Explanation of Designations

The Chartered Financial Analyst® (CFA) designation is a professional certification issued by the CFA Institute to qualified financial analysts who: (i) have a bachelor's degree and four years of qualified investment work experience [full time, but not necessarily investment related]; (ii) complete a self-study program (250 hours of study for each of the three levels); (iii) successfully complete a series of three six-hour exams; and (iv) pledge to adhere to the CFA Institute Code of Ethics and Standards of Professional Conduct.

The Certified Financial Planner™ (CFP®) and certification marks are financial planning credentials awarded by Certified Financial Planner Board of Standards Inc. (CFP Board) to individuals who meet education, examination, experience and ethics requirements.

Series 7 License - The general securities registered representative license administered by the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority (FINRA) that entitles the holder to sell all types of securities products with the exception of commodities and futures.

Series 24 License The securities license entitling the holder to supervise and manage branch activities. Before taking the Series 24 exam, a candidate must pass a prerequisite exam, the Series 7 being one example. The Series 24 exam is administered by the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority (FINRA) and covers topics such as corporate securities, real estate investment trusts, trading, customer accounts and regulatory guidelines.

Series 66 License - The Uniform Combined State Law Examination also called the Series 66 exam is developed by the North American Securities Administrators Association (NASAA) and is designed to qualify candidates as both securities agents and investment adviser representatives. The Uniform Combined State Law Examination consists of 100 multiple-choice questions and 10 pretest questions.
