B. Summary of Wealth Net Advisors, Inc.'s Advisory Services

Wealth Net Advisors, Inc. offers a unique software based financial advisor service based on persistency based investment management philosophies. We create a personalized investment plan and manage/advise a Client's portfolio by 1) Identifying a client's risk tolerance as we deem it imperative that clients can stay with a program, even during declining market environments, 2) the ideal mix of between equity and fixed income investments based on the Client's specific risk tolerance, 3) selecting and investing in the highest rated fund available to the client according to the proprietary risk/return analysis software used, 4) selling those funds and replacing them with newest highest rated funds according to our software. The common holding period of any fund is between 60 and 120 days, and except in highly volatile market positions funds will not be liquidated if they would incur custodian or fund level early redemption fees.

The strategies can also be self implemented by the clients, or the firm can be retained to provide trading, for select brokerages and accounts, at no additional fee.

C. Tailored Services and Investment Restrictions

Wealth Net Advisors, Inc. tailors its software based financial advisor service to the individual needs of each of its Clients, and subject to certain product features and account limitations that prospective investors should consider, as described further below in Item 7. Accounts for Clients ("Client Accounts" or "Accounts") are opened and maintained according to a Client Account Agreement ("Account Agreement") which describes the discretionary authority that a Client grants to Wealth Net Advisors, Inc. A. Advisory Fees

Wealth Net Advisors, Inc. is compensated for its advisory services by a flat fee per account advised, whether discretionary or non- discretionary. This fee is $14.95/month/account, but is negotiable for entities where our fee is a pass through component of a larger overall package. Wealth Net Advisors, Inc. is a “fee only” investment advisor, and other than its advisory fee , consulting fees or subscription fees described above, neither the firm nor its employees receive or accept any direct or indirect compensation related to investments that are purchased or sold for Client Accounts.

However, the Firm’s principals are licensed insurance agents. Through this registration they can sell insurance products to Clients separately from their services as an investment adviser representative of the Firm. All such pay commissions that are separate from the fees outlined above. This creates a conflict of interest because it creates a financial incentive to recommend investment products based on compensation rather than on a client’s need.

The principals addresses the conflict of interest by telling clients when he are acting as an insurance agent Additionally, Mr. Hartmann and the Firm attempt to mitigate any conflicts of interest to the best of their ability by acting in the client's best interest.

Furthermore the principals are also the sole owners of another Registered Investment Advisory company, Financial & Tax Strategies, Inc. This firm provides in depth financial and retirement planning services, and is operated under a different fee structure. Client's wishing to retrain the principals for those services are advised to study the disclosure documents and agreements of that firm carefully, in order to understand any potential conflicts.

However, in addition to advisory fees, Clients may also pay other fees or expenses to third-parties. The issuer of some of the securities or products we purchase for Clients, such as ETFs, variable or fixed annuities, or other similar financial products, may charge product fees that affect Clients. Wealth Net Advisors, Inc. does not charge these fees to Clients, and does not benefit directly or indirectly from any such fees.

Item 8 Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies and Risk of Loss

For its software based financial advisor service, Wealth Net Advisors, Inc. provides Clients with financial advice that is based broadly on momentum theories of portfolio management, modified by some proprietary elements.

The underlying philosophy is that securities that have shown high recent risk adjusted returns have a greater chance of providing above average risk adjusted returns in the next 60 to 120 days. Substantial finance research has been conducted in this area, including by Mr. Hartmann, who received 2nd place in 2012 NAAIM Wagner Award finance research competition focusing on these effects.

Wealth Net Advisors, Inc. weekly reviews the a population of more than 3,000 open end mutual funds to identify the most promising funds at the time.

Wealth Net Advisors, Inc. continuously monitors our Clients' portfolios and automatically rebalances them back to the Clients' target when one set of mutual funds is exchanged for another. We do not consider tax implications when making investment selections, as we believe that improving rates of return yields are more significant result for clients, rather than tax minimization.

RISK CONSIDERATIONS

Wealth Net Advisors, Inc. cannot guarantee any level of performance or that any Client will avoid a loss of Account assets. Any investment in securities involves the possibility of financial loss that Clients should be prepared to bear.

When evaluating risk, financial loss may be viewed differently by each Client and may depend on many different risk items, each of which may affect the probability of adverse consequences and the magnitude of any potential losses. The following risks may not be all-inclusive, but should be considered carefully by a prospective Client before retaining Wealth Net Advisors, Inc.'s services. These risks should be considered as possibilities, with additional regard to their actual probability of occurring and the effect on a Client if there is in fact an occurrence.

Market Risk – The price of any security or the value of an entire asset class can decline for a variety of reasons outside of Wealth Net Advisors, Inc.'s control, including, but not limited to, changes in the macroeconomic environment, unpredictable market sentiment, forecasted or unforeseen economic developments, interest rates, regulatory changes, and domestic or foreign political, demographic, or social events. If a Client has a high allocation in a particular asset class it may negatively affect overall performance to the extent that the asset class underperforms relative to other market assets. Conversely, a low allocation to a particular asset class that outperforms other asset classes in a particular period will cause that Client Account to underperform relative to the overall market.

Advisory Risk –There is no guarantee that Wealth Net Advisors, Inc.’s judgment or investment decisions about particular securities or asset classes will necessarily produce the intended results.

Wealth Net Advisors, Inc.’s judgment may prove to be incorrect, and a Client might not achieve her investment objectives. Wealth Net Advisors, Inc. may also make future changes to the investing algorithms and advisory services that it provides. In addition, it is possible that Clients or Wealth Net Advisors, Inc. itself may experience computer equipment failure, loss of internet access, viruses, or other events that may impair access to Wealth Net Advisors, Inc.’s software based financial advisory service. Wealth Net Advisors, Inc. and its representatives are not responsible to any Client for losses unless caused by Wealth Net Advisors, Inc. breaching its fiduciary duty.

Volatility and Correlation Risk – Clients should be aware that Wealth Net Advisors, Inc.’s asset selection process is based in part on a careful evaluation of past price performance and volatility in order to evaluate future probabilities. However, it is possible that different or unrelated asset classes may exhibit similar price changes in similar directions which may adversely affect a Client, and may become more acute in times of market upheaval or high volatility. Past performance is no guarantee of future results, and any historical returns, expected returns, or probability projections may not reflect actual future performance.

Liquidity and Valuation Risk –High volatility and/or the lack of deep and active liquid markets for a security may prevent a Client from selling her securities at all, or at an advantageous time or price because Wealth Net Advisors, Inc. because mutual funds may limit or suspend redemption privileges at their discretion.. Some securities (including open end mutual funds) that hold or trade financial instruments may be adversely affected by liquidity issues as they manage their portfolios. While Wealth Net Advisors, Inc. values the securities held in Client Accounts based on reasonably available security data, Wealth Net Advisors, Inc. may from time to time receive or use inaccurate data, which could adversely affect security valuations, transaction size for purchases or sales, and/or the resulting advisory fees paid by a Client to Wealth Net Advisors, Inc..

Credit Risk – Wealth Net Advisors, Inc. cannot control and Clients are exposed to the risk that financial intermediaries or security issuers may experience adverse economic consequences that may include impaired credit ratings, default, bankruptcy or insolvency, any of which may affect portfolio values or management. This risk applies to assets on deposit with any Custodian utilized by Client, notwithstanding asset segregation and insurance requirements that are beneficial to clients generally. In addition, exchange trading venues or trade settlement and clearing intermediaries could experience adverse events that may temporarily or permanently limit trading or adversely affect the value of Client securities. Finally, any issuer of securities may experience a credit event that could impair or erase the value of the issuer’s securities held by a Client.

Legislative and Tax Risk - Performance may directly or indirectly be affected by government legislation or regulation, which may include, but is not limited to: changes in investment advisor or securities trading regulation; change in the U.S. government’s guarantee of ultimate payment of principal and interest on certain government securities; and changes in the tax code that could affect interest income, income characterization and/or tax reporting obligations.

Foreign Investing and Emerging Markets Risk - Foreign investing involves risks not typically associated with U.S. investments, and the risks may be exacerbated further in emerging market countries. These risks may include, among others, adverse fluctuations in foreign currency values, as well as adverse political, social and economic developments affecting one or more foreign countries. In addition, foreign investing may involve less publicly available information and more volatile or less liquid securities markets, particularly in markets that trade a small number of securities, have unstable governments, or involve limited industry. Investments in foreign countries could be affected by factors not present in the U.S., such as restrictions on receiving the investment proceeds from a foreign country, foreign tax laws or tax withholding requirements, unique trade clearance or settlement procedures, and potential difficulties in enforcing contractual obligations or other legal rules that jeopardize shareholder protection. Foreign accounting may be less transparent than U.S. accounting practices and foreign regulation may be inadequate or irregular.

Concentration and Non-diversification Risk - All of the client's funds may be concentrated in investments focused on the same single sector, country or region, leading to highly concentrated exposures, resulting in potentially significantly greater opportunity for gain, and risk of loss, than a broadly diversified portfolio. As a result the strategy's performance may be more sensitive to any single economic, business, political or regulatory occurrence than the value of a diversified investment.

Inflation, Currency, and Interest Rate Risks - Security prices and portfolio returns will likely vary in response to changes in inflation and interest rates. Inflation causes the value of future dollars to be worth less and may reduce the purchasing power of an investor's future interest payments and principal. Inflation also generally leads to higher interest rates, which in turn may cause the value of many types of fixed income investments to decline. In addition, the relative value of the U.S. dollar-denominated assets primarily managed by Wealth Net Advisors, Inc. may be affected by the risk that currency devaluations affect Client purchasing power.
