Item 6 – Performance-Based Fees and Side-By-Side Management

Item 6 is not applicable to this Disclosure Brochure because Experient Portfolio Management does not charge or accept performance-based fees, which can be defined as fees based on a share of capital gains on or capital appreciation of the assets held within a client's account.

Item 7 – Types of Clients

Experient Portfolio Management generally provides investment advice to the following types of clients:

- Individuals
- High-Net Worth Individuals

Minimum Investment Amounts Required

There are no minimum investment amounts or conditions required for establishing an account managed by Experient Portfolio Management. However, all clients are required to execute an agreement for services in order to establish a client arrangement with Experient Portfolio Management.

Item 8 – Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies and Risk of Loss

Methods of Analysis

Experient Portfolio Management uses the following methods of analysis in formulating investment advice:

Charting. The set of techniques used in technical analysis in which charts are used to plot price movements, volume, settlement prices, open interest, and other indicators, in order to anticipate future price movements. Users of these techniques, called chartists, believe that past trends in these indicators can be used to extrapolate future trends.

Fundamental. A method of evaluating a security by attempting to measure its intrinsic value by examining related economic, financial and other qualitative and quantitative factors. Fundamental analysts attempt to study everything that can affect the security's value, including macroeconomic factors (like the overall economy and industry conditions) and individually specific factors (like the financial condition and management of companies). The end goal of performing fundamental analysis is to produce a value that an investor can compare with the security's current price in hopes of figuring out what sort of position to take with that security (underpriced = buy, overpriced = sell or short). This method of security analysis is considered to be the opposite of technical analysis. Fundamental analysis is about using real data to evaluate a security's value. Although most analysts use fundamental analysis to value stocks, this method of valuation can be used for just about any type of security.

Technical. This is a method of evaluating securities by analyzing statistics generated by market activity, such as past prices and volume. Technical analysts do not attempt to measure a security's intrinsic value, but instead use charts and other tools to identify patterns that can suggest future activity. Technical analysts believe that the historical performance of stocks and markets are indications of future performance.

Investment Strategies

Experient Portfolio Management uses the following investment strategies when managing client assets and/or providing investment advice:

Long term purchases. Investments held at least a year.

Short term purchases. Investments sold within a year.

Margin transactions. When an investor buys a stock on margin, the investor pays for part of the purchase and borrows the rest from a brokerage firm. For example, an investor may buy $5,000 worth of stock in a margin account by paying for $2,500 and borrowing $2,500 from a brokerage firm. Clients cannot borrow stock from Experient Portfolio Management.

Option writing including covered options, uncovered options, or spreading strategies. Options are contracts giving the purchaser the right to buy or sell a security, such as stocks, at a fixed price within a specific period of time.

Use of Primary Strategy

Experient Portfolio Management's primary strategy involves frequent trading of securities. The frequent trading of securities may have a positive or negative impact on investment performance. Performance from active trading can be lowered due to an increase in brokerage and other transaction costs.

Risk of Loss

Past performance is not indicative of future results. Therefore, you should never assume that future performance of any specific investment or investment strategy will be profitable. Investing in securities (including stocks, mutual funds, and bonds) involves risk of loss. Further, depending on the different types of investments there may be varying degrees of risk. You should be prepared to bear investment loss including loss of original principal.

Because of the inherent risk of loss associated with investing, our firm is unable to represent, guarantee, or even imply that our services and methods of analysis can or will predict future results, successfully identify market tops or bottoms, or insulate you from losses due to market corrections or declines. There are certain additional risks associated when investing in securities through our investment management program.

- Market Risk – Either the stock market as a whole, or the value of an individual company, goes down resulting in a decrease in the value of client investments. This is also referred to as systemic risk.
- Equity (stock) market risk – Common stocks are susceptible to general stock market fluctuations and to volatile increases and decreases in value as market confidence in and perceptions of their issuers change. If you held common stock, or common stock equivalents, of any given issuer, you would generally be exposed to greater risk than if you held preferred stocks and debt obligations of the issuer.
- Company Risk. When investing in stock positions, there is always a certain level of company or industry specific risk that is inherent in each investment. This is also referred to as unsystematic risk and can be reduced through appropriate diversification. There is the risk that the company will perform poorly or have its value reduced based on factors specific to the company or its industry. For example, if a company's employees go on strike or the company receives unfavorable media attention for its actions, the value of the company may be reduced.
- Fixed Income Risk. When investing in bonds, there is the risk that issuer will default on the bond and be unable to make payments. Further, individuals who depend on set amounts of periodically paid income face the risk that inflation will erode their spending power. Fixed-income investors receive set, regular payments that face the same inflation risk.

- Options Risk. Options on securities may be subject to greater fluctuations in value than an investment in the underlying securities. Purchasing and writing put and call options are highly specialized activities and entail greater than ordinary investment risks.
- ETF and Mutual Fund Risk – When investing in a an ETF or mutual fund, you will bear additional expenses based on your pro rata share of the ETF's or mutual fund's operating expenses, including the potential duplication of management fees. The risk of owning an ETF or mutual fund generally reflects the risks of owning the underlying securities the ETF or mutual fund holds. Clients will also incur brokerage costs when purchasing ETFs.
- Management Risk – Your investment with our firm varies with the success and failure of our investment strategies, research, analysis and determination of portfolio securities. If our investment strategies do not produce the expected returns, the value of the investment will decrease.

Item 9 – Disciplinary Information

Item 9 is not applicable to this Disclosure Brochure because there are no legal or disciplinary events that are material to a client's or prospective client's evaluation of our business or integrity.

Item 10 – Other Financial Industry Activities and Affiliations

Experient Portfolio Management is not and does not have a related company that is a (1) broker/dealer, municipal securities dealer, government securities dealer or broker, (2) futures commission merchant, commodity pool operator, or commodity trading advisor, (3) banking or thrift institution, (4) accountant or accounting firm, (5) lawyer or law firm, (6) insurance company or agency, (7) pension consultant, (8) real estate broker or dealer, or (9) sponsor or syndicator of limited partnerships.

Other Financial Industry Activities or Affiliations

John C. Foti is a Trustee to the Grand Prix Investors Fund (the "Fund") and he is also considered an "interested person" of the Trust, as defined in the 1940 Act, by virtue of his controlling ownership of the investment adviser to the Trust. The Grand Prix Investors Fund is an investment company. The Fund was organized as a diversified series of the Grand Prix Investors Trust. The Grand Prix Investors Trust is an open-end investment company established under the laws of Ohio by an Agreement and Declaration of Trust dated June 18, 2008.

In addition to his role as Sole Proprietor and Investment Adviser Representative with Experient Portfolio Management, John C. Foti provides investment advice and management services to the Grand Prix Investors Fund as Owner, Chief Compliance Officer, and Investment Adviser Representative with Autosport Fund Advisors, Inc. Autosport Fund Advisor, Inc. is owned by John C. Foti and is a registered investment adviser. Actual or apparent conflicts of interest may arise in connection with the day-to-day management by John C. Foti of the Fund and other advisory accounts. The management of the Fund and other advisory accounts may result in unequal time and attention being devoted to the Fund and other advisory accounts. Another potential conflict of interest may arise where another advisory account has the same investment objective as the Fund, whereby Mr. Foti, as the portfolio manager could favor one advisory account over another. Further, a potential conflict could include Mr. Foti's knowledge about the size, timing and possible market impact of Fund trades, whereby he could use this information to the advantage of other accounts and to the disadvantage of the Fund. These potential conflicts of interest could create the appearance that Mr. Foti, in his capacity as a portfolio manager is favoring one investment vehicle over another. However, because many of Mr. Foti's duties overlap, and as a result of combining responsibilities such as asset selection and research, Mr. Foti believes he is able to provide both the Fund and other advisory clients with more thorough research and higher quality asset selection. Additionally, Mr. Foti acknowledges his fiduciary responsibility to all advisory clients and that he is legally obligated to act in the clients' best interests.

You may work with Mr. Foti in his separate capacity as an insurance agent. When acting in his separate capacity as an insurance agent, he may sell, for commissions, life insurance and annuities to you. As such, in his capacity as an insurance agent, may suggest that you implement recommendations of the Advisor by purchasing life insurance and annuities. This receipt of commissions creates an incentive for him to recommend those products for which he will receive a commission in his separate capacity as an insurance agent. Consequently, the advice rendered to you could be biased. You are under no obligation to implement any insurance or annuity transaction through Mr. Foti.

Item 11 – Code of Ethics, Participation in Client Transactions and Personal Trading

Code of Ethics Summary

Section 204A-1 of the Investment Advisers Act of 1940 requires all investment advisers to establish, maintain and enforce a Code of Ethics. Experient Portfolio Management has established a Code of Ethics that will apply to all of its supervised persons. An investment adviser is considered a fiduciary according to the Investment Advisers Act of 1940. As a fiduciary, it is an investment adviser's responsibility to provide fair and full disclosure of all material facts and to act solely in the best interest of each of our clients at all times. Experient Portfolio Management requires all of its supervised persons to conduct business with the highest level of ethical standards and to comply with all federal and state securities laws at all times. Upon employment or affiliation and at least annually thereafter, all supervised persons will sign an acknowledgement that they have read, understand and agree to comply with Experient Portfolio Management's Code of Ethics. Experient Portfolio Management has the responsibility to make sure that the interests of all clients are placed ahead of Experient Portfolio Management or its supervised person's own investment interest. Full disclosure of all material facts and potential conflicts of interest will be provided to clients prior to any services being conducted. Experient Portfolio Management and its supervised persons must conduct business in an honest, ethical and fair manner and avoid all circumstances that might negatively affect or appear to affect our duty of complete loyalty to all clients. This disclosure is provided to give all clients a summary of Experient Portfolio Management's Code of Ethics. However, if a client or a potential client wishes to review Experient Portfolio Management's Code of Ethics in its entirety, a copy will be provided promptly upon request.

Affiliate and Employee Personal Securities Transactions Disclosure

Experient Portfolio Management may buy or sell for his personal accounts, investment products identical to those recommended in the Fund. It is the express policy of Experient Portfolio Management that he may not purchase or sell any security prior to a transaction being implemented for an advisory account, and therefore, preventing him from benefiting from transactions placed on behalf of advisory accounts.

Experient Portfolio Management may recommend to clients that the client buy or sell securities in which Experient Portfolio Management or its related person has some financial interest. Specifically, Experient Portfolio Management may recommend to client the purchase or sale of shares of the Grand Prix Investors Fund. Experient Portfolio Management (John C. Foti DBA Experient Portfolio Management) is a sole proprietorship. John C. Foti, in his individual capacity, also is the owner of Autosport Fund Advisors, Inc., a federally registered investment adviser which is the adviser to the Grand Prix Investors Fund, a registered investment company. Additionally, John C. Foti is Trustee to the Grand Prix Investors Fund.

John C. Foti has a conflict of interest regarding the recommendation of transactions in the Grand Prix Investors Fund due to Autosport Fund Advisors, Inc.'s financial interest as adviser to the Fund, in which capacity Autosport Fund Advisors, Inc. is compensated based upon the amount of assets under management by Autosport Fund Advisors, Inc. Additionally, John C. Foti has a conflict of interest regarding the recommendation of transactions in the Grand Prix Investors Fund due to his interests as a Trustee to the Grand Prix Investors Fund. If a client of the investment adviser firm John C. Foti DBA Experient Portfolio Management holds shares of the Grand Prix Investors Fund, then Experient Portfolio Management would waive its fee for asset management services to Client for those assets of Client that are invested in the Grand Prix Investors Fund. In other words, there is no management fee charged by Experient Portfolio Management on any assets that are allocated to the Grand Prix Investors Fund. For any clients of Experient Portfolio Management who have assets allocated to the Grand Prix Investors Fund, John C. Foti will receive compensation per his affiliation with Autosport Fund Advisors and due to Autosport Funds Advisors receiving a management fee for providing investment management services to the Grand Prix Investors Fund.

Item 12 – Brokerage Practices

Experient Portfolio Management recommends that clients establish brokerage accounts with Trade PMR to maintain custody of clients' assets and to effect trades for their accounts. Experient Portfolio Management is independently owned and operated and not affiliated with Trade PMR. Trade PMR provides Experient Portfolio Management with access to institutional trading and custodial services. Custodial services include brokerage, custody, research and access to mutual funds and other investments.

Trade PMR also makes available to Experient Portfolio Management other products and services that benefit Experient Portfolio Management but may not benefit the clients' accounts of Experient Portfolio Management. Some of these other products and services assist Experient Portfolio Management in managing and administering clients' accounts. These include software and other technology that provide access to client account data (such as trade confirmation and account statements); facilitate trade execution (and allocation of aggregated trade orders for multiple client accounts); provide research, pricing information and other market data; facilitate payment of Experient Portfolio Management's fees from its clients' accounts; and assist with back-office functions; recordkeeping and client reporting. Many of these services generally may be used to service all or a substantial number of Experient Portfolio Management's accounts, including accounts not maintained at Trade PMR. Trade PMR also makes available to Experient Portfolio Management's other services intended to help Experient Portfolio Management manage and further develop its business enterprise. These services may include consulting, publications and conferences on practice management, information technology, business succession, regulatory compliance and marketing. In addition, Trade PMR may make available, arrange and/or pay for these types of services rendered to Experient Portfolio Management by an independent third party providing these services to Experient Portfolio Management. While as a fiduciary, Experient Portfolio Management endeavors to act in its clients' best interests, and Experient Portfolio Management's recommendation that clients maintain their assets in accounts at Trade PMR may be based in part on the benefit to Experient Portfolio Management of the availability of some of the foregoing products and services and not solely on the nature, cost or quality of custody and brokerage services provided by Trade PMR, which may create a potential conflict of interest.

Experient Portfolio Management does not require that clients use any specific broker/dealer or custodian for their managed accounts. At Experient Portfolio Management's discretion, the firm may provide services to clients who direct Experient Portfolio Management to use a broker/dealer or custodian other than Trade PMR for their managed accounts. However, when clients direct the use of a specific broker/dealer or custodian, they may receive less favorable prices than would otherwise be the case if clients had not designated a particular broker/dealer or custodian.

Handling Trade Errors

Experient Portfolio Management has implemented procedures designed to prevent trade errors; however, trade errors in client accounts cannot always be avoided. Consistent with its fiduciary duty, it is the policy of Experient Portfolio Management to correct trade errors in a manner that is in the best interest of the client. In cases where the client causes the trade error, the client will be responsible for any loss resulting from the correction. Depending on the specific circumstances of the trade error, the client may not be able to receive any gains generated as a result of the error correction. In all situations where the client does not cause the trade error, the client will be made whole and any loss resulting from the trade error will be absorbed by Experient Portfolio Management if the error was caused by the firm. If the error is caused by the broker-dealer, the broker-dealer will be responsible for handling the trade error. If an investment gain results from the correcting trade, the gain will remain in the client's account unless the same error involved other client account(s) that should also receive the gains and it is not permissible for all clients to retain the gain. Experient Portfolio Management may also confer with clients to determine if the client should forego the gain (e.g., due to tax reasons).

Experient Portfolio Management will never benefit or profit from trade errors.

Block Trading Policy

Transactions implemented by Experient Portfolio Management for client accounts are generally effected independently, unless Experient Portfolio Management decides to purchase or sell the same securities for several clients at approximately the same time. This process is referred to as aggregating orders, batch trading or block trading and is used by Experient Portfolio Management when Experient Portfolio Management believes such action may prove advantageous to clients. When Experient Portfolio Management aggregates client orders, the allocation of securities among client accounts will be done on a fair and equitable basis. Typically, the process of aggregating client orders is done in order to achieve better execution, to negotiate more favorable commission rates or to allocate orders among clients on a more equitable basis in order to avoid differences in prices and transaction fees or other transaction costs that might be obtained when orders are placed independently. Under this procedure, transactions will be averaged as to price and will be allocated among Experient Portfolio Management's clients in proportion to the purchase and sale orders placed for each client account on any given day. When Experient Portfolio Management determines to aggregate client orders for the purchase or sale of securities, including securities in which the associated person of Experient Portfolio Management may invest, Experient Portfolio Management will do so in accordance with the parameters set forth in the SEC No-Action Letter, SMC Capital, Inc. It should be noted, Experient Portfolio Management does not receive any additional compensation or remuneration as a result of aggregation.

Item 13 – Review of Accounts

Account Reviews and Reviewers

The calendar is the main triggering factor for account reviews, although more frequent reviews may be triggered by changes in the client's circumstances, client request, or unusual market and/or economic activity. Absent specific client instruction, accounts are reviewed for continued suitability, accuracy of holdings and to ensure the portfolios continue to work toward each client's goals and objectives. John Foti is responsible for day to day rebalancing, reallocation and ongoing trading services for the client accounts.

Statements and Reports

The custodian will provide account statements. Experient Portfolio Management will provide performance and position reports to clients on a quarterly or as needed basis.

Item 14 – Client Referrals and Other Compensation

Rule 206(4)-3 of the Advisers Act (“Rule 206(4)-3”) sets forth certain conditions that govern the ability of an investment adviser to make cash payments for the solicitation of clients. Prior to entering into an agreement with a solicitor, Experient will conduct a full due diligence investigation into the solicitor and their business practices to ensure that all the requirements of Rule 206(4)-3 are met. John Foti is responsible for conducting and documenting the initial and annual due diligence review of each solicitor. In order to ensure that Experient has fully satisfied its investigation responsibilities, the initial investigation of a solicitor will, at a minimum, include the following:

John Foti will conduct an annual review to examine any material changes the solicitor has made to its business practices since the last due diligence review. At least annually, John Foti will contact all solicitors to confirm each solicitor is delivering, at the time of solicitation to all prospects, the solicitor disclosure statement, Form ADV Part 2A and the Form ADV Part 2B Brochure Supplement(s) for any supervised person(s) of the adviser who will formulate the investment advice for the client and will have direct contact with the client, and any supervised person(s) of the adviser who has discretionary authority over the client’s assets.

Item 15 – Custody

Custody, as it applies to investment advisors, has been defined by regulators as having access or control over client funds and/or securities. In other words, custody is not limited to physically holding client funds and securities. If an investment advisor has the ability to access or control client funds or securities, the investment advisor is deemed to have custody and must ensure proper procedures are implemented.

Experient Portfolio Management is deemed to have custody of client funds and securities whenever Experient Portfolio Management is given the authority to have fees deducted directly from client accounts. However, this is the only form of custody Experient Portfolio Management will ever maintain. It should be noted that authorization to trade in client accounts is not deemed by regulators to be custody.

For accounts in which Experient Portfolio Management is deemed to have custody, the firm has established procedures to ensure all client funds and securities are held at a qualified custodian in a separate account for each client under that client’s name. Clients or an independent representative of the client will direct, in writing, the establishment of all accounts and therefore are aware of the qualified custodian’s name, address and the manner in which the funds or securities are maintained. Finally, account statements are delivered directly from the qualified custodian to each client, or the client’s independent representative, at least quarterly. Clients should carefully review those statements and are urged to compare the statements against reports received from Experient Portfolio Management. When clients have questions about their account statements, they should contact Experient Portfolio Management or the qualified custodian preparing the statement.

Item 16 – Investment Discretion

Through its asset management services and upon receiving written authorization from a client, Experient Portfolio Management will maintain trading authorization over client accounts. Upon receiving written authorization from the client, Experient Portfolio Management may implement trades on a discretionary basis. When discretionary authority is granted, Experient Portfolio Management will have the authority to determine the type of securities and the amount of securities that can be bought or sold for the client’s portfolio without obtaining the client’s consent for each transaction. However, it is the policy of Experient Portfolio Management to consult with the client prior to making significant changes in the account even when discretionary trading authority is granted by the client.

If you decide to grant trading authorization on a non-discretionary basis, we will be required to contact you prior to implementing changes in your account. Therefore, you will be contacted and required to accept or reject our investment recommendations including:

- The security being recommended
- The number of shares or units
- Whether to buy or sell

Once the above factors are agreed upon, Experient Portfolio Management will be responsible for making decisions regarding the timing of buying or selling an investment and the price at which the investment is bought or sold. If your accounts are managed on a non-discretionary basis, you need to know that if you are not able to be reached or are slow to respond to our request, it can have an adverse impact on the timing of trade implementations and we may not achieve the optimal trading price.

All clients have the ability to place reasonable restrictions on the types of investments that may be purchased in an account. Clients may also place reasonable limitations on the discretionary power granted to our firm so long as the limitations are specifically set forth or included as an attachment to the client agreement.
