Material Changes

Annual Update

The Material Changes section of this brochure will be updated annually when material changes occur since the previous release of the Firm Brochure.

Material Changes since the Last Update

The U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission issued a final rule in July 2010 requiring advisers to provide a Firm Brochure in narrative “plain English” format. The new final rule specifies mandatory sections and organization. The assets under management were revised to be made current. We modified the section that discusses fees and expenses charged by custodians, trade away firms and mutual funds to make it more accurate. We also provided a more detailed description of the process we use to design asset allocation models.

Advisory Business

Firm Description

STONEGATE WEALTH MANAGEMENT, LLC, ("FIRM NAME") was founded in 1993.

STONEGATE WEALTH MANAGEMENT, LLC offers personalized confidential financial planning and investment management to individuals, pension and profit sharing plans, trusts, estates, charitable organizations and small businesses. Advice is provided through consultation with the client and may include: determination of financial objectives, identification of financial problems, cash flow management, tax planning, insurance review, investment management, education funding, retirement planning, and estate planning.

STONEGATE WEALTH MANAGEMENT, LLC is strictly a fee-only financial planning and investment management firm. The firm does not sell annuities, insurance, stocks, bonds, mutual funds, limited partnerships, or other commissioned products. The firm is not affiliated with entities that sell financial products or securities. No commissions in any form are accepted. No finder's fees are accepted.

Investment advice is an integral part of financial planning. In addition, STONEGATE WEALTH MANAGEMENT, LLC advises clients regarding cash flow, college planning, retirement planning, tax planning and estate planning, or other issues regarding their financial circumstance.

Investment advice is provided, with the client making the final decision on investment model selection. STONEGATE WEALTH MANAGEMENT, LLC does not act as a custodian of client assets. The client always maintains asset control. STONEGATE WEALTH MANAGEMENT, LLC places trades for clients under a limited power of attorney.

A written evaluation of each client's initial situation is provided to the client, often in the form of a net worth statement. Periodic reviews are also communicated to provide reminders of the specific courses of action that need to be taken. More frequent reviews occur but are not necessarily communicated to the client unless immediate changes are recommended.

Other professionals (e.g., lawyers, accountants, insurance agents, etc.) are engaged directly by the client on an as-needed basis. Conflicts of interest will be disclosed to the client in the unlikely event they should occur.

The initial meeting, which may be by telephone, is free of charge and is considered an exploratory interview to determine the extent to which financial planning and investment management may be beneficial to the client.

Please Note: It remains the client's responsibility to promptly notify Stonegate Wealth Management if there is ever a change in their financial situation or investment objectives for the purpose of reviewing, evaluating or revising Stonegate's previous recommendations and or services.

Principal Owners

Stephen Craffen and Thomas Geraghty are each 50% owners.

Types of Advisory Services

STONEGATE WEALTH MANAGEMENT, LLC provides investment supervisory services, also known as asset management services; manages investment advisory accounts not involving investment supervisory services; furnishes investment advice through consultations; issues periodicals about securities by subscription; issues special reports about securities; and issues, charts, graphs, formulas, or other devices which clients may use to evaluate securities.

On more than an occasional basis, STONEGATE WEALTH MANAGEMENT, LLC furnishes advice to clients on matters not involving securities, such as financial planning matters, taxation issues, and trust services that often include estate planning.

STONEGATE WEALTH MANAGEMENT, LLC provides a timing service in two ways:

1. We may alter client bond investments based on our perception of the future direction of interest rates. We may lengthen or shorten the duration of clients fixed income investments if we believe interest rates may decrease or increase or remain stable.
2. We rebalance client portfolios on a contingent basis. That is we may sell or purchase assets within a client's portfolio if the representation of an asset it within falls below or exceeds a threshold. At present we use a threshold of 20%. Thus if an asset should represent 10% of a client's portfolio if its representation drops to 8% or rises to 12% we will make trades to restore it to its level as defined in the clients investment policy statement.
3. We do not directly attempt to time price movements in markets.

As of March 22, 2016, STONEGATE WEALTH MANAGEMENT, LLC manages approximately $113.553 million in assets for approximately 135 clients. Approximately $2.15 million is managed on a non-discretionary basis, and $111.403 million is managed on a discretionary basis.

Tailored Relationships

The goals and objectives for each client are documented in our financial planning software or in our client database system or investment policy statements are created that reflect the stated goals and objective. Clients may impose restrictions on investing in certain securities or types of securities.

Agreements may not be assigned without client consent.

Types of Agreements

The following agreements define the typical client relationships.

Financial Planning Agreement

A financial plan is designed to help the client with all aspects of financial planning without ongoing investment management after the financial plan is completed.

The financial plan may include, but is not limited to: a net worth statement; a cash flow statement; a review of investment accounts, including reviewing asset allocation and providing repositioning recommendations; strategic tax planning; a review of retirement accounts and plans including recommendations; a review of insurance policies and recommendations for changes, if necessary; one or more retirement scenarios; estate planning review and recommendations; and education planning with funding recommendations.

Detailed investment advice and specific recommendations are provided as part of a financial plan. Implementation of the recommendations is at the discretion of the client.

Clients may be charged either of two ways:

Flat Fee: The fee for a financial plan is predicated upon the facts known at the start of the engagement. The fee range is $1,500 to $10,000 and is NEGOTIABLE. Since financial planning is a discovery process, situations occur wherein the client is unaware of certain financial exposures or predicaments. One half of the planning fee is paid at the start of the process and one half at completion.

In the event that the client's situation is substantially different than disclosed at the initial meeting, a revised fee will be provided for mutual agreement. The client must approve the change of scope in advance of the additional work being performed when a fee increase is necessary.

After delivery of a financial plan, future face-to-face meetings may be scheduled as necessary for up to one month. Follow-on implementation work is billed separately at the rate of $150 to $350 per hour depending on the personnel involved.

Hourly: The fee for the plan will be billed on an hourly basis with the hourly rate ranging from $150 - $350 per hour depending on which staff members are involved in the work.

Advisory Service Agreement

Most clients choose to have STONEGATE WEALTH MANAGEMENT, LLC manage their assets in order to obtain ongoing in-depth advice and life planning. All aspects of the client's financial affairs are reviewed, including those of their children. Realistic and measurable goals are set and objectives to reach those goals are defined. As goals and objectives change over time, suggestions are made and implemented on an ongoing basis.

The scope of work and fee for an Advisory Service Agreement is provided to the client in writing prior to the start of the relationship. An Advisory Service Agreement includes: cash flow management; insurance review; investment management (including performance reporting); education planning; retirement planning; estate planning; and tax preparation, as well as the implementation of recommendations within each area.

The annual Advisory Service Agreement fee for individuals and families is based on a percentage of the investable assets according to the following schedule:

- _ 1.25%_ on the first $500,000;
- _ 1.00%_ on the next $4,500,000 (from 500,001 to 5,000,000); and
- _ 0.90%_ on the next $1,000,000 (from 5,000,001 to 6,000,000); and
- _ 0.80%_ on the next $1,000,000 (from 6,000,001 to 7,000,000); and
- _ 0.70%_ on the assets above $7,000,000.

Fees are Negotiable

Fees for new clients are billed quarterly in advance. Some current clients may be billed in arrears.

Sub-advisor Evestnet

Stonegate has an arrangement with a sub-advisor, Evestnet. The sub-adviser may be appointed as investment manager to manage the investment and reinvestment of assets in certain Client accounts. Model portfolios of shares of ETFs and mutual funds as described on the website provided by the sub-adviser specifically for clients of this Stonegate service. Fees for this service are disclosed in the disclosure brochure (Part 2 of Form ADV) provided to the client by the sub-adviser. The fee is .50% annually with the fee split between Stonegate and Evestment.

Both Stonegate's and the sub-adviser's advisory fees for clients participating in a sub-advisory program will be charged by the sub-adviser based on the fee payment schedule provided by the sub-adviser. Note that Stonegate's part of the fee is not shared with the sub-adviser. Stonegate's fee is separate and in addition to their compensation and will be described to you prior to the engagement. Typically fees will be withdrawn from the client's account on a calendar quarter in advance.

Although the Advisory Service Agreement is an ongoing agreement and constant adjustments are required, the length of service to the client is at the client's discretion. The client or the investment manager may terminate an Agreement by written notice to the other party. At termination, fees will be billed on a pro rata basis for the portion of the quarter completed. The portfolio value at the completion of the prior full billing quarter is used as the basis for the fee computation, adjusted for the number of days during the billing quarter prior to termination.

Retainer Agreement

In some circumstances, a Retainer Agreement is executed in lieu of an Advisory Service Agreement when it is more appropriate to work on a fixed-fee basis. The annual fee for a Retainer Agreement may vary from $1,200 to $10,000 and is NEGOTIABLE.

Hourly Planning Engagements

STONEGATE WEALTH MANAGEMENT, LLC provides hourly planning services for clients who need advice on a limited scope of work. The hourly rate for limited scope engagements is $150 to $450 depending on the personnel involved.

Asset Management

For the growth portion of client portfolio assets are invested primarily in no-load mutual funds and exchange-traded funds or exchange traded notes, usually through discount brokers or fund companies. Fund companies charge each fund shareholder an investment management fee that is disclosed in the fund prospectus. Discount brokerages may charge a transaction fee for the purchase of some funds.

For the domestic fixed income portion of client portfolios client assets are mainly invested in individual bonds issued by US Banks, Municipalities and the Federal Government or Government Agencies. Bonds are typically laddered with maturities coordinated with a client's cash needs or based on our view regarding the interest rate yield curve.

Stocks and bonds may be purchased or sold through a brokerage account when appropriate. The brokerage firm charges a fee for stock and bond trades. STONEGATE WEALTH MANAGEMENT, LLC does not receive any compensation, in any form, from fund or brokerage companies.

Investments may also include: equities (stocks), warrants, corporate debt securities, commercial paper, certificates of deposit, municipal securities, investment company securities (variable life insurance, variable annuities, and mutual funds shares), U. S. government securities, options contracts, futures contracts, and interests in partnerships.

Initial public offerings (IPOs) are not generally available through STONEGATE WEALTH MANAGEMENT, LLC. We may provide access to them only on the request of an individual client, and we do not participate nor do we allocate them.

Stonegate may maintain cash positions for defensive purposes from time to time. All cash positions are considered to be under management for calculating the client's advisory fee.

NAPFA, Paladin, and Wiseradvisor

Stonegate has paid the National Association of Personal Financial Advisors (NAPFA) a fee to have its web site listed on NAPFA's web site. This is a onetime fee and is not dependent on the number of referrals received as a result of the listing. The only restriction regarding the ongoing listing is continued membership with NAPFA. Stonegate also pays Paladin Advisory a fee to be listed on their search an advisor web site. This fee is paid monthly and is not related to any leads generated. Stonegate also has an arrangement with Wiser Advisor for referrals and to be listed on their registry. Stonegate pays them a monthly fee to be listed on their web site and also a onetime fee for each person that is referred to the firm. The fee per referral is generally in the range of $75-$150 per referral and is paid whether the person chooses to hire us or not.

Termination of Agreement

A Client may terminate any of the aforementioned agreements at any time by notifying STONEGATE WEALTH MANAGEMENT, LLC in writing and paying the rate for the time spent on the investment advisory engagement prior to notification of termination. If the client made an advance payment, STONEGATE WEALTH MANAGEMENT, LLC will refund any unearned portion of the advance payment.

STONEGATE WEALTH MANAGEMENT, LLC may terminate any of the aforementioned agreements at any time by notifying the client in writing. If the client made an advance payment, STONEGATE WEALTH MANAGEMENT, LLC will refund any unearned portion of the advance payment.

Fees and Compensation

Description

STONEGATE WEALTH MANAGEMENT, LLC bases its fees on a percentage of assets under management, hourly charges, and fixed fees.

Some Retainer Agreements may be priced based on the complexity of work, especially when asset management is not the most significant part of the relationship.

Financial plans are priced according to the degree of complexity associated with the client's situation.

Fees are NEGOTIABLE.

Fee Billing

Investment management fees are billed quarterly, in ADVANCE, meaning that we invoice you BEFORE the three-month billing period has BEGUN. Payment in full is expected upon invoice presentation. Fees are usually deducted from a designated client account to facilitate billing. The client must consent in advance to direct debiting of their investment account. (Please note that some existing clients are billed in arrears).

Fees for financial plans are billed 50% in advance, with the balance due upon delivery of the financial plan.

Other Fees

Custodians may charge transaction fees on purchases or sales of certain mutual funds and exchange-traded funds and notes. These transaction charges can range from $8.00 to $50 per transaction. The selection of the security is more important than the fee that the custodian charges to buy or sell the security.

Stonegate may use firms other than our custodians to purchase fixed income for clients. That is done because those outside firms can help us through their expertise in the markets for fixed income vehicles and enable us to purchase bonds that may not be available through the custodians or may not be available with the same yield or other benefits. We receive no additional compensation from those firms. The cost for the purchase or sale of a bond is in the range of .05 to .20% per trade. The custodian may charge the client a fee for this practice which is accomplished as a trade-away or a prime brokerage action. The fee is in the range of $25 to $50 per transaction. We believe the fee is justified by the efficiency with which we can structure client fixed income portfolios by utilizing outside experts.

STONEGATE WEALTH MANAGEMENT, LLC, in its sole discretion, may waive its minimum fee and/or charge a lesser investment advisory fee based upon certain criteria (e.g., historical relationship, type of assets, anticipated future earning capacity, anticipated future additional assets, dollar amounts of assets to be managed, related accounts, account composition, negotiations with clients, etc.).

New Advisory Service Agreement fees are calculated on a formula basis and adjusted for complexity of individual situations. The formula is based on gross income, gross assets and other financial considerations.

Expense Ratios

Mutual funds, and ETF's generally charge a management fee for their services as investment managers. The management fee is called an expense ratio. For example, an expense ratio of 0.50 means that the mutual fund company charges 0.5% for their services. Additionally they may charge a 12B-1 fee. Those are charged by Mutual Funds to help provide funds to market the fund. Funds may also charge an early redemption fee of $49.00 or more (1 -2% of the liquidation value) if the fund is sold prior to the funds minimum required holding period of 30-90 days. We may also purchase "A" class shares which incur a front end load but those loads are waived by our custodian. These fees are in addition to the fees paid by you to STONEGATE WEALTH MANAGEMENT, LLC. Stonegate does not receive any part of the Mutual Fund, or ETF fee.

Performance figures quoted by mutual fund companies, and ETF's in various publications are after their fees have been deducted.

Past Due Accounts and Termination of Agreement

STONEGATE WEALTH MANAGEMENT, LLC reserves the right to stop work on any account that is more than 30 days overdue. In addition, STONEGATE WEALTH MANAGEMENT, LLC reserves the right to terminate any financial planning engagement where a client has willfully concealed or has refused to provide pertinent information about financial situations when necessary and appropriate, in STONEGATE WEALTH MANAGEMENT, LLC's judgment, to providing proper financial advice. Any unused portion of fees collected in advance will be refunded within 15 days.

Performance-Based Fees

Sharing of Capital Gains

Fees are not based on a share of the capital gains or capital appreciation of managed securities.

STONEGATE WEALTH MANAGEMENT, LLC does not use a performance-based fee structure because of the potential conflict of interest. Performance-based compensation may create an incentive for the adviser to recommend an investment that may carry a higher degree of risk to the client.

Types of Clients

Description

STONEGATE WEALTH MANAGEMENT, LLC generally provides investment advice to individuals and high net worth individuals..

Client relationships vary in scope and length of service.

Account Minimums

The minimum account size is $200,000 of assets under management, which equates to an annual fee of $2,500.

When an account falls below $200,000 in value, the minimum annual fee of $2,500 may be charged.

STONEGATE WEALTH MANAGEMENT, LLC has the discretion to waive the account minimum. Accounts of less than $200,000 may be set up when the client and the advisor anticipate the client will add additional funds to the accounts bringing the total to $200,000 within a reasonable time. Other exceptions will apply to employees of STONEGATE WEALTH MANAGEMENT, LLC and their relatives, or relatives of existing clients or to anyone else at our discretion.

Clients receiving ongoing asset management services may be assessed a $2,500 minimum annual fee. Clients with assets below the minimum account size may pay a higher percentage rate on their annual fees than the fees paid by clients with greater assets under management.

For those using our sub-adviser relationship with Evestnet, the minimum account size is $50,000 of assets under management.

Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies and Risk of Loss

Methods of Analysis

Security analysis methods may include charting, fundamental analysis, technical analysis, and cyclical analysis.

The main sources of information include financial newspapers and magazines, inspections of corporate activities, research materials prepared by others, corporate rating services, timing services, annual reports, prospectuses, filings with the Securities and Exchange Commission, and company press releases.

Other sources of information that STONEGATE WEALTH MANAGEMENT, LLC may use include Morningstar mutual fund information, Bloomberg, TD Ameritrade's web site, and the World Wide Web.

Investment Strategies

The primary investment strategy used on client accounts is strategic asset allocation with a combination of active managers, index funds and individual bonds. This means that we use actively and passively-managed index and exchange-traded funds and exchange-traded notes as the core investments. Portfolios are globally diversified to control the risk associated with traditional markets. Asset categories may include, large cap, mid-cap and small-cap domestic stocks, international stocks, domestic and foreign real estate (REIT's), Commodities, international and domestic fixed income, and alternative assets.

All clients are placed in one of our model allocations. The models have been developed using variants of modern portfolio theory with major enhancements based on the most current advancements in the analysis of time series and risk modeling. Those enhancements include:

1. The use of non-normal distributions to model investment return. These distributions will exhibit skew and kurtosis. Most classes of investments exhibit patterns of returns that do not match the normal distribution.
2. The use of "copulas" instead of correlations to model the inter-relationships between price movements for different asset classes. Copula's are complex correlation relationships that exhibit semi-random patterns.
3. Modeling over multiple periods with the use of geometric rates of return instead of average rates of return and simulated rebalancing.

The investment strategy for a specific client is based upon the objectives stated by the client during consultations. The client may change these objectives at any time.

Risk of Loss

All investment programs have certain risks that are borne by the investor. Our investment approach constantly keeps the risk of loss in mind. Investors face the following investment risks:

- Interest-rate Risk: Fluctuations in interest rates may cause investment prices to fluctuate. For example, when interest rates rise, yields on existing bonds become less attractive, causing their market values to decline.
- Market Risk: The price of a security, bond, or mutual fund may drop in reaction to tangible and intangible events and conditions. This type of risk is caused by external factors independent of a security's particular underlying circumstances. For example, political, economic and social conditions may trigger market events.
- Inflation Risk: When any type of inflation is present, a dollar today will not buy as much as a dollar next year, because purchasing power is eroding at the rate of inflation.
- Currency Risk: Overseas investments are subject to fluctuations in the value of the dollar against the currency of the investment's originating country. This is also referred to as exchange rate risk.
- Reinvestment Risk: This is the risk that future proceeds from investments may have to be reinvested at a potentially lower rate of return (i.e. interest rate). This primarily relates to fixed income securities.
- Business Risk: These risks are associated with a particular industry or a particular company within an industry. For example, oil-drilling companies depend on finding oil and then refining it, a lengthy process, before they can generate a profit. They carry a higher risk of profitability than an electric company, which generates its income from a steady stream of customers who buy electricity no matter what the economic environment is like.
- Liquidity Risk: Liquidity is the ability to readily convert an investment into cash. Generally, assets are more liquid if many traders are interested in a standardized product. For example, Treasury Bills are highly liquid, while real estate properties are not.
- Financial Risk: Excessive borrowing to finance a business' operations increases the risk of profitability, because the company must meet the terms of its obligations in good times and bad. During periods of financial stress, the inability to meet loan obligations may result in bankruptcy and/or a declining market value.

STONEGATE WEALTH MANAGEMENT, LLC does not have any affiliation with product sales firms. Specific custodian recommendations are made to Clients based on their need for such services. STONEGATE WEALTH MANAGEMENT, LLC recommends custodians based on the proven integrity and financial responsibility of the firm and the best execution of orders at reasonable commission rates.

- i. Stonegate's ability to achieve best execution may be partially or wholly limited by the directed brokerage arrangement since Stonegate may not achieve executions of the nature, quality, speed, or price that it might otherwise achieve if it were not using a directed custodian to execute transactions
- ii. Stonegate will not be able to negotiate or renegotiate commission rates with a clients directed custodian or impact or improve the price or quality of the execution services provided
- iii. The client will not be able to participate in volume discount commission rates that may be negotiated by Stonegate with custodians Stonegate uses to effect trades for the advisor's other clients and
- iv. The client may forgo other benefits from savings on execution costs that may otherwise be obtained (aggregating client orders).

Soft Dollars

Stonegate may recommend/require that clients establish brokerage accounts with TD Ameritrade a FINRA registered broker-dealers and member SIPC, to maintain custody of clients' assets and to effect trades for their accounts. Although Stonegate may recommend that clients establish accounts at this custodian, it is the client's decision to custody assets with them. Stonegate is independently owned and operated and not affiliated with them.

These custodians provide Stonegate with access to institutional trading and custody services, which are typically not available to retail investors. These services generally are available to independent investment advisors on an unsolicited basis, at no charge to them so long as a total of at least $10 million or more of the advisor's clients' assets are maintained in accounts at the custodian. These services are not contingent upon Stonegate committing to the custodian any specific amount of business (assets in custody or trading commissions). The custodian's brokerage services include the execution of securities transactions, custody, research, and access to mutual funds and other investments that are otherwise generally available only to institutional investors or would require a significantly higher minimum initial investment.

For Stonegate client accounts maintained in their custody, the custodians generally do not charge separately for custody services but is compensated by account holders through commissions and other transaction-related or asset-based fees for securities trades that are executed through the custodian or that settle into the accounts.

The custodians also make available to Stonegate other products and services that benefit Stonegate but may not directly benefit its clients' accounts. Many of these products and services may be used to service all or some substantial number of Stonegate's accounts.

TD Ameritrade also offers other services intended to help Stonegate manage and further develop its business enterprise. These services may include: (i) compliance, legal and business consulting; (ii) publications and conferences on practice management and business succession; and (iii) access to employee benefits providers, human capital consultants and insurance providers. They may make available, arrange and/or pay third-party vendors for the types of services rendered to Stonegate. They may discount or waive fees it would otherwise charge for some of these services or pay all or a part of the fees of a third-party providing these services to Stonegate. They may also provide other benefits such as educational events or occasional business entertainment of Stonegate personnel. In evaluating whether to recommend or require that clients custody their assets at TD Ameritrade, Stonegate may take into account the availability of some of the foregoing products and services and other arrangements as part of the total mix of factors it considers and not solely on the nature, cost or quality of custody and brokerage services provided by them, which may create a potential conflict of interest.

Order Aggregation

Most trades are mutual funds or exchange-traded funds or notes where trade aggregation does not garner any client benefit. Individual bonds may occasionally be purchased and allocated.

Trade Errors

Stonegate Wealth Management will reimburse accounts for losses resulting from Stonegate's trade errors. Accounts will not be credited for errors resulting in market gains. The gains and losses are reconciled within Stonegate's custodian firm account and Stonegate retains the net gains and losses.

Review of Accounts

Periodic Reviews

Account reviews are performed quarterly by Stephen Craffen, Chief Investment Officer or Thomas Geraghty. Account reviews are performed more frequently when market conditions dictate.

Review Triggers

Other conditions that may trigger a review are changes in the tax laws, new investment information, and changes in a client's own situation.

Regular Reports

Account reviewers are members of the firm's Investment Committee. They are instructed to consider the client's current security positions and the likelihood that the performance of each security will contribute to the investment objectives of the client.

Clients receive periodic communications on at least an annual basis. Advisory Service Agreement clients, Investment Management clients, and Retainer Agreement clients receive written quarterly updates. The written updates may include a net worth statement, portfolio statement, and a capital gain/loss report.

The referrals came from current clients, estate planning attorneys, accountants, employees, personal friends of employees and other similar sources. Stonegate Wealth Management may compensate for client referrals. All solicitors' agreements are in compliance with the Investment Advisors Act of 1940 Section 275.206(4)-3. In addition, all applicable federal and state laws will also be observed. All clients procured by solicitors will be given full written disclosures describing the terms and fee arrangements between the advisor and the solicitor prior to or at the time of entering into the advisory agreement.

Please note that associates may be paid a percentage of asset management fees received from clients they refer to us or contribute work towards. This does not increase the fee charged to the client.

STONEGATE WEALTH MANAGEMENT, LLC does not accept referral fees or any form of remuneration from other professionals when a prospect or client is referred to them.

Other Compensation

No other compensation is received.

Custody

It is Stonegate's policy to not accept custody of a client's securities. In other words, Stonegate is not granted access to the clients' accounts which would enable Stonegate to withdraw or transfer or otherwise move funds or cash from any client account to Stonegate's accounts or the account of any third party (other than for purposes of fee deductions, as explained below).

However, with a client's consent, Stonegate may be provided with the authority to seek deduction of Stonegate's fees from a client's accounts; this process generally is more efficient for both the client and the investment adviser. The account custodian does not verify the accuracy of Stonegate's advisory fee calculation.

Account Statements

All assets are held at qualified custodians, which means the custodians provide account statements directly to clients at their address of record at least quarterly.

Performance Reports

Clients are urged to compare the account statements received directly from their custodians to the performance report statements provided by STONEGATE WEALTH MANAGEMENT, LLC.

Net Worth Statements

Clients are frequently provided net worth statements and net worth graphs that are generated from our financial planning software. Net worth statements contain approximations of bank account balances provided by the client, as well as the value of land and hard-to-price real estate. The net worth statements are used for long-term financial planning where the exact values of assets are not material to the financial planning tasks.

Investment Discretion

Discretionary Authority for Trading

STONEGATE WEALTH MANAGEMENT, LLC accepts discretionary authority to manage securities accounts on behalf of clients. STONEGATE WEALTH MANAGEMENT, LLC has the authority to determine, without obtaining specific client consent, the securities to be bought or sold, and the amount of the securities to be bought or sold. However, STONEGATE WEALTH MANAGEMENT, LLC consults with the client prior to each trade to obtain concurrence if a blanket trading authorization has not been given.

The client approves the custodian to be used and the commission rates paid to the custodian. STONEGATE WEALTH MANAGEMENT, LLC does not receive any portion of the transaction fees or commissions paid by the client to the custodian on certain trades.

Discretionary trading authority facilitates placing trades in your accounts on your behalf so that we may promptly implement the investment policy that you have approved in writing.

Limited Power of Attorney

A limited power of attorney is a trading authorization for this purpose. You sign a limited power of attorney so that we may execute the trades that you have approved.

Voting Client Securities

Proxy Votes

Unless the client designates otherwise, STONEGATE WEALTH MANAGEMENT, LLC votes proxies for securities over which it maintains discretionary authority consistent with its proxy voting policy. A copy of STONEGATE WEALTH MANAGEMENT, LLC's proxy voting policy is available upon request. Clients cannot direct our vote in a particular solicitation. Records of our vote can be provided on request. We maintain such records for several years.
