Item 4 Advisory Business

The applicant, Integer Wealth Advisors Group, LLC, provides discretionary and non-discretionary advisory services to individuals, foundations, endowments and 401(k) retirement plans through the following services:

The applicant charges fees for investment planning and investment advice to individual clients on a percentage-of-assets charge as well as to foundations, endowments and 401(k) retirement plans. (Investment planning includes tax planning, insurance planning, retirement planning and estate planning. Investment planning services may include consultations and/or written plans, which analyze a client's financial situation and makes appropriate recommendations for strategies and methods of implementation of the strategies.) Investment plans may be provided by staff members under supervision of the principals of the firm.

Clients are provided with a written statement on brokerage commissions, fees, and possible conflicts of interest regarding mutual fund trades and ETF trades that are placed by Integer Wealth Advisors Group, LLC (see Item 12 below). It is understood that no-load mutual fund trades will be directed to Charles Schwab and Company, Inc. and that Integer Wealth Advisors Group, LLC does not receive any compensation directly from Charles Schwab and Company, Inc; however, if clients are invested in mutual funds (of any sort), the clients are essentially paying two advisory fees: The advisory fee for Integer Wealth Advisors Group, LLC and the fee of the advisor to the mutual fund (whose fees are further described in the funds' prospectus).

Integer Wealth Advisors Group, LLC deducts its fees for investment advisory services from the client's investment account(s) when authorized to do so by the client. Pursuant to this arrangement, the client provides written authorization permitting the deduction of these fees to the trustee or custodian. The custodian/trustee agrees to send the client a statement, at least quarterly, indicating all amounts which were disbursed from the account, including the amount of advisory fees paid directly to Integer Wealth Advisors Group, LLC.

Item 5 Fees and Compensation

The applicant manages client accounts- on a discretionary basis and non-discretionary basis- for a percentage of the assets under its management. The annual negotiable fee ranges from a negotiable rate to over 2%, depending on the size and complexity of a client's account. The client fee is paid quarterly, at the start of each quarter. IN ALL CASES, if a client terminates our agreement, any prepaid fees will be refunded on a pro-rated basis. NOTE: Clients may be able to obtain similar services elsewhere for less cost and may terminate at any time. No fee is ever paid more than six months in advance.

Item 6 Performance-Based Fees and Side-By-Side Management

Integer Wealth Advisors Group, LLC does not charge a performance-based fee.

Integer Wealth Advisors Group, LLC offers investment advisory services to individuals, foundations, endowments and 401(k) retirement plans.

Integer Wealth Advisors Group, LLC employs the prudent-man approach to the management of client assets. Each client has input into the investment management decisions based upon their unique risk-and-return position, tax situation and prevailing economic factors. We do not offer pre-designed “portfolio buckets”. We design portfolio allocations that are unique to each client, but include common elements of investment securities such as mutual funds and exchange traded index funds.

Portfolios are designed around an “active/passive” strategy that focuses on risk minimization through diversification. Mutual funds are analyzed by the principals of the firm and those funds that pass our screening criteria are available for use in portfolio construction.

Risks in the portfolio are monitored through the use of quarterly performance reports which are produced by a third-party provider. Periodic rebalancing of the portfolio is conducted based upon our input with our clients.

Risk of loss must be clarified into categories such as risk of loss of principal, loss of opportunity or loss of income. Investing involves risk. We are responsible for helping to identify the various risks associated with investing, communicating those risks to our clients and formulating portfolio strategies we believe meet the unique risk-and reward guidelines for each client. Past performance is no guarantee of future returns and we make no expressed or implied guarantees of such.

Item 9 Disciplinary Information

Neither principal of the firm has ever had a disciplinary action taken against them, either while at their former employers, or at Integer Wealth Advisors Group, LLC.

Many clients, when undertaking an advisory relationship, already have a pre-established relationship with a broker and they will instruct Integer Wealth Advisors Group, LLC to execute all transactions through that broker. In the event that a client directs Integer Wealth Advisors Group, LLC to use a particular broker or dealer, it should be understood that under those circumstances Integer Wealth Advisors Group, LLC would not generally attempt to negotiate commissions. Obtaining volume discounts and best execution may not be possible. In addition, under these circumstances, a disparity in commission charges may exist with respect to the commission charged to other clients. If Integer Wealth Advisors Group, LLC believes that the use of one particular broker designated by the client will interfere with Integer Wealth Advisors Group, LLC ability to manage accounts, Integer Wealth Advisors Group, LLC may decline to enter into an advisory agreement with that client. Depending on client circumstances, Integer Wealth Advisors Group, LLC may recommend any of several brokers provided Integer Wealth Advisors Group, LLC can meet its fiduciary obligation of best execution. The factors considered by Integer Wealth Advisors Group, LLC when making this recommendation are the broker's ability to provide professional services, Integer's experience with the broker, the broker's reputation, and the broker's financial strength, among other factors.

Integer Wealth Advisors Group, LLC participates in Charles Schwab & Co. institutional program. While there is no direct link between the investment advice provided by Integer Wealth Advisors Group, LLC and participation in these programs, economic benefits are received. These benefits include: receipt of duplicate client confirmations and bundled duplicate statements; access to a trading desk serving participant advisers exclusively; ability to have investment advisory fees deducted directly from client accounts; access to electronic order systems and account information; receipt of compliance publications; and access to mutual funds which generally require significantly higher minimum initial investments or are generally available only to institutional investors.

The cost of brokerage commissions generated depends upon a number of factors including the size of assets in custody with a broker, whether electronic trading is utilized or not, the security being purchased (stock, ETF or mutual fund), the fund family (Vanguard, Fidelity, etc...), and the arrangements mutual fund companies have with a brokerage firm.

Accounts are reviewed on a regular basis to ensure that investments are made in conformity with client's stated objectives. Clients are provided with quarterly performance reports, produced by a third-party group in order to maintain the highest integrity possible. As such, our firm cannot manipulate the performance data of these reports. All performance reports are provided on a "net-of-fees" basis which includes the fees of mutual funds and ETF's used in a portfolio, as well as our management fee.

Trades for client accounts are reviewed for accuracy and appropriateness, and are made with client's knowledge and approval. Generally, and unless the client dictates more or less frequent meetings, we will meet with each client on an annual basis to review goals, objectives, holdings and portfolio performance to ascertain the continued appropriateness of the client's investment strategy. Meetings can be in person or by phone or other communication devices (such as Skype, FaceTime, etc..).

Our firm is capable of entering into a fee-sharing arrangement with other professional firms with respect to potential client referrals (i.e. clients of lawyers or accountants that may wish to engage our services). In the event the referring professional firm wishes to engage in a fee-sharing arrangement is negotiated with a professional services firm, the client(s) that are subject to the fee-sharing arrangement must sign an acknowledgement that discloses all fees and the fee sharing arrangement between the firms, and that the fee arrangement is approved by them.

We have not, at this time, entered into any such arrangements.

We accept no other compensation from any vendors such as custodians or mutual fund managers for our investment advisory work, and we use no outside solicitors to whom a fee is paid for new clients or client referrals.

The custody of client assets is with a qualified custodian such as Charles Schwab and Company, which is our preferred custodian. Clients are free to select the custodian of their choice. Integer Wealth Advisors Group, LLC does not maintain physical control of client assets.

As a Trustee of several client Trust accounts we are deemed by the Securities and Exchange Commission to have “custody” of those accounts, however, the physical possession of the assets are still with the qualified custodian. Per the SEC rules on custody that apply to us, we are required to retain a qualified Certified Public Accountant to conduct a surprise exam on an annual basis. The purpose of the exam is to confirm the safe-keeping of those assets for which we serve as Trustee. A copy of the Accountant’s report for Integer Wealth Investment Advisors Group, LLC is available at www.adviserinfo.sec.gov.

We have, since the inception of the rule in 2010, obtained a qualified surprise exam by a duly certified member of the PCAOB. Our ADV-E is available for inspection for all prior years.

We are granted investment discretion only in writing by the client. For those clients granting Integer Wealth Advisors Group, LLC discretion over their accounts, all trades are done in consultation with the client. The client is notified of the impending trade, the rationale for the trade is outlined and implemented.

Clients receive electronic confirmation of the trades (or confirmations via mail) as well as receiving a monthly brokerage statement with all transactional data from the qualified custodian for their accounts.
