EDUCATIONAL BACKGROUND AND BUSINESS EXPERIENCE

Scott M Smith, born 1962, graduated with a BA in Education, History, and Mathematics from the University of Northern Iowa. While Scott studied, his father taught him the potential of investing, seeding the money he earned during the summers away from school. Scott emerged with his degree and not a penny of debt, taking away a love of financial management and soon went on to study Financial Planning at The American College of Financial Planning. Scott's passion for customer service and a desire to incorporate himself into the world of finance led him to a position as a Special Agent with Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance and then on to UBS Paine Webber as an Investment Consultant in 1998. Scott gathered and managed assets in excess of $100M in diversified stock, bond, and alternative investment vehicles before launching his own LLC, Ozone Consulting, in 2002. As his company grew, he developed his skills in leadership, sales strategies, new business development, interim leadership, and business planning as well as coming to a deep understanding of the challenges and opportunities faced by small businesses. Joining Integrity Financial is an exciting career move for Scott who believes that wise investments and financial wellness are integral in creating longevity and long-term family plans. His heart for philanthropy also resonates closely with IFC's dedication to charitable work and partnerships with non-profit organizations like Mission of Hope, Haiti. Through creating a sound financial plan and encouraging a caring, future-focused financial plan, Scott brings his professional experience in client development and high-level customer service to IFC with the desire to create long-lasting, positive change for his clients.

EDUCATIONAL BACKGROUND AND BUSINESS EXPERIENCE

Daniels joined Integrity Financial Corporation in September 2017, bringing with him more than 13 years of experience, including as a Vice President in the Financial Services industry, working for large financial corporations. Born in the USSR during the collapse of the Soviet empire, he founded an international trading business at an early age of 17 and quickly learned that life is about setting the right priorities and building proper relationships. Being a business owner in the past also helps him understand the challenges business owners go through and to deliver appropriate, value-added advice. After immigrating from Latvia in 1998, Daniels received his Bachelor's degree in Economics and Finance from the University of Oregon in 2004. As a Wealth and 401(k) advisor, he holds Series 7 and 66 securities as well as Life, Health, and Disability Insurance Licenses in Washington.

He provides sophisticated counsel to a select clientele of families, executives, entrepreneurs, and institutions. His role is to help guide client families as they encounter lifestyle and legacy issues in their wealth management and financial planning.

When Daniels and his wife Elizabeth are not hiking and traveling, he enjoys playing Racquetball and spending time with their children. His philanthropic involvement is to volunteer his professional training and experience to a local nonprofit organization to help them stay financially competent and compliant with all applicable federal and state laws.
