ITEM 4 - ADVISORY BUSINESS

Business Description

Bull Oak is a San Diego, California based registered investment adviser. As a registered investment adviser, we are held to the highest standard of client care – a fiduciary standard. As a fiduciary, we always put our client's interests first and must fully disclose any potential conflict of interest. We do not directly hold customer funds or securities and all transactions are sent to our qualified custodian which executes, compares, allocates, clears, and settles them. Our custodian also maintains our clients' accounts and may grant clients access to them. We provide investment advisory and financial planning services to individuals and high-net-worth individuals.

A. Description of the Advisory Firm

Bull Oak LLC (hereinafter "Bull Oak") is a Limited Liability Company organized in the State of California.

The firm was formed in January 2014 and the principal owner is Ryan Anthony Hughes.

B. Types of Advisory Services

Bull Oak offers personalized investment advisory services to individuals, pension and profit-sharing plans, trusts, estates, charitable organizations, corporations, and other business entities.

Advisory services including financial planning, consulting, selection of sub-advisers, and portfolio management services, may be offered to clients on an all-inclusive or individual basis, as part of an annual retainer program. The process typically begins with an initial consultation during which the various services provided by Bull Oak are explained. If it is the desire of the client to use the firm's services, Bull Oak and the client will determine the scope of the services to be provided.

Financial Planning and Consulting Services

Financial planning services will typically involve providing a variety of services, principally advisory in nature, to clients regarding the management of their financial resources based upon an analysis of their individual needs. Bull Oak will offer complimentary tax planning, tax preparation, and estate planning services through third party services and software systems. Bull Oak will also conduct a complimentary initial consultation. After the initial consultation, if the client decides to engage Bull Oak for financial planning services, pertinent information about the client's financial circumstances and objectives are collected and such information will be reviewed and analyzed. A written financial plan – designed to achieve the clients' stated financial goals and objectives – will be produced and presented to the client. The primary objective of this process is to allow Bull Oak to assist the client in developing a strategy for the successful management of income, assets, and liabilities in meeting the client's financial goals and objectives.

Clients should be aware that different financial planning software uses different financial planning methodologies, and the financial plan will describe the specific methodologies used for the particular plan and should be carefully considered in evaluating the results presented to the client. The analysis contained in the financial plan is conducted using Elements, Right Capital, Holistiplan, and other financial planning software systems. The outputs generated by the software utilize third-party proprietary formulas and are based on economic assumptions and forecasts approved by Bull Oak. In addition, clients' financial plans may include a Monte Carlo simulation. Monte Carlo simulations are used to show how variances in rates of return each year can affect results. Results using Monte Carlo simulations indicate the likelihood that an event may occur as well as the likelihood that it may not occur. Bull Oak may change the software, third- party provider, or the methodologies it uses when creating your financial plan. Your financial plan will provide details on the software and methodologies used.

Portfolio Management Services

Bull Oak offers ongoing portfolio management services based on the individual goals, objectives, time horizon, and risk tolerance of each client. Bull Oak creates an Investment Policy Statement for each client, which outlines the client's current situation (income, tax levels, and risk tolerance levels). Portfolio management services include, but are not limited to, the following:

- Investment strategy
- Asset allocation
- Risk tolerance
- Personal investment policy
- Asset selection
- Regular portfolio monitoring

Bull Oak evaluates the current investments of each client with respect to their risk tolerance levels and time horizon. Bull Oak will request discretionary authority from clients in order to select securities and execute transactions without permission from the client prior to each transaction. Risk tolerance levels are documented in the Investment Policy Statement, which is given to each client.

Bull Oak seeks to provide that investment decisions are made in accordance with the fiduciary duties owed to its accounts and without consideration of Bull Oak's economic, investment, or other financial interests. To meet its fiduciary obligations, Bull Oak attempts to avoid, among other things, investment or trading practices that systematically advantage or disadvantage certain client portfolios, and accordingly, Bull Oak's policy is to seek fair and equitable allocation of investment opportunities/transactions among its clients to avoid favoring one client over another over time. It is Bull Oak's policy to allocate investment opportunities and transactions it identifies as being appropriate and prudent among its clients on a fair and equitable basis over time.

Services Limited to Specific Types of Investments

Bull Oak generally limits its investment advice to ETFs. However, it may also include equities, mutual funds, fixed income securities, ETPs, and treasury inflation protected/inflation-linked bonds. Bull Oak may use other securities as well to help diversify a portfolio when applicable.

C. Client Tailored Services and Client Imposed Restrictions

Bull Oak offers the same suite of services to all of its clients. However, specific client investment strategies and their implementation are dependent upon the client Investment Policy Statement which outlines each client's current situation (income, tax levels, and risk tolerance levels). Clients may not impose restrictions in investing on certain securities or types of securities in accordance with their values or beliefs.

D. Wrap Fee Programs

A wrap fee program is an investment program where the investor pays one stated fee that includes management fees, transaction costs, fund expenses, and other administrative fees. Bull Oak does not participate in any wrap fee programs.

E. Assets Under Management

As of December 31, 2023, Bull Oak managed $144,481,339 in total assets, all of which were on a discretionary basis.

ITEM 5 - FEES AND COMPENSATION

As described in greater detail below, Bull Oak charges different types of fees, including fees based on a percentage of assets under management and fixed fees. The specific fees charged by Bull Oak will be set forth in the applicable client agreement. Fees are negotiable at the sole discretion of Bull Oak. Although Bull Oak believes its advisory fees are competitive, clients should be aware that lower fees for comparable services may be available from other sources.

A. Fee Schedule

Financial Planning and Consulting Fees

Clients who engage Bull Oak for Portfolio Management Services may receive the firm's Financial Planning and Consulting Services on a complimentary basis.

Bull Oak does not charge a fixed fee for its Financial Planning and Consulting Services.

Portfolio Management Fees

Bull Oak is compensated for its Portfolio Management Services on a fee-only basis, assessed monthly, in arrears, based upon a percentage of the client's assets under management in a progressive manner as of the close of business on the last business day of the preceding calendar month in accordance with the following annual percentages:

Asset-Based Fees for Portfolio Management

Value of Assets Under Management	Annual Management Fee
First $2,000,000	0.99%
Next $2,000,000	0.79%
Next $6,000,000	0.59%
Above $10,000,000	0.25%

For purposes of calculating assets under management, Bull Oak will consider all investment management accounts that constitute "household" of the client's assets. Typically, a client's household consists of any spouse, parent, child, partner, or sibling who resides at the same mailing address as the Client. The advisory fee is a blended fee and is calculated by assessing the percentage rates using the predefined levels of assets as shown in the above chart.

Bull Oak does not have an account minimum, though the firm does implement an annual minimum fee of $15,000, typically payable as a monthly minimum fee of $1,250. The client will be billed monthly in arrears.

Bull Oak's fees are generally not negotiable in the sole discretion of Bull Oak. Although Bull Oak believes its fees are competitive, Client is hereby advised that lower fees for comparable services may be available from other sources. Bull Oak may amend its standard fee schedule at any time by providing written notice to Client.

Clients may terminate their agreement within five (5) business days of signing their Investment Advisory Agreement, without penalty and with full refund of Bull Oak's fees. Thereafter, their agreement shall continue in effect until terminated by Bull Oak or the Client in writing. The termination of the relationship will be effective as of the date of the terminating party's written notice. The client may be charged a prorated fee for advisory services for the month in which the Agreement is terminated by using the end of day balance of the account(s) on the date of the written termination notice to calculate a daily fee.

The termination of the relationship will be effective as of the date of the terminating party's written notice.

B. Payment of Portfolio Management Fees

Asset-based Portfolio Management fees are withdrawn directly from the client's accounts by the custodian upon receiving client's written authorization on a monthly basis. Fees are paid in arrears.

In the event Bull Oak's services are terminated mid-month, Bull Oak is entitled to a pro-rata fee for the days service was provided in the final month. This final fee is deducted from the client's account prior to transfer. The number of days the account was managed during the month until termination is used to determine the percentage of the management fee earned (based on the total number of days in the month). In the event Bull Oak's services is terminated before the first year anniversary of which the Investment Advisory Agreement was signed, Bull Oak is entitled to a pro-rata fee to ensure that the $15,000 annual minimum fee amount is met.

For purposes of calculating assets under management, Bull Oak will consider all investment management accounts which constitute "household" of the Client's assets. Typically, a Client's household consists of any spouse, parent, child, partner or sibling who resides at the same mailing address as the Client.

C. Client Responsibility For Third Party Fees

Clients are responsible for the payment of all third-party fees (i.e. custodian fees, brokerage fees, mutual fund fees, transaction fees, etc.). Those fees are separate and distinct from the fees and expenses charged by Bull Oak. Please see Item 12 of this brochure regarding broker-dealer/custodian.

D. Prepayment of Fees

Bull Oak collects its Portfolio Management fees in arrears. It does not collect such fees in advance.

E. Outside Compensation For the Sale of Securities to Clients

Neither Bull Oak nor its supervised persons accept any compensation for the sale of securities or other investment products, including asset-based sales charges or service fees from the sale of mutual funds.

ITEM 6 - PERFORMANCE-BASED FEES AND SIDE-BY-

SIDE MANAGEMENT

Bull Oak does not accept performance-based fees or other fees based on a share of capital gains on or capital appreciation of the assets of a client.

ITEM 7 - TYPES OF CLIENTS

Bull Oak generally provides advisory services to the following types of clients:

- Individuals
- High-Net-Worth Individuals

Minimum Account Size:

Bull Oak does not have an account minimum, though the firm does implement an annual minimum fee of $15,000, typically payable as a monthly fee of $1,250. However, Bull Oak reserves the right to accept or decline a potential client for any reason in its sole discretion.

ITEM 8 - METHODS OF ANALYSIS, INVESTMENT STRATEGIES, & RISK OF INVESTMENT LOSS

Bull Oak has constructed five client portfolios with the following investment strategies:

- Conservative - The Bull Oak Conservative risk-tolerance strategy attempts to earn stable returns with low levels of volatility over time while maintaining a focus on downside risk management. It is designed to benefit during periods where the economy is thriving. However, it also attempts to protect during periods of uncertainty and high levels of market volatility. The strategy provides diversification and balance and regularly offers exposure through the use of ETFs to U.S. and international stocks, bonds, and alternative asset classes, such as U.S. real estate, treasury inflation-protected securities, and commodities. However, equity exposure is modest, and emphasis is placed on fixed income securities. This strategy may be appropriate for investors with a low tolerance for risk.
- Moderately Conservative -The Bull Oak Moderately Conservative risk-tolerance strategy attempts to earn stable returns with low levels of volatility over time while accepting a small degree of risk and volatility to seek some degree of appreciation. It is designed to benefit during periods where the economy is thriving while protecting during periods of uncertainty and high levels of market volatility. The strategy provides diversification and balance and regularly offers exposure through the use of ETFs to U.S. and international stocks, bonds, and alternative asset classes, such as U.S. real estate, treasury inflation-protected securities, and commodities. However, equity exposure is modest, and emphasis is placed on fixed income securities. This strategy may be appropriate for investors with a low-to-moderate tolerance for risk.
- Moderate - The Bull Oak Moderate risk-tolerance strategy seeks to achieve equity-like returns while exhibiting less volatility and maximum drawdown over full market cycles. The strategy provides diversification and balance and regularly offers exposure through the use of ETFs to U.S. and international stocks, bonds, and alternative asset classes, such as U.S. real estate, treasury inflation-protected securities, and commodities. This strategy may be appropriate for investors with a time horizon greater than five years and who have a moderate tolerance for risk.

- Moderately Aggressive - The Bull Oak Moderately Aggressive risk-tolerance strategy seeks to achieve equity-like returns over full market cycles but with less risk. The strategy provides diversification and balance and regularly offers exposure through the use of ETFs to U.S. and international stocks, bonds, and alternative asset classes, such as U.S. real estate, treasury inflation-protected securities, and commodities. This strategy may be appropriate for investors who have a 7 to 13-year time horizon, a high tolerance for risk, and an ability to withstand a permanent loss of capital.
- Aggressive - The Bull Oak Aggressive risk-tolerance strategy strives to aggressively take advantage of global capital market investment opportunities while exhibiting less volatility and maximum drawdown than conventional equity portfolios over full market cycles. The strategy provides diversification and balance and regularly offers exposure through the use of ETFs to U.S. and international stocks, bonds, and alternative asset classes, such as U.S. real estate, treasury inflation-protected securities, and commodities. This strategy may be appropriate for investors who have a 10 to 15-year time horizon, a substantial tolerance for risk, and an ability to withstand a permanent loss of capital.

To construct client portfolios, Bull Oak employs a proprietary model combined with a disciplined review process to guide investment decisions and manage portfolio risk. Bull Oak uses published information from a large number of public data sources including but not limited to: the Economist, Bloomberg, CNBC, The Wall Street Journal, Seeking Alpha, S&P Capital IQ, ECRI, and Reuters.

Clients and prospective clients should be aware that investing in securities involves risk of loss that clients should be prepared to bear. The following is a sample of the types of risks Bull Oak clients should be aware of when Bull Oak manages their assets:

- Strategy Risk: There are risks associated with the long-term core strategic holdings for each of the strategies. The more aggressive the Bull Oak strategy selected, the more likely the portfolio will contain larger weights in riskier asset classes, such as equities.
- Model Risk: There are distinct risks associated with Bull Oak portfolios' shorter-term dynamic allocations, which can result in more concentration of the portfolios towards a certain asset class or classes. This introduces the risk that Bull Oak could be on the wrong side of a tactical over- or under-weight, thus resulting in a drag on overall performance.
- Systematic or Market Risk: Bull Oak portfolios are invested in the global capital markets and are exposed to these markets. For example, if U.S. stocks decline, the portion of the Bull Oak portfolios invested in the U.S. stock market will decline. To a certain degree, Bull Oak tries to mitigate this risk by owning a wide variety of asset classes that are not perfectly correlated (or in some cases have zero or negative correlation).
- Custodial Risk: If the custodian of the account (TD Ameritrade or another custodian) were to go out of business, client assets may only be protected up to the SIPC limits.
- Equity Risk: investment generally refers to buying shares of stocks in return for receiving a future payment of dividends and/or capital gains if the value of the stock increases. The value of equity securities may fluctuate in response to specific situations for each company, industry conditions, and the general economic environments.
- Fixed-Income Risk: investments generally pay a return on a fixed schedule, though the amount of the payments can vary. This type of investment can include corporate and government debt securities, leveraged loans, high yield, and investment-grade debt and structured products, such as mortgage and other asset-backed securities, although individual bonds may be the best-known securities carry interest rate risk. (As interest rates rise, bond prices usually fall, and vice versa. This effect is usually more pronounced for longer-term securities.) Fixed income securities also carry inflation risk, liquidity risk, call risk, and credit and default risks for both issuers and counterparties. The risk of default on treasury inflation protected/inflation-linked bonds is dependent upon the U.S. Treasury defaulting (extremely unlikely); however, they carry a potential risk of losing share price value, albeit rather minimal. Risks of investing in foreign fixed income securities also include the general risk of non-U.S. investing described below.

- Exchange Traded Funds (ETFs) Risk: An ETF is an investment fund traded on stock exchanges, similar to stocks. Investing in ETFs carries the risk of capital loss (sometimes up to a 100% loss in the case of a stock holding bankruptcy). Areas of concern include the lack of transparency in products and increasing complexity, conflicts of interest, and the possibility of inadequate regulatory compliance. Precious Metal ETFs (e.g., Gold, Silver, or Palladium Bullion backed “electronic shares” not physical metal) specifically may be negatively impacted by several unique factors, among them (1) large sales by the official sector which own a significant portion of aggregate world holdings in gold and other precious metals, (2) a significant increase in hedging activities by producers of gold or other precious metals, (3) a significant change in the attitude of speculators and investors.
- Non-U.S. Security Risk: Non-U.S. securities present certain risks such as currency fluctuation, political and economic change, social unrest, changes in government regulation, differences in accounting, and the lesser degree of accurate public information available. Investments in emerging markets are generally more volatile than investments in developed foreign markets.

Tax Considerations: Bull Oak strategies are not designed to address specific tax objectives. Ongoing investment income, capital gains, capital losses, and miscellaneous deductions for some commodity ETFs are reported annually on the Schedule K-1, and when commodity ETFs are sold in a taxable account, proceeds will be reported on Form 1099-B. The Schedule K-1 is mailed separately to clients each year and needs to be included in the clients’ income tax return. In cases where the entity generating the Schedule K-1 files for a tax extension beyond April 15, clients may receive their Schedule K-1 after the due date for their income tax return. Individual taxpayers who do not request a filing extension may need to file an amended federal and/or state tax return if they receive their Schedule K-1 after filing their original return. Also, gains and losses associated with some commodities may be taxed differently than standard short-term and long-term capital gains and losses. Please consult your professional tax advisor for help with your unique situation. Investing in securities involves a risk of loss that you, as a client, should be prepared to bear.

D. Trading Securities At/Around the Same Time as Clients' Securities

Please see Item 11.C above.

ITEM 12 - BROKERAGE PRACTICES

A. Factors Used to Select Custodians and/or Broker/Dealers

We seek to recommend a custodian/broker that will hold your assets and execute transactions on terms that are overall most advantageous when compared with other available providers and their services. We consider a wide range of factors, including:

- Combination of transaction execution services and asset custody services (generally without a separate fee for custody)
- Capability to execute, clear, and settle trades (buy and sell securities for your account)
- Capability to facilitate transfers and payments to and from accounts (wire transfers, check requests, bill payment, etc.)
- Breadth of available investment products (stocks, bonds, mutual funds, exchange-traded funds (ETFs), etc.)
- Availability of investment research and tools that assist us in making investment decisions
- Quality of services
- Competitiveness of the price of those services (commission rates, margin interest rates, other fees, etc.) and willingness to negotiate the prices
- Reputation, financial strength, security and stability
- Prior service to us and our clients
- Availability of other products and services that benefit us, as discussed below

Bull Oak will never charge a premium or commission on transactions beyond the actual cost imposed by the broker-dealer/custodian.

For the benefit of no commissions or transaction fees, fully digital account opening, a large variety of security options and complete integration with software tools, Bull Oak recommends Altruist Financial LLC, an unaffiliated SEC-registered broker dealer and FINRA/SIPC member, as the clients' custodian. Bull Oak does not receive any research or other soft-dollar benefit by nature from its relationship with Altruist Financial LLC. Additionally, Bull Oak does not receive any referrals in exchange for using Altruist Financial LLC as a broker dealer.

Generally, we combine multiple orders for shares of the same securities purchased for advisory accounts we manage (this practice is commonly referred to as “block trading”). We will then distribute a portion of the shares to participating accounts in a fair and equitable manner. The distribution of the shares purchased is typically proportionate to the size of the account, but it is not based on account performance or the amount or structure of management fees. Subject to our discretion, regarding particular circumstances and market conditions, when we combine orders, each participating account pays an average price per share for all transactions and pays a proportionate share of all transaction costs. Accounts owned by our firm or persons associated with our firm may participate in block trading with your accounts; however, they will not be given preferential treatment.

1. Research and Other Soft-Dollar Benefits

We do not receive any economic benefit, directly or indirectly, from any third party for advice rendered to our clients. Altruist Financial LLC receives revenue on brokerage accounts opened through the Altruist platform.

While Bull Oak has no formal soft dollars program in which soft dollars are used to pay for third-party services, Bull Oak recommends Altruist Financial LLC due to its complete integration with software tools and fully digital account opening.

2. Brokerage for Client Referrals

Bull Oak receives no referrals from a broker-dealer or third party in exchange for using that broker-dealer or third party.

3. Clients Directing Which Broker/Dealer/Custodian to Use

Bull Oak will require clients to use a specific broker-dealer to execute transactions.

B. Aggregating (Block) Trading for Multiple Client Accounts

Bull Oak may aggregate or bunch securities to be purchased or sold for multiple clients. This may, but not always, result in less favorable prices, particularly for illiquid securities or during volatile market conditions. Bull Oak does not typically invest in illiquid securities.

ITEM 13 - REVIEWS OF ACCOUNTS

A. Frequency and Nature of Periodic Reviews and Who Makes Those Reviews

All client portfolio management accounts are reviewed at least annually only by either a Portfolio Manager or a Financial Advisor of Bull Oak, LLC with regard to clients’ respective investment policies and risk tolerance levels. All accounts at Bull Oak are assigned to either a Financial Advisor and/or a Portfolio Manager.

B. Factors That Will Trigger a Non-Periodic Review of Client Accounts

Reviews may be triggered by material market, economic or political events, or by changes in client's financial situations (such as retirement, termination of employment, physical move, or inheritance).

C. Content and Frequency of Regular Reports Provided to Clients

Each client will receive a quarterly report detailing the client's account, including assets held, asset value, and calculation of fees. This written report will come from the custodian. It is the responsibility of the client to verify the accuracy of the calculation of fees presented in such reports as the custodian will not determine whether the fees charged to the client's account are accurate or have been properly calculated.

ITEM 14 - CLIENT REFERRALS AND OTHER COMPENSATION

A. Economic Benefits Provided by Third Parties for Advice Rendered to Clients (Includes Sales Awards or Other Prizes)

Bull Oak does not receive any economic benefit, directly or indirectly, from any third party for advice rendered to our clients.

B. Compensation to Non – Advisory Personnel for Client Referrals

Bull Oak does not directly or indirectly compensate any person who is not advisory personnel for client referrals.

ITEM 15 - CUSTODY

When advisory fees are deducted directly from client accounts at client's custodian, Bull Oak will be deemed to have limited custody of client's assets and must have written authorization from the client to do so. Clients will receive all account statements and billing invoices that are required in each jurisdiction, and they should carefully review those statements for accuracy. Clients should understand that it is their responsibility to ensure that the fee calculation is correct, and not the custodian. Specifically, each time a fee is directly deducted from a client account, Bull Oak will concurrently:

- send the qualified custodian an invoice or statement of the amount of the fee to be deducted from the client's account; and
- send the client an invoice or statement itemizing the fee, including the formula used to calculate the fee, the value of the assets under management on which the fee is based, and the time period covered by the fee.

ITEM 16 - INVESTMENT DISCRETION

Bull Oak provides discretionary authority to clients. The Investment Advisory Contract established with each client sets forth the discretionary authority for trading. Where investment discretion has been granted, Bull Oak generally manages the client's account and makes investment decisions without consultation with the client as to when the securities are to be bought or sold for the account, the total amount of the securities to be bought/sold, what securities to buy or sell, or the price per share.

ITEM 17 - VOTING CLIENT SECURITIES (PROXY VOTING)

Bull Oak will not ask for, nor accept voting authority for client securities. Clients will receive proxies directly from the issuer of the security or the custodian. Clients should direct all proxy questions to the issuer of the security. Additionally, Bull Oak does not advise or act for Clients with respect to any legal matters, including bankruptcies and class actions, for the securities held in Clients' accounts.

ITEM 18 - FINANCIAL INFORMATION

A. Balance Sheet

Bull Oak neither requires nor solicits prepayment of more than $1200 in fees per client, six months or more in advance, and therefore is not required to include a balance sheet with this brochure.

B. Financial Conditions Reasonably Likely to Impair Ability to Meet Contractual Commitments to Clients

Neither Bull Oak nor its management has any financial condition that is likely to reasonably impair Bull Oak's ability to meet contractual commitments to clients.

C. Bankruptcy Petitions in Previous Ten Years

Bull Oak has not been the subject of a bankruptcy petition in the last ten years.
