Cedar Ridge Investors Fund I, LP Summary

The Partnership, which commenced investing activities in May 2004, is an actively managed fixed income fund that seeks to maximize total rate of return and minimize investment risk using a tax advantaged, credit-based and relative value investment strategy. Partnership investments are comprised primarily of long positions in federally tax-exempt municipal bonds, taxable corporate bonds and preferred securities and short positions in corporate bonds, US Treasury and Agency securities. The Partnership seeks to deliver diversified, uncorrelated returns versus other investment alternatives and asset classes by taking advantage of relative value, cross-over trading opportunities and market anomalies and inefficiencies across a wide array of credit risk markets. Current focus sectors include the airline, auto and auto parts, cable, electric utility, energy, industrial and tobacco bond sectors. Investments are comprised of investment grade securities (i.e. rated in the “Baa” category by Moody’s Investors Service, or “BBB” category by Standard & Poor’s Corporation or Fitch Investors Service) and below investment grade securities, including certain “unrated” securities, which may include private placements and restricted securities. The Partnership may also purchase securities on margin and engage in hedging and other securities investment strategies. The Partnership generally may invest up to 5% of its assets measured at cost at the time of investment in securities that are not publicly- traded.

Cedar Ridge Short-Term Fund, LP Summary

The Partnership is an actively managed high grade fixed income fund with the stated investment objective of seeking to obtain as high a level of interest and dividend income as possible as is consistent with maintaining liquidity and stability of principal. The Partnership invests at least 80% of assets in municipal securities whose interest is exempt from federal income tax. The Partnership holds securities that in the view of the Investment Manager should be deemed to comply with a maturity limitation of about seven years, taking into account specific security features that may include average life, optional/ mandatory call, variable interest rate reset, demand, auction rate and optional put or mandatory tender features, in determining the maturity thereof that will enable the Partnership’s average maturity to be maintained at about three years or less. Generally, Partnership assets will be invested in securities rated at least “A” by Moody’s Investors Service, Standard & Poor’s Corporation or Fitch Investors Service; however, up to 20% of investments may be comprised of securities rated at least in the “Baa” category by Moody’s Investors Service, or “BBB” category by Standard & Poor’s Corporation or Fitch Investors Service. The Partnership may also purchase securities on margin and engage in hedging and other securities investment strategies

Cedar Ridge Unconstrained Credit Fund

The Fund was launched in December 2013 as an open end management company (mutual fund). The investment objective is to seek capital appreciation and income. The Fund’s advisor aims to achieve this total return objective through the active management of a portfolio whose primary holdings will consist of credit-related instruments available in the US marketplace, including municipal bonds, high-yield and high grade corporate bonds and preferred securities. The Fund’s advisor employs a “credit long/short” investment strategy, attempting to locate undervalued securities to fulfill its long positions, and likewise implement short positions in fully valued or overpriced securities. In supporting these decisions the Advisor employs a top-down analysis of fundamental macroeconomic trends that influence the level and direction of interest rates and business cycles, and combines the analysis with bottom-up security selection to build and manage a portfolio with the best chance of realizing the Fund total return objective.

Separately Managed Accounts

Cedar Ridge Partners, LLC also provides investment advisory services to various entities, including individuals, trusts, and other investment advisors utilizing similar investment strategies.

Cedar Ridge Investors Fund I, LP

Regarding Cedar Ridge Investors Fund I, LP, Cedar Ridge will receive a quarterly management fee calculated at the annual rate of 1.5% per annum of each Limited Partner’s or shareholder’s capital account (the “Management Fee”). The Management Fee will be paid quarterly in advance, based on the value of each Limited Partner’s capital account, as of the beginning of each quarter. The Management Fee will be prorated for any period that is less than a full quarter and will be adjusted for subscriptions occurring during the quarter and without accrual of the Incentive Allocation, if any. The Investment Manager may elect to defer receipt of all or a part of the Management Fee.

Cedar Ridge Short-Term Fund, LP

Regarding Cedar Ridge Short-Term Fund, LP, Cedar Ridge will receive a monthly management fee calculated at the annual rate of 0.20% of each Limited Partner's capital account (the "Management Fee"). The Investment Manager may elect to defer receipt of all or a part of the Management Fee.

Separately Managed Accounts

Fees charged for Separately Managed Accounts vary and may include management fees and/or incentive allocations based on terms negotiated based on investment objectives and Account parameters.

Cedar Ridge Partners, LLC's fees are exclusive of brokerage commissions, transaction fees, and other related costs and expenses that shall be incurred by the client. Clients may incur certain charges imposed by custodians, brokers, third party investment and other third parties such as fees charged by managers, custodial fees, deferred sales charges, odd-lot differentials, transfer taxes, wire transfer and electronic fund fees, and other fees and taxes on brokerage accounts and securities transactions. Mutual funds and exchange traded funds also charge internal management fees, which are disclosed in a fund's prospectus. Such charges, fees and commissions are exclusive of and in addition to Cedar Ridge Partners, LLC's fee, and Cedar Ridge Partners, LLC shall not receive any portion of these commissions, fees, and costs.

Item 12 further describes the factors that the Firm considers in selecting or recommending broker-dealers for client transactions and determining the reasonableness of their compensation (e.g., commissions).

Item 6 – Performance-Based Fees and Side-By-Side Management

As outlined above in Item 5, in some cases Cedar Ridge Partners, LLC has entered into incentive allocation/ performance fee arrangements with qualified clients: such fees are subject to individualized negotiation with each such client. Performance based fee arrangements may create an incentive for Cedar Ridge Partners, LLC to recommend investments that may be riskier or more speculative than those which would be recommended under a different fee arrangement. Such fee arrangements also create an incentive to favor higher fee paying accounts over other accounts in the allocation of investment opportunities. Cedar Ridge Partners, LLC has procedures designed and implemented to ensure that all clients are treated fairly and equally, and to prevent this conflict from influencing the allocation of investment opportunities among clients.

Separately Managed Accounts

Cedar Ridge Partners, LLC also provides investment advisory services to various clients under Separately Managed Account agreements utilizing similar investment strategies.

INVESTMENT DISCIPLINE

We actively manage fixed income credit/arbitrage total return strategies within a “long/ short” credit context with a particular focus and expertise in the high grade and high yield municipal bonds and high grade and high yield corporate bond markets.

INVESTMENT PROCESS

The Investment Team uses a combined “top down/ bottom up” approach to making investment decisions. We believe any sound fixed income investment process must begin with a view of the overall macroeconomic environment, including Federal Reserve policy, interest rate and spread forecast, and business cycle. We then focus on how best to take advantage of that view within our core investing sectors; we do not run an “index fund”, and maintain our investing focus within about ten core investing sectors. In turn, we closely follow about 120 credits at any given time that may be the source of a long or short view on credit.

We seek to generate over time above market total investment returns from both positive net investment income and correct assessments on credit capable of generating capital appreciation from both positions held “long” as well as “short”. Our typical investment horizon is three to twelve months or longer.

IDEA GENERATION

Ideas are derived from three primary inputs. The first is general relative value/arbitrage opportunities that are either inter- or intra- asset class. Our goal in this instance is to take advantage of the separate asset classes that comprise the fixed income markets. Most investment managers, as well as Wall Street securities firms, are managed on an “asset class specific basis”. We purposely seek to take advantage of opportunities that arise due to credit views that can become out of sync as managers in one arena may have an opposing view to those of managers in a different asset class. Secondly, we concentrate on the specific areas of the fixed-income markets that the portfolio managers have unique and demonstrated expertise to determine how best to position the portfolio given our macro and market views. Lastly, we seek to take advantage of opportunistic trading around one-off or unique market events.

MACRO TREND ANALYSIS

The combined team has over 100 years of experience throughout all fixed income asset classes and investing markets over the past 25+ years. Our level of macro research and analysis is broad and when needed deep. Our macro trend analysis focuses on general economic conditions in the US and globally, where economies (and specific investing sectors) are in the business and economic cycle, and what trends and current conditions are being priced into the fixed income markets at any given time. In addition, we analyze and predict central bank actions and policies and how they will likely affect the market.

INDUSTRY/SECTOR SCREENING PROCESS

Starting Universe

We focus on the core industries and fixed income sectors where the Cedar Ridge team has deep historical and practical knowledge.

Screening Process

We conduct comprehensive fundamental research on the specific names using both source material and third party research. We gather market pricing daily from primary broker sources at most major fixed income dealers, and make relative value assessments among current portfolio positions and possible alternatives.

When we analyze credits for long/short investment opportunities, we look at the following characteristics:

Franchise/enterprise value, EBITDA(R) and free cash flow generation, balance sheet strength/weakness, management expertise and “attitude” toward bondholder/creditor interests, over/undervalued assets, relative value pricing of risk, perspective and capability of meeting investment objectives for both income and appreciation.

INVESTMENT DECISION/PORTFOLIO IMPLEMENTATION AND MANAGEMENT

Alan Hart, CIO, and Jeff Rosenkranz, Co-CIO, coordinate investment decisions and implementation. Guy Benstead and Dave Falk are also members of the Investment Management Team. Virtually all of the securities that we trade are “over-the-counter” and we execute trades with as many as 39 broker dealers, consistent with our efforts to seek best execution. As fund managers, the Investment Management Team understands that the individual funds and clients have investment criteria and limits that are different, and may vary substantially among clients. As a result, these differences, combined with the unique nature of our core investing fixed income sectors, can give rise to certain implementation “challenges”, and at times return differentials will arise. Most of these differences will likely be temporary and portfolio characteristics and return profiles should be similar over time, reflecting a client’s overall objectives and criteria.

PORTFOLIO RISK MANAGEMENT

The Investment Management Team uses a comprehensive proprietary risk system that allows us to stress test portfolios over hundreds of different “what-if” scenarios. Stress tests are run daily. This is a dynamic process that is updated regularly.

The Investment Management Team also uses a combination of JP Morgan/Morcom Prime Brokerage Reports and Excel to monitor VAR, and portfolio leverage on a daily basis.

SELL DECISION

All portfolio holdings are always under review. At times positions are sold for four primary reasons: Return objective met, outlook for a specific credit/investment changes, portfolio manager seeks to swap into a better total return opportunity, market conditions deteriorate and warrant reduction of risk (i.e. may include outright reduction in exposure to a given credit or asset class, or reduction in use of leverage).

Item 12 – Brokerage Practices

Cedar Ridge has sole investment discretion with regard to selection of securities, amount of securities to be purchased or sold, broker or dealer to be used, and commission rates to be paid. Cedar Ridge has a duty to execute transactions, select brokers or dealers, and negotiate commission rates in the interest of its clients. As such, Cedar Ridge conducts regular reviews of its brokerage decisions to ensure that its clients' interests are being served. Cedar Ridge seeks to obtain "best execution," meaning generally that the execution of a securities transaction for a client is performed in a manner that a client's total costs or process in the transaction are most favorable under the circumstances. In seeking best execution, Cedar Ridge takes into consideration the price of a security offered by the broker-dealer, as well as a broker-dealer's full range and quality of their services including, but not limited to: execution, reliability, financial responsibility, commission rates, responsiveness, and the research provided by the broker-dealer to Cedar Ridge.

The Company has adopted trading policies that are intended to insure that all trades are undertaken and, where necessary, allocated to advisory clients in a manner that fulfills our fiduciary obligations to each advisory client and otherwise allocates securities on a basis that is fair, equitable, consistently applied, and does not unfairly discriminate against any advisory client. Instances where allocation may be necessary include, without limitation: block trades, bunching client trades, simultaneous transactions in securities for advisory clients and the Firm (or an employee of the Firm), purchases of new issues ("IPOs"), acquisitions of securities directly from an issuer in a private placement, and disposition of unattractive securities (e.g., a downgraded security). When allocation is necessary, securities shall be apportioned among advisory clients and others in accordance with the Company's trading policies. In determining whether an allocation is fair, Cedar Ridge Partners, LLC shall take into account the Company's fiduciary duties to each client; potential conflicts of interest; the facts and circumstances presented in each instance, each client's individual investment objectives, mandates and suitability; eligibility to participate in the transaction and any other considerations which are relevant and material to the overall goal of allocating securities on a fair and equitable basis.

It is Cedar Ridge Partners, LLC's policy that the Firm will not effect any principal or agency cross securities transactions for client accounts, and will not enter into cross trades involving any open-end investment company clients. From time to time, however, the Firm may determine that it would be in the best interests of its other Funds to transfer a security from one Fund to another (cross trade). In such circumstances, the Firm will determine that the trade is in the best interests of both clients involved, and take steps ensure that the transaction is consistent with the duty to obtain best execution for each of those clients, before entering into a cross trade.

There may be several reasons for the firm to consider entering into a cross trade, including during ramp-up of a new portfolio or the need to enhance liquidity for investors. A cross trade generally occurs with the assistance of a broker-dealer who executes and books the transaction at the close of the market on the day of the transaction. Alternatively, a cross trade between two clients of Cedar Ridge may occur simply by having the Firm instruct the custodian for the Funds or accounts to book the transaction at the price determined by the Firm's valuation procedures (i.e., an "internal cross"). These procedures look to the observable price points available in the marketplace to assist in arriving at a fair valuation.

In the event that Cedar Ridge makes the determination that a cross trade would be in the best interests of both Clients, Cedar Ridge may effect the cross trade subject to the following guidelines: (1) such transaction shall be effected for cash consideration at the independent current market price of the particular securities, and (2) no brokerage commission, fee (except for customary transfer fees) or other remuneration shall be paid in connection with any such transaction, and (3) Cedar Ridge will maintain supporting documentation demonstrating the Firm's reasonable inquiry and its determination that any cross transaction was effected at the independent current market price. All cross trades will be documented and reviewed by the CCO or a designee to ensure they are done in compliance with these guidelines.

Cedar Ridge Partners' policy is to not use soft dollars.
