Item 5 Fees and Compensation

CONSULTATION SERVICES

CSIA may provide consultation on securities and a Client's financial situation for a fixed fee of $250. When individuals call and seek a consultation, Mr. Stuart describes the information the individual needs to bring to the meeting. He briefly describes the topics to be discussed and explains that the consultation should last approximately one to one and one-half hour.

ASSET MANAGEMENT SERVICES

CSIA provides investment advisory supervisory services under the following program:

Investment Management Program for Advisory Clients (IMPAC)

Account minimum: $250,000

This is an account, administered through Raymond James & Associates ("RJA"), in which the Client is provided with ongoing investment advice and monitoring of securities holdings. The Investment Adviser Representative ("IAR") will manage the account on a non-discretionary or discretionary basis according to the Client's objectives. Equity trades and Preferred Stocks will have a $15.00 transaction charge while Options and Bonds will have a $30 transaction charge paid to the broker-dealer. Mutual Fund purchases will have a $30 transaction charge. Mutual Fund redemptions (sales), systematic periodic purchases, and systematic automatic withdrawals do not have transactions charges. Some mutual fund companies may waive this fee. For a list of those companies, please contact CSIA. Mutual funds incur expenses for portfolio management services and fund administrative services. These expenses are disclosed in the mutual fund prospectus. Periodic investments, systematic withdrawals, exchanges and mutual fund liquidations are exempt from transaction charges. There will be a $30 charge on purchases of partner funds not participating in the No Transaction Fee program and an additional $10 charge on purchases of non-partner funds (load and no-load.)

Fee Schedule for IMPAC

First $250,000	1.5%
Next $750,000	1.0%
Greater than $1,000,000	.75%

The annual asset-based fee is paid quarterly in arrears, as outlined in the Investment Advisory Agreement. The asset-based fee is calculated on the account asset value on the last business day of the billing quarter for the previous billing quarter. Client authorizes and directs Raymond James Financial Services ("RJFS"), an affiliate of RJA, as Custodian to deduct asset-based fees from the Client's account; Client further authorizes and directs the Custodian to send a quarterly statement to the Client which shows all amounts disbursed from Client's account, including advisory fees paid to CSIA. Client understands that the brokerage statement will show the amount of the asset-based fee, the value of the assets on which the fee was based, and the specific manner in which the fee was calculated.

In addition to the forgoing transaction charge, the Client will incur a nominal charge per transaction for handling and postage charges. The Client may also incur charges for other account services provided by RJFS not directly related to the execution and clearing of transactions including, but not limited to, IRA custodial fees, safekeeping fees, interest charges on margin loans, and fees for legal or courtesy transfers of securities.

Fees are non-refundable.

The Investment Management Agreement may be terminated by the Client or Carl Stuart at any time. There is no penalty for terminating the Client's account. The Client may be charged a fee pursuant to the number of days the account was managed for the current billing quarter.

ADDITIONAL DISCLOSURES ABOUT AMS PROGRAMS

Investment of Cash Reserves

With respect to cash reserves of advisory Client accounts, the Custodian of the account assets will determine where cash reserves are held. The Custodian may offer one or multiple options to different account types (such as non-taxable and managed accounts). In addition, the Custodian may, among other things, consider terms and conditions, risks and features, conflicts of interest, current interest rates, the manner by which future interest rates will be determined, and the nature and extent of insurance coverage (such as deposit protection from the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation and the Securities Investor Protection Corporation). The Custodian may change an investment option at any time by providing the Client with thirty (30) days advance written notice of such change, modification or amendment. As of October 2008, Cash Sweep Options include the Raymond James Bank Deposit Program ("RJBDP"), sponsored by RJA, including the money-market and municipal money-market fund, or any combination thereof.

Raymond James Bank is an affiliate of Raymond James. The income earned by RJA is in addition to the asset-based fees that RJFS receives from these accounts.

Where an unaffiliated third party acts as Custodian of account assets, Client and/or the Custodian will determine where cash reserves are held.

Cash balances arising from the sale of securities, redemptions of debt securities, dividend and interest payments and funds received from customers are invested automatically on a daily basis. When securities are sold, funds are deposited on the day after settlement date. Funds placed in a Client's account by personal check usually will not be invested until the second business day following the day that the deposit is credited to the Client's account. Due to the foregoing practices, RJA may obtain federal funds prior to the date that deposits are credited to Client accounts and thus may realize some benefit because of the delay in investing such funds.

For further information please refer to the Cash Sweep Options disclosure statement, a copy of which is available from your IAR, or is available on the Raymond James public website, www.raymondjames.com.

Participants in the IMPAC program may be entitled to a discounted asset-based fee if they maintain one or more related accounts within these programs.

It is the Client's responsibility to include all Related Accounts for purposes of qualifying for an aggregated account fee discount. While CSIA may attempt to identify related accounts, it shall not be held responsible for failing to consider any related accounts not listed by the Client.

CSIA rebates all Mutual Fund 12(b)-1 fees to Clients.

Clients should understand that the annual advisory fees charged in the IMPAC program are in addition to the management fees and operating expenses charged by open-end, closed-end and exchange-traded funds. To the extent that a Client intends to hold fund shares for an extended period of time, it may be more economical for the Client to purchase fund shares outside of these programs. Clients may be able to purchase mutual funds directly from their respective fund families without incurring Carl Stuart's advisory fee. When purchasing directly from fund families, Clients may incur a front-or back-end sales charge.

Clients should also understand that the shares of certain mutual funds offered in these programs may impose short-term trading charges (typically 1%-2% of the amount originally invested) for redemptions generally made within short periods of time. These short-term charges are imposed by the funds (and not Carl Stuart) to deter "market timers" who trade actively in fund shares.

Clients should consider these short-term trading charges when selecting the program and/or mutual funds in which they invest. These charges, as well as operating expenses and management fees, which may increase the overall cost to the Client by 1%-2% (or more), are available in each fund's prospectus.

A Client's total cost of the services provided through this program, if purchased separately, could be more or less than if the Client purchased the same securities outside of this program. Cost factors may include the Client's ability to:

- 1) obtain the services provided within the program separately with respect to the selection of mutual funds,
- 2) invest and rebalance the selected mutual funds without the payment of a sales charge, and
- 3) obtain performance reporting comparable to those provided within the program.

When making cost comparisons, Clients should be aware that the combination of multiple mutual fund investments, advisory services, custodial and brokerage services available through this program may not be available separately or may require multiple accounts, documentation and fees. If an account is actively traded or the Client otherwise may not qualify for reduced sales charges for fund purchases, the fees may be less expensive than separately paying the sales charges and advisory fees.

The Client's IAR may have a financial incentive to recommend a fee-based advisory program rather than paying for investment advisory services, brokerage, performance reporting and other services separately.

CSIA believes the charges and fees offered within the fee-based program are competitive with alternative programs available through other firms and/or investment sources, yet makes no guarantee that the aggregate cost of a particular program is lower than that which may be available elsewhere.

Clients that terminate the advisory agreement(s) within the first five (5) business days of entering into the advisory agreement will have any advisory fees that were charged refunded back to them. The Investment Management Agreement may be terminated by the Client or CSIA at any time. There is no penalty for terminating the Client's account. The Client may be charged a fee pursuant to the number of days the account was managed for the current billing quarter.

Item 6 Performance Based Fees

Carl Stuart Investment Advisor, Inc. does not have performance-based fees or utilize side-by-side management. The only fees charged to Client are noted in the “Fees and Compensation” section.

Item 7 Types of Clients

The Adviser has the following types of Clients:

- Individuals
- Retirement Plans
- Trusts
- Estates
- Charitable Organizations
- Foundations

CSIA has a minimum account relationship of $250,000.00. Accounts below the $250,000 threshold may be accepted on a negotiated basis.

Item 8 Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies and Risk of Loss

Methods of Analysis

The Adviser uses the Fundamental method of analysis in its Client accounts. Fundamental analysis examines:

- all the material factors of the security,
- the economy

The Adviser receives research from a variety of sources, including available for public viewing such as:

- Financial newspapers and magazines
- Research materials prepared by others
- Corporate rating services
- Annual reports, prospectuses, filings with the Securities Exchange Commission, and Company press releases
- Onsite due diligence meetings with mutual fund companies' portfolio managers and research analysts

Investment Strategies

The Adviser employs investment strategies that are long term purchases (held for more than a year).

CSIA offers investments in mutual fund shares.

Risk of Loss

The potential risks of using Fundamental analysis are that the IAR is using historical information, which may not predict the future outcome of a security.

Each investment strategy may entail unique risks including the possibility of incurring a loss. In a long term investment strategy, returns may be adversely affected by market downturns or inflation.

Clients investing in mutual fund shares should be aware of the risks involved. These types of securities may incur expenses above and beyond management fees deducted by the Adviser. While the Adviser does not collect or receive any portion of these fees, the Client is responsible for paying any applicable fees or costs assigned by the custodian.

By its nature, investment planning looks to the long term. After CSIA makes sure the Client's short term cash needs are satisfied, they design investment strategies to help the Client achieve their financial goals.

Item 9 Disciplinary Information

CSIA and Mr. Carl W. Stuart do not have any disciplinary history.
