Types of Services

AAG provides a full range of direct account holder-level and participant-level investment services (the “Services”) and indirectly through private-label arrangements with institutional partners. The Services include Online Investment Guidance, Online Investment Advice and the Managed Account service as well as Spend-Down Advice, Financial Planning Service and Retirement Income Projection Tools and Services. AAG provides its Services through a proprietary, computer-based software program, developed and maintained by Morningstar Investment Management LLC (“Morningstar Investment Management”). Enrollment in any of AAG’s Services does not guarantee future results and is not a guarantee that Plan participants or account holders will achieve their individual retirement goals.

Morningstar Investment Management LLC

Morningstar Investment Management is a registered investment adviser wholly-owned by Morningstar, Inc. and is not affiliated with AAG or any company that is affiliated with AAG. Morningstar Investment Management is located in Chicago, IL and a copy of their Form ADV Part 2A brochure may be obtained at www.adviserinfo.sec.gov. Morningstar Investment Management serves as an independent financial expert (“IFE”), in accordance with the Department of Labor SunAmerica Advisory Opinion 2001-09A, dated December 14, 2001 (the “SunAmerica Opinion”). The plan, Plan Sponsor or plan fiduciary must select and maintain at all times investment options that cover broad asset categories. The investment options selected for the plan or IRA generally consists of a broad range of asset classes (for example, mutual funds in the fixed income/cash alternatives, bond, large cap, small cap, small/mid cap and international asset classes called “investment options” some of which may be proprietary funds of AAG’s affiliated investment company, Great-West Funds, Inc. or funds advised by AAG’s affiliated investment adviser Putnam Investment Management, LLC. More information is provided in Item 10 – Other Financial Industry Affiliations. Item 8 of this Brochure discusses the general risks of investing; such risks associated with the investment options can vary significantly with each particular investment category and the relative risks of categories may change. Accordingly, AAG may make changes from time to time with regard to the availability of certain investment options.) The fees, risks, plan sponsor/plan provider/participant/account holder responsibilities and limitations for each of these services are discussed in greater detail in this Brochure. Fees and expenses are also fully explained in the respective prospectus and Statement of Additional Information materials which accompany each investment option, as applicable.

Certain of AAG’s Services rely on Morningstar Investment Management’s proprietary methodology which is based on a review of available quantitative data to analyze and screen the investment options within a plan. Morningstar Investment Management also applies qualitative analysis by investment professionals, such as evaluations of investment managers, portfolios and individual investments. The primary sources of information used by Morningstar Investment Management are the extensive databases and methodologies of Morningstar Investment Management and/or its affiliates, and interviews with investment managers. Other sources include financial publications, annual reports, prospectuses, press releases, and filings with the SEC. Morningstar Investment Management combines this information with other factors—including actuarial data, stock market exposure, probability analysis, and mean-variance optimization—into a proprietary software program to analyze a complex set of market data and variables. The result is an advanced model that can provide investment recommendations and a projection of different outcomes. Using this model, Morningstar Investment Management develops an investment strategy tailored to your investment goals.

1. Online Investment Guidance Service

AAG’s Online Investment Guidance service developed by Morningstar Investment Management provides participants with access to sophisticated but easy-to-use online account planning, advisory and analytical tools that assist the participant/account holder in selecting their own asset classes and building a diversified portfolio. Using the Online Investment Guidance service, participants/account holders are provided with general asset allocation information based on the investment options that are available within the participant’s plan or are available in the Empower Retirement IRA. In addition, with the Online Investment Guidance service a participant/account holder can receive an objective savings rate recommendation that may assist the participant in achieving his/her retirement goals. The Online Investment Guidance service does not provide fund-specific recommendations. The asset allocation recommendations, education and other investment-related services provided under the Online Investment Guidance service do not constitute investment advice under the Investment Advisers Act of 1940.

2. Online Investment Advice Service

AAG's Online Investment Advice service is also based on the software program developed by Morningstar Investment Management and provides the participant/account holder with retirement goal forecasting advice and fund-specific asset allocation recommendations tailored to the specific participant's/account holder's financial situation and retirement goals. The Online Investment Advice service is geared for individuals who wish to manage their own retirement account with the assistance of the Online Investment Guidance service tools and investment advice.

The Online Investment Advice service provides the participant/account holder with a retirement goal forecast through the use of various assumptions and hypothetical financial and economic scenarios based on a variety of different factors such as historic returns, market volatility, cross-correlations, calculated risk premiums, interest rate fluctuations, inflation and market conditions and other factors; all of which have limitations, however. The individual can interact with the Online Investment Advice service to see how changes in the individual's decisions about their savings, expected retirement age, level of investment risk and retirement income goal may affect the system's forecast. Participants/account holders who enroll in the Online Investment Advice service are responsible for determining the portfolio allocation that is best suited for their needs and which meets their investment strategy.

The investment recommendations provided by the Online Investment Advice service are limited to the available investment options within the participant's specific retirement plan or in the Empower Retirement IRA. The Online Investment Advice service does not make any recommendations concerning investing in any individual stocks or other asset classes, including employer stock that may be an investment option under the participant's retirement plan. Participants/account holders are informed when accessing the Online Investment Advice service that the advice should not be considered an approval or endorsement of the available investment options.

Participant/IRA account holder Responsibilities

Participant/account holders are responsible for making their investment decisions and may implement the Online Investment Advice service recommendations either online or by phone. Participants/account holders are also solely responsible for reviewing and updating the information they input in the Online Investment Advice service with respect to the completeness, accuracy and timeliness of the information. Participants/account holders should review their retirement accounts periodically to monitor changes in the market and the value of their investments. A failure by an individual to review and update their account information through the Online Investment Advice service may materially affect the content and value of the Service.

Limitations on the Online Investment Guidance and the Online Investment Advice Services

The recommendations provided through the Online Investment Advice service and the information provided through the Online Investment Guidance service are estimates only based on the responses or other information provided by or about the participant/account holder. Neither AAG nor Morningstar Investment Management make any guarantees or warranties, express or implied, as to the accuracy, timeliness, or completeness of such information. The Online Investment Advice and Online Investment Guidance services are also subject to the general market and financial conditions existing at the time of such usage.

The retirement goal forecast and investment recommendations provided by the Online Investment Advice and the information provided through the Online Investment Guidance services are not a guarantee of future results and are not a guarantee that a participant/account holder will achieve their retirement goals. The Online Investment Advice and the Online Investment Guidance services should only be used by participants/account holders as a tool in their retirement planning and not as a substitute for their own informed judgment. Neither AAG nor Morningstar Investment Management has an obligation to update any information for a specific individual or to proactively contact the individual to obtain updated information. A failure by an individual to review and update account information through the Online Investment Advice and Online Investment Guidance services may materially affect the content and value of services received from AAG.

3. Managed Account Service

AAG offers a discretionary managed account service ("Managed Account"), a professional and flexible asset management program based on data resulting from the methodologies and proprietary software program developed and employed by Morningstar Investment Management. In the Managed Account service, AAG has discretionary authority over the allocation of available investment options, without prior participant/account holder approval of each transaction. All ongoing investment transfers and investment direction changes are implemented for individuals enrolled in the Managed Account service.

The Managed Account service designs a specific asset allocation portfolio for the participant/account holder that reflects the individual's retirement goals, life stages, specified risk constraint and overall financial situation, taking into consideration other assets and investments not included within the plan or IRA (based on information provided by the individual specific to their account).

On a periodic (approximately quarterly) basis, individual accounts in the Managed Account service are re-forecasted, which may include rebalancing and reallocating the individual's asset allocation portfolio in order to maintain alignment with the allocation percentages determined by Morningstar Investment Management through the use of various assumptions and hypothetical financial and economic scenarios based on a variety of different factors such as historic returns, market volatility, cross-correlations, calculated risk premiums, interest rate fluctuations, inflation, market conditions, and the personal financial circumstances of the participant/account holder. Participants/account holders receive an account update and forecast statement annually and can update their personal information at any time by calling AAG at their plan's toll-free customer service number, or by visiting the appropriate website. Some plan providers may offer a guaranteed lifetime benefit withdrawal option to plan participants who are approaching retirement or are in retirement. If the plan provider offers this service and if the participant meets the retirement criteria established by the plan provider or plan sponsor, the investment strategy may include a suggested amount that can be withdrawn while striving to maintain income throughout retirement. It may also include information about allocating a portion of the managed account balance for the purchase of an annuity or other guaranteed income product.

Limitations on the Managed Accounts Service

When participants/account holders enroll in the Managed Account service, the individual must transfer and allocate their entire retirement account balance to the Managed Account. For participants, there is an exception of employer stock and employer directed monies. Partial management of a participant's/account holder's account whereby the individual is invested in other investment options, such as individual stocks, other asset classes outside of the available investment options, or self-directed brokerage accounts while also participating in the Managed Account service is not an available alternative. Participant/account holder balances in any of these investment options or vehicles must be liquidated, subject to plan and/or investment provider restrictions, or the participant/account holder cannot be enrolled in the Managed Account service. For participants, certain outside non-advisable assets may be permitted while also participating in the Managed Account service; however, the participant's entire account balance that is advisable must be allocated to the Managed Account service.

Once enrolled in the Managed Account service, participants/account holders delegate certain account management functions to AAG including functionality for fund-to-fund transfers, change fund allocations, the dollar cost averaging tool and/or the rebalancer tool. However, individuals in the Managed Account service retain full inquiry access to their account and may still request approval for loans or take a distribution withdrawal, if permissible. Participants/account holders may un-enroll at any time from the Managed Account service and, once they do so, they resume full responsibility for the investment management of their account. An individual may un-enroll online or by contacting an AAG representative.

4. Spend-Down Advice

Participants/account holders who are enrolled in any of AAG's Services discussed above are also provided with an additional feature of Spend-Down Advice based on Morningstar Investment Management's methodology, which provides the individual with retirement planning tools. The Spend-Down Advice illustrates how long the desired income may last in retirement and determines how much spendable income the participant/account holder may be able to sustain throughout their retirement years. The Spend-Down Advice provides both the amount and sources of income that can be spent throughout their retirement years. The services provided under Spend-Down Advice provide projections of spendable income and do not constitute investment advice under the Investment Advisers Act of 1940.

5. Financial Planning Service

For certain plan clients and certain IRA account holders, AAG will provide individualized financial planning services to the participant/account holder. The participant/account holder is required to complete a comprehensive financial assessment. Based on the information provided by the participant/account holder and/or the Plan Sponsor, AAG with the assistance of third party financial planning software will provide the participant/account holder with a customized, comprehensive financial needs assessment. AAG's financial planning service is limited to providing the participant/account holder with a needs assessment; AAG will not market or provide advice on any product or service identified in the needs assessment other than AAG's Services. The information provided to the participant/account holder under this service is through a contractual arrangement with an unaffiliated third party vendor(s). In certain circumstances the vendor's financial planning tools may recommend the purchase of life insurance products; such recommendations are not specific to any insurance underwriter and do not constitute an offer to solicit or sale insurance products offered by AAG's affiliated insurance companies, including without limitation Great-West Life & Annuity Insurance Company ("Great-West") and Great-West Life & Annuity Insurance Company of New York (GWL&ANY).

6. Retirement Income Projection Tools and Services

AAG may offer online tools and services for participants/account holders to translate projected or actual retirement savings into estimated monthly retirement income. This interactive retirement planning service consists of various retirement income projection tools. These tools are informational in nature and do not reflect actual investment results and are not guarantees of future results; these tools do not constitute investment advice under the Investment Advisers Act of 1940.

Enrollment in AAG's Services

For Retirement Plan Participants:

Plan providers and plan sponsors select the Service(s), i.e., Online Investment Guidance, Online Investment Advice and/or the Managed Account service that are made available to plan participants and also the manner by which participants can authorize the Service(s). Participants must agree to the terms of a user agreement ("Terms of Service"), which terms may be amended by AAG from time to time, to use any of the Services. As part of a participant's enrollment in the Managed Account service, the participant receives a Managed Account Welcome Kit shortly after enrollment. The participant additionally receives an Annual Kit, each year. Each kit provides the participant an update on their account and information on reaching their retirement goals.

In certain instances, Plan Sponsors may authorize AAG to enroll participants automatically in the Managed Account service based on information provided to AAG by the Plan Sponsors. In such instances, current participants in the Plan receive the Terms of Service and are given a defined period of time in which to cancel or "opt-out" of the Managed Account service without incurring an advisory fee (the "Free Look Period" or "Promotional Period"). Participants' automatic enrollment in the Service by the Plan Sponsors is based upon minimum personal financial information provided by the Plan Sponsor, including date of birth, salary, gender and state of residence. Participants are able to review this information either online or by contacting an AAG representative; participants are solely responsible for reviewing the personal financial information they or their Plan Sponsor provide and for notifying AAG of any changes or updates to such information. Participants who are subsequently eligible for their employer-sponsored retirement plan or that otherwise elect to "opt-in" after the Free Look or Promotional Period concludes may not be eligible for a waiver of advisory fees otherwise available in the Free Look or Promotional Period.

For Empower Retirement IRA Account Holders:

The services are available to all account holders of the Empower Retirement IRA. Account holders must agree to the terms of a user agreement ("Terms of Service") prior to using any of the online services, which terms may be amended by AAG from time to time.

The advice and recommendations provided through the Services discussed in this Brochure are based on the responses or other information provided by or about the participant/account holder by the Plan Sponsor and/or the participant/account holder. Neither AAG nor Morningstar Investment Management make any guarantees or warranties, express or implied, as to the accuracy, timeliness, or completeness of such information. The Services are also subject to the general market and financial conditions existing at the time of such usage. The retirement goal forecast and investment advice recommendations are not a guarantee of future results and are not a guarantee that a particular person will achieve their retirement goals.

Termination of Services

Participants/account holders may cancel their participation in the Online Investment Advice service or the Managed Account service at any time. Participants/account holders utilizing the Online Investment Advice service must complete their cancellation online. Participants/account holders utilizing the Managed Account service may either cancel online or by calling AAG at the toll-free customer service number.

After cancellation of the:

1. Online Investment Advice service, the individual will no longer have access to the online investment recommendations. Because AAG does not effect changes to the participant's/account holder's asset allocation and account balances, the individual's balances will not be affected unless and until the individual affirmatively changes their asset allocation and balance after the cancellation of the Online Investment Advice service.
2. Managed Account service, the participant/account holder will have the ability to make allocation and investment option changes to their account, usually by the next business day markets are open following cancellation of the Managed Account service. Accordingly, the participant's asset allocation will remain the same as established in the Managed Account service unless and until the participant affirmatively changes his/her asset allocation after cancellation of the Managed Account service.

Participant/Account Holder Information

The use and storage of any information, including, without limitation, an individual's personal and non-public information, account number, password, identification, portfolio information, account balances and any other information available on an individual's personal computer, is provided at the individual's sole risk and responsibility. The individual is responsible for providing and maintaining the communications equipment (including personal computers and modems) and telephone or options services required for accessing and using electronic or automated services, and for all communications service fees and charges incurred by the individual in accessing these services. AAG shall not bear any responsibility for either errors or failures caused by the malfunction of any computer or communication systems or any computer viruses or related problems that may be associated with the use of the Services.

(including the Online Investment Advice service described herein) in the amount of: $1,004,147,539
- Total discretionary and non-discretionary investment management and advisory services in the amount of: $26,138,214,518

Item 5 – Fees and Compensation

For employer-sponsored retirement plans, fees are subject to negotiation by the Plan sponsor which may include Plan-level pricing credits depending on the various option(s) selected by the Plan for its participants. In some instances, if agreed to by the Plan, the Plan sponsors or recordkeeper may pay AAG's fees on behalf of Plan participants. AAG reserves the right to offer discounted fees or other promotional pricing or to waive fees for any particular period of time subject to proper notification and disclosure.

1. Online Investment Guidance Service Fees

There is generally no fee for participants using the Online Investment Guidance service, however, participants may be assessed a fee for the Online Investment Guidance service depending on AAG's agreement with the Plan sponsor. IRA account holders do not pay a fee for use of the Online Investment Guidance service.

2. Online Investment Advice Service Fees

Participants who use the Online Investment Advice service may be charged a flat fee. Alternatively, this fee may be paid by the plan or Plan sponsor. The fee for the Online Investment Advice service is generally $25.00 per year, or $6.25 per quarter, as specified in the participant's Terms of Service and/or the plan sponsor's Investment Advisory and Management Service Agreement. Fees may be debited on a quarterly or monthly basis from participants' accounts based on the terms of service agreed upon by the Plan sponsor. If the participant's Plan sponsor or plan terminates the Great-West service agreement with the plan's recordkeeping service provider, the fees are debited through the date of such termination. Use of the Online Investment Advice service by a participant at any time during the applicable billing period will result in the participant's account being debited based on the entire fee or the Plan sponsor incurring the entire fee on behalf of the participant. Unless a participant affirmatively terminates the Online Investment Advice service, or the Plan sponsor terminates its service agreement with Great-West, the fee will be assessed each year following the participant's initial use. The $25.00 annual service fee pricing is unaffected by participants' frequency of use.

Empower Retirement IRA account holders who use the Online Investment Advice service are charged an annual flat fee of $25.00, debited quarterly at $6.25 per quarter. Fees are debited from IRA account holders' accounts on a quarterly or monthly basis based on the terms of service agreed upon by the account holder. If the IRA account holder terminates his/her Empower Retirement IRA, the fees are debited at the end of the billing cycle when the termination occurred. Use of the Online Investment Advice service by an account holder at any time during a quarter will result in the account holder's account being debited the applicable fee.

3. Managed Account Service Fees

For Employer-Sponsored Retirement Plan Participants:

Participants may be charged a fee for the Managed Account service based on the Terms of Service with the participant and/or the Plan Sponsor's Investment Advisory and Management Service Agreement. AAG may offer Plans tiered pricing schedules based on the methodology the Plan determines to use for offering or enrolling its participants in the Managed Account service. Such options include, but are not limited to, pricing schedules based on the Plan sponsor's selection of an "opt-out" versus "opt-in" enrollment methodology. Pricing schedules, as applicable, for each of the options are made available to the Plan sponsors for which they may use to select the option for their employer-sponsored retirement plan.

Pursuant to the Terms of Service and/or the Plan Sponsor's Investment Advisory and Management Service Agreement, the fee for the Managed Account service is based upon a percentage of assets managed. The fee, as applicable, for the Managed Account service varies and is fully disclosed to participants prior to or at the time of enrollment in the enrollment disclosure materials provided to participants. In addition, the fee is disclosed to participants in the Terms of Service at the time the participant enrolls in the Managed Account service. The maximum annualized fee that may be charged to a participant is 0.90% of the participant's account balance.

The advisory fee is debited from the participant's account following each applicable billing period, which is generally quarterly. If a participant cancels participation in the Managed Account service at any time within a given billing period, pursuant to the participant's Terms of Service and/or the Plan sponsor's Investment Advisory and Management Service Agreement, the participant's fee is based upon a percentage of assets managed and will be debited from the participant's account or paid by the plan sponsor according to AAG's agreement and procedures. If the participant's Plan sponsor or Plan terminates its service agreement with the plan's recordkeeping service provider, the participant's advisory fee is debited as of such date of termination or paid by the plan sponsor according to AAG's agreement and procedures.

For Empower Retirement IRA Account Holders:

IRA account holders are charged a quarterly fee for the Managed Account service based upon a percentage of assets managed:

Principal Account Balance	Quarterly Fee	Annualized Quarterly Fee
< $100,000	0.1375%	0.55%
Next $150,000	0.1125%	0.45%
Next $150,000	0.0875%	0.35%
> $400,000	0.0625%	0.25%

AAG reserves the right to offer current and new or prospective IRA account holders discounted fees or other promotional pricing or to waive fees for any particular period of time subject to proper notification and disclosure.

The advisory fee is debited from the account holder following each applicable billing cycle. If an account holder cancels their participation in the Managed Account service or Empower Retirement IRA at any time within a given fee cycle, the fee is based upon a percentage of assets managed and will be debited from the account according to AAG procedures.

4. Financial Planning Service Fees

Fees charged for financial planning services are negotiated on a plan-by-plan basis. In some instances the participant or account holder is assessed a fee for the financial planning services and in other instances, a Plan sponsor may pay the fee on behalf of participants who use this service. Not all plans or IRAs are eligible to offer this service.

5. Retirement Income Projection Tools and Services

AAG does not charge a fee to Plan sponsors, participants or IRA account holders for the retirement income projection tools and services.

6. Other Fees and Expenses

In addition to any previously negotiated and disclosed recordkeeper fees, commission payments and other administrative servicing fees and expenses for each plan, AAG may pay cash compensation or referral fees to broker-dealer firms that are not affiliated with AAG for soliciting and referring plan sponsors and their participants to enroll in AAG's Managed Account service. Such compensation for referrals and solicitation activities may result in a higher fee of the total assets under management for a plan to be charged to participants based on the total assets in the Managed Account service, in addition to the advisory fee for the Managed Account service.

AAG's fees do not include the fees and expenses charged by the investment options, including redemption fees. Redemption fees vary in amount and application by each applicable Core Investment Option. It is possible that transactions initiated by AAG in the Managed Account service may result in the imposition of a redemption fee on one or more investment options available in a plan. Additionally, any action undertaken by an individual who implements recommendations from the Online Investment Advice or uses information provided through the Online Investment Guidance service may result in redemptions or other transaction fees. Any fees are deducted from the individual's account balance. All securities transactions which occur as a result of the services provided by AAG as described in this Brochure are executed by GWFS for which GWFS may receive compensation in the form of 12b-1 fees or other compensation from mutual fund companies or from the other investments available under the plan or available through the Empower IRA.

Item 6 – Performance-Based Fees and Side –by Side Management

AAG does not charge any performance-based or side-by side management fees.

Item 7 – Types of Clients

AAG offers investment advisory and management services to plan sponsors of employer-sponsored retirement plans; such as 401(a), 401(k), 403(b) and 457 plans, including government entities and their participants through arrangements with the plan's recordkeeper and to account holders of the Empower Retirement IRA.

Item 8 – Methods of Analysis and Investment Strategies

The Services described in this Brochure are based on the proprietary asset allocation and retirement income projection methodologies developed by Morningstar Investment Management. The development of investment advice by Morningstar Investment Management involves the investment methodologies across the products and services described herein. Morningstar Investment Management or its affiliates focus on specific investment areas such as capital market assumptions and methodologies used for asset allocation, manager selection, portfolio construction, and advice.

Analysis Methods

In providing advisory services, Morningstar Investment Management reviews available quantitative data to analyze and screen the investment options within a plan. They may also apply qualitative analysis by investment professionals, such as evaluations of investment managers, portfolios and individual investments. The primary sources of information used are the extensive databases and methodologies of Morningstar Investment Management or its affiliates, and interviews with investment managers. Other sources include financial publications, annual reports, prospectuses, press releases, and filings with the SEC. Morningstar Investment Management combines this information with other factors—including actuarial data, stock market exposure, probability analysis, and mean-variance optimization—into a proprietary software program to analyze a complex set of market data and variables. The result is an advanced model that can provide investment recommendations and a projection of different outcomes. Using this model, Morningstar Investment Management develops an investment strategy tailored to your investment goals, as described below.

Investment Strategy

If you are accumulating for retirement savings, the investment strategy is generally based on information such as managed account balance, expected retirement age, contribution rate and other preferences provided by the individual. If the individual has already retired, and if the plan provider offers a guaranteed lifetime withdrawal benefit program, the strategy is based on information such as the current account balance, additional cash flows and life expectancy. This retirement strategy may include some or all of the following:

Retirement Income Goal (accumulation phase): Morningstar Investment Management defines the retirement income goal as the projected amount of money that will be needed by the individual throughout retirement. This calculation is based on current income, adjusted to reflect the estimated dollar value at retirement age. Typically, Morningstar Investment Management uses an amount equal to 100% of take-home pay (although some plan providers may request a different rate, e.g., 80% of gross pay), and then project the value of that amount at retirement age to determine a retirement income goal. The individual has the option to change this projected retirement income amount.

Income Outlook (accumulation phase): Morningstar Investment Management defines the income outlook as a projection of the annual income that the individual may receive during retirement. This is based on an annualized view of the investment wealth accumulated, combined with social security benefits and any pension or other income provided to AAG.

Total Retirement Income (in-retirement phase): If your plan provider or Plan Sponsor offers the in-retirement services, Morningstar Investment Management defines total retirement income as the projected amount of money, typically at some level of probability that one can expect to receive on an annual basis in order to maintain income throughout retirement.

IMPORTANT: When Morningstar Investment Management determines the income projections described above, these projections are based on hypothetical performance data and do not represent actual or guaranteed results. Your projections may vary over time with each additional use of the service.

Risk Strategy

Morningstar Investment Management determines a risk strategy based on several factors, such as current age and time until retirement, gender, salary, total current wealth, deferral rate, and retirement goals. If the individual has retired or is approaching retirement, and if they have the opportunity to purchase an annuity, the risk strategy also considers longevity and liquidity needs. The risk level corresponds to an asset mix, or the combination of stocks, bonds and cash alternatives, that will serve as the basis for the recommendations of specific funds appropriate for the individual.

Estimated Tax

Morningstar Investment Management estimates federal, state income, and capital gains taxes based on marginal tax rate calculations (the marginal tax rate is the rate one pays on the taxable income that falls into the highest bracket one reaches). These calculations are used when Morningstar Investment Management conducts income simulations. Tax data is updated annually based on United States Internal Revenue Code (IRC) and similar state tax data. Morningstar Investment Management uses income data for the individual, as well as their spouse/partner, to estimate federal and state tax exposure. The tax exposure is appropriately reduced for pre-tax deferrals, tax-deferred capital gains, and yield and distribution of Roth proceeds. Based on the information that the individual provides, Morningstar Investment Management provides an estimate of the tax exposure, but may not include all tax considerations. Please consult a tax adviser for a complete understanding of your tax situation.

General Risks of Investing

Investment Risks

It is important to note that all investments involve risk and will not always be profitable. Neither AAG nor Morningstar Investment Management or their affiliates guarantees that the recommendations will result in achieving the retirement income goal. Neither AAG nor Morningstar Investment Management or their affiliates can guarantee that negative returns can or will be avoided in any of the recommendations. An investment's future performance may differ substantially from its historical performance and as a result, may incur a loss. Past performance is no guarantee of future results. Additionally, the plan provider, Plan Sponsor or AAG may make changes from time to time with regard to the investment options available within a plan.

Market Risk

Risks associated with the investment options can vary significantly with each particular investment category and the relative risks of such investment categories may change. Stock and bond markets are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market or economic developments in the U.S. and in other countries. Past performance and historical returns used to select particular investment(s) are no guarantee of future performance. Current performance may be lower or higher due to market volatility.

Methodology Risk

The Services and the retirement income projection tools are based on the proprietary asset allocation and monthly retirement income projection methodologies developed by Morningstar Investment Management. Risks associated with Morningstar Investment Management's methodologies vary based on the assumptions used by Morningstar Investment Management to project inflation over time, significant and adverse economic conditions, the availability and amount of Social Security and other retiree benefits, and other factors.

Asset Allocation Risk

Market returns and performance depends on determining the strategic asset class allocations, the mix of underlying investment options, as well as the performance of those underlying investment options. The investment options' performance may be lower than the performance of the asset class that they were selected to represent. Stocks and bonds can decline due to adverse issuer, market, regulatory, or economic developments. International markets may be less liquid and can be more volatile than U.S. markets. These risk factors, including those associated with currency exchange rates, also apply to investments in international markets, all of which may make international markets more volatile and less liquid than investments in domestic markets. Some of the investment options can invest in either high-yield securities or small/emerging growth companies. Investments in these types of securities generally are subject to greater volatility than either higher-grade securities or more-established companies, respectively. These risks may increase share price volatility.

The investment options available in the Managed Account service are generally established by the Plan sponsor/client for which AAG provides its Services or by the institutional partner through which our Services are delivered. In some cases, the investment options may include or be comprised solely of affiliated investment options of AAG. Participation in the Managed Account service may result in an allocation to one or more investment options managed by an affiliate of AAG. AAG does not receive compensation from its parent company or any of its affiliates as a result of these allocations. AAG does not view these relationships as conflicts because the sub-adviser remains independent from AAG and its related persons with respect to their methods of analysis, investment strategies and advice provided.

For employer-sponsored retirement plans, registered representatives of GWFS Equities may offer plan-directed investment options managed by an affiliate of AAG ("Directed Options") or insurance products of Great-West or GWL&ANY ("Insurance Products"), at the request of the plan sponsor, to AAG's advisory clients. Item 11 – Code of Ethics, Participation or Interest in Client Transactions and Personal Trading

AAG's Code of Ethics

AAG has adopted a written Code of Ethics (the "Code") in compliance with Rule 204A-1 of the Investment Advisers Act of 1940 ("Advisers Act"). The Code sets forth standards of business conduct expected of advisory personnel and require AAG's advisory personnel, referred to as "Supervised Persons" and, in some cases, as "Access Persons." Access Persons are required to report their personal securities holdings and transactions in accordance with the Advisers Act. AAG's Supervised Persons are required to comply with AAG's Code of Ethics. A copy of the Code will be provided to current or prospective clients, upon request.

AAG's Code includes but is not limited to such topics as:

- Fiduciary responsibility to clients;
- Compliance with federal securities laws;
- Protection and safeguarding of confidential information;
- Giving and receiving gift, gratuities and entertainment;
- Reporting and monitoring personal securities transactions;
- Avoiding and disclosing conflicts of interest, and;
- Reporting violations of the Code.

Personal Trading

AAG's Code requires pre-clearance of certain securities transactions. Officers, managers, and certain employees of AAG (collectively, "Access Persons") may trade for their own personal accounts in securities which are recommended to and/or purchased for AAG's advisory clients. However, because the Code would permit Access Persons to invest in the same securities as clients in some circumstances, there is a possibility that employees could benefit from market activity by a client in a security held by an Access Person. As a result, trading is continually monitored in accordance with the Code and federal securities laws. AAG's Code is intended to ensure that the personal securities transactions and the outside business activities of AAG's Access Persons do not interfere with making decisions in the best interest of advisory clients.

Principal Trading

AAG has adopted a policy and practice not to engage in any principal transactions. AAG holds no investments for its own accounts which could be bought from, or sold to, an advisory client. In the event of any change in AAG's policy, any such change must be approved by management and any principal transactions would only be permitted after meeting the review and approval requirements described under the anti-fraud section of the Advisers Act.

Participation or Interest in Client Transactions

Affiliate GWFS Effects Securities Transactions for Advisory Clients

Registered representatives of GWFS may provide wholesaling, direct sales, enrollment and/or communication services to retirement plans and their participants or account holders for which AAG may also provide its services. For this service, GWFS may receive fees either from the plan or from the investment provider (fund families). Participants/account holders in the Online Investment Advice or the Managed Account services may have allocations in the investment options that result in GWFS receiving compensation from the investment options. Allocations in the investment options are solely determined and based on Morningstar Investment Management's software not determinations made by AAG. The compensation paid by AAG to Morningstar Investment Management for Morningstar Investment Management's proprietary software advice program does not vary based on the allocations made or recommended by Morningstar Investment Management. Because Morningstar Investment Management is unaffiliated with AAG and GWFS, AAG does not believe there is a conflict of interest. All securities transactions which occur as a result of the services provided by AAG as described in this Brochure are executed by GWFS for which it may receive compensation in the form of 12b-1 fees or other compensation from mutual fund companies or from the other investments that may be available as investment options. However, in all instances, AAG's affiliation with GWFS is disclosed.

Affiliate Great-West or GWL&ANY Proprietary Investments

Investment options into which participant assets may be allocated, pursuant to the Online Investment Advice or the Managed Account services may be through a fixed and variable deferred annuity issued by Great-West or GWL&ANY. Because Morningstar Investment Management is unaffiliated with AAG, Great-West, GWL&ANY and their affiliates, AAG does not believe there is a conflict of interest. However, in all instances, AAG's affiliation with Great-West and/or Great-West's affiliates, as applicable, will be disclosed.

Item 12 – Brokerage Practices

Brokerage Selection; Best Execution

The plan sponsor or its agent selects the broker-dealer used by the retirement plan and determines the reasonableness of the compensation. AAG does not select or recommend broker-dealers for transactions and does not determine the reasonableness of broker-dealer's compensation.

Soft Dollar Practices

AAG, as a matter of policy, does not utilize research, or other products or services from third parties in connection with client securities transactions on a soft-dollar commission basis.

Personnel of AAG, at least annually, review the methodologies used by Morningstar Investment Management to power the Online Investment Guidance, Online Investment Advice and Managed Account services to ensure that they are consistent with investment advisory best practices, current technology, applicable law and the terms of the agreement between AAG and Morningstar Investment Management.

The nature and frequency of other communications with plan sponsors depends on the terms of the agreement between AAG and the plan or plan sponsor. AAG also communicates with plan sponsors upon their request.

Item 14 – Client Referrals and Other Compensation

AAG does not pay cash or other compensation to outside solicitors for referrals to the Empower Retirement IRA.

AAG may pay cash compensation or referral fees to broker-dealer firms that are not affiliated with AAG for soliciting and referring plan sponsors and their participants to enroll in AAG's Services. Such compensation for referrals may result in a higher fee, in addition to the advisory fee, being charged to participants based on the total assets in the Managed Account Service. Any compensation paid by AAG for solicitation activities is pursuant to a written agreement and is paid in compliance with Rule 206(4)-3 of the Advisers Act.

Some affiliated employees will have an opportunity to earn bonus compensation, in addition to their salary, for communication, education and /or assisting participants to enroll in AAG's Services. Such bonus compensation does not increase the fees paid by the plan and/or their participants and is not based on participant-level enrollment.

Item 15 - Custody

AAG does not maintain actual custody of its clients' cash, bank accounts, or securities. Pursuant to Rule 206(4)-2 of the Advisers Act as amended, AAG is deemed to have constructive custody with respect to client funds and securities because certain affiliated parties, including GWL&A, GWL&ANY and GWTC, are the custodian with respect to certain group annuity contracts or retirement plan accounts. In addition to annual audits, these accounts are subject to surprise verifications by an independent public accountant each year, as required by Rule 206(4)-2. AAG's advisory clients receive periodic (at least quarterly) account statements from their custodian.
