Item 4: Advisory Business

A. Description of the Advisory Firm

Bright Futures Wealth Management, LLC (hereinafter “BFWM”) is a Limited Liability Company. The firm became a registered investment adviser in 2017 and the principal owner is Keith Edward Condemi. Minority owners are Bruce A. Berman, Lourdes M. DeJesus, Collin R. Fingon, Melissa M. Florin, Sharon Ifrach, Craig D. LeFeber, Martin E. Paul, Robert N. Richard and Jeffrey D. Smith.

B. Types of Advisory Services

Portfolio Management & Selection of Other Advisers

BFWM offers ongoing portfolio management services based on the individual goals, objectives, time horizon, and risk tolerance of each client. BFWM creates an Investment Policy Statement for each client, which outlines the client’s current situation (income, tax levels, and risk tolerance levels). Portfolio management services include, but are not limited to, the following:

- Investment strategy
- Asset allocation
- Risk tolerance
- Personal investment policy
- Asset selection
- Regular portfolio monitoring

BFWM may also direct clients to third-party investment advisers to manage all or a portion of the client’s assets. Before selecting other advisers for clients, BFWM will always ensure those other advisers are properly licensed or registered as an investment adviser.

BFWM evaluates the current investments of each client with respect to their risk tolerance levels and time horizon. BFWM will request discretionary authority from clients in order to select securities and execute transactions without permission from the client prior to each transaction. Risk tolerance levels are documented in the Investment Policy Statement, which is given to each client.

BFWM seeks to provide that investment decisions are made in accordance with the fiduciary duties owed to its accounts and without consideration of BFWM’s economic, investment or other financial interests. To meet its fiduciary obligations, BFWM attempts to avoid, among other things, investment or trading practices that systematically advantage or disadvantage certain client portfolios, and accordingly, BFWM’s policy is to seek fair and equitable allocation of investment opportunities/transactions among its clients to avoid favoring one client over another over time. It is BFWM’s policy to allocate investment opportunities and transactions it identifies as being appropriate and prudent among its clients on a fair and equitable basis over time.

Pension Consulting Services

BFWM offers ongoing consulting services to pension or other employee benefit plans (including but not limited to 401(k) plans). Pension consulting may include, but is not limited to:

- identifying investment objectives and restrictions
- providing guidance on various assets classes and investment options
- providing advice regarding qualified default investment alternatives (“QDIA”) for participants who fail to make an investment election
- recommending money managers to manage plan assets in ways designed to achieve objectives
- monitoring performance of money managers and investment options and making recommendations for changes
- recommending other service providers, such as custodians, administrators and broker-dealers
- creating a written pension consulting plan

These services are based on the goals, objectives, demographics, time horizon, and/or risk tolerance of the plan and its participants.

Financial Planning

Financial plans and financial planning may include, but are not limited to: investment, retirement, college, business, divorce, insurance, debt, credit, tax, and estate planning.

Services Limited to Specific Types of Investments

BFWM generally limits its investment advice to registered investments including mutual funds, fixed income securities, options, real estate funds (including REITs), insurance products including annuities, equities, ETFs (including ETFs in the gold and precious metal sectors), treasury inflation protected/inflation linked bonds, non-U.S. securities and/or private placements. BFWM may use other securities (such as alternatives) as well to help diversify a portfolio when applicable.

C. Client Tailored Services and Client Imposed Restrictions

BFWM offers the same suite of services to all of its clients. However, specific client investment strategies and their implementation are dependent upon the client Investment Policy Statement which outlines each client’s current situation (income, tax levels, and risk tolerance levels). Clients may impose restrictions in investing in certain securities or types of securities in accordance with their values or beliefs. All restrictions must be provided in writing to BFWM and BFWM must provide written confirmation either accepting or not accepting any of the restrictions. However, if the restrictions prevent BFWM from properly servicing the client account, or if the restrictions would require BFWM to deviate from its standard suite of services, BFWM reserves the right to end the relationship.

D. Wrap Fee Programs

BFWM participates in and sponsors a wrap fee program, which is an investment program where the client pays one stated fee that includes management fees, transaction costs, fund expenses, and other administrative fees. BFWM manages the investments in the wrap fee program, but does not manage those wrap fee accounts any differently than it would manage non-wrap fee accounts. Fees paid under the wrap fee program will be given to BFWM as a management fee. However, this brochure describes BFWM's non-wrap fee advisory services; clients utilizing BFWM's wrap fee portfolio management should see the separate Wrap Fee Program Brochure.

E. Assets Under Management

C. Client Responsibility For Third Party Fees

This brochure describes BFWM's non-wrap fee advisory services; clients utilizing BFWM's wrap fee portfolio management should see the separate Wrap Fee Program Brochure. Client accounts not participating in the wrap fee program are responsible for the payment of all third party fees (i.e., custodian fees, brokerage fees, mutual fund fees, transaction fees, etc.). Those fees are separate and distinct from the fees and expenses charged by BFWM. Please see Item 12 of this brochure regarding broker/custodian relationships.

D. Prepayment of Fees

BFWM collects certain fees in advance. Refunds for fees paid in advance will be returned within fourteen days to the client via check, or return deposit back into the client's account.

For all asset-based fees paid in advance, the fee refunded will be equal to the balance of the fees collected in advance minus the daily rate* times the number of days elapsed in the billing period up to and including the day of termination. (*The daily rate is calculated by dividing the annual asset-based fee rate by 360.)

Fixed fees that are collected in advance will be refunded based on the prorated amount of work completed at the point of termination.

For hourly fees that are collected in advance, the fee refunded will be the balance of the fees collected in advance minus the hourly rate times the number of hours of work that has been completed up to and including the day of termination.

E. Outside Compensation For the Sale of Securities to Clients

Certain BFWM personnel are insurance agents and/or registered representatives of a broker-dealer. In these roles, they accept compensation for the sale of investment products to BFWM clients. Please also see Item 10 below.

1. This is a Conflict of Interest

Supervised persons may accept compensation for the sale of investment products, including asset based sales charges or service fees from the sale of mutual funds to BFWM's clients. This presents a conflict of interest and gives the supervised person an incentive to recommend products based on the compensation received rather than on the client's needs. When recommending the sale of investment products for which the supervised persons receives compensation, BFWM will document the conflict of interest in the client file and inform the client of the conflict of interest.

2. Clients Can Purchase Recommended Products From Other Brokers

Clients always have the option to purchase BFWM recommended products through other brokers or agents that are not affiliated with BFWM.

3. Commissions are not BFWM's primary compensation for advisory services

Commissions are not BFWM's primary source of compensation for advisory services.

4. Advisory Fees in Addition to Commissions or Markups

Advisory fees that are charged to clients are not reduced to offset the commissions or markups on investment products recommended to clients.

In addition to advisory fees, your Advisor may earn sales incentives or awards from Cetera Advisors, LLC ("Cetera") based on the value of assets under management, investment products sold, number of sales, client referrals, amount of new deposits or amount of new accounts at Cetera. Your Advisor may also receive forgivable loans from Cetera, which are conditioned on your advisor retaining Cetera's broker-dealer and/or registered investment advisor services. This additional economic benefit creates a conflict of interest for your Advisor to retain affiliation with Cetera in order to avoid re-payment on a loan. Cetera and BFWM maintain a Code of Ethics requiring your Advisor to always act in your best interest and maintain a supervisory structure to monitor the advisory activities of your Advisor in order to reduce potential conflicts of interest. For any Advisor who receives the above compensation or economic benefits from Cetera, it will be disclosed on that Advisor's ADV 2B.

Item 6: Performance-Based Fees and Side-By-Side Management

BFWM does not accept performance-based fees or other fees based on a share of capital gains on or capital appreciation of the assets of a client.

Item 7: Types of Clients

BFWM generally provides advisory services to the following types of clients:

- ❖ Individuals/Estates
- ❖ Accredited Investors
- ❖ Entities (Corporations, Partnerships, Non-Profits)
- ❖ Trusts
- ❖ Pension and Profit Sharing Plans

There is no account minimum for any of BFWM's services.

Item 8: Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies, & Risk of Loss

A. Methods of Analysis and Investment Strategies

Methods of Analysis

BFWM's methods of analysis including, but not limited to Charting analysis, Cyclical analysis, Fundamental analysis, Modern portfolio theory, Quantitative analysis or Technical analysis.

Charting analysis involves the use of patterns in performance charts. BFWM uses this technique to search for patterns used to help predict favorable conditions for buying and/or selling a security.

Cyclical analysis involves the analysis of business cycles to find favorable conditions for buying and/or selling a security.

Fundamental analysis involves the analysis of financial statements, the general financial health of companies, and/or the analysis of management or competitive advantages.

Modern portfolio theory is a theory of investment that attempts to maximize portfolio expected return for a given amount of portfolio risk, or equivalently minimize risk for a given level of expected return, each by carefully choosing the proportions of various asset.

Quantitative analysis deals with measurable factors as distinguished from qualitative considerations such as the character of management or the state of employee morale, such as the value of assets, the cost of capital, historical projections of sales, and so on.

Technical analysis involves the analysis of past market data; primarily price and volume.

Investment Strategies

BFWM uses long term trading, margin transactions or options trading (including covered options, uncovered options, or spreading strategies).

Investing in securities involves a risk of loss that you, as a client, should be prepared to bear.

B. Material Risks Involved

Methods of Analysis

Charting analysis strategy involves using and comparing various charts to predict long and short term performance or market trends. The risk involved in using this method is that only past performance data is considered without using other methods to crosscheck data. Using charting analysis without other methods of analysis would be making the assumption that past performance will be indicative of future performance. This may not be the case.

Cyclical analysis assumes that the markets react in cyclical patterns which, once identified, can be leveraged to provide performance. The risks with this strategy are two-fold: 1) the markets do not always repeat cyclical patterns; and 2) if too many investors begin to implement this strategy, then it changes the very cycles these investors are trying to exploit.

Fundamental analysis concentrates on factors that determine a company's value and expected future earnings. This strategy would normally encourage equity purchases in stocks that are undervalued or priced below their perceived value. The risk assumed is that the market will fail to reach expectations of perceived value.

Modern portfolio theory assumes that investors are risk averse, meaning that given two portfolios that offer the same expected return, investors will prefer the less risky one. Thus, an investor will take on increased risk only if compensated by higher expected returns. Conversely, an investor who wants higher expected returns must accept more risk. The exact trade-off will be the same for all investors, but different investors will evaluate the trade-off differently based on individual risk aversion characteristics. The implication is that a rational investor will not invest in a portfolio if a second portfolio exists with a more favorable risk-expected return profile – i.e., if for that level of risk an alternative portfolio exists which has better expected returns.

Quantitative analysis Investment strategies using quantitative models may perform differently than expected as a result of, among other things, the factors used in the models, the weight placed on each factor, changes from the factors' historical trends, and technical issues in the construction and implementation of the models.

Technical analysis attempts to predict a future stock price or direction based on market trends. The assumption is that the market follows discernible patterns and if these patterns can be identified then a prediction can be made. The risk is that markets do not always follow patterns and relying solely on this method may not take into account new patterns that emerge over time.

Investing involves risks that may not be articulated above.

Investment Strategies

BFWM's use of margin transactions or options trading generally holds greater risk. Clients should be aware that there is a material risk of loss using any of these strategies.

Long term trading is designed to capture market rates of both return and risk. Due to its nature, the long-term investment strategy can expose clients to various types of risk that will typically surface at various intervals during the time the client owns the investments. These risks include but are not limited to inflation (purchasing power) risk, interest rate risk, economic risk, market risk, and political/regulatory risk.

Margin transactions use leverage that is borrowed from a brokerage firm as collateral. When losses occur, the value of the margin account may fall below the brokerage firm's threshold thereby triggering a margin call. This may force the account holder to either allocate more funds to the account or sell assets on a shorter time frame than desired.

Options transactions involve a contract to purchase a security at a given price, not necessarily at market value, depending on the market. This strategy includes the risk that an option may expire out of the money resulting in minimal or no value, as well as the possibility of leveraged loss of trading capital due to the leveraged nature of stock options.

Selection of Other Advisers: BFWM's selection process cannot ensure that money managers will perform as desired and BFWM will have no control over the day-to-day operations of any of its selected money managers. BFWM would not necessarily be aware of certain activities at the underlying money manager level, including without limitation a money manager's engaging in unreported risks, investment "style drift" or even regulatory breaches or fraud.

Investing in securities involves a risk of loss that you, as a client, should be prepared to bear.

C. Risks of Specific Securities Utilized

BFWM's use of margin transactions or options trading generally holds greater risk of capital loss. Clients should be aware that there is a material risk of loss using any investment strategy. The investment types listed below (leaving aside Treasury Inflation Protected/Inflation Linked Bonds and Agency Bonds) are not guaranteed or insured by the FDIC or any other government agency.

Mutual Funds: Investing in mutual funds carries the risk of capital loss and thus you may lose money investing in mutual funds. All mutual funds have costs that lower investment returns. The funds can be of bond “fixed income” nature (lower risk) or stock “equity” nature.

Equity investment generally refers to buying shares of stocks in return for receiving a future payment of dividends and/or capital gains if the value of the stock increases. The value of equity securities may fluctuate in response to specific situations for each company, industry conditions and the general economic environments.

Fixed income investments generally pay a return on a fixed schedule, though the amount of the payments can vary. This type of investment can include corporate and government debt securities, leveraged loans, high yield, and investment grade debt and structured products, such as mortgage and other asset-backed securities, although individual bonds may be the best known type of fixed income security. In general, the fixed income market is volatile and fixed income securities carry interest rate risk. (As interest rates rise, bond prices usually fall, and vice versa. This effect is usually more pronounced for longer-term securities.) Fixed income securities also carry inflation risk, liquidity risk, call risk, and credit and default risks for both issuers and counterparties. The risk of default on treasury inflation protected/inflation linked and agency bonds are dependent upon the U.S. Treasury defaulting (extremely unlikely); however, they carry a potential risk of losing share price value, albeit rather minimal. Risks of investing in foreign fixed income securities also include the general risk of non-U.S. investing described below.

Exchange Traded Funds (ETFs): An ETF is an investment fund traded on stock exchanges, similar to stocks. Investing in ETFs carries the risk of capital loss (sometimes up to a 100% loss in the case of a stock holding bankruptcy). Areas of concern include the lack of transparency in products and increasing complexity, conflicts of interest and the possibility of inadequate regulatory compliance. Precious Metal ETFs (e.g., Gold, Silver, or Palladium Bullion backed “electronic shares” not physical metal) specifically may be negatively impacted by several unique factors, among them (1) large sales by the official sector which own a significant portion of aggregate world holdings in gold and other precious metals, (2) a significant increase in hedging activities by producers of gold or other precious metals, (3) a significant change in the attitude of speculators and investors.

Real estate funds (including REITs) face several kinds of risk that are inherent in the real estate sector, which historically has experienced significant fluctuations and cycles in performance. Revenues and cash flows may be adversely affected by: changes in local real estate market conditions due to changes in national or local economic conditions or changes in local property market characteristics; competition from other properties offering the same or similar services; changes in interest rates and in the state of the debt and equity credit markets; the ongoing need for capital improvements; changes in real estate tax rates and other operating expenses; adverse changes in governmental rules and fiscal policies; adverse changes in zoning laws; the impact of present or future environmental legislation and compliance with environmental laws.

Annuities are a retirement product for those who may have the ability to pay a premium now and want to guarantee they receive certain monthly payments or a return on investment later in the future. Annuities are contracts issued by a life insurance company designed to meet requirement or other long-term goals. An annuity is not a life insurance policy. Variable annuities are designed to be long-term investments, to meet retirement and other long-range goals. Variable annuities are not suitable for meeting short-term goals because substantial taxes and insurance company charges may apply if you withdraw your money early. Variable annuities also involve investment risks, just as mutual funds do.

Private placements carry a substantial risk as they are subject to less regulation than are publicly offered securities, the market to resell these assets under applicable securities laws may be illiquid, due to restrictions, and the liquidation may be taken at a substantial discount to the underlying value or result in the entire loss of the value of such assets.

Options are contracts to purchase a security at a given price, risking that an option may expire out of the money resulting in minimal or no value. An uncovered option is a type of options contract that is not backed by an offsetting position that would help mitigate risk. The risk for a “naked” or uncovered put is not unlimited, whereas the potential loss for an uncovered call option is limitless. Spread option positions entail buying and selling multiple options on the same underlying security, but with different strike prices or expiration dates, which helps limit the risk of other option trading strategies. Option transactions also involve risks including but not limited to economic risk, market risk, sector risk, idiosyncratic risk, political/regulatory risk, inflation (purchasing power) risk and interest rate risk.

Alternative Investments are investments that cover a wide variety of investments and strategies, which share the ability to pursue unique return streams from those offered by traditional stock and bond investments.

Non-U.S. securities- present certain risks such as currency fluctuation, political and economic change, social unrest, changes in government regulation, differences in accounting and the lesser degree of accurate public information available.

Past performance is not indicative of future results. Investing in securities involves a risk of loss that you, as a client, should be prepared to bear.

Item 9: Disciplinary Information

A. Criminal or Civil Actions

There are no criminal or civil actions to report.

B. Administrative Proceedings

There are no administrative proceedings to report.

C. Self-regulatory Organization (SRO) Proceedings

There are no self-regulatory organization proceedings to report.

Item 10: Other Financial Industry Activities and Affiliations

A. Registration as a Broker/Dealer or Broker/Dealer Representative

Supervised persons of BFWM are registered representatives of Cetera Advisors, LLC, a registered broker-dealer.

B. Registration as a Futures Commission Merchant, Commodity Pool Operator, or a Commodity Trading Advisor

Neither BFWM nor its representatives are registered as or have pending applications to become either a Futures Commission Merchant, Commodity Pool Operator, or Commodity Trading Advisor or an associated person of the foregoing entities.

C. Registration Relationships Material to this Advisory Business and Possible Conflicts of Interests

Supervised persons of BFWM are investment adviser representatives of Cetera Advisors, LLC, a registered investment adviser firm. In addition, supervised persons of the firm are licensed insurance agents and a real estate broker. The firm also has related persons which are an insurance agency and an accounting firm.

The supervised persons will offer clients advice or products from those activities. Clients should be aware that these services pay a commission or other compensation and involve a conflict of interest, as commissionable products conflict with the fiduciary duties of a registered investment adviser. BFWM may also have business dealings with the related persons involving advisory clients. BFWM always acts in the best interest of the client; including the sale of commissionable products to advisory clients. Clients are in no way required to utilize the services of any representative of BFWM in connection with such individual's activities outside of BFWM or the services of any related person of BFWM.

Some supervised persons are also licensed insurance agents. From time to time, they will offer clients advice or products from those activities. Clients should be aware that these services pay a commission and involve a conflict of interest, as commissionable products conflict with the fiduciary duties of a registered investment adviser. BFWM always acts in the best interest of the client; including the sale of commissionable products to advisory clients. Clients always have the right to decide whether or not to utilize the services of any representative of BFWM in such individual's outside capacities.

D. Selection of Other Advisers or Managers and How This Adviser is Compensated for Those Selections

BFWM may direct clients to third-party investment advisers to manage all or a portion of the client's assets. BFWM will be compensated via a fee share from the advisers to which it directs those clients. This relationship will be memorialized in each contract between BFWM and each third-party advisor. The fees shared will not exceed any limit imposed by any regulatory agency. This creates a conflict of interest in that BFWM has an incentive to direct clients to the third-party investment advisers that provide BFWM with a larger fee split. BFWM will always act in the best interests of the client, including when determining which third-party investment adviser to recommend to clients. BFWM will ensure that all recommended advisers are licensed or notice filed in the states in which BFWM is recommending them to clients.

Item 11: Code of Ethics, Participation or Interest in Client Transactions and Personal Trading

A. Code of Ethics

BFWM has a written Code of Ethics that covers the following areas: Prohibited Purchases and Sales, Insider Trading, Personal Securities Transactions, Exempted Transactions, Prohibited Activities, Conflicts of Interest, Gifts and Entertainment, Confidentiality, Service on a Board of Directors, Compliance Procedures, Compliance with Laws and Regulations, Procedures and Reporting, Certification of Compliance, Reporting Violations, Compliance Officer Duties, Training and Education, Recordkeeping, Annual Review, and Sanctions. BFWM's Code of Ethics is available free upon request to any client or prospective client.

B. Recommendations Involving Material Financial Interests

Client approval will be sought for client investment in such recommendations and, if granted, such approval will be binding. If a principal transaction arises, BFWM will only execute such transaction with the consent of the applicable client. Principal transactions are generally defined as transactions where an adviser, acting as principal for its own account or the account of a related person, buys from or sells any security to any advisory client.

C. Investing Personal Money in the Same Securities as Clients

From time to time, representatives of BFWM may buy or sell securities for themselves that they also recommend to clients. This may provide an opportunity for representatives of BFWM to buy or sell the same securities before or after recommending the same securities to clients resulting in representatives profiting off the recommendations they provide to clients. Such transactions may create a conflict of interest. BFWM will always document any transactions that could be construed as conflicts of interest and will never engage in trading that operates to the client's disadvantage when similar securities are being bought or sold.

D. Trading Securities At/Around the Same Time as Clients' Securities

From time to time, representatives of BFWM may buy or sell securities for themselves at or around the same time as clients. This may provide an opportunity for representatives of BFWM to buy or sell securities before or after recommending securities to clients resulting in representatives profiting off the recommendations they provide to clients. Such transactions may create a conflict of interest; however, BFWM will never engage in trading that operates to the client's disadvantage if representatives of BFWM buy or sell securities at or around the same time as clients.

Item 12: Brokerage Practices

A. Factors Used to Select Custodians and/or Broker/Dealers

Custodians/broker-dealers will be recommended based on BFWM's duty to seek "best execution," which is the obligation to seek execution of securities transactions for a client on the most favorable terms for the client under the circumstances. Clients will not necessarily pay the lowest commission or commission equivalent, and BFWM may also consider the market expertise and research access provided by the broker-dealer/custodian, including but not limited to access to written research, oral communication with analysts, admittance to research conferences and other resources provided by the brokers that may aid in BFWM's research efforts. BFWM will never charge a premium or commission on transactions, beyond the actual cost imposed by the broker-dealer/custodian.

BFWM will recommend clients use TD Ameritrade Institutional, a division of TD Ameritrade, Inc. Member FINRA/SIPC.

1. Research and Other Soft-Dollar Benefits

While BFWM has a soft dollar program with TD Ameritrade Institutional to receive monies equivalent to the cost of a third-party reporting and trading software of BFWM's choosing. BFWM has a soft dollar agreement with TD Ameritrade to receive up to $150,000 for business expenses paid for 3rd party providers. BFWM may receive additional research, products, or other services from custodians and broker-dealers in connection with client securities transactions (“soft dollar benefits”). BFWM may enter into soft-dollar arrangements consistent with (and not outside of) the safe harbor contained in Section 28(e) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended. There can be no assurance that any particular client will benefit from soft dollar research, whether or not the client’s transactions paid for it, and BFWM does not seek to allocate benefits to client accounts proportionate to any soft dollar credits generated by the accounts. BFWM benefits by not having to produce or pay for the research, products or services, and BFWM will have an incentive to recommend a broker-dealer based on receiving research or services. Clients should be aware that BFWM’s acceptance of soft dollar benefits may result in higher fees charged to the client.

2. Brokerage for Client Referrals

BFWM receives no referrals from a broker-dealer or third party in exchange for using that broker-dealer or third party.

3. Clients Directing Which Broker/Dealer/Custodian to Use

We do not recommend, request, require, or permit our clients to direct us to execute transactions through a specific broker-dealer.

B. Aggregating (Block) Trading for Multiple Client Accounts

If BFWM buys or sells the same securities on behalf of more than one client, then it may (but would be under no obligation to) aggregate or bunch such securities in a single transaction for multiple clients in order to seek more favorable prices, lower brokerage commissions, or more efficient execution. In such case, BFWM would place an aggregate order with the broker on behalf of all such clients in order to ensure fairness for all clients; provided, however, that trades would be reviewed periodically to ensure that accounts are not systematically disadvantaged by this policy. BFWM would determine the appropriate number of shares and select the appropriate brokers consistent with its duty to seek best execution, except for those accounts with specific brokerage direction (if any).

Item 13: Review of Accounts

A. Frequency and Nature of Periodic Reviews and Who Makes Those Reviews

All client accounts for BFWM's advisory services provided on an ongoing basis are reviewed and documented at least annually by the IAR's of BFWM, with regard to clients' respective investment policies and risk tolerance levels. All portfolios at BFWM are reviewed by the respective Investment Policy Committees at least monthly. The BFWM

Compliance Committee will periodically review the IAR annual reviews and Investment Policy Committee adherence to these parameters.

All financial planning contracts are reviewed upon financial plan contract acceptance and financial plan completion and delivery is reviewed by a member of the BFWM Compliance Committee.

All Consulting services will be reviewed upon receipt of the consulting contract acceptance and invoice and corresponding payment.

B. Factors That Will Trigger a Non-Periodic Review of Client Accounts

Reviews may be triggered by material market, economic or political events, or by changes in client's financial situations (such as retirement, termination of employment, physical move, or inheritance).

With respect to financial plans, BFWM's services will generally conclude upon delivery of the financial plan.

C. Content and Frequency of Regular Reports Provided to Clients

Each client of BFWM's advisory services will receive a report detailing the client's account, including assets held, asset value, and calculation of fees. This account statement will come from the custodian. BFWM will also provide quarterly a separate portfolio report.

Each financial planning client will receive the financial plan upon completion.

Item 14: Client Referrals and Other Compensation

A. Economic Benefits Provided by Third Parties for Advice Rendered to Clients (Includes Sales Awards or Other Prizes)

BFWM participates in the institutional advisor program (the "Program") offered by TD Ameritrade. TD Ameritrade offers to independent investment advisor services which include custody of securities, trade execution, clearance and settlement of transactions. BFWM receives some benefits from TD Ameritrade through its participation in the Program.

As disclosed above, BFWM participates in TD Ameritrade's institutional advisor program and BFWM may recommend TD Ameritrade to clients for custody and brokerage services.

There is no direct link between BFWM's participation in the Program and the investment advice it gives to its clients, although BFWM receives economic benefits through its participation in the Program that are typically not available to TD Ameritrade retail investors. These benefits include the following products and services (provided without cost or at a discount): receipt of duplicate client statements and confirmations; research related products and tools; consulting services; access to a trading desk serving BFWM participants; access to block trading (which provides the ability to aggregate securities transactions for execution and then allocate the appropriate shares to client accounts); the ability to have BFWM's fees deducted directly from client accounts; access to an electronic communications network for client order entry and account information; access to mutual funds with no transaction fees and to certain institutional money managers; and discounts on compliance, marketing, research, technology, and practice management products or services provided to BFWM by third party vendors. TD Ameritrade may also pay for business consulting and professional services received by BFWM's related persons. Some of the products and services made available by TD Ameritrade through the Program may benefit BFWM but may not benefit its client accounts. These products or services may assist BFWM in managing and administering client accounts, including accounts not maintained at TD Ameritrade. Other services made available by TD Ameritrade are intended to help BFWM manage and further develop its business enterprise. The benefits received by BFWM or its personnel through participation in the Program do not depend on the amount of brokerage transactions directed to TD Ameritrade. As part of its fiduciary duties to clients, BFWM endeavors at all times to put the interests of its clients first. Clients should be aware, however, that the receipt of economic benefits by BFWM or its related persons in and of itself creates a conflict of interest and may indirectly influence the BFWM's choice of TD Ameritrade for custody and brokerage services.

B. Compensation to Non – Advisory Personnel for Client Referrals

BFWM does not compensate non-advisory personnel (solicitors) for client referrals.

Item 15: Custody

When advisory fees are deducted directly from client accounts at client's custodian, BFWM will be deemed to have limited custody of client's assets and must have written authorization from the client to do so. Clients will receive all account statements and billing invoices that are required in each jurisdiction, and they should carefully review those statements for accuracy.

Item 16: Investment Discretion

BFWM provides discretionary and non-discretionary investment advisory services to clients. The advisory agreement established with each client sets forth the discretionary authority for trading. Where investment discretion has been granted, BFWM generally manages the client's account and makes investment decisions without consultation with the client as to when the securities are to be bought or sold for the account, the total amount of the securities to be bought/sold, what securities to buy or sell, or the price per share.

Item 17: Voting Client Securities (Proxy Voting)

BFWM will not ask for, nor accept voting authority for client securities. Clients will receive proxies directly from the issuer of the security or the custodian. Clients should direct all proxy questions to the issuer of the security.

Item 18: Financial Information

A. Balance Sheet

BFWM neither requires nor solicits prepayment of more than $1200 in fees per client, six months or more in advance, and therefore is not required to include a balance sheet with this brochure.

B. Financial Conditions

Neither BFWM nor its management has any financial condition that is likely to reasonably impair BFWM's ability to meet contractual commitments to clients.

C. Bankruptcy Petitions in Previous Ten Years

BFWM has not been the subject of a bankruptcy petition in the last ten years.
