Founded in 2001, Altamont Capital Management, LLC provides investment advice and portfolio management services on a continuing basis, which may include the review of client objectives and goals, recommending asset allocation strategies of managed assets primarily in exchange-listed equity securities, variable annuities and mutual fund shares, corporate bonds, and U.S. Government securities, and/or preparing written investment strategies.

More specific information regarding our services is as follows:

ASSET ALLOCATION THROUGH ADVISOR SERVICES

The Adviser offers an asset allocation program through Advisor Services by Savant Wealth Management, an independent investment adviser registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission. Adviser will work with the client to determine the client’s investment objectives, risk and return characteristics and types of investments and provide a written Investment Policy Statement. Adviser assists clients in selecting the investment strategies that are consistent with the client’s investment policy. Adviser evaluates the client’s existing investments with respect to the client’s investment policy and individual performance. We then work with clients to develop a transition plan in order to move from client’s existing asset allocation to the desired asset allocation. Adviser will direct the investment and reinvestment of the assets in the client’s account. We will monitor the performance of the assets as well as the asset allocation strategy and then meet with the client as requested to review performance reports provided to the client.

Adviser provides ongoing investment supervisory services on the client’s behalf. These services include the following:

- A. Prepare the client’s Investment Policy Statement;
- B. Review client’s risk profile;
- C. Recommend options to achieve the client’s financial objectives;

- D. Implement investment strategies; and
- E. Report to client and monitor performance of the client's investments.

Adviser and Savant Wealth Management each receive a portion the Retirement Plan Services fees paid by participating 401(k) plans according to the schedule above. The percentage of fees paid to Savant Wealth Management and the Advisor may vary from time to time as agreed upon in writing by Advisor and Savant Wealth Management.

The fees are payable quarterly in arrears. The annual fee is charged on the entire account balance computed and billed quarterly in arrears based on the account value as of the final business day of the preceding quarter. Fees are negotiable and may be waived in certain circumstances.

Fee Billing

Client typically grants Adviser or its agent authority to receive quarterly payments directly from the client's account held by an independent custodian. The Adviser or its agent will send to the client and the custodian a bill showing the amount of the fee, the value of client's assets on which the fee was based, and the specific manner in which the fee was calculated. The custodian will send to the client a statement, at least quarterly, indicating all the amounts disbursed from the account including the amount of advisory fees paid directly to the Adviser. It is the client's responsibility to verify the accuracy of the fee calculation, as the custodian will not do so.

Other Fees and Expenses

In addition to advisory fees paid to Altamont Capital Management, LLC as explained above, clients may pay custodial service, account maintenance, transaction, and other fees associated with maintaining the account. These fees vary by broker and/or custodian. Clients should ask Altamont Capital Management, LLC for details on transaction fees or other custodial fees specific to their account, as these fees are not included in the annual advisory fee. Altamont Capital Management, LLC does not share any portion of such fees. Additionally, for any mutual funds purchased, the client may pay their proportionate share of the funds' distribution, internal management, investment advisory and administrative fees. Such fees are not shared with Altamont Capital Management, LLC and are compensation to the fund manager. Clients are urged to read the mutual fund prospectus prior to investing.

Mutual fund companies impose internal fees and expenses on clients. These fees are in addition to the costs associated with the investment advisory services as described above. Complete details of such internal expenses are specified and disclosed in each mutual fund company's prospectus. Clients are strongly advised to review the prospectus(es) prior to investing in such securities.

Mutual funds purchased or sold in broker-dealer accounts may generate transaction fees that would not exist if the purchase or sale were made directly with the mutual fund company. Mutual funds held in broker-dealer accounts also charge management fees. These mutual fund management fees may be more or less than the mutual fund management fees charged if the client held the mutual fund directly with the mutual fund company.

Clients may purchase shares of mutual funds directly from the mutual fund issuer, its principal underwriter, or a distributor without purchasing the services of Altamont Capital Management, LLC or paying the advisory fee on such shares (but subject to any applicable sales charges). Certain mutual funds are offered to the public without a sales charge. In the case of mutual funds offered with a sales charge, the prevailing sales charge (as described in the mutual fund prospectus) may be more or less than the applicable advisory fee. However, clients would not receive Altamont Capital Management, LLC's assistance in developing an investment strategy, selecting securities, monitoring performance of the account, and making changes as necessary.

Please refer to Item 12 "Brokerage Practices" of this brochure for additional information

Termination of Advisory Agreement

Clients may terminate their contract with the Adviser at any time upon written notice without the imposition of any penalty. The client will be billed for costs incurred up to the date of termination. The Adviser will refund the pro rata, unearned portion of the advisory fees paid to the Adviser.

Clients will receive full refunds should they terminate the agreement within five business days of signing with the Adviser.

Item 6. Performance Based Fees and Side by Side Management

Altamont Capital Management, LLC does not charge performance-based fees or participate in side-by-side management. Side-by-side management refers to the practice of managing accounts that are charged performance-based fees while at the same time managing accounts that are not charged performance-based fees. Performance-based fees are fees that are based on a share of capital gains or appreciation of the assets of a client. Our fees are calculated as described in Fees and Compensation section above and are not charged on the basis of performance of your advisory account.

Item 7. Types of Clients and Minimum Requirements

The Adviser generally provides investment advice to individuals, high net worth individuals, pension and profit-sharing plans, trusts, estates, corporations and other business entities.

In general, a minimum of $150,000 is required to open and maintain an advisory account. At our discretion, we may waive the minimum account size. For example, we may waive the minimum if you appear to have significant potential for increasing your assets under management. We may also combine account values for you and your minor children, joint accounts with your spouse, and other types of related accounts to meet the stated minimum.

Item 8. Method of Analysis, Investment Strategies and Risk of Loss

Methods of Analysis

The Adviser's method of security analysis is primarily fundamental, based upon sources of information from research materials, financial newspapers and magazines, annual reports, prospectuses, filings with the SEC and company press releases.

When using fundamental analysis, the data we review is generally considered reliable, but we cannot guarantee, nor have we verified its accuracy. In addition, the data that we review is sometimes subjective in nature and open to interpretation. Even if our data and interpretation of the data is correct, there may be other factors that determine the value of securities other than those considered in fundamental analysis.

Principal Investment Strategies

The Adviser typically uses a long-term investment strategy to implement investment advice given to clients.

Adviser's investment strategy is based upon long-term investment objectives that incorporate the principles of Modern Portfolio Theory. Adviser's investment approach is firmly rooted in the belief that markets are "efficient," and that investors' returns are determined principally by asset allocation decisions, not market timing or stock picking. Adviser provides access to diversified portfolios, which make use of passively managed, asset class mutual funds that are available only to institutional investors and clients of a network of selected investment advisors.

A long-term purchase strategy generally assumes the financial markets will go up in the long-term, which may not be the case. There is also the risk that the segment of the market that you are invested in or perhaps just your particular investment will go down over time even if the overall financial markets advance. Purchasing investments long-term may involve an opportunity cost – that of "locking-up" assets that may be better utilized in the short-term for other investments.

Principal Investment Risks

Investing in securities involves risk of loss that clients should be prepared to bear. Risk refers to the possibility that you will lose money (both principal and any earnings) or fail to make money on an investment. The Adviser cannot guarantee that it will achieve a client's investment objective. Below are some of the more specific risks of investments which the Adviser may recommend to clients:

Investment Company Risk. When a client invests in open end mutual funds or ETFs, the client indirectly bears its proportionate share of any fees and expenses payable directly by those funds. Therefore, the client will incur higher expenses, many of which may be duplicative. In addition, the client's overall portfolio may be affected by losses of an underlying fund and the level of risk arising from the investment practices of an underlying fund (such as the use of derivatives). ETFs are also subject to the following risks: (i) an ETF's shares may trade at a market price that is above or below their net asset value; (ii) the ETF may employ an investment strategy that utilizes high leverage ratios; or (iii) trading of an ETF's shares may be halted if the listing exchange's officials deem such action appropriate, the shares are delisted from the exchange, or the activation of market-wide "circuit breakers" (which are tied to large decreases in stock prices) halts stock trading generally. Adviser has no control over the risks taken by the underlying funds in which clients invest.

Item 9. Disciplinary Information

The Adviser has no material legal or disciplinary events to report.

Item 10. Other Financial Industry Activities and Affiliations

All but one of the Adviser's investment advisory representatives are CPAs affiliated with Gould Killian CPA Group, P.A., an accounting and consulting firm providing accounting, compliance, and tax consulting services to clients. These advisory representatives spend approximately 95% of their time providing advice to clients of the accounting firm and 5% of their time providing investment advice.

Savant Wealth Management, LLC is an independent investment adviser registered with the SEC under the Investment Advisers Act of 1940. Savant Wealth Management's Advisor Services platform provides a full array of quality investment management services to the Adviser and its clients. The program also offers back-office support in the form of quarterly performance reports to clients, risk/return assessments, investment policy statements, and client services agreements that provide a clear, written description of the advisory relationship between the Adviser and its clients. Altamont Capital Management, LLC and Savant Wealth Management are independently owned and operated and are not affiliated.

Item 11. Code of Ethics, Interest in Client Transactions and Personal Trading

Altamont Capital Management, LLC's Code of Ethics includes guidelines for professional standards of conduct for our Associated Persons. Our goal is to protect client interests at all times and to demonstrate our commitment to fiduciary duties of honesty, good faith, and fair dealing. Altamont Capital Management, LLC's Code of Ethics is available to you upon request. You may obtain a copy of our Code of Ethics by contacting Shon Norris at (828) 236-0610.

Item 12. Brokerage Practices

Recommending Brokerage Firms

Adviser typically recommends Charles Schwab & Co. or Mid Atlantic Trust, to serve as custodian of clients' assets and to execute trades in client accounts. Altamont typically recommends Mid Atlantic Trust Company and Schwab to serve as custodian and broker of record for its retirement plan clients. This selection criteria is based on these firms' ability to provide Adviser with duplicate confirmations and statements, access to a dedicated trading desk and access to an electronic communication network for client order entry and account information. Each client is charged a transaction fee or commission to execute securities transactions. The custodian, not the Adviser, determines the transaction fees charged to clients and, while Adviser believes these fees are competitive these transactions may not always be executed at the lowest available rate.

Best Execution

As a fiduciary, with respect to transactions it implements on behalf of its advisory clients, the Adviser has an obligation to obtain best execution under the circumstances of the particular transaction. The Adviser seeks to execute client transactions in such a manner that the client's total cost or proceeds in each transaction is the most favorable under the circumstances. Where client has entered into an arrangement where a third-party manager executes transactions for the client's account (for example, clients participating in Advisor Services) the client should consult the third-party manager's disclosure brochure for that manager's policy with respect to best execution.

Soft Dollars

Adviser does not enter into so-called "soft dollar arrangements," where the Adviser directs client commissions to a broker-dealer that provides research and brokerage services to the Adviser.

Order Aggregation

Adviser typically recommends mutual funds, which are purchased and sold for a transaction fee charged by the client's executing broker-dealer. Adviser does not "block" or aggregate client trades, because the trades are executed for a flat fee per fund trade basis and blocking client trades would not result in the reduction of such fees.

Item 13. Review of Accounts

REVIEWS

Accounts are monitored at regular intervals and reviewed at least semi-annually by the Adviser. There is no minimum number of accounts assigned to a reviewer. The review process covers each of the following elements:

- A. Review of the client's Investment Policy Statement;
- B. Review of the client's risk profile; and
- C. Recommend rebalancing client's portfolio if needed.

More frequent account reviews may be triggered by any one or more of the following events:

- A. Client's specific request;
- B. Change in client's investment objectives, risk and return characteristics; and
- C. Imbalance of asset allocation.

REPORTS

Clients will receive quarterly performance reports, prepared by Savant Wealth Management which summarize the clients' asset management account performance. The clients will also receive monthly statements from Schwab Institutional, which outline the clients' current securities positions, security cost basis, and current market value of the client's portfolio.

Item 14. Client Referrals and Other Compensation

Incoming Referrals

Adviser encourages and promotes referrals of clients to our advisory firm. We do not compensate people or firms for providing referrals.

Referrals of Other Professionals

Adviser will refer clients to other service professionals if requested or deemed necessary, based on the specific needs of the client. For example, Adviser may refer clients to legal counsel, accountants and insurance agents. It is possible that these professionals may, in turn, make referrals of their clients seeking investment advice to Adviser.

The Adviser will refer clients to other service professionals if requested or deemed necessary, based on the specific needs of the client. For example, the Adviser may refer clients to legal counsel, accountants and insurance agents. It is possible that these professionals may, in turn, make referrals of their clients seeking investment advice to the Adviser.

Item 15. Custody

Adviser does not maintain physical custody of client assets, which are held by the client's independent qualified custodian (described under Item 12). All checks deposited into client's custodial accounts must be made payable either to the custodian or for the benefit of the account name. Adviser may be deemed to have limited custody of client assets if it has the authority to deduct its fees from the client's custodial account. Clients will receive monthly account statements from their custodian. Clients should review their account statements carefully. Clients are encouraged to compare the account statements received from their qualified custodian with any reports received from the Adviser.

Item 16. Investment Discretion

Discretionary Trading Authority

The Adviser provides investment advice on a discretionary basis to certain clients. In such cases, the client and the Adviser execute an investment advisory agreement wherein the client grants to the Adviser discretionary authority to act on the Client's behalf for the limited purpose of buying, selling and trading securities and all actions necessary or incident to such activities. Clients may impose reasonable restrictions or limitations on the Adviser's investment discretion by providing the restrictions or limitations in writing to the Adviser. Clients are contacted at least annually to determine whether there are any changes to their financial circumstances or restrictions they wish to impose.

Limited Power of Attorney

Clients typically custody their assets that the Adviser manages with Charles Schwab & Company's Institutional Service Group (Schwab), a registered broker-dealer and FINRA/SIPC member, as custodian, or an agreed-upon money manager/broker dealer. Schwab permits the Adviser or its agent to direct the purchase of no-load mutual funds on behalf of the client's account, as well as to direct the purchase of individual securities at discounted transaction costs. This arrangement allows all of the client's investments to be maintained with one custodian. Clients typically grant Savant Wealth Management a limited power of attorney for trading purposes only with respect to their custodial account to allow Savant Wealth Management to place trades or rebalance the client's account as directed by the Adviser.

Item 17. Voting Client Securities

It is currently the Adviser's policy not to exercise proxy voting authority over client securities. The Adviser does not have authority to vote proxies for its clients on any matters regardless of whether the Adviser's investment authority is discretionary or non-discretionary. Each client retains sole and absolute authority and responsibility to vote proxies at client's own expense with respect to investments owned by the client. Clients will receive their proxies or other solicitations directly from their custodian. Clients are free to contact us about a particular solicitation and our office may provide them with assistance.

Item 18. Financial Information

We are capitalized in compliance with applicable regulations and are not aware of any financial conditions that are reasonably likely to impair the fulfillment of our contractual commitments to our clients. In addition, we are not required to provide financial information to clients because we do not require the prepayment of $1,200 or more, six or more months in advance.

Item 19. Requirements for State Registered Advisers

This section is not applicable because the Adviser is registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission.
