Services, Fees and Compensation

Investment Planning Advisors (hereinafter called “IPA”) is a Registered Investment Adviser based in Cumming, Georgia, and incorporated under the laws of the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission (“SEC”). IPA is owned by Patrick Paxton and Wendy Paxton. IPA is registered with the SEC and is subject to its rules and regulations. IPA was founded in 2008 and was used as a DBA while Mr. Paxton was with his former firm. IPA was founded in January 2019 as an independently registered investment advisor with the State of Georgia. In October 2019 the firm was registered with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission (“SEC”). IPA provides investment advisory services, which may include, but are not limited to, the review of client investment objectives and goals, recommending asset allocation strategies of managed assets among investment products such as cash, stocks, mutual funds and bonds, annuities, and/or preparing written investment strategies. Our investment advice is tailored to meet our clients’ needs and investment objectives. Clients may impose restrictions on investing in certain securities or types of securities (such as a product type, specific companies, specific sectors, etc.) by providing a signed and dated written notification, of which an e-mail is also an acceptable form of notification. IPA also provides financial planning consulting services including, but not limited to, risk assessment/management, investment planning, estate planning, financial organization, or financial decision making/negotiation.

IPA provides investment advisory and other financial services through its Investment Advisory Representatives (“IAR”) to accounts opened with IPA. Managed Accounts are available to individuals and high net worth individuals.

IPA provides discretionary and non-discretionary investment advisory services to some of its clients through various managed account programs. IPA will assist clients in determining the suitability of the managed account programs for the client. The IAR is compensated through a comprehensive single fee and the account may be assessed other charges associated with conducting a brokerage business. IPA and its IAR, as appropriate, will be responsible for the following:

- Performing due diligence
- Recommending strategic asset and style allocations
- Providing research on investment product options, as needed
- Providing client risk profile questionnaire
- Obtaining investment advisory contract from client with required financial, risk tolerance, suitability and investment vehicle selection information for each new account
- Performing client suitability check on account documentation, review the investment objectives and evaluate the investment vehicle selections
- Providing Firm Brochure (this document)

IPA may recommend a Wrap Fee Program for the client’s account(s). A “Wrap Fee Program” for purposes of the SEC is a program under which investment advisory and brokerage execution services are provided for a single “wrapped” fee that is not based on the transactions in a client account. IPA provides discretionary and non-discretionary investment advisory services to some of its clients through a Wrap Fee Program. IPA will assist clients in determining the suitability of the Wrap Fee Program for the client. Wrap Fee Program accounts recommended by IPA are not managed differently from non-Wrap Fee Program accounts. Because brokerage execution costs are included in the client's overall advisory fee, the client's fee may be greater than those that have accounts in non-Wrap Fee Program accounts, however fees will not exceed the fee schedule stated in this Wrap Fee Brochure. All clients with Wrap Fee Program accounts will be provided with this Wrap Fee Brochure.

IPA offers a clearing platform to execute securities business for investment advisory services, including Wrap Fee Program services, through TD Ameritrade Institutional, a division of TD Ameritrade, Inc. Member FINRA/SIPC, purchased by Charles Schwab ("TD Ameritrade/Schwab"). In order for IPA to provide asset management services, we request you utilize the brokerage and custodial services of TD Ameritrade/Schwab. TD Ameritrade/Schwab is an independent SEC-registered broker dealer and is separate and unaffiliated with IPA. TD Ameritrade/Schwab offers services to independently registered investment advisors which include custody of securities, trade execution and clearance and settlement of transactions. The firm receives some benefits from TD Ameritrade through its participation in the TD Ameritrade Institutional program, as described in greater detail below.

IPA's relationship with TD Ameritrade/Schwab may include benefits provided to our firm, including, but not limited to research, market information, and administrative services that help our firm manage your account(s). These services may be provided for free or at a discount by TD Ameritrade or third-party vendors. The benefits provided to IPA do not depend on the amount of brokerage transactions directed to TD Ameritrade/Schwab. We believe that recommended broker-dealers provide quality execution services for our clients at competitive prices. Price is not the sole factor we consider in evaluating best execution. We also consider the quality of the brokerage services provided by the recommended broker-dealers, including the value of research provided, the firm's reputation, execution capabilities, commission rates, and responsiveness to our clients and our firm.

Fees and Compensation

The following types of fees will be assessed:

Asset Management – Fees are charged monthly or quarterly in advance and are based primarily on asset size and the level of complexity of the services provided. In individual cases, IPA has the sole discretion to negotiate fees that are lower than the standard fee shown or to waive fees. Fees are not based on the share of capital gains or capital appreciation of the funds or any portion of the funds. Comparable services for lower fees may be available from other sources. Fees for the initial month (or quarter) will be prorated based upon the number of calendar days in the calendar month (or quarter) that the advisory agreement is in effect. Fees are based on the market value of the assets on the last business day of the previous month (or quarter). Annual fees range from .25% - 1.00% depending on the amount of assets under management ("AUM") – See chart below. Consulting services are included in these fees for asset management services with the exception of unique circumstances that may require a separate agreement for financial planning services (description and fees are discussed below). If the situation warrants separate financial planning fees, it will be discussed upfront and a separate agreement will be negotiated.

Fee Schedule for Asset Management:

Total Account Value	Maximum Annual Advisory Fee
$0 - $100,000	1.00%
Next $100,001 - $250,000	0.80%
Next $250,001 - $500,000	0.65%
Next $500,001 - $1,000,000	0.50%
Next $1,000,001 - $2,000,000	0.35%
Next $2,000,001 - $5,000,000	0.30%
Next $5,000,001 - $10,000,000	0.25%

As authorized in the client agreement, the account custodian withdraws Investment Planning Advisors' advisory fees directly from the clients' accounts according to the custodian's policies, practices, and procedures. The custodial statement includes the amount of any fees paid to IPA for advisory services. You should carefully review the statement from your custodian/broker-dealer's statement and verify the calculation of fees. Your custodian/broker-dealer does not verify the accuracy of fee calculations.

Fees are charged in advance on a monthly or quarterly basis, meaning that advisory fees for a month are charged on the first day of the month (or quarter). Clients may terminate investment advisory services obtained from IPA, without penalty, upon written notice within five (5) business days after entering into the advisory agreement with IPA. Thereafter, the client may terminate advisory services upon written notice delivered to and received by IPA. Clients who terminate investment advisory services during a month are charged a prorated advisory fee based on the date of IPA's receipt of client's written notice to terminate. Any earned but unpaid fees are immediately due and payable, and any pre-paid and unearned fee will be immediately refunded.

Financial Planning – Financial planning services are charged in advance through a fixed fee or hourly arrangement as agreed upon between the client and Investment Planning Advisors. There will never be an instance where $1200 or more in fees is charged six or more months in advance. Hourly fees are generally charged when the scope of services cannot be determined or if the services are limited to one meeting. Fixed fees are generally quoted to the client for longer term consulting projects. Fees are negotiable and vary depending upon the complexity of the client situation and services to be provided. Hourly fees range from $175 - $250 per hour, depending on what is negotiated between IPA and the client. Similar financial planning services may be available elsewhere for a lower cost to the client. Fixed fees range from $1,000 - $20,000 depending on what is negotiated between the client and IPA, and the complexity of the project. An estimate for total hours and charges is determined at the start of the advisory relationship.

Typically, clients will be invoiced monthly for all time spent by IPA as agreed upon by client or upon completion of the services if less than a month. Clients who wish to terminate the planning process prior to completion may do so with written notice. The client may obtain a refund of a pre-paid fee if the advisory contract is terminated before the end of the billing period by contacting Patrick Paxton at (770) 205-4394. Upon receipt of written notification, any earned fee will immediately become due and payable, and any pre-paid and unearned fee will be immediately refunded. A client may terminate an advisory agreement without being assessed any fees or expenses within five (5) days of its signing.

Additional Fees and Expenses

Fees and charges incurred by the client from third parties as a result of maintaining the account such as transaction fees for any securities transactions executed and account maintenance or custodial fees are included in the wrap fees as stated in the above fee schedule. These fees vary by broker and/or custodian. For any mutual funds purchased, the client may pay their proportionate share of the funds' distribution, internal management, investment advisory and administrative fees. Such fees are not shared with IPA and are compensation to the fund manager. Clients are urged to read the mutual fund prospectus prior to investing.

Mutual fund companies impose internal fees and expenses on clients. These fees are in addition to the costs associated with the investment advisory services as described above. Complete details of such internal expenses are specified and disclosed in each mutual fund company's prospectus. Clients are strongly advised to review the prospectus(es) prior to investing in such securities.

Mutual funds purchased or sold in broker-dealer accounts may generate transaction fees that would not exist if the purchase or sale were made directly with the mutual fund company. Mutual funds held in broker-dealer accounts also charge management fees. These mutual fund management fees may be more or less than the mutual fund management fees charged if the client held the mutual fund directly with the mutual fund company.

Clients may purchase shares of mutual funds directly from the mutual fund issuer, its principal underwriter, or a distributor without purchasing the services of IPA or paying the advisory fee on such shares (but subject to any applicable sales charges). Certain mutual funds are offered to the public without a sales charge. In the case of mutual funds offered with a sales charge, the prevailing sales charge (as described in the mutual fund prospectus) may be more or less than the applicable advisory fee. However, clients would not receive IPA's assistance in developing an investment strategy, selecting securities, monitoring performance of the account, and making changes as necessary.

Please refer to Item 12 "Brokerage Practices" of this brochure for additional information.

Form ADV, Part 2A Appendix 1, Item 5

Account Requirements and Types of Clients

IPA offers investment advisory services primarily to individuals and high net worth individuals. There is generally a $25,000 minimum account size to open and maintain an advisory account, however IPA may waive the minimum at its discretion.

Portfolio Manager Selection and Evaluation

IPA may act as the portfolio manager for its Wrap Fee Program accounts. There is no conflict of interest with the arrangement.

Asset Management

Investment Planning Advisors provides discretionary and non-discretionary investment advisory services to some of its clients through various managed account programs. Investment Planning Advisors will assist clients in determining the suitability of the Managed Account Programs for the client. The IAR is compensated through a comprehensive single fee and the account may be assessed other charges associated with conducting a brokerage business. The firm and its IAR, as appropriate, will be responsible for the following:

- Performing due diligence

IPA may recommend a Wrap Fee Program for the client's account(s). A "Wrap Fee Program" for purposes of the SEC is a program under which investment advisory and brokerage execution services are provided for a single "wrapped" fee that is not based on the transactions in a client account. IPA provides discretionary investment advisory services to some of its clients through a Wrap Fee Program. IPA will assist clients in determining the suitability of the Wrap Fee Program for the client. Wrap Fee Program accounts recommended by IPA are not managed differently from non-Wrap Fee Program accounts. Because brokerage execution costs are included in the client's overall advisory fee, the client's fee may be greater than those that have accounts in non-Wrap Fee Program accounts, however fees will not exceed the fee schedule stated in this Wrap Fee Brochure. All clients with Wrap Fee Program accounts will be provided with this Wrap Fee Brochure. This Brochure is focused on Wrap Fee Program accounts.

As of January 9, 2024, the firm has the following assets under management:

Discretionary:	$240,366,142
Non-Discretionary:	$0
Total:	$240,366,142

Performance-Based Fees and Side by Side Management

IPA does not charge performance-based fees or participate in side-by-side management. Side-by-side management refers to the practice of managing accounts that are charged performance-based fees while at the same time managing accounts that are not charged performance-based fees. Performance-based fees are fees that are based on a share of capital gains or appreciation of the assets of a client. Our fees are calculated as described in Fees and Compensation section above and are not charged on the basis of performance of your advisory account.

Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies, and Risk of Loss

IPA's methods of analysis and investment strategies incorporate the client's needs and investment objectives, time horizon, and risk tolerance. IPA is not bound to a specific investment strategy for the management of investment portfolios, but rather consider the risk tolerance range of each portfolio and the risk level of each level when the account is opened. Examples of methodologies that our investment strategies may incorporate include:

Asset Allocation – Asset Allocation is a broad term used to define the process of selecting a mix of asset classes and the efficient allocation of capital to those assets by matching rates of return to a specified and quantifiable tolerance for risk. Asset Allocation has the potential of all the risks listed below.

Dollar-Cost Averaging – Dollar-cost averaging is the technique of buying a fixed dollar amount of securities at regularly scheduled intervals, regardless of the price per share. This will gradually, over time, decrease the average share price of the security. Dollar-cost averaging lessens the risk of investing a large amount in a single investment at the wrong time. Dollar-Cost Averaging has the potential of all the risks listed below.

Technical Analysis – involves studying past price charts, patterns and trends in the financial markets to predict the direction of both the overall market and specific stocks. Technical Analysis has the potential of all the risks listed below.

Long-Term Purchases – securities purchased with the expectation that the value of those securities will grow over a relatively long period of time, generally greater than one year. Long-Term Purchases have the potential of all the risks listed below.

Short-Term Purchases – securities purchased with the expectation that they will be sold within a relatively short period of time, generally less than one year, to take advantage of the securities' short-term price fluctuations. Short-term Purchases primarily have the potential of Market Risk, Business Risk, and Liquidity Risk as listed below.

Our strategies and investments may have unique and significant tax implications. Regardless of your account size or other factors, we strongly recommend that you continuously consult with a tax professional prior to and throughout the investing of your assets.

Investing in securities involves risk of loss that clients should be prepared to bear. Although we manage your portfolio with strategies and in a manner consistent with your risk tolerances, there can be no guarantee that our efforts will be successful. You should be prepared to bear the risk of loss.

All investments involve the risk of loss, including (among other things) loss of principal, a reduction in earnings (including interest, dividends, and other distributions), and the loss of future earnings. Regardless of the methods of analysis or strategies suggested for your particular investment goals, you should carefully consider these risks, as they all bear risks.

IPA's primary goal for investing is to help the client maintain purchasing power over the long term. This may result in short term variability and loss of principal. Time horizon and risk tolerance are key determinates of the proper asset allocation. IPA's approach focuses on taking appropriate risks for which clients are compensated (i.e. market risk) and seeking to limit or eliminate risks that do not provide compensation over the long term (i.e. individual stock risk or lack of portfolio risk).

Below are some more specific risks of investing:

Market Risk. The prices of securities in which clients invest may decline in response to certain events taking place around the world, including those directly involving the companies whose securities are owned by the client or an underlying fund; conditions affecting the general economy; overall market changes; local, regional or global political, social or economic instability; and currency, interest rate and commodity price fluctuations. Investors should have a long-term perspective and be able to tolerate potentially sharp declines in market value.

Management Risk. IPA's investment approach may fail to produce the intended results. If our perception of the performance of a specific asset class or underlying fund is not realized in the expected time frame, the overall performance of client's portfolio may suffer.

Equity Risk. Equity securities tend to be more volatile than other investment choices. The value of an individual mutual fund or ETF can be more volatile than the market as a whole. This volatility affects the value of the client's overall portfolio. Small- and mid-cap companies are subject to additional risks. Smaller companies may experience greater volatility, higher failure rates, more limited markets, product lines, financial resources, and less management experience than larger companies. Smaller companies may also have a lower trading volume, which may disproportionately affect their market price, tending to make them fall more in response to selling pressure than is the case with larger companies.

Fixed Income Risk. The issuer of a fixed income security may not be able to make interest and principal payments when due. Generally, the lower the credit rating of a security, the greater the risk that the issuer will default on its obligation. If a rating agency gives a debt security a lower rating, the value of the debt security will decline because investors will demand a higher rate of return. As nominal interest rates rise, the value of fixed income securities is likely to decrease. A nominal interest rate is the sum of a real interest rate and an expected inflation rate.

Municipal Securities Risk. The value of municipal obligations can fluctuate over time, and may be affected by adverse political, legislative and tax changes, as well as by financial developments that affect the municipal issuers. Because many municipal obligations are issued to finance similar projects by municipalities (e.g., housing, healthcare, water and sewer projects, etc.), conditions in the sector related to the project can affect the overall municipal market. Payment of municipal obligations may depend on an issuer's general unrestricted revenues, revenue generated by a specific project, the operator of the project, or government appropriation or aid. There is a greater risk if investors can look only to the revenue generated by the project. In addition, municipal bonds generally are traded in the "over-the-counter" market among dealers and other large institutional investors. From time to time, liquidity in the municipal bond market (the ability to buy and sell bonds readily) may be reduced in response to overall economic conditions and credit tightening.

Investment Companies Risk. When a client invests in open end mutual funds or ETFs, the client indirectly bears its proportionate share of any fees and expenses payable directly by those funds. Therefore, the client will incur higher expenses, many of which may be duplicative. In addition, the client's overall portfolio may be affected by losses of an underlying fund and the level of risk arising from the investment practices of an underlying fund (such as the use of derivatives). ETFs are also subject to the following risks: (i) an ETF's shares may trade at a market price that is above or below their net asset value; (ii) the ETF may employ an investment strategy that utilizes high leverage ratios; or (iii) trading of an ETF's shares may be halted if the listing exchange's officials deem such action appropriate, the shares are de-listed from the exchange, or the activation of market-wide "circuit breakers" (which are tied to large decreases in stock prices) halts stock trading generally. IPA has no control over the risks taken by the underlying funds.

Voting Client Securities

IPA does not vote proxies on behalf of Client advisory accounts. At the Client's request, IPA may offer the Client advice regarding corporate actions and the exercise of proxy voting rights. If the Client owns shares of common stock or mutual funds, the Client is responsible for exercising the right to vote as a shareholder.

In most cases, the Client will receive proxy materials directly from the account custodian. However, in the event IPA receives any written or electronic proxy materials, we would forward them directly to the Client by mail, unless the Client has authorized our firm to contact you by electronic mail, in which case, IPA would forward any electronic solicitation to vote proxies.

Form ADV, Part 2A Appendix 1, Item 7

Code of Ethics, Participation or Interest in Client Transactions and Personal Trading

IPA's Code of Ethics includes guidelines for professional standards of conduct for our Associated Persons. All of IPA's Associated Persons are expected to strictly adhere to these guidelines. Persons associated with IPA are also required to report any violations to the Code of Ethics. IPA may buy or sell securities for itself that we also recommend to clients. In addition, the individual IARs may buy or sell the same securities for their personal and family accounts that are bought and sold for your account(s).

IPA or its IARs may have an interest or position in a certain security, which may also be recommended to the client. As these situations may present a conflict of interest, IPA has established the following restrictions in order to ensure its fiduciary responsibilities:

1. A director, officer or employee of the advisor shall not buy or sell a security for their personal portfolio(s) where their decision is substantially derived, in whole or part, by reason of his or her employment, unless the information is also available to the investing public. No owner/employee of IPA shall prefer their own interest to that of the client.
2. The advisor maintains a list of all securities held by the company and all directors, officers, and employees. These holdings are reviewed on a quarterly basis by the principal of the firm.
3. The advisor requires that all employees must act in accordance with all applicable Federal and State regulations governing registered investment advisors.
4. The advisor will monitor any blocking of personal trades with those of clients to ensure that clients are not at a disadvantage.

IPA's Code of Ethics is available to you upon request. You may obtain a copy of our Code of Ethics by contacting Patrick Paxton at (770) 205-4394.

Review of Accounts

Client accounts are reviewed at least quarterly by Patrick Paxton, the Principal Executive Officer of the firm. Client accounts are reviewed with regard to their investment policies and risk tolerance levels. All accounts at IPA are reviewed by this reviewer.

Reviews may also be triggered by material market, economic or political events, or by changes in client's financial situations (such as retirement, termination of employment, physical move, or inheritance).

Each client will receive at least quarterly a written report that details the clients' account which may come from the custodian.

Client Referrals and Other Compensation

IPA advertises their investment advisory services on the website of The Lampo Group, LLC d/b/a Ramsey Solutions™ (“RS”), which operates a program known as SmartVestor™. As the Securities and Exchange Commission deems RS to be a third-party solicitor within the meaning of Rule 206(4)-3 under the Investment Advisers Act of 1940, IPA makes the following disclosure: SmartVestor™ is an advertising service for investing professionals. When a consumer provides contact information through the SmartVestor™ website, the program introduces the consumer to up to five (5) investing professionals (“Pros”) in their geographic area. It is up to the consumer to interview the Pros and decide whether to directly retain them. As a SmartVestor™ Pro, IPA pays RS a flat monthly membership and advertising fee to advertise their services in the SmartVestor™ Program. In return, IPA receives contact information for prospective investment advisory clients. Consumers entering a zip code corresponding to IPA’s advertising markets can view their profile, and other Pros in the same markets, on the SmartVestor™ website. The advertising fee is based upon criteria including market size (small, medium, large or premium) and historic volume of web traffic to RS’s SmartVestor™ website. The fees paid by IPA are irrespective of whether someone becomes a client, and the fees are not passed on to the client. The fees paid are not based upon the number of leads, contacts, or referrals which IPA may receive from RS or the SmartVestor™ website. IPA do not pay to or share with RS or SmartVestor™ any portion of the investment advisory fees a client is charged. Neither RS nor its affiliates are engaged in providing investment advice. RS does not receive, control, access or monitor client funds, accounts, or portfolios of IPA. Any services rendered by IPA are solely their services and not those of RS or SmartVestor™.

IPA does not receive compensation for referrals made to other professional service providers.

Financial Information

IPA is not required to provide financial information to our clients because we do not require or solicit the prepayment of more than $1200 six or more months in advance.
