Program Description

Every Newday Impact Portfolio is custom-made, proprietary, and targeted investment strategy built to benefit a specific area of impact. Our multi-portfolio approach allows us to provide a fully-diversified investment strategy while impacting the areas the clients care about directly.

The Program is offered to clients through two platforms: a web-based digital investment advisory portal (the “App”) and a full service advisory (“Premier”) channel designed to compliment our online services for clients requiring non-individual types of accounts.

Clients will receive Newday’s Investment Advisory Agreement which will further detail the services the Client will receive and the fees charged to the Client. It is important to note, Newday does not provide overall financial planning nor does it provide tax advice.

App Platform

The Newday App gives the Client access to automated investment guidance where they can learn about investing, create and manage an investment portfolio that is designed to meet their financial goals, interest and beliefs. Each Client is required to respond to a series of questions designed to identify the client’s investment objectives, risk tolerance and the impact theme(s) in which they are interested. Based solely on the information provided by the Client the Newday algorithms analyzes the information and provides the Client access to a selection of investment portfolios. Portfolios focus on the following themes: global, carbon, gender and ocean. Our investment management services are currently limited to these portfolios, but additional portfolios may be added in the future. Newday portfolios are managed by our portfolio managers.

Newday provides investment advice to each Client, and each Client is solely responsible for implementing any such recommendations. Newday provides ongoing investment management services on a discretionary basis only. Newday’s investment advice is not tailored to the individual needs of the clients and client may not place restrictions on their investment portfolio. Clients should carefully review all information provided by Newday and any relevant company reports prior to investing. Newday does not provide investment advice in person or over the phone or in any other manner to Newday App clients.

It is the Client’s obligation to promptly update their information through the Newday App if there are changes to their financial situation, personal circumstances, goals, objectives or if other relevant information changes.

Premier Platform

The Premier platform allows Clients who are unable to open accounts through the digital platform due to account type, ie. entity accounts, access to all Newday portfolios. Each Client is required to respond to a series of questions designed to identify the client's investment objectives, risk tolerance and the impact theme(s) in which they are interested.

Based solely on the information provided by the Client the Newday adviser analyzes the information and provides the Client investment portfolios recommendations. Newday portfolios are managed by our portfolio managers. Portfolios focus on the following themes: global, climate, gender, animal welfare and ocean. Our investment management services are currently limited to these portfolios, but additional portfolios may be added in the future. The Client should understand that the Newday adviser relies upon the information provided by the Client in making its risk assessment and providing investment advice.

Newday provides investment advice to each Client, and each Client is solely responsible for implementing any such recommendations. Newday's investment advice is may be tailored to the individual needs of the clients and client may place restrictions on their investment portfolio. Clients should carefully review all information provided by Newday and any relevant company reports prior to investing.

It is the Client's obligation to promptly update their information if there are changes to their financial situation, personal circumstances, goals, objectives or if other relevant information changes.

B. Fees

Newday Wrap Fee Program (the "Program") offers investment advisory service to clients in a program that bundles services together and charges a single fee based on the value of assets under management (the "Program"). A wrap fee program allows Newday to manage client accounts for a single fee that includes advisory services, trade execution, clearance, custodial and reporting.

These fees may be negotiable depending upon the needs of the client and complexity of the situation.

Newday will not act as the custodian for accounts opened on either the Newday Premier or App platform, though our right to deduct advisory fees from the Client Account deems us to have "custody" of your funds. The securities and assets in each Client account are held in a separate account in the name of the Client at an independent custodian. Apex Clearing Corporation ("Apex") shall be the custodian for digital app Client and Charles Schwab, Inc. ("Schwab") shall be the custodian for the premier Client, and it shall have possession of the assets of the Account. All brokerage and clearing services are provided by, and securities are offered through Apex or Schwab.

The fee schedule is set forth below:

Premier Platform

Fees are billed quarterly in arrears and using the last day of previous quarter for purposes of determining the market value of the assets upon which the advisory fee is based.

Fee Schedule (All Accounts)

Account Balance	Fee	Wrap Fee Description
Assets under management	1.00%	Annual fee

Digital Platform

Fees are billed monthly in arrears and are based on the average daily balance of the Account during the preceding month.

Fee Schedule Individual Accounts

Account Balance	Fee	Wrap Fee Description
under $100.00	0%	No fee on assets under $100.00
$101.00 or more	1.00% 0.60%	Annual fee on assets invested in Equities Annual fee on assets invested in Mutual Funds

Fee Schedule IRA Accounts (Individual Retirement Accounts)

Account Balance	Fee	Wrap Fee Description

N/A	$65.00	Termination Fee payable to Custodian

Advisory fees are withdrawn directly from the client's accounts with client's written authorization.

If a client terminates their investment advisory contract with Newday prior to month-end, the advisory fee will be pro-rated based on the portion of the month the account was opened, and Newday will automatically debit the amount of the fees from the assets of in the account. Fees are billed in arrears therefore, no refund policy is necessary.

The program may cost the client more or less than purchasing such services separately. There are several factors that bear upon the relative cost of the program, including the trading activity in the client's account, the adviser's ability to aggregate trades, and the cost of the services if provided separately (which in turn depends on the prices and specific services offered by different providers).

Newday reserves the right to waive the fee or any part thereof for any period for any Client at Newday's sole discretion.

C. Additional Fees

Clients incur certain charges imposed by custodians, brokers and other third parties such as fees charged by other managers, deferred sales charges, odd-lot differentials, transfer taxes, wire transfer and electronic fund fees and other fees and taxes on brokerage accounts and securities transactions. Mutual funds and exchange-traded funds charge internal management fee, which are disclosed in the fund's prospectus. Such charges, fees and commissions are exclusive of an in addition to our fee, and Newday does not receive any portion of these commissions, fees or costs incurred by the client.

D. Compensation of Client Participation

Neither Newday, nor any representatives of Newday receive any additional compensation beyond advisory fees for the participation of client's in the wrap fee program. However, compensation received may be more than what would have been received if client paid separately for investment advice, brokerage, and other services. Therefore, Newday may have a financial incentive to recommend the wrap fee program to clients.

In October 2017 Grow Financial Technologies, Inc. and GrowShares, Inc. change their name to Newday Financial Technologies Inc. and Newday Funds, Inc. (“Newday”), respectively.

Newday offers investment advisory services to its wrap fee program participants as discussed in Section 4 above.

Wrap Fee Portfolio Management

Digital Platform: Newday manages separate account Client portfolios in the Program based on the individual goals, objectives, time horizon, and risk tolerance of each client. Newday creates a portfolio with target asset allocations for equity and fixed income. The initial allocations are determined based on the Newday App software which selects the target asset allocation based on the information the Clients provided.

Premier Platform: Newday offers separate account clients on the Premier platform ongoing portfolio management services based on the individual goals, objectives, time horizon and risk tolerance of each Client. Newday creates an Investment Policy Statement for each client, which outlines the client’s current situation (income, tax levels, and risk tolerance levels) and then constructs a plan (the Investment Policy Statement) to aid in the recommendation of a portfolio that matches each client’s specific situation. Investment Supervisory Services include, but are not limited to, the following:

- Investment strategy
- Personal investment policy
- Asset allocation
- Asset selection
- Risk tolerance
- Regular portfolio monitoring

Newday evaluates the current investments of each client with respect to their risk tolerance levels and time horizon. Risk tolerance levels are documented in the Investment Policy Statement, which is given to each client.

Performance-Based Fees and Side-By-Side Management

Newday does not accept performance-based fees or other fees based on a share of capital gains or capital appreciation of the assets of a client.

Services Limited to Specific Types of Investments

Newday generally limits its investment advice to mutual funds, equities, fixed income, and ETFs. Newday may use other securities as well to help diversify a portfolio when applicable.

Client Tailored Services and Client Imposed Restrictions

Newday offers the same suite of services to all of its clients. However, Premier Clients may impose restrictions and their implementation are dependent upon the client Investment Policy Statement which outlines each client's current situation (income, tax levels, and risk tolerance levels) and is used to construct a client specific plan to aid in the selection of a portfolio that matches restrictions, needs, and targets.

Wrap Fee Programs

Newday sponsors and acts as portfolio manager for this wrap fee program. The fees paid to the wrap account program will be given to Newday as a management fee.

Amounts Under Management

Newday has the following assets under management:

Discretionary Amounts:	Non-discretionary Amounts:	Date Calculated:
$869,576	$0	December 31, 2018

Methods of Analysis and Investment Strategies

Newday's method of analysis include modern portfolio theory.

Modern portfolio theory is a theory of investment which attempts to maximize portfolio expected return for a given amount of portfolio risk, or equivalently minimize risk for a given level of expected return, by carefully choosing the proportions of various assets.

Newday uses long term trading.

Investing in securities involves a risk of loss that you, as a client, should be prepared to bear.

Material Risks Involved

Modern Portfolio Theory assumes that investors are risk averse, meaning that given two portfolios that offer the same expected return, investors will prefer the less risky one. Thus, an investor will take on increased risk only if compensated by higher expected returns. Conversely, an investor who wants higher expected returns must accept more risk. The exact trade-off will be the same for all investors, but different investors will evaluate the trade-off differently based on individual risk aversion characteristics. The implication is that a rational investor will not invest in a portfolio if a second portfolio exists with a more favorable risk-expected return profile – i.e., if for that level of risk an alternative portfolio exists which has better expected returns.

Long term trading is designed to capture market rates of both return and risk. Frequent trading, when done, can affect investment performance, particularly through increased brokerage and other transaction costs and taxes.

Investing in securities involves a risk of loss that you, as a client, should be prepared to bear.

Risks of Specific Securities Utilized

Newday generally seeks investment strategies that do not involve significant or unusual risk beyond that of the general domestic and/or international equity markets. The investment types listed below (leaving aside Treasury Inflation Protected/Inflation Linked Bonds) are not guaranteed or insured by the FDIC or any other government agency.

Mutual Funds: Investing in mutual funds carries the risk of capital loss and thus you may lose money investing in mutual funds. All mutual funds have costs that lower investment returns. They can be of bond “fixed income” nature (lower risk) or stock “equity” nature (mentioned above).

Equity investment generally refers to buying shares of stocks by an individual or firms in return for receiving a future payment of dividends and capital gains if the value of the stock increases. There is an innate risk involved when purchasing a stock that it may decrease in value and the investment may incur a loss.

Treasury Inflation Protected/Inflation Linked Bonds: The Risk of default on these bonds is dependent upon the U.S. Treasury defaulting (extremely unlikely); however, they carry a potential risk of losing share price value, albeit rather minimal.

Fixed Income is an investment that guarantees fixed periodic payments in the future that may involve economic risks such as inflationary risk, interest rate risk, default risk, repayment of principal risk, etc.

Stocks & Exchange Traded Funds (ETF): Investing in stocks & ETF's carries the risk of capital loss (sometimes up to a 100% loss in the case of a stock holding bankruptcy).

Long term trading is designed to capture market rates of both return and risk. Due to its nature, the long-term investment strategy can expose clients to various other types of risk that will typically surface at various intervals during the time the client owns the investments. These risks include but are not limited to inflation (purchasing power) risk, interest rate risk, economic risk, market risk, and political/regulatory risk.

Past performance is not a guarantee of future returns. Investing in securities involves a risk of loss that you, as a client, should be prepared to bear.

Voting Client Proxies

As an investment adviser, we are shareholder advocates and have a fiduciary duty to make investment decisions that are in our clients' best interest by maximizing the value of their shares. Proxy voting is an integral part of this process, through which we support strong corporate governance structures, shareholder rights, and transparency.

We have an obligation to vote proxies in a timely manner and we apply the principles in our Proxy Voting and Governance Policy ("Policy") to our proxy decision on behalf of all our clients. Our Policy outlines our policies for proxy voting and includes a wide range of issues that often appear on proxies.

The Policy is intended for use by those involved in the proxy voting decision-making process and those responsible for the administration of proxy voting ("Proxy Managers"), in order to ensure that our proxy voting policies and procedures are implemented consistently. Copies of the Policy, our voting records, as noted below in "Voting Transparency", and other related documents can be found on our website (www.newdayimpact.com).

We have an obligation to vote proxies in a timely manner and we apply the principles in this policy to our proxy decisions. We believe a company's environmental, social and governance ("ESG") practices may have a significant effect on the value of the company, and we take these factors into consideration when voting. Proxy voting is directed by all clients .

RESEARCH DECISION MAKING We approach our proxy voting responsibilities with the same commitment to rigorous research and engagement that we apply to all of our investment activities. The different investment philosophies utilized by our investment team may occasionally result in different conclusions being drawn regarding certain proposals and, in turn, may result in the Proxy Manager making different voting decisions on the same proposal. Nevertheless, the Proxy Manager votes proxies with the goal of maximizing the value of the securities in client portfolios.

ENGAGEMENT In evaluating proxy issues and determining our votes, we welcome and seek out the points of view from the Chief Investment Officer, and/or Research Analysts.

PROXY VOTING GUIDELINES Our proxy voting guidelines are both principles-based and rules-based. We adhere to a core set of principles that are described in the Policy. We assess each proxy proposal in light of these principles. We believe that authority and accountability for setting and executing corporate policies, goals and compensation generally should rest with the board of directors and senior management. In return, we support strong investor rights that allow shareholders to hold directors and management accountable if they fail to act in the best interests of shareholders. Our proxy voting guidelines pertaining to specific issues are set forth in the Policy and include guidelines relating to board and director proposals, compensation proposals, capital changes and anti-takeover proposals, auditor proposals, shareholder rights and governance proposals, and environmental, social and disclosure proposals. We generally vote proposals in accordance with these guidelines but, consistent with our "principles-based" approach to proxy voting, we may deviate from the guidelines if warranted by the specific facts and circumstances of the situation (i.e., if, under the circumstances, we believe that deviating from our stated policy is necessary to help maximize long-term shareholder value). In situations where our policy is case-by-case, the Policy often provides criteria that will guide our decision. In situations where our policy on a particular issue is case-by-case and the vote cannot be clearly decided by an application of our stated policy, a member of the Committee or his/her designee will make the voting decision in accordance with the basic principle of our policy to vote proxies with the intention of maximizing the value of the securities in our client accounts. Where appropriate, the views of investment professionals are considered. In addition, these guidelines are not intended to address all issues that may appear on all proxy ballots. Proposals not specifically addressed by these guidelines, whether submitted by management or shareholders, will be evaluated on a case-by-case basis, always keeping in mind our fiduciary duty to make voting decisions that, by maximizing long-term shareholder value, are in our clients' best interests. Lastly, we may choose to abstain on certain case-by-case items involving strategic decisions for positions held in purely passive portfolios as the cost of making an affirmative decision (time, resources, etc.) outweighs the effect of such an election on the value of the investment.

CONFLICTS OF INTEREST We recognize that there may be a potential material conflict of interest when we vote a proxy solicited by an issuer with whom we or an employee has another business or personal relationship that may affect how we vote on the issuer's proxy. In order to avoid any perceived or actual conflict of interest, we have established procedures for use when we encounter a potential conflict to ensure that our voting decisions are based on our clients' best interests and are not the product of a conflict. These procedures include compiling a list of companies and organizations whose proxies may pose potential conflicts of interest and reviewing our proposed votes for these companies and organizations in light of the Policy and ISS's recommendations. If our proposed vote is contrary to, or not contemplated in the Policy, is consistent with a client's position and is contrary to ISS's recommendation, we convene management to review and make a determination how to vote in the best interest of the client. In addition, the Compliance takes reasonable steps to verify that ISS continues to be independent, including an annual review of ISS's conflict management procedures. When reviewing these conflict management procedures, we consider, among other things, whether ISS (i) has the capacity and competency to adequately analyze proxy issues; and (ii) can offer research in an impartial manner and in the best interests of our clients.

RESEARCH SERVICES We subscribe to the corporate governance and proxy research services of Institutional Shareholder Services ("ISS"). All our investment professionals can access these materials via the Proxy Manager.

CONFIDENTIAL VOTING Newday supports confidentiality before the actual vote has been cast. Employees are prohibited from revealing how we intend to vote except to (i) the Research Analyst; and (ii) clients, upon request, for the securities held in their portfolios.

VOTING TRANSPARENCY We publish our voting records on our Internet site (www.newdayimpact.com) quarterly, 30 days after the end of the previous quarter.

RECORDKEEPING All of the records referenced in our Policy are kept in an easily accessible place for at least the length of time required by local regulation and custom, and, if such local regulation requires that records are kept for less than five years from the end of the fiscal year during which the last entry was made on such record, we follow the U.S. rule of five years. We maintain the vast majority of these records electronically.
