Item 4: Advisory Business

A. Description of the Advisory Firm

IronChain Advisors, LLC (hereinafter “ICA”) is a Limited Liability Company organized in the State of Delaware. The firm was formed in April 2018, and the principal owner is Project 555, Inc.

B. Types of Advisory Services

Robo-Advisory Portfolio Management Services

ICA provides “robo-advisory” portfolio management services via an online interface. This entails the use of algorithm-based portfolio management advice, rather than in-person investment advice. These automated investment solutions are customized to each client and based on individual characteristics, such as the client’s age, risk tolerance, income, and current assets, among others.

ICA generally limits its investment advice to cryptocurrencies and digital assets. ICA may use other securities as well to help diversify a portfolio when applicable.

C. Client Tailored Services and Client Imposed Restrictions

ICA provides online “robo-advisory” portfolio management. Client accounts are generally invested into a target allocation depending on the client’s individual profile. This automated approach factors in client financial situation and risk tolerance, although the algorithms used to provide advisory services are designed to be utilized by ICA across multiple clients. Clients may not impose restrictions in investing in certain securities or types of securities in accordance with their values or beliefs.

D. Wrap Fee Programs

ICA acts as portfolio manager for and sponsor of a wrap fee program, which is an investment program where the client pays one stated fee that includes management fees, transaction costs, fund expenses, and other administrative fees. However, this brochure describes ICA’s non-wrap fee advisory services; clients utilizing ICA’s wrap fee portfolio management should see the separate Wrap Fee Program Brochure. ICA manages the investments in the wrap fee program, but does not manage those wrap fee accounts any differently than it would manage non-wrap fee accounts. Fees paid under the wrap fee program will be given to ICA as a management fee. Please also see Item 5 and Item 12 of this brochure.

E. Assets Under Management

ICA has the following assets under management:

Discretionary Amounts:	Non-discretionary Amounts:	Date Calculated:
$0	$0	April 2018

Item 5: Fees and Compensation

A. Fee Schedule

Robo-Advisory Portfolio Management Services Fees

Total Assets Under Management	Annual Fees
All Assets	2.00%, subject to $1 monthly minimum.

ICA uses an average of the daily balance in the client's account throughout the billing period, after taking into account deposits and withdrawals, for purposes of determining the market value of the assets upon which the advisory fee is based.

The final fee schedule will be memorialized in the client's advisory agreement. Clients may terminate the agreement without penalty within five business days of signing the Investment Advisory Contract. Thereafter, clients may terminate the Investment Advisory Contract with thirty days written notice.

B. Payment of Fees

Payment of Robo-Advisory Portfolio Management Fees

Robo-advisory portfolio management fees are withdrawn directly from the client's accounts with client's written authorization on a monthly basis. Fees are paid in arrears.

C. Client Responsibility For Third Party Fees

Clients are responsible for the payment of all third party fees (i.e. custodian fees, brokerage fees, transaction fees, etc.). Those fees are separate and distinct from the fees and expenses charged by ICA. Please see Item 12 of this brochure regarding broker-dealer/custodian.

D. Prepayment of Fees

ICA collects its fees in arrears. It does not collect fees in advance.

E. Outside Compensation For the Sale of Securities to Clients

Michael Tzu-cheng Yeh is a registered representative of a broker-dealer and in this role he may offer various services to clients. But, he will not be eligible to receive direct compensation for the sale of investment products to ICA clients.

Item 6: Performance-Based Fees and Side-By-Side Management

ICA does not accept performance-based fees or other fees based on a share of capital gains on or capital appreciation of the assets of a client.

Item 7: Types of Clients

ICA generally provides advisory services to Individuals and High-Net-Worth Individuals.

The minimum investment per account is $50.

Item 8: Investment Strategies and Risk of Loss

A. Investment Strategies

ICA employs a passive and rule-based investment strategy implemented through custom designed digital asset indices. To be included in an index, each constituent must satisfy several eligibility criteria including, but not limited to, sufficient liquidity in US markets, availability of secure custody solutions, sufficient market adoption and utility.

B. Material Risks Involved

Digital assets are an unusually risky asset class. The protocols underpinning digital assets are often new and untested and are prone to unpredictable attacks and security breaches. Many protocols are still at a very early stage of their development and their success or usefulness is largely unknown. Moreover, the funding of many projects may come under regulatory scrutiny or is already under investigation. ICA's due diligence process reduces these risks, but they cannot be eliminated completely. Lastly, cash deposits in ICA accounts are FDIC insured (subject to federally mandated limits), but investments are not covered by the FDIC, SIPC, or any other government agency.

Investing in digital assets involves a risk of loss that the investor should be prepared to bear.

C. Risks of Specific Securities Utilized

Clients should be aware that there is a material risk of loss using any investment strategy. The investment types listed below are not guaranteed or insured by the FDIC or any other government agency.

ICA may recommend unusually risky investments to clients. For example: All of the products offered by IronChain Advisors LLC are made up of digital assets / cryptocurrencies. These assets are known to be highly volatile and unusually risky.

Past performance is not indicative of future results. Investing in securities involves a risk of loss that you, as a client, should be prepared to bear.

Item 9: Disciplinary Information

A. Criminal or Civil Actions

There are no criminal or civil actions to report.

B. Administrative Proceedings

There are no administrative proceedings to report.

C. Self-regulatory Organization (SRO) Proceedings

There are no self-regulatory organization proceedings to report.

Item 10: Other Financial Industry Activities and Affiliations

A. Registration as a Broker/Dealer or Broker/Dealer Representative

As a registered representative of SDDco Brokerage Advisors, LLC, Michael Tzu-cheng Yeh may provide certain services to potential clients, but will not receive any direct compensation for the sale of ICA products.

B. Registration as a Futures Commission Merchant, Commodity Pool Operator, or a Commodity Trading Advisor

Neither ICA nor its representatives are registered as or have pending applications to become either a Futures Commission Merchant, Commodity Pool Operator, or Commodity Trading Advisor or an associated person of the foregoing entities.

C. Registration Relationships Material to this Advisory Business and Possible Conflicts of Interests

Michael Tzu-cheng Yeh is a registered representative of SDDco Brokerage Advisors, LLC and from time to time, will offer clients advice or products from those activities. However, Mr. Yeh will not be eligible to receive any direct compensation in connection with the services provided to prospective clients of ICA. ICA always acts in the best interest of the client, including with respect to the sale of products to advisory clients. Clients are in no way required to transact through any representative of ICA in such individual's capacity as a registered representative.

D. Selection of Other Advisers or Managers and How This Adviser is Compensated for Those Selections

ICA does not utilize nor select third-party investment advisers.

Item 11: Code of Ethics, Participation or Interest in Client Transactions and Personal Trading

A. Code of Ethics

ICA has a written Code of Ethics that covers the following areas: Prohibited Purchases and Sales, Insider Trading, Personal Securities Transactions, Exempted Transactions, Prohibited Activities, Conflicts of Interest, Gifts and Entertainment, Confidentiality, Service on a Board of Directors, Compliance Procedures, Compliance with Laws and Regulations, Procedures and Reporting, Certification of Compliance, Reporting Violations, Compliance Officer Duties, Training and Education, Recordkeeping, Annual Review, and Sanctions. ICA's Code of Ethics is available free upon request to any client or prospective client.

B. Recommendations Involving Material Financial Interests

ICA and its associated persons may have material financial interests in issuers of securities that ICA may recommend for purchase or sale by clients.

For example, ICA or its representatives/related persons may own derivatives on the digital assets recommended to clients.

This presents a conflict of interest in that ICA or its related persons may receive more compensation from investment in a security in which ICA or a related person has a material financial interest than from other investments. Client approval will be sought for client investment in such recommendations and, if granted, such approval will be binding. ICA always acts in the best interest of the client consistent with its fiduciary duties and clients are not required to invest in such investments if they do not wish to do so.

C. Investing Personal Money in the Same Securities as Clients

From time to time, representatives of ICA may buy or sell securities for themselves that they also recommend to clients. This may provide an opportunity for representatives of ICA to buy or sell the same securities before or after recommending the same securities to clients resulting in representatives profiting off the recommendations they provide to clients. Such transactions may create a conflict of interest. ICA will always document any transactions that could be construed as conflicts of interest and will never engage in trading that operates to the client's disadvantage when similar securities are being bought or sold.

D. Trading Securities At/Around the Same Time as Clients' Securities

From time to time, representatives of ICA may buy or sell securities for themselves at or around the same time as clients. This may provide an opportunity for representatives of ICA to buy or sell securities before or after recommending securities to clients resulting in representatives profiting off the recommendations they provide to clients. Such transactions may create a conflict of interest; however, ICA will never engage in trading that operates to the client's disadvantage if representatives of ICA buy or sell securities at or around the same time as clients.

Item 12: Brokerage Practices

A. Factors Used to Select Custodians and/or Broker/Dealers

Custodians/broker-dealers will be recommended based on ICA's duty to seek "best execution," which is the obligation to seek execution of securities transactions for a client on the most favorable terms for the client under the circumstances. Clients will not necessarily pay the lowest commission or commission equivalent, and ICA may also consider the market expertise and research access provided by the broker-dealer/custodian, including but not limited to access to written research, oral communication with analysts, admittance to research conferences and other resources provided by the brokers that may aid in ICA's research efforts. ICA will never charge a premium or commission on transactions, beyond the actual cost imposed by the broker-dealer/custodian.

ICA will require clients to use Evolve Bank and Trust (USD), Xapo and Kingdom Trust, and Ledger for digital assets.

1. Research and Other Soft-Dollar Benefits

While ICA has no formal soft dollars program in which soft dollars are used to pay for third party services, ICA may receive research, products, or other services from custodians and broker-dealers in connection with client securities transactions ("soft dollar benefits"). ICA may enter into soft-dollar arrangements consistent with (and not outside of) the safe harbor contained in Section 28(e) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended. There can be no assurance that any particular client will benefit from soft dollar research, whether or not the client's transactions paid for it, and ICA does not seek to allocate benefits to client accounts proportionate to any soft dollar credits generated by the accounts. ICA benefits by not having to produce or pay for the research, products or services, and ICA will have an incentive to recommend a broker-dealer based on receiving research or services. Clients should be aware that ICA's acceptance of soft dollar benefits may result in higher commissions charged to the client.

2. Brokerage for Client Referrals

ICA receives no referrals from a broker-dealer or third party in exchange for using that broker-dealer or third party.

3. Clients Directing Which Broker/Dealer/Custodian to Use

The use of specific brokers will be at the discretion of ICA, and clients will not have any influence on such trading-related decisions.

B. Aggregating (Block) Trading for Multiple Client Accounts

If ICA buys or sells the same securities on behalf of more than one client, then it may (but would be under no obligation to) aggregate or bunch such securities in a single transaction for multiple clients in order to seek more favorable prices, lower brokerage commissions, or more efficient execution. In such case, ICA would place an aggregate order with the broker on behalf of all such clients in order to ensure fairness for all clients; provided, however, that trades would be reviewed periodically to ensure that accounts are not systematically disadvantaged by this policy. ICA would determine the appropriate number of shares and select the appropriate brokers consistent with its duty to seek best execution, except for those accounts with specific brokerage direction (if any).

Item 13: Review of Accounts

A. Frequency and Nature of Periodic Reviews and Who Makes Those Reviews

ICA reviews accounts on a limited basis for accounting purposes. Clients are encouraged to update ICA of any change in their objectives and financial circumstance.

B. Content and Frequency of Regular Reports Provided to Clients

Robo-advisory portfolio management clients will receive at least a monthly report that details the client's account including assets held and asset value.

Item 14: Client Referrals and Other Compensation

A. Economic Benefits Provided by Third Parties for Advice Rendered to Clients (Includes Sales Awards or Other Prizes)

ICA may accept compensation for client referrals but does not have any such arrangements in place at this time. ICA will fully disclose to clients the details of any referral relationships.

B. Compensation to Non – Advisory Personnel for Client Referrals

ICA may enter into written arrangements with third parties to act as solicitors for ICA's investment management services. Solicitor relationships will be fully disclosed to each Client to the extent required by applicable law. ICA will ensure each solicitor is exempt, notice filed, or properly registered in all appropriate jurisdictions. All such referral activities will be conducted in accordance with Rule 206(4)-3 under the Advisers Act, where applicable.

Item 15: Custody

Advisory fees are deducted directly from client accounts and paid out by the custodian. Clients will receive all account statements and billing invoices that are required in each jurisdiction, and they should carefully review those statements for accuracy.

Item 16: Investment Discretion

ICA does not have discretion over client accounts at any time.

Item 17: Financial Information

A. Balance Sheet

ICA neither requires nor solicits prepayment of more than $1,200 in fees per client, six months or more in advance, and therefore is not required to include a balance sheet with this brochure.

B. Financial Conditions Reasonably Likely to Impair Ability to Meet Contractual Commitments to Clients

Neither ICA nor its management has any financial condition that is likely to reasonably impair ICA's ability to meet contractual commitments to clients.

C. Bankruptcy Petitions in Previous Ten Years

ICA has not been the subject of a bankruptcy petition in the last ten years.
