

Quantbase

Quantbase, LLC is a registered investment adviser with the Securities and Exchange Commission and provides investment advisory accounts and services, rather than brokerage accounts and services, via the internet. Brokerage and investment advisory services and fees differ and it is important for you to understand the differences. Free and simple tools are available to research firms and financial professionals at Investor.gov/CRS, which also provides educational materials about broker-dealers, investment advisers, and investing.

What Investment Services and Advice Can You Provide Me?

Quantbase, LLC is a robo-adviser that offers investment advisory services to retail investors (“you”). We offer portfolio management services on a discretionary basis through our interactive website. This means you grant us ongoing and continuous discretionary authority to make, and to enter orders with a broker/dealer for the execution of, its investment recommendations in accordance with your investment profile without your prior approval of each specific transaction. You grant us discretionary authority through signing our investment advisory agreement. You may, at any time, revoke this authority or impose reasonable restrictions on the degree of risk level (less aggressive, aggressive and more aggressive growth), which portfolios to invest in, and the amount of assets invested in each portfolio. However, you are not able to select specific securities or restrict the purchase of specific securities as the portfolio recommendations created by us are based solely upon the information provided by you on our website. Once an investment strategy is recommended and you invest in a portfolio, you cannot change the portfolio as these investment strategies are automated.

As part of our standard services, we automatically rebalance your advisory account to ensure it continues to perform as we intend. We will also monitor your accounts to ensure that they are meeting your investment objectives and other requirements. Specifically, we will continuously monitor your portfolio for performance, risk and asset allocation at least monthly, and conduct a review of your account at least annually. If any changes are needed to your investments, we will make the changes or recommend the changes to you.

We offer advice with respect to stocks and ETFs. There is no minimum account size to invest with us.

For more detailed information about our services, please see Items 4.A. and 5 of our Part 2A.

What Fees Will I Pay?

You will pay an Advisory Fee of 1% annually for accounts with about $12,000 in assets under management, and $10/month for accounts below this. The Advisory Fee is calculated based on the value in the account on the first day of the month. Quantbase shall have the ability to have its advisory fee for each client debited by the custodian on a monthly basis.

During our onboarding process, we will also ask whether you have a net worth in excess of $2.2 million, and will ask for proof. If you do, this means you meet the definition of a “Qualified Client” and may have access to more sophisticated strategies that will carry a performance fee of not more than 20%, charged monthly in arrears and assessed against your cost basis or the previous month's high-water mark (the higher of the two). This means that you will only be charged for positive performance versus either your highest cost basis in the last month, or the highest point at which you were previously charged.

Our receipt of asset-fees for managing client accounts results in conflicts of interest. For example, the more assets in a client's advisory account, the more a client will pay in asset-based fees, and the firm may therefore have an incentive to encourage clients to increase the assets in their accounts. Please review Items 4 and 9 of our Part 2A Appendix 1 "Wrap Fee Brochure" for detailed descriptions of conflicts and how we address them.

For performance fees, the higher your investment performance, the more in fees you will pay, and thus we have an incentive to increase your returns, even if that means investing in riskier assets and strategies. Our strategies are automated, which mitigate this risk, and we aim to mitigate it further by providing you transparency into what you are invested in at any given point, as well as having no lock-in period.

You will pay fees and costs whether you make or lose money on your investments. Fees and costs will reduce any amount of money you make on your investments over time. Please make sure you understand what fees and costs you are paying. For more detailed information about our fees and costs, please see Item 4 of our Form ADV 2A Appendix 1 "Wrap Fee Brochure".

- Help me understand how these fees and costs might affect my investments. If I give you $10,000 to invest, how much will go to fees and costs, and how much will be invested for me?

What Are Your Legal Obligations to Me When Acting as My Investment Adviser? How Else Does Your Firm Make Money and What Conflicts of Interest Do You Have?

When we act as your investment adviser, we have to act in your best interest and not put our interest ahead of yours. At the same time, the way we make money creates some conflicts with your interests. You should understand and ask us about these conflicts because they can affect the investment advice we provide you. Here are some examples to help you understand what this means.

- We receive brokerage services (trading, custody, reporting and related services) as well as various support services that help us manage or administer your accounts and/or help us manage and grow our business. Because we receive these services from our custodian at no charge (or at a discount), this presents a conflict of interest in that we have an incentive to continue recommending a custodian based on our existing relationship and the benefits we receive.

Please review Items 4 and 9 of our Part 2A Appendix 1 "Wrap Fee Brochure" for detailed descriptions of conflicts and how we address them.
