CFA - Chartered Financial Analyst:

The Chartered Financial Analyst (CFA) charter is a globally respected, graduate-level investment credential established in 1962 and awarded by CFA Institute — the largest global association of investment professionals. To earn the CFA charter, candidates must: 1) pass three sequential, six-hour examinations; 2) have at least four years of qualified professional investment experience; 3) join CFA Institute as members; and 4) commit to abide by, and annually reaffirm, their adherence to the CFA Institute Code of Ethics and Standards of Professional Conduct. The CFA Program curriculum is updated every year by experts from around the world to ensure that candidates learn the most relevant and practical new tools, ideas, and investment and wealth management skills to reflect the dynamic and complex nature of the profession. To learn more about the CFA charter, visit www.cfainstitute.org.

Item 3: Disciplinary Information¹

Mr. Chen was involved in a verbal customer complaint on February 27, 2008, which led to a settlement in the amount of $2,500,000.00. This verbal complaint arose from the sale of an auction rate security (ARS) that was made prior to the unprecedented illiquidity in the ARS market that occurred in February 2008. Mr. Chen did not cause, contribute or have any control whatsoever over these market events. The firm reached agreement with regulators, pursuant to their repurchasing

¹ Note: Our firm may, under certain circumstances, rebut the presumption that a disciplinary event is material. If an event is immaterial, we are not required to disclose it. When we review a legal or disciplinary event involving the advisor to determine whether it is appropriate to rebut the presumption of materiality, we consider all of the following factors: (1) the proximity of advisor to the advisory function; (2) the nature of the infraction that led to the disciplinary event; (3) the severity of the disciplinary sanction; and (4) the time elapsed since the date of the disciplinary event. If we conclude that the materiality presumption has been overcome, we prepare and maintain a file memorandum of our determination in our records. We follow SEC rule 204-2(a)(14)(iii) and similar state rules.

ARS for their full par value from clients, whether they complained or not. The settlement amount reflected the par value of the repurchased ARS. Mr. Chen was not a party to that agreement, did not make any payment to the client, and was not asked to and did not contribute to the repurchase amount.

Mr. Chen was also involved in a customer complaint on June 26, 2008, which led to a settlement in the amount of $8,350,000.00. This complaint arose after the auction rate security (ARS) market suffered widespread auction failures and illiquidity. Customers alleged they were informed ARS were “Frozen” and they did not give instruction to invest in such securities. Mr. Chen did not cause, contribute or have any control whatsoever over these market events. The firm reached agreement with regulators, pursuant to their repurchasing ARS for their full par value from clients, whether they complained or not. The settlement amount reflected the par value of the repurchased ARS. Mr. Chen was not a party to that agreement, did not make any payment to the client, and was not asked to and did not contribute to the repurchase amount. Item 4: Other Business Activities

Mr. Chen has an equity interest in OceanIQ Partners. OceanIQ Partners is the investment manager for two venture capital funds (OceanIQ Partners/Base Venture Series LLC and OceanIQ Partners/Paxata Series LLC). As well as always acting in the clients best interest, in order to mitigate the risk of this potential conflict of interest, OceanIQ Capital has engaged a third-party, independent auditor to provide an annual, unqualified review of the fund’s holdings.

Mr. Chen is licensed to offer insurance products and may receive customary fees as a result of insurance sales. A conflict of interest exists as these insurance sales creates an incentive to recommend products based on the compensation he may earn. To mitigate this potential conflict, he will act in the client’s best interest. Clients are under no obligation to purchase Mr. Chen’s recommendation.

Item 5: Additional Compensation

Mr. Chen does not receive any other economic benefit for providing advisory services in addition to advisory fees and carried interest.

Item 6: Supervision

Mr. Chen is the firm’s Chief Compliance Officer and has no internal supervision placed over him. He is, however, bound by our firm’s Code of Ethics.
