

Nine Thirty Capital Management, LLC

Part 2A of Form ADV

The Brochure

250 West 55th Street
16th Floor, Suite A
New York, NY 10019
<http://www.930capital.com/>

Updated: October 2024

This brochure provides information about the qualifications and business practices of Nine Thirty Capital Management, LLC (“Nine Thirty Capital”). If you have any questions about the contents of this brochure, please contact us at 212-918-8930. The information in this brochure has not been approved or verified by the United States Securities and Exchange Commission or by any state securities authority.

Nine Thirty is registered as an investment adviser with the SEC under the Investment Advisers Act of 1940 (the “Advisers Act”). Registration with the United States Securities and Exchange Commission should not be assumed to imply a certain level of skill or training.

Additional information about Nine Thirty Capital is also available on the SEC’s website at: www.adviserinfo.sec.gov.

Material Changes

This brochure was last updated in March 2024. The only changes since then were made to the sections titled “Fees and Compensation” and “Performance-Based Fees and Side-by-Side Management” to provide clarification with respect to the types of clients to which Nine Thirty Capital currently provides or may provide investment advisory services.

Table of Contents

Material Changes.....	2
Table of Contents .....	2
Advisory Business .....	2
Fees and Compensation.....	3
Performance-Based Fees and Side-by-Side Management.....	4
Types of Clients.....	4
Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies and Risk of Loss .....	5
Disciplinary Information .....	7
Other Financial Industry Activities and Affiliations .....	7
Code of Ethics, Participation or Interest in Client Transactions and Personal Trading .....	8
Brokerage Practices .....	10
Review of Accounts .....	10
Client Referrals and Other Compensation.....	10
Custody.....	10
Investment Discretion.....	10
Voting Client Securities .....	11
Financial Information .....	11

Advisory Business

Nine Thirty Capital Management, LLC ("Nine Thirty Capital") was founded in 2004 and is primarily owned by Nine Thirty Management Holdings, LLC. Nine Thirty Management Holdings, LLC is primarily owned by Nine Thirty Capital’s President and CEO, Stuart J. Rabin and his family.

Nine Thirty Capital provides investment advisory services primarily focusing on asset allocation and direct investments. In addition, Nine Thirty Capital may provide investment advisory services with respect to private equity and venture capital investments and actively participates in certain of these investments. Advice is generally limited to the forgoing investments.

Nine Thirty Capital generally advises clients through the creation of limited partnerships or limited liability companies (the "Client Accounts") in which Nine Thirty Capital, or a related person, acts as managing member and one or more members of a family group (or entities created by such members) act as the other members.

Nine Thirty Capital serves as an investment manager to related private investment funds organized to make private equity investments in the securities of early-stage/venture capital or established businesses (each a “Private Fund”). Nine Thirty Capital exercises oversight of each portfolio company investment held by the Private Funds through representation, including on the boards of directors of its portfolio companies. The Private Funds are managed in accordance with the terms of the applicable operating and management agreements. Investment advisory services are not tailored to the needs of each individual investor in the Private Funds.

As of December 31, 2023, Nine Thirty Capital managed $613,478,025 on a discretionary basis on behalf of clients and proprietary assets.

Fees and Compensation

Nine Thirty Capital's standard management fee for Client Accounts, if any, is 1.5% of assets under management per annum. Nine Thirty Capital's standard fee is generally payable quarterly in advance and upon deposit of any funds or securities in the account by the client. The first payment will be based on the opening market value of the account and will be pro-rated to cover the period from the date the account is opened through the end of that calendar quarter. Thereafter, the fee will be based on the account value on the last business day of the preceding calendar quarter. The fee structure is explained and agreed with the clients in advance before any services are rendered. Fees will generally be deducted directly from the client's custodial account. Nine Thirty Capital's fees are negotiable, at its discretion.

Nine Thirty Capital receives a management fee from each Private Fund for providing management services in an annual amount equal to either 1.0% or 1.5% of the aggregate capital commitments of the investors through the earlier of termination of the Private Fund and the making to the investors of the final liquidating distribution. Nine Thirty Capital has entered into side letter arrangements with certain investors in the Private Funds that grant preferential fee terms, including, in some cases, a waiver of management fees.

Nine Thirty Capital or a related person, earns directors' fees, management fees, advisory fees, consulting fees or equivalent compensation from a portfolio company of a Private Fund for the sole account of Nine Thirty Capital or its related person. For example, a portfolio company pays compensation for services provided by Nine Thirty Capital's related person for consulting services provided to the portfolio company, including, but not limited to (i) the deployment and financing of the portfolio company's products, (ii) discussions and negotiations with investment bankers, placement agents and other advisers in connection with any future equity raise or sale by the portfolio company, (iii) strategic planning regarding subsidiaries of a portfolio company, (iv) strategic initiatives of a portfolio company, and (v) such other matters as may from time to time be agreed upon by a portfolio company and Nine Thirty Capital or its related person. Compensation for providing such services is paid directly from the portfolio company to Nine Thirty Capital or its related person and will not be used to offset management or incentive fees paid by the Private Funds to Nine Thirty Capital.

A portfolio company which may be held by, or that may be recommended to, the Private Funds may enter into financing or other transactions with Nine Thirty Capital's related persons. Any fees or other revenues earned by Nine Thirty Capital or any related person in connection with any such transaction may be for the sole account of Nine Thirty Capital or a related person. Please refer to the Other Financial Industry Activities and Affiliations section for further information.

As permitted by each Private Fund's relevant governing documents, the Private Funds bear all operational, audit and administration expenses; all expenses incurred with the purchase, proposed purchase, holding, sale or proposed sale of any investment including, without limitation, all travel-related expenses and all third-party out-of-pocket costs and expenses of custodians, paying agents, registrars, counsel, independent accountants, independent representatives and others, unless such costs or expenses are paid for by the portfolio company; all costs of prosecuting or defending any legal action for or against the managing member or affiliates; principal of, interest on and fees and expenses arising out of any and all permitted borrowings made by the Private Fund; the costs of any litigation, director and officer liability or other insurance and indemnification or expense or liability relating to the affairs of the Private Fund; all expenses of liquidating the Private Fund; and any taxes, fees or other governmental charges and all expenses incurred in connection with any tax audit, investigation, settlement or review of the Private Fund.

Investors should review the confidential offering memorandum of the Private Fund in which they are invested to fully understand the types of fees and expenses paid for by the relevant Private Fund. While the Private Funds are generally responsible for the above expense types pursuant to the relevant governing documents, Nine Thirty Capital, in its sole discretion, may determine not to allocate them to the Private Funds.

Performance-Based Fees and Side-by-Side Management

Nine Thirty Capital charges the Private Funds a performance fee equal to 20% of cash distributions in excess of capital contributions, subject to a hurdle rate, if applicable. All terms relating to performance-based fees are disclosed in each of the Private Fund's investment management agreement and governing documents. As noted above, Nine Thirty Capital's fees are negotiable, at its discretion. Nine Thirty Capital charges Client Accounts, if any, a performance fee equal to 10% of annual net appreciation whether such appreciation is realized or unrealized, subject to a loss carry forward. The performance fee, if any, is paid annually. Similar to management fees, performance-based fees will generally be deducted directly from each client's custodial account.

The fact that a significant portion of Nine Thirty Capital's compensation (and its affiliates' and investment professionals' compensation) could be directly computed on the basis of profits generated by the investment of client assets may create an incentive for Nine Thirty Capital to make investments on behalf of its clients that are riskier or more speculative than would be the case in the absence of such compensation. However, the Firm is committed to fulfilling its fiduciary duty to its Clients to act at all times in the best interests of the Clients. To this end, the Firm has implemented written compliance policies and procedures that are designed to address conflicts of interest.

Types of Clients

Nine Thirty Capital advises Private Funds which invest in select early-stage private equity/venture capital investments. The minimum investment amount is $500,000; however, the managing member of the Private Funds, an affiliate of Nine Thirty Capital, has the authority to accept a lesser amount, in its sole discretion.

The Private Funds have accepted, and may in the future, accept subscriptions from investors who also provide services to Nine Thirty Capital and its clients. Relationships such as these could be viewed as creating a conflict of interest. The governing documents for the Private Funds do not prohibit Nine Thirty Capital from engaging in any business activities with investors who are investment advisers or individuals that are affiliated with investment advisers. As a result, Nine Thirty Capital may from time to time place client assets with investment advisers whose personnel are investors in the Private Funds.

Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies and Risk of Loss

For its Private Fund clients, Nine Thirty Capital typically invests in early-stage private companies (i.e., it often engages in a venture capital style of investing). No assurance can be given, however, that clients will achieve their objective, and investment results may vary substantially over time and from period to period. All investing involves a risk of loss that clients should be prepared to bear and the investment strategy of multi-manager investments offered by Nine Thirty Capital could lose money over short or even long periods.

The summary provided below is a brief overview of market and investment risks and is not intended to be complete.

- Stock Market Risk - There is a chance that stock market declines and related investor sentiment could over time impact the performance of the Private Funds.
- General Business and Catastrophic Risk - Private Funds will be subject to the risk of loss arising from exposure that may be incurred, indirectly, due to the occurrence of various events, including hurricanes, earthquakes, and other natural disasters, terrorism and other catastrophic events such as a pandemic. These catastrophic risks of loss can be substantial and could have a material adverse effect on Nine Thirty Capital's business as well as the Private Funds' portfolios.
- Non-Diversification Risk - The performance of the Private Funds, which invest in one portfolio company, will be solely determined by the value of the portfolio company investment.
- Illiquid Investments - Investors in the Private Funds will be unable to redeem capital until a liquidation event, given the illiquid nature of these investments.
- Reliance on information that turns out to be wrong - Investments are selected based, in part, on information provided by issuers to regulators or made directly available by the issuers or other sources. Confirmation of the completeness or accuracy of such information is not always attainable, and in some cases, complete and accurate information is not available. Incorrect or incomplete information increases risk and may result in losses.
- Risk of Liability for Private Investments - Nine Thirty Capital will often designate directors to serve on the boards of directors of the Private Funds' portfolio companies. The designation of directors and other measures contemplated could expose the assets of the Private Funds to claims by a portfolio company, its security holders, and its creditors. The exercise of control over a company imposes additional risks of liability for environmental damage, product defects, failure to supervise management, violation of governmental regulations and other types of liability which the limited liability characteristic of business operations usually ignores. If these liabilities were to occur, a Private Fund could suffer losses in its investments. Although such board positions in certain circumstances may be important to a Private Funds' investment strategy and may enhance Nine Thirty Capital's ability to manage investments, they may also have the effect of impairing Nine Thirty Capital's ability to sell the related investments when, and upon the terms, it may otherwise desire and may subject Nine Thirty Capital and the applicable Private Funds to claims they would not otherwise be subject to as an investor, including claims of breach of duty of loyalty, securities claims and other director-related claims. In general, the applicable Private Fund will indemnify Nine Thirty Capital from such claims.

- Nature of Investments - Portfolio companies in which the Private Funds invest are confronted with a high degree of financial and operating risk, including risks associated with companies with little or no operating history, companies operating at a loss or with substantial inter-period variations, companies which incur a high level of debt as a result of a leveraged buyout, companies where some members of the management team are inexperienced, and companies with a need for substantial contributions to capital to support expansion or to achieve or maintain a competitive position. Losses of principal are possible on any particular investment.
- Availability of Investment Capital - Early-stage investments often require several rounds of capital infusions before the portfolio company reaches maturity. If a venture capital or Private Fund investor does not have funds available to participate in subsequent rounds of financing, that shortfall may have a significant negative impact on both the portfolio company and the face value of the investor's original investment. Each Private Fund generally will not participate in follow-on rounds of financings of a portfolio company. As such, each Private Fund does not intend to provide all necessary follow-on financing. Accordingly, third-party sources of financing may be required and may be provided by subsequent Private Funds structured by Nine Thirty Capital, third parties, or its related persons or entities. There is no assurance that such additional sources of financing will be available, or, if available, will be on terms beneficial to the Private Funds. Furthermore, each Private Fund's capital is limited and may not be adequate to protect a Private Fund from dilution in multiple rounds of portfolio-company financing.
- Cybersecurity - The information and technology systems of Nine Thirty Capital and of key service providers to Nine Thirty Capital and its clients may be vulnerable to potential damage or interruption from computer viruses, network failures, computer and telecommunication failures, infiltration by unauthorized persons and security breaches, usage errors by their respective professionals, power outages and catastrophic events such as fires, tornadoes, floods, hurricanes and earthquakes. Although Nine Thirty Capital has implemented various measures designed to manage risks relating to these types of events, if these systems are compromised, become inoperable for extended periods of time or cease to function properly, it may be necessary for Nine Thirty Capital to make a significant investment to fix or replace them and to seek to remedy the effect of these issues. The failure of these systems and/or of disaster recovery plans for any reason could cause significant interruptions in the operations of Nine Thirty Capital or Private Fund accounts and result in a failure to maintain the security, confidentiality or privacy of sensitive data, including personal information.
- Reliance on the Adviser and Portfolio Company Management - The Funds' future profitability depends largely upon the business and investment acumen of the Adviser. The loss or reduction of service of one or more of the Adviser's principal investment personnel could have an adverse effect on the Funds' ability to realize investment objectives. Although the Funds generally invest in portfolio companies with strong management or recruit strong management to such companies, there can be no assurance that the management of such companies will be able or willing to successfully operate a company in accordance with a Fund's objectives.

- Inflation and Interest Rate Risk - Portfolio returns will likely vary in response to inflation and interest rates changes. Inflation causes future dollars to be worth less and may reduce the purchasing power of a client's future interest payments and principal. Inflation also generally leads to higher interest rates which, among other things, may impact the Adviser's ability to draw credit at a reasonable rate.
- Unforeseen Risks/Force Majeure - The Adviser's strategies and investments on behalf of a Fund may be affected by unforeseen risks or force majeure events (i.e., events beyond the Adviser's control, including acts of God, fire, flood, earthquakes, outbreaks of an infectious disease, pandemic or any other serious public health concern, war, terrorism and labor strikes). Some force majeure events could adversely affect The Adviser's ability to perform its obligations until it is able to remedy the force majeure event. In addition, the losses to a Fund resulting from such force majeure event could be considerable. Certain force majeure events (such as war or an outbreak of an infectious disease) could have a broader negative impact on the world economy and international business activity generally, or in any of the countries where the Adviser may invest specifically on behalf of its Fund. Additionally, a major governmental intervention into industry, including the nationalization of an industry, could result in a loss to a Fund. Any one or any combination of the foregoing may therefore adversely affect Fund performance.

This is not intended to serve as an exhaustive list or a comprehensive description of all risks and conflicts that may arise in connection with the management and operation of the Private Funds. Investors in the Private Funds should review the subscription and governing documents provided for further discussions on associated risks and potential conflicts of interest.

Disciplinary Information

Nine Thirty Capital and its management persons have never been involved in any legal or disciplinary events that would be material to a client's evaluation of the company or its management persons.

Other Financial Industry Activities and Affiliations

Nine Thirty Capital generally organizes limited liability companies or similar vehicles for holding and investing client assets. Nine Thirty Capital Partners, LLC, a related person to Nine Thirty Capital, generally acts as the managing member to vehicles established for US clients. Nine Thirty Capital is affiliated with the managing member to the Private Funds by common ownership.

In certain cases, other entities, such as co-investment vehicles or holding companies (including those owned by Nine Thirty, its primary owners, or its managing members), may be established or used to facilitate an investment to invest alongside the Private Fund(s) in connection with the consummation of an investment transaction. Although this enhances the alignment of interests, it is also possible that it may pose a conflict of interest. However, Nine Thirty mitigates such risks in a number of ways, including: (1) Any additional entity participating in such investments will buy into and exit the investments on a pari passu basis with the Private Funds; (2) Such entities receive similar, or the same, investment terms as the Private Funds themselves; and (3) Such entities do not participate in any investment transaction that anticipates (i.e., front runs) the purchase or sale of Private Fund investments.

Nine Thirty Capital has a related person, 924 Global Asset Finance Corporation (“924”), that has been created to provide financing for the sales, distribution and deployment of products developed and manufactured by a portfolio company held by the Private Funds. The business and affairs of 924 are managed by a board of directors, which consists of Nine Thirty Capital employees. Mr. Rabin has an ownership interest in 924 and is also the President and CEO of 924. Thus, a conflict of interest may arise because, as discussed above in the Fees and Compensation section, the portfolio company owned by the Private Funds may enter into financing transactions with 924 and pay financing fees to 924. None of the fees received by 924 will be used to offset any expenses of the Private Funds that hold interests in the portfolio company for which 924 provides services. Mr. Rabin has the potential to personally benefit or cause 924 to benefit from business directed to 924 from a portfolio company held by the Private Funds that may otherwise be directed to third parties. Nine Thirty Capital believes that 924 may be able to provide financing services at a cost at least comparable to, if not lower than, that of third parties and further believes that any arrangement entered into between 924 and the portfolio company would be beneficial to the portfolio company and to the Private Funds. Moreover, the relationship between 924 and the portfolio company was thoroughly reviewed and approved by the independent members of the board of directors of the portfolio company. In addition, all future financing and any other arrangements between 924 and the portfolio company will also be subject to the review and approval by the independent members of the board of directors of the portfolio company and are subject to ongoing review as well.

Code of Ethics, Participation or Interest in Client Transactions and Personal Trading

Nine Thirty Capital has established a Code of Ethics in accordance with Rule 204A-1 under the Advisers Act to govern, among other things, the manner in which the business and its employees conduct themselves. A copy of the Code of Ethics is available to any client or prospective client upon request.

Nine Thirty Capital may recommend to its clients securities in which it or its interest holders (or their affiliates or other related parties) own interests.

Nine Thirty Capital has adopted certain restrictions on personal trading by employees. Generally, Nine Thirty Capital requires personal trading reporting and review and compliance with its insider trading policies and procedures. Through its procedures, Nine Thirty Capital requires, among other things, that employees:

- Place the interests of our clients first;
- Bring forward any conflict of interests that may arise with providing investment advice to clients;
- Adhere to the fundamental standard that employees should not take inappropriate advantage of their position;
- Conduct all personal securities transactions in a manner consistent with the adopted policy;

- Maintain the confidentiality of information concerning the identity of securities and financial circumstances of clients;
- Maintain independence in the investment decision-making process at all times; and
- Comply with applicable provisions of the federal securities laws.

As described above, Nine Thirty Capital requires that the personal investment transactions of its members and employees be carried out in a way that is not detrimental to the interests of clients. Nonetheless, Nine Thirty Capital believes that, in the event investment goals are similar for its clients and for members or employees of Nine Thirty Capital, it may be logical or desirable that there be a common ownership of some securities. As stated earlier, clients may invest in securities that are owned by Nine Thirty Capital or its related persons. In the event that an investment opportunity arises which would be suitable for both clients and for Nine Thirty Capital or its related persons (who are not also clients), the investment opportunity will be given to clients (including those clients that are also related persons) first and to Nine Thirty Capital and/or its related persons (who are not also clients) only after client demand is satisfied. If there is a conflict between a member's, employee's or related person's (in each case, that are not also clients) desired transaction and a client's desired transaction, the conflict will be resolved in favor of the client. In the event that an investment opportunity arises which would be suitable for more than one client (including those clients that are also related persons), Nine Thirty Capital will generally allocate that investment opportunity on a pro rata basis based upon the capital of the clients that would otherwise be allocated to such investment opportunity (assuming no limitations on such allocation) or as may be otherwise deemed equitable by Nine Thirty Capital. However, due to investment series limitations or for other reasons, there may be investments where Private Funds' interests are subordinate to other investments in which other Private Funds or Nine Thirty Capital employees hold interests. As such, certain investors have liquidation priority over other investors.

Occasionally, an investment opportunity may be made available to Nine Thirty Capital by a client (including a client that is also a related person). In such circumstance, Nine Thirty Capital will allocate the investment opportunity first to the client without whom there would be no access to the investment and thereafter to other clients in the manner described above.

Nine Thirty Capital and its related persons (including related persons that are also clients), from time to time participate in certain private equity investment opportunities. Nine Thirty Capital, through its related persons or entities, may also seed or create investment vehicles for the purpose of investing in such opportunities.

As is typical in private equity or venture capital investing, Nine Thirty Capital's employees act as representatives on the board of directors or management committees of portfolio companies on behalf of the Private Funds. In addition, Nine Thirty Capital recommends to the portfolio company certain investors in the Private Funds to be directors or management members of the portfolio company. Any compensation, including cash compensation, equity options or grants, benefits, or other compensation structure provided to similar directors or members of a portfolio company's board or committee, will be paid by the portfolio company directly to such appointed persons. No cash or non-cash compensation received by any persons affiliated with Nine Thirty Capital or the Private Funds will be used to offset any expenses or liabilities of the Private Funds.

Generally, a reduced fee (or no fee) is applied to accounts held by Nine Thirty Capital employees or members and their respective affiliates.

Brokerage Practices

Due to the nature of the services it provides, Nine Thirty Capital does not generally conduct client transactions through broker-dealers, however, Nine Thirty Capital has developed and implemented policies and procedures to address the limited possibility of using brokerage counterparties. Where Nine Thirty Capital is in a position to place client transactions through broker-dealers, Nine Thirty Capital uses brokers that are selected on the basis of their general expertise and their ability to execute a particular trade in a timely and cost-effective manner.

Nine Thirty Capital does not have any formal soft dollar arrangements or other arrangements that would commit Clients to any specific or implied level of trading.

Review of Accounts

Investments managed by Nine Thirty Capital will be reviewed at least quarterly by the President and Chief Executive Officer/Chief Compliance Officer and professional staff members to determine that the investments held are consistent with their stated investment objectives.

An independent representative, on behalf of the Private Fund investors, will receive statements from the custodian on a quarterly basis. For Private Funds that are subject to an audit, investors will receive audited financials on an annual basis.

Nine Thirty Capital generally exercises oversight of the private equity investments held by the Private Funds through representation on the board of directors or on management committees of its portfolio companies.

Client Referrals and Other Compensation

Nine Thirty does not compensate any person or entity for client referrals nor does it offer or receive any economic benefit from someone who is not a client.

Custody

Due to the nature of its relationship to the Private Funds and its ability to withdraw fees, Nine Thirty Capital is deemed to have custody of client funds and securities. In order to comply with regulations regarding custody and securities by investment advisers, the Private Funds' assets are subject to an annual surprise asset verification and their independent representative(s) receive copies of the Private Funds' quarterly custodial statements. Their independent representative(s) are encouraged to review these statements carefully.

Investment Discretion

Nine Thirty Capital manages the Private Funds on a discretionary basis subject to the terms of the applicable operating and management agreement.

Voting Client Securities

As is typical in private equity or venture capital investing, Nine Thirty Capital's employees may be appointed to the board of directors of portfolio companies of the Private Funds. In addition, Nine Thirty Capital may cause other persons designated by Nine Thirty Capital to be appointed as directors of the boards of directors of portfolio companies of the Private Funds. In situations where Nine Thirty Capital votes on an action for a company in which an employee or appointee of Nine Thirty Capital serves on the board of directors, Nine Thirty Capital has determined that this does not inherently present a conflict of interest as the sole purpose of this representation is to maximize the return on the Private Funds' investment in such company and to ensure that the Private Funds' interests are protected. Nine Thirty Capital believes that the Private Funds and the director roles are generally aligned with respect to voting on actions and otherwise.

Financial Information

Nine Thirty Capital has never filed for bankruptcy and is not aware of any financial condition that is expected to affect its ability to manage client accounts.