Item 4 Advisory Business

Description of Services and Fees

Johnson Investment Counsel, Inc. is a registered investment adviser with offices in Cincinnati, Columbus, and Dayton, Ohio. We are organized as a corporation under the laws of the State of Ohio. Johnson Investment Counsel has been providing investment advisory services since 1965. We have been providing these services since 2001 under our current corporate structure. Current ownership consists of 24 employees with no shareholder owning more than approximately 25% of the company. We offer the following investment advisory services, which are personalized to each individual client:

- Portfolio Management for Individuals or Institutions
- Financial Planning Services
- Selection of Other Advisers
- Pension Consulting Services
- Mutual Fund Services

The following paragraphs describe our services and fees. Please refer to the description of each investment advisory service listed below for information on how we tailor our advisory services to your individual needs. As used in this brochure, the words "we", "our" and "us" refer to Johnson Investment Counsel, Inc. and the words "you", "your" and "client" refer to you as either a client or prospective client of our firm. Also, you may see the term Associated Person throughout this brochure. As used in this brochure, our Associated Persons are our firm's officers, employees, and all individuals providing investment advice on behalf of our firm.

Portfolio Management for Individuals or Institutions

We offer discretionary portfolio management services. Our investment advice is tailored to meet our clients' needs and investment objectives. If you retain our firm for portfolio management services, we will work with you throughout our advisory relationship to determine your investment objectives, risk tolerance, and other relevant information (the "suitability information".) We will use the suitability information we gather to develop a strategy that enables our firm to give you continuous and focused investment advice and/or to make investments on your behalf. As part of our portfolio management services, we may customize an investment portfolio for you in accordance with your risk tolerance and investment objectives. We may also invest your assets using a predefined strategy. Once we construct an investment portfolio for you, we will monitor your portfolio's performance on an ongoing basis, and will re-balance the portfolio as required by changes in market conditions and/or in your financial circumstances.

If you participate in our discretionary portfolio management services, we require you to grant our firm discretionary authority to manage your account. Discretionary authorization will allow our firm to determine the specific securities, and the amount of securities, to be purchased or sold for your account without your approval prior to each transaction. Accordingly, we are also authorized to issue instructions to the custodian for operational matters of the account and to select brokers or dealers to execute securities transactions without your approval. Discretionary authority is typically granted by the investment management agreement you sign with our firm, a limited power of attorney, or trading authorization forms. You may limit our discretionary authority (for example, limiting the types of securities that can be purchased for your account) by providing our firm with your restrictions and guidelines in writing. If you enter into non-discretionary arrangements with our firm, we must obtain your approval prior to executing any transactions that would violate your guidelines or restrictions.

Our fee for portfolio management services is based on a percentage of your assets we manage and is set forth in the following fee schedule:

Assets Under Management	Annual Fee
First $1,000,000	1.00%
Next $2,000,000	0.80%
Next $2,000,000	0.60%
All Funds Thereafter	0.40%

This fee schedule became effective January 1, 2008. Some clients with established relationships prior to that date as well as some institutional accounts may be subject to a different fee schedule. We generally impose a minimum of $500,000 to open and maintain an advisory account. However, this account minimum may be waived at our sole discretion. All accounts are subject to a minimum fee of $5,000 per year.

Our annual portfolio management fee is billed and payable semi-annually in arrears based upon the market value of the assets on June 30th and December 31st. Fees will be assessed pro rata in the event the investment management agreement is executed at any time other than the first day of a billing period. Partial fees will be calculated from the date the portfolio management agreement is executed to the end of the semi-annual period. Fees are also adjusted for contributions and withdrawals that occur within a billing period.

At our discretion, we may combine the account values of family members living in the same household to determine the applicable advisory fee. For example, we may combine account values for you and your minor children, joint accounts with your spouse, and other types of related accounts. Combining account values will increase the asset total, which may result in your paying a reduced advisory fee based on the available breakpoints in our fee schedule stated above.

In limited circumstances, we may assess a fixed fee for asset management services. Under such arrangements, the fee is negotiated on a case-by-case basis, predicated on the size of the account and complexity of the requested services. All fees will be clearly set forth at the beginning of the relationship and any change in fees will be clearly communicated.

There are no investment advisory fees charged on any of the funds that are part of Johnson Mutual Funds Trust ("JMF") that are held in the client's portfolio. JMF charges expenses themselves, as stated below. However, mutual fund shares managed by other Advisors held in portfolios may be charged advisory fees as well as the expenses charged by the mutual fund themselves.

We will send you an invoice for the payment of our advisory fee, or we will deduct our fee directly from your account with the qualified custodian holding your funds and securities. We will deduct our advisory fee only when you have given our firm authorization permitting the fees to be paid directly from your account. Further, the qualified custodian will deliver an account statement to you at least quarterly. These account statements will show all disbursements from your account. You should review all statements for accuracy. We will also have the ability to review a duplicate copy of the information reflected on your custodial account statement, to help assure all transactions are proper.

You may terminate the portfolio management agreement upon written notice to our firm. You will incur a pro rata charge for services rendered prior to the termination of the portfolio management agreement, which means you will incur advisory fees only in proportion to the number of days for which you are a client.

We encourage you to reconcile our invoices with the statement(s) you receive from the qualified custodian. If you find any inconsistent information between our invoice and the statement(s) you receive from the qualified custodian, please call our main office number located on the cover page of this brochure.

Financial Planning Services

We offer broad-based and consultative financial planning services. Financial planning will typically involve providing a variety of advisory services to clients regarding the management of their financial resources based upon an analysis of their individual needs. If you retain our firm for financial planning services, we will meet with you to gather information about your financial circumstances and objectives. We may also use financial planning software to analyze your current financial position and to define and quantify your long-term goals and objectives. Once we understand your long-term objectives (both financial and non-financial), we will develop shorter-term, targeted objectives. We will review and analyze the information you provide to our firm and the data derived from our financial planning analysis. Upon completion of the review and analysis, we will communicate our conclusions to you, which are designed to help you achieve your stated financial goals and objectives.

Financial plans are based on your financial situation at the time we present the plan to you, and on the financial information you provide to our firm. You must promptly notify our firm if your financial situation, goals, objectives, or needs change. Clients are advised that certain assumptions may be made with respect to interest and inflation rates and past trends and performance of the market and economy may be used. Past performance is in no way an indication of future performance. We cannot offer any guarantees or promises that your financial goals and objectives will be met.

You are under no obligation to act on our financial planning recommendations. Should you choose to act on any of our recommendations, you are not obligated to implement the financial plan through any of our other investment advisory services. If you do choose to implement the plan using our services, we may, at our sole discretion, offset a portion of, or waive the cost of, the financial planning services.

Fees are due upon completion of services rendered. You may terminate the financial planning agreement by providing written notice to our firm. You will incur a pro rata charge for services rendered prior to the termination of the agreement.

Selection of Other Advisers

As part of our investment advisory services, we may recommend that you use the services of a third party investment adviser ("TPA") to manage your entire, or a portion of, your investment portfolio. After gathering information about your financial situation and objectives, we may recommend that you engage a specific TPA or investment program. Factors that we take into consideration when making our recommendation(s) include, but are not limited to, the following: the TPA's performance, methods of analysis, fees, your financial needs, investment goals, risk tolerance, and investment objectives. We will periodically monitor the TPA(s)' performance to ensure its management and investment style remains aligned with your investment goals and objectives.

The TPA(s) will actively manage your portfolio and will assume discretionary investment authority over your account. We will assume discretionary authority to hire and fire TPA(s) and/or reallocate your assets to other TPA(s) where we deem such action appropriate.

The advisory fee you pay to the TPA is established and payable in accordance with the brochure provided by each TPA to whom you are referred. We do not share in the advisory fee you pay directly to the TPA. A separate fee is payable to us for advisory services as outlined earlier in this brochure.

You will be required to sign an agreement directly with the recommended TPA(s). You may terminate your advisory relationship with the TPA according to the terms of your agreement with the TPA. You should review each TPA's brochure for specific information on how you may terminate your advisory relationship with the TPA and how you may receive a refund, if applicable. You should contact the TPA directly for questions regarding your advisory agreement with the TPA.

Pension Consulting Services

We offer pension consulting services to employee benefit plans and their fiduciaries based upon the needs of the plan and the services requested by the plan sponsor or named fiduciary. In general, these services may include an existing plan review and analysis, plan-level advice regarding fund selection and investment options, education services to plan participants, investment performance monitoring, and/or ongoing consulting. These pension consulting services will generally be non-discretionary and advisory in nature. The ultimate decision to act on behalf of the plan shall remain with the plan sponsor or other named fiduciary.

We may also assist with participant enrollment meetings and provide investment-related educational seminars to plan participants on such topics as:

- Diversification
- Asset allocation
- Risk tolerance
- Time horizon

Our educational seminars may include other investment-related topics specific to the particular plan.

Johnson Investment Counsel, Inc. will be compensated at a rate negotiated between the firm and the client on a case-by-case basis. The fees and terms will be clearly set forth in an executed agreement for services. The amount of the fees charged to the client will be based on the scope and complexity of the qualified plan and the requested services. An estimate of the total cost will be determined at the start of the advisory relationship. The final fee shall be directly dependent upon the facts and circumstances of the client's financial situation and the complexity of the pension consulting services provided.

We may also provide additional types of pension consulting services to plans on an individually negotiated basis. All services, which may be at the plan-level or participant-level, are based upon requirements from the plan fiduciaries. These services shall be detailed in a written agreement and be consistent with the parameters set forth in the plan documents. Our advisory fees for these customized services will be negotiated with the plan sponsor or named fiduciary on a case-by-case basis.

Either party to the pension consulting agreement may terminate the agreement upon written notice to the other party. The pension consulting fees will be prorated for the quarter in which the termination notice is given. Refunds are not applicable since fees are payable in arrears.

General - Advisory Services to Retirement Plans and Plan Participants

As disclosed above, we offer various levels of advisory and consulting services to employee benefit plans ("Plan") and to the participants of such plans ("Participants"). The services are designed to assist plan sponsors in meeting their management and fiduciary obligations to Participants under the Employee Retirement Income Securities Act ("ERISA"). Pursuant to adopted regulations of the U.S. Department of Labor, we are required to provide the Plan's responsible plan fiduciary (the person who has the authority to engage us as an investment adviser to the Plan) with a written statement of the services we provide to the Plan, the compensation we receive for providing those services, and our status (which is described below).

The services we provide to your Plan are described above, and in the service agreement that you have previously signed. Our compensation for these services is described below, at Item 5, and also in the service agreement. We do not reasonably expect to receive any other compensation, direct or indirect, for the services we provide to the Plan or Participants, unless the plan sponsor directs us to deduct our fee from the plan or directs the plan record-keeper to issue payment for our fee out of the plan. If we receive any other compensation for such services, we will (i) offset the compensation against our stated fees, and (ii) we will promptly disclose the amount of such compensation, the services rendered for such compensation and the payer of such compensation to you.

Status

We are registered as an investment adviser under the Investment Advisers Act of 1940 and we are not subject to any disqualification as set forth in Section 411 of ERISA. In performing fiduciary services, we are typically acting as a fiduciary of the plan as defined in Section 3(21) under ERISA, although we may occasionally be acting as a fiduciary as defined by Section 3(38) under ERISA.

Mutual Fund Services

We provide investment advisory services to Johnson Mutual Funds Trust. We are paid fees at an annual rate of 1% of the average daily net assets of the Growth Fund, the Opportunity Fund, the Realty Fund, the Equity Income Fund, and the International Fund, 0.85% of the average daily net assets of the Fixed Income Fund, 0.65% of the average daily net assets of the Municipal Income Fund, 0.35% of the Enhanced Return Fund, and 0.30% of the Johnson Institutional Bond Funds, a portion of which has consistently been waived.

Wrap Fee Program(s)

We serve as a portfolio manager to various brokers who offer wrap fee programs ("Programs"), which are a type of investment program that provides clients with access to several money manager or mutual fund allocation models for a single fee. The broker charges a single fee which includes money management fees, certain transaction costs, custodial and other administrative costs. We receive a portion of the wrap fee for our services. The overall cost you will incur if you participate in the wrap fee program may be higher or lower than you might incur by separately purchasing the types of securities available in the program. To compare the cost of the wrap fee program with non-wrap fee portfolio management services, you should consider the frequency of trading activity associated with investment strategies and the brokerage commissions charged by the aforementioned broker-dealers, and the advisory fees charged by investment advisers.

Types of Investments

We offer advice on equity securities, warrants, corporate debt securities, commercial paper, certificates of deposit, municipal securities, investment company securities, US Government securities, options contracts on securities and commodities, futures contracts on securities and commodities, and interest in real estate, master limited partnerships, and other partnerships. We also offer guidance on private fund investment opportunities.

Additionally, we may advise you on any type of investment that we deem appropriate based on your stated goals and objectives. We may also provide advice on any type of investment held in your portfolio at the inception of our advisory relationship.

You may request that we refrain from investing in particular securities or certain types of securities. You must provide these restrictions to our firm in writing.

Client Assets

As of December 31, 2015, we provide continuous management services for $8,347,405,000 in client assets on a discretionary basis,

Item 5 Fees and Compensation

Please refer to the "Advisory Business" section in this brochure for information on our advisory fees and fee deduction arrangements according to each service we offer.

Additional Fees and Expenses

As part of our investment advisory services to you, we may invest, or recommend that you invest, in mutual funds and exchange traded funds. The fees that you pay to our firm for investment advisory services are separate and distinct from the fees and expenses charged by mutual funds or exchange traded funds (described in each fund's prospectus) to their shareholders. These fees will generally include a management fee and other fund expenses.

You will also incur transaction charges and/or brokerage fees when purchasing or selling securities. These charges and fees are typically imposed by the broker-dealer or custodian through whom your account transactions are executed. For some accounts, Johnson Trust Company, a wholly owned affiliate of Johnson Investment Counsel, shares custodial responsibilities with US Bank. The custody agreement between Johnson Trust Company and US Bank allows US Bank to collect a $14 transaction fee imposed upon purchases, sales, principal pay downs, physical trades and mutual fund transactions, including trades in Johnson Mutual Funds.

To fully understand the total cost you will incur, you should review all the fees charged by mutual funds, exchange traded funds, our firm, and others. For information on our brokerage placements, please refer to the "Brokerage Placements" section of this brochure.

Item 6 Performance-Based Fees and Side-By-Side Management

We do not accept performance-based fees or participate in side-by-side management. Side-by-side management refers to the practice of managing accounts that are charged performance-based fees while at the same time managing accounts that are not charged performance-based fees.

Performance-based fees are fees that are based on a share of capital gains or capital appreciation of a client's account. Our fees are calculated as described previously in the Advisory Business section, and are not charged on the basis of a share of capital gains upon, or capital appreciation of, the funds in your advisory account.

Item 7 Types of Clients

We offer investment advisory services to individuals, investment companies, pension and profit sharing plans, trusts, estates, charitable organizations, corporations, and other business or governmental entities.

We generally impose a minimum of $500,000 to open and maintain an advisory account. However, this account minimum may be waived at our sole discretion. All accounts are subject to a minimum fee of $5,000 per year.

Item 8 Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies and Risk of Loss

We may use one or more of the following methods of analysis or investment strategies when providing investment advice to you.

- Fundamental Analysis - involves analyzing a company's financial statements, details regarding the company's product line, the experience and expertise of the company's management, and the outlook for the company's industry. The resulting data is used to measure the true value of the company's stock compared to the current market value.
- Quantitative Analysis - investments are selected for the portfolio using a multi-factor quantitative approach to screen for appropriate investment opportunities. These quantitative factors may simply serve as inputs to the overall process or a more disciplined quantitative approach may be followed.
- Asset Allocation Strategy - attempts to maximize portfolio expected return for a given amount of portfolio risk, or equivalently minimize risk for a given level of expected return, by carefully diversifying the proportions of various asset classes.
- Technical Analysis - involves studying past price patterns and trends in the financial markets to predict the direction of both the overall market and specific stocks.
- Cyclical Analysis - a type of technical analysis that involves evaluating recurring price patterns and trends.
- Long Term Purchases - securities purchased with the expectation that the value of those securities will grow over a relatively long period of time, generally greater than one year.
- Short Term Purchases - securities purchased with the expectation that they will be sold within a relatively short period of time, generally less than one year, to take advantage of the securities' short-term price fluctuations.
- Short Term Trading - We may use short-term trading (in general, selling securities within 30 days of purchasing the same securities) as an investment strategy when managing your account(s). Short-term trading is not a fundamental part of our overall investment strategy, but we may use this strategy occasionally when we determine that it is suitable given your stated investment objectives and tolerance for risk.
- Option Writing - a securities transaction that involves either buying or selling an option contract. An option contract is the right, but not the obligation, to buy or sell a particular security at a specified price before the expiration date of the option.

Our investment strategies and advice may vary depending upon each client's specific financial situation. As such, we determine investments and allocations based upon your predefined objectives, risk tolerance, time horizon, financial horizon, financial information, liquidity needs, and other various suitability factors. Your restrictions and guidelines may affect the composition of your portfolio.

At Johnson Investment Counsel, we formulate investment strategy and portfolio management in a team setting, building on the deep experience of our people and our academic heritage. This environment promotes a consistent and disciplined portfolio construction process within each of our strategies, never wholly dependent on any single participant. Our investment process is sophisticated yet logical and understandable, blending together the art and science of portfolio management. Equity strategies are bottom-up oriented driven by a proven multi-factor quantitative approach to company analysis. Fixed income blends together a macro and micro strategy, focusing on quality yield and emphasizing appropriate maturities. Clients rely on this unwavering approach to provide complete exposure to an asset class or as a complement to other managers. To us, client relationships are partnerships and we work diligently to provide the dependable service and customized asset management required to meet the long-term needs of each client.

Some of the risks inherent in our Methods of Analysis and Investment strategies are as follows:

Fundamental Analysis - The risk of fundamental analysis is that information obtained may be incorrect and the analysis may not provide an accurate estimate of earnings, which may be the basis for a stock's value. If securities prices adjust rapidly to new information, utilizing fundamental analysis may not result in favorable performance.

Quantitative Analysis - The risk of quantitative analysis is that the factors used do not provide accurate guidance with respect to current and future valuation. The disciplined approach to quantitative analysis also could lead to an extended period of under-performance as strict adherence to the multi-factor model is required.

Asset Allocation - Asset allocation involves selecting and weighting sectors based upon expected future returns in that sector. The risk inherent in this approach is that if the sector weightings vary greatly from the respective benchmark performance may also vary greatly from benchmark returns.

Technical Analysis - The risk of market timing based on technical analysis is that charts may not accurately predict future price movements. Current prices of securities may reflect all information known about the security and day to day changes in market prices of securities may follow random patterns and may not be predictable with any reliable degree of accuracy.

Cyclical Analysis - Economic/business cycles may not be predictable and may have many fluctuations between long term expansions and contractions. The lengths of economic cycles may be difficult to predict with accuracy and therefore the risk of cyclical analysis is the difficulty in predicting economic trends and consequently the changing value of securities that would be affected by these changing trends.

Options - While option strategies might be used to increase current income or provide downside protection, they might also expire worthless or limit upside gain. The use of contracts in options trading must also be understood by investors.

Tax Considerations

Our strategies and investments may have unique and significant tax implications. However, unless we specifically agree otherwise, and in writing, tax efficiency is not our primary consideration in the management of your assets. Regardless of your account size or any other factors, we strongly recommend that you continuously consult with a tax professional prior to and throughout the investing of your assets.

Moreover, as a result of revised IRS regulations, custodians began reporting the cost basis of equities acquired in client accounts on or after January 1, 2011. Your custodian will default to the FIFO (First-In First-Out) accounting method for calculating the cost basis of your investments unless otherwise instructed. For accounts held in custody by Johnson Trust Company, US Bank, and Charles Schwab, the specific lot accounting method will be utilized. The method utilized by other custodians will be dependent on their ability to handle methods other than the default FIFO method. Please contact your portfolio manager or the number on the front of this brochure if you would like further information on the lot selection method being utilized by your specific custodian. You are responsible for contacting your tax advisor to determine if this accounting method is the right choice for you. If your tax advisor believes a specific accounting method is most advantageous, please provide written notice to our firm immediately and we will alert your account custodian of your individually selected accounting method. Please note that decisions about cost basis accounting methods will need to be made before trades settle, as the cost basis method cannot be changed after settlement.

Risk of Loss

Investing in securities involves risk of loss that you should be prepared to bear. We do not represent nor guarantee that our services or methods of analysis can or will predict future results, successfully identify market tops or bottoms, or insulate clients from losses due to market corrections or declines. We cannot offer any guarantees or promises that your financial goals and objectives will be met. Past performance is in no way an indication of future performance.

Recommendation of Particular Types of Securities

As disclosed under the "Advisory Business" section in this Brochure, we provide advice on all types of securities and we do not necessarily recommend one particular type of security over another since each client has different needs and different tolerance for risk. Each type of security has its own unique set of risks associated with it, and it would not be possible to list here all of the specific risks of every type of investment. Even within the same type of investment, risks can vary widely. However, in very general terms, the higher the anticipated return of an investment, the higher the risk of loss associated with it.

Item 9 Disciplinary Information

Johnson Investment Counsel, Inc. has been registered and providing investment advisory services since 1965. Neither our firm nor any of our Associated Persons has any reportable disciplinary information.

Item 10 Other Financial Industry Activities and Affiliations

Arrangements with Affiliated Entities

We are affiliated with Johnson Trust Company, a wholly owned subsidiary of Johnson Investment Counsel, Inc. through common control and ownership. We may recommend that you use the services of Johnson Trust Company if appropriate and suitable for your needs. Our advisory services are separate and distinct from the compensation paid to Johnson Trust Company for their services.

Johnson Investment Counsel, Inc. advises some clients and prospective clients to invest in Johnson Mutual Funds Trust ("JMF"). JMF is a family of no-load mutual funds. JMF is a registered investment company, which has contracted with Johnson Investment Counsel to be the investment advisor. Johnson Investment Counsel is sponsor and advisor to Johnson Mutual Funds Trust. JMF has contracted with Johnson Financial, Inc. ("JFI"), which is a wholly owned subsidiary of Johnson Investment Counsel, to do all fund accounting, shareholder accounting, and administrative servicing for the mutual funds.

These referral arrangements we have with our affiliated entities present a conflict of interest because we may have a financial incentive to recommend our affiliates' services. While we believe that compensation charged by our affiliates is competitive, such compensation may be higher than fees charged by other firms providing the same or similar services. You are under no obligation to use our affiliates' services and may obtain comparable services and/or lower fees through other firms.

Item 11 Code of Ethics, Participation or Interest in Client Transactions and Personal Trading

Description of Our Code of Ethics

We strive to comply with applicable laws and regulations governing our practices. Therefore, our Code of Ethics includes guidelines for professional standards of conduct for our Associated Persons. Our goal is to protect your interests at all times and to demonstrate our commitment to our fiduciary duties of honesty, good faith, and fair practices. All of our Associated Persons are expected to adhere strictly to these guidelines. Our Code of Ethics also requires that certain persons associated with our firm submit reports of their personal account holdings and transactions to a qualified representative of our firm who will review these reports on a periodic basis. Persons associated with our firm are also required to report any violations of our Code of Ethics. Additionally, we maintain and enforce written policies reasonably designed to prevent the misuse or dissemination of material, non-public information about you or your account holdings by persons associated with our firm.

Clients or prospective clients may obtain a copy of our Code of Ethics by contacting us at the telephone number on the cover page of this brochure.

Personal Trading Practices

Our firm or persons associated with our firm may buy or sell the same securities that we recommend to you or securities in which you are already invested. A conflict of interest exists in such cases because we have the ability to trade ahead of you and potentially receive more favorable prices than you will receive. To eliminate this conflict of interest, it is our policy that Associated Persons shall not have priority over your account in the purchase or sale of securities.

Associated persons may buy or sell, for their personal account(s), investment products identical to those recommended to clients. A Code of Ethics policy has been established which requires Associated Persons to obtain clearance from the Equity Trader before any personal trades are placed unless the trade falls under the "Exempted Transactions" portion of the Code of Ethics. Before granting this clearance, the Equity Trader will ascertain that no orders are being executed in that security for a client at that time. Associated Person accounts are occasionally included in blocked orders with client accounts. If Associated Person and client orders are mixed in a block trade, Associated Person accounts will not be allocated more favorable prices. It is also possible that an Associated Person may trade in the same security on the same day as a client account but not be part of the same block order. Such trades are subject to the policies and reviews detailed in the Code of Ethics. The Code of Ethics is designed, in part, to ensure that Associated Person trades will not adversely impact the trade or trades recommended for clients. A copy of the Code of Ethics will be provided to any client or prospective client upon request.

Item 12 Brokerage Practices

The Custodian and Brokers We Use

We do not maintain custody of your assets (although we may be deemed to have custody of your assets if you give us authority to withdraw assets from your account (see Item 15 Custody, below). Your assets must be maintained in an account at a "qualified custodian," generally a broker-dealer or bank. We maintain relationships with several broker-dealers. While you are free to choose any broker-dealer or other service provider, we recommend that you establish an account with a custodian with which we have an existing relationship. A majority of our clients use Charles Schwab & Co., Inc. (Schwab), a FINRA-registered broker-dealer, member SIPC, as the qualified custodian. We are independently owned and operated and not affiliated with Schwab. Schwab (or another custodian) will hold your assets in a brokerage account and buy and sell securities when we instruct them to. While we request that you use Schwab as custodian/broker, you will decide whether to do so and open your account with Schwab by entering into an account agreement directly with them. We do not open the account for you. Even though your account may be maintained at Schwab (or another custodian), we can still use other brokers to execute trades for your account, as described in the next paragraph.

How We Select Brokers/Custodians

We seek to use a custodian/broker who will hold your assets and execute transactions on terms that are overall most advantageous to you when compared to other available providers and their services. We consider a wide range of factors, including, among others, these:

- combination of transaction execution services along with asset custody services (generally without a separate fee for custody)
- capability to execute, clear and settle trades (buy and sell securities for your account)
- capabilities to facilitate transfers and payments to and from accounts (wire transfers, check requests, bill payment, etc.)
- breadth of investment products made available (stocks, bonds, mutual funds, exchange traded funds (ETFs), etc.)
- availability of investment research and tools that assist us in making investment decisions
- quality of services
- competitiveness of the price of those services (commission rates, margin interest rates, other fees, etc.) and willingness to negotiate them
- reputation, financial strength and stability of the provider
- their prior service to us and our other clients
- availability of other products and services that benefit us, as discussed below (see "Products and Services Available to Us")

Your Custody and Brokerage Costs

For our clients' accounts it maintains, Schwab generally does not charge you separately for custody services but is compensated by charging you commissions or other fees on trades that it executes or that settle into your Schwab account. In addition to commissions Schwab charges you a flat dollar amount as a "prime broker" or "trade away" fee for each trade that we have executed by a different broker-dealer but where the securities bought or the funds from the securities sold are deposited (settled) into your Schwab account. These fees are in addition to the commissions or other compensation you pay the executing broker-dealer. Because of this, in order to minimize your trading costs, we have Schwab execute most trades for your account.

Products and Services Available to Us from Schwab

Schwab Advisor Services (formerly called Schwab Institutional) is Schwab's business serving independent investment advisory firms like us. They provide us and our clients with access to its institutional brokerage - trading, custody, reporting and related services - many of which are not typically available to Schwab retail customers. Schwab also makes available various support services. Some of those services help us manage or administer our clients' accounts while others help us manage and grow our business. Schwab's support services are generally available on an unsolicited basis (we don't have to request them) and at no charge to us as long as we keep a total of at least $10 million of our clients' assets in accounts at Schwab. Here is a more detailed description of Schwab's support services:

Services that Benefit You. Schwab's institutional brokerage services include access to a broad range of investment products, execution of securities transactions, and custody of client assets. The investment products available through Schwab include some to which we might not otherwise have access or that would require a significantly higher minimum initial investment by our clients. Schwab's services described in this paragraph generally benefit you and your account, if Schwab is your custodian.

Services that May Not Directly Benefit You. Schwab also makes available to us other products and services that benefit us but may not directly benefit you or your account. These products and services assist us in managing and administering our clients' accounts. They include investment research, both Schwab's own and that of third parties. We may use this research to service all or some substantial number of our clients' accounts, including accounts not maintained at Schwab. In addition to investment research, Schwab also makes available software and other technology that:

- provide access to client account data (such as duplicate trade confirmations and account statements);
- facilitate trade execution and allocate aggregated trade orders for multiple client accounts;
- provide pricing and other market data;
- facilitate payment of our fees from our clients' accounts; and
- assist with back-office functions, recordkeeping and client reporting.

Services that Generally Benefit Only Us. Schwab also offers other services intended to help us manage and further develop our business enterprise. These services include:

- educational conferences and events
- technology, compliance, legal, and business consulting;
- publications and conferences on practice management and business succession; and
- access to employee benefits providers, human capital consultants and insurance providers.
- Schwab may provide some of these services itself. In other cases, it will arrange for third-party vendors to provide the services to us. Schwab may also discount or waive its fees for some of these services or pay all or a part of a third party's fees. Schwab may also provide us with other benefits such as occasional business entertainment of our personnel.

Our Interest in Schwab's Services

The availability of these services from Schwab benefits us because we do not have to produce or purchase them. This may give us an incentive to recommend that you maintain your account with Schwab based on our interest in Schwab's services that benefit our business rather than based on your interest in receiving the best value in custody services and the most favorable execution of your transactions. This is a potential conflict of interest. We believe, however, that our selection of Schwab as custodian and broker is in the best interests of our clients. It is primarily supported by the scope, quality and price of Schwab's services (based on the factors discussed above- see "How We Select Brokers/Custodians") and not Schwab's services that benefit only us.

Research and Other Soft Dollar Benefits

In selecting a broker-dealer to execute trades in your account, we will consider the value of research and additional brokerage products and services a broker-dealer has provided or will provide to our clients and our firm. Receipt of these additional brokerage products and services are considered to have been paid for with "soft dollars." Because such services could be considered to provide a benefit to our firm, we may have a conflict of interest in directing your brokerage business. We could receive benefits by selecting a particular broker-dealer to execute your transactions, and the transaction compensation charged by that broker-dealer might not be the lowest compensation we might otherwise be able to negotiate.

Products and services that we may receive from broker-dealers may consist of research data and analyses, recommendations, or other information about particular companies and industries (through research reports and otherwise), and other products or services (e.g., software and data bases) that provide lawful and appropriate assistance to our firm in the performance of our investment decision-making responsibilities. Consistent with applicable rules, brokerage products and services consist primarily of computer services and software that permit our firm to effect securities transactions and perform functions incidental to transaction execution. We use such products and services in our general investment decision making, not just for those accounts for which commissions may be considered to have been used to pay for the products or services.

The test for determining whether a service, product or benefit obtained from or at the expense of a broker constitutes "research" under this definition is whether the service, product or benefit assists our firm in investment decision-making for discretionary client accounts. Services, products or benefits that do not assist in investment decision-making for discretionary client accounts do not qualify as "research." Also, services, products or benefits that are used in part for investment decision-making for discretionary client accounts and in part for other purposes (such as accounting, corporate administration, record-keeping, performance attribution analysis, client reporting, or investment decision-making for the firm's own investment accounts) constitute "research" only to the extent that they are used in investment decision-making for discretionary client accounts.

Before placing orders with a particular broker-dealer, we determine that the commissions to be paid are reasonable in relation to the value of all the brokerage and research products and services provided by that broker-dealer. In some cases, the commissions charged by a particular broker for a particular transaction or set of transactions may be greater than the amounts charged by another broker-dealer that did not provide research services or products.

We do not exclude a broker-dealer from receiving business simply because the broker-dealer does not provide our firm with soft dollar research products and services. However, we may not be willing to pay the same commission to such broker-dealer as we would have paid had the broker-dealer provided such products and services.

The products and services we receive from broker-dealers will generally be used in servicing all of our clients' accounts. Our use of these products and services will not be limited to the accounts that paid commissions to the broker-dealer for such products and services. In addition, we may not allocate soft dollar benefits to your accounts proportionately to the soft dollar credits the accounts generate. As part of our fiduciary duties to you, we endeavor at all times to put your interests first. You should be aware that the receipt of economic benefits by our firm is considered to create a conflict of interest.

We have instituted certain procedures governing soft dollar relationships including preparation of a brokerage allocation budget, mandated reporting of soft dollar irregularities, annual evaluation of soft dollar relationships, and an annual review of this brochure to ensure adequate disclosures of conflicts of interest regarding our soft dollar relationships.

Brokerage for Client Referrals

We may receive client referrals from registered representatives of various unaffiliated broker-dealers. We will typically execute all of the client's trades through the registered representatives who referred the client to our firm. A potential conflict of interest exists because we have an incentive to execute client transactions through these registered representatives based upon the expectation of continued referrals. This arrangement could cause clients to pay higher commission rates than those available through other broker-dealers that we generally recommend that are not based on a referral. However, clients are not obligated to use the services of the referring registered representative and should discuss available alternatives with our firm. Also, our procedures governing directing brokerage in exchange for client referrals mandates that we consider disproportionate commissions generated as a result of such arrangements and exclude consideration of fees generated by referred clients in our periodic evaluation of best execution.

Directed Brokerage

In limited circumstances, and at our discretion, some clients may instruct our firm to use one or more particular brokers for the transactions in their accounts. If you choose to direct our firm to use a particular broker, you should understand that this might prevent our firm from aggregating trades with other client accounts or from effectively negotiating brokerage commissions on your behalf. This practice may also prevent our firm from obtaining favorable net price and execution. Thus, when directing brokerage business, you should consider whether the commission expenses, execution, clearance, and settlement capabilities that you will obtain through your broker are adequately favorable in comparison to those that we would otherwise obtain for you.

Block Trades

We combine multiple orders for shares of the same securities purchased for advisory accounts we manage (this practice is commonly referred to as "block trading"). We will then distribute a portion of the shares to participating accounts in a fair and equitable manner. Upon completion of the block trade, each client receives the same execution price, and a pro rata allocation determines which accounts are allocated shares by comparing their equity fill ratios, should the number of shares executed be less than anticipated due to supply. The equity fill ratio is the actual equity position of the account divided by the stated equity allocation goal. Purchases are allocated to the lowest equity fill ratios or least invested accounts. Sales are allocated to the highest equity fill ratios or the most invested accounts. Accounts owned by our firm or persons associated with our firm may participate in block trading with your accounts; however, they will not be given preferential treatment.

Trade Errors

In the event a trading error occurs in your account, our policy is to restore your account to the position it should have been in had the trading error not occurred. Depending on the circumstances, corrective actions may include canceling the trade, adjusting an allocation, and/or reimbursing the account. If a trade error results in a profit, you will keep the profit.

Item 13 Review of Accounts

All portfolios are reviewed periodically for the purchase and sale of individual securities. Also, portfolios are reviewed when changes in investment strategy or guidelines are made. A formalized review process is also established to review portfolios throughout the year. Financial market and economic conditions, security valuations, changes in investment strategy, client considerations, among other variables, would trigger a portfolio review. Reviews are performed by supervisory personnel, such as the directors of the Private Client Group, Fixed Income Department, Wealth Advisory Services, and Financial Advisory Services, as well as by a client's portfolio manager and associate portfolio managers.

Each individual listed as a reviewer is substantially involved in the portfolio management function. All portfolios are assigned one primary portfolio manager, a secondary manager, and appropriate support personnel. A "primary" portfolio manager has an average of 100 client relationships assigned.

You will receive confirmations and monthly or quarterly statements from your account custodian(s).

Item 14 Client Referrals and Other Compensation

We may directly compensate non-employee individuals and/or entities (solicitors) for client referrals. If you were referred to our firm by a solicitor, you should have received a copy of this brochure along with the solicitor's disclosure statement at the time of the referral. If you become a client, the solicitor that referred you to our firm will receive a percentage of the advisory fee you pay our firm per our agreement with the solicitor or until such time as our agreement with the solicitor expires. You will not pay additional fees because of this referral arrangement. Referral fees paid to a solicitor are contingent upon your entering into an advisory agreement with our firm. Therefore, a solicitor has a financial incentive to recommend our firm to you for advisory services. This creates a conflict of interest; however, you are not obligated to retain our firm for advisory services. Comparable services and/or lower fees may be available through other firms.

Solicitors that refer business to more than one investment adviser may have a financial incentive to recommend advisers with more favorable compensation arrangements. We request that our solicitors disclose to you whether multiple referral relationships exist and that comparable services may be available from other advisers for lower fees and/or where the solicitor's compensation is less favorable.

Johnson Investment Counsel, Inc. will not pay a cash fee, directly or indirectly, to any person in return for client referrals unless the solicitor and/or Johnson Investment Counsel comply with the requirements of Rule 206(4)-3. The requirements of this rule are as follows:

Solicitor Not Disqualified

Ensures that any person acting as a solicitor on its behalf is not subject to a statutory disqualification under Section 203(e) or Section 203(f) of the Advisers Act.

Written Agreement

Makes cash solicitation payments only pursuant to a written agreement to which Johnson Investment Counsel, Inc. is a party, and in the case of third-party solicitors, the agreement contains specified provisions relating to:

- solicitor's activities and compensation;
- an acknowledgment by the solicitor to comply with the Adviser's Act and the Adviser's instructions;
- requiring the solicitor to provide the client with a copy of Johnson Investment Counsel's brochure (Part 2A and its supplements of Form ADV) and a separate disclosure statement.

Client Disclosure

Ensures that each solicitor discloses to clients and prospective clients, at the time of any solicitation activities, the solicitor's relationship with Johnson Investment Counsel, Inc., which in the case of third-party solicitors requires the furnishing by the solicitor of a separate written disclosure document.

Supervision of Solicitors

Satisfies its oversight obligations with respect to solicitors, including that it:

- makes a bona fide effort to determine that each third-party solicitor has complied with the solicitor's written agreement with Johnson Investment Counsel;
- obtain from clients referred by third-party solicitors an acknowledgment that the client has received the required disclosure documents.

Some mutual funds purchased for an advisory account pay annual distribution charges, provide fee reimbursement for providing certain servicing to your account, or may provide revenue sharing to us for investment in their funds. To avoid any conflict of interest for investments in these mutual funds, Johnson Investment Counsel, Inc. will not retain any of these fees and will reallocate or rebate any such fees received back to your account.

Johnson Investment Counsel, Inc. ("JIC") has entered into an arrangement with Thomson Horstmann & Bryant, Inc. ("TH&B") in regard to the Institutional Class Shares of Thomson Horstmann & Bryant Microcap Fund (the "Fund"). In exchange for making the Fund available to clients of JIC, TH&B agrees to pay JIC a fee at the annual rate of 0.25% of the average daily net assets of Institutional Shares of the Fund held in accounts of Johnson's clients and sold under this arrangement. The fee paid to JIC will be paid solely from TH&B profits. To avoid any conflict of interest for investments in these mutual funds, JIC will not retain any of these fees and will reallocate or rebate any such fees received back to any client invested in the Fund.

Participation in Schwab Advisor Network®

Johnson Investment Counsel, Inc. ("JIC") receives client referrals from Charles Schwab & Co., Inc. ("Schwab") through JIC's participation in Schwab Advisor Network® ("the Service"). The Service is designed to help investors find an independent investment advisor. Schwab is a broker-dealer independent of and unaffiliated with JIC. Schwab does not supervise JIC and has no responsibility for JIC's management of clients' portfolios or JIC other advice or services. JIC pays Schwab fees to receive client referrals through the Service. JIC's participation in the Service may raise potential conflicts of interest described below.

JIC pays Schwab a Participation Fee on all Schwab Advisor Network referred clients' accounts that are maintained in custody at Schwab and a Non-Schwab Custody Fee on all accounts that are maintained at, or transferred to, another custodian. The Participation Fee paid by JIC is a percentage of the fees the client owes to JIC or a percentage of the value of the assets in the client's account, subject to a minimum Participation Fee. JIC pays Schwab the Participation Fee for so long as the referred client's account remains in custody at Schwab. The Participation Fee is billed to JIC quarterly and may be increased, decreased or waived by Schwab from time to time. The Participation Fee is paid by JIC and not by the client. JIC has agreed not to charge clients referred through the Service fees or costs greater than the fees or costs JIC charges clients with similar portfolios who were not referred through the Service.

JIC generally pays Schwab a Non-Schwab Custody Fee if custody of a referred client's account is not maintained by, or assets in the account are transferred from Schwab. This Fee does not apply if the client was solely responsible for the decision not to maintain custody at Schwab. The Non-Schwab Custody Fee is a one-time payment equal to a percentage of the assets placed with a custodian other than Schwab. The Non-Schwab Custody Fee is higher than the Participation Fees Advisor generally would pay in a single year. Thus, JIC will have an incentive to recommend that client accounts be held in custody at Schwab.

The Participation and Non-Schwab Custody Fees will be based on assets in accounts of JIC's clients who were referred by Schwab and those referred clients' family members living in the same household. Thus, JIC will have incentives to encourage household members of clients referred through the Service to maintain custody of their accounts and execute transactions at Schwab and to instruct Schwab to debit JIC's fees directly from the accounts.

For accounts of JIC's clients maintained in custody at Schwab, Schwab will not charge the client separately for custody but will receive compensation from JIC's clients in the form of commissions or other transaction-related compensation on securities trades executed through Schwab. Schwab also will receive a fee (generally lower than the applicable commission on trades it executes) for clearance and settlement of trades executed through broker-dealers other than Schwab. Schwab's fees for trades executed at other broker-dealers are in addition to the other broker-dealer's fees. Thus, JIC may have an incentive to cause trades to be executed through Schwab rather than another broker-dealer. JIC nevertheless, acknowledges its duty to seek best execution of trades for client accounts. Trades for client accounts held in custody at Schwab may be executed through a different broker-dealer than trades for JIC's other clients. Thus, trades for accounts custodied at Schwab may be executed at different times and different prices than trades for other accounts that are executed at other broker-dealers.

Also, we receive an economic benefit from Schwab in the form of the support products and services it makes available to us and other independent investment advisors that have their clients maintain accounts at Schwab. These products and services, how they benefit us, and the related conflicts of interest are described above (see Item 12 - Brokerage Practices). The availability to us of Schwab's products and services is not based on us giving particular investment advice, such as buying particular securities for our clients.

Item 15 Custody

Johnson Investment Counsel does not have physical custody of any of your funds and/or securities. Your funds and securities will be held with a bank or broker-dealer. Johnson Trust Company may serve as the qualified custodian, but in that situation, your funds and/or securities will be held by US Bank, Schwab, or another qualified custodian will serve as an independent custodian. You will receive account statements directly from the custodian(s) holding your funds and securities at least quarterly. You should carefully review account statements for accuracy.

If you have a question regarding your account statement, or if you did not receive a statement from your custodian, please contact us directly at the telephone number on the cover page of this brochure.

Item 16 Investment Discretion

Before we can buy or sell securities on your behalf, you must first sign our discretionary management agreement. This agreement grants our firm discretion over the selection and amount of securities to be purchased or sold for your account(s) without obtaining your consent or approval prior to each transaction. You may specify investment objectives, guidelines, and/or impose certain conditions or investment parameters for your account(s). For example, you may specify that the investment in any particular stock or industry should not exceed specified percentages of the value of the portfolio and/or restrictions or prohibitions of transactions in the securities of a specific industry or security. Please refer to the "Advisory Business" section in this brochure for more information on our discretionary management services.

Item 17 Voting Client Securities

Proxy Voting

We will determine how to vote proxies based on our reasonable judgment of the vote most likely to produce favorable financial results for you. Proxy votes generally will be cast in favor of proposals that maintain or strengthen the shared interests of shareholders and management, increase shareholder value, maintain or increase shareholder influence over the issuer's board of directors and management, and maintain or increase the rights of shareholders. Generally, proxy votes will be cast against proposals having the opposite effect. However, we will consider both sides of each proxy issue. Unless we receive specific instructions from you, we will not base votes on social considerations.

In the event you wish to direct our firm on voting a particular proxy, please contact your Portfolio Manager or the number on the front of this brochure.

Conflicts of interest between you and our firm, or a principal of our firm, regarding certain proxy issues could arise. If we determine that a material conflict of interest exists, we will take the necessary steps to resolve the conflict before voting the proxies. For example, we may disclose the existence and nature of the conflict to you, and seek direction from you as to how to vote on a particular issue; we may abstain from voting, particularly if there are conflicting interests for you (for example, where your account(s) hold different securities in a competitive merger situation); or, we will take other necessary steps designed to ensure that a decision to vote is in your best interest and was not the product of the conflict.

We keep certain records required by applicable law in connection with our proxy voting activities. You may obtain information on how we voted proxies and/or obtain a full copy of our proxy voting policies and procedures by making a written or oral request to our firm.

Item 18 Financial Information

We do have custody of client funds through an affiliated entity as well as trustee arrangements with some of our clients. Please see Item 15 - Custody above. We are not required to provide financial information to our clients because we do not have any financial condition that is reasonably likely to impair our ability to meet contractual commitments to our clients. Additionally, we submit to a surprise annual audit by a qualified accounting firm. The audit report is filed annually through an ADV-E amendment.

Item 19 Requirements for State-Registered Advisers

We are a federally registered investment adviser; therefore, we are not required to respond to this item.

Item 20 Additional Information

Your Privacy

The relationship between Johnson Investment Counsel, Inc., our affiliates (Johnson Trust Company, Johnson Financial, Inc. and Johnson Mutual Funds) and our clients is the most important asset of our firm. We strive to maintain your trust and confidence, which is an essential aspect of our commitment to protect your personal information to the best of our ability. We believe that our clients value their privacy, and we do not disclose your nonpublic personal information to third parties unless it is permitted or required by law, at your direction, or is necessary to provide you with our services. We have not and will not sell your personal information to anyone.

Johnson Investment Counsel and our affiliates collect and maintain your nonpublic personal information so that we can better provide investment management and trust services to you. The types and categories of information that we collect and maintain about you include:

- Information we receive from you to open an account or provide investment advice and trust services, such as your home address, telephone number, date of birth, social security number, and financial information.
- Information about your transactions that we need to service your account, such as trade confirmations, account statements and other financial information.

In order for us to provide investment management and trust services to you, it is sometimes necessary for us to disclose your personal information to third parties (e.g., brokers, custodians, regulators, and tax return preparers). In addition we also outsource certain functions to various nonaffiliated third-party vendors. To allow these vendors to perform their contracted services, the firm may disclose certain nonpublic personal information about its clients to these vendors. While our contractual arrangements with third-party vendors prohibits third-party vendors from disclosing or using client information other than for the purposes of performing services for the firm, third-party vendors could experience information security breaches or other incidents that could expose client information. The occurrence of such an incident at a third-party vendor is outside of the firm's control.

To fulfill our privacy commitment at Johnson Investment Counsel, we have instituted firm-wide practices to safeguard the information that we maintain about you. These include:

- Adopting procedures that put in place physical, electronic, and other safeguards to keep your personal information safe.
- Limiting access to personal information to those employees and service providers who need to know that information to perform their job duties or to provide products or services to you.
- Requiring third parties that perform services for us to agree by contract to keep your information strictly confidential.
- Protecting information of our former clients to the same extent as our current clients.

At Johnson Investment Counsel, we value your privacy.

Class Action Lawsuits

If Johnson Trust Company serves as your qualified custodian, we will determine if securities held by you are the subject of a class action lawsuit or whether you are eligible to participate in class action settlements or litigation. We will participate in litigation to recover damages on your behalf for injuries as a result of actions, misconduct, or negligence by issuers of securities held by you. If another entity serves as your qualified custodian, we may assist you in this process but the ultimate responsibility rests with you or the custodian.
