

Item 1 – Cover Page

GUGGENHEIM CORPORATE FUNDING, LLC

330 Madison Avenue, 10th Floor

New York, NY 10017

www.guggenheimpartners.com

March 31, 2019

This Brochure provides information about the qualifications and business practices of Guggenheim Corporate Funding, LLC (“GCF”). If you have any questions about the contents of this brochure, please contact us at GIInstitutionalCompliance@guggenheimpartners.com. The information in this Brochure has not been approved or verified by the United States Securities and Exchange Commission (“SEC”) or by any state securities authority.

GCF is a registered investment adviser. Registration of an investment adviser does not imply any level of skill or training.

Additional information about GCF also is available on the SEC’s website at www.adviserinfo.sec.gov.

Item 2 – Material Changes

This Brochure updates the initial brochure published by GCF and provides additional information about the way GCF expects to conduct its investment advisory operations once such operations fully commence.

Item 3 – Table of Contents

	Page
Item 1 – Cover Page.....	i
Item 2 – Material Changes	ii
Item 3 – Table of Contents	iii
Item 4 – Advisory Business	1
Item 5 – Fees and Compensation	2
Item 6 – Performance-Based Fees and Side-By-Side Management	2
Item 7 - Types of Clients.....	6
Item 8 – Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies and Risk of Loss	6
Item 9 – Disciplinary Information	6
Item 10 – Other Financial Industry Activities and Affiliations.....	6
Item 11 – Code of Ethics, Participation or Interest in Client Transactions and Personal Trading	11
Item 12 – Brokerage Practices	17
Item 13 – Review of Accounts	18
Item 14 – Client Referrals and Other Compensation	19
Item 15 – Custody	19
Item 16 – Investment Discretion	20
Item 17 – Voting Client Securities	20
Item 18 – Financial Information.....	21

Item 4 – Advisory Business

This brochure has been prepared on the basis of the way Guggenheim Corporate Funding, LLC expects to conduct its investment advisory operations once such operations fully commence.

GCF is a Delaware limited liability company formed on November 6, 2003. Guggenheim Capital, LLC (“Guggenheim Capital”) is the sole owner of GCF through a series of holding companies, including Guggenheim Manager, Inc.; Guggenheim Partners, LLC (“Guggenheim Partners”); GI Holdco II LLC; GI Holdco LLC; GMI GPIMH, LLC; and Guggenheim Partners Investment Management Holdings, LLC (“GPIMH”). Sage Assets, Inc. holds a minority ownership interest in Guggenheim Capital, LLC. Sammons Equity Alliance, Inc. holds all of the ownership interests in Sage Assets, Inc. Consolidated Investment Services, Inc. owns Sammons Equity Alliance, Inc. Sammons Enterprises, Inc. owns Consolidated Investment Services, Inc. Sammons Enterprises, Inc. Employee Stock Ownership Trust owns Sammons Enterprises, Inc. GreatBanc Trust Company is the Trustee for Sammons Enterprises, Inc. Employee Stock Ownership Trust.

A small team of investment professionals from Guggenheim Partners Investment Management, LLC (“GPIM”), an affiliate of GCF, that focuses on Guggenheim-originated private corporate debt investments will transfer to GCF once GCF’s registration as an investment adviser is approved (but no sooner than 45 days from the date hereof). Upon commencement of operations, GCF will provide investment advice, primarily focused on Guggenheim-sourced private corporate debt investments, to GPIM pursuant to a sub-advisory agreement. In connection with this arrangement, certain GCF personnel will serve as senior advisers to a GPIM investment committee. In addition, GCF expects to enter into one or more sub-advisory agreements with GPIM pursuant to which GCF personnel will serve as portfolio managers with respect to certain GPIM client accounts. GPIM is also expected to provide certain investment advisory services, investment research and related services to GCF with respect to private corporate debt investments for GCF to use in connection with its advisory business.

GCF also expects to provide investment advice, focused on private corporate debt investments, to a variety of institutional clients.

GCF also expects to file an application for registration as a broker-dealer with the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority (“FINRA”).

As of the date of this Brochure, GCF does not manage any Regulatory Assets Under Management.

GCF does not participate in any wrap fee program.

The description of GCF’s investment advisory clients above is not exhaustive; consequently, GCF may provide advisory services to other types of clients.

Item 5 – Fees and Compensation

Management Fees

GCF expects to receive a fee from GPIM for its investment advisory services based on a cost-plus formula. GCF does not expect to receive a performance-based fee from GPIM.

GCF expects to receive customary compensation for advisory services provided to its clients.

Additional Fees

GCF and its affiliates may receive fees, commissions, remuneration, or profits made in some transactions involving affiliated entities in addition to any management and performance fees. For more information on transactions involving affiliated entities, please see Item 11.

Expenses

GCF expects that customary costs and expenses will be borne by its clients.

Item 6 – Performance-Based Fees and Side-By-Side Management

Performance Based Fees

GCF does not expect to receive a performance-based fee from GPIM.

For certain clients, GCF may charge a performance or incentive fee or allocation constituting a percentage of profits or gains. Performance-based compensation arrangements are structured in accordance with the requirements of Rule 205-3 under the Investment Advisers Act of 1940, as amended (“Advisers Act”), to the extent Rule 205-3 applies.

Performance-based fee arrangements may vary among clients and investment strategies.

To the extent that GCF may manage client accounts that pay performance-based fees and client accounts that pay only management fees, or performance-based fees that are calculated in a different manner, such activity may create a potential conflict of interest. Performance-based compensation arrangements reward GCF for positive performance, and thus may create an incentive for GCF to recommend investments that may be riskier or more speculative than those that would be recommended under a different compensation arrangement. Such performance-based compensation arrangements also create an incentive to favor accounts that pay higher fees over other accounts in the allocation of investment opportunities. For instance, a portfolio manager will face a potential conflict of interest when allocating scarce investment opportunities, which creates an incentive to allocate opportunities to client accounts that pay performance-based fees as opposed to client accounts that pay smaller or no performance-based fees.

These potential conflicts of interest are mitigated by GCF’s allocation and best execution procedures designed to ensure GCF acts in the best interests of its clients in accordance with its fiduciary duties.

Valuation

As noted above, GCF's fees may be based on the value and performance of the assets held in the client account. When pricing a security, GCF will attempt, in good faith and in accordance with applicable laws, to determine the fair value of the security or other assets. Unless otherwise agreed to with a client, GCF will generally rely on prices provided by a broker-dealer or third-party pricing service for valuation purposes. However, when quotations from these sources are not readily available or are believed by GCF to be unreliable, the security or other assets will be valued by GCF or an affiliate in accordance with applicable valuation procedures.

GCF will value securities and assets in client accounts according to its valuation policies. GCF may value an identical asset differently than other affiliated subsidiaries of Guggenheim Partners, LLC ("Guggenheim Partners") value the asset, including because such other entities have information regarding valuation techniques and models or other information that they do not share with GCF. This is particularly the case in respect of difficult-to-value assets. Where appropriate, GCF may also value an identical asset differently in different client accounts, for example because different client accounts are subject to different valuation guidelines pursuant to their respective governing agreements or different third-party vendors perform valuation functions for the client accounts.

In certain cases, GCF faces a potential conflict with respect to such valuations because they affect GCF's compensation. To the extent GCF's fees are based on the value or performance of client accounts, GCF would benefit by receiving a fee based on the impact, if any, of an increased value of assets in an account. In order to mitigate such potential conflicts of interest, GCF will maintain a Valuation Policy to monitor GCF's valuation determinations in accordance with its fiduciary duties.

In measuring clients' assets for the calculation of performance-based compensation, GCF will generally include realized and unrealized capital gains and losses for purposes of such calculations.

Side-By-Side Management

Portfolio managers employed by GCF or its affiliates are expected to manage multiple accounts according to the same or similar investment strategies and may seek to make or sell investments in the same securities, instruments, sectors or strategies. This side-by-side management of multiple accounts may create potential conflicts, particularly in circumstances where the availability or liquidity of investment opportunities is limited. Certain investments (such as commercial mortgage loans, products structured for insurance company investment requirements, private equity, hedge funds, venture capital and/or other equity interests) may be offered to some but not all clients when appropriately within client investment guidelines, including unaffiliated and affiliated insurance companies (as described below in "Item 10 – Other Financial Industry Activities and Affiliations – Other Potential Conflicts and Material Relationships with Affiliated Entities").

GCF may face potential conflicts of interest because GCF may have an incentive to favor particular accounts over others that may be less lucrative in the allocation of investments (e.g., because such accounts have the same or similar investment strategies or otherwise compete for investment opportunities, have potentially conflicting investment strategies or investments, or have differing ability to engage in short sales and economically similar transactions). These potential conflicts may arise when, for example, GCF allocates investment opportunities that GCF believes could more likely result in favorable performance, engages in cross trades or executes potentially conflicting or competing investments. Additionally, certain client accounts are expected to be owned, directly or indirectly, by entities or persons that hold a direct or indirect interest in GCF, including executives of GCF or its affiliates (“Relevant Executives”). Furthermore, GCF expects that a client in which a GCF affiliate or Relevant Executives has a direct or indirect interest will be an initial client of GCF (the “Strategic Client”). Due to such relationship with the Strategic Client, GCF personnel may have an incentive to favor such client accounts, including with respect to the allocation of investment opportunities. To mitigate this conflict, GCF will follow the independent allocation process discussed below under the heading “Allocation”.

In addition, GCF’s actions for one client account may affect other client accounts, and GCF’s actions for one or more client accounts may affect, or be affected by, actions of GCF affiliates or related persons who hold interests in a particular portfolio company, either directly or through a GCF managed account. For additional information about these situations, please see respectively, “Item 11 – Code of Ethics, Participation or Interest in Client Transactions and Personal Trading – Conflicts Resulting from Investment Management Activities” and “Item 11 – Code of Ethics, Participation or Interest in Client Transactions and Personal Trading – Participation or Interest in Client Transactions”.

To address these potential conflicts, GCF’s policies and procedures require that investment decisions for client accounts advised by GCF or its affiliates will be made independently from those of other client accounts and are made with specific reference to the individual needs and objectives of each client account, without consideration of GCF’s or its employees’ or affiliates’ pecuniary or investment interests. In particular, under GCF’s policies and procedures, investment opportunities will be allocated in a manner that GCF believes is consistent with its obligations as an investment adviser. GCF’s policies and procedures relating to allocation of investment opportunities are described further in the “Allocation” section below. For additional information relating to GCF’s general processes to mitigate potential conflicts of interest, see “Item 11 – Code of Ethics, Participation or Interest in Client Transactions and Personal Trading – General Process Regarding Potential Conflicts”. GCF is subject to these and/or other similar policies and procedures that are consistent with GCF’s obligations as an investment adviser and that address circumstances that may be unique to GCF’s business. Accordingly, certain client accounts may receive an allocation in a given transaction when other client accounts do not, and account investments and performance resulting from such decisions may differ from client to client.

Allocation

GCF expects to offer private debt investments first to GPIM in regard of certain existing GPIM clients (all as subject to GPIM’s internal policies and procedures to offer such opportunities to certain applicable clients) and prior to making such opportunities available to other GCF clients. GCF expects to advise other clients with similar investment strategies, which will be subject to the allocation process described below.

GCF will implement policies and procedures that govern the allocation of investment opportunities among clients in a fair and equitable manner, taking into account the needs and investment objectives of the clients as well as prevailing market conditions. In such circumstances, if an investment opportunity would be appropriate for more than one client, GCF may be required to choose among those clients in allocating the opportunity, or to allocate less of the opportunity to a client than it would ideally allocate if it did not have to allocate to multiple clients. In addition, GCF may determine that an investment opportunity is appropriate for a particular account, but not for another. There can be no assurance that a particular investment opportunity will be allocated in any particular manner.

In order to minimize execution costs for clients, trades in the same security transacted on behalf of more than one client may be aggregated (i.e., blocked or bunched), subject to the aggregation being in the best interests of the participating clients and the firm's obligation to seek best execution. GCF may aggregate trades, unless it believes that doing so would conflict or otherwise be inconsistent with its duty to seek best execution for the clients and/or the terms of the respective investment advisory contracts and other agreements and understandings relating to the clients for which trades are being aggregated. When GCF believes that it can effectively obtain best execution for the clients by aggregating trades, it may do so for all clients participating in the trade for which aggregated trades are consistent with the respective investment advisory contracts, investment guidelines, and other agreements and understandings relating to the clients.

In the event trades are aggregated, GCF shall: (i) treat all participating client accounts fairly; (ii) continue to seek best execution; and (iii) seek to ensure that clients who participate in an aggregated order will participate at the same price, net of transaction costs.

When a trade is to be executed for a single client and the trade is not in the best interests of other clients at the time of the transaction, then the trade will be executed only for that client. Other instances in which client orders will not be aggregated include, but are not limited to, the following:

- Traders and/or portfolio managers determine that the aggregation is not appropriate due to market conditions;
- Portfolio managers effect the transactions through an approved client-requested directed-brokerage arrangement (i.e., the same security/investment with different brokers), making aggregation unfeasible; or
- A client directs a purchase or sale transaction not in the best interests of other clients at the time of the transaction.

Transactions will be allocated among the participating GCF client accounts after taking into consideration the specific objectives and constraints for each account, which could include, but are not limited to, the following: risk tolerance; rating constraints; maturity constraints; issue size; yield; purchase price; existing exposure of the investment vehicle; minimum trade allocation; minimum position holding size; sector allocation limits; duration; convexity; strategy; lot size; market conditions; and investment guideline considerations. In addition, GCF will consider the strategies, liquidity requirements, investment phase of the account (i.e., ramping-up or taking gains/losses for tax purposes) and cash available in each account when making an allocation decision.

In certain situations in which an investment opportunity would be appropriate for one or more of GCF's clients, it may be necessary or appropriate for GCF to obtain prior written consent from each client to place the investment in the client's account. If GCF is unable to obtain prior written client consent, GCF may allocate the investment opportunity only to the client(s) from whom GCF is able to obtain prior written client consent. The investments will generally be allocated to those clients that provide timely approval, as permitted by their investment guidelines, available cash, and other factors provided herein.

Discretionary v. Non-Discretionary Accounts

GCF intends to provide non-discretionary investment advisory services where GCF advises client accounts on purchasing, selling, holding, valuing, or exercising rights with respect to particular investments, but does not have discretion to execute purchases or sales on behalf of the client accounts without the specific instruction of the client. GCF may advise with respect to the same or similar securities in discretionary and non-discretionary client accounts. There may be timing differences related to the transmission of advice to non-discretionary client accounts for consideration and a determination of whether to act on the advice. As a result, GCF may, from time-to-time, execute trades in investments for discretionary client accounts in advance of GCF communicating with non-discretionary client accounts about those investments. In other cases, GCF may decide to separate advice in discretionary and non-discretionary accounts.

Item 7 - Types of Clients

GCF will provide investment advisory services to its affiliate, GPIM. GCF personnel will also serve as portfolio managers of one or more GPIM client accounts. GCF also expects to provide investment advice, focused on private corporate debt investments, to a variety of institutional clients.

Item 8 – Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies and Risk of Loss

Investing in securities and other instruments involves risk of loss that clients should be prepared to bear. GCF may use charting, fundamental analysis, and technical analysis to formulate client investment opportunities.

GCF may use the services of third-party market service data providers.

GCF may recommend a variety of investments depending on the investment objectives and guidelines applicable to its clients. Each type of security will be subject to different risks.

Item 9 – Disciplinary Information

GCF does not have any reportable disciplinary events.

Item 10 – Other Financial Industry Activities and Affiliations

GCF is an indirect subsidiary of Guggenheim Partners, which is a global, diversified financial services firm. Guggenheim Partners and its affiliates (including GCF) and their respective officers, directors, partners, employees, and consultants (collectively, “Guggenheim Entities”), provide their clients with a broad array of investment management, insurance, broker-dealer, investment banking, and other services.

GCF also expects to file an application for registration as a broker-dealer with FINRA.

Affiliated Broker-Dealers

Guggenheim Securities, LLC (“Guggenheim Securities”), Guggenheim Investor Services, LLC (“GIS”) and Guggenheim Funds Distributors, LLC (“GFD”) are affiliates of GCF that are registered broker-dealers (Guggenheim Securities, GIS and GFD together, the “Affiliated Broker-Dealers”). Guggenheim Securities also periodically acts as underwriter, initial purchaser, placement agent, financial advisor, arranger and/or structuring advisor with respect to a securities offering or loan and will generally receive a fee from the securities issuer or seller or from the loan borrower, as applicable. Guggenheim Securities may also provide investment banking, financial advisory or similar services to issuers, borrowers or other transaction participants in the transaction to which the loan or security relates (such as acquisition financing in a transaction in which Guggenheim Securities represented the buyer or seller). In addition, Guggenheim Securities Credit Partners, LLC (“GSCP”), an affiliate of Guggenheim Securities, may provide bridge or other financing to potential borrowers, or provide arranging, structuring, administrative agent or similar services to potential borrowers, and will generally receive a fee from the loan borrower for such services.

GCF may be offered and may purchase, or recommend purchase of, investment opportunities for its clients in transactions for which its affiliates, Guggenheim Securities or GSCP, is involved, and may have an incentive to purchase such investments where such affiliate will receive a fee. Some transactions, depending on the nature of the transaction and Guggenheim Securities’ involvement, are considered Principal Transactions under Section 206(3) of the Advisers Act or require client consent under the relevant client’s investment guidelines or sub-advisory agreement, as applicable. The fees received by Guggenheim Securities or GSCP from the securities issuer or seller or the loan borrower, as applicable, with respect to the transactions described above are in addition to management fees and, where applicable, performance-based compensation received by GCF in respect of the client accounts to which GCF allocates the investments. GCF maintains processes to mitigate such potential conflicts of interest – See “Item 11 – Code of Ethics, Participation or Interest in Client Transactions and Personal Trading – General Process Regarding Potential Conflicts” for more information.

Guggenheim Securities and/or GFD may also provide administrative, operations, and infrastructure services to GCF. GCF is also affiliated with other broker-dealers, none of which are material to GCF’s business.

Registered Investment Advisers

GCF is affiliated with GPIM, an investment adviser registered with the SEC. Pursuant to a sub-advisory agreement, GCF will provide investment advice to GPIM and members of GCF’s investment personnel will serve as senior advisers to one or more of GPIM’s investment committees. GCF personnel will also serve as portfolio managers of one or more GPIM client accounts.

GPIM is also expected to provide certain investment advisory services, investment research and related services to GCF with respect to private corporate debt investments.

GCF is also affiliated with GSA, a newly-formed investment adviser registered with the SEC. GSA expects to provide investment advice primarily focused on structured equity opportunities.

GCF is also affiliated with other investment advisers, both registered and unregistered. These affiliate advisers are not material to GPIM's business.

From time to time, GCF's affiliates will sponsor and/or manage investment funds or other client accounts that compete directly or indirectly with the investment program of GCF's clients and/or make investments with funds sponsored or managed by third-party advisers that would reduce capacity otherwise available to GCF's clients in such entities.

Management Persons; Policies and Procedures

Certain of GCF's management persons may also hold positions with the affiliates listed above and in this Item 10. In these positions, those management persons of GCF may have some responsibility with respect to the business of these affiliates and the overall compensation these management persons receive may be based, in part, upon the profitability of other parts of Guggenheim Partners. Consequently, in carrying out their roles at GCF and these other entities, these management persons may be subject to the same or similar potential conflicts of interest that exist between GCF and these affiliates. GCF has established a variety of restrictions, policies, procedures, and disclosures designed to address potential conflicts that may arise between GCF, its management persons and its affiliates. These policies and procedures include information barriers designed to prevent the flow of information between GCF, personnel of GCF and certain other affiliates; policies and procedures relating to brokerage selection, trading with affiliates or investing in products managed or sponsored by affiliates; and allocation and trade sequencing policies applicable to client accounts. For additional information relating to GCF's general processes to mitigate potential conflicts of interest, see "Item 6 – Performance-Based Fees and Side-By-Side Management – Allocation" and "Item 11 – Code of Ethics, Participation or Interest in Client Transactions and Personal Trading – General Process Regarding Potential Conflicts".

Other Potential Conflicts and Material Relationships with Affiliated Entities

GCF may make investments for some client accounts that result in commissions, fees, or other remuneration paid to GCF or one of its affiliates, such as (a) GPIM, (b) Guggenheim Securities (and its affiliates), (c) Guggenheim Commercial Real Estate Finance, LLC (and its affiliates), (d) Guggenheim Credit Services, LLC (e) GSA, LLC, (f) Guggenheim Partners Europe Limited, an Investment Business Firm under Regulation 11 of European Communities, Markets in Financial Instruments Directive ("GPE"), (g) Guggenheim Loan Services Company, LLC. Such investments may include (i) investments that GCF or one of its affiliates originated, arranged or placed, (ii) investments in which a GCF affiliate provided investment banking, financial advisory or similar services to a party involved in the transaction to which the investment relates (such as acquisition financing in a transaction in which a GCF affiliate represented the buyer or seller), (iii) investments where GCF or its affiliates provided other services to a transaction participant or other third party, (iv) investments where GCF or one of its affiliates acts as the collateral agent, administrator, administrative agent, originator, manager, or other service provider, and (v) investments that are secured or otherwise backed by collateral that could include assets originated, sold or financed by GCF or its affiliates, investment funds or pools managed by GCF or its affiliates or assets or obligations managed by GCF or its affiliates.

As permitted under applicable law and in client agreements, GCF and its affiliates may retain any commissions, fees, or other remuneration, arising from the investments described above. Except as required, such commissions, fees, or other remuneration generally will not reduce the management or other fees GCF receives from its advisory clients, though in certain circumstances, GCF may waive all or part of any fees with respect to certain affiliated or related party transactions for some, but not all, of its clients pursuant to an agreement or other arrangement with each such client. Commissions, fees, or other remuneration payable to GCF or its affiliates in these transactions may present a potential conflict in that GCF may be viewed as having an incentive to purchase such investments to earn, or facilitate its affiliates' ability to earn, such additional fees or compensation. GCF seeks to mitigate this potential conflict of interest (a) by evaluating the transaction to determine if it appears to be a favorable investment for the participating accounts irrespective of such fees and relative to other non-related investment opportunities, (b) by allocating opportunities to invest in such transactions in accordance with GCF's allocation policy, as described in "Item 6 – Performance-Based Fees and Side-By-Side Management – Allocation" and (c) through the processes described in "Item 11 – Code of Ethics, Participation or Interest in Client Transactions and Personal Trading – General Process Regarding Potential Conflicts".

To the extent permitted by any applicable agreements, GCF may in certain circumstances invest client assets in mutual funds, closed-end funds, private investment funds, and/or exchange-traded funds, some of which may be advised or sub-advised by GCF or a GCF affiliate. If a client holds an interest in any such fund, the client may be subject to two fees for the management of these assets, one to GCF and one to the adviser of the underlying fund, which may be a GCF affiliate. In other circumstances, GCF may make investments for clients in limited partnerships or similar vehicles. Certain of these vehicles may be managed by affiliates of GCF that will be compensated for such management services.

GCF or its affiliates may also receive annual management or administrative fees for asset or collateral management services provided to certain investment products (the "Structured Vehicles") in which client assets may be invested. These fees may be based on either the market value or par value of the underlying collateral, depending upon the structure of the relevant Structured Vehicle.

Where necessary or appropriate for the transactions described above, as provided by the relevant client investment guidelines, applicable agreements or governing fund documents (as applicable), or under Section 206(3) of the Advisers Act, GCF will disclose to its clients the nature of such transactions prior to the completion of such transaction and obtains the clients' consent.

As described in "Item 6 – Performance-Based Fees and Side-By-Side Management – Allocation," GCF will offer investment opportunities that it sources to GPIM prior to making such investment opportunities available to GCF clients. Only after GPIM has declined an investment opportunity or allocated a portion of such opportunity to its applicable clients will an investment opportunity be made available to other GCF clients. GCF expects that GPIM will have no obligation to offer investment opportunities to GCF.

For more information regarding potential conflicts of interest including participation or interest in client transactions, refer to Item 11.

Some officers and directors of Guggenheim Capital and its subsidiaries, other than GCF personnel, ("Guggenheim Related Persons"), have economic interests or voting interests in companies, including insurance companies, which are advisory clients of GCF or GPIM. GCF has invested and will invest in the future on behalf of other clients in issuers in which these companies or Guggenheim Related Persons have direct and/or indirect interests, which may include a controlling or significant beneficial interest. These companies and other GCF clients may invest in securities at different levels of the capital structure of the same issuer, in some cases at the same time and in other cases at different times. For more information about potential conflicts of interest related to these relationships and investments in different levels of the capital structure, see “Item 11 – Code of Ethics, Participation or Interest in Client Transactions and Personal Trading – Participation or Interest in Client Transactions.”

Certain advisory or other clients in which Guggenheim Related Persons have interests have provided, and from time to time may provide, significant loans and other financing to GCF and its affiliates, both directly and indirectly. Other clients have economic or voting interests, which may be controlling or otherwise material interests, in issuers in which GCF has invested or will invest on behalf of its clients or to which GCF has provided or will provide financing on behalf of its clients. These conflicts and potential conflicts are addressed and mitigated as described below.

In addition, one or more Relevant Executives have direct or indirect economic interests in companies that are advisory clients of GCF.

For further information, see “Item 11 – Code of Ethics, Participation or Interest in Client Transactions and Personal Trading – Participation or Interest in Client Transactions”.

The above relationships pose conflicts of interest in transactions that involve both affiliated company advisory clients and other advisory clients, because GCF may have an incentive to favor affiliated clients. These incentives are more pronounced where GCF has multiple relationships with the affiliated client. Such conflicts are directly and purposefully mitigated by GCF’s designed allocation policies and procedures with respect to the allocation of investment opportunities, all more fully described in the response to Item 6, which provide that such investment opportunities must be allocated in a fair and equitable manner. Guggenheim Related Persons and Relevant Executives are not permitted to influence final allocation decisions. Additionally, Guggenheim Related Persons are not involved in the GCF investment process. For more information regarding GCF’s process for mitigating potential conflicts, see “Item 11 – Code of Ethics, Participation or Interest in Client Transactions and Personal Trading – General Process Regarding Potential Conflicts”.

Investment Adviser Affiliates

GCF is affiliated with GPIM, an investment adviser registered with the SEC. GPIM provides investment advisory and supervisory services, primarily focused on implementing fixed income and equity asset management strategies, to a variety of institutional clients through SMAs and registered and unregistered pooled investment vehicles. GCF expects to enter into a sub-advisory agreement with GPIM pursuant to which GCF will provide investment advice to GPIM. In connection with this arrangement, certain GCF personnel will serve as senior advisers to one or more GPIM investment committees. In addition, GCF is expected to enter into one or more sub-advisory agreements with GPIM pursuant to which GCF personnel will serve as portfolio managers with respect to certain GPIM client accounts. GPIM is also expected to provide certain investment advisory services, investment research and related services to GCF with respect to private corporate debt investments for GCF to use in connection with its advisory business.

GCF is also affiliated with GSA, a newly-formed investment adviser registered with the SEC. GSA expects to provide investment advice primarily focused on structured equity opportunities.

GCF is also affiliated with other investment advisers, both registered and unregistered these affiliate advisers are not material to GCF's business.

Item 11 – Code of Ethics, Participation or Interest in Client Transactions and Personal Trading

Code of Ethics and Personal Trading

GCF has adopted a Code of Ethics ("Code") and Insider Trading Policy to comply with Rule 204A-1 under the Advisers Act. The Code includes procedures and limitations that govern the business conduct and personal securities trading of persons associated with GCF. The Code is based upon the principle that GCF's employees owe a fiduciary duty to clients to conduct their affairs, including their personal securities transactions and private investments, in a manner intended to avoid: (i) serving their own personal interests ahead of clients; (ii) taking inappropriate advantage of their position with the firm; and (iii) any actual or potential conflicts of interest or any abuse of their position of responsibility.

Clients may obtain a copy of the Code by contacting GIInstitutionalCompliance@guggenheimpartners.com.

Additionally, all personnel are subject to policies and procedures regarding confidential and proprietary information, information barriers, private investments, personal loans, outside business activities and political contributions.

Subject to the provisions of the Code described above, GCF and its related persons may from time to time buy or sell, for their own accounts, the same securities they buy or sell for, or recommend to, GCF clients. Such trading is performed independently of the trading activities in client accounts. Related persons may also make investments for their own accounts in securities that are not offered or available to GCF's clients.

GCF and its personnel are not permitted to trade on securities with respect to which any of them obtains material non-public information ("MNPI"), including information obtained from public companies which are clients of GCF or such affiliates. GCF and its personnel may also be restricted from trading on securities with respect to which personnel of certain investment advisory affiliates, such as GPIM, obtain MNPI. If GCF or certain investment advisory affiliates receive MNPI about certain issuers, such issuers will be placed on the restricted list. The restricted list is a list of issuers in which GCF, certain investment advisory affiliates and their respective employees are restricted from trading. For example, securities will be added to the list in the following circumstances:

- Where there is a concentration of ownership in a security and GCF's clients already own a substantial portion of the publicly held outstanding shares;

- When GCF comes into possession of MNPI about a public company, such as business plans, earnings projections, or merger and acquisition plans;
- When GCF enters into a contractual agreement with the company not to trade in the company's securities for a period of time; or
- When the CCO determines that pre-clearance of trading in a security is required or desirable as an internal control to ensure continued compliance with applicable law and regulation.

With limited and specific exceptions, issuers on the restricted list may not be traded in GCF client or employee personal accounts. Client accounts may be forced to deviate from their stated objectives because an issuer is restricted. Specifically, the restricted list may prohibit GCF from buying or selling the issuer's or an affiliates' securities. If an issuer's securities are in a client account and subsequently that issuer's securities are placed on the restricted list, absent an exception, GCF will not trade that issuer's securities in the client's account until those securities are removed from the restricted list. Clients will bear the risk of loss during the period any such securities are on the restricted list. Accordingly, the placement of issuers' securities on the restricted list has the potential to affect GCF's exercise of discretion over and the performance of client accounts.

Participation or Interest in Client Transactions

GCF, from time to time, on behalf of clients, may initiate or recommend transactions in the securities of companies in which GCF's affiliates have controlling or other material direct or indirect interests or are affiliated. In addition, in some circumstances, GCF on behalf of its clients may invest in or provide financing to issuers or borrowers, or may otherwise participate in transactions, in which the issuer, borrower or another transaction party (such as a placement agent or arranger) is, or is a subsidiary or affiliate of or otherwise related to, (a) another GCF client, or (b) a related company or other company in which related persons of GCF, or officers or employees of GCF, have investment, financial or other interests, or relationships (including but not limited to directorships or equivalent roles).

Potential conflicts of interest between GCF, its affiliates or Guggenheim Related Persons and GCF clients with respect to proposed transactions described above are identified and appropriately managed by GCF Compliance personnel designated to review transactions in which conflicts of interest may exist, as described under "Item 11 – Code of Ethics, Participation or Interest in Client Transactions and Personal Trading – General Process Regarding Potential Conflicts" below. Appropriate management includes but is not limited to obtaining specific client consent for the applicable transaction both as required by applicable law or regulation, including for principal transactions subject to Section 206(3) of the Advisers Act or as required by client investment guidelines, IMAs, or where otherwise determined necessary or appropriate.

Additional conflicts may arise to the extent GCF invests client assets in parts of an issuer's or borrower's capital structure when GCF affiliates or related persons invest in different parts of the same issuer's or borrower's (or its affiliate's) capital structure (including but not limited to investments in public versus private securities, investments in debt versus equity, or investments in senior versus subordinated debt), or where the same or similar instruments in a given issuer or borrower held by GCF's clients and GCF's affiliates or related persons have different rights or benefits. The following conflicts may arise in such situations: (i) enforcement of rights or determination not to enforce rights by GCF on behalf of its clients may have an adverse effect on the interests of its affiliates or related persons, and vice versa, (ii) GCF may have an incentive to invest GCF client funds in the issuer or borrower to either facilitate or obtain preferable terms for a proposed investment by a GCF affiliate or related person in such issuer or borrower, or (iii) GCF may have an incentive to preserve or protect the value or rights associated with an existing economic interest of a GCF affiliate or related person in the issuer or borrower, which may have an adverse effect on the interests of GCF clients.

The financial interests of GCF's affiliates or related persons in issuers and borrowers may create a potential conflict between the economic interests of these affiliates or related persons and the interests of GCF's clients. In addition, to the extent a potential issuer or borrower (or one of its affiliates) is a GCF advisory client, or a GCF advisory client is a lender or financing provider to GCF or its affiliates, a potential conflict may exist, as GCF may have an incentive to favor the interests of those clients relative to those of its other clients. However, as discussed below in "General Process Regarding Potential Conflicts", GCF has developed procedures to address potential conflicts of interest involving such transactions.

GCF or its affiliates or related persons, or their respective officers, directors or employees, including portfolio managers or senior managers of GCF, also may have direct or indirect proprietary or personal investments in and/or have financial or other relationships (including but not limited to directorships or equivalent roles) with certain GCF or GPIM clients or other investment vehicles that may create potential conflicts of interest. For example, a potential conflict could exist to the extent that portfolio managers or senior GCF personnel, or investment vehicles in which they participate, have direct or indirect personal investments in certain clients or when certain client accounts are investment options in GCF's employee benefit and/or deferred compensation plans. Investment vehicles in which GCF or its affiliates, or their respective officers, directors or employees, including portfolio managers or senior managers of GCF, have an interest may also receive loans or other funding from GCF clients. These participations or interests in client accounts may result in an incentive for GCF to favor these clients over other advisory clients. GCF's allocation policies and procedures with respect to the allocation of investment opportunities, more fully described in the response to Item 6, are intended to mitigate potential conflicts by providing that such investment opportunities are monitored and are allocated fairly and equitably in a manner consistent with GCF's applicable policies and procedures. For additional information regarding GCF's process for mitigating potential conflicts, see "Item 11 – Code of Ethics, Participation or Interest in Client Transactions and Personal Trading – General Process Regarding Potential Conflicts".

Cross Transactions, including Principal Cross Transactions

GCF from time to time may engage in cross transactions between client accounts in which one client will purchase securities or other financial instruments held by another client, only so long as the transaction is in the best interests of both clients and GCF, or an affiliate, does not receive any compensation in addition to its management fee in connection with the transaction. Cross trades present an inherent conflict of interest because GCF represents the interests of both the selling account and the buying account in the same transaction, and GCF may be perceived as seeking to treat one counterparty to the cross trade more favorably than the other party. Additionally, the price of a security bought or sold through a cross trade may not be as favorable as it might have been had the trade been executed in the open market, and any benefits of a cross trade may not be equally distributed among participating clients. GCF has policies and procedures to mitigate these potential conflicts of interest and help ensure that internal cross transactions are in the best interests of, and appropriate for, all clients involved and the transactions are consistent with GCF's obligation to seek best execution.

GCF will seek to effect cross transactions at a price that is fair to the clients involved. This generally will be the last traded price, a price obtained from an independent third-party source, such as a pricing service, or the average price obtained from three independent dealers, when available and reliable in accordance with GCF's valuation policies and procedures. GCF will typically attempt to identify potential dealers by consulting available databases and utilizing dealer communication tools (e.g., Bloomberg message function), to search for potential dealers from whom GCF can obtain a price for the security to be cross-traded. GCF may also contact other dealers with whom GCF has traded in the past, or who are known to be active in the particular industry sector of the asset in question.

There may be circumstances when three independent offers and bids are not available or reliable, or the last traded price is believed not to reflect the market. The quantity and source of any independent quotes from unaffiliated dealers will vary depending on, among other things, market conditions, the dealer's familiarity with the asset class, the type of asset class, and various characteristics of a security (e.g., liquidity, rating, new issuances). Further, GCF evaluates quotes to consider whether any such bid and/or ask is reflective of the security's value, and whether any such bid and/or ask should be deemed unreliable or an outlier and, therefore excluded as not reflective of an accurate price for the security. In such circumstances, GCF may use one or two independent bids and/or offers.

However, there still may be instances where no reliable quotes are available. The illiquid nature of the market for leveraged loans and securities that are not publicly traded and that trade infrequently (such as asset-backed securities, mortgage-backed securities, other structured finance securities and certain corporate bonds) may mean that GCF cannot readily locate dealers willing to provide a quote for such securities and loans, or such a quote is unreliable. If no quotes are available or reliable, GCF may proactively solicit dealer bids, or effect a cross trade at a price determined using other methods outlined in its security pricing policy and appropriate for the transaction or instrument in question, such as pricing vendors or valuation models.

On rare occasions, GCF or an affiliate will be in possession of restricted information about an asset to be cross-traded, which may also mean that the market-based price for the asset does not reflect this restricted information. In accordance with its effort to effect cross trades at prices that are fair to both buyers and sellers, GCF may take the restricted information into account when determining a cross trade price. As a result, the cross trade price may be different from the market-based price. The method by which GCF determines this price will depend on the facts of each case.

GCF will not charge a mark-up/mark-down for cross trades. From time to time, a cross trade may be effected in which one or both sides of the cross trade is an affiliate of GCF, or in which a GCF affiliate may charge a mark-up or commission for securities or other financial instruments GCF purchases from such affiliate or another affiliate.

GCF has developed policies and procedures addressing principal transactions, cross transactions, including those with affiliates, and agency cross transactions. In particular, where necessary or appropriate, GCF discloses to its clients the nature of the transaction prior to the completion of such transaction and obtains the clients' consent. See “General Process Regarding Potential Conflicts” below for more information regarding GCF’s general processes to mitigate such potential conflicts of interest.

Investment Banking Activities

GCF believes that the nature and range of investment banking clients and other customers to whom our affiliate broker-dealer, Guggenheim Securities, renders investment banking, financial advisory and other services is such that it would be inadvisable to exclude such clients or customers from a GCF client’s portfolio. Accordingly, unless a client advises us to the contrary, it is possible that such account’s holdings may include the securities or other financial instruments of corporations or other entities for whom Guggenheim Securities performs investment banking and other services, including but not limited to financial advisory or financing services. Moreover, GCF clients’ portfolios may include the securities of companies in which Guggenheim Securities makes a market.

Guggenheim Securities and GCF are separated by an information barrier, which generally mitigates any impact of Guggenheim Securities investment banking activities on GCF’s trading and investment activities in securities or other financial instruments. At times, federal securities laws may prevent GCF from entering into or recommending certain types of transactions in the securities or other financial instruments of companies for which Guggenheim Securities, as an affiliated broker-dealer, is performing investment banking or other services.

Conflicts Resulting from Investment Management Activities

GCF is an indirect subsidiary of Guggenheim Partners, which is a global, diversified financial services firm. Guggenheim Partners and its direct and indirect subsidiaries (collectively the “Guggenheim Entities”) provide their clients with a broad array of investment management, insurance, broker-dealer, investment banking, and other similar services which may create potential and actual conflicts of interest, including, for example, the situations described below.

Some Guggenheim Entities manage long and short portfolios. The simultaneous management of long and short portfolios creates potential conflicts of interest in portfolio management and trading in that opposite directional positions may be taken in client accounts managed by the same investment team, and creates potential risks such as (i) the risk that short sale activity could adversely affect the market value of long positions in one or more portfolios (and vice versa) and (ii) the risks associated with the trading desk receiving opposing orders in the same security simultaneously. GCF has adopted policies and procedures that are reasonably designed to mitigate these potential conflicts.

The Guggenheim Entities may invest on behalf of themselves in securities and other instruments that would be appropriate for, be held by, or fall within the investment guidelines of GCF’s clients. The Guggenheim Entities may give advice or take action for their own accounts that may differ from, potentially conflict with or be adverse to advice given or action taken for any of their clients or GCF’s clients.

Potential conflicts also may arise because certain securities or instruments may be held in some client accounts but not in others, or that various client accounts may have different levels of holdings in certain securities or instruments, and because various client accounts may pay different levels of fees.

GCF may also give advice or take action with respect to the investments of one or more client accounts that may not be given or taken with respect to other client accounts with similar investment guidelines, objectives, and strategies. Accordingly, client accounts with similar strategies may not hold the same securities or instruments or achieve the same performance. GCF also may advise client accounts with conflicting guidelines, objectives or strategies. For further detail, see “Item 6 – Performance-Based Fees and Side-By-Side Management”.

Different clients may, pursuant to one transaction or in a series of transactions over time, invest in different parts of an issuer’s or borrower’s capital structure (including but not limited to investments in public versus private securities, investments in debt versus equity, or investments in senior versus subordinated debt), depending on the respective client’s investment objectives and policies. As a result, GCF may at times seek to satisfy its fiduciary obligations to certain clients owning one type or class of investment in a particular issuer or borrower by pursuing or enforcing rights on behalf of those clients, and those activities may have an adverse effect on another client, which owns a different, including more senior or junior, investment in the same issuer or borrower. For example, if one client holds debt securities of an issuer and another client holds equity securities of the same issuer, if the issuer experiences financial or operational challenges, GCF may seek a liquidation of the issuer on behalf of the client that holds the debt securities, whereas the client holding the equity securities may benefit from a reorganization of the issuer. Thus, the actions taken on behalf of one client may negatively impact investments held by another client.

Any of the foregoing activities may adversely affect the prices and availability of other securities or instruments held by or potentially considered for one or more client accounts.

GCF may also from time to time enter into arrangements with, or establish certain collective investment vehicles for, certain clients, including affiliated and unaffiliated insurance companies, pursuant to which GCF agrees to share a portion of the fees, commissions, remuneration, or profits otherwise retained by GCF and its affiliates in certain transactions. For more information on transactions involving affiliated entities, including related insurance companies, please see “Item 10 – Other Financial Industry Activities and Affiliations – Other Potential Conflicts and Material Relationships with Affiliated Entities”. The foregoing arrangement may, depending on the circumstances, result in an incentive for GCF to favor or disfavor clients participating in these arrangement or vehicles relative to other advisory clients. GCF’s allocation policies and procedures with respect to the allocation of investment opportunities, more fully described in the response to Item 6, are intended to mitigate potential conflicts by providing that such investment opportunities are monitored and are allocated fairly and equitably consistent with GCF’s policies and procedures.

As described in “Item 6 – Performance-Based Fees and Side-By-Side Management – Allocation,” GCF will offer investment opportunities that it sources to GPIM prior to making such investment opportunities available to GCF clients. Only after GPIM has declined an investment opportunity or allocated a portion of such opportunity to its applicable clients will an investment opportunity be made available to other GCF clients. GCF expects that GPIM will have no obligation to offer investment opportunities to GCF. These allocation procedures may adversely affect GCF’s clients because GPIM may choose to allocate attractive investment opportunities to its clients without a sufficient remainder left for investment by GCF clients.

Finally, GCF may have potential conflicts in allocating its time and services among its clients. GCF devotes as much time to each client as it deems appropriate to perform its duties in accordance with each client's applicable agreement.

General Process Regarding Potential Conflicts

The transactions described above involve potential conflicts of interest between GCF or its related persons and GCF clients. The Advisers Act, the 1940 Act and Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 impose certain requirements designed to decrease the possibility of conflicts of interest between an investment adviser and its clients. In some cases, transactions may be permitted subject to fulfillment of certain conditions. Certain other transactions may be prohibited. In addition, GCF has instituted policies and procedures designed to identify and mitigate potential conflicts of interest to the extent they arise in particular transactions and to ensure that GCF effects such transactions in a manner that is consistent with its fiduciary obligations and in accordance with applicable law.

GCF seeks to ensure that potential or actual conflicts of interest are appropriately resolved, taking into consideration the best interest of all clients involved. Appropriate resolution will depend on the nature of the transaction and the conflict of interest, but may include, without limitation, (a) general disclosure in this brochure, or in advisory or sub-advisory agreements for the relevant clients, or in specific client notifications, or (b) specific client consent for the applicable transaction both as required by applicable law and regulation — including for principal transactions subject to Section 206(3) of the Advisers Act or as required by client investment guidelines or advisory or sub-advisory agreements, or where otherwise determined necessary or appropriate.

Certain GCF compliance personnel have been designated to review transactions in which conflicts of interest may exist, including those described above, to ensure compliance with applicable GCF policies and legal or regulatory requirements.

Item 12 – Brokerage Practices

Counterparty/Broker Selection

In selecting a counterparty/broker-dealer to execute trades on behalf of clients, GCF will seek to obtain “best execution” for client transactions (i.e., the most favorable price and execution). In seeking best execution, GCF is not obligated to choose the counterparty offering the lowest available commission rate if, in GCF's reasonable judgment; (i) there is material risk that the overall cost to purchase securities will be higher or the proceeds from the sale of securities will be lower; (ii) a higher commission is justified by the trading or research services provided by the counterparty that fall within the safe harbor of Section 28(e) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended; or (iii) other considerations, such as the order size, the time required for execution, the depth and breadth of the market for the security, minimum credit quality considerations to transact business with a particular counterparty, or the quality of the counterparty's operations dictate utilizing a different counterparty.

Counterparty/Brokerage Approval Policy and Procedures

GCF may adopt a Counterparty Approval Policy pursuant to which it maintains an Approved Counterparty List. The Approved Counterparty List will set out counterparties/broker-dealers approved by GCF that advisory personnel may use to execute client transactions. Transactions may only be executed with counterparties/broker-dealers on the Approved Counterparties List unless an exception is granted by an authorized person under the Counterparty Approval Policy. Initially and on an ongoing basis, GCF consults a variety of information relating to a counterparty/broker-dealer, including regulatory reports and financial information, in connection with adding and maintaining a counterparty to the Approved Counterparty List. Generally, counterparties on the Approved Counterparty List must, in GCF's opinion, have financial stability and a positive reputation in the industry. GCF may execute client transactions through Guggenheim Securities, in which case GCF is required to seek best execution for its clients. More information regarding GCF's relationship with affiliated broker-dealers is in "Item 10 – Other Financial Industry Activities and Affiliations – Affiliated Broker Dealers".

Soft Dollar Policy

GCF does not expect to participate in soft dollar arrangements.

Directed Brokerage

GCF does not expect to participate in directed brokerage.

Client Referrals

GCF does not expect to direct trades to brokers on the basis of client referrals or solicitations made by such brokers. GCF may execute client transactions through affiliated broker-dealers which solicit clients for GCF. GCF will direct execution to such brokers subject to best execution and proper disclosure to clients.

Wrap Fee Program

GCF does not expect to participate in or sponsor a wrap fee program.

Aggregation Policy

In order to minimize execution costs and obtain best execution for clients, trades in the same security transacted on behalf of more than one GCF client may be aggregated. Aggregation practices are described in Item 6.

Item 13 – Review of Accounts

Reviews

Client accounts will be periodically reviewed by a combination of designated investment professionals, risk management, operations and investment committees. GCF will provide performance reports at the request of any client.

Item 14 – Client Referrals and Other Compensation

GCF may enter into arrangements with both affiliated and unaffiliated third-party solicitors, including Affiliated Broker-Dealers, to refer prospective advisory clients to GCF. These arrangements will be structured to comply with Rule 206(4)-3 under the Advisers Act. Such solicitor's compensation will be based on a percentage of the management fees, performance-based compensation, or a combination of both, earned by GCF from the referred client. In the case of Affiliated Broker-Dealers, referred clients receive disclosure about the affiliation between GCF and such Affiliated Broker-Dealer.

The response to Item 10 above provides information regarding (i) GCF's and its affiliates' receipt and retention of fees and other compensation for origination, structuring, arranging, placement and other services provided in relation to transactions in which GCF invests client assets, (ii) investments by GCF of client assets in limited partnerships or similar vehicles holding assets that are managed by GCF or its affiliates and for which GCF or such affiliates receive management, administrative or other fees or compensation in addition to account-level management fees payable to GCF, and (iii) GCF's receipt of management fees services provided to structured vehicles.

Item 15 – Custody

Unless otherwise agreed to in writing, GCF generally shall not have or maintain custody and/or physical control of assets in any custodial accounts, within the meaning of Rule 206(4)-2 of the Advisers Act (the "Custody Rule").

GCF shall not be deemed to have or maintain custody and/or physical control of assets in any custodial accounts by virtue of GCF's contractual authority to direct a custodian to make payments and deliveries of assets in any custodial accounts or accept payments and deliveries of cash and other assets of third parties for clients in connection with investments and transactions effected by GCF for a client in accordance with any agreement. Such payments and deliveries may include transfers and/or deliveries of assets as well as receipt of third-party assets as collateral security in connection investments or transactions effected by GCF for a client and deemed appropriate or necessary pursuant to GCF's duties under any applicable agreement.

Clients are urged to review account statements received directly from their custodian or trustee on a monthly or quarterly basis and to compare these statements to any statements received from GCF or an affiliate.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, GCF may be deemed to have custody of client assets where GCF or an affiliate acts as agent in certain loan syndication arrangements. In any circumstances where GCF may be deemed to have custody of client assets, GCF seeks to comply with the Custody Rule. When analyzing the Custody Rule, GPIM follows the guidance issued by the SEC staff, including FAQs and no action letters.

Item 16 – Investment Discretion

GCF expects that it will generally have investment discretion over its client accounts; provided, however, that GCF does not expect to control any investment decisions made in connection with the services provided by GCF to GPIM under the sub-advisory agreement described herein, subject to certain limited exceptions.

Item 17 – Voting Client Securities

GCF expects that it generally will be responsible for voting proxies with respect to securities held in client accounts for which it has discretionary investment authority.

Where GCF has been delegated the responsibility for voting proxies, it will take reasonable steps under the circumstances to ensure that proxies are received and voted in the best long-term interests of its clients. This generally means voting proxies with a view to enhancing the value of the securities held in client accounts, considering all relevant factors and without undue influence from individuals or groups who may have an economic interest in the outcome of the proxy vote. GCF's authority is initially established by its advisory contracts with the client or comparable documents. Clients, however, may change their proxy voting direction at any time.

The financial interest of GCF's clients is the primary consideration in determining how proxies should be voted. Any material conflicts of interest between GCF and its clients with respect to proxy voting are resolved in the best interests of the clients.

In the case of public securities and similar investments, GCF expects to adopt the proxy voting guidelines of an outside proxy voting firm, Institutional Shareholder Services Inc. ("ISS"), as GCF's proxy voting guidelines ("Guidelines"). GCF also expects to engage ISS to act as agent for the proxy process, to maintain records on proxy votes for its clients, and to provide independent research on corporate governance, proxy and corporate responsibility issues. Depending on the objective of client account, GCF will assess the proxy voting guidelines to determine which Guidelines will be followed. GCF will review the Guidelines and ISS's performance of its duties as agent at least annually. GCF may override the Guidelines recommending a vote on a particular proposal if it is determined to be in the best interest of the client or if required to deviate under applicable law, rule or regulation. If a proposal is voted contrary to the Guidelines, the reasons will be documented in writing by the appropriate investment team(s) and retained by GCF. The manner in which specific proposals are to be voted may differ based on the type of client account. In the absence of contrary instructions received from GCF, ISS will vote proxies in accordance with the Guidelines, as such Guidelines may be revised from time to time. ISS will employ these Guidelines based on account set up instructions received from GCF. ISS will notify GCF of all proxy proposals that do not fall within the Guidelines (i.e., proposals which are either not addressed in the Guidelines or proposals for which GCF has indicated that a decision will be made on a case-by-case basis, such as fixed income securities). Such proposals will be forwarded by Operations to the investment team(s) responsible for the client account. If the investment team(s) responsible determines that there is no material conflict of interest, the proposal will be voted in accordance with the recommendation of said team(s).

Clients may obtain a copy of GCF's proxy voting policy and information about how GCF voted proxies on their behalf by contacting their GCF administrative representative.

Item 18 – Financial Information

GCF does not require or solicit prepayment of more than $1,200 in fees per client, six months or more in advance, and thus has not included a balance sheet for its most recent fiscal year. GCF is not subject to any financial condition that is reasonably likely to impair its ability to meet contractual commitments to its clients. Additionally, GCF has not been the subject of a bankruptcy proceeding.