time of affiliation with us and annually thereafter. Such reports must contain current information (not older than 45 days). Holding reports must contain the following information:

- The title and type of security;
- The security symbol or CUSIP number;
- The number of shares and the principal amount of each reportable security;

- The name of any broker, dealer, or bank with which the Associated Person maintains an account;
- The date the report was submitted.

Item 12 – Brokerage Practices

Asset Management Services

You are under no obligation to act on the financial planning recommendations of CWM. If we assist you in the implementation of any recommendations, we are responsible to ensure that you receive the best execution possible.

CWM recommends that you establish brokerage accounts with LPL Financial, TD Ameritrade or other qualified custodians through their Institutional Platforms (collectively referred to as Qualified Custodians). LPL Financial, TD Ameritrade and our other custodians are members of FINRA/SIPC and are independent (and unaffiliated) SEC-registered broker/dealers and are recommended by CWM to maintain custody of clients' assets and to effect trades for their accounts.

At least annually, we will review alternative custodians in the marketplace for comparison to the currently used broker/dealer qualified custodians. We evaluate such criteria as expertise, cost competitiveness and financial condition. We will review quality of execution for custodians through trade journal evaluations and broker/dealer reports.

CWM is independently owned and operated and not affiliated with our Qualified Custodians. The primary factor in suggesting a broker/dealer or custodian is that the services of the recommended firm are provided in a cost-effective manner. While quality of execution at the best price is an important determinant, best execution does not necessarily mean lowest price and it is not the sole consideration. The trading process of any broker/dealer and money manager suggested by CWM must be efficient, seamless, and straight-forward. Overall custodial support services, trade correction services and statement preparation are some of the other factors determined when suggesting a broker/dealer. The Qualified Custodians provide us with access to their institutional trading and custody services, which are typically not available to retail investors. These services generally are available to independent investment advisors at no charge to them so long as the independent investment advisors maintain a minimum amount of assets with the custodian.

The Qualified Custodians do not charge separately for custody but are compensated by account holders through commissions or other transaction-related fees for securities trades that are executed by recommended money managers through the custodian or that settle into a custodian account. These benefits include, but are not necessarily limited to: receipt of duplicate client confirmations and bundled duplicate statements; access to a trading desk; access to block trading which provides the ability to aggregate securities transactions and allocate the appropriate shares to client accounts; the ability to have investment advisory fees deducted directly from client accounts; access to an electronic communications network for client order entry and account information; and access to mutual funds that generally require significantly higher minimum initial investments or are generally only available to institutional investors.

The Qualified Custodians also make available to us other products and services that benefit our firm but may not benefit clients' accounts. Some of these other products and services assist us in managing and administering clients' accounts. These include software and other technology that provide access to client account data (such as trade confirmation and account statements); provide research, pricing information and other market data; facilitate payment of the firm's fees from its clients' accounts; and assist with back-office functions; record keeping and client reporting. Many of these services generally may be used to service all or a substantial number of our accounts, including accounts not maintained at a recommended custodian. CWM is also providing other services intended to help our firm manage and further develop our business enterprise. These services may include consulting, publications and conferences on practice management, information technology, business succession, regulatory compliance and marketing.

We recommend broker/dealers and custodians that we feel provide services in a manner and at a cost that will allow us to meet our duty of best execution. However, we may be limited in the broker/dealer or custodians that we are allowed to use due to our representatives' relationship with LPL. LPL may limit or restrict the broker/dealer or custodial platforms for its registered representatives that are also independently licensed due to its duty to supervise the transactions implemented by these individuals.

While there is no direct linkage between the investment advice given to you and our recommendation of LPL, TD Ameritrade or other qualified custodian, economic benefits may be provided to us by these custodians that are not provided if you select another broker/dealer or account custodian. These benefits may include:

- Negotiated costs for transaction execution
- A dedicated trade desk that services LPL Financial participants exclusively
- A dedicated service group and an account services manager dedicated to our accounts
- Access to a real-time order matching system
- Electronic download of trades, balances and position information
- Access, for a fee, to an electronic interface with the account custodian's software
- Financial Support for Data Aggregation and Performance Reporting systems
- Duplicate and batched client statements, confirmations and year-end reports

Please also see Item 5, Fees and Compensation, for additional information about advisory services and implementing recommendations.

Directed Brokerage

Clients should understand that not all investment advisors require the use of a particular broker/dealer or custodian. Some investment advisors allow their clients to select whichever broker/dealer the client decides. By requiring clients to use a particular broker/dealer, CWM may not achieve the most favorable execution of client transactions and the practice requiring the use of specific broker/dealers may cost clients more money than if the client used a different broker/dealer or custodian. However, for compliance and operational efficiencies, CWM has decided to require our clients to use broker/dealers and other qualified custodians determined by CWM.

Broker/Dealer Affiliation (LPL Financial)

If you wish to implement our advice, you are free to select any broker you wish. If you wish to have our representatives implement the advice in their separate capacity as registered representatives, LPL is used. Our representatives are registered representatives of LPL and we are required to use the services of LPL when acting in this capacity. LPL has a wide range of approved securities products for which it performs due diligence prior to selection. LPL's registered representatives are required to adhere to these products when implementing securities transactions through LPL. Commissions charged for these products may be higher or lower than commissions clients may be able to obtain if transactions were implemented through another broker/dealer.

Because our representatives are also registered representatives of LPL, LPL provides compliance support to them. LPL also provides our representatives, and therefore us, with back-office operational, technology and other administrative support.

Soft Dollar Benefits

An investment advisor receives soft dollar benefits from a broker/dealer when the investment advisor receives research or other products and services in exchange for client securities transactions or maintaining an account balance with the broker/dealer.

We do not have soft-dollar agreements with any broker/dealers and have not received any such benefits; however, LPL does provide certain compensation in the form of transition assistance for assets brought on to the Carson Institutional Alliance program and custodied at LPL (Please refer to Item 14 – Additional Compensation for more information).

Investment Allocation and Trade Aggregation Policy

Our allocation and aggregation process requires fair and equitable treatment of all client orders. When mutual funds are traded, there is no value to aggregation as each trade receives the same price. To the extent other securities are purchased or sold that lend themselves to aggregation or block trading (for example, stocks or exchange traded funds); we may aggregate client transactions or allocate orders whenever possible. The aggregation of orders provides the effects of lower transaction per share costs. To the extent that we aggregate client orders for the purchase or sale of securities, including securities in which our principals and/or Associated Persons may invest, we shall generally do so in accordance with the parameters set forth in SEC No-Action Letter, SMC Capital, and Incorporated. We shall not receive any additional compensation or remuneration as a result of the aggregation.

We use model strategies in the management of our separate accounts. Our trading department prioritizes the release of trading orders with respect to its advised separate accounts as follows:

- Discretionary accounts with no restrictions that require manual trade adjustments such as deviations from the model for cash requirements or that hold non-model securities, etc.;
- Accounts with restrictions that require manual intervention to process trades;
- Non-discretionary accounts that require pre-approval of trades.

Due to the sequence of placing trades for accounts, it is possible that accounts traded first will receive more favorable pricing than those traded last.

In order to achieve the best execution price and not cause a significant market change certain transactions in thinly traded equity securities may be required to be broken out in to multiple transactions over a series on trading days. While this practice will typically result in a better execution price this practice will result in multiple transaction charges in your account.

We provide investment management services to our clients. We provide non-discretionary investment research and market analysis to third-party investment professionals such as advisors and brokers.

Cross Transactions

A cross trade is a transaction between two accounts managed by the same investment advisor. We recognize the potential for significant conflicts of interest when performing internal cross transactions in client accounts; therefore the general policy is to not perform internal cross transactions. However, if we deem it to be in the best interest of certain clients, we may perform an internal cross transaction. Generally, this type of transaction will only occur in very limited circumstances. Prior to executing such a transaction, the trader will obtain prior written approval from the CCO.

Client Participation in Transactions

In general, we make investment decisions for each account independently from those of other accounts. We make these decisions with specific reference to the circumstances and objectives of each account. Accounts may receive allocations of securities or investments different from other accounts. Through the allocation process, we base these allocations on a number of factors including, but not limited to, the trade rotation policy, previous transactions, account restrictions, account size, tax status, risk tolerance, cash and liquidity. We will seek to be consistent in our investment approach for all accounts with the same or similar investment objectives, strategies and restrictions. However, the act of purchasing, selling or holding a security for one account does not mean that we will do the same for other accounts. We will place transactions for some accounts in securities already owned by other accounts. We also may purchase (or sell) a security on behalf of some accounts that was sold (or purchased) on behalf of other accounts.

Trading Errors

Even with our best efforts and controls, trade errors may happen. All trade errors will be brought to the attention of the Head Trader and the CCO immediately upon discovery. We will work to formulate the best resolution for the client. In the event of a trade error, errors will be corrected before the current day market close (if possible) and no later than next market close date and with the intent to make the client whole. Ideally, when possible, trade errors will be moved from the client's account to either our trade error account with the broker/dealer that executed the trade or that broker/dealer's trade error account, depending upon which party is responsible for the error. In cases in which we are responsible for the error, all losses will be paid by us and all gains will be retained by the custodian. In cases in which the broker/dealer is responsible for the error, we will follow the procedures of the broker/dealer with respect to any gains or losses in the trade error account. Please be advised that any trade errors that result from inaccurate instructions provided by the client remain the financial responsibility of the client.

Item 13 – Review of Accounts

We provide account reviews as a part of our Asset Management Services. Our advisors will meet with you either by phone or in person at least annually to review your account(s) and update any changes in your financial profile. A summary and consolidated report will be prepared in connection with the review. Reviews may be conducted more frequently when we are experiencing significant changes in economic and market conditions, as requested by a client or at our discretion.

Statements and Reports

Our clients will receive account statements no less than quarterly from the qualified custodian. You may additionally receive on-demand positions and performance reports in writing from us for no additional fee. We encourage you to compare CWM generated reports to the account statement information you receive from your qualified custodian. The custodians' statements serve as the permanent record of your account(s).

Item 14 – Client Referrals and Other Compensation

Advisory firms may compensate us for referral activities. These fees may come in the form of marketing or referral fees paid directly to us by the firm. The exact compensation arrangement will vary depending on the advisory firm and factors associated with the referral. Fees are typically based on a portion of the management fees charged by advisory firm to clients of financial professionals we originally introduced to the advisory firm. In all cases, CWM will comply with the cash solicitation rules established by the SEC, state regulators and the client disclosure requirements.

CWM has entered into an agreement with LPL Financial (“Referring Party”) to refer clients to CWM. If a referred client enters into an investment advisory agreement with CWM, a cash referral fee is paid to the referring party, which is based upon a percentage of the client advisory fees that are generated. The referral agreements between any referring party and CWM will not result in any charges to clients in addition to the normal level of advisory fees charged.

When a client is referred to us by a referring party, the referring party provides the client with a copy of our Disclosure Brochure as required by the Investment Advisers Act of 1940. The client also will complete a Solicitor’s Disclosure Statement document. If the referring party is an unaffiliated registered investment advisor firm, then the client will also receive a copy of the referring party’s Form ADV Part 2 Disclosure Brochure. If a referred client enters into an investment advisory agreement with CWM, a referral fee is paid to the referring party. The referral relationship will not result in clients being charged any fees over and above the normal advisory fees charged for the advisory services provided.

The referral agreements between CWM and referring parties are in compliance with state and federal securities rules regarding paid solicitor arrangements.

We may from time to time receive expense reimbursement for travel and/or marketing expenses from distributors of investment and/or insurance products. Travel expense reimbursements are typically a result of attendance at due diligence and/or investment training events hosted by product sponsors. Marketing expense reimbursements are typically the result of informal expense sharing arrangements in which product sponsors may underwrite costs incurred for marketing such as client appreciation events, advertising, publishing, and seminar expenses. Although receipt of these travel and marketing expense reimbursements are not predicated upon specific sales quotas, the product sponsor reimbursements are typically made by those sponsors for which sales have been made or for which it is anticipated sales will be made. This creates a conflict of interest in that there is an incentive to recommend certain products and investments based on the receipt of this compensation instead of what is in the best interest of our clients. We attempt to control for this conflict by always basing investment decisions on the individual needs of our clients.

Additional Compensation

Associated Persons, if properly registered and licensed to do so, may also receive compensation on non-advisory business (i.e., brokerage commissions) related to the sale of securities or other investment products as insurance. Transaction-based compensation such as this is separate and distinct from the other fees we may receive in connection with our investment advisory services.

Commissions from the sale of other non-advisory investment products include, but are not limited to, variable annuities, mutual funds, private placements and such non-investment related products as life insurance. Such commissions provide an advisor with an incentive to recommend these investment products based on the compensation they will receive from selling such products. This may be considered a conflict of interest; however we do not allow advisors to earn commissions on products that are included within our advisory accounts.

Custodian Compensation

From time-to-time, CWM or its affiliates receive compensation and transitional assistance from custodians for utilization of their services and products. For example, compensation and transitional assistance received from LPL is based upon the assets custodied at their firm. This may be considered a conflict of interest because, we may have an incentive to direct client accounts to LPL in consideration of the actual or anticipated incentives or consideration we will receive. CWM and its IARs may also receive an economic benefit from LPL in the form of a loan, which is forgiven if CWM and/or the IAR meet certain conditions in terms of maintaining a relationship with LPL. Please see the detailed discussion of the conditions and potential conflicts of interest in Item 12 Brokerage Practices.

We are sensitive to this conflict of interest and take steps to ensure that it does not affect our decisions for our clients. CWM reviews trades for best execution, pricing, research, financial strength and other factors to manage a potential conflict and safeguard that the clients' best interest comes first.

Custodian Marketing Support

TD Ameritrade and LPL Financial LLC have developed programs to provide marketing assistance in the form of the payment of additional compensation to both CWM and our affiliated firm PEAK Advisor Alliance to support the marketing and recruiting activities discussed in Item 10 - Other Financial Industry Activities and Affiliations. These payments create an incentive for CWM to retain client asserts with TD Ameritrade and LPL and are therefore a conflict of interest. CWM is sensitive to this conflict of interest and takes steps to make sure that it does not affect our decisions in relation to our client's accounts.

Custodian Operational Support

TD Ameritrade and LPL Financial, LLC have also agreed to provide financial support to CWM to assist in paying for CWM's Data Aggregation and Performance Reporting system and to independently verify the accuracy of CWM's performance calculations. These payments create an incentive for CWM to retain client asserts with TD Ameritrade and LPL and are therefore a conflict of interest. CWM understand and accepts that these payments are a conflict of interest and takes steps to make sure that it does not affect our decisions in relation to our client's accounts.

LPL Loans

CWM, its CEO, affiliated companies, and advisors have received a series of loans from LPL in order to assist with the continuing transition of advisory business onto the LPL custodial platform. These loans contain clauses that will allow for the loans to be forgiven by LPL based on the scope of business CWM and its advisors engage in with LPL, including the amount of CWM's client assets that are held with LPL as their account custodian. These loans present a conflict of interest in that CWM and its advisors have a financial incentive to recommend that you maintain your account with LPL in order to benefit by having the loan(s) forgiven. However, to the extent that CWM and its advisors recommend you use LPL for such services, it is because CWM and its advisors believe that it is in your best interest to do so based on the quality and pricing of the execution, benefits of an integrated platform for brokerage and advisory accounts, and other services provided by LPL.

Conflicts of Interest in General

The potential for additional compensation may give our Associated Persons an incentive to recommend investment products based on the additional compensation received. Our objective, as a firm, is to always place our clients' best interests first.

The conflicts inherent to advisors or the firm receiving added compensation are disclosed to you in this brochure. Your IAR also provides you with this information in his/her advisory brochure. CWM has implemented supervisory controls for acknowledgement and oversight of existing or potential conflict concerns or issues. Our CCO is responsible for the administration of the supervisory process and our Written Supervisory Procedures (WSP).

Item 15 – Custody

CWM does not have physical or electronic custody of your funds or securities. Your account assets will be held with a bank, broker/dealer, or another independent qualified custodian. You will receive account statements directly from the custodian(s) holding your account assets no less than quarterly. The account statements from your custodian(s) will indicate the amount of our advisory fees deducted from your account(s) each billing period. You should carefully review account statements for accuracy and contact your advisor with any questions you may have. Please note that the custodians' account statement serves as your permanent record of your assets held with each custodian.

Item 16 – Investment Discretion

The Agreement grants us the authority to decide what securities are bought or sold in your account(s) and the authority to implement those decisions without being required to obtain your approval.

You have the right to place reasonable restrictions on your accounts. You may also place reasonable restrictions on the discretionary power granted to us so long as the limitations are specifically directed to us as an attachment to the Agreement.

Item 17 – Voting Client Securities

Asset Management Services

You are responsible for exercising your right to vote proxies for any and all securities maintained in your accounts unless you hold an ERISA account with us. ERISA accounts do require our proxy vote. We do not provide advice on proxy materials on behalf of your non-ERISA advisory accounts.

Class Action Suits

A class action is a procedural device used in litigation to determine the rights of and remedies, if any, for large numbers of people whose cases involve common questions of law and/or fact. Class action suits frequently arise against companies that publicly issue securities, including securities recommended by investment advisors to clients.

With respect to class action suits and claims, you (or your agent) will have the responsibility for class actions or bankruptcies, involving securities purchased for or held in your account. We do not provide such services and are not obligated to forward copies of class action notices we may receive to you or your agents.

Item 18 – Financial Information

Our firm does not have any financial conditions that would prevent us from meeting our contractual commitments to you. We have not been the subject of a financial related petition.

Privacy Policy – Our Commitment to You

We treat your non-public personal financial information with confidentiality and respect. Our Privacy Policy defines the trust, privacy, and confidentiality we have with our clients. Our Privacy Policy is reasonably designed to:

1. Ensure the security and confidentiality of your records and information;
2. Protect against anticipated threats or hazards to the security or integrity of your records and information; and,

Non-public personal information includes all information you provide to obtain a financial product or service. It also includes information resulting from any transaction or information otherwise obtained in providing a financial product or services. Additionally, we may share non-public personal information with the following types of third parties: (a) our financial service providers, such as custodians, transfer agents and third-party money managers; (b) non-financial companies under servicing or joint marketing agreements, such as printing firms, mailing firms, or providing service firms data transfer information for the purpose of aggregation, or performance reports; (c) With broker-dealer firms having regulatory requirements to supervise certain aspects of CWM's activities.

These third parties are bound by law or by contract to use your information only for the services for which we hired them and are not permitted to use or share this information for any other purpose.

Your non-public personal information may also be disclosed to persons we believe to be your authorized agent or representative.
