Advisory Business

FIRM INFORMATION

SGIM Inc. (“SGIM,” “we,” “us,” “our”), a Corporation formed in October of 2017, is a registered investment advisory firm located in New York, NY. We have been a registered investment advisory firm since December 14, 2017.

PRINCIPAL OWNERS

SGIM is owned and controlled by Adam Forbes, Chief Investment Officer and Mitchell Wonboy, President & Chief Compliance Officer

INVESTMENT ADVISORY SERVICES

Asset Management Services:

SGIM is a financial technology investment manager that utilizes an algorithmic portfolio allocation, construction and investment process, eliminating human biases and focusing entirely on empirical data. The goal is that the end result makes the portfolio construction, allocation, risk and money management process more efficient.

The core mission of SGIM is to offer our clients a superior customer experience by simply putting our client’s interest above our own.

SGIM only invests on behalf of their clients in public equities and exchange traded funds. The asset allocation process begins with prospective clients answering several questions in order to determine the appropriate mix of stocks and bonds that should exist within their investment portfolios. Next, SGIM recommends an asset allocation plan and once agreed to, we proceed in building and managing the client’s portfolio.

SGIM also General Partner and Investment Manager of the SGIM Alpha Fund, LLC. (the “Fund”) this is a pooled investment vehicle. In providing discretionary investment management services to the Fund, SGIM will utilize a tactical asset allocation strategy, trading primarily in individual securities to include the long and shorting of positions. Clients investing in the Fund will be admitted as limited partners.

CLIENT INVESTMENT OBJECTIVES/RESTRICTIONS

As stated above, the SGIM asset allocation process begins with prospective clients answering several questions in order to determine the appropriate mix of stocks and bonds that should exist within their investment portfolios. SGIM clients are given the following three portfolio options in order to determine the appropriate benchmark to be applied to their account: 1. United States only portfolio, 2. Global portfolio, and 3. a Socially Responsible portfolio. When the market indicators trigger our bear market strategy, the underlying investments may not adhere to the three portfolio options. This is to better protect capital during market downturns.

When creating client portfolios, SGIM recommends one of four allocation structures: 1. 100% equity, 2. 70% equity/30% bonds, or 3. 30% equity/70% bonds. If a client is unhappy with the SGIM recommendation, he or she has the option to override the SGIM recommendation and choose which of the three structures best suits his or her needs.

SGIM has also built into their algorithm a bear market strategy. The intention of this strategy is for our client portfolios to capture less equity market downside during periods of prolonged, meaningfully increased equity market volatility. During periods of time when certain proprietary conditions are met SGIM will automatically reduce our client portfolios equity exposure by approximately 50%, which is moved into a fixed income exchanged traded funds, the iShares 7 – 10 Year Treasury Bond ETF (IEF). Once the proprietary conditions that triggered the bear market strategy reverse themselves the portion that was purchased in the fixed income ETF is sold and reallocated to equities.

Therefore, it is possible when the bear market strategy is triggered that a 100% equity portfolio could own approximately 50% equities and 50% of the iShares 7 – 10 Year Treasury Bond ETF (IEF).

On a case by case basis, our clients may impose restrictions on investing in certain securities or types of securities in accordance with their values or beliefs; however, if the restrictions prevent us from properly servicing the client's account, or if the restrictions would require us to deviate from our standard suite of services provided on our platform, we reserve the right to end the relationship.

WRAP FEE PROGRAMS

We do participate in a wrap fee program. Please refer to ADV Part2A Appendix 1 Wrap Fee Brochure.

The below ranges are the standard fee ranges that are typically charged.

Asset Management Fee Schedule
$0 - $1,000,000	0.70%
$1,000,001 - $5,000,000	0.65%
$5,000,001- $10,000,000	0.60%
$10,000,000 +	0.50%

Under the pooled investment vehicle SGIM Alpha LP the fee is negotiable on a case by case basis.

FEE BILLING & PAYMENT

Our asset management fees are annual fees and may be negotiable. Asset management fees are paid monthly in arrears. Payments are due on the first day of the calendar month and are based on the account's asset value as of the last business day of the prior calendar month multiplied by the applicable annual rate and divided by twelve (12). The fee for the prior month is billed and payable within ten (10) days after the end of the prior month, based on the value of Client's account on the last business day of that month. We will deduct our asset management fee only when in receipt of your written authorization by executing an investment advisory agreement permitting the fees to be paid directly from your account. The qualified custodian will deliver an account statement to you at least monthly which will show all disbursements from your account. We urge you to review all statements for accuracy.

TERMINATION OF AGREEMENT

Either party may terminate the investment advisory agreement at any time. Upon termination of any account, any prepaid, unearned fees will be promptly refunded, and any earned, unpaid fees will be due and payable up to and including the effective date of termination.

Notwithstanding the above, if we do not deliver the appropriate disclosure statement to you at least 48 hours prior to you entering into any written or oral advisory contract with this us, then you have the right to terminate the contract without penalty within five (5) business days after entering into the contract.

OTHER EXPENSES AND FEES

The fees discussed above include payment solely for the investment advisory services provided by SGIM and are separate to certain fees or charges that are imposed by third parties in connection with investments made on your behalf for your account. Third-party fees may include markdowns, markups, brokerage commissions, other transaction costs and/or custodial fees.

All fees paid to SGIM for asset management services are separate from the expenses charged by exchange-traded funds to their shareholders. These fees and expenses will be used to pay management fees for the funds, other fund expenses, account administration, and a possible distribution fee. You should review both the fees we charge and the fees charged by the Exchange Traded Funds to understand the total fees to be paid fully.

OTHER COMPENSATION

The Adviser nor its principals receive other compensation.

ITEM 6

Performance-Based Fees and Side-By-Side Management

PERFORMANCE-BASED FEES

SGIM Alpha LP, a pooled investment vehicle charges a performance-based fees which are fees based on a share of capital gains on or capital appreciation of the assets of a client. Our Performance Allocation is a performance-based fee which is a fee based on a share of capital gains on or capital appreciation of the assets of a client. The specific Performance Allocations are outlined in Item 5 above.

Generally, at the end of each fiscal year, subject to the loss recovery provisions and performance hurdle discussed below, for specific allocations outlined in Item 5 above (i) each capital account balances of the end of such fiscal year (determined prior to giving effect to the performance allocation, and as adjusted for contributions to and withdrawals from such capital account during such fiscal year) over (ii) each capital account balance as of the beginning of such fiscal year (such excess, the “Net Capital Appreciation”), will be deducted from each capital account and reallocated to the capital account of the General Partner. The forgoing performance hurdle is calculated on an annual basis, pro-rated for partial years, and shall not be compounded from year to year. The General partner reserves the right to waive fees for certain related persons.

SIDE-BY-SIDE MANAGEMENT

Receiving a performance-based fee creates an incentive for SGIM to make investments that are riskier or more speculative than would be the case in the absence of those performance-based arrangements. Such fee arrangements could also create an incentive to favor higher fee paying accounts over other accounts in the allocation of investment opportunities. However, SGIM has procedures designed and implemented to ensure that all clients are treated fairly and equally, and to mitigate this conflict from influencing the allocation of investment opportunities among clients.

Our minimum account size is $10,000 for our asset management services. Any exemption for this requirements is handled on a case by case basis.

ITEM 8

Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies, and Risk of Loss

METHODS OF ANALYSIS

Our algorithms use various methods of analysis and investment strategies including the following:

Fundamental Analysis – We evaluate economic and financial factors to determine if a security may be underpriced, overpriced or fairly priced. This method entails assessing a security by attempting to determine its intrinsic value by examining related financial, economic, and other qualitative and quantitative factors. Fundamental analysis requires an in-depth look at multiple factors that can affect the security's value, from macroeconomic factors (like the overall economy and industry conditions) to individually specific factors (like the financial situation and management of companies). The overall objective of performing the fundamental analysis is to determine a value that an investor can use to determine what sort of position to take with that security. This method of security analysis is contrary to technical analysis. Fundamental analysis involves using real data to evaluate a security's value. Although most analysts use fundamental analysis to value stocks, this method of valuation can be used for just about any type of security.

Technical Analysis – This method involves the evaluation of securities by performing an analysis of statical information that is generated by market activity, such as past prices and volume. Technical analysis does not attempt to measure a security's intrinsic value but instead, use charts and other tools to determine the patterns that can suggest future activity. Technical analysts believe that the historical performance of stocks and markets are indications of future performance.

INVESTMENT STRATEGIES

When formulating investment algorithms, we will use the following investment strategies. There are inherent risks associated with each of these strategies.

SGIM uses investment benchmarks as a framework for constructing client portfolios, and monitoring portfolio performance by comparing rates of return over time. SGIM can adjust its investment strategy for each client as appropriate depending on market conditions in general, SGIM's clients are high-net-worth individuals that are invested in equity, fixed income or a combination of both based on their individual financial goals and objections, restrictions or investment limitations. If SGIM's model forecasts a prolonged downturn in equity markets, it may adopt a defensive strategy for client's equity accounts by investing substantially in fixed income exchange traded funds. This defensive positioning is built into our algorithm and will naturally take place during different market cycles. The intent is to reduce volatility and capture less equity market downside participation.

POTENTIAL RISKS

Investing involves different levels of risk that can result in loss of any profits and/or principal you have not realized. We manage your account in a manner consistent with your pre-determined risk tolerance and suitability profile. However, we cannot guarantee that our efforts will be successful. Investing in securities involves the risk of loss clients should be prepared to bear.

Investing involves the assumption of risk including:

Algorithm Risk: SGIM utilizes proprietary algorithms to manage the active portion of clients portfolios. Its algorithms do not consider any inputs other than what is generated by the author of the algorithms. No third parties are involved in the construction or amendments of the algorithms. Algorithms are, however, subject to human error. While SGIM strives to avoid this error, it is impossible to eliminate it entirely

Financial Risk: which is the risk that the companies we recommend to you perform poorly, which affect the price of your investment.

Market Risk: which is the risk that the stock market will decline, decreasing the value of the securities we recommend to you with it.

Inflation Risk: which is the risk that the rate of price increases in the economy deteriorates the returns associated with the stock.

Political and Governmental Risk: which is the risk that the value of your investment will be affected by the introduction of new laws or regulations.

Interest Rate Risk: which is the risk that the value of the investments we recommend to you will fall if interest rates rise.

Industry Risk: which is the risk that a group of stocks in a single industry will decline in price due to adverse developments in that industry, decreasing the value of mutual funds that are significantly invested in that industry.
