ITEM 4 Advisory Business

Syverson Strege & Company ("Adviser") has been registered as an investment adviser since 1997 and is operating as Sherpa Investment Management, a division of Syverson Strege & Company since 2011. Owners Johnne Syverson and David Strege have more than 65 years of knowledge and experience in providing personal financial planning, asset management and investment advice. What you'll quickly discover when you are working with Syverson Strege & Company is we only work for you. To us that means you should only pay for the work performed, not the investment vehicles used in your investment portfolio. Unlike most financial firms, we don't accept commissions because we feel it is profoundly important to provide you with unbiased and objective investment advice based on your financial goals. We believe this philosophy helps ensure we only work for you.

The Adviser has two affiliates, Charitable Giving Resource Center (CGRC) and Transition Point Business Advisors (TPBA). Each of those entities provides separate and distinct service that does not involve investment advice. However, all employees of all three entities are located in the same office space and each entity is a subsidiary of Values Based Holding Corporation.

ADVISORY SERVICES

Financial Planning Services

Financial Planning services help individuals and families identify, clarify and act upon their financial and life goals. Our four-step process integrates sound financial planning principles with some very valuable additional offerings.

After our initial discussions with you, we'll start with a Discovery Report. This report identifies gaps between your current and desired wealth structure, and clarifies your values and personal planning preferences.

The second step of our process delivers additional benefits that may include centralized data collection of all your important financial documents; integrated financial planning recommendations; and portfolio analysis and design.

In step three, we'll walk you through the implementation of our recommendations and the thinking behind these strategies.

Finally, we'll manage the results and keep you informed. We'll do this by providing portfolio performance reports, tracking financial information needed for your taxes and doing on-going planning. We will also act as your advocate with your other Advisers.

Asset Management Services

Syverson Strege & Company Advisers will help you clarify your investment goals and objectives and provide the following services:

- Analysis of your current holdings
- Asset allocation study
- Provide recommendations for current and future investments based on your Investment Policy Statement ("IPS")
- Assist with the implementation of the recommendations and opening of new investment account(s)
- Quarterly review of accounts and re-balance assets as needed within the portfolio
- Provide quarterly reporting of investment accounts

Quarterly performance reports will be provided on each portfolio account with a value of at least $50,000. An Investment Policy Statement will be completed for each client to detail the specific financial needs, the goals, and any restrictions on investing in certain securities or types of securities. Each client with over $500,000 under our management will also receive an annual Investment Review.

Asset management services for publicly traded securities utilize TD Ameritrade (See Item 10) and may be done in an institutional mutual fund platform or, if you choose, separate account management. These are billed monthly in arrears as a percent of assets under management.

Adviser is the investment adviser to the Dechomai Foundation, Inc. dba National Gift Annuity Foundation ("NGAF"). Adviser earns a fee for its services based on the assets under management for NGAF. NGAF, as part of its services, offers charitable gift annuities on behalf of other charitable non-profit entities that are affiliated with NGAF pursuant to one or more Charitable Gift Annuity Programs ("CGAPs"). NGAF has an agreement with Charitable Giving Resource Center (CGRC) as the marketer, administrator, accountant, and consultant for NGAF for each CGAP under the NGAF program. CGRC earns a fee for its services based on the assets under management of each CGAP under the NGAF program. A conflict of interest exists as Adviser and CGRC are affiliates. To address the conflict of interest, CGRC has contracted with an unaffiliated third party to perform the administrator services which includes payment of all fees related to NGAF and its CGAPs.

Syverson Strege & Company Advisers may also provide you with investment advice on:

Note: This may not be an all-inclusive list.

You authorize this discretion once you sign the Agreement for Professional Services. At any time you can revoke the discretion by submitting a written request to your Adviser. In most cases, discretion will be utilized. As of December 31, 2016, all of the Adviser's clients are managed on a discretionary basis that totals $402,777,000. General Information

Your Adviser initiates no trading activity for Integrated Financial Plans, Non-Managed Portfolio Performance Reporting, Special Projects or Hourly Consulting Projects thus no discretion is exercised.

All fees and account minimums may be waived or negotiated at the Adviser's choice.

Payment of Fees and Brokerage Costs

Fees may be directly deducted from your account(s) or you may be invoiced for services. You may select either payment method. As indicated above, some financial planning and other project fees are collected in advance while all asset management services for publicly traded securities are billed monthly in arrears as a percent of assets under management. See the above charts for details.

Clients may incur custodian fees, brokerage and other transaction costs. (See Brokerage Practices Page 10) Advice offered may involve investments in mutual funds. Clients are hereby advised that all fees paid for asset management services are separate and distinct from the fees and expenses charged by mutual funds to their shareholders. These fees are described in each mutual fund's prospectus. Clients whose assets are invested in the shares of mutual funds pay with a direct management fee to the investment adviser and an indirect management fee to the mutual fund. A subadviser is currently used to manage some clients' assets. The subadviser relationship fees are similar to the mutual fund fee relationship previously described. Clients have the option to implement the recommended asset allocation by purchasing investment products through other brokers or agents that are not affiliated with the adviser.

In the unlikely event that a billing error or discrepancy occurs, the client will be notified and the adviser will first try to put the refund back into the account from which the fee payment occurred. If they are unable to do this, they'll send the client a check.

Any Adviser created trade errors that result in a net loss to client accounts will be debited against Adviser's Error Account and the client made whole. Any Adviser created trade errors that result in a net gain will be donated to a charity of Adviser's choice, the Values Based Holding Corporation Foundation Fund.

Syverson Strege & Company advisers typically use no load funds. Each adviser strives to use funds that do not have transaction fees to purchase or sell shares of the fund. At times, no load funds may be used that do require transaction fees to buy or sell shares in the fund.

No Syverson Strege & Company employee accepts compensation for the sale of securities or other investment products, including asset-based sales charges or service fees from the sale of mutual funds. Our fee-based approach eliminates all sales commissions and ensures our guidance is always focused on the client's best interest, not ours. That has always been and will always be the way we help our clients.

ITEM 6 Performance-Based Fees and Side-By-Side Management

Syverson Strege & Company advisers do not receive any Performance-Based fees.

ITEM 7 Types of Clients

Our advisers manage individual accounts, trusts, and estates. For asset management services, quarterly performance reports will be provided on each portfolio account with a value of at least $50,000. Account minimums and fees may be negotiable at Adviser's choice.

ITEM 8 Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies, and Risk of Loss

You personalized investment strategies and recommendations may be based upon consideration of any of the following:

- Current income needs
- Need for inflation protection
- Loss of principal balance
- Volatility of income
- Liquidity requirements
- Time horizon
- Tax considerations
- Legal requirements
- Unique needs and consideration

Additionally, your adviser may use historical quantitative data on selected assets to determine probable risk and reward factors based on your objectives and constraints. In developing your financial plan, Syverson Strege & Company may create a computerized portfolio model to assist in asset selection and performance analysis of varying relationships between asset classes.

All security investments involve a risk of loss. We cannot stress enough that you need to realize that actual performance will vary from return potential and volatility presented. Use of alternative and private investments normally causes lack of liquidity. The performance of any particular investment vehicle is dependent on the management strategy of the selected investment company. You should review the mutual fund prospectus or private placement memorandum for the specific risks related to each fund that is held in your account.

ITEM 9 Disciplinary Information

There are no legal or disciplinary events that are related to the Adviser's business or the integrity of their management.

ITEM 10 Other Financial Industry Activities and Affiliations

No Syverson Strege & Company employee has a pending application to register as a registered representative, an associated person of a futures commission merchant, a commodity pool operator, or a commodity trading adviser. Additionally, no adviser has a pending application to register as a broker-dealer, a futures commission merchant, a commodity pool operator, or a commodity trading adviser.

ITEM 11 Code of Ethics, Participation or Interest in Client Transactions and Personal Trading

At any time, you or prospective clients may contact us to request a copy of the Adviser Code of Ethics.

Adviser and its related persons may also own securities that they may offer or sell to their clients as well. In addition, any related person(s) may have an interest or a position in a certain security(ies) which may also be recommended to a client.

It is the expressed policy of Syverson Strege & Company that persons employed by our organization are expected to purchase or sell a security for their personal accounts only after trading of that same security has been completed in client accounts. There is no conflict of interest as the securities are widely held and publicly traded.

As these situations reflect a conflict of interest, Adviser has established the following restrictions in order to ensure its fiduciary responsibilities:

- An officer or employee of Syverson Strege & Company shall not buy or sell securities for their personal portfolio(s) where their decision is substantially derived, in whole or in part, by reason of his or her employment unless the information is also available to the investing public on reasonable inquiry. No person or employee of Adviser shall prefer his or her own interest to that of the advisory client.
- Our organization maintains a list of all securities holdings for itself, and anyone associated with this advisory practice. An appropriate officer of Syverson Strege & Company reviews these holdings on a regular basis.
- We emphasize the unrestricted right of our clients to decline implementing any advice rendered.
- All of our employees are required to act in accordance with all applicable Federal and State regulations governing registered investment advisory practices.

Any employee not in observance of the above may be subject to termination.

ITEM 12 Brokerage Practices

Syverson Strege & Company may determine which investment managers are to manage the accounts within an outside manager's selection. We'll chose these managers based on our client's investment objectives and risk tolerance.

Adviser recommends that clients establish brokerage accounts with TD Ameritrade Institutional (through the TD Ameritrade Institutional Program), a division of TD Ameritrade, Inc. ("TD Ameritrade") member FINRA/SIPC. TD Ameritrade is an independent and unaffiliated SEC-registered broker-dealer. TD Ameritrade offers to independent investment advisers services which include custody of securities, trade execution, clearance and settlement of transactions. Adviser may receive some benefits from TD Ameritrade through its participation in the program. (Please see the disclosure under Item 14). TD Ameritrade and/or Advisory Representatives may receive benefits such as assistance with conferences and educational meetings from product sponsors.

Adviser believes that TD Ameritrade provides the best services at the most reasonable transaction rates possible. The reasonableness of transaction rates is based on several factors, including the broker's ability to provide professional services, competitive transaction rates, volume discounts, execution price negotiations, the broker's reputation, experience and financial stability of the broker or dealer, and the quality of service rendered by the broker or dealer in other transactions.

Best execution is not measured solely by reference to transaction rates. Paying a broker a higher transaction rate than another broker might charge is permissible if the difference in cost is reasonably justified by the quality of the brokerage services offered.

Certain no-load mutual funds may impose a transaction fee with respect to purchases made through a broker/dealer like TD Ameritrade that clients would not have to pay if they dealt directly with that no-load fund. However, the advantages of a consolidated account with centralized bookkeeping and reporting, direct access to funds with a single telephone call, as well as less expensive transaction rates on individual stocks and bonds than those available through a full-service broker far outweigh the small transaction fees. It may be the case that the recommended broker charges a higher fee for a particular type of service, such as transaction rates. Clients that elect the services of broker/dealers other than those recommended may be subject to additional service fees imposed by Adviser at its discretion and also may not be able to participate in aggregate trading practices.

Clients primarily grant Adviser discretionary authority over the selection of and amounts of securities to be bought and/or sold for their account without obtaining their prior consent or approval from the client. (See Item 4 Advisory Business) The trading authority will allow Adviser to take advantage of time-sensitive market conditions in securities, which are consistent with the client's prior stated investment objectives. However, Adviser's investment authority may be subject to specified investment objectives, guidelines, and/or conditions imposed by the client. For example, a client may specify that the investment in any particular stock or industry should not exceed specified percentages of the value of the portfolio and/or restrictions or prohibitions of transactions in the securities of a specific industry. Adviser does not participate in initial public offerings.

Brokerage for Client Referrals

Typically, clients are referred to TD Ameritrade and Adviser does not receive referrals from TD Ameritrade.

Directed Brokerage

A client may direct Adviser use a specific broker; however, the broker may not wish to establish a new relationship with Adviser.

Adviser participates in TD Ameritrade's institutional customer program and Adviser may recommend TD Ameritrade to Clients for custody and brokerage services. There is no direct link between Adviser's participation in the program and the investment advice it gives to its clients, although Adviser receives economic benefits through its participation in the program that are typically not available to TD Ameritrade retail investors. These benefits include the following products and services (provided without cost or at a discount): receipt of duplicate client statements and confirmations; research related products and tools; consulting services; access to a trading desk serving adviser participants; access to block trading (which provides the ability to aggregate securities transactions for execution and then allocate the appropriate shares to client accounts); the ability to have advisory fees deducted directly from client accounts; access to an electronic communications network for client order entry and account information; access to mutual funds with no transaction fees and to certain institutional money managers; and discounts on compliance, marketing, research, technology, and practice management products or services provided to Adviser by third party vendors. TD Ameritrade may also have paid for business consulting and professional services received by Adviser's related persons. Some of the products and services made available by TD Ameritrade through the program may benefit Adviser but may not directly benefit its client accounts. These products or services may assist Adviser in managing and administering client accounts, including accounts not maintained at TD Ameritrade.

Other services made available by TD Ameritrade are intended to help Adviser manage and further develop its business enterprise. The benefits received by Adviser or its personnel through participation in the program do not depend on the amount of brokerage transactions directed to TD Ameritrade. As part of its fiduciary duties to clients, Adviser endeavors at all times to put the interests of its clients first. Clients should be aware, however, that the receipt of economic benefits by Adviser or its related persons in and of itself creates a potential conflict of interest and may indirectly influence Adviser's choice of TD Ameritrade for custody and brokerage services.

While Adviser and its associated persons endeavor at all times to put the interests of the clients first as part of their fiduciary duty, clients should be aware that the receipt of additional compensation creates a potential conflict of interest as described in beginning of this section, Item 12 Brokerage Practices and Item 14 Other Compensation.

Aggregation of Orders

Adviser may aggregate orders with respect to a security if such aggregation is consistent with achieving best execution for the various client accounts. When orders are aggregated, each participating account will receive the average share price for all transactions in a particular security effected to fill such orders on a given business day. Transaction costs will generally be allocated upon each account's participation in the transaction. Specific allocations may be chosen based upon an account's existing positions in securities, the cash availability of one or more particular accounts, a partial fill of the aggregated trade, tax reasons, or the required minimum trade lot sizes for foreign securities.

If it is not possible to aggregate a trade, a client may receive a different price on a security transaction and may not be able to purchase or sell the same quantity of a security. In addition, clients that elect the services of broker/dealers other than those recommended may not be able to participate in aggregate trading practices.

Your adviser does not select individual stocks or bonds to buy or sell.

ITEM 13 Review of Accounts

Annual Planning Sessions analyze a client's complete financial plan. Client information is updated and new recommendations are made as required. These reviews are conducted according to instructions outlined by a Financial Planner. Written reports may vary by client and by the services selected, but will include a listing of all assets and liabilities. Asset/liability analysis reports will be sent quarterly.

For Financial Planning clients with portfolios of $500,000 or more investment reviews are held annually. A Financial Planner conducts investment reviews at least annually and they can be done more often if the client desires. Currently, there is no limit to the number of clients they serve. At least quarterly, activity reports and performance reports are sent to advisory service clients.

The Investment Committee reviews all accounts and re-balances assets as needed within the portfolio at least every quarter. The Investment Committee currently includes: Jason Gunkel, Lance Gunkel, Matt Roberts, James Mantosh and David Strege. The Investment Committee meets monthly and reviews economic and market data, mutual fund and manager performance, and allocation analysis to determine whether any changes are required in client portfolios. To assist the Investment Committee, rebalancing triggers have been established with a third-party provider to occur as needed in the month following the end of a quarter.

ITEM 14 Client Referrals and Other Compensation

Other Compensation

As disclosed under Item 12, above, Adviser participates in TD Ameritrade's institutional customer program and Adviser may recommend TD Ameritrade to Clients for custody and brokerage services. There is no direct link between Adviser's participation in the program and the investment advice it gives to its Clients, although Adviser receives economic benefits through its participation in the program that are typically not available to TD Ameritrade retail investors. These benefits include the following products and services (provided without cost or at a discount): receipt of duplicate Client statements and confirmations; research related products and tools; consulting services; access to a trading desk serving Adviser participants; access to block trading (which provides the ability to aggregate securities transactions for execution and then allocate the appropriate shares to Client accounts); the ability to have advisory fees deducted directly from Client accounts; access to an electronic communications network for Client order entry and account information; access to mutual funds with no transaction fees and to certain institutional money managers; and discounts on compliance, marketing, research, technology, and practice management products or services provided to Adviser by third party vendors. TD Ameritrade may also have paid for business consulting and professional services received by Adviser's related persons. Some of the products and services made available by TD Ameritrade through the program may benefit Adviser but may not benefit its Client accounts. These products or services may assist Adviser in managing and administering Client accounts, including accounts not maintained at TD Ameritrade. Other services made available by TD Ameritrade are intended to help Adviser manage and further develop its business enterprise. The benefits received by Adviser or its personnel through participation in the program do not depend on the amount of brokerage transactions directed to TD Ameritrade. As part of its fiduciary duties to clients, Adviser endeavors at all times to put the interests of its clients first. Clients should be aware, however, that the receipt of economic benefits by Adviser or its related persons in and of itself creates a potential conflict of interest and may indirectly influence Adviser's choice of TD Ameritrade for custody and brokerage services.

Adviser also receives from TD Ameritrade certain additional economic benefits ("Additional Services") that may or may not be offered to any other independent investment advisers participating in the program. Specifically, the Additional Services include costs to transfer client accounts and performance reporting from Orion. TD Ameritrade provides the Additional Services to Adviser in its sole discretion and at its own expense, and Adviser does not pay any fees to TD Ameritrade for the Additional Services. Adviser and TD Ameritrade have entered into a separate agreement ("Additional Services Addendum") to govern the terms of the provision of the Additional Services.

Adviser's receipt of Additional Services raises potential conflicts of interest. In providing Additional Services to Adviser, TD Ameritrade most likely considers the amount and profitability to TD Ameritrade of the assets in, and trades placed for, Adviser's Client accounts maintained with TD Ameritrade. TD Ameritrade has the right to terminate the Additional Services Addendum with Adviser, in its sole discretion, provided certain conditions are met. Consequently, in order to continue to obtain the Additional Services from TD Ameritrade, Adviser may have an incentive to recommend to its Clients that the assets under management by Adviser be held in custody with TD Ameritrade and to place transactions for Client accounts with TD Ameritrade. Adviser's receipt of Additional Services does not diminish its duty to act in the best interests of its Clients, including to seek best execution of trades for Client accounts.

Adviser may receive access to product research, services, technology and other educational information to help it operate efficiently, grow its business and deliver exceptional service to clients. Custodians or other investment companies may provide some or all of these services. No client is charged for these services and the information received may be used to benefit all clients of Adviser.

Adviser understands and acknowledges that at all times it owes a fiduciary duty to clients to obtain best execution for their transactions. Adviser believes the relationships with these companies help them to execute securities transactions for clients in such a manner that the client's total cost in each transaction is as favorable as possible under prevailing market conditions.

Clients may pay higher account maintenance or trading fees than what is available at other firms.

Client Referrals

Adviser may pay Funeral Services of Iowa, Inc. ("FSI") or other various trade associations 10% of Adviser's first year fees, received annually for their endorsement and referral of members to the Adviser that subsequently become a client. Every year that the Client renews the financial planning contract, the referring party will receive 10% of the investment consulting fees received by Syverson Strege & Co for members on a quarterly basis. This fee paid to FSI causes no variance in the fees charged to any client.

Iowa Funeral Directors ("IFDA") members or prospective members receive an initial consultation at no charge and a 10% discount for the IFDA member's first year planning fee. Adviser requires the IFDA member to sign a referral disclosure form acknowledging the revenue sharing agreement with FSI and the following activities with IFDA and its members. On occasion, Adviser will submit an article for publication in Communiqué, the IFDA bimonthly newsletter, pay for advertising space in Communiqué, reserve a booth at the IFDA hosted annual convention, and make presentations during the IFDA annual convention which may include a cost to the Adviser for these activities.

Adviser paid NAPFA, an industry membership association, a fee to have their website listed on NAPFA's website. This fee was a one-time only fee and was not dependent on the number of referrals received as a result of the listing. On-going membership in NAPFA is required.

ITEM 15 Custody

Your Adviser does not have custody of any client funds. Adviser does send account statements to its clients and urges its clients to compare the account statements they receive from the qualified custodian with those that they receive from the adviser.

ITEM 16 Investment Discretion

The Adviser may provide all Financial Planning and Asset Management Services on a discretionary or nondiscretionary basis. Discretion means the Adviser may enter the trading activity within the Client's account(s) without receiving prior authorization for each trade. This discretion is authorized by the Client in writing (upon signing the Agreement for Professional Services) and may be revoked at any time by submitting a written request to the Adviser. In most cases, discretion will be utilized by the adviser to rebalance a portfolio back to the allocation established by the Investment Policy Statement. Clients are notified with a default disclosure of broader allocation changes that will occur automatically unless the client elects out of the investment change by the notification date established in the communication sent to the client.

ITEM 17 Voting Client Securities

Adviser votes proxies for its clients, which includes any class actions, and the appropriate records are maintained. In all cases, Adviser votes in the best interests of its clients. For more details on the proxy voting policies of Syverson Strege & Company and information regarding a specific vote, please contact our office at 515-225-6000.

The Adviser's default election is to vote all proxies for its clients. The client can at any time choose to elect out of this proxy voting service and vote their proxies. The adviser has automated its proxy voting by utilizing a proxy voting company with established proxy voting guidelines. The proxy voting guidelines are always available upon client request. A client can choose to vote on one particular proxy issue by notifying the adviser in writing that they want to opt out of the automated proxy voting service on that issue. Any conflict of interest with the client with respect to voting their securities will need to be sent in writing to Adviser 30 days in advance of the proxy due date.

ITEM 18 Financial Information

While clients may pay a financial planning deposit of more than $1,200, the work is normally completed and the initial financial planning presentation occurs within six months. Adviser does not have any adverse financial information to disclose.

Mr. Strege earned the Chartered Financial Analyst (CFA) designation in 1987. The Chartered Financial Analyst (CFA) charter is a globally respected, graduate-level investment credential established in 1962 and awarded by CFA Institute — the largest global association of investment professionals. There are currently more than 90,000 CFA charterholders working in 135 countries. To earn the CFA charter, candidates must: 1) pass three sequential, six-hour examinations; 2) have at least four years of qualified professional investment experience; 3) join CFA Institute as members; and 4) commit to abide by, and annually reaffirm, their adherence to the CFA Institute Code of Ethics and Standards of Professional Conduct.

High Ethical Standards

The CFA Institute Code of Ethics and Standards of Professional Conduct, enforced through an active professional conduct program, require CFA charterholders to:

- Place their clients' interests ahead of their own
- Maintain independence and objectivity
- Act with integrity
- Maintain and improve their professional competence
- Disclose conflicts of interest and legal matters

Global Recognition

Passing the three CFA exams is a difficult feat that requires extensive study (successful candidates report spending an average of 300 hours of study per level). Earning the CFA charter demonstrates mastery of many of the advanced skills needed for investment analysis and decision making in today's quickly evolving global financial industry. As a result, employers and clients are increasingly seeking CFA charterholders—often making the charter a prerequisite for employment. Additionally, regulatory bodies in 19 countries recognize the CFA charter as a proxy for meeting certain licensing requirements, and more than 125 colleges and universities around the world have incorporated a majority of the CFA Program curriculum into their own finance courses.

Comprehensive and Current Knowledge

The CFA Program curriculum provides a comprehensive framework of knowledge for investment decision making and is firmly grounded in the knowledge and skills used every day in the investment profession. The three levels of the CFA Program test a proficiency with a wide range of fundamental and advanced investment topics, including ethical and professional standards, fixed-income and equity analysis, alternative and derivative investments, economics, financial reporting standards, portfolio management, and wealth planning.

The CFA Program curriculum is updated every year by experts from around the world to ensure that candidates learn the most relevant and practical new tools, ideas, and investment and wealth management skills to reflect the dynamic and complex nature of the profession. To learn more about the CFA charter, visit www.cfainstitute.org.

The Chartered Financial Analyst (CFA) charter is a globally respected, graduate-level investment credential established in 1962 and awarded by CFA Institute — the largest global association of investment professionals. There are currently more than 90,000 CFA charterholders working in 135 countries. To earn the CFA charter, candidates must: 1) pass three sequential, six-hour examinations; 2) have at least four years of qualified professional investment experience; 3) join CFA Institute as members; and 4) commit to abide by, and annually reaffirm, their adherence to the CFA Institute Code of Ethics and Standards of Professional Conduct.

High Ethical Standards

The CFA Institute Code of Ethics and Standards of Professional Conduct, enforced through an active professional conduct program, require CFA charterholders to:

- Place their clients' interests ahead of their own
- Maintain independence and objectivity
- Act with integrity
- Maintain and improve their professional competence
- Disclose conflicts of interest and legal matters

Global Recognition

Passing the three CFA exams is a difficult feat that requires extensive study (successful candidates report spending an average of 300 hours of study per level). Earning the CFA charter demonstrates mastery of many of the advanced skills needed for investment analysis and decision making in today's quickly evolving global financial industry. As a result, employers and clients are increasingly seeking CFA charterholders—often making the charter a prerequisite for employment. Additionally, regulatory bodies in 19 countries recognize the CFA charter as a proxy for meeting certain licensing requirements, and more than 125 colleges and universities around the world have incorporated a majority of the CFA Program curriculum into their own finance courses.

Comprehensive and Current Knowledge

The CFA Program curriculum provides a comprehensive framework of knowledge for investment decision making and is firmly grounded in the knowledge and skills used every day in the investment profession. The three levels of the CFA Program test a proficiency with a wide range of fundamental and advanced investment topics, including ethical and professional standards, fixed-income and equity analysis, alternative and derivative investments, economics, financial reporting standards, portfolio management, and wealth planning.

The CFA Program curriculum is updated every year by experts from around the world to ensure that candidates learn the most relevant and practical new tools, ideas, and investment and wealth management skills to reflect the dynamic and complex nature of the profession.
