Item 4: Advisory Business

A. Description of the Advisory Firm

Dunhill Financial, LLC is a Limited Liability Company organized in the State of Florida. The advisory firm was formed on November 5th, 2014, and the principal owner is Brian Dunhill. Prior to the formation of the LLC, advice was given through Dunhill Financial, SPRL a Limited Liability Company organized in Belgium and formed on November 23rd, 2011. The principal owner of the Belgian company is Brian Dunhill. From October 2016 until January 2017, Dunhill Financial did business under the name of Cross Border Planning (as a DBA of Dunhill Financial). Since September 20th 2019, Dunhill Financial LLC is the sole shareholder of Dunhill Financial Ltd, a limited liability company organized in the United Kingdom, that provides financial advice to residents of the United Kingdom and Europe.

B. Types of Advisory Services

Dunhill Financial, LLC (hereinafter “Dunhill Financial”) offers the following advisory services:

Investment Supervisory Services

Dunhill Financial offers ongoing portfolio management services based on the individual goals, objectives, time horizon, and risk tolerance of each client. Dunhill Financial creates an Investment Policy Statement for each client, which outlines the client’s current situation (income, tax levels, and risk tolerance levels) and then constructs a plan to aid in the selection of a portfolio that matches each client’s specific situation. Investment Supervisory Services include, but are not limited to, the following:

- | | |
|-----------------------|--------------------------------|
| • Investment strategy | • Personal investment policy |
| • Asset allocation | • Asset selection |
| • Risk tolerance | • Regular portfolio monitoring |

Dunhill Financial evaluates the current investments of each client with respect to their risk tolerance levels and time horizon. Dunhill Financial will request discretionary authority from clients in order to select securities and execute transactions without permission from the client prior to each transaction. Risk tolerance levels are documented in the Investment Policy Statement, which is given to each client.

Financial Planning

Financial plans and financial planning may include, but are not limited to: investment planning, life insurance; tax concerns; retirement planning; college planning; and debt/credit planning. These services can be based on fixed fees or can be included in the annual investment fees. The final fee structure is documented in Exhibit II of the Financial Planning Agreement.

Services Limited to Specific Types of Investments

Dunhill Financial generally limits its investment advice and/or money management to mutual funds, equities, bonds, fixed income, debt securities, ETFs, hedge funds, REITs, insurance products including annuities, and government securities. Dunhill Financial may use other securities as well to help diversify a portfolio when applicable.

Robo-Advisory Portfolio Management Services

Dunhill Financial provides “robo-advisory” portfolio management services through an online interface. This entails the use of algorithm-based portfolio management advice, rather than in-person investment advice. These automated investment solutions are customized to each client and based on individual characteristics, such as the client’s age, risk tolerance, income, and current assets, among others. Dunhill Financial’s investment advisory personnel oversee the algorithm but may not monitor each client’s account. Clients are encouraged to update their account/questionnaire with any change in their objectives, risk tolerance, or other pertinent information, as that information factors into the portfolio’s composition.

C. Client Tailored Services and Client Imposed Restrictions

Dunhill Financial offers the same suite of services to all of its clients. However, specific client financial plans and their implementation are dependent upon the client Investment Policy Statement which outlines each client’s current situation (income, tax levels, and risk tolerance levels) and is used to construct a client specific plan to aid in the selection of a portfolio that matches restrictions, needs, and targets.

Clients may impose restrictions in investing in certain securities or types of securities in accordance with their values or beliefs. However, if the restrictions prevent Dunhill Financial from properly servicing the client account, or if the restrictions would require Dunhill Financial to deviate from its standard suite of services, Dunhill Financial reserves the right to end the relationship.

Dunhill Financial provides online “hybrid robo-advisory” portfolio management. Client accounts are invested into a thematic portfolio, depending on the client’s individual objectives. Through the internet, the client interface is automated to the extent possible. The approach is “hybrid” in that the portfolio management process relies upon both algorithms and portfolio management by the portfolio manager, each designed to be utilized across multiple clients. The client’s investment profile dictates the portfolio strategies, which in turn may impose restrictions in investing in certain securities or types of securities.

D. Wrap Fee Programs

Dunhill Financial does not manage or sponsor a wrap fee program.

D. Amounts Under Management

Dunhill Financial has the following assets under management:

Discretionary Amounts:	Non-Discretionary Amounts:	Date Calculated:

Dunhill Financial does not accept performance-based fees or other fees based on a share of capital gains on or capital appreciation of the assets of a client.

Dunhill Financial generally provides investment advice and/or management supervisory services to the following types of clients:

- ❖ Individuals
- ❖ High-Net-Worth Individuals
- ❖ Trusts, Estates, Charitable Organizations, or Small Businesses

There is no account minimum.

Item 8: Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies, and Risk of Investment Loss

A. Methods of Analysis and Investment Strategies

Methods of Analysis

Dunhill Financial's methods of analysis include charting analysis and cyclical analysis.

Charting analysis involves the use of patterns in performance charts. Dunhill Financial uses this technique to search for patterns used to help predict favorable conditions for buying and/or selling a security.

Cyclical analysis involved the analysis of business cycles to find favorable conditions for buying and/or selling a security.

Investment Strategies

Dunhill Financial uses long term trading, and options writing (including covered options, uncovered options, or spreading strategies).

Investing in securities involves a risk of loss that you, as a client, should be prepared to bear.

B. Material Risks Involved

Methods of Analysis

Charting analysis strategy involves using and comparing various charts to predict long and short-term performance or market trends. The risk involved in solely using this method is that only past performance data is considered without using other methods to crosscheck data. Using charting analysis without other methods of analysis would be making the assumption that past performance will be indicative of future performance. This may not be the case.

Cyclical analysis assumes that the markets react in cyclical patterns which, once identified, can be leveraged to provide performance. The risks with this strategy are two-fold: 1) the markets do not always repeat cyclical patterns and 2) if too many investors begin to implement this strategy, it changes the very cycles they are trying to take advantage of.

Investment Strategies

Long term trading is designed to capture market rates of both return and risk. Frequent trading, when done, can affect investment performance, particularly through increased brokerage and other transaction costs and taxes.

Options writing generally hold greater risk and clients should be aware that there is a material risk of loss using any of those strategies.

Robo-advisory services use algorithms as the basis of the management process. Risks of this approach include, but are not limited to, that the algorithm might rebalance client accounts without regard to market conditions, that the accounts may be automatically rebalances on a more frequent basis or a less frequent basis than the client might expect, and that the algorithm may not address prolonged changes in market conditions. Additionally, clients should be aware that responses to the adviser's suitability questionnaire are typically the sole basis for the portfolio's allocation.

Investing in securities involves a risk of loss that you, as a client, should be prepared to bear.

C. Risks of Specific Securities Utilized

Dunhill Financial generally seeks investment strategies that do not involve significant or unusual risk beyond that of the general domestic and/or international equity markets. However, it will utilize options writing. Options writing generally holds greater risk of capital loss and clients should be aware that there is a material risk of loss using any of those strategies.

Mutual Funds: Investing in mutual funds carries the risk of capital loss. Mutual funds are not guaranteed or insured by the FDIC or any other government agency. You can lose money investing in mutual funds. All mutual funds have costs that lower investment returns. They can be of bond "fixed income" nature (lower risk) or stock "equity" nature (mentioned above).

Equity investment generally refers to buying shares of stocks by an individual or firms in return for receiving a future payment of dividends and capital gains if the value of the stock increases. There is an innate risk involved when purchasing a stock that it may decrease in value and the investment may incur a loss.

Treasury Inflation Protected/Inflation Linked Bonds: The Risk of default on these bonds is dependent upon the U.S. Treasury defaulting (extremely unlikely); however, they carry a potential risk of losing share price value, albeit rather minimal.

Fixed Income is an investment that guarantees fixed periodic payments in the future that may involve economic risks such as inflationary risk, interest rate risk, default risk, repayment of principal risk, etc.

Debt securities carry risks such as the possibility of default on the principal, fluctuation in interest rates, and counterparties being unable to meet obligations.

Stocks & Exchange Traded Funds (ETF): Investing in stocks & ETF's carries the risk of capital loss (sometimes up to a 100% loss in the case of a stock holding bankruptcy). Investments in these securities are not guaranteed or insured by the FDIC or any other government agency.

REITs have specific risks including valuation due to cash flows, dividends paid in stock rather than cash, and the payment of debt resulting in dilution of shares.

Precious Metal ETFs (Gold, Silver, Palladium Bullion backed "electronic shares" not physical metal): Investing in precious metal ETFs carries the risk of capital loss.

Long term trading is designed to capture market rates of both return and risk. Due to its nature, the long-term investment strategy can expose clients to various other types of risk that will typically surface at various intervals during the time the client owns the investments. These risks include but are not limited to inflation (purchasing power) risk, interest rate risk, economic risk, market risk, and political/regulatory risk.

Options writing involve a contract to purchase a security at a given price, not necessarily at market value, depending on the market.

Past performance is not a guarantee of future returns. Investing in securities involves a risk of loss that you, as a client, should be prepared to bear.

Moreover, Dunhill Financial will always act in the best interests of the client, including when determining which third-party to recommend to clients.

D. Selection of Other Advisers or Managers and How This Adviser is Compensated for Those Selections

Dunhill Financial does not utilize nor select third party investment advisers.

B. Recommendations Involving Material Financial Interests

Dunhill Financial does not recommend that clients buy or sell any security in which a related person to Dunhill Financial or Dunhill Financial has a material financial interest.

C. Investing Personal Money in the Same Securities as Clients

From time to time, representatives of Dunhill Financial may buy or sell securities for themselves that they also recommend to clients. This may provide an opportunity for representatives of Dunhill Financial to buy or sell the same securities before or after recommending the same securities to clients resulting in representatives profiting off the recommendations they provide to clients. Such transactions may create a conflict of interest. Dunhill Financial will always document any transactions that could be construed as conflicts of interest and will always transact client business before their own when similar securities are being bought or sold.

D. Trading Securities At/Around the Same Time as Clients' Securities

From time to time, representatives of Dunhill Financial may buy or sell securities for themselves at or around the same time as clients. Such transactions may create a conflict of interest. Dunhill Financial will always transact client's transactions before its own when similar securities are being bought or sold.

Item 12: Brokerage Practices

A. Factors Used to Select Custodians and/or Broker/Dealers

The custodian will be chosen based on their relatively low transaction fees and access to mutual funds, ETFs and bonds, as well as the client's country of residence and required service level. Dunhill Financial will never charge a premium or commission on transactions, beyond the actual cost imposed by the custodian.

Dunhill Financial recommends Charles Schwab & Co., Inc., Fidelity Brokerage Services, LLC, Interactive Brokers LLC, Trade-PMR Inc., DriveWealth LLC, Platform One Ltd., Morningstar Wealth International Limited, Utmost International, Nationwide, and American Funds Distributors, Inc.

1. Research and Other Soft-Dollar Benefits

Dunhill Financial receives no research, product, or services other than execution from a broker-dealer or third-party in connection with client securities transactions ("soft dollar benefits").

2. Brokerage for Client Referrals

Dunhill Financial receives no referrals from a broker-dealer or third party in exchange for using that broker-dealer or third party.

3. Clients Directing Which Broker/Dealer/Custodian to Use

Dunhill Financial allows clients to direct brokerage; however, Dunhill Financial may recommend custodians. Dunhill Financial may be unable to achieve most favorable execution of client transactions if clients choose to direct brokerage. This may cost clients money because without the ability to direct brokerage Dunhill Financial may not be able to aggregate orders to reduce transactions costs resulting in higher brokerage commissions and less favorable prices. Not all investment advisers allow their clients to direct brokerage.

B. Aggregating (Block) Trading for Multiple Client Accounts

Dunhill Financial maintains the ability to block trade purchases across accounts. Block trading may benefit a large group of clients by providing Dunhill Financial the ability to purchase larger blocks resulting in smaller transaction costs to the client. Declining to block trade can cause more expensive trades for clients.

Item 13: Reviews of Accounts

A. Frequency and Nature of Periodic Reviews and Who Makes Those Reviews

Client accounts are reviewed at least quarterly only by Brian Dunhill, Managing Director and Isa Hantzsch, Compliance Officer. Brian Dunhill is the chief advisor and is instructed to review clients' accounts with regards to their investment policies and risk tolerance levels. All accounts at Dunhill Financial are assigned to this reviewer.

All financial planning accounts are reviewed upon financial plan creation and plan delivery by Brian Dunhill, Managing Director. There is only one level of review and that is the total review conducted to create the financial plan.

Robo-advisory portfolio management accounts are not reviewed by Dunhill Financial, save for automated allocation revisions. Clients are encouraged to update their account with any change in their objectives, risk tolerance, or other pertinent information, as that information factors into the portfolio's composition.

B. Factors That Will Trigger a Non-Periodic Review of Client Accounts

Reviews may be triggered by material market, economic or political events, or by changes in client's financial situations (such as retirement, termination of employment, physical move, or inheritance).

Robo-advisory portfolio management accounts do not undergo non-periodic review by Dunhill Financial, although allocations may change based on material market, economic, or political events and/or changes to the client's profile in accordance with Dunhill Financial's automated portfolio management.

C. Content and Frequency of Regular Reports Provided to Clients

Each client will receive at least annually from the custodian, a written report that details the client's account including assets held and asset value which will come from the custodian.

Dunhill Financial will ensure each solicitor is properly registered in all appropriate jurisdictions.

Item 15: Custody

Dunhill Financial, with client written authority, has limited custody of client's assets through direct fee deduction of Dunhill Financial's fees only. If the client chooses to be billed directly by the Custodian, Dunhill Financial would have constructive custody over that account and must have written authorization from the client to do so. Clients will receive all account statements and billing invoices that are required in each jurisdiction, and they should carefully review those statements for accuracy.

Item 16: Investment Discretion
