≥ $1,000,001 to $5,000,000	1.00%/year

General Information on Services and Fees

In certain circumstances, fees may be negotiable. GWM may charge different clients receiving the same services different fees. The above are the firm's standard fee schedules.

Fees may be negotiable based on the amount of assets under management or the length or scope of the client relationship.

The annual fee for portfolios will be determined on a sliding scale and based on the amount of assets under management and the level of client services.

Depending on the custodial platform, either GWM or the custodian will calculate the advisory fee based on the value of the assets held in the client's account and the annual rate.

GWM generally uses Interactive Brokers, LLC (IB) as custodian for client assets. For clients who utilized IB the advisory fee will be calculated and deducted by Interactive Brokers based on the value of the assets held in the client's account at the end of each business day. The daily fee will be equal to the annual fee divided by the number of business days in the calendar year.

Fees for Retirement Plan Investment Advisory Services:

Plan Assets	Annual Fee
$0 - $1,000,000	0.75% of Plan Assets

For purposes of calculating advisory fees, we request for plan custodians/TPA's to bill on the quarter as defined by the plan and the custodian/TPA

GWM does not perform the calculations or actual fee deductions on defined benefit/contribution plan assets. The fee billing information is believed to be valid and true with respect to fee billings as performed by the custodians utilized. Fees are negotiated by Greenwich Wealth Management, the Plan Sponsor and the Plan custodian/TPA.

Other Custodial Platforms:

For clients who direct the use of a custodial platform other than IB, the method by which the fee will be calculated and charged will depend on the platform and on client preference.

GWM will endeavor to accommodate the billing preferences of the client within the options available on any such platform, and will afford the client the option of paying the advisory fee separately from the custodian.

Schwab:

- C. Describe any other types of fees or expenses clients may pay in connection with firm's advisory services, such as custodian fees or mutual fund expenses. Disclose that clients will incur brokerage and other transaction costs, and direct clients to the section(s) of your brochure that discuss brokerage.

Interactive Brokers -

In addition to the advisory fee, client accounts at Interactive Brokers will pay a transaction charge to IB for each trade affected in their account. The exact cost of the transaction charge will be directly debited from the client's account by the custodian without a markup.

Transaction costs at IB are low by industry standards and typically less than one cent per share on equities.

For treasury futures there is an exchange fee of .56 and an IB fee of .85 (which is comprised of execution, clearing and carrying fees) and a non-member fee of .02 per contract.

For E-mini futures there is $1.14 exchange fee and an IB fee of .85 (which is comprised of execution, clearing and carrying fees) and a .02 non-member fee per contract.

For NYMEX crude oil there is an exchange fee of $1.45 and an IB fee of .85 (comprised of execution, clearing and carrying fees) and a non-member fee of .02 per contract.

For bond trades the fee is based on a percentage of the trade value. Face value of a trade of $10,000 or less = .0001 X face value. For face value greater than $10,000= same as above on initial $10,000 and .00025 X face amount over $10,000.

For options transactions using the smart router there will be a fee of .70 per share with a $1.00 minimum per order. The maximum fee charged on any exchange for canceling an option order = $2.10. Fees will be disclosed immediately upon GWM trading any other products.

After the first withdrawal (of any kind) in a month, IB will charge the following withdrawal fees for any subsequent withdrawal: $10 for a wire; $4 for checks and $1 for ACH/EFT.

For Mutual Funds transactions IB charges a fee of $14.95 per transaction.

Custodian fees include $7.50 per quarter for IRA accounts which is the exact fee charged by Interactive Brokers trustee. The fee will be taken out at the end of each quarter. For new accounts, the fee will be applied beginning the first full quarter after the account has been funded.

IB also charges clients with account balances less than $100,000 a minimum activity requirement fee of $10.00 per month. In regards to the minimum activity requirement the GWM client's fees are considered on a consolidated basis. The number of accounts under an Adviser multiplied by the $10 minimum, and compared to the total commissions for all accounts. If the total commissions are greater than the minimum calculation, no minimum activity fee will be applied. If the total commissions are greater than the minimum calculation, the minimum fee calculation will be applied to each individual account that had not met the minimum require activity.

Effective June 1, 2011, IB will begin passing on to customers the SEC fee associated with U.S. listed option transactions. This fee, currently assessed at a rate of $0.0000192 per $1.00 of sales proceeds, serves to recover costs associated with the SEC's supervision and regulation of the U.S. securities markets.

If other products are traded by GWM on behalf of clients the transaction costs associated with those products will be disclosed.

A list of charges for transactions in other investment products is available on the Interactive Brokers website, at www.interactivebrokers.com.

Mutual fund expense ratios or ETF expense ratios will be incurred by the client. GWM uses no load mutual funds. GWM does not receive 12b-1 fees. It should be noted that mutual funds and ETF expense ratios paid to the managers will result in GWM clients incurring two layers of fees.

ITEM 11: CODE OF ETHICS, PARTICIPATION OR INTEREST IN CLIENT TRANSACTIONS AND PERSONAL TRADING

- A. If the firm is an SEC-registered advisor, briefly describe your code of ethics adopted pursuant to SEC rule 204A-1 or similar state rules. Explain that you will provide a copy of your code of ethics to any client or prospective client upon request.

GWM has adopted a Code of Ethics (COE) expressing the firm's commitment to ethical conduct. GWM's COE describes the firm's fiduciary duties and responsibilities to clients, and sets forth GWM's practice of supervising the personal securities transactions of supervised persons with access to portfolio recommendations and transactions. All individuals associated with GWM have read and are expected to comply with the COE. In addition, our COE governs personal trading.

To supervise compliance with its COE, GWM requires that anyone associated with this advisory practice, with access to advisory recommendations or transactions provide initial and annual securities holdings reports and quarterly securities transactions reports to the firm's Chief Compliance Officer. These reports are reviewed quarterly. GWM requires such persons to receive approval from the Chief Compliance Officer prior to investing in any IPO's or private placements (limited offerings).

GWM requires that all individuals act in accordance with all applicable Federal and State regulations governing registered investment advisory practices. GWM's COE further includes the firm's policy prohibiting the use of material non-public information. Any individual not in observance of the above will be subject to discipline and or termination.

GWM will provide a copy of its COE to any client or prospective client upon request.

GWM requires all employees to read the COE and sign an acknowledgement statement that they will abide by the GWM COE.

- B. If the firm or its related persons recommends to clients, or buys or sells for client accounts, securities in which the firm or a related person has a material financial interest, describe the firm's practice and discuss the conflicts of interest it presents. - C. GWM related persons may buy or sell securities for their personal accounts identical to or different than those recommended to clients. It is the expressed policy of GWM that no person employed by GWM shall prefer his or her own interest to that of an advisory client or make personal investment decisions based on the investment decisions of advisory clients.

- D. If the firm or related person recommends securities to clients, or buys or sells securities for client accounts, at or about the same time that the firm or related person buys or sells the same securities for your own account, describe the firm's practice and discuss the conflicts of interest it presents. Describe generally how you address conflicts that arise.

This Code establishes rules of conduct for all supervised persons of GWM and is designed to, among other things; govern personal securities trading activities in the accounts of employees. The Code is based upon the principle that GWM, and its employees owe a fiduciary duty to GWM's clients to conduct their affairs, including their personal securities transactions, in such a manner as to avoid serving their own personal interests ahead of clients, taking inappropriate advantage of their position with the firm and any actual or potential conflicts of interest or any abuse of their position of trust and responsibility.

The Code is designed to ensure that the high ethical standards long maintained by GWM, continue to be applied. The purpose of the Code is to preclude activities, which may lead to or give the appearance of conflicts of interest, insider trading and other forms of prohibited or unethical business conduct. The excellent name and reputation of our firm continues to be a direct reflection of the conduct of each employee and supervised person.

ITEM 12: BROKERAGE PRACTICES

A. Describe the factors the firm considers in selecting or recommending broker-dealers for client transactions and determining the reasonableness of their compensation (e.g. commissions).

As an SEC Registered Investment Advisory firm GWM has a fiduciary responsibility to seek best execution for client transactions. GWM generally uses Trader Workstation ("TWS") platform offered to investment advisors by Interactive Brokers, LLC, or Charles Schwab Inc. a registered broker dealer and FINRA member. Clients are not under any obligation to effect trades through TWS. GWM will endeavor to accommodate specific client requests to custody assets at another broker dealer.

GWM has reviewed the TWS platform and recommends IB based on a number of factors. These factors include the financial strength of the broker dealer, the broker's transaction confirmation and account statement practices, trade clearance and settlement capabilities. Other factors include GWM's experience with TWS, the broker's reputation, and the quality of execution services available through TWS including state of the art Smart order routing and low transaction and custodial costs available through Interactive Brokers.

Clients who have elected to custody their accounts at a Broker Dealer other than IB, may receive different trade execution prices that may be less favorable than transactions executed through IB. GWM may aggregate client orders (blocked trades) in order to receive a more favorable execution price. In such blocked transactions, clients will receive an average price. GWM will rotate order entry priority between custodians when executing orders involving the same security at multiple custodians.

Where GWM does not exercise discretion over the selection of the custodian, it may recommend the custodian[s] to Clients for execution and/or custodial services. GWM generally recommends that Clients utilize the brokerage and clearing services of Charles Schwab, Inc. ("Schwab") or Interactive Brokers LLC (IB). Clients are not obligated to use the recommended custodian and will not incur any extra fee or cost associated with using a broker not recommended by GWM. GWM may recommend a custodian based on criteria such as, but not limited to, reasonableness of commissions charged to the Client, services made available to the Client and overall Best Execution.

GWM may receive from Schwab without cost to GWM, computer software and related systems support, which allow GWM to better monitor Client accounts. GWM may receive software and related support without cost because GWM renders investment management services to Clients that maintain assets at on these institutional platforms. The software and related systems support may benefit GWM, but not its Clients directly. In fulfilling its duties to its Clients, GWM endeavors at all times to put the interests of its Clients first. Clients should be aware, however, that GWM's receipt of economic benefits from a broker-dealer creates a conflict of interest since these benefits may influence GWM's choice of broker-dealer over another broker-dealer that does not furnish similar software, systems support, or services.

Additionally, GWM may receive the following benefits from these platforms: receipt of duplicate Client confirmations and bundled duplicate statements; access to a trading desk that exclusively services the investment adviser division; access to block trading which provides the ability to aggregate securities transactions and then allocate the appropriate shares to client accounts; and access to an electronic communication network for Client order entry and account information. These products or services may assist GWM in managing and administering Client accounts, including accounts not maintained at Schwab. Other services made available by Schwab are intended to help GWM manage and further develop its advisory business. The benefits received by GWM's participation in the programs do not depend on the amount of brokerage transactions directed to Schwab. Clients should be aware, however, that the receipt of economic benefits by GWM or its related persons in and of itself creates a potential conflict of interest and may indirectly influence GWM's recommendation of Schwab for custody and brokerage services.

As a fiduciary, GWM has the responsibility to execute orders correctly, promptly and in the best interests of our clients. In the event any error occurs in the handling of any client transactions due to GWM's actions, or inaction, or actions of others, GWM's policy is to seek to identify and correct any errors as promptly as possible without disadvantaging the client or benefiting GWM in any way.

If the error is the responsibility of GWM, any client transaction will be corrected and GWM will be responsible for any client loss resulting from an inaccurate or erroneous order.

GWM's policy and practice is to monitor and reconcile all trading activity, identify and resolve any trade errors promptly, document each trade error with appropriate supervisory approval and maintain a trade error file.

If a trade error results in a profit to an unintended client account, at the cost of another GWM client account, an offsetting financial transaction will be used to rectify the aggrieved party. The end result will be that no client benefits or suffers as a result of the error.

GWM's financial advisers may also be registered brokers with Private Client Services, LLC ("PCS"). However, GWM does not custody advisory client accounts at Private Client Services, LLC. Under certain circumstances Advisory clients may wish to establish a brokerage relationship through Private Client Services, LLC, this determination is made on a case by case basis. Clients are advised that advisory persons may be limited in their ability to use other broker-dealers. PCS has approved the use of both Schwab and Interactive Brokers.

1. Research and Other Soft Dollar Benefits:

GWM does not receive Soft Dollar Benefits from Interactive Brokers, Schwab or any other institution.

2. Brokerage for Client Referrals: If the firm considers, in selecting or recommending broker-dealers, whether the firm or a related person receives client referrals from a broker-dealer or third party, disclose this practice and discuss the conflicts of interest it creates.

GWM does not receive benefits from client referrals.

3. Directed Brokerage: If the firm routinely recommends, requests or requires that a client direct you to execute transactions through a specified broker-dealer, describe the firm's practice or policy.

GWM does not recommend, request or require clients to execute transactions through a specified broker dealer. GWM will endeavor to accommodate specific client requests to custody assets at another broker dealer.

B. Discuss whether and under what conditions you aggregate the purchase or sale of securities for various client accounts. If you do not aggregate orders when you have the opportunity to do so, explain your practice and describe the costs to clients of not aggregating.

GWM uses allocation profiles to execute orders for selected tickers when investing across multiple client accounts. These allocation profiles ensure that one client does not receive preferential treatment over another.

While there is some commonality of investments between client accounts the bespoke nature of our investment portfolios does not always allow for client account order aggregation. Due to the necessity to preselect a client account Greenwich Wealth Management, LLC has no ability to reallocate trades post execution. This system prohibits preferential treatment to one client over another.

ITEM 13: REVIEW OF ACCOUNTS

A. Indicate whether your firm periodically reviews client accounts or financial plans. If you do, describe the frequency and nature of the review and the titles of the supervised persons who conduct the review.

Accounts managed by GWM are monitored on a regular basis and reviewed on at least a quarterly basis by the client's Adviser. Accounts are reviewed for consistency with the individual client's objectives. More frequent reviews may be triggered by changes in the client's needs and circumstances, the client's risk tolerance, by events related to the issuer of a security, or by market, economic or political events. We offer to meet with clients monthly.

Financial plans are reviewed and approved (as needed) before being submitted to a client by Michael Freeburg or Daniel Sullivan, Chief Compliance Officer. In addition, Daniel Sullivan reviews GWM client accounts at different times for various reasons:

Daily - review trade blotter

Annually - to ensure investment objectives are being met.

Miscellaneous - per client instruction, or with change in investment objectives

Third Party Investment Managers and the accounts managed by them will be reviewed by the clients Adviser on a quarterly basis or as otherwise agreed upon at the inception of the client agreement.

Working in the ERISA 3(21) capacity, GWM reviews defined benefit/contribution plans with the scope and frequency as agreed upon by the advisor and the plan sponsor; but will occur no less than annually. This review will include but is not limited to: investment menu selection, share class guidance, review of plan structure, and educational support.

B. If the firm reviews client accounts on other than a periodic basis, describe the factors that trigger a review.

In addition, GWM will review each client account that incurs a portfolio loss in excess of 10% +/- over the course of certain periods.

C. Describe the content and indicate the frequency of regular reports the firm provides to clients regarding their accounts. State whether these reports are written.

For accounts managed by GWM on the IB/TWS platform, daily, custom date ranges up to 365 days, monthly, quarterly, year-to-date and yearly account statements through IB Account Management, these reports include position, transaction and other relevant information, are available to clients over the internet 24 hours a day, 7 days a week. GWM will download and send a client account statement upon request. GWM downloads client statements at least monthly and generally emails or mails them to clients

An Activity Statement from IB Account Management will include: Net Asset Value Time Series, Mark-to-Market Performance Summary in Base, Realized and Unrealized Performance Summary in Base, Cash Report, Change in Position Value, Long Open Positions, Trades, Other Fees, Deposits and Withdrawals, Interest Accruals, Broker Interest Paid, Security Information, Codes, and Legal Notes. IB will send clients quarterly statements to the address of record and alert clients when monthly statements become available through email.

For clients with accounts on a custodial platform other than IB/TWS, the types of reports and the frequency with which the reports are provided will depend on the platform. GWM will at the inception of any account relationship that directs the use of a platform other than TWS advise the client of the types of reports and the frequency with which such reports will be provided to the client.

In addition, GWM will provide performance reports on a quarterly or monthly basis, as agreed upon or requested.

GWM creates excel based client account asset allocation summaries that use data exports from IB Account Management or the client account custodian. These allocation reports are mostly used for internal purposes but are occasionally shared with clients. These asset allocation summaries may provide a single account allocation or an aggregated account allocation depending on the client. The allocation summary generally discloses basic account information such as beginning and ending balance, time weighted performance, deposits and withdrawals, and some benchmark performance. These portfolio allocation summaries are not a substitute for custodial account statements. When given to clients these summaries have a disclosures page with all pertinent disclosures. GWM upon client request will create an Excel driven nightly account overview report this report relies on 3rd party close pricing services as well as IB data exports.

For Third Party Investment Manager and Monitoring Services, the types of reports and the frequency of reporting will be as contracted for.

The Client will receive brokerage statements no less than quarterly from the custodian. These brokerage statements are sent directly from the custodian to the Client. The Client may also establish electronic access to the custodian's website so that the Client may view these reports and their account activity. Client brokerage statements will include all positions, transactions and fees relating to the Client's account(s). the Advisor may also provide Clients with periodic reports regarding their holdings, allocations and performance.

ITEM 14: CLIENT REFERRALS AND OTHER COMPENSATION

- A. If someone who is not a client provides an economic benefit to the firm for providing investment advice or other advisory services to your clients, generally describe the arrangement, explain the conflicts of interest, and describe how the firm addresses the conflicts of interest. For purposes of this Item, economic benefits include any sales awards or other prizes.

GWM is required to disclose any arrangements where GWM may receive compensation or any economic benefit from a third party in connection with the services provided to Clients.

In accordance with the SEC Regulation 275.206, the Adviser may pay a referral fee at a negotiated rate to registered broker/dealers, investment advisers or sales representatives in accordance with the terms of a written Solicitor Agreement and after execution of a written referral fee disclosure statement by each client in respect of such persons. Applicant's referral agreement is in compliance with the federal regulations as set out in 17 CFR Section 275-206 (4)-3, and in each state where state law requires. Each client is given a copy of the solicitor agreement prior to or at the time of entering into any advisory contract

Participation in Institutional Advisor Platform

GWM has established an institutional relationship with Schwab through its “Schwab Advisor Services” unit, a division of Schwab dedicated to serving independent advisory firms like GWM. As a registered investment advisor participating on the Schwab Advisor Services platform, GWM receives access to software and related support without cost because the Advisor renders investment management services to Clients that maintain assets at Schwab. Services provided by Schwab Advisor Services benefit the Advisor and many, but not all services provided by Schwab will benefit Clients. In fulfilling its duties to its Clients, the Advisor endeavors at all times to put the interests of its Clients first. Clients should be aware, however, that the receipt of economic benefits from a custodian creates a potential conflict of interest since these benefits may influence the Advisor's recommendation of this custodian over one that does not furnish similar software, systems support, or services.

Services that Benefit the Client: Schwab's institutional brokerage services include access to a broad range of investment products, execution of securities transactions, and custody of Client's funds and securities. Through Schwab, the Advisor may be able to access certain investments and asset classes that the Client would not be able to obtain directly or through other sources. Further, the Advisor may be able to invest in certain mutual funds and other investments without having to adhere to investment minimums that might be required if the Client were to directly access the investments.

Services that May Indirectly Benefit the Client: Schwab provides participating advisors with access to technology, research, discounts and other services. In addition, the Advisor receives duplicate statements for Client accounts, the ability to deduct advisory fees, trading tools, and back office support services as part of its relationship with Schwab. These services are intended to assist the Advisor in effectively managing accounts for its Clients, but may not directly benefit all Clients.

Services that May Only Benefit the Advisor: Schwab also offers other services and financial support to GWM that may not benefit the Client, including: educational conferences and events, financial start-up support, consulting services and discounts for various service providers. Access to these services creates a financial incentive for the Advisor to recommend Schwab, which results in a potential conflict of interest. GWM believes, however, that the selection of Schwab as Custodian is in the best interests of its Clients.

Details of these custodian relationships are included in Item 12 above.

- B. If the firm or a related person directly or indirectly compensates any person who is not a supervised person for client referrals, describe the arrangement and the compensation.

ITEM 15: CUSTODY

If the firm has custody of client funds or securities and a qualified custodian sends quarterly, or more frequent, account statements directly to clients, explain that clients will receive account statements from the broker-dealer, bank or other qualified custodian and that clients should carefully review those statements.

The change transferred authority from the Federal Trade Commission to the SEC and CFTC for entities those agencies regulate. GWM has and maintains a red flags policy as required under SEC Regulation S-ID.
