Also, you may see the term Associated Person throughout this brochure. As used in this brochure, our Associated Persons are our firm's officers, employees, and all individuals providing investment advice on behalf of our firm.

Wealth Advisory Group, Inc.'s Ongoing Fee-Based Engagement Agreements

It also includes an annual planning review with an Associated Person of our firm. After this review we will provide you with our observations and recommendations relative to asset performance tracking, net worth statements, asset allocation and proactive coaching of your family wealth. Annual fee is $1,000. Fee payments are due at the time of engagement. The annual fee is renewable annually. Engagement fees may be further discounted at the discretion of our firm. Clients may cancel within five business days of enrollment and receipt of our Form ADV Part 2 for a full refund of any payment made. Thereafter, clients may only cancel by submission of written notice to us. Engagement fees shall be refunded to the client on a pro-rata basis.

Gold Engagement -The Gold option provides you with all features of a Silver Engagement and includes semi-annual financial planning reviews with an Associated Person of our firm. The opportunity to meet twice a year affords more concentrated time to be spent on detailed financial issues such as estate planning, tax planning, portfolio review and balancing, options strategy and insurance planning. We focus on reviewing the progress from the prior meetings assuring continued progression toward your financial objectives. You will receive an Investment Strategy Profile and asset allocation report showing all of your financial assets, not just the investments in one account. The total household wealth strategy is a proactive approach for planning with your own Family Wealth Advisor. Annual fee is $2,500.

Fee payments are due 50% at the time of engagement , and the remaining 50% is due six months later. This annual fee is renewable annually. Engagement fees may be further discounted at our discretion. Clients may cancel within 5 business days of engagement and receipt of our Form ADV Part 2 for a full refund of any payment made. Thereafter, clients may only cancel by submission of written notice to us. Engagement fees shall be refunded to the client on a pro-rata basis.

Platinum Engagement - The Platinum option gives you the opportunity to work consistently with a trusted family advisor producing a high degree of confidence, trust and familiarity with the entire family. All facets of wealth are discussed including private investment opportunities, estate and tax strategies for maximum benefit, philanthropy and distribution strategies. Our Family Advisors and staff are on-call to handle all aspects of your Life Management.

When needed, we provide discretionary continuous investment management services where the investment advice provided is custom tailored to meet your individual needs and investment objectives. Subject to any written guidelines, which you may provide, we will be granted discretion and authority to manage your account. Accordingly, we are authorized to perform various investment functions, on your behalf and at your expense, without further approval from you. Such functions include the determination of the types and amounts of securities to be purchased and sold. Once the portfolio is constructed, we will provide continuous supervision and re-optimization of the portfolio as changes in market conditions and your circumstances may require.

Our fee for these services is based on the fair market value of the assets in your account as of the last business day of the month in which the client enrolls and thereafter as of the last business day of each billing period. The engagement fee shall be determined based upon the following maximum fees:

Fee	Value of Assets
1.50%	on the first $2,000,000.00
1.25%	on the next $3,000,000.00
1.00%	on the next $5,000,000.00
Negotiable	over $10,000,000.00

At our discretion, we may combine the account values of family members living in the same household to determine the applicable advisory fee. For example, we may combine account values for you and your minor children, joint accounts with your spouse, and other types of related accounts. Combining account values may increase the asset total, which may result in your paying a reduced advisory fee based on the available breakpoints in our fee schedule stated above.

Platinum fees may be negotiable based upon the complexity and size of the asset holdings. This engagement fee is renewable annually. Typically, we will directly debit client accounts for the payment of portfolio management fees. When we directly debit your account, payment of fees will be made by the qualified custodian holding your funds and securities provided that the following requirements are met:

- You provide written authorization permitting the fees to be paid directly from your account held by the qualified custodian. We do not have access to your funds for payment of fees without your consent in writing.
- The qualified custodian agrees to send you and us a statement, at least quarterly, indicating all amounts dispersed from the account including the amount of the advisory fee paid directly to our firm.

We encourage you to carefully review the statement(s) you receive from the qualified custodian and contact us if you have any questions.

In limited circumstances, upon request, we may agree to directly invoice you for advisory fees. In such cases, fees will be payable as invoiced instead of a direct debit.

Clients may cancel within five business days of enrollment and receipt of our Form ADV Part 2 for a full refund of any payment made. Thereafter, clients may only cancel by submission of written notice to us. Engagement fees shall be refunded to you on a pro-rata basis.

It is understood that the Platinum engagement fee does not include the costs that may be paid by the client for the execution or management of the assets by an independent broker-dealer or money manager. We may offer, in our sole discretion, to offset the Platinum fee by the amount of any commission income received by an Associated Person of our firm as a result of certain security product transactions executed on your behalf through our firm. The decision to offset the advisory fee with commission income is determined on a case by case basis and depends upon such factors as the amount of assets under management and the type of transactions anticipated to be transacted on your behalf. An Executive Officer of our firm must first approve the offset of commission arrangement before it can be offered to you.

See the Addendum to the Engagement Agreement regarding Offsetting Commission for further terms and restrictions regarding this negotiable fee offset arrangement.

It is anticipated that twenty-five (25%) of our business will be from clients who choose one of the above engagement options.

Wealth Advisory Group, Inc.'s Other Engagement Services:

You may choose not to be a client of Wealth Advisory Group, Inc.'s On-Going Engagement Services and still have personalized or customized investment advisory or planning services performed by Associated Persons of our firm. We can offer you various services, including estate planning, business planning, employee benefit consulting, investment management services, and pension consulting services. Such services will be performed at either an hourly rate, not to exceed $350.00 per hour, or based upon a percentage of assets under management with fees ranging from 1.75% to 0.20%. Such fee shall be determined based upon the amount of assets and the level of services provided, and whether we, or our Associated Persons receive compensation from another investment advisor, money manager, or insurance broker for introducing or referring you to them.

The payment terms shall be determined on a case by case basis. It is anticipated that seventy-five (75%) of our business will be from clients who choose non-member services.

Estate Planning - Individuals and families may want us to help create an estate plan for wealth transfer and gifting strategies. Many techniques are available for the reduction of estate and gift taxes and may involve the utilization of various types of trusts.

Preparation of a written plan is done on an hourly basis.

Business Planning - Business owners face many challenges including business succession planning, funding of buy-sell agreements, disability income continuation, and compensation strategies and planning to attract, retain and reward employees. We will work with the business owner to design solutions to these challenges.

Business Planning Services are billed on an hourly, or project, basis.

Employee Benefit Consulting - Employers face the reality that the cost of benefits is ever increasing and benefits consulting focuses on the plan design, employee contributions and insurance company selection. We can help with an analysis of your current employee benefit plans and make observations and recommendations which affect the net cost of benefits.

Employee Benefit Consulting is done on a project basis with hourly billing.

Investment Management Services - Companies need to design and administer retirement plans for the benefit of their employees. Most companies offer qualified defined contribution plans which requires a diversified investment menu, enrollment and education, a plan custodian and Third Party Administrator for record keeping and plan compliance. We will act as an investment advisor to the Trustees of the plan by establishing the investment menu and providing investment monitoring, at least annually, to review and make changes to the fund offerings. We can also serve as a 3(21) or 3(38) co-fiduciary to the Plan and provide certain fiduciary functions. A separate custodian and Third Party Administrator will be selected by the company for their services, independent of our firm.

These services are performed and billed quarterly based upon a percentage of assets under management with fees ranging from 1.75% to 0.20% annually.

Pension Consulting Services - We provide pension consulting services to employee benefit plans, the plan sponsors and fiduciaries (collectively, the "Sponsor") based upon an analysis of the needs of the plan. In general, these services may include an existing plan review, formation of an investment policy statement, assisting the Sponsor in fund selection and investment options, investment performance monitoring, risk management education, and/or ongoing consulting. Additionally, we will offer the Sponsor assistance in setting up a relationship with a third party administrator and processing enrollment forms. We may also offer communication and education services to provide meaningful information regarding the retirement plan to its Participants. Information provided to participants in the educational seminars will be limited to general, impersonal advice.

Pension Consulting services will be provided pursuant to the agreement entered into and within the parameters set forth in the plan documents. Where the Sponsor engages our firm to provide advice to participants on an individual basis, such advice will be limited to general retirement planning issues, and fund selection and asset allocation of plan assets.

Plan Participants who wish to engage us for individualized financial planning or consulting services outside the scope of the qualified plan may do so by executing a separate agreement, including separate fees and fee payment arrangements, with us.

The scope of these services, the fees, and the terms of the agreement for these services will be negotiated on a case-by-case basis with each Sponsor. We may be compensated based on an hourly fee, a flat fee, a fee based on percentage of assets, or a combination of fee arrangements based on the complexity of the plan and the agreement with the Sponsor. In any case, we will not have access to plan funds for payment of fees without written consent. The terms regarding payment of fees, termination, and refunds will be clearly set forth in the agreement executed between our firm and the Sponsor. We will not receive additional compensation beyond the consulting fees for our pension consulting services.

All accounts are regulated under ERISA. We will provide consulting services to the Sponsor and the Participants as described above. The named Sponsor must make the ultimate decision as to retaining our firm for pension consulting services. The Sponsor is free to seek independent advice about the appropriateness of any recommended services for the plan.

Either our firm or the Sponsor may terminate the pension consulting agreement within five business days of the date of acceptance without penalty. After the five-day period, either party may terminate the pension consulting agreement by providing written notice to the other party. The Sponsor may incur a charge for services rendered prior to such termination. If applicable, any unearned fees will be refunded on a pro rata basis.

The fees charged are calculated as described above, and are not charged on the basis of a share of capital gains upon, or capital appreciation of, the funds, or any portion of your funds.

Advisory Services to Retirement Plans and Plan Participants - As disclosed above, we offer various levels of advisory and consulting services to employee benefit plans ("Plan") and to the participants of such plans ("Participants"). The services are designed to assist plan sponsors in meeting their management and fiduciary obligations to Participants under the Employee Retirement Income Securities Act ("ERISA"). Pursuant to adopted regulations of the U.S. Department of Labor, we are required to provide the Plan's responsible plan fiduciary (the person who has the authority to engage us as an investment adviser to the Plan) with a written statement of the services we provide to the Plan, the compensation we receive for providing those services, and our status (which is described below).

The services we provide to your Plan are described above, and in the service agreement that you have previously signed. Our compensation for these services is negotiated on a case-by-case basis and detailed in the advisory agreement. We do not reasonably expect to receive any other compensation, direct or indirect, for the services we provide to the Plan or Participants, unless the plan sponsor directs us to deduct our fee from the plan or directs the plan record-keeper to issue payment for our fee out of the plan. If we receive any other compensation for such services, we will (i) offset the compensation against our stated fees, and (ii) we will promptly disclose the amount of such compensation, the services rendered for such compensation and the payer of such compensation to you.

Status - Our firm is registered as an investment adviser under the Investment Advisors Act of 1940 and we represent that we are not subject to any disqualification as set forth in Section 411 of ERISA. In performing fiduciary services, we are acting as a fiduciary of the Plan as defined in Section 3(21) for purposes of providing non-discretionary investment advice only, or Section 3(38) for purposes of providing discretionary investment advice, under the Employee Retirement Income Security Act ("ERISA").

Selection of Other Advisers

As part of our investment advisory services, we may recommend that you use the services of a third party investment adviser ("TPA") to manage your entire, or a portion of your, investment portfolio. After gathering information about your financial situation and objectives, we will recommend that you engage a specific TPA or investment program. Factors that we take into consideration when making our recommendation(s) include, but are not limited to, the following: the TPA's performance, methods of analysis, fees, your financial needs, investment goals, risk tolerance, and investment objectives. We will periodically monitor the TPA(s)' performance to ensure its management and investment style remains aligned with your investment goals and objectives.

Our recommendations to use third party investment advisers are included in our portfolio management fee. We do not charge you a separate fee for the selection of other advisers nor will we share in the advisory fee you pay directly to the TPA. Advisory fees that you pay to the TPA are established and payable in accordance with the Form ADV Part 2 or other equivalent disclosure document provided by each TPA to whom you are referred. These fees may or may not be negotiable. You should review the recommended TPA's brochure for information on its fees and services.

You will be required to sign an agreement directly with the recommended TPA(s). You may terminate your advisory relationship with the TPA according to the terms of your agreement with the TPA. You should review each TPA's brochure for specific information on how you may terminate your advisory relationship with the TPA and how you may receive a refund, if applicable. You should contact the TPA directly for questions regarding your advisory agreement with the TPA.

Types of Investments

We primarily offer advice on investment company securities, however we may advise you on any type of investment that we deem appropriate based on your stated goals and objectives. We may also provide advice on any type of investment held in your portfolio at the inception of our advisory relationship.

Assets Under Management

As of December 31, 2015, we manage $40,000,000 in client assets on a discretionary basis, and $98,000,000 in client assets on a non-discretionary basis.

Item 5 Fees and Compensation

Please refer to the Advisory Business section in this brochure for information on our advisory fees, fee deduction arrangements, and refund policy according to each service we offer.

Additional Fees and Expenses

As part of our investment advisory services to you, we may invest, or recommend that you invest, in mutual funds and exchange traded funds. The fees that you pay to our firm for investment advisory services are separate and distinct from the fees and expenses charged by mutual funds or exchange traded funds (described in each fund's prospectus) to their shareholders. These fees will generally include a management fee and other fund expenses. You will also incur transaction charges and/or brokerage fees when purchasing or selling securities. These charges and fees are typically imposed by the broker-dealer or custodian through whom your account transactions are executed. We do not share in any portion of the brokerage fees/transaction charges imposed by the broker-dealer or custodian. To fully understand the total cost you will incur, you should review all the fees charged by mutual funds, exchange traded funds, our firm, and others. For information on our brokerage practices, please refer to the Brokerage Practices section of this brochure.

Compensation for the Sale of Securities or Other Investment Products

Persons providing investment advice on behalf of our firm are registered representatives with BCG Securities, Inc., a registered broker-dealer, and a member of the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority and the Securities Investor Protection Corporation. In their capacity as registered representatives, these persons will receive commission-based compensation in connection with the purchase and sale of securities, including 12b-1 fees for the sale of investment company products. Compensation earned by these persons in their capacities as registered representatives is separate and in addition to our advisory fees. This practice presents a conflict of interest because persons providing investment advice on behalf of our firm who are registered representatives have an incentive to effect securities transactions for the purpose of generating commissions rather than solely based on your needs. However, as part of our fiduciary duties to you, we endeavor at all times to put your interests first. You are under no obligation, contractually or otherwise, to purchase securities products through any person affiliated with our firm.

Persons providing investment advice on behalf of our firm are licensed as independent insurance agents. These persons will earn commission-based compensation for selling insurance products, including insurance products they sell to you. Insurance commissions earned by these persons are separate and in addition to our advisory fees. This practice presents a conflict of interest because persons providing investment advice on behalf of our firm who are insurance agents have an incentive to recommend insurance products to you for the purpose of generating commissions rather than solely based on your needs. However, as part of our fiduciary duties to you, we endeavor at all times to put your interests first. You are under no obligation, contractually or otherwise, to purchase insurance products through any person affiliated with our firm.

At our discretion, we may offset our advisory fees to the extent our Associated Persons earn commissions in their separate capacities as registered representatives and/or insurance agents.

Item 6 Performance-Based Fees and Side-By-Side Management

We do not accept performance-based fees or participate in side-by-side management. Side-by-side management refers to the practice of managing accounts that are charged performance-based fees while at the same time managing accounts that are not charged performance-based fees. Performance-based fees are fees that are based on a share of capital gains or capital appreciation of a client's account. Our fees are calculated as described in the Advisory Business section above, and are not charged on the basis of a share of capital gains upon, or capital appreciation of, the funds in your advisory account.

Item 7 Types of Clients

We offer investment advisory services to individuals, pension and profit sharing plans, trusts, estates, charitable organizations, corporations, and other business entities.

In general, we do not require a minimum dollar amount to open and maintain an advisory account; however, we have the right to terminate your Account if it falls below a minimum size which, in our sole opinion, is too small to effectively manage.

Item 8 Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies and Risk of Loss

Our Methods of Analysis and Investment Strategies

We may use one or more of the following methods of analysis or investment strategies when providing investment advice to you:

- Fundamental Analysis - involves analyzing individual companies and their industry groups, such as a company's financial statements, details regarding the company's product line, the experience and expertise of the company's management, and the outlook for the company's industry. The resulting data is used to measure the true value of the company's stock compared to the current market value.
- Long Term Purchases - securities purchased with the expectation that the value of those securities will grow over a relatively long period of time, generally greater than one year.
- Short Term Purchases - securities purchased with the expectation that they will be sold within a relatively short period of time, generally less than one year, to take advantage of the securities' short-term price fluctuations.

Our investment strategies and advice may vary depending upon each client's specific financial situation. As such, we determine investments and allocations based upon your predefined objectives, risk tolerance, time horizon, financial horizon, financial information, liquidity needs, and other various suitability factors. Your restrictions and guidelines may affect the composition of your portfolio.

Fundamental Analysis - The risk of fundamental analysis is that information obtained may be incorrect and the analysis may not provide an accurate estimate of earnings, which may be the basis for a stock's value. If securities prices adjust rapidly to new information, utilizing fundamental analysis may not result in favorable performance.

We may use short-term trading (in general, selling securities within 30 days of purchasing the same securities) as an investment strategy when managing your account(s). Short-term trading is not a fundamental part of our overall investment strategy, but we may use this strategy occasionally when we determine that it is suitable given your stated investment objectives and tolerance for risk.

Our strategies and investments may have unique and significant tax implications. However, unless we specifically agree otherwise, and in writing, tax efficiency is not our primary consideration in the management of your assets. Regardless of your account size or any other factors, we strongly recommend that you continuously consult with a tax professional prior to and throughout the investing of your assets.

Moreover, as a result of revised IRS regulations, custodians and broker-dealers will begin reporting the cost basis of equities acquired in client accounts on or after January 1, 2011. Your custodian will default to the FIFO (First-In First-Out) accounting method for calculating the cost basis of your investments. You are responsible for contacting your tax advisor to determine if this accounting method is the right choice for you. If your tax advisor believes another accounting method is more advantageous, please provide written notice to our firm immediately and we will alert your account custodian of your individually selected accounting method. Please note that decisions about cost basis accounting methods will need to be made before trades settle, as the cost basis method cannot be changed after settlement.

Risk of Loss

Investing in securities involves risk of loss that you should be prepared to bear. We do not represent or guarantee that our services or methods of analysis can or will predict future results, successfully identify market tops or bottoms, or insulate clients from losses due to market corrections or declines. We cannot offer any guarantees or promises that your financial goals and objectives will be met. Past performance is in no way an indication of future performance.

Recommendation of Particular Types of Securities

As disclosed under the Advisory Business section in this Brochure, we primarily recommend stocks, ETFs and mutual funds however, we may recommend other types of investments as appropriate for you since each client has different needs and different tolerance for risk. Each type of security has its own unique set of risks associated with it and it would not be possible to list here all of the specific risks of every type of investment. Even within the same type of investment, risks can vary widely. However, in very general terms, the higher the anticipated return of an investment, the higher the risk of loss associated with it.

Mutual funds are professionally managed collective investment systems that pool money from many investors and invest in stocks, bonds, short-term money market instruments, other mutual funds, other securities or any combination thereof. The fund will have a manager that trades the fund's investments in accordance with the fund's investment objective. While mutual funds generally provide diversification, risks can be significantly increased if the fund is concentrated in a particular sector of the market, primarily invests in small cap or speculative companies, uses leverage (i.e., borrows money) to a significant degree, or concentrates in a particular type of security (i.e., equities) rather than balancing the fund with different types of securities. The returns on mutual funds can be reduced by the costs to manage the funds. Also, while some mutual funds are "no load" and charge no fee to buy into, or sell out of, other types of mutual funds do charge such fees which can also reduce returns. Mutual funds can also be "closed end" or "open end".

Item 9 Disciplinary Information

Wealth Advisory Group, Inc. has been registered and providing investment advisory services since 1993. Neither our firm nor any of our management personnel has any reportable disciplinary information.

Item 10 Other Financial Industry Activities and Affiliations

Persons providing investment advice on behalf of our firm are registered representatives with BCG Securities, Inc, a registered broker-dealer, and a member of the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority and the Securities Investor Protection Corporation.

Persons providing investment advice on behalf of our firm are licensed as insurance agents. These persons will earn commission-based compensation for selling insurance products, including insurance products they sell to you. Insurance commissions earned by these persons are separate from our advisory fees. Please see the Fees and Compensation section in this brochure for more information on the compensation received by insurance agents who are affiliated with our firm.

We may recommend that you use a third party adviser ("TPA") based on your needs and suitability. We will receive compensation from the TPA for recommending that you use their services. These compensation arrangements present a conflict of interest because we have a financial incentive to recommend the services of the third party adviser. You are not obligated, contractually or otherwise, to use the services of any TPA we recommend.

Item 11 Code of Ethics, Participation or Interest in Client Transactions and Personal Trading

Description of Our Code of Ethics

We strive to comply with applicable laws and regulations governing our practices. Therefore, our Code of Ethics includes guidelines for professional standards of conduct for our Associated Persons. Our goal is to protect your interests at all times and to demonstrate our commitment to our fiduciary duties of honesty, good faith, and fair dealing with you. All of our Associated Persons are expected to adhere strictly to these guidelines. Persons associated with our firm are also required to report any violations of our Code of Ethics. Additionally, we maintain and enforce written policies reasonably designed to prevent the misuse or dissemination of material, non-public information about you or your account holdings by persons associated with our firm.

Clients or prospective clients may obtain a copy of our Code of Ethics by contacting us at the telephone number on the cover page of this brochure.

Participation or Interest in Client Transactions

Neither our firm nor any of our Associated Persons has any material financial interest in client transactions beyond the provision of investment advisory services as disclosed in this brochure.

Personal Trading Practices

Our firm or persons associated with our firm may buy or sell the same securities that we recommend to you or securities in which you are already invested. A conflict of interest exists in such cases because we have the ability to trade ahead of you and potentially receive more favorable prices than you will receive. To mitigate this conflict of interest, it is our policy that neither our Associated Persons nor we shall have priority over your account in the purchase or sale of securities.

Item 12 Brokerage Practices

We may recommend that clients establish brokerage accounts with one or more broker-dealers including but not limited to Schwab Institutional division of Charles Schwab & Co., Inc. ("Schwab Institutional"), a registered broker-dealer, member SIPC/NYSE, to maintain custody of the client's assets and to effect trades for their accounts. You are advised that there may be transaction charges involved when purchasing or selling securities. We do not share in any portion of the brokerage fees/transaction charges imposed by Schwab Institutional. Additionally the commission/transaction fees charged by Schwab Institutional may be higher or lower than those charged by other broker-dealer/custodians.

Schwab Institutional provides us with access to its institutional trading and operations services, which are typically not available to Schwab retail investors. These services generally are available to independent investment advisers at no charge to them so long as a total of at least $10 million of our clients account assets are maintained at Schwab Institutional. Schwab Institutional services may include research, brokerage, custody, access to mutual funds and other investments that are otherwise available only to institutional investors or would require significantly higher minimum initial investments.

For our client accounts maintained in custody at Schwab, Schwab Institutional generally does not charge separately for custody services but is compensated by account holders through commissions and other transaction-related or asset-based fees for securities trades that are executed through Schwab Institutional or that settle into Schwab accounts.

Schwab Advisor Services also makes available to us other products and services that benefit our firm but may not directly benefit our clients' accounts. Many of these products and services may be used to service all or some substantial number of our client's accounts, including accounts not maintained at Schwab.

Schwab's products and services that assist us in managing and administering clients' accounts include software and other technology that (i) provide access to client account data (such as trade confirmations and account statements); (ii) facilitate trade execution and allocate aggregated trade orders for multiple client accounts; (iii) provide research, pricing and other market data; (iv) facilitate payment of our fees from our clients' accounts; and (v) assist with back-office functions, recordkeeping and client reporting.

We believe that Schwab Institutional provides the best services at reasonable commission rates. The reasonableness of commissions is based on several factors, including the broker's ability to provide professional services, competitive commission rates, volume discounts, execution price negotiations, the broker's reputation, experience and financial stability of the broker or dealer, and the quality of service rendered by the broker or dealer in other transactions.

Best execution is not measured solely by reference to commission rates. Paying a broker a higher commission rate than another broker might charge is permissible if the difference in cost is reasonably justified by the quality of the brokerage services offered.

Associated Persons of our firm, in their separate capacities as Registered Representatives and/or insurance agents, will sell securities products and will receive additional compensation on the sale of such products.

While our firm and our Associated Persons, as part of their fiduciary duty, endeavor to put your interest first, you should be aware that receipt of additional compensation itself creates a potential conflict of interest.

Directed Brokerage

In limited circumstances and at our sole discretion, you may instruct us to use one or more particular brokers for the transactions in their accounts. If you want to direct us to use a particular broker should understand that this may prevent us from effectively negotiating brokerage compensation on your behalf and may also prevent us from obtaining the most favorable net price and execution. Moreover, if you require that we direct brokerage you may incur additional costs for performance reporting. Thus, when directing brokerage business, you should consider whether the commission expenses, execution, clearance, and settlement capabilities that you will obtain through your broker are adequately favorable in comparison to those that we would otherwise obtain for you.

We also recommend the brokerage and custodial services of BCG Securities, Inc, ("BCG") a registered broker-dealer and a member of the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority and the Securities Investor Protection Corporation. We believe that BCG provides quality execution services for you at competitive prices. Price is not the sole factor we consider in evaluating best execution. We also consider the quality of the brokerage services provided by BCG, including the value of research provided, the firm's reputation, execution capabilities, commission rates, and responsiveness to our clients and our firm. In recognition of the value of research services and additional brokerage products and services BCG provides, you may pay higher commissions and/or trading costs than those that may be available elsewhere.

Persons providing investment advice on behalf of our firm who are registered representatives of BCG will recommend BCG to you for brokerage services. These individuals are subject to applicable rules that restrict them from conducting securities transactions away from BCG unless BCG provides the representative with written authorization to do so. Therefore, these individuals are generally limited to conducting securities transactions through BCG. It may be the case that BCG charges higher transactions costs and/or custodial fees than another broker charges for the same types of services. If transactions are executed through BCG, these individuals (in their separate capacities as registered representatives of BCG) may earn commission-based compensation as result of placing the recommended securities transactions through BCG. This practice presents a conflict of interest because these registered representatives have an incentive to effect securities transactions for the purpose of generating commissions rather than solely based on your needs. You may utilize the broker-dealer of your choice and have no obligation to purchase or sell securities through such broker as, we recommend. However, if you do not use BCG, we may not be able to accept your account. Please see the Fees and Compensation section in this brochure for more information on the compensation received by registered representatives who are affiliated with our firm.

Brokerage for Client Referrals

We do not receive client referrals from broker-dealers in exchange for cash or other compensation, such as brokerage services or research.

Block Trades

Transactions for each client generally will be effected independently, unless we decide to purchase or sell the same securities for several clients at approximately the same time. We may, but are not obligated to, combine multiple orders for shares of the same securities purchased for advisory accounts we manage (this practice is commonly referred to as "block trading"). We will then distribute a portion of the shares to participating accounts in a fair and equitable manner. The distribution of the shares purchased is typically proportionate to the size of the account, but it is not based on account performance or the amount or structure of management fees. Subject to our discretion regarding factual and market conditions, when we combine orders, each participating account pays an average price per share for all transactions and pays a proportionate share of all transaction costs on any given day. Accounts owned by our firm or persons associated with our firm may participate in block trading with your accounts; however, they will not be given preferential treatment.

Item 13 Review of Accounts

On an ongoing basis, as financial plan reports are completed for you, whether initial, periodic, or final reports, Richard Craft, CEO of our firm is responsible to periodically review documents or analysis prepared for you. These reviews are designed to ensure that the recommendations and services as specified in these documents appear to provide sound advice, as well as reasonable and valuable advice for you in light of the services to be provided to you under our Financial Planning and Investment Advisory Agreement. Ongoing services or reports provided to you for a fee are also periodically reviewed by Mr. Craft.

The Wealth Advisory Group, Inc. Engagement Agreements, Financial Planning, or Investment Advisory Agreements with you will specify the reports, if any, that will be provided to you, including the type of report and the frequency with which the reports will be presented to you. Reports, including investment tracking reports, asset review or analysis reports, or net worth or portfolio valuation reports will be periodically reviewed by the Mr. Craft.

You will receive trade confirmations and monthly or quarterly statements from your account custodian(s).

Item 14 Client Referrals and Other Compensation

As disclosed under the Fees and Compensation section in this brochure, persons providing investment advice on behalf of our firm are licensed insurance agents, and are registered representatives with BCG, a registered broker-dealer, and a member of the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority and the Securities Investor Protection Corporation. For information on the conflicts of interest this presents, and how we address these conflicts, please refer to the Fees and Compensation section.

Employee and non-employee (outside) solicitors, e.g. unaffiliated broker/dealers, investment advisers, accountants, attorneys, etc., who are directly responsible for bringing a client to our firm, may receive compensation from us for the client referral. Under these arrangements, the client does not pay higher fees than our normal/typical advisory fees.

Such arrangements will comply with the requirements set forth under the Investment Advisers Act of 1940 and/or the applicable state Securities Acts, including the requirement for a written agreement between our firm and the solicitor. Non-employee solicitors must provide a copy of WAG's ADV Part 2 (Disclosure Brochure) and a separate solicitor's disclosure statement regarding the relationship between the solicitor and our firm to the prospective client at the time of the solicitation or referral. The client will be requested to acknowledge this arrangement prior to acceptance of the client's account for advisory services. Applicable state laws may require these persons to become either licensed or registered as representatives of our firm or as an independent investment adviser.

Non-employee Solicitors that refer business to more than one investment adviser may have a financial incentive to recommend advisers with more favorable compensation arrangements. We request that our Solicitors disclose to you whether multiple referral relationships exist and that comparable services may be available from other advisers for lower fees and/or where the Solicitor's compensation is less favorable.

Item 15 Custody

As paying agent for our firm, your independent custodian will directly debit your account(s) for the payment of our advisory fees. This ability to deduct our advisory fees from your accounts causes our firm to exercise limited custody over your funds or securities. We do not have physical custody of any of your funds and/or securities. Your funds and securities will be held with a bank, broker-dealer, or other independent, qualified custodian. You will receive account statements from the independent, qualified custodian(s) holding your funds and securities at least quarterly. The account statements from your custodian(s) will indicate the amount of our advisory fees deducted from your account(s) each billing period. You should carefully review account statements for accuracy. If you have a question regarding your account statement or if you did not receive a statement from your custodian, please contact us directly at the telephone number on the cover page of this brochure.

Item 16 Investment Discretion

Before we can buy or sell securities on your behalf, you must first sign our discretionary management agreement, a power of attorney, and/or trading authorization forms.

You may grant our firm discretion over the selection and amount of securities to be purchased or sold for your account(s) without obtaining your consent or approval prior to each transaction. You may specify investment objectives, guidelines, and/or impose certain conditions or investment parameters for your account(s). For example, you may specify that the investment in any particular stock or industry should not exceed specified percentages of the value of the portfolio and/or restrictions or prohibitions of transactions in the securities of a specific industry or security. Please refer to the Advisory Business section in this brochure for more information on our discretionary management services.

If you enter into non-discretionary arrangements with our firm, we will obtain your approval prior to the execution of any transactions for your account(s). You have an unrestricted right to decline to implement any advice provided by our firm on a non-discretionary basis.

Item 17 Voting Client Securities

We will not vote proxies on behalf of your advisory accounts unless our Agreement specifies otherwise. At your request, we may offer you advice regarding corporate actions and the exercise of your proxy voting rights. If you own shares of common stock or mutual funds, you are responsible for exercising your right to vote as a shareholder.

In most cases, you will receive proxy materials directly from the account custodian. However, in the event we were to receive any written or electronic proxy materials, we would forward them directly to you by mail, unless you have authorized our firm to contact you by electronic mail, in which case, we would forward any electronic solicitation to vote proxies.

Item 18 Financial Information

We are not required to provide financial information to our clients because we do not:

- require the prepayment of more than $1,200 in fees and six or more months in advance, or
- take custody of client funds or securities, or
- have a financial condition that is reasonably likely to impair our ability to meet our commitments to you.

Item 19 Requirements for State Registered Advisers

We are a federally registered investment adviser; therefore, we are not required to respond to this item.

Item 20 Additional Information

Your Privacy

We view protecting your private information as a top priority. Pursuant to applicable privacy requirements, we have instituted policies and procedures to ensure that we keep your personal information private and secure.

We do not disclose any non-public personal information about you to any non-affiliated third parties, except as permitted by law. In the course of servicing your account, we may share some information with our service providers, such as transfer agents, custodians, broker-dealers, accountants, consultants, and attorneys.

We restrict internal access to non-public personal information about you to employees, who need that information in order to provide products or services to you. We maintain physical and procedural safeguards that comply with regulatory standards to guard your non-public personal information and to ensure our integrity and confidentiality. We will not sell information about you or your accounts to anyone. We do not share your information unless it is required to process a transaction, at your request, or required by law.

You will receive a copy of our privacy notice prior to or at the time you sign an advisory agreement with our firm. Thereafter, we will deliver a copy of the current privacy policy notice to you on an annual basis. Please contact our main office at the telephone number on the cover page of this brochure if you have any questions regarding this policy.

Trade Errors

On infrequent occasions, an error may be made in your account. For example, a security may be erroneously purchased for the account instead of sold. In these situations, we generally seek to rectify the error by placing your account in a similar position as it would have been had there been no error. Depending on the circumstances, various corrective steps may be taken, including among others canceling the trade or adjusting an allocation.

Class Action Lawsuits

We do not determine if securities held by you are the subject of a class action lawsuit or whether you are eligible to participate in class action settlements or litigation nor do we initiate or participate in litigation to recover damages on your behalf for injuries as a result of actions, misconduct, or negligence by issuers of securities held by you.
