*Registration as an investment advisor does not imply a certain level of skill or training.

Item 2 – Material Changes

Since our last annual amendment was filed in January 2023 the following material changes have been made to this disclosure brochure:

- In March 2023, the firm decided to consolidate its service offerings and eliminated the Private Wealth Management Program. All asset management services are now provided through the Private Portfolio Management Program (PPM). Please refer to Item 4 – Advisory Business for a full explanation of our service offerings.
- Since the annual amendment filing in January 2023, we removed all references to TD Ameritrade, Inc. due to the transition of moving our clients' managed accounts away from TD Ameritrade, Inc. to Charles Schwab & Company Inc. In November 2019, the two firms announced they had entered into a definitive agreement for Charles Schwab & Company, Inc. to acquire TD Ameritrade in all-stock transaction. As a result of that acquisition, accounts previously held at TD Ameritrade are now Charles Schwab & Company, Inc. accounts. Subsequently, we updated this brochure to remove references to TD Ameritrade.

We will ensure that you receive a summary of material changes, if any, to this and subsequent disclosure brochures within 120 days after our fiscal year ends. Our fiscal year ends on December 31, so you will receive the summary of material changes, if any, no later than April 30 each year. At that time, we will also offer a copy of the most current disclosure brochure. We may also provide other ongoing disclosure information about material changes, as necessary.

Item 4 – Services, Fees and Compensation

Bazis Private Wealth's asset management services are provided via our Private Portfolio Management Program (PPM) services.

Our PPM program provides continuous and ongoing asset management and supervision over your specified accounts.

The Private Portfolio Management Program ("PPM") is a wrap-fee programs through which Bazis Private Wealth LLC ("Advisor" or "we") provide investment supervisory services to clients and prospective clients ("clients" or "you"). Our investment supervisory services include giving continuous advice to you and making investments based on your individual needs. PPM services are provided on both a discretionary and non-discretionary basis. On a discretionary basis, we make all decisions to buy, sell or hold securities, cash or other investments in the managed account in our sole discretion without consulting with you before making any transactions. You must provide us with written authorization (through the specific program Investment Management Agreement) to exercise this discretionary authority. You can place reasonable restrictions and limitations on the discretionary authority. If asset management services are provided on a non-discretionary basis, this means that we always contact you before implementing any transactions in an account.

When making the determination of whether one of the advisory programs available through Advisor is appropriate for your needs, you should bear in mind that fee-based accounts, when compared with commission-based accounts, often result in lower costs during periods when trading activity is heavier, such as the year an account is established. However, during periods when trading activity is lower, the fee-based account arrangements may result in a higher annual cost for transactions. Thus, depending on a number of factors, the total cost for transactions under a fee account versus a commission account can vary significantly. Factors which affect the total cost include account size, amount of turnover, type and quantities of securities purchased or sold, commission rates and your tax situation. It should also be noted that lower fees for comparable service may be available from other sources. The exact fees and other terms will be outlined in the agreement between you and Advisor.

Our Asset management services are designed to provide a disciplined advisory approach to meet your objectives and needs. The portfolio managers develop disciplined portfolios based on your investment objectives and individual needs as established in the initial client interview. To develop our investment management discipline, we rely on quantitative research and fundamental research obtained from third-party sources. Our sources of information include financial newspapers and magazines, inspection of corporate activities, research materials prepared by others, corporate rating services, annual reports, prospectuses and filings with the SEC and company press releases. When managing assets, strategies can be employed that include both long term (securities held at least a year) and short term (securities sold within a year) purchases of securities and, depending on your objectives, supplemental covered option writing. However, in special circumstances the strategies may also include margin transactions, other option strategies, and trading (securities sold within 30 days) or short sale transactions. If margin is used in your account, you should be aware that the margin balance will not be included in the asset under management total used to calculate advisory fees. Using margin is not suitable for all investors since it increases leverage in the client's account and, therefore, its risk.

After you sign the Investment Management Agreement, we assist you in establishing one or more brokerage accounts ("account") through which all transactions are implemented and processed.

For our PPM program we require a minimum initial account value of $10,000,000, although the minimum may be waived under certain circumstances (i.e., potential additional deposits, family relationships, referral sources, etc.).

We recommend that your assets to be allocated to our Asset Management Services Program be maintained in a brokerage account with LPL Financial, LLC, and/or Charles Schwab, SEC registered broker/dealers and members of NYSE/SIPC ("Qualified Custodians"). Advisor is independent and not affiliated with any broker dealer or custodian. One or more of these institutions will be the qualified custodian for all accounts established through our PPM Program. Clients may also be advised to invest directly in mutual fund investments that will be held directly with the fund company. We will primarily utilize American Funds Service Company as the qualified custodian for these clients. You will appoint Advisor as your investment adviser of record on specified accounts. Your account will consist only of separate account(s) held by the qualified custodian under your name. The Qualified Custodian will not have discretion authority over your account and will act solely on instructions it receives from Advisor. The Qualified Custodian has no responsibility for our services and undertakes no duty to you to monitor the management of your account or other services provided by Advisor. The Qualified Custodians will hold your assets in a brokerage account and buy and sell securities or execute other transactions when it receives instructions from Advisor. Advisor does not act as custodian and does not have direct access to your funds and securities except to have advisory fees deducted from your account with your prior written authorization. The qualified custodian will maintain physical custody of all funds and securities of your Account, and you will retain all rights of ownership (e.g., right to withdraw securities or cash, exercise or delegate proxy voting and receive transaction confirmations) for your account.

Brokerage transactions are processed and cleared by either of our Qualified Custodians unless otherwise directed by you and agreed to by us. Your directions to use another broker/dealer must be given to us in writing. When recommending the use of a Qualified Custodian, they may offer additional compliance and computer technology and research. The selected Qualified Custodian will also serve as the primary custodians for your assets. We do not act as custodian and will not have direct access to your funds and securities except to have advisory fees deducted from your account with your prior written authorization.

Your directions to use a broker/dealer other than our Qualified Custodians disclosed above must be given to us in writing. If you do so, you should understand that we may not be able to obtain the best prices and execution for account transactions. If you direct us to use a specific broker/dealer, you may receive less favorable prices than would otherwise be the case if you had not designated a particular broker/dealer or custodian. We may place directed trades after effecting non-directed trades for our other clients.

PPM accounts are charged a single "wrap fee" that covers advisory, execution, custodial and reporting services. For our PPM asset management services Clients are billed on a percentage of assets under management. Asset under management fees are negotiated as a percentage of assets held is a client's managed accounts not to exceed an annualized rate of up to a maximum of 2% billed quarterly in advance and calculated as of the account value as of the beginning of each quarter. Clients may be offered the option of being billed on a percentage of assets under management or on a fixed fee basis. The amount of asset management fees to be charged and the method of billing will be specified in the client agreement.

In addition to compensating Advisor for our asset management services the fees charged also allow Advisor to pay for the brokerage and execution services provided by the Qualified Custodians.

Participation in WRAP fee programs do not necessarily cover all of the transaction execution fees a client may be responsible for paying. Fees not included in the wrap program include charges imposed directly by mutual fund, fund index, or exchange traded fund which are disclosed in the fund's prospectus (i.e. fund management fees and other fund expenses), mark ups and mark owns, spreads paid to market makers fees for trades executed away at a broker dealer other than our Qualified Custodians. In addition, the Securities and Exchange Commission imposes a transaction fee in accordance with Section 31 of the Exchange Act. The fee is determined by a formula set by the SEC and will be deducted from the proceeds of all sale transactions. Fees not covered by our program fee will be charged directly to your account by the custodian.

If accounts are created mid-quarter, fees are prorated and billed at the end of the initial period along with the first full quarter's advance billing. The prorated fee is based on the number of days services are provided during the quarter and begin on the day the account is initially funded.

The above fee schedule is negotiable at our discretion based on:

- The amount of assets under management
- The anticipated level of trading activity pursuant to the security types maintained in the account
- The complexity of the managed assets
- Whether or not we are granted discretionary authority on the account
- The number of accounts we are managing for you and your related persons
- Our history with or other relationships with you
- Potential future assets that may be invested with us

We require a minimum initial account value of $10,000,000, although the minimum may be waived under certain circumstances (i.e., potential additional deposits, family relationships, referral sources, etc.).

Fees charged for our asset management services do not exceed 1% of the account value if the account meets our stated required minimum of $10,000,000. If we accept an account that is less than $1,000,000, the fees charged will range up to a maximum of 2% dependent upon factors such as the amount of assets to be managed, the anticipated level of trading, complexity, whether the account is discretionary or nondiscretionary, the number of accounts managed by related persons, and/or potential future assets that may be invested with us to make this calculation. For clients with multiple accounts, we do not aggregate accounts for purposes of fee billing. Asset Management fees are billed quarterly in advance and calculated as of the account value as of the beginning of each quarter. The amount of asset management fees to be charged and the method of billing will be specified in the client agreement.

The amount of asset management fees that will be charged to client accounts will be specified in the asset management agreement signed before any services are provided.

Unless agreed upon otherwise, you agree to have fees deducted from your account. You must provide the account custodian with written authorization to have the fees deducted from the account and paid directly to us. This authorization is usually given when the new account paperwork is prepared and signed. At least quarterly, you receive an account statement from your account custodian detailing transactions in your account, including advisory fees charged. You should review the account statements received from the account custodian and verify that appropriate advisory fees are being deducted.

For the purposes of calculating asset management fees, the “value of the account” means the sum of the long and short market value of all securities, mutual funds and, if applicable, money market funds, credit balances and cash balances in a related bank demand deposit account. In valuing the account, we use the closing prices or, if not available, bid prices of the last recorded transaction for listed securities, options and over-the-counter NASDAQ securities. For mutual funds, we use the funds’ most current net asset value, as computed by the fund company. In so doing, we utilize information provided by quotation services believed to be reliable. If any such prices are unavailable or believed to be unreliable, we determine prices in good faith so as to reflect our understanding of fair market value.

We do not bill on the value of the margin debit balance. If the account is maintained at a custodian other than margin debit balances may or may not reduce the account value.

To the extent mutual funds are selected to fill components of the overall investment strategy, the wrap-fee previously referenced does not include the customary fees and expenses associated with investing in mutual funds or other costs of establishing and maintaining an account with mutual funds including 12(b)-1 fees and expenses. In addition to the wrap-fee charged we charge, each mutual fund in which assets are invested incurs separate investment advisory fees and other expenses for which you bear a proportionate share. A description of these fees and expenses is available in each investment company security’s prospectus.

The advisory fees charged by us are separate and distinct from these other fees and we do not receive or share in a portion of such fees. Our representatives do not receive a portion of the 12(b)-1 fees. Our representatives only recommend mutual funds to you if such mutual funds are suitable for you and appropriate for fulfilling your objectives.

Advisor pays the Qualified Custodians a transaction fee for each executed trade in a wrap account. As a result, Advisor has a financial incentive to limit orders for wrap fee accounts because trades increase or transaction costs creating an incentive to trade less frequently in a wrap fee program.

In addition to compensating Advisor for our asset management services the fees charged also allow Advisor to pay for the brokerage and execution services provided by the Qualified Custodians. A wrap fee is not based directly on the number of transactions in your account. Various factors influence the relative cost of our wrap fee program including the cost of our investment advice, custody and brokerage services if you purchased them separately, the types of investments held in your account and the frequency, type and size of the trades in your account. Although we believe our fees are reasonable in relation to the services provided, you should be aware comparable services may be available from other sources. Fees for our services may be more or less than the cost of purchasing the same services separately through other investment advisors or through other programs offered by us.

We do not act as principal and do not buy from or sell securities we own to any client. We do not engage in agency cross transactions.

Either party may terminate our asset management services at any time by providing written notice to the other party. Termination is effective upon receipt of the notice. If notice is received within five business days of signing the client agreement, services are terminated without penalty, and we promptly refund any fees you paid in advance. After the initial five business days, fees are prorated based on the number of days that services are provided prior to receipt of termination notice. We promptly refund any pre-paid, unearned fees to you.

Item 5 – Account Requirements and Types of Clients

Minimum Investment Amounts Required

For our PPM Program there is a minimum initial account value of $10,000,000 required to establish an account, although this minimum may be waived under certain circumstances (i.e., potential additional deposits, family relationships, referral sources, etc.).

Types of Accounts

We provide investment advice to the following types of clients:

- Individuals (including high-net worth individuals)
- Pension and profit sharing plans
- Trusts, estates, or charitable organizations
- Corporations or business entities other than those listed above

Item 6 – Portfolio Manager Selection and Evaluation

We offer asset management services exclusively through wrap fee programs. A wrap fee program is defined as any advisory program under which a specified fee or fees not based directly upon transactions in a client's account is charged for investment advisory services (which may include portfolio management or advice concerning the selection of other investment advisers) and the execution of client transactions.

We and our managing member and representative Duane R. Bazis, Jr. act as the portfolio manager for the PPM Program, which is a wrap fee program. Our asset management program does not allow for the use of portfolio managers that are not associated with us. Therefore, conflicts of interest present in other wrap fee programs that make available both affiliated and unaffiliated portfolio managers are not present in the PPM Program. Because the PPM Program does not provide for a multitude of outside portfolio managers, we do not have procedures designed to select outside portfolio managers. Many of the disclosures required in the Item 6 Wrap Fee Program Brochure instructions do not apply to us. The disclosures that do apply are answered below.

Types of Advisory Services

In addition to the wrap fee management services described above, we provide financial planning, and financial consulting and retirement plan services. Our financial planning and consulting services can be comprehensive and focus on your overall financial goals and objectives or can be modular and focus on your specific needs or areas of concern.

Please refer to our separate Disclosure Brochure for full details concerning our advisory services, fees, billing procedures and termination provisions.

Limits Advice to Certain Types of Investments

We provide investment advice on the following types of investments:

- Exchange-listed securities

- Securities traded over-the-counter
- Foreign issues
- Warrants
- Corporate debt securities (other than commercial paper)
- Commercial paper
- Certificates of deposit
- Municipal securities
- Variable life insurance
- Variable annuities
- Mutual fund shares
- United States government securities
- Option contracts on securities and commodities
- Futures contracts on tangibles and intangibles
- Interests in partnerships investing in real estate, oil and gas interests
- Alternative investments (including hedge funds, business development companies, private equity, leasing, exchange funds and structured products)

We reserve the right to offer advice on any investment product that may be suitable for each client's specific circumstances, needs, goals and objectives. You have the ability to place reasonable restrictions on the types of investments that may be purchased in your account.

Tailor Advisor Services to Individual Needs of Clients

Our services are always provided based on your specific needs. You have the ability to impose restrictions on your accounts, including specific investment selections and sectors. However, we will not enter into an investment advisor relationship with a prospective client whose investment objectives may be considered incompatible with our investment philosophy or strategies or where the prospective client seeks to impose unduly restrictive investment guidelines.

Performance-Based Fees

Performance-based fees are defined as fees based on a share of capital gains on or capital appreciation of the assets held in a client's account. We do not receive performance-based fees.

Methods of Analysis

We use fundamental and charting analysis when considering investment strategies and recommendations for clients.

Fundamental

Fundamental analysis is a method of evaluating a company or security by attempting to measure its intrinsic value. In other words, fundamental analysts try to determine its true value by looking at all aspects of the business, including both tangible factors (e.g., machinery, buildings, land, etc.) and intangible factors (e.g., patents, trademarks, "brand" names, etc.). Fundamental analysis also involves examining related economic factors (e.g., overall economy and industry conditions, etc.), financial factors (e.g., company debt, interest rates, management salaries and bonuses, etc.), qualitative factors (e.g., management expertise, industry cycles, labor relations, etc.), and quantitative factors (e.g., debt-to-equity and price-to-equity ratios).

The end goal of performing fundamental analysis is to produce a value that an investor can compare with the security's current price in hopes of figuring out what sort of position to take with that security (underpriced = buy, overpriced = sell or short). This method of security analysis is considered to be the opposite of technical analysis. Fundamental analysis is about using real data to evaluate a security's value. Although most analysts use fundamental analysis to value stocks, this method of valuation can be used for just about any type of security.

Charting

Charting is a technical analysis that charts the patterns of stocks, bonds and commodities to help determine buy and sell recommendations for clients. It is a way of gathering and processing price and volume information in a security by applying mathematical equations and plotting the resulting data onto graphs in order to predict future price movements. A graphical historical record assists the analyst in spotting the effect of key events on a security's price, its performance over a period of time and whether it is trading near its high, near its low or in between. Chartists believe that recurring patterns of trading, commonly referred to as indicators, can help them forecast future price movements.

Primary Method of Analysis or Strategy

Our primary method of analysis or strategy is asset allocation--determining the percentages of stocks, bonds and cash relative to your risk profile, tax situation and investment horizon. Stocks are core long term equity holdings and weighted in close correlation to S&P sectors. Strategic equity positions are used to overweight or underweight S&P sectors relative to undervaluation or overvaluation estimates in sections based on fundamental research. Bond positions are laddered in maturity. Separate bond purchases are in A rated or better municipal, U.S. Government agencies and U.S. Treasury issues

Investment Strategies

The investment strategies we use when implementing investment advice include:

- Long term purchases (securities held at least a year.)
- Short term purchases (securities sold within a year.)
- Trading (securities sold within 30 days.)
- Short sales (Borrowing securities in anticipation of a price decline and returning an equal number of securities at some future time.)
- Margin transactions (Investor pays for part of the purchase and borrows the rest from a brokerage firm; e.g., investor buys $5,000 worth of stock in a margin account by paying for $2,500 and borrowing $2,500 from a brokerage firm. Clients cannot borrow stock from Advisor.)
- Option writing (Including covered options, uncovered options or spreading strategies.) (Note: options are contracts giving the purchaser the right to buy or sell a security, such as stocks, at a fixed price within a specific period of time.)
- Structured products
- The firm will also use alternative investment strategies such as:
 - Private Equity,
 - Hedge Funds,
 - Real Estate Investment Trusts,

- Business Development Companies,
- Real Estate Partnerships

We gather information from financial newspapers and magazines, inspection of corporate activities, research materials prepared by others, corporate ratings services, annual reports, prospectuses and filings with the Securities and Exchange Commission and company press releases.

Risk of Loss

Investing in securities involves a risk of loss that you should be prepared to bear, including loss of your original principal. However, you should be aware that past performance of any security is not necessarily indicative of future results. Therefore, you should not assume that future performance of any specific investment or investment strategy will be profitable. We do not provide any representation or guarantee that your goals will be achieved. Further, depending on the different types of investments, there may be varying degrees of risk:

- Market Risk. Either the market as a whole, or the value of an individual company, goes down, resulting in a decrease in the value of client investments. This is referred to as systemic risk.
- Equity (Stock) Market Risk. Common stocks are susceptible to fluctuations and to volatile increases/decreases in value as their issuers' confidence in or perceptions of the market change. Investors holding common stock (or common stock equivalents) of any issuer are generally exposed to greater risk than if they hold preferred stock or debt obligations of the issuer.
- Company Risk. There is always a certain level of company or industry specific risk when investing in stock positions. This is referred to as unsystematic risk and can be reduced through appropriate diversification. There is the risk that a company may perform poorly or that its value may be reduced based on factors specific to it or its industry (e.g., employee strike, unfavorable media attention).
- Options Risk. Options on securities may be subject to greater fluctuations in value than investing in the underlying securities. Purchasing and writing put or call options are highly specialized activities and involve greater than ordinary investment risk. Puts and calls are the right to sell or buy a specified amount of an underlying asset at a set price within a set time.
- Fixed Income Risk. Investing in bonds involves the risk that the issuer will default on the bond and be unable to make payments. In addition, individuals depending on set amounts of periodically paid income face the risk that inflation will erode their spending power. Fixed-income investors receive set, regular payments that face the same inflation risk.
- ETF and Mutual Fund Risk. ETF and mutual fund investments bear additional expenses based on a pro-rata share of operating expenses, including potential duplication of management fees. The risk of owning an ETF or mutual fund generally reflects the risks of owning the underlying securities held by the ETF or mutual fund. Clients also incur brokerage costs when purchasing ETFs.

- Management Risk. Your investments also vary with the success and failure of our investment strategies, research, analysis and determination of portfolio securities. If our strategies do not produce the expected returns, the value of your investments will decrease.
- Margin Risk: If those securities in a margin account decline in value, the value of the collateral supporting this loan also declines, and as a result, the brokerage firm is required to take action in order to maintain the necessary level of equity in your account. The brokerage firm may issue a margin call and/or sell other assets in your account.

It is important that you fully understand the risks involved in trading securities on margin, which are applicable to any margin account that you may maintain, including any margin account that may be established as part of the Asset Management Agreement established between you and Bazis Private Wealth and held by the account custodian or clearing firm.

These risks include the following:

- You can lose more funds than you deposit in your margin account.
- The account custodian or clearing firm can force the sale of securities or other assets in your account.
- The account custodian or clearing firm can sell your securities or other assets without contacting you.
- You are not entitled to choose which securities or other assets in your margin account may be liquidated or sold to meet a margin call.
- The account custodian or clearing firm may move securities held in your cash account to your margin account and pledge the transferred securities.
- The account custodian or clearing firm can increase its “house” maintenance margin requirements at any time and they are not required to provide you advance written notice.
- You are not entitled to an extension of time on a margin call.

Business Development Company (BDC) Risks

- BDC securities have interest-rate exposure, as their primary source of income is through loan issuance
- BDCs have credit risk, as some companies may default on their loans. BDCs lend to smaller, more capital-constrained companies. While BDC management teams evaluate the risk, the possibility of default exists
- BDC securities are equity securities and can lose value

Important Information Concerning Alternative Investment Strategies

As a registered investment advisor, Bazis Private Wealth, LLC and its investment advisor representatives may only offer alternative investment products that are offered on a “RIA Only” only basis. No sales based compensation (commission) is paid on these types of investments.

Investment Adviser Representatives may only offer alternative investment products that have been reviewed and approved by the firm’s investment committee.

Alternative Investments are privately offered investment vehicles that are unregistered private investment funds or pools that may invest in many different markets, strategies and instruments (including securities, non-securities and derivatives) and are NOT subject to the same regulatory requirements as mutual funds, including mutual fund requirements to provide certain periodic and standardized pricing and valuation information to investors. There are substantial risks in investing in Alternative Investments.

- Alternative Investments are speculative investments that involve a high degree of risk. An investor could lose all or a substantial portion of his/her investment. Investors must have the financial ability, sophistication/experience and willingness to bear the risks of an investment in an Alternative Investment.
- An investment in an Alternative Investment is typically illiquid in nature and there will be significant restrictions on liquidating or transferring interests in an Alternative Investment. There is currently no established secondary market for an investor's investment in an Alternative Investment and none is expected to develop.
- Any investment in Alternative Investment should be discretionary capital set aside strictly for long term speculative purposes.
- An investment in an Alternative Investment is not suitable or desirable for all investors. Only qualified eligible investors may invest in Alternative Investments.
- Alternative Investment offering documents are not reviewed or approved by federal or state regulators and the offering of fund interests will not be federally, or state registered.
- Some Alternative Investments may have little or no operating history or performance and may use hypothetical or pro-forma performance which may not reflect actual trading done by the manager or advisor and should be reviewed carefully. Investors should not place undue reliance on hypothetical or pro-forma performance.
- An Alternative Investment's manager or advisor has total discretionary authority over the activities of the Alternative Investment.
- Alternative Investments are not required to provide periodic pricing or valuation information to investors.
- Some Alternative Investments may provide little or no transparency regarding their underlying investments to investors.
- Alternative Investments which make private equity investments have certain different risks, generally including, among other things, no or limited redemption rights; illiquid portfolios and valuation difficulties; asset, market or industry concentration; portfolio company risks including competition and fluctuating distributions; operational and control risks including "key-man" risk; particular industry risks including retail business risks; and financing or additional funding risks.
- An Alternative Investment's fees (including advisory fees and placement agent, distribution and/or portfolio acquisition fees) and expenses, which may be substantial regardless of any positive return, will offset the Alternative Investment's investment profits. If an Alternative Investment's investments are not successful, these payments and expenses may, over a period, deplete the net asset value of the fund.
- Alternative Investment Funds may be leveraged (including highly leveraged), which increases risk, and an Alternative Investment Fund's performance may be volatile.
- Some Alternative Investment Funds may use a single advisor or employ a single strategy, which could mean a lack of diversification and higher risk.
- Some Alternative Investment Funds and their advisors rely on the investment expertise and experience of third-party advisors, the identity of which may not be disclosed to investors.

- Alternative Investment Funds and their managers/advisors may be subject to various conflicts of interest, including with respect to decisions which may affect their compensation.
- The net asset value of an Alternative Investment Fund may be determined by its administrator and/or its manager. Certain portfolio assets may be illiquid and without a readily ascertainable market value. The value assigned to such securities may differ from the value an Alternative Investment Fund is able to realize. Instances of mispriced portfolios, due to fraud or negligence, have occurred in the industry.
- Some Alternative Investment Funds may enter swaps, futures, forwards, options and other derivative transactions for various hedging and/or speculative purposes that can result in more volatile fund performance.
- Some Alternative Investment Funds may trade commodity interests or may execute a substantial portion of trades on foreign exchanges, which may increase risk of loss and material economic conditions and/or events may affect future results.
- Some Alternative Investment Funds may involve complex tax structures, which should be reviewed carefully.
- Some Alternative Investment Funds may involve structures or strategies that may cause delays in important tax information being sent to investors.

This summary of certain risks is not a complete list of the risks and other important disclosures involved in investing in an Alternative Investment is subject to the more complete disclosures, including risk factors, contained in a specific Alternative Investment's respective offering documents, which must be reviewed carefully. An Alternative Investment's past performance is not indicative and is no guarantee of its future performance.

Due to the unique structure of fee-based Alternative Investment products, the account custodian holding, monitoring and providing reporting services for a non-traded alternative investment vehicle may charge a service fee to the client's account. Different custodians may charge different fees for providing such monitoring and reporting services. This fee may be waived at the sole discretion of the advisor. Factors in determining if services fees will be waived for a particular client may include the market value of the client's assets being managed, complexity of the client's portfolio, the client's financial situation, level of portfolio trading activity, anticipated future assets, the relationship of the client to the advisor, and additional services requested or performed for the client. Fee waivers or discounts which are not available to clients may also be available for the Owners, Directors, Officers and Associated Persons of Bazis Private Wealth, LLC and our related companies as well as to family members and friends of associated persons of Bazis Private Wealth. If fees are waived for a client, the investment advisor representative may pay the service fee on behalf of the client. The ability to waive the imposition of these service fees creates a conflict of interest because the investment advisor representative may waive the service fee for a client and may not waive the service fee for another client, in the advisor's sole discretion.

The relevant information, terms and conditions of an investment in a particular alternative investment, including the management fee to be paid to the manager, suitability considerations, the investment strategy and risk factors, are described in the Alternative Investment's offering documents. Those documents include the Private Offering memorandum, Partnership Agreement, Subscription Agreement and other important materials or forms, which each subscriber is required to receive and/or execute prior to being accepted as an investor of the Alternative Investment.

Structured Product Risks

Purchasing structured products tend to be illiquid in nature and involve derivatives and a higher degree of risk factors that may not be suitable for all investors. Such risks include risk of adverse or unanticipated market developments, issuer credit quality risk, risk of counterparty or issuer default, risk of lack of uniform standard pricing, risk of adverse events involving any underlying reference obligations, entity or other measure, risk of high volatility, and risk of illiquidity/ little to no secondary market. In certain transactions, investors may lose their entire investment, i.e., incur an unlimited loss.

Voting Client Securities

We do not vote proxies on your behalf. You should read through the information provided in the proxy-voting documents and make a determination based on the information provided. If you request it, our representatives may provide limited clarifications of the issues presented based on their understanding of the issues presented in the materials. However, you have ultimate responsibility for making all proxy-voting decisions.

Item 7 – Client Information Provided to Portfolio Managers

Because only our representatives serve as portfolio managers for the PPM Program, our representatives are responsible for gathering all information provided by you. They interview and work with you to gather all information needed relative to your investment objectives and needs in order to provide management services through the PPM Program. You are responsible for promptly contacting your representative to notify of us any changes to your financial situation that can impact or materially influence the way we manage your account.

Item 8 - Client Contact with Portfolio Managers

Because only our representatives serve as portfolio managers for the PPM Program, there are no restrictions placed on your ability to contact and consult with us. It is our policy to provide open communications. You are encouraged to contact your representative whenever you have questions about management of your account.

Item 9 - Additional Information

Disciplinary Information

We have no legal or disciplinary events that are material to your evaluation of our business or the integrity of our management. Therefore, this item is not applicable to our brochure.

Other Financial Industry Activities and Affiliations

We are not and do not have a related person that is:

- A broker/dealer, municipal securities dealer or government securities dealer or broker

- An investment company or other pooled investment vehicle (including a mutual fund, closed-end investment company, unit investment trust, private investment company or “hedge fund,” and offshore fund)
- Other investment advisor or financial planner
- A futures commission merchant, commodity pool operator or commodity trading advisor
- A banking or thrift institution
- Accountant or accounting firm
- A lawyer or law firm
- A pension consultant
- A real estate broker or dealer
- A sponsor or syndicator of limited partnerships

We are an independent registered investment advisor and only provide investment advisory services. We are not engaged in any other business activities and offer no other services except those described in our Disclosure Brochure. However, while we do not sell products or services other than investment advice, our representatives may sell other products or provide services outside of their role as investment advisor representatives with us.

Financial Planning & Consulting Services

Advisor offers financial planning services, which involve preparing a written financial plan covering specific or multiple topics. We provide full written financial plans, which typically address the following topics: Investment Planning, Retirement Planning, Insurance Planning, Tax Planning, Education Planning, and Portfolios Review. When providing financial planning and consulting services, the role of your investment adviser representative is to find ways to help you understand your overall financial situation and help you set financial objectives. Written financial plans prepared by us do not include specific recommendations of individual securities.

We also offer consultations in order to discuss financial planning issues when you do not need a written financial plan. We offer a one-time consultation, which covers mutually agreed upon areas of concern related to investments or financial planning. We also offer “as-needed” consultations, which are limited to consultations in response to a particular investment or financial planning issue raised or request made by you. Under an “as-needed” consultation, it will be incumbent upon you to identify those particular issues for which you are seeking our advice or consultation on.

Our financial planning and consulting services do not involve implementing any transaction on your behalf or the active and ongoing monitoring or management of your investments or accounts. You have the sole responsibility for determining whether to implement our financial planning and consulting recommendations. To the extent that you would like to implement any of our investment recommendations through Advisor or retain Advisor to actively monitor and manage your investments, you must execute a separate written agreement with Advisor for our asset management services.

Retirement Plan Services

Advisor offers retirement plan services to retirement plan sponsors and to individual participants in retirement plans. For a corporate sponsor of a retirement plan, our retirement plan services can include, but are not limited to, the following services:

Fiduciary Consulting Services

Advisor provides the following Fiduciary Retirement Plan Consulting Services:

- Non-Discretionary Investment Advice. Advisor will provide you with general, non-discretionary investment advice regarding assets classes and investment options, consistent with your Plan's investment policy statement.
- Investment Selection Services. Advisor will provide you with recommendations of investment options consistent with ERISA section 404(c).
- Individualized Participant Advice. Upon request, Advisor will provide one-on-one advice to Plan participants regarding their individual situations.

For Fiduciary Consulting Services, all recommendations of investment options and portfolios will be submitted to you for your ultimate approval or rejection. For retirement plan Fiduciary Consulting Services, the retirement plan sponsor client or the plan participant who elects to implement any recommendations made by me is solely responsible for implementing all transactions.

Fiduciary Consulting Services are not management services, and Advisor does not serve as administrator or trustee of the plan. Advisor does not act as custodian for any client account or have access to client funds or securities (with the exception of, some accounts, having written authorization from the client to deduct our fees).

Advisor acknowledges that in performing the Fiduciary Consulting Services listed above that it is acting as a "fiduciary" as such term is defined under Section 3(21)(A)(ii) of Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 ("ERISA") for purposes of providing non-discretionary investment advice only. Advisor will act in a manner consistent with the requirements of a fiduciary under ERISA if, based upon the facts and circumstances, such services cause Advisor to be a fiduciary as a matter of law. However, in providing the Fiduciary Consulting Services, Advisor (a) has no responsibility and will not (i) exercise any discretionary authority or discretionary control respecting management of Client's retirement plan, (ii) exercise any authority or control respecting management or disposition of assets of Client's retirement plan, or (iii) have any discretionary authority or discretionary responsibility in the administration of Client's retirement plan or the interpretation of Client's retirement plan documents, (b) is not an "investment manager" as defined in Section 3(38) of ERISA and does not have the power to manage, acquire or dispose of any plan assets, and (c) is not the "Administrator" of Client's retirement plan as defined in ERISA.

Fiduciary Management Services

Advisor provides clients with the following Fiduciary Retirement Plan Management Services:

- Discretionary Management Services. Advisor will provide the Plan and Plan Participants with continuous and ongoing supervision over the designated retirement plan assets. Advisor will actively monitor the designated retirement plan assets and provide advice regarding buying, selling, reinvesting or holding securities, cash or other investments of the Plan. Advisor has discretionary authority to make all decisions to buy, sell or hold securities, cash or other investments for the designated retirement plan assets in our sole discretion without first consulting with you. Advisor also has the power and authority to carry out these decisions by giving instructions, on your behalf, to brokers and dealers and the qualified custodian(s) of the Plan for our management of the designated retirement plan assets.

- Discretionary Investment Selection Services. Advisor will monitor the investment options of the Plan and add or remove investment options for the Plan. Advisor will have discretionary authority to make all decisions regarding the investment options that will be made available to Plan participants.

If you elect to utilize any of Advisor's Fiduciary Management Services, then Advisor will be acting as an Investment Manager to the Plan, as defined by ERISA section 3(38), with respect to our Fiduciary Management Services, and Advisor hereby acknowledges that it is a fiduciary with respect to its Fiduciary Management Services.

Non-Fiduciary Services

Although an investment adviser is considered a fiduciary under the Investment Advisers Act of 1940 and required to meet the fiduciary duties as defined by the Advisers Act, the services listed here as non-fiduciary should not be considered fiduciary services for the purposes of ERISA since Advisor is not acting as a fiduciary to the Plan as the term "fiduciary" is defined in Section 3(21)(A)(ii) of ERISA. The exact suite of services provided to a client will be listed and detailed in the Qualified Retirement Plan Agreement.

Advisor provides clients with the following Non-Fiduciary Retirement Plan Consulting Services:

- Qualified Plan Development. Advisor will assist you with the establishment of a qualified plan by working with you and a selected Third-Party Administrator. If you have not already selected a Third-Party Administrator, Advisor shall assist you with the review and selection of a Third-Party Administrator for the Plan.

We can also meet with individual participants to discuss their specific investment risk tolerance, investment time frame and investment selections.

Securities and other types of investments all bear different types and levels of risk. Those risks are typically discussed with clients in defining the investment policies and objectives that will guide investment decisions for their qualified plan accounts. Upon request, as part of our retirement plan services, we can discuss those investments and investment strategies that we believe may tend to reduce these risks for a particular client's circumstances and plan participants.

Clients and plan participants must realize that obtaining higher rates of return on investments entails accepting higher levels of risk. Based upon discussions with the client, Advisor will attempt to identify the balance of risks and rewards that is appropriate and comfortable for the client and other employees. It is still the clients' responsibility to ask questions if the client does not fully understand the risks associated with any investment. All plan participants are strongly encouraged to read prospectuses, when applicable, and ask questions prior to investing.

We strive to render our best judgment for clients. Still, Advisor cannot assure that investments will be profitable or assure that no losses will occur in their portfolios. Past performance is an important consideration with respect to any investment or investment advisor, but it is not necessarily an accurate predictor of future performance.

Advisor will disclose, to the extent required by ERISA Regulation Section 2550.408b-2(c), to you any change to the information that Advisor is required to disclose under ERISA Regulation Section 2550.408b-2(c)(1)(iv) as soon as practicable, but no later than sixty (60) days from the date on which

Advisor is informed of the change (unless such disclosure is precluded due to extraordinary circumstances beyond our control, in which case the information will be disclosed as soon as practicable).

In accordance with ERISA Regulation Section 2550.408b-2(c)(vi)(A), Advisor will disclose within thirty (30) days following receipt of a written request from the responsible plan fiduciary or Plan Administrator (unless such disclosure is precluded due to extraordinary circumstances beyond our control, in which case the information will be disclosed as soon as practicable) all information related to the Qualified Retirement Plan Agreement and any compensation or fees received in connection with the Agreement that is required for the Plan to comply with the reporting and disclosure requirements of Title 1 of ERISA and the regulations, forms and schedules issued thereunder.

If Advisor makes an unintentional error or omission in disclosing the information required under ERISA Regulation Section 2550.408b-2(c)(1)(iv) or (vi), we will disclose to you the correct information as soon as practicable, but no later than thirty (30) days from the date on which the firm learns of such error or omission.

Retirement Plan Rollover Recommendations

When Advisor provides investment advice about your retirement plan account or individual retirement account ("IRA") including whether to maintain investments and/or proceeds in the retirement plan account, roll over such investment/proceeds from the retirement plan account to a IRA or make a distribution from the retirement plan account, we acknowledge that Advisor is a "fiduciary" within the meaning of Title I of the Employee Retirement Income Security Act ("ERISA") and/or the Internal Revenue Code ("IRC") as applicable, which are laws governing retirement accounts. The way Advisor makes money creates conflicts with your interests so Advisor operates under a special rule that requires Advisor to act in your best interest and not put our interest ahead of you.

Under this special rule's provisions, Advisor must act as a fiduciary to a retirement plan account or IRA under ERISA/IRC:

- Meet a professional standard of care when making investment recommendations (e.g., give prudent advice);
- Never put the financial interests of Advisor ahead of you when making recommendations (e.g., give loyal advice);
- Avoid misleading statements about conflicts of interest, fees, and investments;
- Follow policies and procedures designed to ensure that Advisor gives advice that is in your best interest;
- Charge no more than is reasonable for the services of Advisor; and
- Give Client basic information about conflicts of interest.

To the extent we recommend you roll over your account from a current retirement plan account to an individual retirement account managed by Advisor, please know that Advisor and our investment adviser representatives have a conflict of interest.

We can earn increased investment advisory fees by recommending that you roll over your account at the retirement plan to an IRA managed by Advisor. We will earn fewer investment advisory fees if you do not roll over the funds in the retirement plan to an IRA managed by Advisor (unless a client retained Advisor to provide advice about the client's retirement plan account).

Thus, our investment adviser representatives have an economic incentive to recommend a rollover of funds from a retirement plan to an IRA which is a conflict of interest because our recommendation that you open an IRA account to be managed by our firm can be based on our economic incentive and not based exclusively on whether or not moving the IRA to our management program is in your overall best interest.

We have taken steps to manage this conflict of interest. We have adopted an impartial conduct standard whereby our investment adviser representatives will (i) provide investment advice to a retirement plan participant regarding a rollover of funds from the retirement plan in accordance with the fiduciary status described below, (ii) not recommend investments which result in Advisor receiving unreasonable compensation related to the rollover of funds from the retirement plan to an IRA, and (iii) fully disclose compensation received by Advisor and our supervised persons and any material conflicts of interest related to recommending the rollover of funds from the retirement plan to an IRA and refrain from making any materially misleading statements regarding such rollover.

When providing advice to you regarding a retirement plan account or IRA, our investment advisor representatives will act with the care, skill, prudence, and diligence under the circumstances then prevailing that a prudent person acting in a like capacity and familiar with such matters would use in the conduct of an enterprise of a like character and with like aims, based on the investment objectives, risk, tolerance, financial circumstances, and a client's needs, without regard to the financial or other interests of Advisor or our affiliated personnel.

Insurance Sales

Some of our representatives are also independently licensed to sell insurance products through various insurance companies. When acting in this capacity, they may receive fees or commissions for selling these products. You are under no obligation to direct insurance transactions to insurance companies with which our representatives may be licensed. Suitable insurance and investment products may be available from other companies.

Code of Ethics

Federal and state rules and regulations require all investment advisers to establish, maintain and enforce a Code of Ethics. We have established a Code of Ethics that applies to all of our associated persons. An investment adviser is considered a fiduciary and, as a fiduciary, it is an investment adviser's responsibility to provide fair and full disclosure of all material facts and to act solely in the best interest of clients at all times. We have a fiduciary duty to all clients. This fiduciary duty is considered the core underlying principle for our Code of Ethics, which also covers our insider trading and personal securities transactions policies and procedures. Advisor requires all supervised persons to conduct business with the highest level of ethical standards and to comply with all federal and state securities laws at all times. Once employed by or affiliated with us, and at least annually thereafter, all supervised persons sign an acknowledgement that they have read, understand and agree to comply with our Code of Ethics. We have the responsibility to make sure that the interests of all clients are placed ahead of our own investment interests. Full disclosure of all material facts and conflicts of interest is provided to you prior to any services being conducted. We and our supervised persons must conduct business in an honest, ethical and fair manner and avoid all circumstances that might negatively affect or appear to affect its duty of complete loyalty to all clients. This disclosure is provided to give all clients a summary of our Code of Ethics. However, if you wish to review our Code of Ethics in its entirety, a copy is provided promptly upon request.

Participation in Client Transactions and Personal Trading

Either we or our representatives or associated persons may buy or sell for our personal accounts investment products identical to those recommended to clients. This creates a conflict of interest. It is our express policy that all persons associated in any manner with us must place the interests of our clients ahead of their own when implementing personal investments. We will not buy or sell securities for our personal account(s) where our decision is derived, in whole or in part, by information obtained as a result of employment unless the information is also available to the investing public upon reasonable inquiry. In order to minimize this conflict of interest, securities recommended by us are widely held and publicly traded.

Account Reviews

Each account is assigned a manager that is responsible for reviewing and monitoring the assets maintained in the account. Internal money managers use daily charting services and outside research to review the stock, bond and mutual fund positions to determine if any adjustments are needed to the model portfolios and to the separate portfolios.

Account Reports

You receive statements from your account custodian at least quarterly.

Client Referrals

We do not directly or indirectly compensate anyone for referring clients to us.

Other Compensation

We do not receive any compensation for our advisory activities other than disclosed in this Disclosure Brochure.

Financial Information

We do not require or solicit prepayment of more than $1200 in fees per client, six months or more in advance. Therefore, we are not required to include a balance sheet for our most recent fiscal year with this Brochure Appendix. We are not subject to a financial condition that is reasonably likely to impair our ability to meet contractual commitments to clients. Finally, we have not been the subject of a bankruptcy petition at any time.

Item 10 - Privacy Policy

Commitment to Your Private Information: We have a long standing policy of protecting the confidentiality and security information we collect about our clients. We do not, and will not, share non-public personal information about you ("Information") with outside third parties without your consent, except for the specific purposes described below. This notice is provided to describe the Information we may gather and the situations under which we may need to share it.

Why We Collect and How We Use Information. We limit the collection and use of Information within our firm to only those individuals associated or employed with us that must have Information to provide financial services to you. Such services include maintaining your accounts, processing transaction requests, providing financial planning, financial consultation and other services described in our Disclosure Brochure.

How We Gather Information. We get most Information directly from you when you provide us with information from any of the following sources:

- Applications or forms (for example: name, address, Social Security number, birth date, assets, income, financial history)
- Transactional activity in your account (for example: trading history and account balances)
- Information services and consumer reporting sources (for example: to verify your identity or to assess your credit history)
- Other sources with your consent (for example: your insurance professional, attorney, or accountant)

How We Protect Information. Our employees and affiliated persons are required to protect the confidentiality of Information and to comply with our stated policies. They may access Information only when there is an acceptable reason to do so, such as to service your account or provide you with financial services. Employees who violate our Privacy Policy are subject to disciplinary action up to and including termination from employment with us. We also maintain physical, electronic and procedural safeguards to protect information, which comply with applicable SEC, state and federal laws.

Sharing Information with Other Companies Permitted Under Law. We do not disclose Information obtained in the course of our practice except as required or permitted under law. Permitted disclosures include, for instance, providing information to unrelated third parties who need to know such Information in order to assist us with the providing services to you. Unrelated third parties may include broker/dealers, mutual fund companies, insurance companies and the custodian with which your assets are held. In such situations, we stress the confidential nature of information being shared.

Former Customers. Even if we cease to provide you with financial products or services, our Privacy Policy continues to apply to you and we continue to treat your non-public information with strict confidentiality.
